"Miss Armitage," said the querulous voice of the old lady, "the room appears to me to be untidy. I wish you would pick it up."

Lucy looked over at the discontented old creature and smiled tolerantly.

"Miss Coudry," she said, "never before have I been asked to do so difficult a thing," and sat still.

Miss Coudry had no suspicion that her phraseology was at fault, and she reported the nurse. The head physician interviewed her on the subject. Lucy refrained from commenting upon the tyranny of the poor old hypochondriac. She turned the matter with a jest.

"I was asked to pick up the room," she said. "I am not the magnetic strong girl, so I said I couldn't do it."

The physician tempered his reproof.

The months of probation over Lucy was accepted, and the first severe case committed entirely to her charge was that of a young doctor who had been severely injured in a railroad accident and one of whose legs had undergone amputation. The case was a bothersome one. The young man did not gather strength as he should have done, considering his youth. He sank into a low fever and drowsed along through life week in and week out. Lucy stood by him loyally. She endeavored in every way to inspire him to make a fight for life. But for a long time she could arouse no interest in him. At last she had an idea.

"I will make him fall in love with me," she thought to herself. "It will do no harm, and it will help him to get well, and as soon as he is strong he will f[illegible] all about it. The others always hav[illegible]"

It was a silly comedy to play [illegible]; it was rather a coarse farce—but L[illegible] entered upon her role with [illegible] She was really a beautiful girl, but [illegible] seldom took time to remember it [illegible] she stuck a rose in her dark h[illegible] ings, and she was careful to have a [illegible] perfume of violets floating from he[illegible] quisite gray gown. Her cap and [illegible] assumed an indefinable coquetry. S[illegible] took pensive attitudes and talked [illegible] sentimental subjects.

"What a precious guy I am making of myself!" she often chuckled in the recesses of her naughty soul. "Of all the idiotic parts I ever assumed I have most cause to be ashamed of this!" But it proved to be the prescription of which the young doctor stood in need. He watched for her coming in the morning as frightened children watch for their mothers. He hung upon her words, exulted in her springing, firm step, was soothed into exquisite peace by the touch of her cool white hand upon his brow, and when he felt the grasp of her two strong hands upon his in hours of pain it seemed to him that with her by he would find strength to endure anything.

"It will soon be over," Lucy said to comfort her conscience, "and if I am clever perhaps I can get him away before he says anything to me. I hate horribly to face the consequences of my sin. If I had been making sin, I should have made it without consequences."

But clever as she was she did not succeed in her desire. One day Dr. Halson, convalescent, turned from the contemplation of the passersby on the street and said imperatively:

"Miss Armitage, come here."

"Aren't your pillows right?" asked Lucy with feigned solicitude. She knew in her soul that the fatal hour had come.

"My pillows are well. But I wish to say to you a thing you have been preventing me from saying for days. You are a beautiful tyrant, but I will not suffer tyranny even from the beautiful. I find upon consulting with my—with my physician that I shall require your services indefinitely. I want them as long as life lasts. I must take you away with me. I must have you for my wife."

Lucy had many times prepared in her mind the rebukes that she would utter in answer to these remarks. She would bring him to an understanding of the absurdity of the thing, for, of course, this was a piece with the rest of the absurdity of the world.

But this is what she heard herself saying:

"My dear, dear, I knew you could not do without me. Of course I couldn't think of leaving you." And this time when their hands clasped it was hers that were trembling.

Then she laughed. She fairly shouted with laughter till the patients in the other rooms hear and smiled responsively. What mad absurdity! What a perversely amusing world! She would marry only a man of great physical superiority—she hated physicians!

And she had just kissed a one legged physician and promised to be his wife!

"I was never so amused!" cried Lucy.

"You were never so amusing, my dear heart," said her lover.—Chicago Tribune.

Things Russians Won't Eat.

Great quantities of crabs and lobsters are annually canned in Russia, yet oysters are in little favor, and frogs' legs are regarded with horror. A woman who sold large quantities of crabs upon being asked for some frogs' legs replied that she "would not touch one of the horrid things for a ruble."

Wherever there is water in Russia the frogs abound in such quantities that one is reminded of the noblemen of other days who used to send their slaves out to beat the marshes so that they could sleep.

Russians never eat rabbits, as they say they nest with rats, nor will they touch snails or turtles, which are found in great quantities all over the country. Only the aristocrats eat kidneys and then only those of the sheep or lamb. Goose flesh is little esteemed, though the fat is used for culinary purposes.

But the World Went On.

In 1186 astrologers said the world would be destroyed by the conjunction of the planets. A few years later another alarm was raised, and in 1532 Simon Goulart claimed a mountain had opened in Assyria and a scroll had been shown him on which was written the prediction that the world was coming to an end. He frightened everybody.

Meekness In Men.

A calm, peaceful contemplation of God and his works and a clear conception of our duty to him and to men, unobtrusive, consecrated and blessed, will mark the meek man everywhere.—Rev. R. T. Eakes, Atlanta.

Divine Requirements.

There must be concessions on the part of all. The pastor cannot always have his way nor the people theirs. The one man church or the one woman church does not fulfill divine requirements.—Rev. S. W. Dana, Presbyterian, Philadelphia.

Times Change.

She—You used to say I was pretty. Have I changed?

He—Oh, no; but I have.—N. Y. Truth.

Everybody
Knows
About
Pain-Killer
A Household
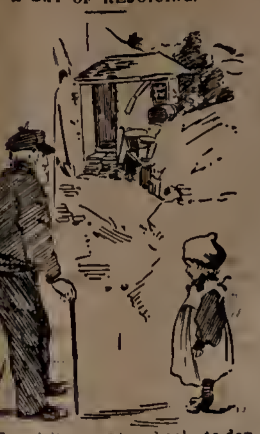
Medicine
A Safe and Sure Cure for
Cramps Coughs Bruises
Diarrhœa Colds Burns
Sprains and Strains.
Gives instant relief.
Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
Only one Pain Killer, Perry Davis'.

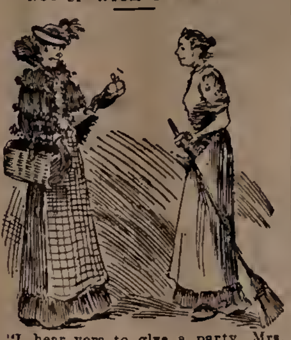
A DAY OF REJOICING.



"Why ain't you at school to-day, Aggy?"

"Teacher give us holiday, 'cos she was goin' to a funeral!"—St. Paul's.

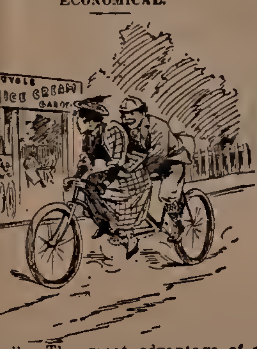
NOT UP WITH THE TIMES.



"I hear yers to give a party, Mrs. Hoolligan."

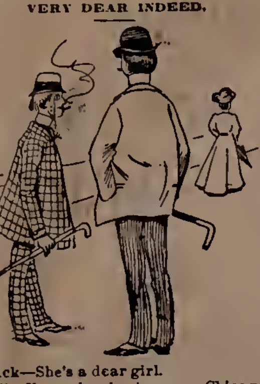
"Yez, Mrs. Mulligan, I am, and I've been everywheres tryin' ter get some of that 'pink tea' ye reads so much about, and the aignorant, unstylish tings kape nothin' but the old-fashioned green."—N. Y. Truth.

ECONOMICAL.



Cholly—The great advantage of a tandem over single wheels when one takes his girl for a spin is that the girl cannot stop when she pleases.—Leslie's Weekly.

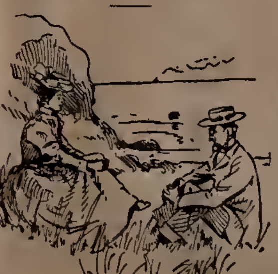
VERY DEAR INDEED.



Jack—She's a dear girl.

Jill—Yes; she broke me.—Chicago Journal.

HE INVITED IT.



"Yes, and kept me sitting here looking like a fool."

"My dear George, we none of us can help what we look like!"—Ally Sloper.

A SCHEME THAT FAILED.

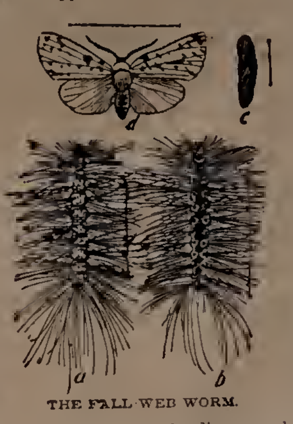
Hotel Clerk—Ah, on your wedding tour, I suppose?

Guest—Quite right; but we must nevertheless insist upon having a first-class dinner.—Fliegende Blatter.

THE FALL WEB WORM.

Fire and Paris Green Combined Usually Are Effective In Annihilating This Pest.

The Latin name of this worm is Hyphantria cunea. The Colorado Experiment station gives the following description of this insect: This is a yellowish or brownish caterpillar with a black head that forms a large, loose web or tent in a great variety of trees, beginning to appear about the 1st of July and continuing through the summer. The larvae are rather sparsely covered with long hairs that are whitish or yellowish in color, with occasional black ones for variety. This insect is readily distinguished from the Tent caterpillar in habits, as the larvae of the fall web worm form a very loose tent with which they inclose the leaves upon which they feed, and they do not appear until the Tent caterpillars have nearly or quite disappeared. In the illustration "a" and "b" are full-grown larvae showing light and dark forms—"c" is the chrysalis; "d" is the moth, showing dark spots. All are some enlarged. The lines show the actual length. Usually the moths are entirely white.



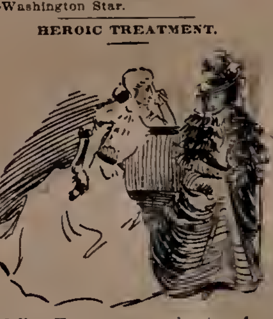
THE FALL WEB WORM.

Remedies.—If the webs are noticed when small they should be cut out and the larvae destroyed. If the web has become large, inclosing many branches of the tree, it may be better to burn out the web with a torch. Where there is no danger of poisoning fruit, paris green may be sprayed or dusted upon the foliage immediately surrounding the web. These leaves will soon be inclosed for food and the worms eating them will die.—Farmers' Review.

The Campaign Statistician.

He figured hard. No rest was nigh,
His task he dared not shirk
He figured on to show men why
His figures didn't work.
—Washington Star.

HEROIC TREATMENT.



Molly—How are you going to reform him?

Dolly—Marry him.

Molly—Goodness! Does he need such heroic treatment as that?—N. Y. Truth.

On The Track.

This means disaster and death when applied to a fast-express train. It is equally serious when it refers to people whose blood is disordered and who consequently have pimples and sores, had stomachs, deranged kidneys, weak nerves and that tired feeling. Hood's Sarsaparilla puts the wheels back on the track by making pure, rich blood and curing these troubles.

Constipation is cured by Hood's Pills.

All She Needed Was Time.

"I just saw Miss Croesus go into the conservatory with that foreign nobleman. Are they engaged?"

"Oh, I hardly think so, as yet. Give her 15 minutes more."—Chicago Post.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition; my skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying Electric Bitters, and to my great joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them; only 50c. per bottle at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store.

Try Allen's Foot-Ease,

A powder to be shaken into the shoes. Your feet feel swollen, nervous and hot, and get tired easily. If you have smarting feet or tight shoes, try Allen's Foot-Ease. It cools the feet and makes walking easy. Cures swollen, sweating feet, ingrowing nails; blisters and callous spots. Relieves corns and bunions of all pain and gives rest and comfort. Try it today. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores at 25 cents. Trial packages free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy N. Y.

Jell-O, the New Dessert,

pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.
BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.
WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.
NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 38 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.
CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.
PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.
HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.
WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.
NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.
New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 8 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.
ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink
Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS
Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.
References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.
This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:
One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week........... 50
Single Gallon.............................. 00
All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.
HUBERT H. GATES,
17-tfT P. O. Box 481.

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative
Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-ly

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
..AND...
C.B.Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office—FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J.Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
'CHIROPODIST.'
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.
M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

DON'T SWEAR. JUST SMILE.

At Your Toes,

that are giving you such excruciating pains from corns, for Schlotterbeck's Corn Cure will give you relief and permanent cure by using it according to directions given.

Schlotterbeck's IS THE BEST AND MOST EASILY APPLIED CORN CURE IN THE MARKET, and will cure bunions, corns and warts.

SOLD BY

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Thomas Allen George celebrated his 85th birthday anniversary Wednesday by a reception to his relatives from out of town. He is still in excellent health and attends to business daily.——Miss Annie M. Sullivan gave a cobweb party at her summer residence at Lake Pearl Tuesday evening. Miss Spinney of Boston won the first prize and Fred C. Gilmore the gentleman's prize.——Mrs. Jane Blatchford is spending a few weeks with her sister in Newburyport.——Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Allen of Walpole are at their cottage for two weeks. Capt Fred W. Allen of the Yale crew and Charles Allen of Worcester are with them.——Rev. W. R. Trotter and his choir of Bristol will conduct the service at Trinity church next Sunday.——Rev. J. W. Alexander will preach next Sunday at the Congregational church.

Divided Pleasure.

Briggs—Allow me to have the pleasure of returning the sovereign that I borrowed the other day.

Sniggs—Thanks; the pleasure is mine.—Tit-Bits.

The Promises of Courtship.

A man never realizes what an awful liar he is until his wife begins to remind him of the promises he made during courtship. — Chicago Daily News.

She'd Find It.

"Doctor, my wife has lost her voice; what can I do about it?"

"Go home late some night." — Harper's Bazar.

Poetry.

A man's poetry may win a woman but he's an exception if he's able to maintain her on it.

Your Liver

Will be roused to its natural duties and your biliousness, headache and constipation be cured if you take

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.

THE ROSE = FOR LOVE.
SUNRISE = = FOR BEAUTY.
"COOK CO." = FOR BARGAINS.

GO-CARTS, $8.00 -- Nice.

Never heard a baby complain yet. Babies are all right in one of "Cook's Rolling Stock. Assortment is complete.

Same Good Old Terms--A Little Down, Then $1.00 or 50c. Weekly.

Everybody waits for their car in our store—so nice and cool. Try it.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

MEDFIELD AND WAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tfS

Summer Days are Here...

Perhaps u-nee-da LINEN, DUCK or WHITE P. K. SKIRT?

LINEN SKIRTS, 49c. each.
LINEN SKIRTS, worth $1.25, now 98c.
LINEN SKIRTS, worth $1.75, now $1.25.
BLUE and WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, were $2.25, now $1.49.
WHITE DUCK SKIRTS, were $1.25, now 87c.
WHITE DUCK SKIRTS, with insertion, were $2.25, now $1.69.
WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, with insertion, were $3.25, now $2.50.
WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, with insertion, were $3.75, now $2.98.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.

BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

You May Not Live Another Month

The man who begrudges the money it costs to insure his life to a reasonable amount is not only selfish, but he fails to recognize one of the first duties he owes his family.

ARE YOU THE MAN?

W. S. JOHNSON, Special Agent

The Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York.

jly27-1mF

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending July 25, 1900:

Ladies—Mrs. W. B. Briggs, Mrs Bleak, Mrs. Edgar Cook (2)

Gentlemen — Edgar Colburn, Ed. J. Flynn (2), E. L. Grant, Narcisse Paquin (fl), Sepmelep Pond, Frangesco Codecchi.

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

Her Unlucky Day.

Mr. Styles—Did you call on Mrs. Borenm, Friday?

Mrs. Styles—Yes; unlucky day, you know.

"Why, was she out?"

"No; she was in."—Yonkers Statesman.

Her Criticism.

"What would you do if you could play the piano as good as I can?" asked a young lady of the housemaid.

"Shure an' Oi wouldn't get discouraged at all, at all. Oi'd kape roight on larnin' till Oi could play it dacently," was the reply.—Chicago Daily News.

It Cleared the House.

"The house is afire!" cried the tenor. "The audience must be dismissed as quickly as possible."

"All right," replied the manager. "Say nothing about the fire. Go out and sing."—Philadelphia North American.

A Delightful Effect.

Artist — Those evergreens on the north side of your house have a delightful effect!

Farmer—I should say they had. Them trees keep off the wind and save 'bout eight dollars' worth o' firewood every winter.—N. Y. Weekly.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., Druggists.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher — The Kind You Have Always Bought

Hoag Lake

PARK.

WEEK OF JULY 23

Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.30.

Boom's New York Minstrels.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je26-toc1

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,

Jewelers and Opticians

160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Sign of the Electric Clock.

del-Fly

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Salvin Hubbard, late of Franklin, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

E. E. HUBBARD, Administrator.

Address 113 Devonshire street, Boston, Mass.
July 1, 1900. jly20,27,3

NOTICE.

Estate of Sarah P. M. Wiley, late of Medway, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, represented insolvent. The subscribers having been appointed by the Probate Court for said county commissioners to receive and examine all claims of creditors against the estate of said Sarah P. M. Wiley hereby give notice that six months from the twenty-seventh day of June, A. D. 1900, are allowed to creditors to present and prove their claims against said estate, and that they will meet to examine the claims of creditors at the store of A. Maeder, Central street, Holliston, on the thirty-first day of August next, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

DANIEL W. BALL.
ALOISE MAEDER.
Commissioners.

Holliston, July 21, 1900. jly27,au3,10

Witch Hazel Jelly...

An improved form of Witch Hazel, far more effective and convenient than the ordinary Witch Hazel. It is a quick and efficient remedy in all cases of burns, bruises and all irritations of the skin, such as hives, nettle rash, mosquito bites, etc.

15 CTS. BOTTLE.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

The Prices are Low.

REMNANT SALE OF LAWNS, DIMITIES, PRINTS AND GINGHAMS.

Special Wide Union Crash, 5c. yard.

Butterick Patterns and Publications.

N. C. NYE.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Coal! Coal!

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

FOR SALE.

Two Grocery Wagons, one Grocery Pung, Harnesses, all Fixtures suitable for grocery business. Also, stock of Groceries. Will be sold in whole or part.

Apply to J. B. McKINNON.

Chilson's Market

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef, 10 to	12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe1-1yS

WANTED.

Experienced Fur Felt Finishers,

about July '6th, on Ladies' Felt Hats.

Address HIRSH & PARK, Medway, Mass.

jly3-1m

At WOODWARD'S every description of INSURANCE can be placed. This AGENCY officially represents the LEADING American and Foreign COMPANIES.

F. A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.
my4-1yF

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board, what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

FOR...

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., . . . Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, . . . General Manager

Attractions This Week

Afternoons at 3.30, Evenings 8.30.

Al and Mamie Anderson, the black mascots.

Frank Cushing and Millie Castino, the novel acrobatic creators.

Howard & Sheafe, with Edison's biograph.

The fun-maker; Frank Clayton, in an act full of action.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON,

Concert by Norwood Band.

ADMISSION to the Grounds, 10c. Children, 5c. Reserved Seats in Amphitheatre 5 and 10c. extra.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.

Circulars free on application.

THE CANNING SEASON

Is at hand. You can find Glass Jars, Rubbers, Preserving Kettles, Porcelain-Lined Kettles, Fruit Tunnels, Stew Pans, great and small.

Also a fine lot of Water Sets.

CALL AND EXAMINE

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary

Summer St., Franklin, Mass.

ap27S

Hattie M Fisher 1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 61. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, JULY 31, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Lake Pearl	4
A. C. Dana & Son	4
Hoag Lake Park	4
Executrix's Notice	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 00 till 10 15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15 During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Hay fever is now due.

This is fine weather for dog days.

Miss Minnie Cody is visiting friends in Brighton.

A tongue may inflict a deeper wound than a sword.

Miss May Fales is visiting friends in Milford, N. H.

Ralph Dean of Watertown is visiting relatives and friends here.

Dancing will be indulged in at Hoag lake this evening "with lights."

Mrs. Alfred Farrington is at York Beach, Me., for the month of August.

Judge and Mrs. O. T. Doe returned from their outing in Maine on Saturday.

Mrs. E E. Baker, who has been confined to the house by illness, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Pike of Roslindale are visiting their niece, Mrs. Sanford Wales.

Roy Hartshorne of Peck street left Wednesday for a month's outing in Maine.

The political pot has not commenced to boil to any great extent as yet in this locality.

Town Treasurer Nelson E. Newell returned on Saturday from a week's outing in Maine.

Mrs. Caroline Fletcher has gone to Newark, N. J., to see her son, Clarence Fletcher.

It is stated that the Milford electric line will be opened either next Friday or Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Thayer and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Whiting spent the Sabbath at Magnolia.

Miss Margaret Doherty of cottage street returned on Saturday from a vacation at South Boston.

Miss Ella Ford of Attleboro is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Keefe, on Cottage street.

Miss Elizabeth Murphy of Fisher street, left today. for a week's visit with friends in Watertown.

Miss Maria Burke of Dalton has returned home after a week's visit with friends in town.

Frank Walsh of Thayer street left, Monday morning, for a week's stay with friends at Webster.

Miss Elizabeth Robinson of St. Mary's rectory returned on Saturday after a visit at Buffalo., N. Y.

Have you heard the latest? "Good morning, glory! Good evening, star! Good night, lunch!"

Miss Kate Walsh of South Boston is visiting at the home of Mrs. Mary Dugan, Cottage street.

Miss Catherine Sheahan of Union street is spending a vacation with friends in Attleboro and Quincy.

George W. Wiggin goes to Maine this week on his annual outing in the woods of the Pine Tree state.

Hayward's mill closed Monday night to make some necessary repairs. It will resume work tomorrow.

Frank and Miss Elizabeth Pendergast departed yesterday for a week's stay with relatives at Lawrence.

Reuben can't catch fish. It would not be safe to say he could not pick huckleberries or wield a lead pencil.

Frank Pendergast and sister, Miss Elizabeth, are spending a week's vacation with friends in Lawrence.

The family of A. Lawrence Ball of Cambridge are spending several weeks at the Congregational parsonage.

Mrs. Charles Corbin of Central street, who has been visiting relatives in Hyde Park the past week, has returned home.

Miss Mary Ottenheimer and Miss Anna Gromley of Willimantic, Conn., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Riordan.

Heavy dews from now on until frost may be expected. People taking nocturnal outings should be supplied with wraps.

Mrs. John Pedan and daughter, Miss Fannie, of Arlington street, enjoyed an outing down the Providence river Wednesday.

Bernard Ward of Jamaica Plain was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Pendergast, McCarthy street, yesterday.

Mrs. D. Kennedy and daughter of New London, Conn., are visiting Mrs. Kennedy's mother, Mrs. Mary Keefe, of Cottage street.

Ed. Richardson did really catch some large bass, pickerel and other fish in Lake Pearl last week. E. S. Messenger did not.—Contributed.

Rev. Frank Byron Adams, pastor of the M. E. church in East Blackstone, was a guest at W. W. Haslam's last Friday.

North Attleboro played Pawtucket on Saturday for a purse, winning, 3 to 2, in a hot game. Radford and Ganzell played with Pawtucket.

Mrs. William M. Thayer has placed a very appropriate picture upon the walls of the primary room of the Congregational Sunday school.

Why is it that men of unimpeached veracity in all other matters are such inflaters of the truth as regards their accounts of fishing trips?

Mr. and Mrs. Antonia Gay of Stoneham, who have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Morse, of Union street, returned home Saturday.

Flowers for the Alden Club mission may be left this week with Mrs. C. E. Johnson, Mrs. E. C. Abbott, Mrs. Frank Shiner and Mrs Charles Walker.

Native sweet corn is in the market and of unusual excellence, as is the case when the seasons are not too prolific of rain, which is not the case this year.

The Franklin telephone exchange is now in charge of a new manager, C. J. Leathers having gone to Beverly, D. B. Small of Salem taking his place in Milford.

Mrs. M. M. Daniels and her niece, Mrs. Jason Tower, have gone to Maine and the provinces to visit kinspeople, renew acquaintances and review the scenes of their youth.

A number from here went to Webster lake after bass last week, and J. A. Geh, the painter, caught the largest one that has been taken from the lake this season, about five pounds.

The Heliotype and Hayward ball teams played a sharp fielding game at Indian Rock park Saturday afternoon, the Helios being to the fore at the end of the ninth inning; score, 11 to 7.

Mrs. A. M. Waite, who has been enjoying a vcation at Nantucket, arrived home this week on aicount of the serious illness of her little nephew, Newman Waite, of Summer street.

Rev. T. M Miles, D D, of Bristol, Conn., will preach in the Congregational church next Sunday. He is pastor of one of the large churches of Connecticut and is an excellent preacher.

The body Ernest Daniels, whose funeral rites were read at the home of William Lowell, King street, by Rev. Mr. Sleeper, Wednesday afternoon, was taken to Plainville for burial.

The house formerly owned and occupied by Mrs. Parker Farr, of Cottage street, and which was recently bought by Mrs. M. J. Feeley of the same street, is undergoing repairs for occupancy.

Here is a couplet taken from an old reader more than a hundred years old and could be applied to some people of this age:

> "Keep your probabilities strong in view,
> Lest men suspect your tale not true."

Dennis Long was before Associate Judge Ruggles in the district court on Saturday charged with drunkenness. Pleading guilty, he was sent to Bridgewater state farm for an indeterminate term.

Our Boys went to North Bellingham on Saturday and defeated the N. B.'s, 19 to 15, in a hard-hitting contest. Kane and Boucher were the battery for Our Boys and Highlands and Nugent for North Bellingham.

The M. E. church will hold its annual picnic at Lake Pearl, Saturday, Aug. 4, leaving the postoffice on the quarter of eleven car. It is hoped that all members of the church and Sunday school will attend.

Rev. Dr. Sneath left last evening for his father's home at Columbia, Pa., for a week, and will then spend a week at the Moody school in Northfield. After that he and his family will rusticate at the seashore for a couple of weeks.

Prof. O. C. Skeele is spending a few weeks with old friends in town. He will return to teaching in the public schools of New York city this fall. His mother, Mrs. Lucy A. Skeele, of North Adams is also here for a short visit.

Next month there will be a union of the Adams family on the estate of Jas. F. Adams of North Franklin. Mrs. E. Robinson of Washington, D. C., an aunt of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Adams, nearly 90 years of age, has signified her intention of being present.

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Couthill removed last week to Millis where they have owned a farm for a number of years. Mr. Couthill has been employed at the Stewart straw shop for a number of years, and has occupied a cottage close by for the past thirteen years.

H. H. Gallison, the artist, has just been notified by the French government that he has been awarded honorable mention for his painting at the Paris exposition. This is the highest honor awarded a foreigner, and is especially appreciated by him and his friends.

George Westland, who has superintended the work of improving and beautifying the Union street cemetery grounds for the past two years, has resigned his position to accept a place at Newport, R. I. His resignation will take effect next Saturday and he will remove with his family to Newport next week.

Thursday as George Hubert, a boy of 7, was bathing in company with others at Stony brook, he got beyond his depth. The boy was in danger and he could not swim; Joseph Cataldo, a boy of his own age and a good swimmer, saw the danger, went to his comrade's assistance and amid the cheers of the others brought him safely to the bank.

In his report, filed with the supreme court, Coroner Lincoln of Providence, in relation to the death of Percy Clifford Redpath, formerly of Franklin, he says: "I certify and report that upon the testimony of the witnesses filed herewith that said wound, producing said death, was caused by the entering of one blade of a pair of shears thrown with great force by the act or neglect of Michael Drumgoole and by no other person or persons."

The body of Mrs. Katherine Donovan, who was formerly Miss Maguire of Lincoln street, of this town, was brought to Franklin Thursday noon and taken direct to St. Mary's cemetery for burial. The services were said at All Saint's church in Roxbury, to which the deceased belonged. A great many friends and relatives in town attended the body to the grave Mrs. Donovan leaves a husband and six children. The cause of death was pneumonia.

The following gifts have recently been added to the historical library of the Congregational church: Two rare sermons of Drs. Ide and Southworth, given by Mrs. E E. Baker; an old volume which originally belonged to the North Wrentham library, given by Mrs. Emily Ware Shaw; a copy of the New England Primer and a copy of the Evangelical Primer, both of which were taught in the early years of this century to the Franklin children, given by Mrs. Harriet N. Gowen.

The New York Vaudeville Stars will appear at Hoag Lake theatre this week. Among those who will appear are the cosmopolitan Trio, the greatest singing trio in vaudeville; Hart and Bessie in a comedy sketch, "A Lesson to a chappie," concluding with "Great Men, Past and Present;" Fisher and Clark in their original acrobatic comedy introducing their sensational comedy act, The Phantom Staircase;" Prof. Hart and Mlle. Bessie introducing the "Mystery of Cawnpore." Miss Adela Reno will be the accompanist

The large engine at the Medfield power house which furnishes power for the Medway and Medfield and Medway and Franklin street railroads broke down Friday morning. All the cars on the line were tied up at different points for the day. To accommodate the patrons Supt. Edward C. Spring hired a barge to go between Medway and Franklin and another to go back and forth to Medfield. The same fare was charged as when the electrics were running, each team being in charge of a conductor. This was an exceedingly gratifying move on the part of the superintendent to accommodate his patrons, though not compelled to do so by competition, or even by the "rules of the road."

J. Wheaton Daniels died at his home in W. Palmyra, N.J., on Tuesday, July 17, at the age of 67. He had been sick for two or three years, his death being the result of successive shocks, the first one being probably induced by a severe blow on the head by a door at a railroad station three years ago. He was married here Dec. 31, 1856, to Harriet E King, who alone survives him, a son having died a year or more ago. He was at one time interested in the straw business in Philadelphia and has been away from here about twenty five years. The funeral occurred the following Friday after his death, the interment being made at that place.

The large stained glass window which was presented to Rev. M. J. Lee of St. Mary's church by the school children early in the spring to be set as a memorial for them in the new building then being erected, was placed in position Thursday. It occupies a space directly over the main entrance and is oblong in shape. The coloring is beautiful and rich and the pictures represented on it are expressive of the child's school life. On one-half of the window the entrance of the child to the school is represented by the mother and the child with the sister's outstretched hands to receive it. On the other half is pictured the young girl having finished her studies and extending her hand to recive the diploma which the sister holds out to her. The picture adds considerable to the attractiveness of the building.

Some time in May an item appeared in the SENTINEL asking whether Franklin would be represented at the big C. E. convention in London. We hardly thought it likely, but Franklin had three representatives, Dr. A. J. Gallison, Rev. S. A. Cook and C. H. Prince. Although none of the gentlemen were members, yet Dr. A. J. writes that he was a very attentive listener and enjoyed the meetings very much. The meetings were held at Alexander Palace, some ten or more miles from London, but still in London. There were great crowds of people, and four or five meetings were going on at the same time. It was impossible to get good seats in any of the halls, so he went to a large tent out in the park near the palace and there secured a good seat, having the pleasure of hearing Rev. Dr Lorimer of Boston. Dr. Gallison is enjoying his trip very much, getting both pleasure and profit out of it.

If the many friends of Abbot L. Bacon who are wont to "josh" him on his capabilities as an amateur gardener, and who do not speak of his Central street garden in other than a "jollying" tone, could find time just at this season to walk through the one-eighth acre strip of land which he has cultivated they would doubtless be filled with wonderment at the thriving growth of the vegetables of all sorts that the genial Bacon has planted and looks after with zealous care day in and day out. You can hardly name a vegetable that he is not growing. The snake pole bean, the pride and delight of Mr. B., and his special favorite first, last and all the time; corn of the Country Gentleman and Evergreen species; tomatoes of the Mikado, Penderiso, Peach and Golden families, all beauties and some of mammoth size; sage, a rare garden product hereabouts; Salem cucumbers, beets, egg plant turnips, radishes, lettuce, watermelons and muskmelons—these and more are in the garden and look exceedingly well and hearty. The whole little "farm" reflects credit upon its big care-taker and he has just cause to feel happy and proud over the good results attained.

Youthful Pleasures.

There were at least sixty happy children last Saturday afternoon, made so by the thoughtful kindness of Mrs. Annie Gallison Hawkins, who arranged a birthday picnic party in honor of the eighth birthday of her son, Burnelle Gallison Hawkins, celebrating his first birthday in America. The children were accompanied by mothers and friends, fully thirty five grown persons also enjoying the occasion. Tables were spread near the "villa," upon which were arranged sandwiches, candy, fancy crackers, ice cream, peanuts, with a whole tub of lemonade, and each little guest was presented with a small American flag. "Jumbo," the Italian, furnished music upon his accordeon, playing Italian and American airs, Games and dancing were indulged in by the guests, and the little host and his mother were assured upon leaving that all had a most enjoyable time.

A Hartshorn, Mo., editor, who believes in all the comforts of a home says: "We would prefer living in a small town, where the people will sympathize with you in trouble, and if you haven't any trouble they will hunt some up for you,"

Auction Sale.

The personal property of the late Mrs. Sabin Hubbard will be sold at auction next Friday, by Auctioneer D. W. Corson. E. E. Hubbard, the administrator, has ordered the sale. It will commence at 1 o'clock, and household goods of rare and antique patterns, carpenters' tools, stable goods, etc., will be sold. Some excellent bargains are to be obtained.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Hillside Comforts.

Half hidden by the pines and young oaks on what has been known for years as the "Baker pasture" has recently sprung up a most comfortable summer house, having "all the comforts of home," with the telephone, spring water, balsamic virtues from the wood, etc. It was built by Dr. J. C. Gallison to afford him rest and quiet from the problems and noises of the town, where he could rest and recreate, doffing the cares and thoughts of recent experiences in the Great and General Court, to say nothing of the less exciting episodes connected with the selectmen's council chamber.

The house is pleasantly situated with a refreshing, southern outlook, with a broad frontage to the road, left purposely by its owner in its natural state, lest art destroy the rough simplicity of nature.

The house combines an architectural conglomerate, with its broad Italian chimney, its pleasant Swiss chalet verandas, its thoroughly Yankee interior with strict regard to the utilization of space and the conveniences of summer life. A broad fireplace in which hangs an ancient swinging crane, with iron tongs, shovel, etc., and a pair of bellows which had the honor to belong to the grandmother of the illustrious Horace Mann, takes one back to colonial days, while the kerosene three burner upon which the daily meals are cooked, is thoroughly "up to date" Sleeping rooms abound, that is, there is a bed anywhere and everywhere, on the veranda, under the eves, and in the alcoves.

The exterior is boarded and then clapboarded with pine and chestnut slabs, from which the bark has not been removed, giving the house a distinctively rustic appearance. Wire and mosquito netting protect the inmates from unwelcome intruders, and make the verandas and rooms comfortably habitable at all times. The Italian chimney, built both by Italians and upon Italian lines, is decidedly artistic, though somewhat hidden from view, being upon the north side of the house. At the gate stand two immense posts, twelve feet high, of cobble and broken stone, the words "Villa Gallison" appearing upon them.

A gang of Italians have been building a road from the highway to the house, all of the exterior work being under the personal charge of Contractor Fiorani. Below the house is a never failing spring of absolutely pure water, which is regarded as one of the features of the place. In the rear of the house the undergrowth has been cleared away, the lower limbs of the trees trimmed, a barn built, and in other ways the place is made comfortable and convenient.

The doctor and his family spend their nights there, and he is pleased to find that the place has the flavor of sylvan life with the conveniences of town life, so that each day it is easy for him to pick up the thread of professional and civic duties without loss of time. It is already proving a panacea for some of the difficulties with which the doctor has been wrestling. Therefore it is a success.

Royally Entertained.

About thirty of the members of the Franklin Country club went to North Attleboro on Saturday to enjoy a friendly contest with the crack members of that club, ten from each organization participating. Upon their arrival they were given a cordial welcome in the handsome club house which the North Attleboro association owns, built expressly for the club. The game commenced at 2 30 o'clock, it being team play for a medal, and the interested friends of both sides watched the game with generous rivalry. W. C Sherman made the best individual score. The score appended below indicates that the Franklin club had selected worthy representatives, as they beat the entertaining club handsomely. It is needless to say that this fact did not affect the hospitality extended, and the ladies of the club after the game set out a most appetising banquet upon the lawn, and in the evening music and dancing contributed to the pleasure of the occasion. Every member of the club was enthusiastic over the cordial nature of the reception, and do not propose to be outdone when the North Attleboro club comes over here for the return game on Saturday. August 11.

FRANKLIN.	Holes up.	N. ATTLEBORO.	Holes up.
Arnold	5	Watson	0
Sherman	9	Richards	0
Ray	0	H. Fisher	0
Chapman	0	French	0
C. Gilmore	0	Clark	5
Nye	6	Tweedy	0
Palmer	0	Blackington	4
F. Gilmore	6	E. Fisher	0
Rockwood	0	Franklin	8
Bassett	16	Draper	0
Total	42	Total	17

Card of Thanks.

To the friends who presented my son Burnelle with birthday gifts at the picnic last Saturday I hereby extend my thanks. The fact that some of the donors were unknown compels this method of returning thanks.

MRS ANNIE GALLISON HAWKINS.

Cut flowers, all kinds of funeral designs well made up at Slade's greenhouse. Roses in small or large quantities.

The Congressional Nominee.

Samuel L. Powers, prominently now before the people as a candidate for congress from the 11th district, was born in Cornish, N. H, in 1848 and was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1874, after which he studied law in the law school of the University of New York, and was admitted to the Massachusetts bar in November, 1875 He commenced the practice of law in 1876 as a partner of Congressman McCall, who was a classmate in college. Mr. Powers is one of the best known members of the Boston bar, and has won an enviable reputation for his ability, fairness, courtesy and zeal in the numerous cases in which he has appeared. He became a resident of Newton in 1882 and has served in both branches of the city council and the school board, and has always taken a lively interest in the progressive spirit of his city. Socially he is very popular, as shown by his being president of the Dartmouth club of Boston, as a member of the University club, the Boston Athletic association, and was for many years president of the Newton club. As a public speaker he ranks high as an orator in the full sense of the term.

SAMUEL L. POWERS

Mr. Powers' friends claim that he is entitled to the nomination by reason of the fact that Middlesex county has not had the honor of the nomination in this district for more than twenty years, added to the further fact that Mr. Powers, always a staunch Republican, a leader in the party's counsels, and a contributor to the success of others, should be received with favor by the voters of the Eleventh District in the coming contest.

There will be an auction sale of household goods in the vacant room of the Opera house block on Thursday evening at 7 30 o'clock, when many articles are to be disposed of. Everything sold; nothing reserved.

Eat fish as well as meat. Shad, sword fish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fishman.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Good wages for a girl to do housework. Inquire at SENTINEL office. 24 tt

100 cords trash hard and pine limbs, at Allen's wood yard, School street.

Girl wanted.—For general housework, must be good cook. Box 7, City Mills. 31*

To Let—Small tenement, rear Dana block, $1.25 per week, A. C. Dana druggist 24-tf

Wanted —A competent girl for general housework. Apply to Mrs. Dr. King, High street. 31

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

A capable Protestant housework girl wanted. Mrs. J. O. Simmonds, King Philip's Park, Wrentham. 31

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Miss Mary S. McLeod, dressmaker, has removed from Fletcher's block to Room 28, Morse block, over Vesie's studio. 30*

To Let—A tenement of five rooms on Alpine street. Inquire on the premises or at Mrs. Burnham's, cor Peck and North Park streets. 17 tf

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J.B.MCKINNON, Agent.

The Plant Line will run a cheap excursion to St. Johns, good going by La Grande Duchesse, Saturday, July 28, and returning by any steamer within thirty days. Tickets and all information at 290 Washington street or 20 Atlantic avenue, Boston.

A carload of brewery grain received every Tuesday at Metcalf's station, where any quantity can be purchased. Good for milch cows, hens or hogs. Great saving on grain. Inquire at the station.

If you want the best milk in this town, put up in glass jars at the farm, and delivered by 5 o'clock in the morning, address J. C. McInnis. He also has all kinds of fruit in the season.

Sweet peas at Slade's greenhouse.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 90	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year.

TUESDAY, JULY 31, 1900

Free Town Libraries.

The free town library, one of the best educational gifts of the nineteenth century to the world, bids fair in the twentieth century to become still more than it is now a stimulant to intellectual progress. Collections of books for the scholar and the rich there have been from the earliest times; but a library belonging to the whole community, rich and poor, learned and ignorant, laborer and professional man, is purely a product of the last half-century. Fifty years ago, says Youth's Companion, there were about a score in Massachusetts. To-day all but seven of her 35[illegible] towns have a free library. In the whole country there are not less than 1,[illegible] such libraries. But a mere collection of books, without a faithful librarian, however valuable, is, like an undeveloped mine, practically of no use. The town librarian is, like the library itself, a product of the closing century, and has become a new intellectual leader in the community. The minister is responsible only for his particular congregation, the teacher for her scholars, the doctor for his patients, the employer for his work-people. The librarian knows no distinction of sect, age, condition or occupation. Through the help which he gives, sermons are better, teachers more stimulating, doctors more skillful. The idle schoolboy becomes an eager student, and the inferior mechanic an intelligent artisan. Through his aid, reading clubs counteract the bad influence of sensational newspapers and poor novels. Interest in local and national history is fostered, and a discerning love awakened for the manifold variety and beauty of field and forest life. A dispenser of light, the faithful librarian is an earnest seeker after light. We know of no body of men and women more zealous in endeavoring to perfect themselves in their chosen profession. Their reward comes in such testimony as was given by the teachers of a Maine city: "We could not teach without the library."

Senator Depew estimates that "fully one-half of all charitable efforts are productive of more harm than good. They increase pauperism, and encourage paupers to remain paupers. The worst form that charity can take is when it pauperizes the recipient." The estimate of one-half of all charity being evil may seem startling; possibly it is exaggerated. If true it is still no argument against a continuance of charitable effort. Not less benevolence, but more discretion in manifesting it, is the rule suggested. The charity that encourages self-help is always good.

Prof. Jordan says the prospect for the twentieth century farmer, from a material standpoint is good. No lands are exhausted beyond redemption. Present knowledge will enable farmers to restore waste places and maintain or increase the present fertility of available lands. Prof. Crooks' prophecy of a permanent wheat deficit in 1942, because of a lack of nitrogen, is not seriously taken by many well-informed men. The proposition has not been proved. Science has brought a defense against exhausted fertility.

To correct exaggerated reports regarding the loss of life among American troops in the Philippines the war department has published a summary, which shows that the mortality from all causes, from the beginning of the American occupation of the islands, June 1, 1898, to February 17, 1900, was 1,525. This is at the rate of 74 deaths a month for the entire period.

The citizens of Lagrange, Ind., have presented a remonstrance to the town board that is out of the ordinary. A skunk farm was started within the corporate limits of that city and the scent was more than the neighbors could stand. The remonstrance is drawn up in legal form and is signed by 29 residents.

THE CHARM OF LIFE

Is Lost When the Burden Is Too Heavy

Life is hardly worth the living with the never-ceasing aches and pains of a bad back. If you would remove the burden of backache, reach the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills will cure sick kidneys, and the cure is lasting. Here is proof of it.

Mr. Israel A. Morse, of 10 Tyng street, Newburyport, a member of the Board of Aldermen for two years, and Common Council for three years, says: "My experience with and opinions of Doan's Kidney Pills which I expressed through our newspapers in 1896, after taking a course of the treatment, have not altered. I value that preparation more highly to-day than I did when I first published my statement, and that is over three years ago. To my personal experience I can add that of many others in this city who one and all coincide with me in saying that Doan's Kidney Pills act as represented.'

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers; price 50 cents a box. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

AS DECIDED BY THE COURTS.

Rule of a carrier that baggage will not be checked more than 30 minutes before train time is held, in Goldberg vs. Ahnapee & W. R. company (Wis.) 47 L. R. A. 221, not to be unreasonable as a question of law, and it was held not to be reasonable as matter of law to leave baggage in the evening for a train at six o'clock in the morning.

That a person is confined in jail for default of bail in a criminal case is held in White vs. Underwood (N. C.) 46 L. R. A. 7[illegible]6, not to prevent service upon him of a summons in a civil action, with an order of arrest and bail ancillary thereto. With this case is a note reviewing the authorities on the service of process on prisoners.

Selection of a suitable intermediate bank for the purpose of sending a check for collection is held, in Givan vs. Bank of Alexandria (Tenn.), 47 L. R. A. 270 to constitute a sufficient discharge of the duty of the initial bank in which the check was deposited, but it is held to be negligence to send the check directly to the drawee bank for collection.

An ordinance imposing a license tax on all merchants who use trading stamps is held, in Fleetwood vs. Read (Wash.), 47 L. R. A. 265, to be valid although the tax is imposed for the purpose of revenue as well as the regulation of business, when it applies to all who see fit to use tickets of that kind. A license of $10 is held not to be oppressive.

Right to a mechanic's lien for the improvement of grounds by enrichment of the soil, planting flowers, shrubs, trees, etc., without making any structure thereon, except a rustic bridge of slight importance, is denied in Nanz vs. Cumberland Gap Park company (Tenn.), 7 L. R. A. 273, where the statutes clearly contemplate such liens shall be created only by the erection of some building.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH NOTES.

Methodists have 142 American missionaries in China; Presbyterians, 2[illegible], and the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, 11[illegible].

Lord Leven, governor of the Bank of England, has been appointed lord high commissioner to the general assembly of the Church of Scotland for the fourth time.

Miss Anna B. Hasbrouck, an instructor in history in the Holyoke high school, has been dismissed for teaching her class that "Christ was one of a family of ten brothers and sisters," says the United Presbyterian.

An extensive building has recently been opened in Leeds (England) to be devoted to the development of clothworkers, research, dyeing, etc. It is the intention of the Clothworkers company, of London, that this college shall become the leading and most complete example of a textile and dyeing school in the world.

IRISH PROVERBS AND SAYINGS

He is better fed than taught.

It's an ill bird that soils its own nest.

He is not covetous, but he'd fain have all.

He that is born to be hanged will never be drowned.

He was looking at somebody drinking.

He would swear a hole through a griddle.

He'd skin a flea for its hide and tallow.

If ifs and ands were pots and pans, where would be the use of tinkers?—Irish World.

CONSUMPTION

never stops because the weather is warm.

Then why stop taking

SCOTT'S EMULSION

simply because it's summer? Keep taking it. It will heal your lungs, and make them strong for another winter.

50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

Told by the Confidence Man.

The usually handsome, mobile face of the confidence man wore a lugubrious expression as he walked along the Bowery. A reflective, faraway look in his piercing eyes betokened some retrospective musings or some inward uneasiness of recent origin—recent because it was but a brief period since I had seen the volatile young gentleman in excellent spirits and basking in the sunshine of prosperity. It was manifest to me at first glance that my usually nonchalant and blase friend had met with some mishap of more than usual moment.

"What's up?" I inquired as I stepped up to him, he not noticing me in his preoccupation. "You look as if your mother-in-law had eloped."

This gray bearded, prehistoric "chestnut" evidently fell short of its purpose, for he looked at me with a sickly smile. After what I took to be something of an effort he replied:

"Oh, nothing. I suppose it must be the weather; it affects everybody."

For the first time since I had the honor to be favored with the volatile young gentleman's acquaintance I noticed a disposition on his part to taciturnity, and, led by a burning curiosity, I determined to persevere in my interrogations.

"Now, my dear boy," I continued, endeavoring to become facetious for the purpose of drawing him out, "in the florid and sententious language of the small boy, 'come off.' The weather, I admit, is depressing, but it requires more than a spell of unpleasant atmospheric conditions to upset your moral equanimity."

He fidgeted, hesitated and finally said:

"Well, to tell the truth, I'm completely out of sorts. An unfortunate occurrence of recent origin has upset my calculations and plunged me into the slough of despond."

"Was it something out of the usual rut?" I ventured to inquire, a vision of "cops" and cells suddenly looming up on my mental horizon.

He immediately relapsed into his former condition of preoccupation, and, after staring at nothing particular for awhile, he said by way of answer to my query:

"It was just this way: My pal and I were mourning the other day over the degeneracy of the times and the marked paucity of desirable 'suckers,' when a gentleman whose appearance was strikingly suggestive of pastoral associations hove in sight, and, exclaiming simultaneously, 'There's our pie!' we started for him with the laudable intention of appropriating his plethoric 'leather.'"

The confidence man was rapidly regaining his original facetiousness and volubility under the stimulus of my interrogations and attentive attitude.

"Our friend," he continued, "had just turned into Broadway from Chambers street when I rapidly approached him, and, with the usual counterfeit of surprise and gladness, said: 'Well, Mr. Hodgson, this is a surprise indeed! Glad to see you! How are all the folks in Gophertown?'

"My verdant friend assured me that his name was not Hodgson, but Williams, and that his genealogical tree bloomed in Boulderville. I muttered something about a striking resemblance and took my leave.

"My pal being close at hand, I tipped him the gentleman's proper patronymic and place of abode and lagged behind to await developments. My pal, after a cordial greeting by his bucolic friend, walked arm in arm with him toward Park row, I following closely.

"At the lower end of the postoffice an old lady asked me to escort her across the street, the policeman delegated for that purpose at this spot being off his post. I was thoroughly aware at the time that gallantry is invariably an attribute of the true gentleman, and here was a case calling for all of that article that I possessed. But I refused to assist the old lady. You see, my recent lack of the needful and continued hard luck had awakened all that was sordid and mercenary in my nature.

"I had not gone 20 yards, however, when I heard a scream, and, quickly turning, I beheld the old lady under the wheels of a passing wagon and a crowd endeavoring to rescue her. I, however, kept on, feeling some remorse of conscience for my base conduct, and closely watched my men.

"My pal, by personal magnetism and a trick or two known to the trade, succeeded in reducing the surplus in the bucolic gentleman's 'leather' and gave him something to talk about when he got back to Boulderville. In the meantime he repaired to a restaurant. I joined him in about an hour.

"While seated in a favorite resort that evening over our wine, the amount borrowed rendering such a luxury possible, my pal and I read an account of the affair in the newspaper. Of course, we laughed heartily and proceeded to scan the menu in search of choice morsels, we being connoisseurs in matters gastronomic when our means allow us to indulge our tastes. We made our selections, when an item in the same paper arrested my attention. It was an account of the accident to the old lady whom I in my haste refused to escort across from the federal postoffice. After reading the article over several times I hastily left the place, or, rather, ran from it, and proceeded to Bellevue hospital, where she was confined.

"I entered the dimly lit ward where the surgical cases are confined, and, under the guidance of a nurse, proceeded to the bed where the old lady lay. She was breathing heavily: the car of life was evidently about to give out on its rugged road. She opened her eyes as I approached and—and"—

The confidence man's voice became husky as he stopped in his narrative, and the veins in his neck heaved perceptibly, evidently the result of an emotional storm.

"Who was she?" I asked, betraying intense interest in his narrative.

"Oh, thank God, she died in my arms, anyhow."

"Who?" I inquired.

"My mother."—New York News.

No Reduction.

"My dear," said Mr. Northside to his wife, "I am going to file this big millinery bill of yours."

"Why, George, you can't make it any smaller that way, can you?" asked Mrs. Northside.—Pittsburg Chronicle.

Palpable Injustice.

"Ma, I didn't get the spellin prize."

"Well, Dickey, better luck next time."

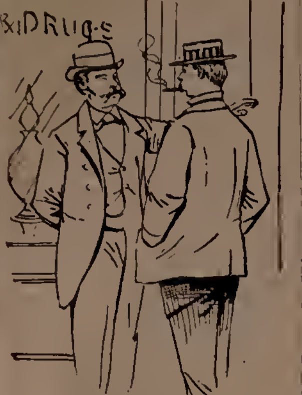
"Yes, but, ma, that girl 'at got it ain't bin goin to our school but three months."—Chicago Record.

LESSON ON "TREATING."

Why Not a Social Glass of Castor Oil as Well as One of Whisky.

It is a well-known fact that much of the dissipation and nearly all of the intemperance of the present day is due to the American habit of "treating." The young man who smokes or drinks is seemingly not satisfied unless he can induce his companion to do likewise, and so it follows that not only does a man drink or smoke two or three times more than he would if alone, but many persons who lack the moral courage to say no are led into vices where they would not go if left to themselves. It is a reprehensible habit, as well as a foolish one, and the next time you are asked to smoke or drink, you may reply by telling the following true story:

Mr. Perry was a southern gentleman exceedingly polite and also a very temperate man. One day he met an acquaintance, who called out:



FOR SOCIABILITY'S SAKE.

"Hello, Perry! I was just going in to get a drink. Come in and take something!"

"Thank you," said Perry; "I don't care for anything."

"But," persisted the other, "come in and take something just for sociability's sake."

"I want to be sociable," answered Perry, "I am anxious to be sociable, but I can't drink with you."

"All right," growled the friend. "If you don't want to be sociable, I'll go without drinking."

The two men walked silently along for a minute or two, the sociable man in a state of great irritation, until Perry suddenly halted in front of a drug store.

"I'm not feeling very well to-day," said he, with a pleasant smile, "and I think I'll go in here and get a dose of castor oil. Will you join me?"

"What!" exclaimed the other. "In a dose of castor oil?"

"Yes; I'll pay for it."

"E-heu!" cried the sociable man, with a very wry face, "I hate the stuff."

"But I want you to take a glass of oil with me, just to be sociable, you know."

"I won't do it."

"Indeed! My friend," said Perry, gravely, "your sociable whisky is just as distasteful to me as my sociable oil is to you. Don't you think I have as much reason to be offended with you as you have with me?"

The sociable man saw the point, and it would be money, health and morals saved if the lesson could be firmly implanted in the mind of every young man in the land.—Golden Days.

FACTS AND COMMENT.

It is stated that 400 members of the English parliament are pledged to vote against the bill to prevent the sending of children to the public house for drink.

Apothecary shops with women clerks are not only becoming more common in Russia, but they are said to be specially favored by physicians and the public.

The governor of Georgia says that he has found from careful investigation that 83 per cent. of the inmates of jails and prisons in that state have never been in Sunday school.

A temperance society has recently been organized among the Armenians of Tabriz—the first of its kind, so far as is known, in Persia. It has about 70 pledged members at present among the Armenians.

Before the daily newspapers are exposed for public reading in the Leicester (England) free reading rooms, the betting columns of each paper are covered over with strips of paper so that it is impossible to read them.

With Years WISDOM.

The answer to that old query, "What's in a name?" was not hard to define in the case of one justly celebrated Family Remedy that had its origin away down in Maine, which proves that with age comes wisdom about

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

An old lady called at a store and asked for a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment; the clerk said they were out, but could supply her with another 'just as good.' The engaging smile that accompanied this information was frozen stiff when she replied

Young Man, there is only one Liniment, and that is Johnson's.

Originated in 1810 by an old Family Physician. There is not a remedy in use which has the confidence of the public to a greater extent. Could a remedy have existed for nearly a century, except that it possess extraordinary merit?

Our book on INFLAMMATION free. [illegible] S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston.

OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and Gasolene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied users are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABILITY, ECONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABILITY tell the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever? CONSULT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.

New England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.

1817 1900

CARPETS.

Every purchaser of Carpets—whether for the smallest room or the biggest hotel—wants his mind satisfied on three points, namely:

PRICE—QUALITY—STYLE.

It is because we convince our customers as to every one of these requirements that we confidently expect YOUR patronage.

John H. Pray & Sons Co.,

658 Washington Street . . . BOSTON.

Opp. Boylston Street.

A Case in Point.

"The cholera is only fatal to smokers," read the farmer's wife out of the paper.

"Well, Jane; I've noticed somethin' was the matter with that parlor lamp of ours; perhaps it's got cholera," replied the husband.—Yonkers Statesman.

Trying to Imitate.

Pearl—Have the Kenwoods been trying to pass as born swells since that uncle left them a little sum?

Ruby—Yes; they never arrive at a playhouse now before the curtain has gone up. Then they try to out-talk the people in the boxes.—Chicago Daily News.

Saying the Aggreeable Thing.

Mrs. Cohwigger—This is a splendid cure for a cold I've given you.

Mrs. Crawford—As it comes from you, my dear, I'm sure it must be. You don't know how sorry I am that I haven't a cold, so I could try it at once.—Judge.

Making Sure.

He (earnestly)—Are you sure, absolutely sure, that you will love me till death us do part?

She (solemnly)—I am sure, absolutely sure, that I shall love you till death do us part. By the way, is your life insured?—N. Y. Weekly.

Limited Practice.

Father—My boy, don't you know that when you tell me a lie it makes me ashamed to own you as my son?

Son—Well, dad, I shouldn't think you'd expect a little boy like me to lie as good as you can.—Judge.

Common Form of Cruelty.

"Yes, he claimed his wife pinched him severely whenever she asked him for money."

"Well, he needn't flatter himself that he is the only man who has been pinched for money."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Whole Truth.

Ethel—That detestable Mrs. Bloom said that I looked 30.

Maud—How perfectly absurd!

Ethel (elated)—Frankly, now, how old do you really think I look?

Maud—About 40!—Tit-Bits.

On The Track.

This means disaster and death when applied to a fast express train. It is equally serious when it refers to people whose blood is disordered and who consequently have pimples and sores, bad stomachs, deranged kidneys, weak nerves and that tired feeling. Hood's Sarsaparilla puts the wheels back on the track by making pure, rich blood and curing these troubles.

Constipation is cured by Hood's Pills.

Her Way.

"There's a young woman who makes a little things count."

"How does she do it?"

"Teaches arithmetic in a primary school."—Boston Globe.

Many thousands have been restored to health and happiness by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. If afflicted with any throat or lung trouble, give it a trial for it is certain to prove beneficial. Coughs that have resisted all other treatment for years, have yielded to this remedy and perfect health restored. Cases that seemed helpless, that the climate of famous health resorts failed to benefit, have been permanently cured by its use. Bear in mind that every bottle is warranted and if it does not prove beneficial the money will be refunded to you. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Builds up the system; puts pure, rich blood in the veins; makes men and women strong and healthy. Burdock's Blood Bitters. At any drug store.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

The Kind You Have Always Bought

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

SAVINGS BANK,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, LESTER L. BURRINGTON, WALTER M. FISHER, DR. GEORGE KING, Vice Presidents.
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, E. P. Chapman, B. M. Rockwood, George W. Wiggin, Charles Stewart.

STATEMENT JUNE 30, 1900.

LIABILITIES.
Due Depositors		$564,357 27
Guarantee Fund		27,752 79
Profit and Loss Account		6,268 89
Interest Account		13,108 32
Real Estate Income Account		10 29
		$611,497 56
ASSETS.
Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		27,779 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
C. F. Boynton account		3,023 72
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		31,350 00
" " Mortgages		159,969 00
" " Personal Securities		164,745 86
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Bank Books		1,500 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Tax account		874 09
Expense Account		1,178 27
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$14,733 01
Nat. Bank of Redemption	2,954 46
Mercantile Trust Co.	64 79
		17,752 26
Cash on hand		2,652 29
		$611,497 56

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

E. P. CHAPMAN,
E. H. SHERMAN,
Committee of Examination.

June 2, 1900.

THE

NEW YORK WORLD

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

18 Pages a Week . . .
. . . 156 Papers a Year

FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

News and Opinions OF National Importance.

THE SUN

ALONE CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

Address THE SUN, New York.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

A SOLDIER'S REQUIEM.

Soldier, sleep in martial cloak,
  As in shroud by love conceited!
Cannon roar nor saber stroke
  Follows where thou hast retreated.

Warrior, peace! Thy meed of praise
  Comes not from the spoils of glory;
Loving hearts the tribute raise
  O'er thy silent tomb and gory.

Patriot, rest! A future age,
  Retrospective glances casting,
Shall thy deeds on memory's page
  Treasure up for everlasting.
Of where a household hero sleeps
The hearthstone fadeless record keeps.
  —H. L. Wason in Facts From Denver.

A Repentant Rogue.

How He Acted Under the Influence of the Woman Who Loved Him.

When Jimmie McKoy died, he bequeathed his mansion on North Shore, his founders' shares in the great Poobah Gold Mining company and the respectable sum of £250,000, invested entirely in colonial stocks, to his "only and beloved child," Victoria Marie McKoy. Jimmie was a child of fortune, a man obviously born lucky, yet his sole pride was in the fact that he was born colonial.

Victoria Marie was a lady. She had been well educated by divers teachers. She could play "Home, Sweet Home," with variations, not only absolutely correct, but with a feeling that could disturb no conversation. She had read "Trilby" and "The Woman Who Did." She rode a bicycle and refused to take advantage of the voting paper presented to her by a maternal government. She was the richest heiress in Australasia.

It was at Lady Boughtem's garden party that Victoria Marie met Cyril Fitzherbert.

"I must introduce you to our heiress. Miss McKoy," said Lady Boughtem.

"I had no idea she was your heiress, though I was anxious to be introduced to her. Still, it would be mere æsthetic folly to say that the possession of a certain number of golden coins could in any way spoil my ideal."

"My dear Victoria," cried her ladyship after the ceremony of introduction had been enacted, "I must leave Mr. Fitzherbert with you. I know you will look after him well, you dear girl, and really I must—it is my duty to her majesty—I must attend on his excellency. He has not had a cup of tea this afternoon. Positively, he must be thirsty—such a hot afternoon—and wearing a frock coat!"

Strange to say, though he never spoke of them to Lady Boughtem, Mr. Fitzherbert's talk to Victoria was entirely of outdoor pastimes, of hunting, shooting, boating, tennis and bicycling.

She began to admire him, not so much for the things he had done as for the truth with which he retailed them.

To her surprise she felt sorry when the thinning crowd on the lawn told her it was time to depart.

The shortest road to friendship runs over a common land.

Victoria Marie and Cyril soon discovered this. Both were interested, Cyril, it appeared, deeply, in all the mysteries of horseflesh, and in a mutual exchange of confidences on that prosaic subject they sealed an agreement of comradeship, that word, rather than friendship, defining the good fellowship which for the first few days existed between them.

Of course, the proprieties were maintained by the presence at lunch and dinner of Victoria's aunt, Mrs. Lisle, and as society, in the person of Lady Boughtem, had determined on the advisability of a match between the two young people, they were allowed to pursue thier dual loneliness undisturbed.

By the fourth day, so strong had their acquaintance grown, that Cyril, arriving, as usual, early in the morning, brought with him a birthday book.

"A friend of mine," he explained negligently, "has sent me this from home, and as I have no names in it yet I thought I should like you to be the first to write your name in it, if you will be so kind."

Under each date a little space was cut in the cardboard and a piece of light green colored paper inserted for the name to be written on "How funny!" said Victoria. "You have opened it at my birthday. Is that lucky?"

"I hope so," he murmured.

She had taken the pen and, sitting at the table, was preparing to write while he stood at her side, watching the operation seriously, when a new difficulty presented itself.

"How shall I sign?" she asked, looking at him with a perplexity which, if she had been a pretty girl, might have been suspected of coquetry. "To my best friends," she accented the words, "I always sign my full name, but to acquaintances or on checks I merely put Victoria M. It saves time, you see."

To her surprise he reddened—a suspiciously angry color—and, stretching out his hand, took hold of the book.

"Do not sign at all," he cried abruptly. "I would rather you did not."

Victoria was hurt. Innocently she had wished to show him her friendship by the harmless ruse of her two signatures, but now she pushed his hand aside impetuously.

"I will sign," she said, her face suffused with a ruddier glow than his own. "You asked me to, so I will."

With every sign of impatience she dashed off her signature—Victoria Marie McKoy.

"There!" she cried, throwing aside the pen petulantly.

He went away earlier that evening, taking with him the book, which she had grown positively to hate. When he had gone, she put on her hat and, to escape the weariness of a tete-a-tete with her aunt, determined to go for a walk.

She had not walked far when at the corner of a road where a heighted oil lamp was showing a feeble and flickering light she saw Cyril standing and talking to a strange man. She drew back in the shadow of the paling fence which bounded the foot path.

"My dear Cyril"—it was the voice of a gentleman—"there must be no more delay. I am getting too old—really, you know, I am 50—to be as impatient as youth. Still I am not stagnant with age."

"I tell you," said Cyril, interrupting him, "that I must get the other signature. Victoria Marie is no good. We must have Victoria M., as you know."

"Very well, my dear friend," replied the stranger, twirling his mustache still more vigorously. "I shall trust you till the eighth day; this is the fourth. We know each other, dear boy. We are comrades in sorrow, friends in need. What is the proverb, eh? But if you play me false—well, I do not like double dealings between partners."

The eighth day mentioned by the stranger and not forgotten by Victoria had come. It had, indeed, nearly gone by, for at 9 o'clock in the evening Cyril and Victoria were in the billiard room apparently engrossed in scoring the required hundred.

Cyril put his cue carefully in the rack and, flicking some chalk stains off his coat, remarked casually, "I must really be off; I have an appointment."

"With the tall gentleman with the big mustache?" said Victoria gently.

"How do you know?" cried Cyril in astonishment.

For answer Victoria methodically put aside her cue and, sitting down on the settee, patted the seat at her side with a quietly suggestive motion.

"You will come and tell me everything," she said.

He sat down, leaning forward with his elbows resting on his knees and his hands clasped.

"It is better not," he replied, moodily eying the pattern of the linoleum carpeting.

She leaned forward and, taking his hands in hers, unclasped them; then, releasing one, she held the other in both of hers.

Their heads were close together, and her wavy brown hair—her one pride and beauty—brushed his temples.

There was no need to speak loud.

"You will tell me everything," she reiterated softly.

"You know part of it," he answered huskily. "You've guessed somehow that I love you (she pressed his hand), and I wish you hadn't. You see, I'm—I'm a scamp, a rogue and a cheat."

He pulled his hand from hers almost roughly and continued excitedly: "I'm not fit for you to touch. I've been in jail. I'm a hardened criminal. I ought not rightly to be allowed to love any one, and no one should love me. My name isn't Fitzherbert. It's Brown — Cyril Brown."

"I'm glad it is still Cyril," she interrupted. "I love Cyril."

"Oh, that is nothing—not the name," he went on passionately. "I came here to swindle you, to rob you. Look here."

He took something out of his pocket and handed it to her without turning his head.

It was a piece of folded paper when she opened it she disclosed a [illegible]—a check on her bank for £10,000 [illegible] signature, unmistakable and clear, was hers—Victoria Marie McKoy.

"This is not forgery," she said, hesitating over the ugly word.

"No," he replied, dropping his voice to a whisper; "you signed it in that birthday book."

"See here," she said, speaking hurriedly, as one who wishes to pass quickly over an unpleasant tale. "I've put a private mark in that thing like a [illegible] pole. They will cash it now; they wouldn't have before. You will go halves with the stranger, I suppose. Still with £5,000 you can leave him and live honestly. Of course, I—I will never tell."

He looked at the check she held out to him quite carelessly, hardly as one would expect a seedy adventurer to regard a small fortune thus absolutely offered to him. Then, taking it in his hands, he tore it into tiny pieces and threw them on the floor.

"You forget that I love you," he said.

He moved toward the door; but, though her eyes followed him, she never stirred. As he opened the door he turned and looked her full in the face for the first time during that talk.

"It was a repentant rogue that loved you," he said sadly. "Goodby.

"Au revoir," she said.

She listened to him walking through the hall, and not until she heard the noise of the closing of the front door did she move. Then on tiptoe she ran after him. As he passed along the dark road she followed—as she had listened that night—in the shadow of the fence. Underneath the solitary lamp the stranger was waiting, twisting his mustache and tapping with his foot on the ground as if he grew impatient.

"Ah," he said sharply when Cyril joined him, "you are an hour late! No matter. Have you got it?"

"No," replied Cyril slowly, "I have not."

"Why?"

"Because she gave me the money—£10,000—and I gave it back to her."

"Ah, you mean that you have doubled on me."

"No; I mean that we will part."

"Very well."

She could see the heavy mustache lift and disclose the stranger's teeth. She knew the sign; the dog meant to bite.

"Very well, go. Go, my dear Cyril, to the devil. I will wait."

There was a momentary flash of fire licking out into the darkness like a devil's tongue, the sharp report of a pistol shot, and the stranger, his hands raised to the pitiless heavens, his lips parted in their last snarl, spun round once and collapsed in the roadway, a mere limp heap of clothed flesh and bones.

"You have killed him!" whispered Cyril, gazing, pale and awestruck, at the thing at his feet.

"You forget that I love you," said Victoria Marie, and, hiding her face on his breast, she wept hysterically.—Royal Magazine.

Guided by a Spider.

A spider was the direct cause of most serious loss and injury to the Dutch nation at the time of the attack upon Holland by France in the year 1794. A French prisoner at Utrecht, who had spent some of his long, lonely hours in studying the habits of spiders on the walls of his cell, was able by watching them to forecast the coming of rain or of frost. At a time when a sudden thaw raised the prospects of the Dutch and seemed to destroy the prisoner's hope of rescue by his countrymen his humble friends upon the wall gave him sure signs of a renewal of the frost. Upon this he managed to send a message to assure the French generals that within a few days their troops would be able to pass over the frozen waters, a prediction that was soon fulfilled, and so it came to pass that a spider was responsible for the release of Quartermaster Disjonval and for the conquest of the Dutch.

He Knew a Gargoyle.

A well known Radical politician once got badly hit. Colonel Saunderson, in a heated speech, compared him to a "gargoyle."

"I believe you don't know what a gargoyle is," sputtered his opponent.

"Yes. I do!" shouted Colonel Saunderson. "It is a grotesque gutter spout!"—London Telegraph.

Only Cement of Nations.

"The Bible is the only cement of the nations." Take the Bible out of the world's morals, and you have immorality.—Rev. E. E. Helms, Methodist, Buffalo.

Clearing the House.

"The house is afire!" cried the tenor. "The audience must be dismissed as quickly as possible."

"All right," replied the manager. "Say nothing about the fire. Go out and sing."—Philadelphia North American.

Made Sure of It.

Pat—Do ye snore. Mike?

Mike—Faith, Oi do not.

Pat—An how d' ye know ye don't?

Mike—Faith, Oi kept awake all night wanst t' make sure.—Philadelphia Record.

A Few Words about

Pain-Killer

A prominent Montreal clergyman, the Rev. James B. Dixon, Rector St. Judes and Hon. Canon of Christ Church Cathedral, writes:—"Permit me to send you a few lines to strongly recommend PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER. I have used it with satisfaction for thirty-five years. It is a preparation which deserves full public confidence."

Pain-Killer A sure cure for Sore Throat, Coughs, Chills, Cramps, &c.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c.

There is only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis.'

The Sure-Footed Yak.

I was enveloped in a mass of warm clothing in order to exclude the bitter cold; besides my body clothing, I wore two large sheepskin coats and three pairs of sheepskin gloves, with the result that I was quite helpless and incapable of mounting, even with assistance. I was accordingly lifted on to the yak, and just succeeded in clinging to the front of the saddle, while a Kirghiz led the animal by a rope. * * * The going was frightful; the road was a mixture of large bowlders and deep holes, but the yak was a wonderful equilibrist, and puffed and blew hard as, with his nose to the ground, he toiled steadily upward over a frozen watercourse without ever making a mistake. The men slipped about in all directions, but the yak's cloven feet gave him so firm a foothold that he never even stumbled. I clung on for dear life, digging my heels into the beast's hairy sides as he careered in the dark over rocks and ice, plentifully cut up by crevasses, and wondering whether, when he fell, I should have the luck to lie on the top.—From "Innermost Asia."

Summary Punishment In Mexico.

An instance of the manner in which justice is summarily dispatched in Mexico has been afforded at Naco, a sub-port of entry south of Bisbee, Ariz., where the Bisbee railway crosses the international line on its way to the mines of Nacosari. Two of the Mexican "rurales," or frontier guards, quarreled over a card game. One of the men, Ruiz, shot and killed his companion, who appeared to have been somewhat less agile "on the draw." That night, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, the commandant of the local detachment of rurales sentenced Ruiz to death. The next morning at daybreak Ruiz was marched out into the suburbs of the camp, guarded closely by a detachment of his former comrades in arms. Given a spade, he was compelled to dig his own grave. Then at command he stood at "attention" upon its edge and received in his breast the bullets of a file of men, the riddled corpse falling backward into the shallow trench.

Foreign But Pertinent.

A North Omaha Sunday school superintendent always conducts the lesson review in his school. He spends about five minutes in explaining the lesson, and then asks:

"Now, has anyone a question to ask?"

Last Sunday he explained the lesson as usual, dwelling at length on its chief thoughts, and wound up with the usual question:

"Now, has anyone a question to ask?"

A member of the boys' junior class raised his hand.

"Well, what is your question?" asked the superintendent.

"Please, sir, are we going to have a picnic this summer?"—Omaha World-Herald.

Being Down-Hearted.

After all, there is usually a great deal of conceit in those who persist in being down-hearted. Examine yourself and see if it is not so. You sometimes think that you have been singled out for special affliction and misery. The heart within you is deceptive of all things and it would fain make you think the whole world is yellow just because your eye is jaundiced. Good sense besiege thee, sad friend! The universe is not to be jolted out of joint just because you are out of step. It is self-centered conceit that makes you think it so.—Home Magazine.

Before He Commits Himself.

Tess—He'll never ask her to marry him. He stammers so awfully.

Jess—I suppose the thought of what he's doing paralyzes his tongue.

"No, it isn't that. He stammers naturally, and whenever he impulsively starts to ask her his halting speech gives him time to cool off and think of what he's doing."—Philadelphia Press.

The Colonel's Definition.

"A southern colonel's definition of a gentleman is a man who never permits anybody else to shave him and who never blacks his own boots."

"In Kentucky it's a man who never permits anyone else to do his shooting and who never mixes his own drinks."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Jewish Colonies.

There are not less than 25 colonies of Hebrews, most of them thriving and self-supporting, in Judea, Samaria, Upper Galilee, and in trans-Jordanic regions, with a total of 4,500 colonists and about 1,000 hired Hebrew laborers.

Calling and Seeing.

The Young Man—What objections have you to my calling at your house?

The Father—None at all. But I thought you might ultimately become tired of not being admitted.—Philadelphia North American.

Two Inquiries.

Father (calling from head of stairs at 11:30 p. m.)—Jennie, don't you think it's about time to go to bed?

Jennie—Yes, papa, dear. What on earth keeps you up so late?—Chicago Daily News.

Barbers Are Regulated.

The province of Quebec requires the barber, first of all, to be himself a healthy subject, free from transmissible affections. Then he must pass an examination in disinfection.

Not Without Prejudices.

Officer—I suppose you've been up for nearly every crime in the calendar?

Tramp—Nope; nobody ever heerd o' me swipin' towels ner soap.—Indianapolis Journal.

ON THE ROAD.

Alfred Harmsworth, the London publisher, while touring in France, has counted in one day on the Riviera 177 motor carriages and 269 motor tricycles.

Two lines of automobile communication will be opened for traffic in the neighborhood of Corunna, Spain, during the present year.

In New York city in the fall a private automobile stable will be built. In addition to the carriage house there will be a room for charging the batteries and quarters for the men who will take care of the vehicles.

Increase in bicycle manufactures for the current year will be about ten per cent. over last year. There are some 50 manufacturers in the United States and the total output for 1899 could have hardly been less than 1,000,000 wheels making the total number in the country about 6,000,000.

New engines of the Denver & Rio Grande railway have iron pipes extending along the roof of the cab and connecting with the boiler. Through this pipe, without making a perceptible motion, says the Railway Review, either the engineer or fireman can send, under 200 pounds' pressure, a jet of steam and boiling water that would effectually kill or injure anything living that happened to be on the tender or the front end of the baggage car. The blow-off cock thus arranged is expected to prevent train robbers climbing over the tender.

SHORT, BUT TO THE POINT.

A thorn in the bush is worth two in the flesh.

Misery is like a marriageable young lady; it loves company.

When pride heads the procession poverty always brings up the rear.

It is better to be taken by surprise than to be taken by the police.

Self interest is more likely to warp a man's judgment than anything else.

Some people put on airs because that is about all they have to put on.

One-half the world may not know how the other half lives — but it has suspicions.

Don't imagine a man belongs to the vegetable kingdom because he is a venerable sage.

Don't wait for great opportunities. A long, continuous walk will get you over more ground than a short run.

If at the age of 40 a man meets a woman he thought he loved at 20 he is apt to believe that luck is with him after all.

An old bachelor says the only difference between a wedding and a hanging is that with the former a man's troubles begin and with the latter they end.—Chicago Daily News.

POSTAGE STAMPS.

Of new Mauritius stamps the Philatelic Journal of India reports a six cent green and rose, 15 cent green and orange of the "arms" type and a 15 cent blue, large size, having a picture of an old man with a white wig.

The diamond jubilee of postage stamps is at hand in Great Britain. Sixty years ago the first postage stamps were issued in that country and the collectors think that something ought to be done to commemorate the year.

A country postmaster, near Philadelphia, has got into trouble through not understanding his business. A young lady employed in the city, who had a great many letters to mail bought all the stamps at the small office, thus swelling its receipts, and in return he gave her a small commission on the stamps. The sudden increase of receipts attracted attention, and a post office inspector soon discovered the cause. Both the postmaster and the speculative young lady claimed that they did not know they were doing wrong

Cure for Cholera Infantum—Never Known to Fail.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—Mrs Curtis Baker, Bookwalter, Ohio. For sale by Albert C Mason, druggist.

Spend your vacation on old ocean instead of the dry, hot country. Take the Plant Line to the Provinces and see something of a foreign land. Don't feel obliged to take a stateroom; a free berth in the cabin is better than the average farm house quarters. A fourteen hundred mile cruise inside of a week. Stop over allowed. Living in the Provinces cheaper than staying at home. Send for advertising telling all about it, to J. A. Flanders, New England agent, 290 Washington street, E. H. Downing, agent 20 Atlantic avenue, Boston.

Pimples on the face are not only annoying, but they indicate bad blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures them by purifying the blood.

One of nature's remedies; cannot harm the weakest constitution; never fails to cure summer complaints of young or old. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

"I suffered for months from sore throat. Eclectric Oil cured me in twenty-four hours." M. S. Gist, Hawesville, Ky.

I Know One Sure Remedy for an obstinate cold. Its name is Pyny-Pectoral.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 30, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.
BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.
WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.
NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.
CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.
PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.
HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.
WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.
NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.
New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.
ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week............ 50
Single Gallon.............................. 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.
17-tfT

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

J. A. GEB.

House and Sign Painter.

Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

G.A. Martin, M.D.,

. AND . . .

C.B.Hussey, M. D.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J.Gallison, M.D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.

Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.

Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. F. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.

Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.

Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

BABY
FOOD
MILK

There's a Sucker Born Every Minute,

so give the babies a chance for life by using our improved nursing bottles and our strengthening and nourishing baby foods. Life for the little ones during the heated term means bottles that can be kept thoroughly clean and food that will make pure blood, bone and muscle, and our foods will do it.

We recommend Mellin's Food.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.
DANA BLOCK.

CITY MILLS.

At City Mills, July 27, 1900, Eliza, beloved wife of Thomas Hallam, aged 80 years 2 months and 5 days. Funeral from her late residence Monday, July 30, 1900. Burial at City Mills cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to extend my most heartfelt thanks to my neighbors and friends for their deeds of kindness and words of sympathy in my bereavement.

THOMAS HALLAM.
City Mills, Mass., July 31, 1900.

WORK OF INVENTORS.

In Maryland a man has patented a shirt having a detachable bosom which can be easily removed and a fresh one put in its place when soiled, the shirt having a series of buttons to which tongues on the edges of the bosom are attached.

Handles of knives and forks are utilized for the storage of salt and pepper under a new patent, each handle being formed of a tube, which has spring clips to hold it on the shank with an internal reservoir for the salt or pepper, which is shaken through the ends.

Horses and cattle are prevented from wasting their feed by a new feed box, which has its sides extended to the height of the animal's shoulders, with a slot in each side deep enough to allow the feed to be reached, the sides forcing the animal to hold its head over the box while eating.

Tombstones or other heavy masonry can be set accurately in place by a newly patented method, which consists of placing soluble supporting blocks between the stone and its base, allowing the stone to be adjusted over its bed when the blocks are dissolved and the stone settles into place.

AUTOMOBILE TRAFFIC.

The London publisher, Alfred Harmsworth, while touring in France, has counted in one day, on the Riviera, 177 motor carriages and 209 motor tricycles.

A private automobile stable will be built in New York city in the fall. In addition to the carriage house, there will be a room for charging the batteries and quarters for the men who will take care of the vehicles.

A close observer states that by actual count the number of automobiles in regular use in Paris represents two or three per cent. of the traffic on week days, with a very much higher average on Sunday and holidays, probably reaching five per cent.

At Maritzburg in Africa, traction engines have been pressed into service by the British military authorities for transport purposes, and on some occasions they have been used to haul wagon loads of refugee children into the country to give them an outing.

How She Was Landed.

Bess—So Jeannette married a farmer. I thought she said she would marry only a man of culture?

Nell—And so she did—a man of agriculture.—N. Y. World.

Marriage a Success.

Mrs. Mulhooly—Plaze, mum, Oi've sthopped in to ask if y'd let me have y'r wash agin?

Housekeeper—How can I, Mrs. Mulhooly? When you did our wash, the things never came back clean, all the delicate fabrics were torn, and many things were lost.

Mrs. Mulhooly—Oh, th' wash'll be done all roight now, mum. Have no fear. Me prisent husband do be a Choinese gintlemon.—Harlem Life.

Lesser of Two Evils.

"What's the noise in the other room?" he demanded.

"It's Maggie," she replied. "The poor dear girl has to have some accomplishments, you know, and as the piano distressed you so much I decided to let her take elocution lessons."

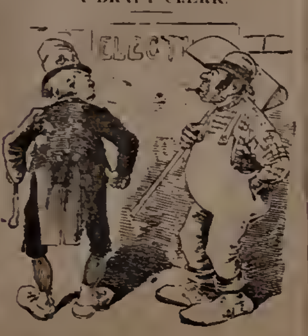
For perhaps five minutes he was silent. Then he sighed and spoke.

"I withdraw my objections to the piano," he said.—Chicago Post.

Choice of Chores.

O, if I knew a preacher who an editor would be,
I'd counsel him to try it, and stay with him just to see
The result, for well I wot, from what I know of men,
He'd find his pulpit restful after tussling with the pen.
—Indianapolis Journal.

A DRAFT CLERK.



O'Hana—And fwhat are you doin' now days, Mack?

Mack—Oi'm draft clerk in th' bank.

O'Hana—Draft clerk, is it? An' fwhat are yer duties, Mack?

Mack—Openin' an' shuttin' th' winders.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Alack! Alas!

The maid sits dreaming of knights of old,
(Her mother at the washboard rubs.)
She dreams of maids with lovers so bold
And longs for one with millions untold,
Whose arms about her he would enfold,
And prove to be a prince among hubs.
The maid sits dreaming of knights of old,
Her mother at the washboard rubs.)
—Chicago Daily News.

She Was Responsible.

Noozy—Your husband appears to be a man of great self-control.

Mrs. Strongmind—Yes, he is.

Noozy—I suppose he inherited the quality from his father, the judge.

Mrs. Strongmind (significantly)—No. It's a virtue he acquired since his marriage.—Catholic Standard and Times.

Constipation

Headache, biliousness, heartburn, indigestion, and all liver ills are cured by

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.

THE ROSE = FOR LOVE.
SUNRISE = = FOR BEAUTY.
"COOK CO." = FOR BARGAINS.

GO=CARTS, $8.00==Nice.

Never [illegible] Babies are [illegible] "Cook's Rolling Stock." Assortment is complete.

Same Good Old Terms--A Little Down, Then $1.00 or 50c. Weekly

Everybody waits for [illegible] store—[illegible] and [illegible]. Try it.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,
67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning, last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tf8

Hoag Lake PARK.

WEEK OF JULY 30

Afternoons at 3.15. Evenings at 8.30.

NEW YORK VAUDEVILLE STARS.

The company includes the Cosmopolitan Trio, the greatest singing trio in vaudeville. Hart and Bessie in a comedy sketch, "A Lesson to a Chappie," concluding with "Great Men, Past and Present;" Fisher and Clark in their original acrobatic comedy, introducing their sensational comedy act, "The Phantom Staircase." Prof. Hart and Mlle. Bessie, introducing the "Mystery of Cawnpore." Miss Adela Reno, accompanist.

UNDER DIRECTION OF MORRIS BOOM.
je26-tf

WANTED.

Experienced Fur Felt Finishers,

about July 16th, on Ladies' Felt Hats.

Address HIRSH & PARK, Medway, Mass.
jy3-1m

PLANT LINE TO THE PROVINCES.

Cheapest and Best Ocean Trip Out of Boston.

1400 MILES FOR $18.00.

Points of interest include HALIFAX, STRAITS OF CANSO, CAPE BRETTON, BRAS D'OR LAKES, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND and NEW FOUNDLAND. Elegant steamships La Grande Duchesse, Halifax and Florida. From north side Lewis Wharf for HALIFAX, HAWKSBURY and CHARLOTTETOWN, every Tuesday, 12 noon. Every Saturday 2 p. m. New line to SYDNEY every Friday 10 a. m. Illustrated advertising free.

J. A. FLANDERS, N. E. Agent, 290 Washington St., Boston.
E. H. DOWNING, Agent, 20 Atlantic Ave., Boston.
jly24 1mo24

Collector's Notice

COLLECTOR'S OFFICE, FRANKLIN, MASS., 1900.

The owners [illegible] of the following described real estate, situated in the town of Franklin, in the County of Norfolk and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the public are hereby notified that the taxes assessed for the year hereinafter specified, according to the list committed to me as Collector of Taxes for said Franklin by the Assessors of Taxes, remain unpaid, and that said real estate will be offered for sale by public auction at the [illegible] of the Collector of Taxes, No. [illegible], in said Franklin, on at 1 o'clock [illegible], for the payment of said taxes, with the costs and charges thereon, unless the same shall be previously discharged.

WEDNESDAY, the 22d [illegible] AUGUST, 1900,

Henry B. K[illegible]—A certain piece or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, situated on the easterly side of Forest street, in said Franklin, [illegible] described as follows: Beginning at a point on the easterly line of said Forest street, at land now or late of one Woodbury, [illegible] south 58 degrees east, ten and sixty eight hundredths (10.68) chains, thence running [illegible] 42 degrees 35 minutes [illegible] eighty [illegible] and [illegible] of the [illegible] with [illegible], thence south 14 degrees 5 [illegible] [illegible] Forest [illegible] [illegible] A. P. W[illegible], thence running [illegible] north [illegible] degrees 15 minutes west [illegible] chains to said Forest street, thence northerly on said Forest street forty seven and fifty four hundredths (47.54) chains to the point of beginning, containing [illegible] three and [illegible].

The tax on the above [illegible] for the year 1899 [illegible] twenty eight [illegible] cents $28.[illegible]

E. H. SHERMAN,
Collector of Taxes for the Town of Franklin.
Dated at said Franklin, July 31, 1900.
jly31-aug7-14

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of John L. Fairbanks, late of Franklin, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to ELIZA FAIRBANKS, Executrix.

Address Franklin, Mass.
July 25, 1900. jly31-aug7-14

TAKE ADVANTAGE

Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

SOMETHING NEW.

Razors can be conveniently sterilized by a new apparatus, which has a tank for heating the water or sterilizing liquid, provided with a hood which confines the steam, slots being cut around the edge of the hood for the insertion of the razor blades.

A trolley street sweeper has been patented by a Massachusetts man, having a short car mounted on wheels with a central receptacle, into which the dirt is gathered by an endless chain of buckets from a series of brushes which can be adjusted as desired.

A new mechanical toy is formed of two oppositely twisted spiral wires with two end portions telescoped and interlocked, the other ends projecting in opposite directions, to slide through the fingers and rotate the toy, which seems to separate the coils and makes an optical illusion.

For army use a combined shelter tent and cape has been designed, having a canvas cover of pyramid shape with a removable cap at the top, which is taken off for the insertion of the head, a telescopic pole being attached at the end of a bayonet to support the device as a shelter tent.

A Texan has patented a mechanical motor for operating a churn, in which two heavy weights are suspended by ropes wound on a shaft, the latter being mounted in a frame and rotating a series of gears, with a crank shaft set at the end of the train to reciprocate the dasher.

Reform.

"No," she haughtily replied, "I would not think of marrying a man to reform him!"

The look he gave her was terrible.

"You are right!" he said, in a strange voice. "The only way to reform a man is to be kind to him."

Then he strode away, leaving her numb with all the consciousness that the horse was on her all right.—Detroit Journal.

How She Might Have Done It.

"I never knew such a bore," she said when speaking of the caller of the previous evening. He never knows when to go. I tried every way I could think of to get rid of him last night, but he stayed until nearly 12, just the same."

"Why, didn't you offer to sing for him?" asked her dearest friend.—Chicago Post.

Cuts and bruises are healed by Chamberlain's Pain Balm in about one third the time any other treatment would require because of its antiseptic qualities which cause the parts to heal without maturation. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Itchiness of the skin, horrible plague. Most everybody afflicted in one way or another. Only one safe, never failing cure. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store, 50 cents.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Witch Hazel Jelly...

An improved form of Witch Hazel, far more effective and convenient than the ordinary Witch Hazel. It is a quick and efficient remedy in all cases of burns, bruises and all irritations of the skin, such as hives, nettle rash, mosquito bites, etc.

15 CTS. BOTTLE.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist
PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

FALES, the Grocer NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.
mil7-8

Coal! Coal!

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

JAMES F. RAY,
The Coal Dealer,
DEPOT STREET.
jly16-8

FOR SALE.

Two Grocery Wagons, one Grocery Pung, Harnesses, all Fixtures suitable for grocery business. Also, stock of Groceries. Will be sold in whole or part.

Apply to J. B. McKINNON.

Chilson's Market

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef, 10 to	12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.
fe7-1y8

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,
WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Attractions This Week

Afternoons at 3.30, Evenings 8.30.

Walsh and Thorne,
In their new character sketch, "Our Country Neighbors."

The Musical Holbrooks,
Boston's Favorites.

Mackie and Walker,
Comedy Singing and Talking and Change Artists.

Edward and Josie Evans,
The popular and clever artists, in their bright comedy sketch, entitled "Little Sweethearts."

SUNDAY AFTERNOON,
Concert by Norwood Band.

ADMISSION to the Grounds, 10c. Children, 5c. Reserved Seats in Amphitheatre 5 and 10c. extra.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof. Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses. Circulars free on application.

THE CANNING SEASON

Is at hand. You can find Glass Jars, Rubbers, Preserving Kettles, Porcelain-Lined Kettles, Fruit Tunnels, Stew Pans, great and small. Also a fine lot of Water Sets.

CALL AND EXAMINE

W. E. Crowninshield
2 METCALF BLOCK.
my4-4m8

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary Summer St., Franklin, Mass.
ap278

Hattie M Fisher 1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 62. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, AUGUST 3, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Monthly Statement Benjamin Franklin Savings Bank	3
Superior Court Notice	3
The Greater Boston Business Directory	3
Mortgagee's Sale	3

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 00 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10 30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

H. W. Hosie has returned from his outing to Maine.

Mrs. Thomas Coutu is ill at her home on Worsted street.

Mrs. W. S. Johnson is visiting relatives in Waterbury, Conn.

An addition is being built upon the C. W. Stewart house.

Mrs. Edwin Morse of Union street is ill with typhoid fever.

G. E. Emerson has so far improved as to be out of doors occasionally.

Mrs. John McCooe is confined to her home on Union street by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hobbs of Waltham are guests of Mrs. Charles Heaton.

A 11 1 2 pound boy was born to Mrs. Alfred Whiting last week Wednesday.

E. C. Abbott and family go next week to Hyannisport for the month of August.

Mrs. Lydia Harris and C. H. Robinson and family have returned from the shore.

E. P. Chapman has been visiting his son, Hamilton J. Chapman in Baltimore, Md.

William Dana is spending a week's vacation with friends at Naugatuck, Conn.

Mrs. Perry C. Sanderson and son of Worcester are visiting her brother, H. R. Noyes.

The house occupied by Mr. Bly and family on Union street is undergoing repairs.

Very, extensive repairs will be carried out at the Universalist church during August.

Mrs. Frank Hoagland of Bridgeton, N.J., is a guest of her cousin, Mrs. C. B. Johnson.

W. A. Pond has sold the Grant place in Sheldonville to George W. Hitchcock of Boston.

Harris Cochrane is spending a two weeks' vacation with relatives in Caroline, R. I.

Work at Hayward's mill was resumed Wednesday morning, after a five days' shutdown.

Rev. A. L. Fraser of North Bellingham will preach in the Baptist church Sunday forenoon.

Mrs. Webb Lincoln and daughter, Miss Maud Lincoln, left town today to visit relatives in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Donnell have begun housekeeping in the Parker Farr house on Cottage street.

Our Boys will play the strong Father Matthew team of Woonsocket at Hoag Lake tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Margaret Maroney has returned from a two weeks' visit with relatives at Quincy and Watertown.

Charles Heaton returns Saturday from Maine, where he was called by the death of David Kimball, of Mercer.

The school street schoolhouse is being reshingled, and the Emmons street engine house is being repainted.

Miss Annie Croston of Lewiston, Me., is visiting the Misses Nellie and Elizabeth Croston of Chestnut street.

Miss Katherine Curran returned Tuesday from Providence where she has been spending a vacation with friends.

Rev. G. W. Miner has returned from his outing near Hyannis, Mrs. Miner and son remaining a short time longer.

John Rockwood of Auburn, R. I., is on a visit to his sister Mrs. J. G. Ray, and incidently calling on old friends.

C. L. Fales left today for a two weeks' stay at Westport, Me. Mrs. Arthur Kilburn is also staying at the same place.

Parents and friends of little Eleanor Nye are anxious over a renewed attack of her old trouble, a gastric difficulty.

Mrs. Preston Day and daughter, Miss Laura Simmons, of West street are spending a vacation with friends in Boston.

Nels Johnson, the tailor, is enjoying a couple of weeks' vacation from business by visiting his father in New York.

The members of J. G. Ray Engine company, No. 3, will take a trolley ride to Crescent Park on Sunday, leaving here at 8 a. m.

The Plainville Stars will come here tomorrow afternoon to play the Hayward nine, the game to take place at Indian Rock park.

Mrs. F. P. Chapman and children are at Higgins Beach, Me., enjoying sea breezes. Mrs. G. R. Windsor accompanied them.

Mrs. Elizabeth Norton and her niece, Miss May Farrell, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are visiting at the home of Lawrence J. Kelley on Beaver street.

James E. McCarthy of Hudson, Mass., formerly of Franklin, leaves for New York in a few days to join Hillyer's minstrels for the coming season.

Today is the fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Martin, and some of their friends are calling upon them in an informal manner.

The Monthly printed programme of the Baptist church for August gives the name of each leader of the evening meetings during the absence of the pastor.

Prof. L. L. and Mrs. Burrington have gone to North Derby, Vt., for the month of September, before going to Peabody. We shall speak of their removal later.

An old lady tried the handle of the bicycle pump near Richardson's market the other day, and innocently asked if that was 'good drinking water." The crowd exploded.

Mrs. Henry Draper of Westwood and Mrs. Almon Daniels and daughter Ethel of Jamaica Plain visited their cousin, Mrs. Charles R. Gowen, of Pleasant street, this week.

Hugh Blunt of Brockton, a student at Brighton seminary, and his cousin, Miss Nellie Smith of Blackstone, were guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. James Garrity of Thayer street.

The annual picnic of the Methodist church will take place tomorrow at Lake Pearl. Members and friends of the church will take the 10.45 car in the morning at the postoffice.

Two special cars on the Franklin-Medway electric line carried members of the Baptist church here Tuesday the party changing cars for Lake Pearl, where they held their annual outing.

Mrs. and Mrs. A. M. Thayer leave today for Asquam lake, N. H., where they will stop through August at the Asquam house, just across from camp Algonquin where their son Robert is located.

G. I. Partridge left town Wednesday for a two weeks' vacation. He will visit friends in Binghamton, N. Y., Paterson and Newark, N. J., returning via Waterbury, Conn., and spending a few days with his daughter, Mrs. Buckley.

County President Reidy, assisted by County Vice-President Flanagan, installed the new officers of Division 8, A. O. H., Monday evening. There was a good attendance of members and a social time was enjoyed after the installation.

Rev. F. B Sleeper left Thursday morning for his vacation. During his absence he will take a trip to Yarmouth, and possibly Halifax, N. S. The ocean air is a great invigorator to him, as was found by his tour abroad three years ago.

If Marketman Richardson can continue to catch as good bluefish as he gave us today he can have our commission every season. He has our thanks. By the way, when he weighed the fish he also weighed the scales; when he weighs meat he does not do so.

F. A. Russegue of Boston was in town Wednesday and took a ride on the electrics to note the changes which have taken place since his boyhood days, when he used to travel to the four corner's schoolhouse with a little box of candy to beguile the hours of study and please the girls.

Joseph Tracy, who committed suicide by hanging himself in his father's barn in West Medway sometime during Saturday evening, was well known by a number of Franklin people. Much surprise was evinced by them on account of Tracy's act, as no reason could be offered for the same. Sympathy is also expressed for the family.

Daniel Pendergast and son of Chicago were guests this week of his brother William Pendergast, of McCarthy street. Mr. Pendergast, who resided in Chicago for a number of years, being engaged in the manufacture of felt, is to remove East with his family, locating at Byfield, Mass., where he will engage in the same line of business.

Died from a Wound.

Charles Lincoln Jenks, son of Henry R. Jenks, died at his home in Newton on Tuesday, aged 35 years, the cause of his death being blood poisoning. About a year ago, while living a short time on Cape Cod, he injured his finger with a fish bone as he was cleaning fish. From that time on he has had trouble with the wound, though it was thought until quite recently that he would recover. He leaves a widow and one child.

He was born in Franklin, receiving his education in the public schools and at Dean academy. After leaving school he was associated a short time with his father in the grain business, going into partnership later with Fred Cotton in the grocery business. After a couple of years he went to Cleveland, O., where he was engaged in the meat business. From there he went to Somerville for a couple of years, but was for the past five years a resident of Newton, being connected with the Expanded Metal Co. of Boston, a company in which a relative was interested. He was quite well known, as his business took him all over New England in the interests of his firm.

He was married October 9, 1895, to Miss Maria Parks of Boston, their home being in Newton since their marriage. Mr. Jenks was prominent in Odd Fellowship, and was treasurer of the Episcopal church where he lived. The funeral was held today from the chapel of that church, a number from here attending. Mr. Jenks was highly respected by all who knew him, and as a young business man had a bright future before him. His widow and his father have the sympathy of all in their loss.

A Fish Story.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Richardson of Franklin and Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Gilmore of Wrentham have been stopping for a few days at the Hotel Onset at Onset Bay. Thursday these well-known gentlemen hired a fishing smack of three tons burden, more or less—it was more on their return—and proceeded in a stiff breeze far out into Buzzard's Bay. The sky was blue, the water was blue, the wind blew and the fish were blue—blue fish usually are—but Fremont and Warren were not blue. Of all the smacks on that bay that afternoon this "smack" brought into port the most bluefish, ranging in weight from three pounds to ten. Aside from the captain there were but these two men in the boat. Here were two men and over a hundred pounds of fish, with waiting buyers by the score. "Sell those bluefish," said Gilmore. "I don't think! Not for ten dollars a pound! Wrentham shall be woke up for once!" Here was a quandary, whether to remain over another day and lose these fish from spoliation or to return home. "Seeing is believing," says Fremont. "If we take them home our friends will know. If we tell them they will say we lie." "Right you are," said Warren. "There are some features to be relaxed among my friends." So, buying two capacious market baskets, they divided the catch. In the meantime the captain wanted to know: "What would you two fellows ask a day to work for me?" If these fish were converted into money, all expenses of the "outing" would have been paid. "We'll have to send one round to the editor, and if my poet brother is going to stay all summer, I'll salt down some of the biggest ones; and there is that barber, we'll fix him as one or two ex-butchers I know of."

From Franklin there went Fremont;
From Wrentham, Warren K.
And they went on a fishing trip
'Way down in Buzzard's bay.
Did they catch any bluefish?
Well, I should say they did.
But they wouldn't sell a pound,
No matter what the bid.

Seeing is believing,
And eating better still.
Warren has some Wrentham friends
Who now have had their fill.
Should these men lose their money
And be without a dish,
Their families need never starve
As long as they could fish!"

REUBEN.

Dental Notice.

After Monday next my office will be closed during my absence for two or three weeks, or until further notice.

DR. E. C. ABBOTT.

A carload of brewery grain received every Tuesday at Metcalf's station, where any quantity can be purchased. Good for milch cows, hens or hogs. Great saving on grain. Inquire at the station.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Sweet peas at Slade's greenhouse.

Antiques In Franklin.

Thousands of years ago the inspired writer gave utterance to these words: "They be ever looking for some new thing." Whether he had in mind the people of that age or the range of his vision took in this age it is not for me to determine. There is to be a "new heaven," a "new earth," a "new Jerusalem;" "old things are to pass away." The purport of this article, as indicated in a former issue of the SENTINEL, is to place before the readers some of the "old things" before they crumble into dust or fire shall consume them. These "old things" are associated with the civil and ecclesiastical history of the town. While the multitudes of this age, as in all preceding ages, are ever alert for something new, come with me for a little time while we ransack some old attics and hay lofts for something old.

We will commence at the old homestead of Alfred Metcalf on King street. Mr. Metcalf has in his possession material enough for a book, if all it suggests were brought out. The space allotted for this paper precludes any extended report. Data not contained herein will be furnished by the aforesaid gentleman, who is very gracious to his visitors, and he has a great many. Mr. Metcalf's grandfather, William Haven, fought at Ticonderoga and the powder horn he carried in this famous engagement of the American revolution is one of the most valuable relics of the Metcalf collection. Here is a rifle with bayonet carried by Joseph Gilmore in the war of 1812, and which did effective work. This rifle would be far from safe to stand before at the present day. Here is a wooden case containing thirteen razors, some of which were discarded before the dawn of 1800. One razor has a likeness of the Duke of Wellington on one side and Blucher on the other. The blades of some of these razors shine today like burnished silver—good steel in those days. Here we find pieces of chinaware, cups, pitchers, ewers, plates and teapots, once in use on the tables of remote ancestors. Tin lanterns, warming pans, footstoves, a wooden shovel for taking out food from capacious brick ovens, pewter ware, etc. An Indian pestle for pounding corn, dug up a century and a half ago while clearing land; a cranberry rake constructed entirely of wood, once wielded by Jabez Fisher, before any human being on this planet was in existence. Here are old books, readers; "A Work on Elocution for the Improvement of Men's Minds," printed in Stockbridge. This was new to the writer, as it will be to most of the SENTINEL readers, to know that text books were printed a century ago in that part of the commonwealth. These old things will be new to some of us at least. A wooden bonnet block in six sections, the biggest one the writer ever saw, and he has seen a few. Here are forty Indian arrows, found at various intervals on this estate, but none of recent date. Some of them are of sparkling beauty—white, brown, red, steel, black and turquoise blue, all in a perfect state of preservation. These relics, of course, are practically indestructible. Candle snuffers, whales' teeth and swordfish swords. We will close in the house and go down to the well, whose motive power is a "sweep" rarely seen nowadays, but which a hundred years ago were universally prevalent in New England.

As we stood slaking our thirst at this ice cool fountain, contemplating the thousands of former generations now dead who had stood on this spot on a like mission, we could but exclaim: "Men may come and men may go, but water, fire, earth and sky shall abide forever." Now for the top loft of the shed; bring the boys along, the boys who are afraid of bears. Look at this bear trap! No small affair to catch woodchucks, but bears—bears with big feet. Small feet or legs would be cut off with this trap of a hundred and fifty years ago. What teeth—wrought iron, two inches long! What a spring! A moose could not extricate himself. What a blessing we can go and see our best girl or remain out late to protracted meetings and not step into any such instrument of torture as this. And then, again, the bears! How thoughtful of our ancestors to remove bears. Let us bear in mind to do some such kindly office for those who are to come after us. Another attraction for the boys—saddle bags, heel spurs, snow shoes. Oh, for an oldtime snow storm, when walls and fences were buried out of sight! Look at the old looms, spinning wheels, reels for winding domestic braid on, old meal chests, rakes, cow bells and sleigh bells When we remember that all these priceless adjuncts of former generations were once handled and utilized by men and women like ourselves—men with hopes, fears, doubts, faith, joy, sorrow, fretful or buoyant—and now forever silenced, as we must be in the economy of nature, the mind is staggered! the heart overwhelmed! The writer, in his researches, has found in several of the old homesteads of the town similar articles, hereinbefore mentioned. The Daniels, Tower, Clark, Dean, Woodward and Whiting antiques will be treated of in some near issue of the SENTINEL. There will be no rehash of this paper, but new (old) subjects of equal scope and interest. The Tower and Woodward collections are both antique and unique, as is your humble servant,

W. R. RICHARDSON.

THE HILLSIDE COTTAGE.

[Lines suggested by the description of Villa Gallison.]

Across the meadow and upland green,
'Neath sheltering trees, is the cottage seen.'
There is peace and rest in this quiet retreat,
Far from the busy and noisy street.
There is rest from the daily round of care,
There is health and strength in the balmy air;
Here one may live in the simple ways
That our grandsires lived in the olden days.

Delightful indeed, must it be to lie,
Gazing far on the starry sky;
Or on the moonbeams, soft and bright,
Flooding the earth with a silvery light.

How sweet to be by breezes fanned,
As if by a gentle, loving hand—
To be by nature soothed to rest,
Like a wearied child on its mother's breast!

A. L. P.

On A Casco Bay Island.

There is Massachusetts; here is Maine; behold them, a vigorous parent and vigorous offspring. The parent has endured a six months' session of the great and general court and is still healthy; the child extends the right hand of fellowship to thousands of summer birds and is happy. Honor to them both, especially to the genial child.

To come down to the consideration of 365 spots in the summer garden of Uncle Sam, what a good time the copper colored gentlemen of the olden times must have had among the isles of Casco bay. Nature's architecture was rugged, but the element of beauty was interlaced with free hand, and in the same light or in the shadow the gems of the ocean shine dark green or brighter hued, casting back upon the ocean the shining light of the sun or the softer rays of the moon. I think they enjoyed themselves, those men of copper hue, and their successors here find pleasure too. It is supposed that this is the original site of the Garden of Eden, and while habits of life have been modified and advanced to meet the requirements of modern ideas, the peace and placidity of Paradise before the expulsion remains. To a man built on modern American principles, good eating is an essential foundation stone, and when one sits at the refreshment altar, here the prayer of Artemus Ward for his mother-in-law comes to mind. "She was a good cook; may no rude hand pluck a flour from her tombstone."

With the body satisfied the soul can take its food with greater ease and satisfaction. The beauty of the marine pictures in Casco bay has been told and related a thousand times and need no repetition. Some of the best of them we have here.

Wander which way you will they rise before you, and when you remember that in the golden sands of the beaches lie hidden bushels on bushels of the luscious clams, without the reputation of its Providence river brother, but larger and of equally worthy character, calmly awaiting the march of human appetite, tender emotions will swell the bosoms of all except the most hardened agents of cruelty to animals society

So life here is a dream, except to those who do the cooking and provide for the needs of the strangers within the gates; to them it may perhaps at times be a nightmare. How long it is a dream I do not know, but so far have been unable to discover a graveyard.

The locality retains its Indian name, but the gentleman himself has departed and is not expected to return next season, as the summer boarders do. He has taken his grip with him and there is little evidence of his departure remaining. The only thing to break the peace and good order since he departed was a year or two ago when lightning knocked off the shingles of a big barn and burned the structure and its store of hay.

A pleasant and sheltered sand beach and shallow shore offer the chance to the chance sojourner of washing his sins away. The natives have so few that they do not generally avail themselves of the pastime.

You can see that it is a beautiful place on the footstone of the Creator. The view, however, is a summer scene. I imagine that in winter there is an opportuity for long repentance, if needed, and time for other duties, if the conscience is clear.

Regarded just for the present without looking behind or ahead, it is a pleasure and a profit (mentally) to be here, and as Uncle Silas departed from the trolley laden air of eastern Massachusetts and his good friend, E. H. S. expressed his good wishes for the trip and the trippers, Uncle Silas felt that all was safe, for the prayers of the righteous are good medicine. N. E. Newell (Uncle Silas)—Woonsocket Reporter

Richardson's Market.

Everything that the market affords can be found at this establishment this week. New vegetables coming in daily, fruit, etc. 'Nuff said.

COMMUNICATIONS.

[The editor assumes no responsibility for matter under this caption. This column is entirely at the disposal of the public, avoiding, as far a possible, trivial and controversial matter.]

MR. EDITOR:—Notices are posted about town, stating that no one must be allowed to ride through the streets on a bicycle at a greater speed than ten miles an hour or a mile in six minutes. Why then is the law not enforced? The writer ventures to assert that on any pleasant day more than one hundred bicycles are ridden through Main street (between Emmons street and the railroad bridge) at a speed exceeding fifteen miles an hour, or a mile in four minutes.

Many of the riders generally pay no attention whatever to pedestrians. Many bicyclists seem to think that they own the streets, and in many instances on side streets use the sidewalk where they think no officers will see them.

Now, if it is the duty of the day officer to stop it, why does he not do so? Why do not the selectmen instruct and insist that he do so, and if he does not attend to it appoint some one in his place who will attend to it?

One arrest with maximum fine would cause others to be more careful and pay a little attention to the law.

Let us have the law enforced or the notices taken down.

A PEDESTRIAN

Franklin, July 30, 1900.

So Uncle Silas Says.

It was a cruel joke on R. E. Capron, says Uncle Silas, to give the credit of the SENTINEL birthright to two young men. When Mr. Capron remembers the sleepless hours he passed in worry and deep thought to make the SENTINEL a success from the start he will wonder who the other fellow can be, for he is not a flesh and blood creation Mr. Capron while here was the father of other literary children, but they died young He was in Franklin at the time of the rise and fall of the beet sugar boom, when that monument of misplaced confidence, now used as a rubber refining establishment, was built and he saw and felt the great wave of expectation and the crash that followed. During the time of sweet delusion Mr. Capron started a monthly devoted especially to sugar beet interests. While the business lasted it had a fair degree of promise, but when the business collapsed the monthly soon followed the same course. After disposing of his interest in the SENTINEL Mr. Capron started a Tourist's Monthly, designed for sale on cars and news-stands and catering to the wants of the traveling public. This venture was soon abandoned and the gentleman went to a more lucrative field of work, where he is said to be on the road to wealth.

Emerson's Market.

Watermelons on ice, shell peas, green corn, gem melons, sweet potatoes, summer squash, lettuce, cucumbers, onions, cabbages, new beets and turnips, green corn. Try our Imperial cheese. Fresh killed Chicks and fowls, lamb, veal, pork.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Good wages for a girl to do housework. Inquire at SENTINEL office. 24 tf

100 cords trash hard and pine limbs, at Allen's wood yard, School street.

To Let—Small tenement, rear Dana block, $1.25 per week, A. C. Dana druggist 24 tf

Wanted —A competent girl for general housework. Apply to Mrs. Dr. King, High street. 31

Laura Lee, palmistry and card reading. Ladies, 25c.; gentlemen, 50c. Cor. Garfield and Crescent streets. 3

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Two large, pleasant rooms to let; most desirable and convenient location with private family. Address SENTINEL office. 3,7

To Let—A tenement of five rooms on Alpine street. Inquire on the premises or at Mrs. Burnham's, cor. Peck and North Park streets. 17 tf

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J.B.MCKINNON, Agent.

Can While You Can.

If you want nice fruit next winter prepare to can very soon, as fruit is coming on, but don't use your old jars. Our new ones are cheaper, better, and improve the flavor of the fruit. We have the square "Royal" fruit jar, best quality selected glass, with "Lightning" top at 90 cents, $1.00 and $1.25 per dozen. There are none cheaper in the end. Window screens at reduced prices.

HOSIE BROS.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

Cut flowers, all kinds of funeral designs well made up at Slade's greenhouse. Roses in small or large quantities.

Read the Business Announcements.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor,
MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 90	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
¼ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year.

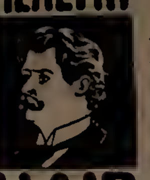
FRIDAY, AUGUST 3, 1900

The Congressional Contest.

Mr. Fred H. Williams of Brookline publicly announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination in the 11th Congressional District. Early in the year there were several names mentioned as probable candidates for this nomination—among them being ex-Mayor Curtis and Hon. W. W Davis of Boston, Hon. William H. Cook of Milford, Hon. Frank W. Darling of Hyde Park, and Colonel Edwin V. Mitchell of Medfield. We understand that all of these gentlemen have withdrawn from the contest, and so far as can be ascertained now acquiesce in the nomination of Mr. Powers, the Newton candidate. There can be no question but that there is a very general sentiment among the representative Republicans of this district in favor of giving the nomination to a Newton man this year. They recognize the fact that Newton is the only city located entirely within the limits of the district, that the Republicans of this city have always given loyal support to and substantial majorities for the party ticket in the years gone by, and that it has been a very long period since the Congressional candidate was named from Newton. There is no locality in the entire district that would be more likely to recognize this sentiment than the town of Brookline. Congressman Sprague, who has represented us at Washington during the past four years, is a citizen of Brookline, and his first nomination, in 1896, was greatly assisted by the withdrawal of ex-Mayor Cobb from the contest in the interest of the Brookline candidate.

The nomination of Mr. Candler of Brookline, in 1888, was brought about in the convention by Newton delegates who had been originally pledged to the support of Levi C. Wade and Samuel L. Powers, and who after a few ballots threw their votes for the Brookline candidate and made his nomination possible. Mr. Candler will no doubt cordially bear evidence to the loyal support given him in a very close contest by both Mr. Powers and Mr. Wade on the stump, and by the Newton voters on election day. If we mistake not Brookline has had the Congressmen 16 years out of the last 30, and that during that period not less than four of her distinguished citizens have represented the district in Congress. During the past 12 years the Republican nomination has not been outside of Brookline except when it was given to General Draper in 1892 and 1894; in other words, from 1888 to 1900—12 years—a Brookline citizen has represented us in Congress eight years, or two thirds of the entire period. Under these circumstances we are not ready to believe that the Republicans of Brookline will urge the nomination of a Brookline candidate in the coming convention. While it is true that no particular locality is entitled to the nomination, nevertheless it is fair to assume that there are men in all parts of the district able and worthy to represent the people in congress. More than that, there has been a somewhat well settled policy in Massachusetts to recognized locality in the matter of nominations. We believe that there is a general sentiment in the district this year in favor of giving this nomination to Newton, and we imagine that the Brookline Republicans will very acquiesce in that by reason of the cordial relations which have existed between the Republicans of Newton and those of Brookline in years gone by.—Newton Graphic.

A NEW bill for the protection of game birds has passed the legislature; it will surely be a good thing for the birds and will result in their increasing in numbers The bill as passed creates a new shooting season of two months. It deprives bird-shooters of the fifteen days in September in which game birds have been legal targets, and does away with the entire month of December, which has hitherto been open season. It imposes a fine of $20 for every one killed or in possession except during October and November. The bill prohibits absolutely the year around the sale or exposure for sale of partridges or woodcocks.



HEALTHY HAIR

A man with a thin head of hair is a marked man. But the big bald spot is not the kind of a mark most men like.

Too many men in their twenties are bald. This is absurd and all unnecessary. Healthy hair shows man's strength. To build up the hair from the roots, to prevent and to cure baldness, use—

Ayer's Hair Vigor

It always restores color to faded or gray hair. Notice that word, "always." And it cures dandruff.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"My business calls me out among strangers a great deal. I would actually feel ashamed every time I would take off my hat, my hair was so thin and the bald spots showed so plainly. I began the use of your Hair Vigor less than three months ago. Today I find I have as fine a head of hair as I ever had. I tell everybody what I used, and they say 'it must be a wonderful remedy.'" GEO. YEARL, Dec. 14, 1898. Chicago, Ill.

We have a book on The Hair and Scalp which we will send free upon request. If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the Doctor about it. Address,
DR. J. C. AYER,
Lowell, Mass.

BOW LEGS STRAIGHTENED.

Indianapolis Man Submits to Painful Surgical Operation to Correct Deformity.

Lewis Hoen, aged 24, will leave the St. Joseph hospital in Logansport, Ind., in about ten days, having almost entirely recovered from the effects of a singular operation for the correction of bow legs. He went months ago from Indianapolis. Shortly after his arrival he approached several local surgeons and stated that he was extremely sensitive and when in society was mortified by his legs, that were extremely bowed, and he wanted them straightened.

At first the surgeons refused, but Hoen showed a liberal supply of money, and stated that if the Logansport surgeons did not want to do it he would go elsewhere. The surgeons agreed to perform the necessary operation, and the tibia of each leg was broken ten weeks ago, and the limbs were placed in plaster paris casts for six weeks. He bore the pain stoically.

It is rumored that he is in love with a girl who objected to his curvature of the limbs, but this Hoen denies. When he leaves the hospital he will be an inch taller than when he entered, as the points of the bones when broken were separated that distance to allow new growth of bone in reuniting.

MODJESKA TO DEFY CZAR.

The Noted Actress Will Visit Her Native Land Despite Order of Exile.

Mme. Modjeska has returned to her home in southern California after a successful season of 31 weeks in the east. She will not act next season, but instead will brave the czar's edict and visit her native land, Poland. Modjeska for several years has been under the displeasure of the czar. During the world's fair at Chicago she delivered an address on Poland before the woman's parliament. Modjeska was carried away by patriotic ardor and said things that displeased Nicholas, and the edict followed, making her an exile. Recently a longing to visit her native land came over the actress. The Russian government was communicated with, but word came back from St. Petersburg that the ban could not be raised. The Russian ambassador and other powerful influences at Washington have been at work and Modjeska has been advised to go to Poland and take her punishment. This she has decided to do.

COSTS A PRETTY SUM.

Detailed Statement Regarding Expenses of United States Paris Exposition Commission.

The detailed statement sent to the senate of the cost of the Paris exposition commission from the date of its organization to December 31, 1899, shows that the total amount paid for salaries was $167,768, and for traveling expenses $53,397. There are a number of items charged in lump, as, for instance, furniture and office incidentals, $19,4 4; newspapers, press clippings, photographs, messenger service, cab hire, express and freight charges, $16,000; temporary services of draftsman $10,477.

The commissioner general, Mr. Ferdinand W. Peck, has received $11,031 as salary and $3,724 as traveling expenses, a total of $14,755.

BOOKS AND WRITERS.

"The Fourth Generation" is the title of Sir Walter Besant's forthcoming novel. It will appear in book form as a much longer story than it has been as a serial.

Frankfort Moore, who takes a great interest in the figures of the past belonging to the English stage, has written a novel, with Nell Gwynn for heroine. At an early date it will be published simultaneously in this country and in England.

Catherine II. of Russia left five complete and six fragmentary plays and various historical and geographical notes and essays. Parts of the plays are in her own handwriting and some of them are translations from Shakespeare. All have been discovered lately and are to be published soon.

Booth Tarkington is collaborating with Mrs. E. L. Sutherland, of Boston, on a dramatization of his novel "Monsieur Beaucaire." Mrs. Sutherland, who was for many years a writer on a Boston paper, has already had several short plays of her own produced.

In securing the photographs which illustrate his "Bird Studies with a Camera," recently published by the Appletons, Frank M. Chapman traveled over 10,000 miles and his account of his experiences combines in an unusual manner the charm of sport and adventure and the value of an original contribution to ornithology and photography.

WOMAN AND HER WAYS.

Mrs. Anna J. Johnson, of New York, has gone to Cape Nome to start an evangelistic mission.

Miss Dorothea Klumpke, the young American astronomer, employed regularly by the French government at the Paris observatory, has been given charge of the balloon work. One of her duties is to ascend in a balloon daily to direct the observations.

Mrs. Martin, wife of Frank Martin engineer to the ameer of Afghanistan is one of the few white women who have ever lived in the capital of that strange country. She says the ameer is kind and courteous to the English and does his best to make things pleasant for them.

One of the late fads is a silver buckle with representations of Chinese hieroglyphics on it. Some are of green jade, China's lucky stone, and mounted in rose gold. Others are of exquisitely carved white jade, and equally attractive ones are made of dark oxidized silver, decorated with applied Chinese flowers in bright yellow gold.

Rev. Alice R. Porter is the pastor of a Congregational church at Wayzata, Minn. She preaches twice every Sunday, teaches a Sunday school class, gives an address to the young people every week, leads midweek prayer meeting, is president of the Ladies' Aid society, conducts all the funerals, and marries almost all the young people who seek matrimony in that region.

Success.

"He has had a long and successful career in politics, I believe."

"Yes, he has bought his way into the senate four times without being investigated."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Extremes Meet.

Johnny—I was next to the head of my class to-day.

Father—Good. How did it happen?

Johnny—We was standing in a circle.—N. Y. Journal.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by druggists, 75c.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The Worm Turned.

Clara (after a tiff)—I presume you would like your ring back?

George—Never mind; keep it. No other girl I know could use that ring, unless she wore it on her thumb.—Tit-Bits.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine
Carter's
Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE.
Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

GIVEN RARE PLANTS.

Annual Compliment Paid to Congressmen by Government.

One Hundred Choice Varieties Are Selected by Each Member of Congress from the Botanical Gardens.

One of the many choice attentions the government pays to congressmen is the gift of a hundred rare plants every year. As this is the favorite season for selecting them, the employes at the botanical gardens are busy packing them for shipment. As a representative or senator selects his proper quota they are taken up and packed in wooden boxes for shipment. The packing-rooms are now filled with these boxes, labeled for all parts of the United States. The wary Scotchman who has charge of the gardens is particular to cast his pearls where their real value will be known, hence his exceeding care in having his cherished treasures—those nourished and cared for under his own hand—go only to those who recognize their great value and appreciate them.

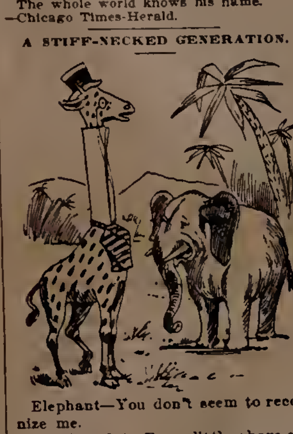
The custom of sending palms and flowering plants to the homes or apartments of members to use in decoration at large social functions is now almost a thing of the past. It was found that the greenhouses were often left almost empty, and the damage done to the plants by carrying them about through freezing weather was irreparable. Besides, it engendered much hard feeling, as the order had to be filed with the superintendent far ahead of the engagement.

As the last of the assignments for this session are being packed the hothouses look bare and uninteresting after the loss of the many thousands of plants this old custom entails. When the cost of labor, material and expenses of making the boxes and other expenses are considered, it does not appear in the light of a mean gift to members in either house.

Why Toil Obscurely?

He toiled for years with all his might
To win the bubble fame—
Week in, week out, and day and night—
But only failure came!
One day he took some pills and then
He highly praised the same;
He'll never be obscure again—
The whole world knows his name.
—Chicago Times-Herald.

A STIFF-NECKED GENERATION.



Elephant—You don't seem to recognize me.

Giraffe—No! I'm a little above one who carries his own trunk.—N. Y. Herald.

By a Feminine Cynic.

Pause, lady, I pray! Do not leap till you look,
For the husband is seldom the lover,
And marriage, too oft, is a very dull book
With a very fine preface and cover.
—Elliott's Magazine.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female disease quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a Godsend to weak, sickly, run-down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co. druggists.

With the Ninth in China.

"The only New England newspaper that has a special correspondent with the American troops in China" —that is the interesting announcement which the Boston Journal is making Its representative, who has been with the Ninth Regiment since the departure from the Philippines, through the landing on Chinese soil and through the battle of Tien-Tsin, in which the regiment lost so heavily, is Mr A G Eames He is a New England man with years of experience in practical newspaper work in the cities of Chicago, New York and Boston. He went with the Forty-sixth regiment to the Philippines as the correspondent of the Boston Journal, and his letters in the Journal descriptive of the campaigning in the islands prove him an acute observer as well as a most entertaining writer. The Boston Journal's designation as "The paper with the photographs" has become familiar all over New England.

To the Deaf.

A rich lady, cured of her deafness in the head by Dr. Nicholson's Artificial Ear drums, gave $10,000 to his institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the ear drums may have them free. Address No. 5085C, The Nicholson Institute, 780 Eighth avenue, New York, U S.A. jl27 pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

Jell-O, the New Dessert,

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Chilson's Market

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef,	10 to 12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.
fe1-1y8

PATENTS GUARANTEED

Our fee returned if we fail. Any one sending sketch and description of any invention will promptly receive our opinion free concerning the patentability of same. "How to Obtain a Patent" sent upon request. Patents secured through us advertised for sale at our expense.

Patent taken out through us receive special notice, without charge, in THE PATENT RECORD, an illustrated and widely circulated journal, consulted by Manufacturers and Investors.

Send for sample copy FREE. Address,
VICTOR J. EVANS & CO.,
(Patent Attorneys,)
Evans Building, - WASHINGTON, D. C.

EDISON'S PHONOGRAPH

Better than a Piano, Organ, or Music Box, for it sings and talks as well as plays, and don't cost as much. It reproduces the music of any instrument—band or orchestra—tells stories and sings—the old familiar hymns as well as the popular songs—it is always ready. See that Mr. Edison's signature is on every machine. Catalogues of all dealers, or NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., 135 Fifth Ave., New York.
mh1-eow

A Lover's Inquiry.

Mamma—Did Mr. Smiddle say anything that leads you to think that he intends to propose?

Daughter—He asked me if there was a mortgage on the house. — Boston Transcript.

The Health Problem

Is much simpler than is sometimes supposed. Health depends chiefly upon perfect digestion and pure blood, and the problem is solved very readily by Hood's Sarsaparilla. You may keep well by taking it promptly for any stomach or blood disorder. Its cures of scrofula, salt rheum, catarrh, dyspepsia, rheumatism and other diseases are numbered by the thousands.

The favorite family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

Assured Egress.

He blushed and stammered when he came,
He really was not very game,
She helped him out, that youth so tame,
And later her pater did the same.
—Chicago Record.

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but skin-eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them, also old, running and fever sores, ulcers, boils, felons, corns, warts, cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, chapped hands, chilblains. Best pile cure on earth; drives out pains and aches. Only 25c. box; cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists.

BUCHANAN, MICH., May 22.
Genesse Pure Food Co , Le Roy, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—My mamma has been a great coffee drinker and has found it very injurious. Having used several packages of your Grain-O, the drink that takes the place of coffee, she finds it much better for herself and for us children to drink She has given up coffee drinking entirely. We use a package of Grain O every week. I am ten years old.

Yours respectfully,
FANNIE WILLIAMS.

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Shake into your shoes Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It cools the feet and makes tight or new shoes feel easy. Cures corns, bunions, swollen, smarting, hot, callous, sore and sweating feet. Allen's Foot Ease relieves all pain and gives rest and comfort. We have over 30,000 testimonials. It cures while you walk. Try it today. All druggists and shoe stores sell it, 25c. Sample sent free. Address Allen M. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1839.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED
ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
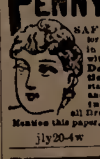
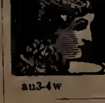
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS



Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.
jly20-4w



PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists
au3-4w

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address,
THE PATENT RECORD,
Baltimore, Md.
Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.

SUMMER BOARD WANTED
By the many thousand readers of the Boston Evening Transcript
(No Sunday Edition).
THE GREATEST PAPER
IN NEW ENGLAND
FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900:

"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more farm houses of ten rooms.

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT
Is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies.

Boston · Transcript · Co.,
324 Washington St., Boston.

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN
EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON).

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.
Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.
ap14-Ftf

LOW RATES
3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION
APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	10c
5 to 15 miles,	15c
15 to 25 "	20c
25 to 35 "	25c
35 to 45 "	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to
New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.
au25F

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW
Enclosed · Arc · Lamps
Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.
MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.
Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.
UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
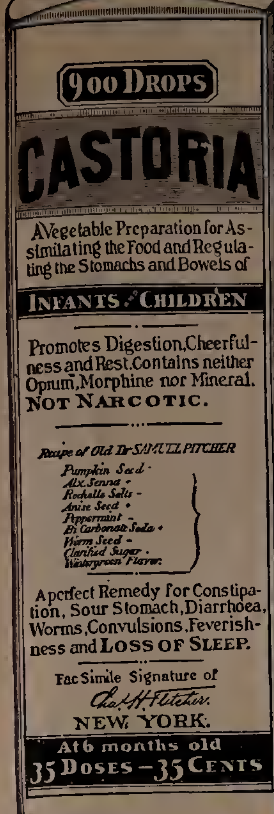
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

Business Announcements in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL are invariably read.



900 DROPS

CASTORIA

AVegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion,Cheerfulness and Rest.Contains neither Opium,Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna -
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed -
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda -
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar -
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach,Diarrhoea, Worms,Convulsions,Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of Chat H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES – 35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Chat H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY. NEW YORK CITY.

MY LODGING IS ON THE COLD GROUND.

My lodging it is on the Cold ground,
  and very hard is my fare,
But that which troubles me most is the unkindness of my dear.
Yet still I cry, O turn, Love,
  and I prethee Love turn to me,
For thou art the Man that I long for,
  and alack, what remedy?

I'll Crown thee with a Garland of straw then,
  and I'll Marry thee with a Rush ring,
My frozen hopes shall thaw then,
  and merrily we will Sing,
O turn to me, my dear Love,
  and prethee Love turn to me,
For thou art the Man that alone canst procure my Liberty.

But if thou wilt harden thy heart still,
  and be deaf to my pittyful moan,
Then I must endure the smart still,
  and tumble in straw alone,
Yet still I cry, O turn, Love,
  and I prethee Love turn to me,
For thou art the Man that alone art the cause of my misery.

—"The Rivals." 1668.

A CREEPY EXPERIENCE.

HOW A DOG'S VISION WAS VERIFIED BY A CLAIRVOYANT.

"Well, sir," said Crampton, "when it comes to the ghost business, I suppose I have had as varied an experience as any man of my age in the country."

"And you came in time," said Farwell, "to disbelieve in the whole supernatural business, of course?"

"I cannot say that I came to any positive conclusion, but I think, on the contrary, that I was led to abandon some very positive conclusions which were not unlike those which you seem to hold. One was that because I could not see or hear a thing nobody else could. I never worked out a bit of satisfactory evidence of supermundane interference by an investigation. But, like everybody else who goes into this sort of thing, I ran up at last against a stone wall and then hauled off. The disturbers refused to disturb when I was in the haunted house. The pale blue light didn't lighten. The footsteps in the hallway were silent. The cold air refused to blow even when I turned the lights down at midnight. The blood stains always turned out under the microscope to be oxide of iron, just as the elixir of the clairvoyants turned out to be hypophosphates. Slade baffled me, but never convinced me. Home disappointed me, and the materializing circles wearied me. If any man tried patiently and fearlessly to see a ghost, I did."

"And," said Farwell, with considerable satisfaction, "you arrived at the sensible conclusion that a ghost never is seen. That's what I said."

"No," replied Crampton. "I came to the conclusion that ghosts are seen."

Farwell laughed. "It was some mahatma, or, more likely, a gray eyed sibyl, not at all ghostly herself"—

"No," said Crampton. "It was a dog that led me to that conclusion. In 18—, you will remember, I bought that old house just out of Chambersburg, in Pennsylvania. You will recall the big dining room, with its old fashioned fireplace, and you may recall my mastiff, Hubert—'Hube,' we called him. There wasn't anything mysterious about the house. It was one of those old fashioned colonial affairs without any special traditions of interest and unassociated with any crimes that I ever heard of. Nothing occurred in it to disturb a pleasant life that I led there with my family until the winter of 18—. Dave Pettus had come down and had been visiting us for several weeks. The fact is, we were doing some work together on a book for which we had a contract. It was about the early history of Louisiana, and Pettus had accumulated a great bulk of material for the purpose. He and I used to sit before that big fireplace at night, after the family had retired, and discuss our work, with a bottle of old whisky on the table. Nearly always Hube would lie on the rug before the fire, and Alice's big cat would be pretty sure to be asleep on the cushioned bench at the corner of the chimney. One night, while we were talking about Lafitte and General Jackson, Hube growled ominously, jumped up and, backing against my chair, began to bark violently and exhibit unmistakable signs of terror. The cat, with her fur standing on end, made a break for the closed door and began to cry piteously to get out. The disturbance was so sudden that Pettus and I were startled. There stood the dog with his tail drawn down between his legs, his nose pointing at the southeast corner of the room and his head slowly turning as he barked, as if his eyes were following something that was slowly crossing the room diagonally to the northwest corner, and all the time he was pushing against my chair with his hind quarters. He finished this performance, when the object of his excitement had evidently disappeared, by walking over the trail with his nose down to the northwest corner of the room and there giving a farewell bark to the wainscoting.

"I took a lantern and went outside, Pettus following me. There was a light fall of snow on the ground and not a break in it anywhere of a footprint or carriage wheel. The dog, instead of searching for trespassers, appeared to be relieved to get out of the house, and when we went back it was with some difficulty that I got him in again. But he utterly refused to go into the dining room. As for the cat, she disappeared for three days. 'It's the most extraordinary performance I ever saw,' I remarked to Pettus, 'and I can't imagine what the cause of it was.'

"'Something passed across your room,' said Pettus. 'That is unmistakable to me.'

"Then we diligently examined the room, shaking the curtains, inspecting the wainscoting, moving the furniture, sounding the floor and going through all the familiar proceedings of such a search. But everything was right and tight, not a rat or loose board, window shutters hooked tight and the sashes fastened, not the slightest evidence that vermin or any kind of intruder could have got into the room, and there was no warrant for believing that Hube and the cat would have been terror stricken at any terrestrial intrusion.

"Finally we returned to our original positions, made Hube lie down again on the rug, gave the fire a poke and waited to see if we could induce a repetition of the disturbance. But, of course, that is something which, I suppose you know, never can be done, and about 1 o'clock we went to bed. I don't think we either of us said much about it to the family the next day, for fear that they would naturally attribute it to the whisky bottle. But as soon as Pettus and I got together in the library we fell to talking about it, to the neglect of our work, and, to my astonishment, Pettus, instead of trying to find any rational explanation of it, coolly assured me that there was no sort of doubt that some terrifying thing had gone across my room only visible to the animals. You can understand that such an easy assumption would bring on an argument, and Pettus amazed me still more by saying that any other proof that the evidence of the animals' actions was not needed. 'I think,' said he, 'that it is a kind of protective clairvoyance they have. If you have ever been in a caravan on the Great desert at night, you will remember some of the strange experiences when the thin line of camels huddle closer and every cameleer takes warning from these beasts that there are lurking close in the dense darkness strange djans and affrites. I saw in southern Morocco the astonishing spectacle of a caravan stopped at night and cut in two by a great gap, while the latter half of it waited for an invisible procession to pass through.'

"All this, I dare say," observed Crampton, "sounds very fanciful and mediæval, just as it did to me, and the smile on your face is a reflection of the same superior incredulity that I wore myself. Well, Pettus went back to Louisiana, and the whole thing passed out of mind as the year rolled by. But at the beginning of the summer The Journal of Psychologic Knowledge asked me to prepare a paper on a woman of the name of Tibbits, who was attracting a good deal of attention at that time as a clairvoyant. I called on her. She was living in a shabby genteel quarter on Varick street and had already been overrun by reporters and doctors. I found her an uneducated woman of about 30, lymphatic, unvolitional and very impressionable, but rather shrinking from public attention and a little afraid of her own powers, which in a purely scientific sense presented a most remarkable case of clear sight. I satisfied myself that the woman had no fraudulent intent, had, indeed, a most excellent moral character. She was singularly candid in avowing her own ignorance and equally disinclined to be made a subject of public discussion. She did not prescribe, had no nostrums to sell and never, I believe, overcame her repugnance to the trance condition. She had lost her husband some years before and lived upon a small annuity which was sufficient to support her comfortably with economy. Here was a rare opportunity to study a physical and perhaps a psychical phenomenon that was already eliciting the wonder of the psychologists in France and Germany and was not at all confused with any spiritualist claims. In June Mrs. Tibbits came to Chambersburg and became my guest. She proved a very acceptable inmate of the house, was fond of children, lent a willing hand in the domestic arrangements and proved a modest, retiring methodical woman, who gave herself to the scientific experiments with something like a mild protest. Dr. J. and I succeeded in eliminating everything of a supernatural character from the investigation, and hers proved to be a remarkable case of unsuspected visual function. She undoubtedly did in certain conditions read a book which was pressed against the back of her head when her eyes were blindfolded and at other times recognized different faces in total darkness, but she made no claim of communication with departed spirits and scouted the whole spiritualistic business.

One night Dr. J., my wife, Mrs. Tibbits and I were sitting in the dining room. It must have been quite early in the evening. We were listening to the doctor narrate some of his army experiences. We sat in a careless semicircle between the dining table and the big fireplace, which was now closed with a screen. Mrs. Tibbits was in the middle of the circle with her back to the table. Hube, the dog, I should have told you, had died a month or two before. I noticed that Mrs. Tibbits, who was very much interested in what the doctor was telling us, kept looking behind her at intervals, as one will when somebody annoyingly interrupts a conversation. Suddenly she stood up, turned around and, in an attitude of intense eagerness and terror, stared into the southeast corner of the room. My wife jumped up, crying out, "What is the matter?" and both the doctor and I rose quickly. There she stood, her elbows drawn up, her eyes seeming to project and the lines of her mouth rigidly constricted, so that she showed her teeth. Then her head turned slowly as if following something that was crossing the room diagonally. The doctor caught hold of her quickly, and she swooned away in his arms. We got her up stairs as quickly as possible, and the doctor and my wife worked over her well into the night. She appeared to be overcome with mortal terror, nor could any of us elicit the slightest information as to the nature of the apparition that had frightened her. My own appeals to her the next morning were of little avail. I asked her to be rational and for my sake describe what she saw. But she only shuddered and said, "Something terrible crossed your room." "What was it like?" I asked. "I don't know," she replied. "I never saw anything like it before. I must get away from here today." This was unbearably aggravating, but nothing could induce her to stay in the house, and the day after the occurrence I took her to the station, she acting during the whole journey very much like a woman pursued by some unmentionable horror.

"I am not a man," said Crampton, "to be scared by the visions of an uneducated woman, but when she corroborated some kind of clear vision in two animals I began to feel creepy whenever I was left alone in that dining room, and I quietly made up my mind that there might be more things in our atmosphere than are dreamed of in our philosophy."

"Did anybody else ever get a shock there?" asked Farwell.

"No," said Crampton. "That end of the house was burned down while I was in England."—New York Post.

Rough on Artemus.

Artemus Ward used to tell of a bitter lecture experience which he had in a little place in the far west. There was a blizzard on the night when he held forth, and consequently the audience was small.

"After my lecture," said Artemus, "I ventured to suggest to the chairman of the committee that the elements having been against me that evening, I might repeat my talk later on in the season.

"After conferring with his fellow committeemen the chairman came back and said to me, 'We haven't any objection at all to your repeating your lecture, but the feeling is that you had better repeat it in some other town.'"—New York Mail and Express.

A Long Step Ahead.

Fitzwilliams—Our friend Smith has become more swell than ever.

Fitzjohnson—What has he done now?

Fitzwilliams—He has got to writing his name Smythe-Smythe.—Puck.

Approved.

Sauntering Sim—Wot do you t'ink of dis "Man Wit de Hoe?"

Tired Treadwell—I t'ink he's all rite. I seen a picture of him wunst, and all he done was to lean aginst it.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Their Progeny.

When lovely woman, in her folly,
Weds with a man she's known three days
It's pretty safe to bet, by golly!
The devil's all those two will raise.

You May Need

Pain-Killer

For Cuts Burns Bruises

Cramps Diarrhoea All Bowel Complaints

It is a cure, safe and quick remedy,

There's ONLY ONE

Pain-Killer

Perry Davis'.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.

Sacrifice to Truth.

They were speaking of the lawyer.

"Why do you class him above George Washington?" one of them asked.

"Because, sir," replied the other, with every evidence of deep earnestness, "I happen to know that he once told a client that he had no case, thereby losing a good fee, when he might just as well have demanded a retainer, begun the suit and laid the foundation for a good stiff charge."—Chicago Post.

Life Is Earnest.

"I thoroughly dislike to see a man who has no occupation," said Mr. Meekton's wife.

"So do I, Henrietta," was the reply. "I always said that, no matter how rich a man may be, he ought to open up an office, so's he can go away from home during the day and not interfere with the societies his wife may have at the house."—Washington Star.

Disillusioned.

I thought her a poem of beauty, of grace,
  And scanning her, marveled in bliss,
Her rhythm of motion, her sweetness of face,
  Her lips that seemed made for a kiss.
But now, disillusioned, the thought I retract,
  A petulant anger I nurse,
I thought her a poem, and wake to the fact
  To me she is clearly averse.
—Detroit Free Press.

Not Affinities.

"Maud Wintergreen," said the astonished and mortified young man, "are you going to throw me over for that dull, prosy old Scraggs?"

"Mr. Spoonamore," freezingly replied the young woman, rising to signify that the interview was over, "Mr. Scraggs may not be as poetical as you are, but 'he' rhymes with 'me,' and 'you' don't!"—Chicago Tribune.

A Lesson.

"I think there is a lesson to be learned from that novel," said Willie Wishington.

"So do I," answered Miss Cayenne. "It taught me better than to read any more books by that author."—Washington Star.

The Reason.

Boseley—My wife won't let me keep a revolver in the house.

Budger—Is she so nervous as that?

Boseley—Nervous? Well, hardly! She's afraid she might be tempted to finish the job when I come home half-shot.—Brooklyn Life.

Prevented a Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remidies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1 00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at A. C. Mason's drug store.

A Society Catastrophe.

Percy—I don't like that stupid girl over there and she doesn't like me—who is she?

Guy—Oh, she's my sister.—Detroit Free Press.

Bismarck's Iron Nerve

Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where stomach, liver and kidneys and bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25c. at A. C. Mason & Co.'s

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

Broken Bric-A-Bracs.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man, of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's cement. The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are to expensive and do not allow large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $3.75 a pound, and another cost $2 65 a gallon while a large share of the so called cements and liquid glue, upon the market are nothing more than 16 cent glue, disolved in water or citric acid, and in some cases, altered slightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials. Major's cement retails at fifteen and twenty-five cents a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make a larger profit. The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising which now amounts to $5000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876. Insist on having Major's. Don't accept any off hand advice from a druggist. If you are at all handy (and you will be likely to find that you are more so than you imagine) you can repair your rubber boots and family shoes, and other rubber and leather articles, with Major's rubber cement and Major's leather cement. And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will save. If your druggist can't supply you, it will be fowarded by mail; either kind. Free of postage.

Pyny-Pectoral Relieves Right Away and makes a speedy end of coughs and colds.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chat H. Fletcher.

- - T H E - -

GREATER BOSTON

=Business Directory=

- - And Register - -

FOR 1900

Containing Lists of all Business Houses, City, State and United States Officials, Societies, Institutions, Etc.

With Street Directory and New Map,

Comprising also

Arlington, Brookline, Cambridge,
Chelsea, Everett, Hyde Park,
Malden, Medford, Milton,
Newton, Quincy, Somerville,
Waltham, Watertown, Winthrop.

956 PAGES. PRICE $3.00.

Mailed Promptly on Receipt of Price.

SAMPSON, MURDOCK & CO.,

155 Franklin St., Boston.

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN SAVINGS BANK.

FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, Jr., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, LESTER L. BURRINGTON, WALTER M. FISHER, DR. GEORGE KING. } Vice Presidents.
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, E. P. Chapman, B. M. Rockwood, George W. Wiggin, Charles Stewart.

STATEMENT JULY 31, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors		$571,160 11
Guarantee Fund		28,217 86
Profit and Loss Account		738 99
Interest Account		567 15
Real Estate Income Account		16 19
		$600,700 30

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		27,779 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
C. F. Boynton account		3,023 72
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		28,975 00
" " Mortgages		157,560 00
" " Personal Securities		169,891 18
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		34 97
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$7,822 25
Nat. Bank of Redemption	4,095 58
Mercantile Trust Co.	84 16
		12,001 99
Cash on hand		752 37
		$600,700 30

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

ADELBERT D. THAYER,
CHARLES STEWART,
Committee of Examination.

July 31, 1900.

Mortgagee's Sale,

—OF—

REAL ESTATE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Lawrence McGinnis of Medway, in the county of Norfolk and commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the Roxbury Brewing Company, a corporation duly established under the laws of said commonwealth, dated September fifteenth, 1898, and recorded with Norfolk deeds, libro 824, page 272, which mortgage has been duly assigned by mesne assignments to Stephen Jennings, the subscriber, for breach of the condition contained in said mortgage deed and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, upon the premises hereinafter described, on Tuesday, the twenty-eighth day of August, 1900, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed in and by said mortgage deed, namely: A certain tract of land, with the buildings thereon standing, known as the Quinobequin estate, situated on the north side of Village street, in said Medway, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the southwest corner thereof, at the junction of Broad with Village street, and thence running easterly on Village street eighty-eight feet to land now or formerly of Minerva Hathon, deceased; thence running northerly on land of said Hathon one hundred and forty feet to a corner; thence running easterly on land of said Hathon forty-six feet to a corner; thence running northerly and westerly sixty-three feet on land now or formerly of Mrs. Woodward to a corner; thence running northerly on land of said Woodward to a corner at land now or formerly owned by E. A. Noyes, twenty-one feet distant from barn on said premises; thence westerly on a straight line parallel with said barn to a point in line with the front of said barn and twenty-one feet distant therefrom; thence continuing southwesterly on a straight line to a point in a line with the rear of the store block thirty-five feet distant therefrom in a southerly direction; thence on a line westerly parallel with said block to Broad street; thence southerly on said Broad street to the point of departure, with a right of way fifteen feet wide across the southerly side of the land conveyed to E B. Stowe, March 1, 1886, from land of Mrs. Woodward to a point in a line with the rear of the store block and distant therefrom thirty-five feet, all as said barn and store block stood March 1, 1886, and subject to the rights in the well mentioned in release from the Medway Savings Bank recorded with Norfolk deeds, lib. 649, page 42. Excepting from the above described premises that portion thereof which has been released from said mortgage deed by a release dated June 24, 1899, and recorded with Norfolk deeds, libro 846, page 511.

Said premises will be sold and conveyed subject to any unpaid taxes thereon, and to the balance due on one mortgage for $5,000.00 given by Lawrence McGinnis to the Milford Co-operative Bank, dated September 17, 1895, and recorded with Norfolk deeds, libro 744, page 577.

Terms of sale: Three hundred dollars to be paid at time and place of sale, and the balance in ten days on delivery of the deed.

STEPHEN JENNINGS,
Assignee of said Mortgage.
C. G. & C. D. KEYES, Attorneys,
17 State street, Boston.
Boston, August 2, 1900. 3,10,17

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 8 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 26 a m; 8 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f8 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 8 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 8 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 8 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 8 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

J. A. GEB.

House and Sign Painter.

Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.

22-1y

G.A. Martin, M.D.,

..AND...

C.B.Hussey, M. D.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours: } Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.

92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.

18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

SUPERIOR COURT.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court, to be holden at Dedham within and for the County of Norfolk:

Respectfully libels and represents Susanna Smith of Sharon, in said county, that she was lawfully married to James B. Smith, now of parts unknown, at said Sharon on the ninth day of April, A. D. 1878, and thereafterwards your libellant and the said James B. Smith lived together as husband and wife in this commonwealth, to wit., at Brockton in our county of Plymouth and at Easton in our county of Bristol; that your libellant has always been faithful to her marriage vows and obligations, but the said James B. Smith being wholly regardless of the same at said Easton on Monday, the eleventh day of February, A. D. 1884, utterly deserted your libellant and has continued such desertion from that time to the date hereof, being more than three consecutive years prior to the filing of this libel.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your libellant and the said James B. Smith, and for such other orders and decrees as to your honors shall seem meet and as justice may require.

Dated the thirty-first day of July, A. D. 1900.

SUSANNA SMITH.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

NORFOLK, SS.

SUPERIOR COURT.

On the foregoing libel it is ordered that the libellant give notice to the said James B. Smith, the libellee, to appear before the justices of this court, to be holden at Dedham, within and for said county, on the first Monday of September next, by causing an attested copy of said libel, and of this order thereon, to be published once in a week for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper printed at Franklin in the county of Norfolk, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before the said first Monday of September next, and further, by sending through the mail, as soon as may be, by a registered letter addressed to the last known residence of the said James B. Smith an attested copy of said libel and of this order thereon, that the said James B. Smith may then and there show cause why the prayer of said libel should not be granted.

By the Court.

LOUIS A. COOK, Clerk.

August 1, A. D. 1900.

A true copy of said libel and of the order thereon.

Attest: R. B. WORTHINGTON,
Assistant Clerk.

3,10,17

There's a Sucker Born Every Minute,

so give the babies a chance for life by using our improved nursing bottles and our strengthening and nourishing baby foods. Life for the little ones during the heated term means bottles that can be kept thoroughly clean and food that will make pure blood, bone and muscle, and our foods will do it.

We recommend Mellin's Food.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

The ladies of the Congregational church will hold a bazaar in the town hall, Wrentham, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug 7 and 8, afternoon and evening The proceeds will be used for necessary repairs to the church interior. The hall will be opened at 4 p. m., when there will be free admission. In the evening an admission fee of 10 cents will be charged for adults, children being admitted free On Tuesday evening a supper a la carte will be served in the banquet hall at 6 o'clock, and all buying supper will receive admission tickets to town hall Ice cream, lemonade and cake will be served and music or an entertainment provided each evening There will be an art table, Japanese table, children's table, snowball tree and a Klondike. The bazaar will be a well-managed affair and doubtless there will be a large attendance.

Yarmouth, N. S., as a Summer Resort.

One of the most delightful of short sea trips is to Yarmouth, N. S., the western gateway to the Acadian province With fine hotels, drives, picturesque scenery and excellent harbor for boating and fishing, Yarmouth is one of the most attractive of summer places. Since the Yarmouth Steamship company reduced the round trip rate to Yarmouth [illegible] the travel over the Yarmouth line steamers to that port has greatly increased. There are four steamers each way each week, and a trip to Yarmouth in August means that the heat of the Atlantic seaboard is escaped. For particulars inquire at the tourist agencies, 201, 236 or 332 Washington street, or of J. F. Hammond, agent of the Yarmouth line, 43 Lewis wharf, Boston.

Method in His Madness.

"Why do you send marked copies of papers with accounts of runaway accidents to your wife. Does she like that sort of reading?"

"No, but she wants to keep horses."
—Harlem Life.

Church Services.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 4. Sunday school at 3. Rev. Guy W Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. T M. Miles, D D., of Bristol, Conn Sunday school at 12. Y.P.S.C.E at 6 30. No evening service.

Methodist church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev S. Halfyard on "The Redeemed in Heaven." No evening service. Sunday school at 12. Epworth league at 6.30.

Baptist church, Rev Frank B. Sleeper, pastor. Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. A L. Fraser of North Bellingham. Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6 15.

Incompatibility.

Divorce Lawyer—Why do you want a divorce?

Woman (weeping)—Why, the wretch accuses me of snoring in my sleep, of having cold feet, of going through his pockets, of talking all the time, of hitting him with dishes, of scalding him, of having a mother who lives with us, and of making him sleep in the wood shed nights! It would take a saint to live with him, and I want a divorce on the ground of incompatibility of temperament.—Judge.

Easy to Take
Easy to Operate

Because purely vegetable—yet thorough, prompt, healthful, satisfactory—

Hood's Pills

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending August 1, 1900:

Ladies — Miss Gertrude I Hulbert, Ellen A. Schell, Mrs. George F. Button.

Gentlemen—Odber A. Andrews, Concello Celesse, Galambo Lawlo, Giovani Nino, John Wilbur, Domenico Liberto.

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

Inebriety and Sunstroke.

Dr. W F R. Philips, of Washington, in a very suggestive paper on "Meteorological Conditions of Sunstroke," which appeared in the International Medical Magazine for August, 1897, gives the following table. The influence of alcoholic beverages in determining both the incident and fatality of the affection is as follows. Of 841 cases examined, 465 had this history:

Using to excess.	140 cases, or	30 per cent
Using moderately	[illegible] " "	50 "
Using not at all.	[illegible] " "	20 "
Total	465	100
History unknown	376
Total	841

And of the 140 deaths that occurred, the history of 70 is given as follows:

Using to excess	41 deaths or	60 per cent
Using moderately	22 " "	30 "
Using not at all	7 " "	10 "
Total	70	100
History unknown.	70
Total	140

Couldn't Draw Straight Line.

He could indicate the boy who used tobacco, said Prof. Oliver, of the Annapolis academy, by his absolute inability to draw a clean, straight line.

There is to be a convention or reunion of French Arcadians at Arichat, Cape Breton, August 15. There will be addresses by the leading public men of Canada, including Sir Wilfred Laurier. Numerous regattas have been planned as well as sports of all kinds, in fact a gala time at the old home. Mr. Remi Benoit, 108 Liley avenue, Lowell, Mass., is planning an excursion at reduced rates to leave Boston on the Plant Line, steamer La Grande Duchesse, Saturday, August 11. Arcadians who wish to join the excursion should correspond with him at once.

Nervousness is cured by making the blood rich and pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla. It gives the sweet, refreshing sleep of childhood.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Witch Hazel Jelly...

An improved form of Witch Hazel, far more effective and convenient than the ordinary Witch Hazel. It is a quick and efficient remedy in all cases of burns, bruises and all irritations of the skin, such as hives, nettle rash, mosquito bites, etc.

15 CTS. BOTTLE.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

The Prices are Low.

REMNANT SALE
OF
LAWNS, DIMITIES, PRINTS AND GINGHAMS.

Special Wide Union Crash, 5c. yard.

Butterick Patterns and Publications.

N. C. NYE.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Attractions This Week

Afternoons at 3.30, Evenings 8.30.

Walsh and Thorne,
In their new character sketch, "Our Country Neighbors."

The Musical Holbrooks,
Boston's Favorites.

Mackie and Walker,
Comedy Singing and Talking and Change Artists.

Edward and Josie Evans,
The popular and clever artists, in their bright comedy sketch, entitled "Little Sweethearts."

SUNDAY AFTERNOON,
Concert by Norwood Band.

ADMISSION to the Grounds, 10c. Children, 5c. Reserved Seats in Amphitheatre 5 and 10c. extra.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.

Circulars free on application.

THE ROSE = FOR LOVE.
SUNRISE = = FOR BEAUTY.
"COOK CO." = FOR BARGAINS.

GO=CARTS, $8.00 == Nice.

Never heard a baby complain yet. Babies are all right in one of "Cook's Rolling Stock. Assortment is complete.

Same Good Old Terms--A Little Down, Then $1.00 or 50c. Weekly.

Everybody waits for their car in our store—so nice and cool. Try it.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

Hoag Lake

PARK.

WEEK OF JULY 30

Afternoons at 3.15. Evenings at 8.30.

NEW YORK VAUDEVILLE STARS.

The company includes the Cosmopolitan Trio, the greatest singing trio in vaudeville; Hart and Bessie in a comedy sketch, "A Lesson to a Chappie," concluding with "Great Men, Past and Present;" Fisher and Clark in their original acrobatic comedy, introducing their sensational comedy act, "The Phantom Staircase." Prof. Hart and Mlle. Bessie, introducing the "Mystery of Cawnpore." Miss Adela Reno, accompanist.

UNDER DIRECTION OF MORRIS BOOM.

je26-tocl

Coal! Coal!

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

JAMES F. RAY,
The Coal Dealer,
DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

FOR SALE.

Two Grocery Wagons, one Grocery Pung, Harnesses, all Fixtures suitable for grocery business. Also, stock of Groceries. Will be sold in whole or part.

Apply to J. B. McKINNON.

THE CANNING SEASON

Is at hand. You can find Glass Jars, Rubbers, Preserving Kettles, Porcelain-Lined Kettles, Fruit Tunnels, Stew Pans, great and small.

Also a fine lot of Water Sets.

CALL AND EXAMINE

W. E. Crowninshield
2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

Summer Days are Here...

Perhaps u-nee-da LINEN, DUCK or WHITE P. K. SKIRT?

LINEN SKIRTS, 49c. each.
LINEN SKIRTS, worth $1.25, now 98c.
LINEN SKIRTS, worth $1.75, now $1.25.
BLUE and WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, were $2.25, now $1.49.
WHITE DUCK SKIRTS, were $1.25, now 87c.
WHITE DUCK SKIRTS, with insertion, were $2.25, now $1.69.
WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, with insertion, were $3.25, now $2.50.
WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, with insertion, were $3.75, now $2.98.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.

BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

WANTED.

Experienced Fur Felt Finishers,

about July 16th, on Ladies' Felt Hats.

Address HIRSH & PARK,
Medway, Mass.

jly3-tm

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tfS

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary

Summer St., Franklin, Mass.

ap278

You May Not Live Another Month

The man who begrudges the money it costs to insure his life to a reasonable amount is not only selfish, but he fails to recognize one of the first duties he owes his family.

ARE YOU THE MAN?

W. S. JOHNSON, Special Agent

The Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York.

jly27-1mF

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,

Jewelers and Opticians

160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Sign of the Electric Clock.

del-Fly

At WOODWARD'S
every description of
INSURANCE
can be placed. This AGENCY
officially represents the
LEADING
American and Foreign
COMPANIES.

P. A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass

my4-lyF

TAKE ADVANTAGE

Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Sabin Hubbard, late of Franklin, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

E. E. HUBBARD, Administrator.

Address: 113 Devonshire street, Boston, Mass.
July 10, 1900. jly20,27,3

NOTICE.

Estate of Sarah P. M. Wiley, late of Medway, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, represented insolvent. The subscribers having been appointed by the Probate Court for said county commissioners to receive and examine all claims of creditors against the estate of said Sarah P. M. Wiley hereby give notice that six months from the twenty-seventh day of June, A. D. 1900, are allowed to creditors to present and prove their claims against said estate, and that they will meet to examine the claims of creditors at the store of A. Maeder, Central street, Holliston, on the thirty-first day of August next, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

DANIEL W. BALL,
ALOISE MAEDER,
Commissioners.

Holliston, July 21, 1900. jly27,au3,10

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 63. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Hoag Lake Park	4
John H. Pray & Sons Co.	2
Lake Pearl	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	8.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm.

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10. p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 09 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10.30 p m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Dance at Lake Pearl this evening.

Mrs. P. D. Feeley is enjoying an outing in Maine.

Miss Caroline Atkins is the guest of friends here.

Everett L. Stewart is visiting friends in South Boston.

Eleanor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Nye, is better.

L. E. Fuller and family of Keene, N.H., removed here Saturday.

The Hayward ball team will play in Medway next Saturday.

A son was born to Principal and Mrs. E. D. Daniels on Saturday.

The next contribution of "Antiques in Franklin" will appear Friday.

Miss Carrie Mason goes to Maine this week to enjoy a few days' rest.

Peck & Field are out with a new order wagon which seems to fill the bill.

Miss. L. M. Dudley of Westboro is visiting Mrs. A. Burgees of Cross street.

M. V. B. Kenney of Providence is visiting his sister, Mrs. W. W. Haslam.

The vaudeville attraction at Hoag lake this week is said to be the best thus far.

James O. Chilson and family left yesterday for a week's outing at Cottage City.

N. B. Arnold, in the Ray coal office, has been enjoying a few days "down the river."

Alfred Briggs goes shortly to Onset, where he will remain the rest of the month.

Conductor Mark Knowlton removed yesterday to the Rockwood house at Unionville.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Mason left today for a couple of weeks' visit at East Machias, Me.

N. S. Calkin and daughter of Franklin Falls, N. H., are visiting his brother, Artist Calkin.

W. C. Sherman left this morning for Kansas City and Chicago, to be absent about a week.

Mrs. E. C. Cotton and Charles Frazer left yesterday for a couple of weeks' visit in Palmer.

Mrs. Frank Mills and daughter of Providence are guests of Mrs. J. W. Clark, of Union street.

James B. Fitzpatrick has received an award from the County Comissioners of $20 for damages by dogs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Daniels leave this week for a stay of two or three weeks among the White Mountains.

Mrs. J. E. Clark and family and Mrs. O. L. Burley have returned from a months' outing at Hyannisport.

The Farmers' Club will hold its field meeting tomorrow afternoon at the Town Farm and at C. M. Allen's.

Miss Elizabeth Pendergast and brother Frank, have returned from a week's visit with friends at Lawrence.

The many friends of G. E. Emerson are congratulating him upon his being able to appear at his duties again.

The extreme and unexpected heat of yesterday was quite a change from the fall weather we have been experiencing.

Patrick McWilliams is spending a two weeks' vacation with his family here from his duties at North Vassalboro, Me.

Miss Isabel Abercrombie, who has been visiting Miss Capron at the Crescent House, left for Williamantic, Conn., today.

The Hayward team defeated the Plainville Stars, 12 to 9, in an interesting contest at Indian Rock park Saturday afternoon.

All of the late Sabin Hubbard's household goods were sold by Auctioneer Corson on Friday, bringing fair prices.

The embankment on the land recently purchased by Michael Doherty on McCarthy street, near Union, is being removed.

The American band orchestra will furnish music for the dancing at Lake Pearl on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings.

Fourteen members of the J. G. Ray engine company enjoyed a trolley ride on Sunday to Crescent park and a dinner a la clam.

Mrs. J. W. Clark has returned from Mattapoisette and Marion, where she has been enjoying the ocean breezes for the past month.

Flowers for the Alden club this week may be left with Mrs. Estelle Stewart, Mrs. Sarah Richardson, Mrs. D. P. Moran and Miss Eunice Crocker.

Franklin grange has been invited to hold a basket picnic with Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Stone at West Medway on Thursday, leaving here on the 2 p. m. car.

Miss Josephine Bassett and friend, Miss Robinson, of New York city are spending the month of August with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Bassett.

Little Miss Mamie McMahon very pleasantly celebrated her eighth birthday anniversary last Thursday at the home of her parents on Winter street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Teed of Lowell are visiting with friends on East street. Mr. Teed is introducing the new vapor gas lamp, which really gives a remarkable light.

Dr. E. C. Abbott and family left town yesterday for Hyannisport, where they will spend the remainder of the month at Mrs. J. E. Clark's cottage at Seaside Park.

Albert J. Reilley has bought out the lunch business which has been conducted for the past few years by the Knowlton Bros. at the Main street bridge and put a handsome new cart into service.

Patrick Casey, sexton of St. Mary's church, is slowly recovering from a dislocated ankle. He received the injury several weeks ago while assisting in the removal of some of the church ruins.

A numerously signed petition will be presented to the selectmen at their next meeting by residents of McCarthy street praying that the sidewalks on that thoroughfare be graded and otherwise improved.

A gentleman has been in town recently looking for a location to carry on his business. Two or three buildings which might be made available were inspected but no decision reached. A large number of hands are employed.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sweeney died at the home of its grandmother, Mrs. Hanora Kelley, on Union street, Saturday afternoon. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon, the interment being in St. Mary's cemetery.

George Abercrombie, who has been associated with his father in the piano tuning and repair business in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is spending a couple of weeks with friends here, camping with the members of the club at Lake Pearl.

While John Ford and son Thomas of Beaver street were haying in a field near Medway Thursday afternoon, the horse and wagon fell into an old, unused well. The horse was extricated with difficulty and fortunately was not hurt. The wagon was badly demolished.

A number from here went to North Attleboro to see the third game of the series between that team and the Attleboros on Saturday, the latter winning 9 to 1, this being two out of three for Attleboro. Weeks was run into by Hazelton and had his wrist broken.

The New England Homestead says that another "pest" is threatening the life of maple and other splendid shade trees. This time it is the electric current which escapes from the trolley wires threading their way through so many of our city and village streets and country highways.

The American Flax Fiber company which carried on some experiments at the A. D. Thayer mill is getting its plant nearly completed and ready for starting its business in Millis. It is expected to commence manufacturing in September. A large number of hands will find employment there.

The selectmen met Friday evening and approved bills. The bond of Edward H. Sherman as collector was approved and filed with the town clerk. Complaint was received against people who hitch horses to shade trees in the streets. Several minor matters were acted upon and the board adjourned for two weeks.

The collector of taxes has received his warrant for the present year and the bills may be expected by the taxpayers before many weeks. A small amount of the taxes of 1899 remain for collection, but is coming in slowly. Settlement of accounts previous to last year with the collector was made at the close of the last fiscal year.

George Westland and family left town yesterday. After a visit with friends in Whitinsville they will go to Newport, where Mr. Westland begins his duties as landscape gardener on Wednesday, having resigned his place as superintendent of the Union street cemetery grounds a week ago and ended his labors there last Saturday.

The various colonies of the United Order of Pilgrim Fathers of Franklin, Providence, Pawtucket, Attleboro and Mansfield voted to hold a union basket picnic next Saturday at Lake Pearl. Each colony is expected to furnish something for entertainment and is also at liberty to invite friends. The supreme officers are expected to be present.

The Methodist church held its annual outing at Lake Pearl Saturday. It was well attended by members of the church and also by many others. During the afternoon a pleasing entertainment was given by some of the young people and was appreciated. Games and sports also helped along the pleasures of the day. Rev. Mr. Halfyard, the supplying pastor, was present and assisted in the occasion's enjoyment.

The M., A. & W. street railway claim that they have not forfeited their rights in Milford, and propose to enforce their claim to the franchise granted, on the ground that they have commenced operations. The line from here to Milford direct will not be opened till the middle of August. The commissioners have refused permission for the company to cross the New Haven tracks at grade in North Bellingham.

Willard Stocker, who came here from Walpole some time ago, died at the Wilkinson home on Oak street Friday after a lingering illness. He was 57 years of age and leaves a widow and one daughter. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon, Rev. F. B. Sleeper officiating. Among the floral offerings was a beautiful piece contributed by members of the Baptist Sunday school. The interment was at Walpole.

A friend sends the following, which he says is his "platform," and he isn't a Socialist either: "We need no new government. We need no political platform. We need men to execute the laws. We need courts which will weigh out exact justice for rich or poor. We need a law which will prevent nefarious combinations of capital from planting their feet in one state for the purpose of choking the people of another. We need independent public enterprises, controlled by the people for their own benefit."

Good days for a hammock hung in the shade and an entertaining book. Keeping cool when the thermometer is in the nineties may be a physical impossibility, but keeping calm is a great help, so leave off worrying, hurrying and scurrying and take things slowly and with a smile. Let some usual work alone if possible, and idle a little. Then when the welcome east wind brings cooling and refreshing breaths from the ocean take time to catch up with your delayed work. So will your health and strength hold out through the summer's heat.

Our Boys had an easy time of it in their game with the Father Matthew team at Hoag Lake on Saturday afternoon. The latter nine was weak in the box and Our Boys took advantage and hit the ball hard from start to finish, the score at the close standing 21 to 6 in their favor. The pitching of Feeley and the fine work of Boucher at first were the features. The batteries were Feeley and McKenzie for Our Boys and Mee, Lance and Pick for the Father Matthews. Connolly and McLaughlin were the umpires. This was the fifth straight victory for Our Boys.

The school committee has decided not to reopen the South Franklin school the coming fall, but continue the present system of bringing the pupils to the center schools. The committee received a petition to open the school and also one to continue the present method, and claim that a majority of parents in the district favored sending to the center schools. At the opening of the fall term of school, the pupils living at Grantville and vicinity will be brought to the center by the electric cars, a much more agreeable means of transportation than the barge. The railway company carries them for half the regular fare. The pupils at the northwest will be brought by carriage as for the past year.

Cut flowers, all kinds of funeral designs well made up at Slade's greenhouse. Roses in small or large quantities.

As Franklinites View It.

London, England, July 21, 1900.

On a delightful June morning, the balmy breezes wafting the good wishes of many kind friends, my traveling companion, Charles H. Prince, and myself pushing out from Boston harbor watched with lingering fondness the receding shores of fair America, our eyes to behold only the noble grandeur of the deep blue sea, until the rising sun told of the break of day on the green horizon of the Emerald Isle. Despite the pleasantness of our ocean voyage, with its scenes of royal beauty, our hearts answered a grateful welcome to the shout of the morning—land! land! A few hours later, the coast of Wales appeared on the right, then sailing along St. George channel and through the Irish sea, we soon arrived at the landing stage in Liverpool harbor.

The most characteristic and interesting of the sights of Liverpool consists in its docks, which flank the river Mersey for a distance of about seven miles. There are now in all upwards of fifty docks and basins, with a total water area of three hundred and eighty-nine acres. After visiting Sefton park, the church served by Dr. John Watson (Ian McLaren) and other places of interest in Liverpool, we took a little ride on our bicycles to the old historic city of Chester. Chester, the capital of Cheshire and the seat of a bishop, is pleasantly situated on the right bank of the river Dee, (famous in literature, and is perhaps the most quaint and mediaeval looking town in England. The present walls surrounding the "old city" date back to the 14th century. While making a circuit of the walls, we halted for a few moments in the famous Phoenix tower, standing in the very spot where Charles I, in 1645, with anxious gaze, witnessed the defeat of his troops just below on Rowton Moor. The most characteristic and unique feature of Chester, however, consists in the Rows found in the four main streets converging at the market cross.

Chester, the usual portal to North Wales, served as our starting point for a brief sojourn in this most interesting little country. Wales contains some of the most beautiful natural scenery we have yet seen. Her rich valleys, pregnant with fruitage, her hillsides adorned with little fields of country products, her mountain slopes looking heavenward, unite to form a scene of inexpressable grandeur. Not strange that here, just out from the village of Hawarden, should be found the Hawarden castle, the residence of the late W. E. Gladstone. The house stands in a picturesque park, containing the ruins of an old castle. The ruins of the old castle, dating probably from the 13th century, consists mainly of a massive circular heap, the top of which affords a good view of the Dee valley.

I must pause to speak of but one of the many small cities of Wales—Wrexham, sometimes called the metropolis of North Wales. Here we find a quaint but handsome old church, built in 1472, and containing two historic monuments by Roubiliac. Just outside the church, to the west, is the tomb of Elihu Yale, founder of our own illustrious Yale college.

After drinking our fill of Welsh scenery with reluctance we turned our backs upon one of the most charming little countries in the world and made our way to Shrewsbury, through "the black belt" to Birmingham, and thence to Oxford, en route to London.

Being deeply interested in colleges and college life, you would not expect me to pass on without a few words concerning Oxford. Perhaps the best known of the colleges here is Christ Church college, founded by Cardinal Wolsey in 1524 on the site of an old nunnery of the eighth century. Who has not heard of the handsome gateway called "Tom gate," and of the seven and one-half ton "Tom bell" in the Christopher Wren tower, which peals forth a curfew of one hundred and one strokes every night at five minutes past nine? Five minutes later college gates are closed all over Oxford.

Lincoln college, though not as large as some of the other colleges, is visited by all Methodist tourists because of its hallowed associations with the illustrious founder of Methodism, Rev. John Wesley. No wonder that this college holds sacred the name of him who, while fellow, lecturer and preacher, within her walls revolved in his mind and heart the problems which in their process of solution gave birth to one of the largest of Protestant denominations.

In the Divinity school may be seen the old hall where occurred (in 1555) the trial of Cranmer, Ridley and Latimer, whose shameful death blots with a scar the old-time religious life of England.

Passing now from Oxford to London, we find points of interest too numerous to mention. It was our joy and privilege to spend the first three days of our London pilgrimage at the World's Convention of Christian Endeavorers. No more noble body ever met beneath the sun than the "C. E." in London, July 15—18, 1900. The roll of speakers of international fame was unparalleled, the spirit of the convention was thoroughly evangelical, while the inspiration of consecrated lives worked mightily for good, as all together "sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat."

Of course we have been to Westminster abbey, the British museum, the National Art gallery, the wax gallery of Madame Tassaud, Hyde park, Rotten row, etc.

Monday we start for Paris and a little tour in France. After these and various other wanderings, including points of interest in Ireland and Scotland, we anticipate sailing from Liverpool August 21 on the steamship Ivernia.

Respectfully, Rev. S. A. Cook,
Pastor of the Methodist Church,
Franklin.

Dr. Lougest as Host.

Dr. Lougest entertained a party of forty friends from Boston at Mt. Vernon farm on Sunday, the visitors returning the same evening.

Upon their arrival at the farm they were made at once to feel at home. Lunch was served and a tour and inspection of the estate was enjoyed. When dinner was served, about 4 p. m., it proved to be a typical English repast, with soup, whole roast pig, immense roasts of beef, with accompanying vegetables, and a toothsome Yorkshire pudding with sauce. A number of the guests expressed their appreciation of the efforts of their host in fitting words. There was some excellent singing, and the members whiled away the time till their departure as suited their fancy. Cunningham's barge brought them to Franklin, where they had a special car over the Medway road home. The genial doctor arranged the affair after his usual whole hearted manner, and nothing was left undone for the comfort and pleasure of his guests, who enjoyed the day's outing to the full.

Among those who were present from Boston were Senator Charles H. Innes, Councilman A. F. Kinney, Dr. A. F. Stahl, Dr. Lougest, C. E. Innes, ex-Representative E. B. Callendar, Councilman Moore, Dr. J. D. Judge, Messrs. Wright, Lacey, B. Stahl, Hurd, Snow, Phelan, Sullivan, Blakely, Mungovin, Harrigan, Kay, Baxter, Mahoney, Barrows, Norris, Lyons, Bell, Mullen, Ferber, Baker, Freedman, Lincoln, Evans, Smithkin, Geddiman, Wilson, Conlon, Evans, Tighe, Speirs, Woodbridge, Wyman; H. E. Ruggles and A. P. Woodward were present from Franklin.

Fine Sport.

A number of the cottagers at Lake Pearl inaugurated last Saturday a series of canoe contests, which were largely participated in and occasioned an immense amount of merriment. The efforts of some of the contestants to keep their canoes right side up and win were ludicrous in the extreme, and resulted in many a dip into the waters of the lake, but as all were attired in bathing suits they were prepared for the emergency. Quite a large number of Franklinites rode down to see the fun. It is enough to say that both participants and spectators enjoyed the affair hugely, and another contest has been arranged for. The following was the result of the races:

Girls' single paddle—1st, Miss Macomber; 2d, Miss Notman.

Men's single paddle—1st, Mr. Notman; 2d, Mr. Mora.

Mixed tandem paddle—1st, Miss Macomber and Mr. Notman; 2d, Miss Rey and Philip Allen.

Mixed four paddle—1st, Misses Ray and Allen, Fred and Charles Allen; 2d, Misses Williams and Metcalf, Messrs. Williams and Notman.

Standing paddling—1st, Mr. Notman; 2d, Mr. Rockwood.

Tilting tournament—Called on account of pole breaking.

Tandem, overboard—1st, Charles Allen and Mr. Mora; 2d, Philip Allen and Fred Allen.

Hurry scurry — 1st, Fred Allen; 2d, Mr. Notman.

Working boat, singles—1st, Charles Allen; 2d, Fred Allen.

At Hoag Lake This Week.

The programme which is to be given at Hoag Lake this week includes the musical comedians, Weston and Greves, in their absurdity, "Jilted;" the charming vocalist, Miss Frances Woods; "The Novelty Duo," Edgar Foreman and Julia West, in their production entitled "After the Ball;" the kings of comedy, Conway and Staate, in their "Laughing Casey."

Dental Notice.

Please note that my office will be closed during my absence for two or three weeks, or until further notice.

Dr. E. C. Abbott.

The Plant Line will run a cheap excursion to St. Johns, good going by La Grande Duchesse, Saturday, July 28, and returning by any steamer within thirty days. Tickets and all information at 290 Washington street or 20 Atlantic avenue, Boston.

Eat fish as well as meat. Shad, swordfish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fishman.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Sweet peas at Slade's greenhouse.

A NEW SYSTEM'S FAILURE.

He owned a little paper,
And business it was slow,
He was holding his subscribers
But his cash was running low.
So he made a bold announcement,
Saying: "Here is something new!
Hereafter we will edit
As George Washington Would do—
Every column
Will be solumn
Truth, from an unbiased view."

And in next week's issue
He told the simple facts.
(Some of them were as cutting
As though told with an ax.)
He wrote of social doings
In unembellished style,
And public men he mentioned
Also their stock of guile.
Very truthful
Was this youthful
Editor with winning smile.

That was the only issue
On the Washingtonian plan.
Also, the final labor
Of the honest minded man.
His paper is not running,
Since it started such a buzz;
But the editor is running,
Or, when last observed, he was—
He was chasing,
He was racing
Just as Aguinaldo does.

—Baltimore American.

Lake Pearl.

There was a large crowd at Lake Pearl on Sunday, the music by the Norwood band proving a fine attraction. For the present the vaudeville attractions have been given up, but the Punch and Judy show still amuses the people. Lake Pearl, by its native beauty and attractiveness, has proven itself to be a popular place of resort, and Manager Enegren has handled crowds vastly in excess of anything he had dared to hope for. The dancing on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings has drawn goodly numbers, who enjoy the fresh air and the delights of the dance. This season will be a good one for Proprietor Enegren, who has spent a good deal of money to make an attractive resort.

An exchange very tritely says in regard to the inflated speculation now extant that "if those who get something for nothing, got it from nowhere, there would be no kick, but such is not the case—it has to come from somewhere and the place it comes from is the pocket of the man who earns and badly needs it himself.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Good wages for a girl to do housework. Inquire at Sentinel office. 24 tf

100 cords trash hard and pine limbs, at Allen's wood yard, School street.

A competent girl to do housework is wanted at Dr. C. H. Randall's. 7tf

Wanted.—A competent girl for general housework. Apply to Mrs. Dr. King, High street. 31

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

Two large, pleasant rooms to let; most desirable and convenient location with private family. Address Sentinel office. 3,7

To Let.—In Morse block, large front room, nicely furnished, steam heat. For further information address P. O. Box 228. 7*

To Let—A tenement of five rooms on Alpine street. Inquire on the premises or at Mrs. Burnham's, cor. Peck and North Park streets. 17-tf

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over Sentinel office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J.B.McKinnon, Agent.

The best incaudescent vapor gas lamp can be seen at No. 10 East street. It gives 100 candle power, and the actual cost of running is 1 4c. per hour. E. A. Teed, agent, 194 Middlesex street, Lowell, Mass. 7*

Business requiring a somewhat protracted stay in Franklin, a young married couple (no children) wish to secure accommodations with a private, select family in or near the centre of town. Address Sentinel. 7*

Spend your vacation on old ocean instead of the dry, hot country. Take the Plant Line to the Provinces and see something of a foreign land. Don't feel obliged to take a stateroom; a free berth in the cabin is better than the average farm house quarters. A fourteen hundred mile cruise inside of a week. Stop over allowed. Living in the Provinces cheaper than staying at home. Send for advertising telling all about it, to J. A. Flanders, New England agent, 290 Washington street, E. H. Downing, agent, 20 Atlantic avenue, Boston.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

A carload of brewery grain received every Tuesday at Metcalf's station, where any quantity can be purchased. Good for milch cows, hens or hogs. Great saving on grain. Inquire at the station.

Typewriting done at The Sentinel office.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.
MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1900.

THE friends of Samuel L. Powers do not rest their case entirely on the locality point, by any manner of means, but upon the fact of his superior ability. It is claimed that be is so well equipped for the position that he will make a mark of distinction in the National house, because of his honesty of dealing, his purity of motive, his rare oratorical genius and consummate geniality, and that he will keep pace with the other members of the Massachusetts delegation.

A LARGE section of this district has united on S. L. Powers for Congressman, and the least that can be said of him is that he is equal in ability, character and standing to any candidate Brookline has presented. Even Brookline must concede this, and outside of that town he is recognized as one of the most able men in the district, and as an orator or debater he surpasses any representative this district has had in many years. The opinion that Newton people have of him is shown by the fact that they have chosen him to about every office in the city and the only reason he has not held more offices, is because he refused to accept them. He has lived in Newton for twenty years and has steadily grown in the estimation of the people, and has shown a broad minded and progressive spirit that has placed him at the head of social and professional life in Newton. Newton people are slow to take up with new men, but when a man shows himself worthy of confidence, they grant it ungrudgingly, and Mr. Powers has steadily grown in popularity during his life in Newton. Professionally he has met with unusual success, and the Republicans of the district, have prevailed upon him to be a candidate, and have pledged him their support. There is but little doubt that he will receive the nomination, both because he is so well qualified for the position, and because the nomination clearly belongs this year to Middlesex county.—Newton Graphic.

When the war and all that has been associated with it comes to be summed up, comments a London paper, it will be found that the part which women have played in it will be by no means an insignificant one. It has often been said by those who love to tease women that it is perfectly ridiculous of them ever to talk of equality with the other sex unless they are prepared to dare all that becomes a man and take their share of soldiering with him. But when the present campaign is over and the work which had been done one way or another by women is reviewed—if, indeed, all that they have done is ever fully known and recognized—the champions of the sex will certainly be able to retort that though they may not have worn khaki uniforms and handled lee-metfords and forded rivers and stormed with shot and shell, yet they have in different ways taken a very active and important share in the campaign.

It is reported that a number of wealthy sportsmen of Bridgeport, Conn., have sent to Kansas for 60 dozen quail. As soon as the birds arrive they will be taken out in batches and liberated at various points in the surrounding country. They cost $4 a dozen, and it is expected that when liberated they will be easily able to maintain themselves. Quails mate in April and May. Each pair will produce two broods of ten or twelve birds each during the summer and early fall. The Bridgeport men think that about 6[illegible] per cent. of the young will survive, so that in the fall there will be about [illegible],000 quail to kill when the law is off.

The New Yorkers have a queer idea of what constitutes insanity. A wealthy woman who made a formal call the other day, clad in her night gown, is put down as insane, while a woman who named her two boys Robert Rapid Transit Behrend and William Rapid Transit Behrend is credited with the possession of normal reasoning faculties.

THINK IT OVER. There's a reason for those pains in your back and sides, for those dull, dragging aches, that listless, "keep-away-from-me" feeling. The kidneys are to blame. They get sick, can't do their work and the whole system feels the effect, just as a whole town feels the effect of a blockaded sewerage system.

Doan's Kidney Pills

Set matters right quickly and easily. They never fail, even in the most advanced stages of kidney disease.

Mrs. C. V. Pitts, of 21 Broad street, New London, Conn., whose husband conducts a grocery store says:

"Previous to using Doan's Kidney Pills in the winter of 1896 I was greatly inconvenienced by pain and lameness across the small of my back. The treatment cured that particular attack, and I made the facts known to the people of New London through our daily papers. It is over three years since my original statement was given to the public and all I can add to it is that during the time specified I have found that a dose or two of Doan's Kidney Pills prevent recurrences."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers; price 50 cents a box. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

Lightning Telegraph.

It is not in show performances that one finds the greatest achievements of the telegraph, but in the speed with which ordinary business is transacted. Thus the stock and produce exchanges of New York and Chicago have the closest possible connection. There is a vast amount of communication between the exchanges of the two cities every day, and the telegraph companies have their offices on the floors of the exchanges. It is on record that messages have been sent from the New York produce exchange to the Chicago produce exchange, and answers received in 45 seconds. When one reflects that these were ordinary messages, for which no special preparation was made, and that the operation involved the writing out of the messages at each end of the line and their delivery to the persons to whom they were addressed, the result seems marvelous.—Ainslee's Magazine.

Sick of Seeing Blood.

Gunner S. Ward, of the Seventy-eighth battery, royal field artillery, writing of the difficulties before Gen. Buller's relief column, to the London Leader, says that the opinion generally held is that one man in a trench is worth 15 in the open. "To tell the truth," he says, "I'm sick and tired of seeing so much blood. I've seen legs, arms and heads knocked off cleaner than one could cut them off. There's no mistake, it's something terrible. We dug a shell out of the ground weighing exactly 100 pounds, and it was 12 inches in diameter. That same shell killed three mules, one bullock, an Indian native, and one native severely wounded. All that damage done without it bursting."

Value of Diamonds.

An idea of the great increase in the cost of diamonds imparted by the labor of polishing and mounting, as well as by the profits of traders, may be obtained by comparing their price at the mines in South Africa with the price in the jewelry shops. A diamond weighing one carat, mounted in a ring, says the Youth's Companion, may cost the buyer $100 or more, but at Kimberley the average value of diamonds is only $6.33 per carat. The value, of course, varies with the size and purity of the stones, but the total value of the 22,843 carats of diamonds found in the Transvaal in 1898 was only $212,812, an average of $9.32 per carat.

Too Literal by Far.

People who take things literally are apt to tread on other people's toes. The Irishman who walked in where he saw a sign "Walk In," and who was ordered out by the lawyer, was a literal man, and so was the man who went into a pawnbroker's shop and demanded $10 because there was a placard in the window that read: "Look at this watch for $10."

"I looked at it," said be, "and now I want my $10."—Golden Days.

After Joys.

"I don't think Mrs. Betterdays ever enjoyed her money so much as she does now."

"Why, she lost her money some years ago."

"True, but then, you see, it has supplied her with an unfailing topic of conversation ever since."—Kansas City Independent.

Summer Colds

are noted for hanging on. They weaken your throat and lungs, and lead to serious trouble.

Don't trifle with them. Take Scott's Emulsion at once. It soothes, heals, and cures.

50c. and $1. All druggists.

MUST BE FORTIFIED.

Defense of Isolated Coaling Stations Is Advocated.

T. H. Gignilliat, Graduate of the Naval Academy, Argues That It Would Be a Real Economy.

In discussing the importance of isolated coaling docks and their defense, T. H. Gignilliat, a graduate of the naval academy, says: "There is now no other way by which great economy of warships can be effected in the event of hostilities than by the fortification of isolated coaling stations. It is probable that in the matter of actual economy in the protection of harbors the ratio is as great as ten to one in favor of land defenses, that is to say, $500,000 expended at a place like Pearl harbor would probably in time of war leave vessels costing $5,000,000 or more free to go wherever they would otherwise be of the most service, and such fortifications would be vastly more formidable to an attacking fleet than a battleship or cruiser costing ten times as much. In other words, for $500,000 batteries of mortars and disappearing guns more powerful than the batteries of our largest battleships could be emplaced at any coaling station, which, being more impregnable and having greater stability, with proper handling would outfight any battleship that could be built. Until the United States navy is greatly increased this will be a most important consideration, especially in case we should be in danger of hostilities with a first-class naval power.

"The value of shore batteries was more than ever established in the war with Spain, even by the doubtful defenses built by that government. England has forseen the necessity of acquiring and fortifying coaling stations if she has foreseen nothing else in warfare. With her fortresses at Halifax, Bermuda, Nassau and Gibraltar, and with the Azores probably under her control in time of war by treaty with Portugal, she dominates the Atlantic beyond present hope of competition. But with Alaska, the Aleutians, Pearl Harbor, Pango Pango, Guam and Cavite in our hands we can and ought to dominate the Pacific, and the way is to do in the Pacific what the English have done in the Atlantic and in the Mediterranean.

"With the aid of modern fortifications, selected places like Pearl Harbor, Pango Pango and Guam may soon become to the United States as important as Bermuda and Malta are to England. For the garrisoning of such fortifications battalions of marines, after the training they get on board ship, will make the most efficient set of heavy artillerymen in the world."

HEIR TO A BIG ESTATE.

Walter Adamson Suddenly Finds That He Has Become a Very Rich Man.

Walter Adamson, a citizen of Durand, Mich., is heir to $1,000,000 and more and has been wandering about the country for years unconscious of this fact. He was standing in the corridor of the Boody house, in Toledo, O., when he chanced to pick up a New York paper and began to look over its pages. Suddenly his face lighted up and he said to a bystander: "Well, that's surely my picture, and I am surely the Walter Adamson advertised for."

He says that years ago he left the Empire state for the west and has drifted from place to place so that his relatives have not been able to keep track of him.

In 1702, when Queen Anne ascended the throne, John Adamson, a wealthy citizen, died in London and his estate has been handed down until E. B. Humphreys, of New York, found that Alexander Adamson was the only living heir and had several children, of whom the Michigan man is one. The elder Adamson died in 1889 and the relatives have been looking for the wanderer since that time. Adamson immediately left for New York to claim his vast wealth. He has been connected with the Union News company.

WAX INSOLENT IN PROSPERITY

Cabmen in Paris Not Only Raise Their Prices But Insult Passengers.

With the exhibition in full blast Paris cabmen are not only exorbitant in their charges but are often insulting. Mlle. Jane Hading had a little experience with one of them the other day. Having taken a street cab, she called on various tradespeople, and at last pulled up before a dressmaker's establishment in the Rue Laitbout. Mlle. Hading was about to go into the shop when cabby called:

"You must give me fare. How do I know that you are not going to slip out another door?"

"But—" said Mlle. Hading.

"I don't want no 'buts,'" retorted the insolent jehu. "I know who you are. I have seen your name often enough on the playbills. That don't matter. Come, fork out!"

It is needless to say the money was immediately given and the cabman's number was taken, the popular actress having to find another conveyance in which to return home.

Iowa Duck Farm.

On a duck farm near Fort Dodge, Ia., there were recently 13,000 ducks. They ate 100 bushels of corn daily.

Cheap Tea.

You can buy tea in China for 1¼ cents per pound.

WAY STATIONS.

The Mexican government, according to the Railway and Engineering Review, has issued an order that railways must adopt a uniform coupler for freight cars. Other measures to prevent accidents to train hands have been taken.

A million and a half yellow willow cuttings have been purchased by the Santa Fe Railroad company to be planted on both sides of an embankment west of Stockton, Cal., for a distance of eight miles, to protect the embankment from damage by floods.

The Louisiana supreme court has decided that the warehouse business is not incidental to the business of a railroad as a common carrier, says the Railway and Engineering Review, and that railroads are therefore estopped from conducting a warehouse business.

The knowingly permitting by a sleeping car porter of a valise to remain in the aisle of a dimly lighted car, obstructing the passage, so that a passenger, who has a right to assume the passage safe, stumbles over the valise and is injured, the general term of the city court of New York holds, Levien vs. Webb, 61 N. Y. Supp. 1,113, constitutes negligence for which the master will be responsible.

MATTERS OF NO MOMENT.

There are nearly 200 democratic newspapers in North Carolina.

Congressmen and senators have 15,000,00 packages of seed to distribute among their rural constituents.

Imports into the United States from Samoa during last April amounted to $13 in value; exports to Samoa were valued at $3,587.

In the surgical history of our civil war a curious case is recorded in which three officers were hit just at the same time. One had his leg from the knee down carried away, but he rode ten miles to the hospital. Another lost his little finger, and he became a raving lunatic. The third was shot through the body, and, though he did not shed a drop of blood externally, dropped dead from the shock.

One of the eastern novelties is a playhouse for children. It is nine feet six inches in length, six feet four inches in width and eight feet nine inches in height. They are made of white pine and are painted with one coat of paint outside. They are provided with a door and windows which can be changed at will. The house can be built in an hour and taken down in 20 minutes, no nailing or carpentry being required. They are wind and waterproof and would undoubtedly furnish an excellent out of door study for an adult.

ELECTRICAL NOTES.

Electric traction will be used on the Berlin elevated railroads.

An electric trolley will be laid between Milan and Varese, Italy.

It has been found that alternating currents of high frequency and low potential may be used to sterilize liquids.

A resident of Philadelphia has recently obtained a verdict of $15,000, through the instrumentality of the X-rays. The plaintiff was injured on a street railway car. Dr. M. K. Kassabian was the X-ray expert in the case.

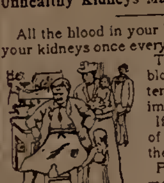
The work of the signal corps of the army in the Philippine islands has been excellent. The corps has handled an average of 2,500 dispatches each day since the American army landed at Manila, and the maximum was 4,000 on November 6.

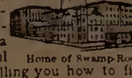
The plans for the new Philadelphia mint call for a large equipment of electrical machinery including 14 45-horse power motors for the coining department, 16 five-horse power cutting motors, six 25-horse power finishing motors; and one five-horse power hydraulic motor. An electro-refining equipment is desired for the melting and refining departments.

Utilizing His Misfortune.

First Tramp—Say, you did get a bad eye in dat scrap!

Second Tramp—Yes; but de odder feller got two. Why, he's workin' it on de public as an explosion!—Puck.





Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

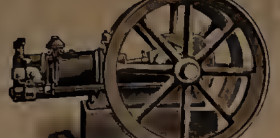
Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Home of Swamp-Root.



OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and Gasolene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied users are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABILITY, ECONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABILITY tell the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever?

CONSULT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.

New England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.

FROM THE ORIENT

CARPETS

Goods right—prices right—workmanship right—everything right.

We do by far the largest business in Boston in

Carpets and Upholstery.

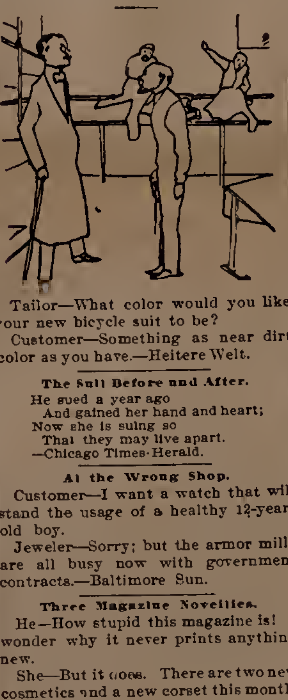
What do you suppose the reason is?

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS CO.,
658 Washington Street, 658
Opp. Boylston St.,
BOSTON.

Consolation.

Our workingmen should not forget,
As they slave day in and out,
That though they're starved and tired, yet
They never have the gout.
—Elliott's Magazine.

A SPRING PREMONITION.



Tailor—What color would you like your new bicycle suit to be?

Customer—Something as near dirt color as you have.—Heitere Welt.

The Suit Before and After.

He sued a year ago
And gained her hand and heart;
Now she is suing so
That they may live apart.
—Chicago Times-Herald.

At the Wrong Shop.

Customer—I want a watch that will stand the usage of a healthy 12-year-old boy.

Jeweler—Sorry; but the armor mills are all busy now with government contracts.—Baltimore Sun.

Three Magazine Novelties.

He—How stupid this magazine is! I wonder why it never prints anything new.

She—But it does. There are two new cosmetics and a new corset this month.—Town Topics.

How He Avoids It.

"Trivvet never gets hot under the collar."

"He must be a very even-tempered man."

"It isn't that He never wears a collar."—Judge.

Advantages of Travel.

Miss Budd—Oh, I'd give anything if I'd had the advantages of foreign travel which Clara Bullion has enjoyed. She is so cultivated, so polished. I just wish you could hear her delightful slang.

Mother—Horrors! Does she use vulgar slang?

Miss Budd—Dear me, no. The idea! It isn't American slang, it's English slang. I nearly died of envy when I heard her speak of "blawsted, bloody, beastly, nawsty, dirty weather," just like a born princess.—N. Y. Weekly.

The Health Problem

Is much simpler than is sometimes supposed. Health depends chiefly upon perfect digestion and pure blood, and the problem is solved very readily by Hood's Sarsaparilla. You may keep well by taking it promptly for any stomach or blood disorder. Its cures of scrofula, salt rheum, catarrh, dyspepsia, rheumatism and other diseases are numbered by the thousands.

The favorite family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

"Itching hemorrhoids were the plague of my life; was almost wild. Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently after doctors had failed." C. F. Cornwell, Valley street, Saugerties, N.Y.

Three spectres that threaten baby's life—cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry never fails to conquer them.

Her Point of View.

He—Miss Tallman's dresses always look so neat, don't you think so?

She—Yes—for one who has so little to dress on.

He—Why, I thought she was quite wealthy.

She—So she is, but she's so awfully thin.—Chicago Daily News.

An Unflattered Likeness.

Critic—I must congratulate you on the villain of your play. He leaves the impression of having been drawn from the life.

Author—He was. I may say to you that he is an exact portrait of myself as my wife depicts me in our hours of ease.—Brooklyn Life.

Woes of the Hobo.

"After all," said Weary Willie, sadly, "this is a hard life."

"Hard life!" echoed Plodding Pete. "We don't have to work, do we?"

"No," replied Weary Willie, slowly, "not exactly work, but we can't get things without taking the trouble to ask for them."—Chicago Post.

You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Albert C. Mason, druggist, will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaints and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant safe and reliable.

Pyny-Pectoral Stops the Tickling and quickly allays inflammation in the throat.

THE NEW YORK WORLD

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.
18 Pages a Week . . .
. . . 156 Papers a Year
FOR ONE DOLLAR.
Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

News and Opinions OF National Importance.

THE SUN
ALONE
CONTAINS BOTH.

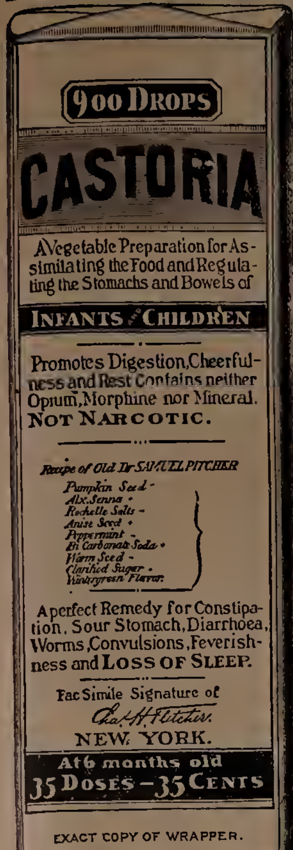
Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

Address THE SUN, New York.



900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna -
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed -
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda -
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar -
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of Chas H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES - 35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE LOAN OF A LOVER

It was only after innumerable pieces of evidence, the meaning of which there was absolutely no mistaking, that little Mrs. Denison was at last reluctantly forced to the conclusion that her husband had really got tired of her. His days were given up to the office, his evenings to the club, he had ceased to care about his appearance and his clothes had become deplorably untidy. For a week she could think of nothing else. At the end of that time she began to look about for means of consolation. For a woman she took a strangely philosophical view. She knew that she could not live without love, but instead of sitting down and deploring her lot she just determined to make the best of things.

Algie Owen was little more than a boy and had long admired her in silence. A word from her would, she knew, be sufficient to bring him to her feet. Within an hour from the time she came to her decision Algie had received a note asking him to come round to tea the next day. Within a week he had become her constant companion, and her husband's indifference had lost half its sting. And at the end of a month Mr. Denison, coming home unexpectedly, had surprised Algie in the act of pressing a kiss on her lips. His first impulse was to kick the boy out of the house, his second to leave it himself. Neither impulse, however, prevailed. He just stood there looking. And as Mrs. Denison was far too frightened to speak it was Algie who at last blurted out, his face rosy red and his lips quivering—he was really very boyish indeed, despite his grown up airs:

"Well, sir, what is to be done?"

"That, sir," said Mr. Denison, almost smiling—the pair before him looked more like two naughty children than anything else—"that, sir, lies with you. What"—ironically—"is your suggestion?"

"I—I will tell you," stammered Algie, "what I—what Mrs. Denison wants. She—she"—it was really a very daring thing to say—"she wants to marry me, and she wants you to go—go and do something that will get—get her—her a divorce."

The suggestion was so cool that for a moment it quite took Mr. Denison's breath away.

"Well, I'm hanged!" he ejaculated at last.

He was silent for a moment, thinking.

"Now," he said at last, "go. Oh, by the way," he added as Algie turned toward the door, "can you come in to dinner this day week? We shall be very pleased to see you."

Algie's blue eyes widened into a stare.

But when the question was repeated and he saw that Denison was in earnest, he said that he would be very pleased. And then he went out, wondering what extraordinary thing would happen next and trying to remember if he had ever heard any reports of madness in the Denison family, and Tom Denison, after ringing for his wife's maid and telling her to see after her mistress, as she wasn't very well, strode off to his club to think out a certain little scheme.

That day week, when Mr. Denison walked into the little drawing room about 20 minutes before the dinner hour—his usual practice was to get home, if at all, about ten minutes after it had been announced—Mrs. Denison opened her eyes very wide indeed. Instead of the old shabby tail coat he had donned what was evidently a brand new dress suit, cut in the latest fashion. His hair had been freshly cut and trimmed, the heavy mustache was curled off his lips and the yellow rose in his buttonhole became him to perfection. He looked at least a dozen years younger.

He just bent over his wife and gave her a kiss and then sat himself down at the piano, and, his fingers straying over the notes, began to sing more to himself apparently than to her. Music always appealed to her, and she could not help remarking in a pause that came between the verses that it was a very pretty song, and she had no idea he could play so well.

"It comes from the new opera at the Futurity," he said. "I haven't got it quite right, but it went something like that, I think, as far as I can remember." He had bought the music three days before and had been trying to get right ever since.

"You are very spruce tonight," she said, looking up as he shut down the piano and took up his stand against the chimneypiece.

"Are you going out anywhere? I'm going to supper, and you will have Owen to entertain you. He is sure to stay late. He hasn't seen you since yesterday, has he?"

She ignored the sarcasm in the suggestion and, still looking up at him, reflected with an inward sigh that she wished Algie was half as handsome as this husband of hers. Then her mind reverted to the supper.

"It's to be with some woman, I suppose?" she said.

"What?" he queried carelessly.

"Why, this supper."

"Nothing of the kind," he said, but in a tone which only confirmed her suspicions.

"Well, where's it going to be, anyway?"

"Oh, at a little place in Soho. I don't suppose you've ever heard of it."

"And you are really going alone?"

"Certainly."

She got up from her chair and came over to where he was standing.

"Can't you make it dinner instead of supper and take me with you?" she said.

"But Mr. Owen?"

"Oh, bother Mr. Owen! He can have his dinner by himself. I can easily invent some excuse."

"And besides it's not exactly the sort of place a woman like you can go to; it's not"—

She flew out of the room and returned a moment afterward in her cloak. "Come along, quick," she said, "or he'll catch us."

"Who?"

"Why, Algie!"

Mr. Denison smiled. It was really very funny.

* * * * * * *

The dinner was a great success, the champagne irreproachable. As Mr. Denison produced his cigar case he thought he had never seen his wife looking so pretty.

So the divorce never came off after all.—Exchange.

A White Carnation Flower

He was only a newsboy, and a dirty and ragged one at that, but under his torn jacket there glowed a spark of chivalry.

One night, when Miss Alice Rea, as she was hurrying for her train, dropped a bundle of papers from her muff he sprang at once to her assistance. With a quick "I'll pick 'em up, miss," he gathered them together, brushed off the dust and handed them to her with a queer little grab at his dilapidated cap.

"Thank you, little fellow," she said. "Won't you have one of my flowers?" and, selecting one from a large bunch of white carnations which she carried, she put it into his hand and then passed quickly on.

Bobby gazed at the flower with a look of amazement, which soon changed into a broad smile of delight. "I'll take it home to Maggie," he said. Maggie was his sister, who shared with him the two tiny rooms in a wretched tenement which Bobby called home. So he buttoned it under his jacket and took it to Maggie.

The next night Bobby was on the lookout, and his vigilance was not in vain, for when Miss Rea passed him she smiled pleasantly. A young man in a brown ulster was with her, and he, too, gave Bobby a careless little nod.

Bobby's eyes were bright as he went homeward, and Maggie met him at the door with a face as happy as his own. "Oh, Bobby," she cried eagerly, "I showed Mrs. O'Brien my flower this afternoon, and she said if I kept it in water maybe it would grow roots, because it's got such a long stem and so many leaves to it."

Sure enough, after a few days of careful watching and tending, tiny white roots appeared. Then Maggie filled an old can with earth, and the little slip was gently placed in it. It grew and flourished, and with it the friendship between Bobby, the flower lady—as he called her—and the young man in the brown ulster increased. Every morning Bobby was watching for them, and every evening he stood where they would pass him on their way to the train. There was always some pleasant greeting ready, which brightened Bobby's day and sent him home at night with a cheerful heart.

But one chilly February morning as Bobby stood in his accustomed place he saw the young man come across the street alone. There was a troubled look on his face, and he passed Bobby without even a glance.

A vague fear rose in the boy's heart and nothing was able to dispel it. If other customers missed the cheery salutation with which he usually greeted them, and more than one looked curiously at the childish face, with its preoccupied expression.

On the third day Bobby could stand it no longer. As the young man crossed the street some one stepped directly in the path. He looked down impatiently, but his face changed as he recognized the boy.

"What is it?" he asked quickly, but not unkindly.

"The lady, sir?" Bobby said faintly. "Isn't she coming any more?"

"I hope so," said the young man gravely; "but not just now. She is sick, you see, and the doctors say it will be a long time at least before she can come again."

Bobby turned away. The dread in his heart had been put into words, and the direct knowledge, although he had longed for it, was almost more than he could bear.

At last, just a week from the morning when he had first heard the sad news, as Bobby stood at his post he saw the young man coming across the street, with a face so white and set and stamped with terrible sorrow that for a moment Bobby's heart stood still. Then, as the young man came close to him, he stepped forward involuntarily and laid his hand on the brown sleeve.

The boy spoke no word, but the other read the question in the eager, anxious eyes, and said in a low, choked voice: "She died this morning. I am going back in an hour."

Bobby's hand dropped from the young man's arm. For a moment he stood still, dazed by the words he had just heard. Then, regardless of his unsold papers, he turned and went slowly back to the old tenement he had left but half an hour before.

Maggie started with surprise as he came in, but one glance at his grief stricken face told her the whole story.

"The lady, Bobby?" she gasped. "Is she"—

"She's dead," said Bobby, dropping into the nearest chair and laying his head on the old table, "the young man told me. I'll never see her again, and I can't do anything for her!" And the little figure was shaken by heavy sobs. Maggie stood silently beside him for some moments. Then, suddenly turning, she went into the second of the two little rooms.

When she returned, she carried the old can in which they had planted the carnation. It now held a sturdy plant, and, bearing itself proudly aloft on its slender stem, was a beautiful blossom.

"See, Bobby," she said, laying her hand on the bowed head. "I've been keeping it for a surprise for you, but you shall have it for the lady. Perhaps the young man can take it to her."

Bobby looked up. Motionless he gazed at the flower, then sprang quickly to his feet. "He said he'd go back in an hour. I shall have just time!" he exclaimed.

Carefully and tenderly the carnation was cut from its stalk and wrapped in white paper. Then, only stopping to kiss Maggie in a way that told the gratitude he could not speak, Bobby bounded down the stairs and raced away toward the station. He was only just in time, for as he sped around the last corner he saw the brown coated figure crossing the street. Breathlessly he rushed after him and accosted him at the gates.

"It's for her, sir," he gasped, holding out the precious white parcel. "It grew from the one she gave me that day. It's all I could get, but I'd like it to go to her."

The young man took the flower silently. For the first time that day tears filled his eyes, and he stood fighting back the emotion that threatened to overpower him.

Then, looking down into the wistful, childish face upturned to his, he said gently, "It shall be put in her hand."

And Bobby was satisfied.—Boston Post.

Consideration Lacking.

"You say," pursued the chairman of the legislative investigating committee, "that he resorted to no bribery whatever during the campaign, so far as you know?"

"Yes, sir," replied the witness, "that's what I said."

"Did he not circulate several boxes of cigars?"

"Yes, sir, but them cigars wasn't bribes. Here's one of 'em. You can try it."—Chicago Tribune.

An Attainment.

"So you studied the Russian language?"

"Yes. I make it a rule to learn something of the language of every country I visit."

"Did you make any progress?"

"Yes. I got so I could tell whether the brakeman on a railway train was calling out the name of a station or catching cold."—Washington Star.

"How very beautiful her gowns are!" said the young woman.

"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne.

"She has an artist especially engaged to design them."

"H'm. He doesn't work overtime on the waists, does he?"—Washington Star.

The Whole Story in one letter about

Pain-Killer

(PERRY DAVIS'.)

From Capt. F. Loye, Police Station No. 5, Montreal:—"We frequently use PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER for pains in the stomach, rheumatism, stiffness, frost bites, chilblains, cramps, and all afflictions which befall men in our position. I have no hesitation in saying that PAIN-KILLER is the best remedy to have near at hand."

Used Internally and Externally.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c. bottles.

TEMPERANCE

RHYME AND REASON.

If I drink beer, it makes me queer;
If I choose ale, it makes me pale;
If I sip wine, my joys decline;
If I sup gin, it leads to sin;
If I take rum, sad sorrows come.
Try what I will, from vat or still,
It gives me pain, and turns my brain;
Therefore I'll join the Templar Band,
And, with God's help, I'll firmly stand.
—Union Signal.

THE ENTICING CIGARETTE.

It Is One of the Greatest Foes to Our American Boyhood and Manhood.

Not since the days when the first Eden was robbed of its joys has a greater foe arisen than the foul physical, mental and moral destroyer, the cigarette. Alcoholic drink has done and is now doing great destruction to the human family, but in my opinion tobacco in its various forms of use, and especially the poisonous cigarette, leads more effectually in destroying the manhood and especially the boyhood of our land.

Thousands of deaths occur annually among our men and boys as a result of the use of tobacco. Cigarettes produce heart failures and constantly reduce the circulation. The cigarette and also tobacco impairs muscular force, produces amaurosis, which is a loss or decay of sight without any visible defect in the appearance of the eye, destroys slowly and permanently the power of the optic nerve, produces color blindness and delirium tremens. One of the saddest cases I was ever called to attend professionally was that of a man in his strength of days, an elder in the Presbyterian church, who died with tobacco tremens. And there was a 16-year-old boy whose death was the result of the foul cigarette.

Tobacco produces smokers' cancer and insanity. The facts are appalling in the highest degree as to the effects both physical and moral upon our manhood and boyhood of tobacco and cigarette poison. Unless radical steps are taken by the state and society to arrest and overcome this pernicious habit, it will only be a brief question of time until we shall have a nation of weaklings and emasculated manhood. Careful analysis of the stomach of cigarette smokers shows acid, phosphorous and arsenic. These drugs are largely used in the manufacture of paper used in the cigarette business.

Again cigarette tobacco is strongly impregnated with opium. The constant use of tobacco in any form will produce functional derangement of the digestive, circulatory and nervous systems, producing headache, confusion of intellect, loss of memory, dullness, stupor and indisposition to muscular or mental labor. Here is the strong point manifestly displayed in our young women who are taking the honors in our high schools and colleges. They have clear brains, not benumbed by cigarette or tobacco smoke. No man ever has or will reach his best mentally, morally or physically who becomes a slave to tobacco.

The cigarette subtly combines a threefold deadly bane as fatal to unwary youth as the poisoned garment of Nessus to the unsuspecting Hercules. Ninety per cent. of our men and boys are tobacco worms. Heart disease on the increase, loss of eyesight has reached an alarming stage. A large per cent. of those cases can be traced to the use of tobacco and nicotine poison; also to the unerring and incontrovertable law of heredity. Neurotic diseases are on the increase and weakness among women. These are all traceable to this Niagara stream of death that is flowing through our world to-day.

The tobacco habit stimulates the appetite for alcoholic drinks. My observation has been that no man dies from intoxication who is not a tobacco user. As a member of the medical profession for many years, I wish to say the medical profession is greatly addicted to the tobacco habit, and yet no competent medical man would think of prescribing as medicine this narcotic poison.

No woman who expects to become the mother of children should ever marry a cigarette or tobacco user. And no young or old man should ever become a father whose blood is thickened and poisoned by nicotine. The science of medicine and the irrefutable laws of heredity leave no room for doubt as to the duty of society and the state, in taking legislative steps in saving our youth from this deadly upas tree.—C. H. St. John, in Union Signal.

An Anti-Tobacco Congress.

The second International Congress Against the Abuse (which is here synonymous with "use") of Tobacco will be held in Paris during the summer of 1900. The work of the congress will be divided into seven sections, dealing severally with (1) history, statistics, various methods of the employment of tobacco; (2) chemical and physiological researches on tobacco; (3) diseases caused by tobacco; (4) hygiene and sociological questions; (5) education as a means of restricting the use of tobacco; (6) the morality and criminality of tobacco users; (7) miscellaneous. Papers may be read in English, French, German, Spanish, Italian or Russian. Those desiring to become members of the congress are requested to signify their intention to the president of the committee of organization, M. E. Decroix, 20 bis, Rue Saint-Benoit, Paris. The subscription to the congress, which has been fixed at five francs, should be sent at the same time.

Smart Sammy.

Teacher—What is the meaning of the word "procrastinate?"

Sammy—It means to put off, sir.

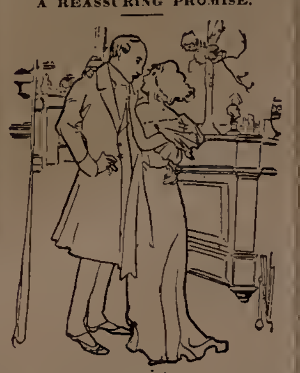
Teacher—That's all right; now compose me a sentence with the word properly introduced.

Sammy—When a man retires at night he procrastinates his clothes.—Boston Courier.

A Compensating Fact.

Oh, urge me not, sirs, to be up with the sun,
Though well ye might know that I ought ter,
But permit me to think I have very well done
When I blithely stay up with the daughter.
—Harlem Life.

A REASSURING PROMISE.



Wife—Now, promise me, dear, you won't go drinking with those beastly men at the club to-night.

Hubby—No, my dear; I'll bring 'em home with me.—The Cigarette.

The Wise Son.

"That youth, it seems, knows more than you."
Jones said. Said Brown: "Well, rather,
It would be strange were that not true.
You see, I am his father."
—Philadelphia Press.

The New Way.

First Bank Director—I think it would be a good idea, some time or other, to quietly employ a physician to inquire into the mental and physical condition of our cashier. I think he is suffering from paresis.

Second Bank Director—My, my! How much has he stolen!—N. Y. Weekly.

From Appearances.

Ida—They say last summer she gave every man on the beach the mitten.

May—Who is her father?

Ida—Flintman, the hardware manufacturer. Why do you ask?

May—I thought perhaps he was a glove manufacturer.—Chicago Daily News.

Love's Alchemy.

"I hear that the boy who delivers our bread is going to marry a rich widow," said the landlady, "and start a bakery of his own."

"Going to turn her dollars to doughnuts, is he?" asked the Cheerful Idiot.—Indianapolis Press.

Merely a Hint.

Mr. Slowboy—In some states there is a law making it a misdemeanor for a man to change his name.

Miss Willing—Yes; but there is no law in any state that prohibits a man from changing a woman's name.—Chicago Daily News.

Impending Disaster.

Nell—Maude made a great hit with that Russian attache. She pronounced his name beautifully.

Belle—Yes; she had a cold in the head, and now she's afraid it will leave her.—Philadelphia Record.

In Hard Luck.

Jollydog—That was surely hard luck that befell Miss Oldgirl.

Pollywog—What was that?

Jollydog—Why, when she found a man under her bed she fell into a swoon and he got away.—Town Topics.

Great Inventions.

Professor—Miss Flavilla, mention a few of the most wonderful scientific inventions of the nineteenth century.

Miss Flavilla—Yes, sir; the telephone, photograph buttons, golf capes and ice cream soda.—Chicago Record.

Walking the Floor.

Doctor—You mustn't mind if the baby cries. That's his way of taking exercise.

Father—That's all right, but what I object to is the exercise he makes me take.—N. Y. Journal.

A Nervous Uncle.

"The society of children makes a man cheerful."

"That's so; when I get away alive from my sister's two boys I'm glad for a week."—Indianapolis Journal.

Had Met Him.

Johnny—What is a bore, papa?

Papa—A bore is a person who tells you so much about himself that you get no chance to tell him anything about yourself.—Baltimore American.

Nervousness is cured by making the blood rich and pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla. It gives the sweet, refreshing sleep of childhood.

Half the ills that man is heir to come from indigestion. Burdock Blood Bitters strengthen and tone the stomach; make indigestion impossible.

Accidents come with distressing frequency on the farm. Cuts, bruises, stings, sprains. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil relieves the pain instantly. Never safe without it.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher.

Save Your MONEY.

To save your money, by getting more for it, ask your dealer in medicine to show you the new 50 cent size bottle of JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT. It contains over three times as much as the old 25 cent style, which is a great saving to those who use this valuable family medicine. The superior quality of this old Anodyne has never been equaled.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Fifty years ago this month, Dr. Johnson left with me some Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. I remember him distinctly, and could tell you just how he was dressed on that day. I have sold Johnson's Liniment ever since. Can truly say it has maintained its high standard from that time to this. No medicine today possesses the confidence of the public to a greater extent. JOHN B. RAND, North Waterford, Me., Jan., 1891.

As a family remedy it has been used and indorsed for nearly a century. Every Mother should have it in the house for many common ailments. Internal as much as External. Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price 25 and 50c. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad
— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)
Trains leave FRANKLIN for
BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 30, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.
BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.
WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.
NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m; S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.
CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.
PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.
HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.
WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.
NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.
New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.
Trains leave FRANKLIN for
PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.
Trains leave Franklin for
MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 8 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.
ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative
Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
..AND...
C.B.Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m.
12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.
M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. F. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to p. m., except holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

BABY
FOOD
MILK

There's a Sucker Born Every Minute,

so give the babies a chance for life by using our improved nursing bottles and our strengthening and nourishing baby foods. Life for the little ones during the heated term means bottles that can be kept thoroughly clean and food that will make pure blood, bone and muscle, and our foods will do it.

We recommend Mellin's Food.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.
DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Miss Edith M. Hill is visiting Miss Bertha Rogers.——Charles George is travelling in Maine.——Mrs. Sally Rowell has left for Revere.——Miss Bessie Atwood of Chicago is visiting Miss Annie M. Sullivan.——Mr and Mrs. Daniel A. Cook of Cambridge are here for the summer. ——The town hall is a bower of loveliness for the bazaar which the ladies of the Congregational society are to hold Wednesday and Thursday, afternoons and evenings.——Rev. W. R. Trotter of Bristol preached at Trinity church Sunday morning. His boy choir assisted in the services.——Fred C. Stewart, principal of the Wareham high school, was in town over Sunday.——Mrs. Lewis Vose of Pawtucket was in town Sunday and will spend a portion of August at Mrs. George R. Fairfield's.——The campers at Lake Pearl held a series of canoe races Saturday afternoon. The prize for winning the most number of entrees was awarded to Fred Notman.——Mr. and Mrs George W. Pettee are visiting their daughter, Mrs. W. B. Allis, in Brooklyn, N. Y.——Mrs. Sternes and daughter Annie are at the Brightman's.——Col. A. W. Harris leaves the middle of the week for Kingston, New Mexico. He came on as a delegate to the Republican convention from New Mexico.——Joseph Revelle is spending his vacation in Yarmouth, N. S.

ROYAL PERSONAGES.

The queen has a magnificent collection of the photographs of celebrated actors.

Siam's crown prince has matriculated at Oxford, and has gone into residence as a member of Christ church.

The queen's will is engrossed on vellum, quarto size, and is bound as a volume, and secured by a private lock.

King Oscar, of Sweden, is a musical monarch, who may often be heard for hours improvising on the piano, and more particularly on the organ—an instrument which is almost unknown in private circles abroad. His majesty is also a great lover of glee singing.

It is contrary to etiquette for the czar or czarina of Russia or any of the grand dukes and duchess to pay a visit to anyone who is not of royal birth, and in consequence no visits are paid them by those who are not members of the nobility, and should the rulers wish to see them the invitation comes in the form of a command.

The duke of Cambridge, cousin of Queen Victoria, has received more army pensions than any other member of the English royalty. In 1850, on the death of his father, the country voted him an annuity of $60,000 a year. At 18 years of age he became a colonel, at 26 a major general, in 1854 a lieutenant general, two years later a general on full pay, and in 1862 a field marshal at $22,500 a year. He occupies his residence rent and tax free—the equivalent of $12,500 per annum.

IN VARIOUS PLACES.

Leather money was in circulation in Russia as recently as the time of Peter the Great.

The water of Modder river has been analyzed and pronounced to be of excellent quality.

Among Japanese a daily hot bath is the rule. When people are too poor to have a bath in their own houses they patronize the public baths.

The highest Prussian court has decided that the American title of "doctor" cannot be used in Prussia without a special permit from the government.

Plum and apple selling by hawkers was illegal in the sixteenth century in England. The reason was that servants and apprentices were unable to resist the sight of the fruit, and consequently were tempted to steal their employers' money in order to gratify their longing for these dainties.

Fishermen in Holland kill all fish as soon as they are landed, while French fishermen, on the contrary, allow them to die of asphyxiation. It is urged that the Dutch custom is the right one, not merely because it is the more humane, but because fish that are promptly killed are in better condition for the table.

LEGAL POINTS OF INTEREST.

Taxation of a city for its franchise is upheld in Newport vs. Com. (Ky.), 45 L. R. A. 518, in case of a franchise to operate waterworks, as it is held that the city in respect to them occupies the position of a private corporation.

An attestation of the reports of a national bank, made by directors, is held, in Gerner vs. Mosher (Neb.), 46 L. R. A. 244, sufficient to make them liable for false representations in favor of one who bought stock in reliance or false statements in the reports.

One who obtained grain from a building by boring an auger hole through the side of the building and taking the grain out through the hole, without himself entering the building, is held, in State vs. Crawford (N. D.), 46 L. R. A. 312, to be guilty of burglary.

Right of a broker employed to sell property to be at the same time the agent of both purchaser and seller and entitled to commissions from both is denied in Friar vs. Smith (Mich.), 46 L. R. A. 229, unless both principals know that he is acting in such dual capacity.

An injunction against the use of the name and portrait of a deceased person on a cigar label, at the suit of his widow, is refused in Atkinson vs. John E. Doherty & Co. (Mich.), 46 L. R. A. 219, since the injury to the feelings in such a case is not one which the law can redress.

An assessment on a street railway for the expense of paving the space occupied by the roadbed and tracks and for a distance of two feet from each side is upheld in Shreveport vs. Prescott (La.), 46 L. R. A. 193. With this case is an extensive note on the liability of a street railway for paving assessment.

Discovered at Last.

"What do you consider the most leveling and civilizing influence of the present age?"

"The bathtub."—Chicago Record.

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy; he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find any relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured. I think it the best medicine I have ever tried." For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

A lame shoulder is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles, and may be cured by a few applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Pieces of sponge are utilized in the formation of a new playing ball, the sections being held together by wrapping cord and covered with a woven fabric, after which the usual cover of hide is put on, making an extremely light and substantial ball for water polo or handball.

Headache
Biliousness, sour stomach, constipation and all liver ills are cured by
Hood's Pills
The non-irritating cathartic. Price 25 cents of all druggists or by mail of C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

THE ROSE = FOR LOVE.
SUNRISE = = FOR BEAUTY.
"COOK CO." = FOR BARGAINS.

GO-CARTS, $8.00 == Nice.

Never heard a baby complain yet. Babies are all right in one of "Cook's Rolling Stock." Assortment is complete.

Same Good Old Terms--A Little Down, Then $1.00 or 50c. Weekly.

Everybody waits for their car in our store—so nice and cool. Try it.

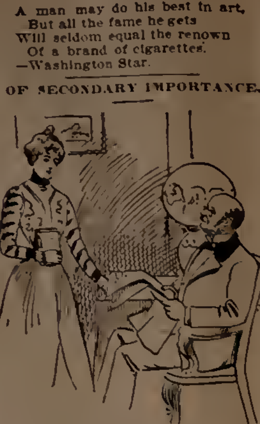
AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,
67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

Fame.

A man may do his best in art,
But all the fame he gets
Will seldom equal the renown
Of a brand of cigarettes.
—Washington Star.

OF SECONDARY IMPORTANCE.



Her Father—Why do you wish to marry him, Grace?

Grace—Why, because he loves me.

Her Father—But do you love him?

Grace—Why, I never thought of that. I have been too much interested in getting him to propose to have time to think of it.—Harlem Life.

A Realistic Novel.

Mrs. Blazzay—I've just been reading "A Sea of Troubles." How true to life it is!

Mr. Blazzay—Do you think so? Why, I looked into it and thought it dull. There's no plot little incident and less interest.

"Yes; so true to life!"—Brooklyn Life.

Way Behind the Times.

Mrs. Newhouse—When my husband asked me what I would like for my birthday, I told him to get me some sofa pillows.

Mrs. Friend—Well, my dear?

Mrs. Newhouse—The foolish fellow went and bought only a dozen.—Town Topics.

Died.

In Sheldonville, at the residence of her brother, Barton Ray, July 29, Mrs. Sarah Ray, aged 88 years.

In Wrentham, Aug. 4, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs Parmenter, of paralysis, Mrs. Frances A. Smith, aged 75 years.

Hoag Lake PARK.

WEEK OF AUG. 6.

Afternoons at 3.15. Evenings at 8.30.

High-Class Vaudeville

The musical comedians, Weston and Greves, in their absurdity, "Jilted."

The charming vocalist, Miss Frances Woods.

"The Novelty Duo," Edgar Foreman and Julia West, in their production entitled "After the Ball."

The kings of comedy, Conway and Staats, in their "Laughing Casey."

UNDER DIRECTION OF MORRIS BOOM.
je26-toc1

PLANTLINE TO THE PROVINCES.

Cheapest and Best Ocean Trip Out of Boston.

1400 MILES FOR $18.00.

Points of interest include HALIFAX, STRAITS OF CANSO, CAPE BRETON, BRAS D'OR LAKES, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND and NEWFOUNDLAND. Elegant steamships La Grande Duchesse, Halifax and Florida. From north side Lewis Wharf for HALIFAX, HAWKSBURY and CHARLOTTETOWN, every Tuesday, 12 noon. Every Saturday 2 p. m. New line to SYDNEY every Friday 10 a. m. Illustrated advertising free.

J. A. FLANDERS, N. E. Agent, 290 Washington St., Boston.
E. H. DOWNING, Agent, 20 Atlantic Ave., Boston.
jly24-1no24

THE CANNING SEASON

Is at hand. You can find Glass Jars, Rubbers, Preserving Kettles, Porcelain-Lined Kettles, Fruit Tunnels, Stew Pans, great and small.

Also a fine lot of Water Sets.

CALL AND EXAMINE.

W. E. Crowninshield
2 METCALF BLOCK.
my4-4m8

Witch Hazel Jelly...

An improved form of Witch Hazel, far more effective and convenient than the ordinary Witch Hazel. It is a quick and efficient remedy in all cases of burns, bruises and all irritations of the skin, such as hives, nettle rash, mosquito bites, etc.

15 CTS. BOTTLE.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist
PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

FALES, the Grocer
NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.
no17-8

Coal! Coal!

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

JAMES F. RAY,
The Coal Dealer,
DEPOT STREET.
jly10-8

Chilson's Market

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef, 10 to	12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.
fe1-1y8

FOR SALE.

Two Grocery Wagons, one Grocery Pung, Harnesses, all Fixtures suitable for grocery business. Also, stock of Groceries. Will be sold in whole or part.

Apply to J. B. McKINNON.

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.
jly10-tf8

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test. ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet FEVERS
Tyhold

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE.. ..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week.......... 50
Single Gallon.......... 06

All orders left at Dean's will receive prompt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES, P. O. Box 481.
17-tf

WANTED.

Experienced Fur Felt Finishers,

about July 16th, on Ladies' Felt Hats.

Address HIRSH & PARK, Medway, Mass.
jly3-tm

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of John L. Fairbanks, late of Franklin, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to ELIZA FAIRBANKS, Executrix.

Address: Franklin, Mass.
July 25, 1900. jly31,au7,14

A HOME...
If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...
what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00... per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,
WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Special engagement for the season, S. M. Stephens' PUNCH and JUDY SHOW to entertain the children.

Dancing every afternoon and Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON,
Concert by Norwood Band.

ADMISSION to the Grounds, 10c. Children, 5c.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof. Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.

Circulars free on application.

Collector's Notice.

COLLECTOR'S OFFICE,
FRANKLIN, MASS., 1900.

The owners and occupants of the following described real estate, situated in the town of Franklin, in the county of Norfolk and the commonwealth of Massachusetts and the public are hereby notified that the taxes assessed for the year herein after specified, according to the list committed to me as Collector of Taxes for said Franklin by the Assessors of Taxes, remain unpaid, and that said real estate will be offered for sale by public auction, at the house of the Collector of Taxes, No. 10 High street, in said Franklin, on at 10 o'clock a. m., for the payment of said taxes, with the costs and charges thereon, unless the same shall be previously discharged:

WEDNESDAY, the 22d day of AUGUST, 1900,

Henry B. Kimball—A certain piece or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, situated on the easterly side of Forest street, in said Franklin, and bounded and described as follows, viz: Beginning at a point on the easterly line of said Forest street, at land now or late of one Woodbury, and running south 58 degrees east, ten and sixty-eight hundredths (10.68) chains; thence running south 42 degrees 35 minutes west, eleven chains and eighty-seven hundredths (11.87) chains to a point at the intersection of a Virginia rail fence with a stone wall; thence south 14 degrees 5 minutes east, nine and four hundredths (9.04) chains to a point at the intersection of a Virginia rail fence, with a leading way which leads from said Forest street across the granted premises; thence crossing said leading way and running in an irregular line in a southerly direction as the Virginia fence runs to where it intersects the center of Dix brook, which crosses the said described premises, thence running in the same general direction along the centre of said brook to a point where said brook is intersected by an old fence which runs between aforesaid described premises and land now or formerly of Amos P. Woodward; thence running north 80 degrees 5 minutes west, four and sixty-seven hundredths (4.67) chains, more or less, thence running north eighty degrees 5 minutes west, three and twenty-five hundredths (3.25) chains; thence north 78 degrees 5 minutes west, five chains; thence north 79 degrees 15 minutes west, seven and thirty three hundredths (7.33) chains to said Forest street, thence northerly on said Forest street forty-seven and fifty-four hundredths (47.54) chains to the point of beginning, containing fifty-three and one-fifth acres, more or less.

The tax on the above described premises for the year 1899 is twenty-eight dollars and fifty cents ($28.50)

E. H. SHERMAN,
Collector of Taxes for the Town of Franklin.
Dated at said Franklin, July 31, 1900.
jly31,au7,14

TAKE ADVANTAGE

Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 64. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Court of Land Registration	3
Weeks Furniture Co	4
N. C. Nye	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm.

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 00 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

The selectmen will not meet this week.

Mrs. Fred Handerson is confined to her room by illness.

Miss Nellie Cody of West street is visiting her sister in Brighton.

Mrs. Solon Abbott and children return from their visit in Maine this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Marston Sanborn are enjoying themselves at St. John, N. B.

Ladies' Auxiliary No. 12, A. O. H., will hold a regular meeting this evening.

Dr. J. M. Crowley will spend Sunday at his former home in Hanover, N. H.

Misses Angelina and Philomena Cataldo are at Revere beach for a week or more.

John Kane of Providence is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemier of Peck street.

William G. Dana has returned from a week's visit with friends in Naugatuck, Conn.

Miss May Kingsbury of Wakefield is the guest of Miss Sarah Cochrane of Peck street.

Rev. D. H. Reilly of Bridgewater is the guest of Rev. M. J. Lee at St. Mary's rectory.

Miss Nellie Williams of Watertown is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams.

Mrs. B. W. McCabe and children have returned from a visit with relatives at Glendale.

Miss Annie Glynn of Mount Auburn is visiting at the home of Frank Brown on Union street.

Mrs. Joseph Dorris of Mystic, Conn., a former Franklin lady, is the guest of relatives in town.

Charles S. Rand has moved from North Park street into Miss Crossley's house on Cottage street.

Miss Elizabeth Murphy of Fisher street has returned from a week's visit with relatives in Watertown.

George Pendergast has gone to Douglas for two or three weeks as supply station agent and operator.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril LeClair of North Park street are rejoicing over the birth of a baby girl, born Saturday.

Harris Cochrane returned home Monday after spending a week's vacation with relatives in Carolina, R. I.

William E. Bassett of Jersey City has been spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Bassett.

Mrs. C. L. Blunn and daughters Hattie, Mabel and Alice of Bridgeport, Conn., are visiting at Capt. R. Sommers'.

If the company's expectations are realized, the M., A. & W. direct line to Milford will be opened next week.

Mrs. Grath and children of Peacedale, R. I., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Morrison, Thayer street.

Miss Alice Sullivan of Brighton, who has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Cody of West street, returned home Tuesday.

Mrs. L. K. Dearborn, who has returned from a few days' outing at Onset, will leave tomorrow for a month's vacation in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Fitzgerald have removed from Central street into the house owned by John Fitzgerald on Union street.

Rev. Dr. Sneath has returned from Pennsylvania and goes to Northfield next week, preaching away from home next Sunday, however.

A large number of Franklin people were at Hoag Lake yesterday afternoon and evening, enjoying the outing of the Woonsocket clerks.

Mrs. Harry Corson who has been designer at Stewart's straw shop for a number of years, has accepted a position in Bassett's factory.

The largest bass taken out of Lake Pearl this year was captured by Ernest Mayshaw and E. S. Cook on Wednesday. It weighed about four pounds.

With the opening of the Milford-Uxbridge electrics, Mendon pond will be improved and made a pleasure resort. Every town will have one soon.

Mrs. Mary O. Johnson, nee Sawyer, a former school teacher here, but now living in Brandon, Vt., gave birth to twin sons on Monday. All are doing well.

Our Boys will play at North Bellingham tomorrow afternoon with the best ball team in that village. Kane will pitch for the Franklin team.

Miss Nellie Gileaney, a former resident of this town, and Max Perkins of Hudson were united in marriage in the Sacred Heart church at Mount Auburn Wednesday.

Miss Josie Byrnes of Cottage street has returned from a two weeks' outing in New Hampshire. Her sister, Miss Jennie Byrnes, left Monday for a visit to the Granite state.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Martin have been entertaining his brother, Mr. Fred Martin of Atlanta, Ga., a few days. They have just returned from an extended tour abroad, stopping here en route.

The street was lively last evening owing to the presence of a party in the Medway illuminated car, remaining here about an hour, and also a party from Plainville way going to Hoag Lake.

Rev. Aquila Webb of Everett will preach next Sunday at the Congregational church. Mr. Webb is a young man of talent and is successful as a preacher and reader upon the public platform.

The Republican campaign buttons have been decided upon. The large size will bear a picture of McKinley, underneath which will be a picture of Roosevelt. Two smaller sizes will have likenesses of McKinley and Roosevelt respectively.

Miss Alice N. Moulton, daughter of Conductor Moulton, has just returned from a visit with Miss Daisy Parks, daughter of Sheriff Parks, in Putnam, Conn. Miss Parks will make a visit here of a couple of weeks, coming on Saturday.

Already in spite of the hot weather, some of our citizens are beginning to talk McKinley or Bryan and it may be well to remember that the popular vote at the last presidential election was as follows: McKinley, 7,105,850; Bryan, 6,454,943.

There is an occasional subscriber of the SENTINEL who wishes to know to what time his subscription is paid. He can always ascertain by looking at the label every week on his copy of the SENTINEL. The date to which it is paid is always there.

B. F. Keith's theatrical advertising wagon made a pretty sight Wednesday evening on the streets, it being brilliantly illuminated by numerous incandescent lights. Each of the six horses also carried two lights. A crowd of children preceeded the wagon.

Many Franklinites are searching for nearby shore resorts where their families may spend a week or two and afford an opportunity for the head of the house to slip away from duties for a day or so without spending much time in getting where he can get a whiff of Old Ocean's ozone.

W. H. Tylee has been granted a contract by the Woonsocket Street Railway Co. to build an extension of the company's tracks from the present Blackstone line terminus to Millville. There is a possibility that the Woonsocket railway system may be extended toward the north as far as Northbridge.

A number from here attended the most brilliant social function ever given in this section—the "At Home" of Gen. and Mrs. Wm F Draper at their beautiful residence in Hopedale Tuesday evening from 8 to 11. It completely outshone anything ever attempted by them in Hopedale and fairly rivalled the elaborate receptions given by them at Washington.

Eight second hand winter cars, four-wheelers, recently bought in Boston to be used as booths at Hoag Lake Park were brought out from Boston on the Medway road yesterday morning, and transferred at Emmons street. As they were going down the cemetery hill four of them went off the track and ploughed the dirt some distance necessitating about an hour's work to get them on again.

There is unusual interest here just at present in the matter of life insurance and to any one who has not investigated the matter, it is startling, almost, to learn the amount of money paid out throughout the country each year in settling life insurance claims. In Massachusetts alone, the total, exclusive of industrial, was $14,821,388. The industrial insurance for the state amounted to $1,493,157.

Some of our Franklin boys think when they have reached the age of fifteen they are too old to be punished. Possible so, but Monroe Hedges, of Anderson, Ind., thinks he has a right to whale his offspring whenever the later deserves it, no matter what his age. He lately gave his 80-year-old son Hiram such a severe lathering that the young fellow had to have his scalp dressed by a surgeon. The old gentleman is in his 106th year.

The two artesian wells which have been sunk by Rev. M. J. Lee, one at St. Mary's cemetery and the other close by the new building, have proved to be a grand success. The wells are 78 and 80 feet deep and contain about 60 feet of water. About 60 feet of solid rock, granite, was bored. Fr. Lee recently tested the water from the one in connection with the new building, and found it excellent. This well will be put in operation before the one at the cemetery.

The Medway street railway has placed a barrel near the platform on Main street and people who wait for the cars there will do a good thing if they will put their waste paper and other rubbish in the barrel instead of on the walk. The company was asked to provide for the litter which naturally gathers at such a place, and manifested a prompt willingness to do so. Passengers on the cars can very much assist in keeping the locality neat if disposed to do so.

The return golf tournament between the Franklin and the North Attleboro country clubs comes off on the Franklin links tomorrow afternoon, when some of the best players of the home club will be lined up against the visitors, who hope to give a better account of themselves than they did two weeks ago. Of course our players will see to it that they are entertained in a style fitting the occasion, although the home grounds and house are not as pretentious as those at North Attleboro.

Despite the threatening weather Wednesday evening a goodly number of the friends of Misses Margaret Williams and Evelyn Baro attended the party held on the lawn about their home on Union street. The grounds were beautifully illuminated and the decorations well arranged. One of the features of the evening was a magic lantern show by Henry Lanagan. Music, solos, games and recitations were in order. Miss Ella Baro presided at the piano. The affair was a pleasing social success.

Owing to the fact it was thought the M., A. & W. road had forfeited its rights in Milford, Treasurer Ray says that it will be understood that the company claims rights in the streets mentioned in the petition by virtue of a location already granted by the selectmen, but in order to fortify themselves against the remote possibility that the right to construct the railway and operate it under the location referred to may be questioned, a new petition was presented asking that an early date might be set for a hearing thereon.

Postmaster Talbot will cheerfully furnish any further information which may be desired, upon application at the money order division of the postoffice, in regard to the special money order applications in which the name of the payee is printed conspicuously in red ink. The department has arranged to print these special applications and furnish them free of cost. The advantages are certainly of correct issue of the order and convenience of the remitter, who, having the application thus partially filled in, will more likely give the matter prompt attention.

Franklin young men would do well to heed Burdette's words, where he says: There are young men who do not work, my son, but the world is not proud of them. It does not know their names, even; it simply speaks of them as Old So and So's boys. Nobody likes them, nobody hates them; the great busy world doesn't even know they are there. So find out what you want to be and do. son, and take off your coat and make a dust in the world. The busier you are, the less deviltry you will be apt to get into, the sweeter will be your holidays, and the better satisfied the world will be with you.

Chester M Whiting has been here a short time looking after his interests in town, but will return to Cuba within a week or two. He has been there all the spring, and although none of the buildings on his plantation remain, yet he has hopes that the government will see to it that his claims are paid. A commission has been appointed to look into the matter and report. He considers the prospects good. A land company has been looking over neighboring plantations with a view to colonizing, and it is not impossible that this may be included in the deal, though nothing definite has been decided.

The Sullivan family at Caryville has proved expensive to someone. The family came from Ireland a few months ago and soon after arriving here several of them were taken sick with a strange disease and the locality has been in charge of the board of health ever since that time. The family was without means and they became a state charge. Several hundred dollars have been expended in care and supplies, which have been paid by the town of Franklin and will be repaid by the state. Whether in the end the state or the steamship company which landed the family here will have to foot the bill remains to be seen.

There are already a number of inquries as to the date of the G. A. R. encampment in Chicago. The Massachusetts department will go by way of the Fitchburg railroad. Tickets out and back are sold for $18, good going the 25th, 26th and 27th, and returning until the 31st, but they will be extended to Sept. 30 by depositing with the joint agent at Chicago and the payment of 50 cents. For those who do not care to travel in Pullman cars the entire route first-class day coaches will be attached as far as St. Albans, Vt., where Pullman sleeping cars can be secured to Toronto. At Toronto first-class day coaches will be attached again to go through to Chicago.

Three of the four Protestant ministers of the town are away getting physical brace and mental stimulant for the coming fall and winter. The people are acting with decorum generally, notwithstanding their absence. The police court records show no decided change in the annals of local crime, but it is impossible to say what might happen if their coming back was delayed much beyond the accustomed time. It is an old remark that if the salt has lost its savor it is no good. We need for nothing of this character in the sermons of the fall season, but, on the contrary, may expect old ocean's solid in sufficient quantities to nerve the most trembling backslider and fill the thirsting faithful with nourishing mental repasts.

Uncle Silas waxes philosophical when he says that the rate of tax is higher than last year, but bear in mind that is the fault of the men who voted the appropriations and not of the collector. The tax bills are yellow and so is the golden rod, and the golden rod is beautiful to the artistic sense. Why not look upon the tax bill with the same benevolent charity that we accord to the golden rod? Let us look upon them as we do the beautiful flower rather than with the emotion uppermost when we behold the yellow wasp, remembering the three great watchwords of Christian fellowship—faith, hope and charity. Faith in the justness of the assessors, hope in our ability to meet the claims when due, and charity toward all concerned, especially the collector.

Improvements at Dean.

Improvements are being made preparatory to the reopening of Dean academy on Tuesday, September 11, when it is expected that an unusually large number of new pupils will enter. The inquiries in regard to the school during the summer thus far has been very gratifying, which augurs well for the new class. It is safe to say there is no co-educational institution of this class which gives more for the money expended than does Dean, and its graduates stand well with those of other schools. Among the improvements made, the old piping and plumbing of the building has been removed and entirely new open plumbing substituted throughout the building. The new fittings are in the best modern style, and the work has been done by experts in sanitary plumbing in accordance with the best scientific knowledge.

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending August 8. 1900:

Ladies—Mrs. Mary E. Bent, Mrs. Sarah Stanton, Miss Ora Parker (package).

Gentlemen—James Bule, Jerome Jones, David McCauley, David McCarthy, Franklin Manfg. Co., John Homer (book).

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

Come and Enjoy Yourself.

The first annual clambake of the Hoag club will be held Sunday, Aug. 12, at 2 o'clock p. m., at Hoag Cottage, near the merry-go round. Tickets 50c.

Emerson's Market.

Watermelons on ice, shell beans, green corn, gem melons, sweet potatoes, summer squash, [illegible], cucumbers, onions, cabbages, new beets and turnips, green corn. Fresh killed chicks and fowls, lamb, veal, pork, sweet potatoes and tomatoes.

Dental Notice.

Please note that my office will be closed during my absence for two or three weeks, or until further notice.

DR. E. C. ABBOTT.

Sweet peas at Slade's greenhouse.

Antiques in Franklin.

To continue, it was my great privilege to call upon my esteemed friend Mrs. Alfred Clark of Washington street. Mrs. Clark is 85 years old, and her well stored mind the passing years have not impaired. Mrs. Clark evinced the liveliest interest in my work and was glad to know that "old things" and old folks still occupied a share of the world's thought and attention. In the Clark homestead, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Gaskill, is a sword which was given to Mrs. Clark's son Nathan now deceased, by his grandfather. The sword has been in the Clark family for six generations, but the exact history is not available. There is a tall clock, another centenary heirloom. While this clock is striking the writer is reminded of several others in town. George W. Wiggin has one in his hall, with brass works, which has kept time for four generations. A watchmaker who recently examined it said it was good for another hundred years. The Wiggin clock has one of the most musical "strikes." For softness, pure tone and flexibility its equal cannot be found among its contemporaries. To return to the Clark estate, it would well repay a visit to see a linen coverlid woven on a house loom by Mrs. Clark's grandmother. It is a blue and white plaid, a sort of a royal blue as we term it now. A very handsome pattern 1794 is the date and woven in the spread. The spread is as good as new and fine and even as any product of the modern factory loom. Mrs. Clark, whose maiden name was Wright, gave many graphic accounts of the heirlooms of that family, as of others with whom she came in contact in her youth. Mrs. Emma Walker of Central street has a looking glass 140 years old—same glass, same cherry frame—now in use in her sitting room; also a china pitcher and a chair, 110 years old, formerly in use by the family of Jabez Fisher, an ancestor. It will be seen in these papers how many Franklin families are allied to the house of Fisher. "There were more Fishers than Ponds in Franklin," at one time, all highly respectable, although, as some one once put it, "more or less set folks."

There are a great many antiques in the Fisher and Dean families, who were allied by marriage, but they have been distributed all over the country to their descendants. The late Dean sisters highly prized these effects, among which is a desk and chair now in the possession of Mrs. Frank Hancock of Peck street; also some scrap books containing gems of prose and poetry. There is no trashy or questionionable matter confined in the binding of these books, the accumulated mental gold of a lifetime. At the home of A. P. Woodward, Central street, as a miner might put it, were "rich diggins.'" A piece of paper money was shown, about two and a half inches square, somewhat mutilated, but still intelligible. There was no attempt, evidently, at symmetry or classification in setting up that type. Here is what there is printed upon it: "Two-thirds of a dollar. No. 490,444. Feb. 17, 1776; Philadelphi." This, you see, was colonial money before the thirteen states struck out for independence. There was a circle with a rooster standing on one foot, and this inscription in large type at the bottom: "Mind Your Own Business." The writer never saw anything quite up to this for "filthy lucre." There was a printed volume of Dr. Nathaniel Emmons' sermons, on the fly leaf, written in a bold hand, "Hannah Woodward, her book." See if you ever heard a dedication to compare with this: "To his excellency Benjamin Franklin, Esq., president of the state of Pennsylvania, the ornament of genius, the patron of science and boast of man, this discourse is inscribed with great deference, humility and gratitude by his most obliged and most obedient servant. Franklin in Massachusetts, 1787, March. Providence—Printed by Barnet Wheeler, Westminster street." Mrs. Woodward has the discharge papers of Jonah Farrington, a revolutionary soldier, of whom she is a descendant, dated the 9th of January, 1783. Everybody had the "Esq" attached to their names, from the president down. "George Washington, Esq, President." "Peter Hawes, Esq, files saws." Among Mrs. Woodward's collection is a blue serge meeting cloak for men. It is long and gathered very full at the neck. A garment of this design is very rare and looks like a Mother Hubbard. This was once the property of Assel Farrington, five generations remote from Mrs. Woodward. In this home we find all sorts of crockery ware, plate and pewter kitchen implements, furniture and such like. Here is a cannon ball picked up on some field of battle a hundred and twenty years ago; hand irons, snuffers and such like. Mr. Woodward relates a story his father used to tell when a stove was first introduced into the house: "Now, Hannah, don't make too hot a fire, it might crack the window glass or set it to running." In the next paper, which will conclude this series, the readers of the SENTINEL will have some more new "old things."

W. K. RICHARDSON.

State Republican Convention.

The Republican state committee has selected Thursday, Oct. 4, as the date of the state, congressional, councillor, senatorial and representative convention, which will be held in Boston Theatre at 10 a. m. Congressman Lawerence will be chairman of the convention, and Lieutenant Governor Bates will be chairman of the committee on resolutions. The congressional convention this year will be called upon, in addition to nominating candidates for congress, to designate candidates for presidential electors, two in each district. The apportionments for the state caucuses is the same as that in effect when the state and congressional caucuses were held last spring, preliminary to the national convention. The caucuses must be held either September 24 or 25, except that delegates to representative caucuses may be elected October 1 or 2.

In the matter of state officers it is a foregone conclusion that Gov. Crane will succeed himself and that Lieut. Gov. Bates will be continued in his present position until there is room higher up. There will be something of a contest for state auditor with the present incumbent, John W. Kimball of Fitchburg, Henry Turner of Malden and Samuel George of Haverhill in the field.

Well Worth Trying.

A well known New York physician said: "I've tried all methods for inducing sleep—putting a cold towel on the head, bathing the feet in hot water, counting up to a 1000, drinking a glass of milk, and so on—and the best thing I ever found was simply this: When I have worked all the evening and find myself at bedtime in a state of nervousness or mental activity I go to bed and place my right hand directly over the pit of my stomach. Whether it is the animal warmth of the hand acting on the stomach and drawing the circulation from the head or some nervous action I can't say, but I know that I fall asleep in a few minutes. I believe that in a large majority of the ordinary cases of sleeplessness this simple remedy will prove effective. I have recommended it to many patients and they report surprising success."

The movement to require full measure in small fruit packages is receiving attention in different parts of the country, and is regarded very favorably by housewives. In this state the law which has been considered provides that all packages used in the sale of strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, cherries, currants and gooseberries shall be of the capacity of one quart, one pint or one-half pint, Massachusetts standard dry measure. Offenders are to be punished by suitable fine, and it is proposed to make the act take effect Jan. 1, 1901.

Office Closed.

My patrons are requested to note that my dental office will be closed until further notice during my vacation.

DR M. E. POND.

Richardson's Market.

Of course you've got to eat some meat, even if it is hot weather. Try a nice chicken or fowl for Sunday. Our vegetables are received every day fresh from the gardens. Try a can of our ten cent soup with your dinner; all kinds.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

200 cords of pine trash wood. E. S. Cook.

Good wages for a girl to do housework. Inquire at SENTINEL office. 24 tf

100 cords trash hard and pine limbs, at Allen's wood yard, School street.

A competent girl to do housework is wanted at Dr. C. H. Randall's. 7tf

Wanted —A competent girl for general housework. Apply to Mrs. Dr. King, High street. 31

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office,

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. McKINNON, Agent.

Can While You Can

If you want nice fruit next winter prepare to can very soon, as fruit is coming on, but don't use your old jars Our new ones are cheaper, better, and improve the flavor of the fruit. We have the square "Royal" fruit jar, best quality selected glass, with "Lightning" top at 90 cents, $1.00 and $1 25 per dozen. There are none cheaper in the end Window screens at reduced prices.

HOSIE BROS.

The Question of the Hour.

How shall I educate my boy? For a thorough business training, one that will enable him to obtain and retain some lucrative employment, we sincerely recommend the Providence Bryant & Stratton Business College.

A carload of brewery grain received every Tuesday at Metcalf's station, where any quantity can be purchased. Good for milch cows, hens or hogs. Great saving on grain. Inquire at the station.

Cut flowers, all kinds of funeral designs well made up at Slade's greenhouse. Roses in small or large quantities.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.
MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	[illegible]	3 50	[illegible]	[illegible]	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in.	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	18 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	[illegible]	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	[illegible]	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	[illegible]	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1900.

THE MAN FOR CONGRESS.

All signs point to the nomination of Samuel L. Powers as our next Republican candidate for Congress from this district. His canvass is in the hands of strong representative Republicans, who have at heart the best interests of the party and state. His canvass is clean and dignified and has not descended to the low level of issuing scurrilous circulars to abuse and belittle any rival candidate. There is a rapidly growing sentiment among the voters of the district in favor of the nomination of Mr. Powers. He is recognized as a strong man, who is bound to wield a very potent influence in Congress. He has never been an office seeker or attempted to force himself upon the public. The people of this district demand the selection of a man who can take a place beside representatives like McCall, Moody and Gillett: one who has force and ability and capacity to discuss upon the floor of Congress the great questions that the next Congress will be called upon to consider and decide. Mr. Powers is one of the strong men of Massachusetts. Great business interests have for years sought his advice and services. In the conduct of these affairs he has shown signal ability and [illegible]. In the trial of causes he has taken high rank. In the discussion of public questions he has demonstrated his eloquence and shown thorough research of the subject. He is in every sense of the word a self made man, and if nominated and elected he surrenders a large and lucrative law practice to enter the service of the public.

We Suffer Just the Same.

Before bacteriology became fashionable in medical circles we used to call influenza "a hard cold." Our discomfort was neither greater nor less than it is now when we know that the trouble is all due to an insidious bug with a Latin name three feet long ending in "coccus" or "spirilis." We sneezed and we shivered and we blew our noses with no more vigor then than now. What is more to the purpose, we got well just as quickly then as now. The scientists who pass their waking hours peering into high-power microscopes have discovered the grip bacillus, but they haven't discovered the way to kill him. It is very little consolation to the wretched, sneezing patient to be assured that his woes may all be attributed to a bacterium which takes up his headquarters in the mucous membrane of the throat and nose and proceeds to make trouble with a vigor entirely out of proportion with his size. Not the cause, but the cure, is what interests the sufferer, and the cure is no more rapid to-day than it was a century ago, when bug hunting was in its early infancy and "oil immersion" lenses were unknown.

A man in Boston bought an automobile [illegible] some [illegible] and after getting it under way was informed by the [illegible] that he couldn't stop the machine but it would be all right as long as he kept going. The power gave out after a [illegible] of [illegible] miles, the [illegible] returning [illegible] electric car.

The supervisors of [illegible] county, Ca[illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] ria [illegible]

[illegible] ty.

[illegible]

[illegible] ath.

Coated

Look at your tongue. Is it coated?

Then you have a bad taste in your mouth every morning. Your appetite is poor, and food distresses you. You have frequent headaches and are often dizzy. Your stomach is weak and your bowels are always constipated.

There's an old and reliable cure:

Ayer's Pills

Don't take a cathartic dose and then stop. Better take a laxative dose each night, just enough to cause one good free movement the day following.

You feel better the very next day. Your appetite returns, your dyspepsia is cured, your headaches pass away, your tongue clears up, your liver acts well, and your bowels no longer give you trouble.

Price, 25 cents. All druggists.

"I have taken Ayer's Pills for 35 years, and I consider them the best made. One pill does me more good than half a box of any other kind I have ever tried."
Mrs N. E. TALBOT,
March 30, 1899. Arrington, Kans.

RAILWAY RUMBLE.

Letter-copying presses operated by compressed air or hydraulic pressure from local water mains are in use in offices on the Rock Island road.

The day coach traffic at night is a paying business and as such, says the Railway and Engineering Review is demanding more attention to its needs than has until recently been given it.

The New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad has regulated the publications which are sold on its trains. Certain of them were barred, owing to complaints to the railroad company. This, says the Scientific American, is the first case in which we remember a railroad company exerting their undoubted right as a censor in this matter.

An English house has engaged to put the Tehuantepec railroad in good condition and to build the two ports of Coatzacoalcos and Salina Cruz. In return it obtains for a period of 5[illegible] years, dating from the completion of the work, the proceeds from the exploitation of the railroad and the duties which will be collected in the ports. In addition it receives a subsidy of $5,[illegible].

The last remaining relic of the first railway in London has just disappeared. In 1801 an act was passed authorizing the construction of a railway from Wandsworth to Croydon, the sleepers being of stone and motor power was provided by horses. The scheme included a dock at Wandsworth and it is the ancient wooden crane connected therewith which has just fallen into the waters of the Wandle.

POINTS OF LAW.

The fact that a person mortally wounded cut his own throat and hastened his death is held, in People vs. Lewis (Cal.), 47 L. R. A. 783, insufficient to relieve the person who inflicted the fatal wound of his liability.

Performance of the duty of a street railway company to maintain and operate its road for the benefit of the public is held in state ex rel. Bridgeton vs. Bridgeton and Millville Traction company (N. Y.), 45 L. R. A. 837, to be enforceable by mandamus.

A guaranty of the prompt payment of a note is held, in Holm vs. Jamieson (Ill.), 45 L. R. A. 54[illegible], to be not annulled by a judgment declaring the note void for want of authority in the maker who executed it, as against one who took the note in reliance on the guaranty.

Failure to reserve the right to [illegible] quantity to reduce the amount [illegible] increase [illegible] in Alexander [illegible] L. R. A. [illegible] to prevent the [illegible] divorce.

A [illegible] of shares of stock [illegible]

[illegible]

THE VOICE OF SCIENCE.

Weighty Opinions as to "What Is a Food" and Whether Alcohol Is a Food.

I. WHAT IS A FOOD?

1. H. A. Hammarsten, professor of physiological chemistry in Upsala, University of Sweden: "Those bodies are designated as food which have no injurious action upon the organism, and which replace those constituents of the body that have been consumed in the exchange of material (metabolism) or that can prevent or diminish the consumption of such constituents."

2. Dr. Gould, compiler of the Medical Dictionary, defines food as "Anything used for the nourishment of or formation of tissue," and defines nourishment as "Anything that enters into the formation of living tissue."

3. W. H. Howell, as editor of the American Text-Book of Physiology and professor of physiology in Johns Hopkins university, defines food thus: "What we eat and drink for the purpose of nourishing the body constitutes our food. . . . The food is utilized to repair the wastes of the body—i. e., the destruction of the body material which goes on at all times. . . . And in addition it serves as the source of heat, mechanical work and other forms of energy liberated in the body."

II. IS ALCOHOL A FOOD?

1. Robert Koppe, M. D., in an address before the International Medical congress in Moscow in 1897: "The opinion that alcohol would be a useful source of heat energy in the human organism in consequence of its combustibility is not scientifically justified. The consideration alone that a substance will burn in our body in no wise justifies its dietic use as a source of heat and energy. Morphine, as is well known, burns in our bodies into oxydi-morphin. Happily, however, it has not yet occurred to anyone to proclaim morphine, for this reason, a proper source of energy for the human organism, as is unfortunately done in the case of ethyl-alcohol."

2. Prof. H. W. Conn, of Wesleyan university: "A physicist could experiment with gunpowder and prove that it is easily oxidized and gives rise to a large amount of heat and energy. From this it might be argued that gunpowder is a most useful kind of fuel for cooking stoves. Such a conclusion would be hardly less logical than the conclusions that have been drawn from these experiments with alcohol, and which regard it as a useful food for the body. Gunpowder is a more unsafe fuel because of its secondary effects, and in the same way the food value of alcohol cannot be determined by its power of being oxidized, but must include the consideration of its secondary effects as well."

3. H. F. Hewes, M. D., of Harvard, says of Prof. Atwater's experiments: "These experiments merely show that the body can derive some energy from alcohol. This does not in itself entitle alcohol to be placed among the food substances in the hygienic sense of the term, which is the sense in which the schools and people in general use the term food. If it did, such a violent poison as muscarine, the active principle of the poisonous plants of the mushroom family, would have to be classed with the foods, since it also is oxidized in the body with liberation of its contained energy."—Union Signal.

Step Further.

"I'se muzzled de dog," said Mr. Erastus Pinkley. "An' now I'se waitin'."

"For what?"

"To see if dey's gwinter go de res' o' de way an' see to de puhtection of us human bein's. If dey'll fix up some way o' muzzlin' de hin' feet ob er mule dey'll sho'ly stop a heap o' damage."—N. O. Picayune.

Placed Them in Evidence.

An honest man, who had escaped a great peril by an act of heroism, was much complimented for his bravery.

One lady said: "I wish I could have seen your feat."

Whereupon he blushed and stammered, and finally pointing to his pedal extremities said: "Well, there they be, mum."—Tit-Bits.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Johnny's Little Joke.

Johnny—Say, ma, hadn't the teacher ought to set a good example for the children?

Mother—Why, yes, of course she should.

Johnny—Well, this arithmetic example is the worst I ever saw.—N. Y. Journal.

Suitably Inscribed.

Among the many new gifts to a newly-married pair the other day was a broom sent to the lady, accompanied with the following sentiment:

"This trifling gift accept from me;
Its use I would commend.
In sunshine use the brushy part;
in storms the other end."—Tit-Bits.

Worth Keeping.

Lady—I want you to take this dog back. He is handsome, I admit, but he can't be taught anything at all, and is of no earthly use.

Dealer (slowly)—Y-e-s, mum, I know, mum; but just thing wot a fine rug he'll make when he's dead.—N. Y. Weekly.

Bonus Needed.

"Bridget, you've broken as much china this month as your wages amount to. Now, how can we prevent this occurring again?"

"I don't know, mum, unless yez raise me wages."—Baltimore Sun.

Spain's Greatest Need.

Mr. R. P. Olivia, of Barcelona, Spain, spends his winters at Aiken, S. C. Weak nerves had caused severe pains in the back of his head. On using Electric Bitters, America's greatest Blood and Nerve Remedy, all pain soon left him. He says this grand medicine is what his country needs. All America knows that it cures liver and kidney trouble, purifies the blood, tones up the stomach, strengthens the nerves, puts vim, vigor and new life into every muscle, nerve and organ of the body. If weak, tired or ailing you need it. Every bottle guaranteed, only 50 cts. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co. Druggists.

No Leak There.

Agent—So you are not satisfied with the house. Does it leak?

Tenant—It doesn't look like it. The cellar has been holding water for five weeks.—Harlem Life.

What Not to Say.

Do not say, "I can't eat." Take Hood's Sarsaparilla and say, "I am hungry all the time and food never hurts me."

Never say to your friends that you are as tired in the morning as at night. If they happen to be sharp they will tell you Hood's Sarsaparilla cures that tired feeling. Do not say, "My face is full of pimples." You are quite likely to be told by some one, "There's no need of that, for Hood's Sarsaparilla cures pimples."

It is improper and unnecessary to say, "My health is poor and my blood is bad." Hood's Sarsaparilla will give you good blood, and good health will follow as a natural consequence.

Spreading Happiness.

"I have but one rule that I follow absolutely in this life, and that is to make other people as happy as possible."

"Well," she replied, "you ought to be gratified, then, at what I heard a young lady say the other day."

"What was that?"

"She said that whenever she saw you dancing she had to laugh."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Broken Bric-A-Bracs.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man, of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's cement. The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are to expensive and do not allow large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $3.75 a pound, and another cost $2.65 a gallon while a large share of the so called cements and liquid glue, upon the market are nothing more than 10 cent glue, dissolved in water or citric acid, and in some cases, altered slightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials. Major's cement retails at fifteen and twenty-five cents a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make a larger profit. The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising which now amounts to $5000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876. Insist on having Major's. Don't accept any off hand advice from a druggist. If you are at all handy (and you will be likely to find that you are more so than you imagine) you can repair your rubber boots and family shoes, and other rubber and leather articles, with Major's rubber cement and Major's leather cement. And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will save. If your druggist can't supply you, it will be fowarded by mail; either kind. Free of postage.

Probably.

"We don't hear you sing nowadays, Miss Mi[illegible]lie."

"My physician has strictly forbidden me to practice."

"Does he live in your neighborhood?"—N. Y. World.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Raisins from the Northern W[illegible]

[illegible]

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Chilson's Market

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef, 10 to	12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe1-ly8

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,
Jewelers and Opticians
160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.
Sign of the Electric Clock.

de1 F1y

--THE--
GREATER BOSTON
=Business Directory=
--And Register--
FOR 1900

Containing Lists of all Business Houses, City, State and United States Officials, Societies, Institutions, Etc.

With Street Directory and New Map.

Comprising also

Arlington,	Brookline,	Cambridge,
Chelsea,	Everett,	Hyde Park,
Malden,	Medford,	Milton,
Newton,	Quincy,	Somerville,
Waltham,	Watertown,	Winthrop.

956 PAGES. PRICE $3.00.

Mailed Promptly on Receipt of Price.

SAMPSON, MURDOCK & CO.,
155 Franklin St., Boston.

SUMMER BOARD WANTED

By the many thousand readers of the

Boston Evening Transcript
(No Sunday Edition).
THE GREATEST PAPER IN NEW ENGLAND
FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900.

"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more farm houses of ten rooms."

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT

Is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies.

Boston · Transcript · Co.,
324 Washington St., Boston.

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices.

One gallon every week day, per month $1 00
three times per week 50
Single Gallon 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive prompt attention.

HUBERT R. GATES,

1-tf [illegible]

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN
SAVINGS BANK,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President
GEO. W. WIGGIN,
LESTER L. BURRINGTON, Vice Presidents.
WALTER M. FISHER,
DR. GEORGE KING,
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice, if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, F. P. Chapman, B. M. Rockwood, George W. Wiggin, Charles Stewart

STATEMENT JULY 31, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors	$571,160 11
Guarantee Fund	28,217 [illegible]
Profit and Loss Account	738 [illegible]
Interest Account	567 15
Real Estate Income Account	16 19
	$600,700 30

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		27,779 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
C F Boyden account		3,023 72
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		28,915 00
" " Mortgages		157,560 00
" " Personal Securities		160,891 18
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		31 97
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$7,822 25
Nat. Bank of Redemption	4,095 58
Mercantile Trust Co.	84 16
		12,001 99
Cash on hand		752 37
		$600,700 30

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.
ADELBERT D. THAYER,
CHARLES STEWART,
Committee of Examination.
July 31, 1900.

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN
EXPRESS.
E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON).

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-F1f

LOW RATES
3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION
APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	10c
5 to 15 miles,	15c
15 to 25 "	20c
25 to 35 "	25c
35 to 45 "	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

ap25F

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW
Enclosed · Arc · Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.
UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1839.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

jly20-4w

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

[illegible] 3-4w

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.

Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

THE SISTERS.

The veranda of the Grand hotel, Zermatt, was unusually full, for a troupe of Neapolitan musicians was announced to give a concert. Among the crowd was Mrs. Jay Gibson, a woman of the world par excellence, one of the most brilliant and accomplished of American women. Italian by birth, she was adopted in infancy under circumstances which made her history a romantic one.

When old Carlotta Celini died, her two little orphan girls, Elvira and Giulietta, were adopted by Francesco Pastorelli, their uncle, a broken down singer, who in his old age continued to love music more than anything in the world. He earned a precarious living by repairing musical instruments and by giving lessons in singing and the violin. Now that he could himself sing no longer, his ambition was to produce a pupil who would become eminent. But his grievance was that his pupils were too poor to remain under his instruction long enough—nor did they come to him sufficiently young. But now that he had Elvira and Giulietta entirely under his control, "You will see," he said to his neighbors enthusiastically, "you will see what old Francesco can do. He has a voice no longer, but he knows how to sing. You shall see what he can do."

They had much music, but little food.

Privation and poverty finished poor old Francesco before his time. He died with his violin on his shoulder and his bow in hand. He called the two children who nursed him his nightingales; their song, he said, was better than food or physic.

Music is sweet, but it does not nourish the body. When it was too late, everybody exclaimed how sad it was. Some of the singers at the opera house made a collection among themselves for the children. The neighbors debated what was to be done for them, and news of the sad story reached some kind hearted American folk who were visiting Florence; they took one of them—Giulietta—into their hearts and adopted her. She went with them to New York, and they would have taken little Elvira also, but an old Italian nurse who had known the child from babyhood would not hear of it. She would bring up Elvira herself, she said, and to the neighbors this seemed just. Elvira was growing up now, and she would become a nice support.

Giulietta, taken to America, was petted, educated and well fed and soon developed a remarkable beauty. Her fine Roman nose, her large, dark eyes, her classic features and rich, ripe lips made her conspicuously attractive. But her wonderful gift of song was more striking even than her loveliness. At 18, when she was one of the recognized belles of New York, she was married to Mr. Jay Gibson, and she at once took her place as one of the leaders in American society.

Very soon afterward Mrs. Jay Gibson made her first voyage to Europe and visited Florence expressly to acquire news of her sister, of whom nothing had been heard for some years. She made untiring efforts to discover her or to obtain information about her. It was said by some that the old nurse in whose charge she had been left had treated her cruelly and that the child had run away. Others said the old woman had sold her to a troupe of traveling acrobats. The most resolute inquiries, repeated again and again, bore no fruit. Elvira was lost. She was swept away among the millions of the living—or of the dead. She was out somewhere in the mystery of life—or in eternity. No price or reward brought definite knowledge of the missing girl.

Every year Mrs. Jay Gibson visited Europe and always spent most of her time in Italy. She was now journeying thither through Switzerland, loitering a little en route at Zermatt.

The Neapolitan singers, in their red sashes and gay costumes, had already begun the concert outside the Zermatt hotel. The tenor had sung a ballad and the whole company a chorus before room was made on the veranda, which was already crowded, for Mrs. Jay Gibson and her little party. She sat down listlessly as the waiter served them with coffee and struck a match for her husband's cigar. Then a girl in the company sang a solo to the accompaniment of her guitar. In a moment Mrs. Jay Gibson was all ears, for she knew the old song well. It was one that her old uncle, Francesco, had taught them in the sad days of long ago.

She listened, lost in reverie, in dreams of her childhood, of Fiesole, of Florence.

Surely that voice was not the mere echo of a memory!

She sat erect. A sudden thrill swept through her. The voice was unmistakable. It was her sister's. She uttered her name with a joyful cry, "Elvira, Elvira!"

The song was abruptly concluded. Giulietta arose, advanced and took Elvira in her arms.

So, after years, they met. A few hours of embrace, of love, of mutual gifts, of kisses and of ears; a few days of mutual forbearance, of effort, of affection, of constraint and of passionate altercation; a final tearful gust of weeping and of love, and then they parted.

For those who have lived the Bohemian life can live no other. Its liberty, its unconventionality, even its hardships, are sweet to those who cannot bear the trammels of civilization. Besides, Elvira was in love with the tenor.—Illustrated London News.

JUST IN FUN

One frosty night in October Dr. Dudley Keith left his brougham on returning from a professional call and stepped into his club.

Two men leaned against the writing table by which he hurriedly sat down. The younger—an embryo M. D., owing much of what success he had attained to Dr. Keith—was laughing with his companion, who just then exclaimed:

"You're an awful scoundrel, Joyce!"

"Oh, come, Mountfort! That's a big word. It's only a joke, you know. I have not the least idea who she may be."

"Show it to Keith." And before Joyce could remonstrate Mountfort, handing a photograph across the table, said:

"Look at that, Keith. Perhaps you know the original. Joyce got it today in answer to a matrimonial humbug. I tell him he is an awful cad."

In silence Dudley Keith devoured every lineament of the grave, sweet face of the girl he had met and loved two months previous, he the guest of Colonel Norton and she the orphan companion of the colonel's nearest neighbor, Mrs. Annesley.

The girl from whom he had parted one month since under the mutual understanding that he would claim an answer to that as yet informally spoken question when he returned, as he meant to do now in a few days' time!

Rising to his feet, he confronted the two wondering men.

"You are right," he said between his teeth. "None but a cad would play such a low, dishonorable game. Sit down," he continued to young Joyce, pointing to the writing materials. "Inclose and return this at once."

And, awed by that tone of authority, the shame stricken Joyce did his bidding.

And Dudley Keith drove home to his handsome house in a whirl of anger, scorn and wounded love. He had thought her so pure, so womanly! But she was like all the rest—ready to sell herself, whether in a joke or earnest it mattered nothing.

Half an hour later he flung open his desk and wrote a letter to Colonel Norton, excusing himself from accepting his proffered hospitality for the next week

* * * * * * *

It is Mrs. Arnold's "at home" five years later. Her gardens are gay with the brilliant colors of nature and of fashion. She herself, the gayest of all, rests a moment from her duties as hostess with her intimate friend, Harry Joyce, now a qualified M. D.

"I am surprised to see Keith here," he was saying. "He is such a recluse and a veritable misogynist as well."

"Really! Nevertheless, I once knew him to pay very marked attention to the companion of an aunt of mine, but he failed unaccountably to put in an appearance when expected."

"You don't say so. I should never have suspected Keith guilty of a flirtation. I recollect some years ago he gave me the greatest taking down I ever had in my life in connection with an unknown lady." And Harry Joyce related the episode of the photograph.

"What was it like?" Mrs. Arnold gasped, as she paled with fear before a sudden thought.

"Oh, an awfully nice looking girl, in white, holding a violin. Why? What's the matter?"

"Oh, what shall I do?" faintly articulated Mrs. Arnold. "It was I sent it. I never thought of harm."

And hastily she told how, to enliven the dullness of a country visit, she had taken from her aunt's album the photograph of her companion and posted it in reply to an advertisement.

"Just in fun, you know. I only wanted to see what answer I would get, but none came. The photograph was returned at once, without even one line, as, of course, you know. Oh, what can I do?"

"It's awfully awkward," muttered Harry Joyce, "but of course you must give a square account of the thing; there's no doubt of that."

"You mean—tell Dr. Keith? Oh! Must I?"

"That's it, I'm afraid. You see, it looks as if it had worked mischief. Of course, Keith concluded the girl had sent it herself, and the fellow's awfully changed since."

In a quiet glade, apart from her other guests, Mrs. Arnold made her confession, nerved to the task by the keen sting of genuine remorse.

At last he broke the silence.

"Be so kind as to give me Miss Warren's address—you mentioned that you knew it."

"Dr. Smith's private hospital, Harley street. She is lady superintendent there. She left my aunt, Mrs. Annesley, four years ago," faltered Mrs. Arnold.

In the lady superintendent's private room at the hospital, one hand resting on the table with unconscious force, Dr. Dudley Keith stands. He has desired the page to announce him only as "a gentleman wishing to see Miss Warren."

With tremendous effort he held himself perfectly still as she quickly entered and lifted her dark eyes inquiringly to his.

A breathless silence; one low cry, then, grasping the back of a chair, she stood as rigidly upright as he. He drew back a step and extended his arms. "I will not ask you," in low, husky tones he said, "so much as to touch my hand in formal greeting until I have spoken. It will be for you then to pronounce my doom; but speak I will, and answer me you must."

And in short, deliberate sentences which could not disguise the passionate eloquence he told his story. Then he waited.

Only for a brief moment; then, with trembling steps, but the radiant light of a great gladness on her beautiful face, she crossed the room and fell with a shuddering sob on his breast, felt his strong arms close around her with the quick rapture of possession, heard his voice in broken accents whisper in her ear:

"My darling, at last!"—Exchange.

Sensible.

Stern Papa—So that young whippersnapper, Smith, wants to marry you?

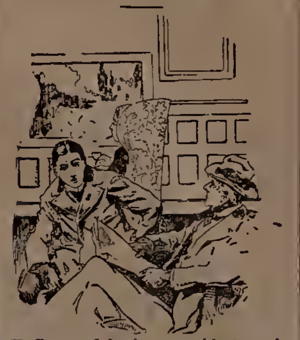
Daughter—Yes, papa. What did you say?

S. P.—I didn't say anything. I wouldn't listen to him.

Daughter (in tears)—Oh, papa, when you—

S. P.—Don't you begin now. I won't have it. That's why I shut him up. What do I want to hear a whole lot of promises and prospectus talk and half page advertising business about what he thinks of you and what he will do and all that for? I don't. Go 'long and get married if you want to, and the Lord have mercy on you. I'll give you a check for $25,000 on your wedding day, so you can be just as sassy to him as you want to be. Run along now and don't bother me.—Detroit Free Press.

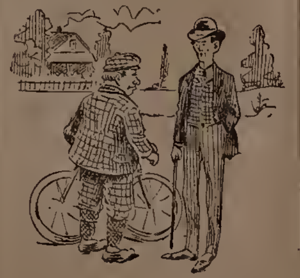
A VALUABLE SUGGESTION.



Hoffman—I don't seem able to make a success of anything, lately.

Westeynd—Why don't you run a soda fountain? Then you'll have an excuse for making a fizzle.—N. Y. Times.

HE KNEW ALL ABOUT IT.



Browne—They say bicycling is hard on the legs.

Towne—You're right. My wife pulled my leg for a new one last week.—Boston Herald.

Everybody Knows About

Pain-Killer

A Household Medicine

A Safe and Sure Cure for

Cramps Coughs Bruises
Diarrhœa Colds Burns
Sprains and Strains.

Gives instant relief.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c

Only one Pain Killer, Perry Davis'.

NEW AND USEFUL DEVICES.

An Englishman has patented an apparatus for preventing the access of air to liquids when a quantity is withdrawn from the reservoir, an air-tight bag being inserted into the reservoir to expand and hold the air which replaces the liquid withdrawn.

Burrowing animals are driven out of their holes or suffocated by a Californian's compound, which is formed of sulphur tar and petroleum applied to a fibrous, inflammable material, being ignited and inserted in the burrow by a pair of slender tongs.

Ditches can be rapidly dug in soft earth by a new machine, which is mounted on narrow trucks and has an endless chain of small buckets to scoop up the earth as the machine is drawn back and forth in the trench, depositing the dirt on either side.

Lamps can be opened for filling without the necessity of unscrewing the burner by using a new attachment, which has the burner collar mounted on a hinged support, with a locking device opposite the hinge, which holds the burner vertical when the lamp is lighted.

In New Hampshire a man has patented a new warming pad for application to different parts of the body, comprising a plurality of independent, elongated pockets filled with soapstone in a dry, powdered form, which holds the heat and allows the pad to shape itself to the afflicted part.

Buttons can be attached to garments without sewing fast to the cloth by a newly patented fastener, comprising a square section of heavy fabric, with an eyelet in the center to receive the shank of the button, which is held in place by a cord laced through the eye and over the edge of the fabric.

SPARKS AND FLASHES.

Short hair was the style under the Francis I. regime, but with the court of Louis XIII. came long hair as a fashion, curls, wigs, powders, periwigs and perukes.

Girls are not employed at the telephone switchboards at Cairo, Egypt. Men are used and are required to understand English, French, Italian, Greek and Arabic.

Electricity is to take place of steam at the shifting tables of the 30-inch rolls at Homestead, Pa. The only part of the plant which be operated by steam will be the big roll engines.

From April 15 to May 13, 799,479 passengers paid for using the moving side walk and the third-rail system in the Paris exposition grounds. The greatest number of passengers carried in one day was 75,000, says the Electrical World.

Electric traction which the London Metropolitan District railway have introduced upon their system between Earl's court and High street, Kensington, is giving satisfaction. The train consists of six coaches with a motor car at each end. The total length of the train is 245 feet, while its aggregate weight is 180 tons, and has accommodation for 312 passengers.

An extraordinary freak was played by lightning during a heavy thunder storm in Coventry. The lightning struck the chimney stack of a house occupied by a watchmaker and split it to the basement, magnetizing all the tools and watches in the workshop. Every particle of steel received a charge of the electric current. It is thought it may be possible to demagnetize the smaller articles and parts of watches, but the larger tools are so thoroughly impregnated as to be completely spoiled.

The Shooting Craze.

Every man thinks he can shoot until laughed out of the idea, and every lunatic likes to try his hand at slaughtering live birds. Clay pigeons require more skill. Great quantities of pigeons are shot in this country annually, and all find their way to our tables, where they are doctored and served under foreign names. Many a man in our cheaper restaurants does not know that he is eating pigeon instead of the game bird he has ordered. Your table d'hote proprietor has a knack of keeping pigeons for a week or two, changing the taste of the meat with a chemical, and imposing it upon his stranger guest. The shooting craze is so widespread that 500 magautraps soon will be in operation on the grounds of the leading gun clubs of the country. This means that 25,000,000 clay pigeons will be thrown and shot at in 1900, representing an expenditure of $150,000. The powder and shot wasted will cost more than $1,500,000.—N. Y. Press.

A Reason for Haste.

A four-day ocean greyhound is promised. The object seems to be to hurry the passenger across before he has recovered from his seasickness. It will, says the Chicago Tribune, effect a great saving in the steward's department.

"Take Heed Will Surely Speed."

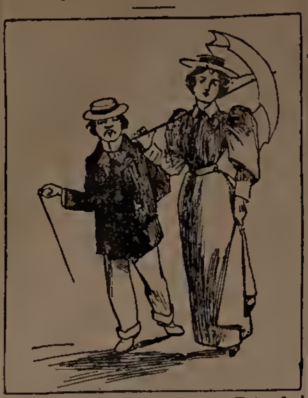
Be sure to heed the first symptoms of indigestion, nervousness and impure blood, and thus avoid chronic dyspepsia, nervous prostration and all the evils produced by bad blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is your safeguard. It quickly sets the stomach right, strengthens and quiets the nerves, purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood and keeps up the health tone.

All liver ills are cured by Hood's Pills. 25c

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell-O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers to-day. 10 cts.

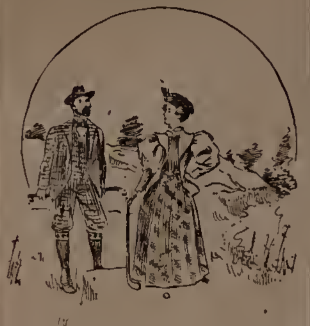
NO FRIEND OF HERS.



He—I met Mrs. Sneerwell. Friend o' yours, isn't she? She told me people at the hotel think you and I are brother and sister.

She—N—no; she's no friend of mine.—Pick-Me-Up.

AND HE DID.



He—I love a girl, and I do not know whether to mail or telegraph my proposal.

She—Why not express it?—Boston Herald.

A Victory.

"I understand he had the best of the debate," said one statesman.

"Yes," answered the other. "He made everybody so sleepy that they couldn't talk back."—Washington Star.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at A. C. Mason's drug store.

In Piling China.

When it is necessary to keep finely decorated china plates piled together get some large sheets of blotting paper and cut from them circles large enough to cover the inside of the plates. Place these between the plates.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Red Hot From the Gun

Was the gun that hit G. B. Steadman of Newark, Mich., in the Civil War. It caused horrible ulcers that no treatment helped for 20 years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Cures cuts, bruises, burns, boils, felons, corns, skin eruptions. Best pile cure on earth. 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists.

With a Difference.

Prospective Client—You give legal advice here, don't you?

Old Lawyer—No, we sell it.—Collier's Weekly.

Working Night and Day.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar coated globule of health that changes weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co.

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Shake into your shoes Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It cools the feet and makes tight or new shoes feel easy. Cures corns, bunions, swollen, smarting, hot, callous, sore and sweating feet. Allen's Foot Ease relieves all pain and gives rest and comfort. We have over 30,000 testimonials. It cures while you walk. Try it today. All druggists and shoe stores sell it, 25c. Sample sent free. Address Allen M. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

BUCHANAN, MICH., May 22

Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—My mamma has been a great coffee drinker and has found it very injurious. Having used several packages of your Grain-O, the drink that takes the place of coffee, she finds it much better for herself and for us children to drink. She has given up coffee drinking entirely. We use a package of Grain O every week. I am ten years old.

Yours respectfully,

FANNIE WILLIAMS

To the Deaf.

A rich lady, cured of her deafness in the head by Dr. Nicholson's Artificial Ear drums, gave $10,000 to his institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the ear drums may have them free. Address No. 5095C, The Nicholson Institute, 780 Eighth avenue, New York, U. S. A. jl27

Jell-O, the New Dessert,

pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m; S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 46, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 00 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

G. A. Martin, M.D.,

. . AND . . .

C. B. Hussey, M. D.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A. J. Gallison, M.D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9.
Afternoon, 2 to 3.30.
Evening, 7 to 8.

92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.

Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.

Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.

Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.

Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
COURT OF LAND REGISTRATION

SUFFOLK, ss.

To Adelbert F. Perry, Terrance Cassidy, Frank Cassidy and Daniel Donneen of Millis, in the county of Norfolk, Frances Collins of Needham, in said county of Norfolk, Fred H. Williams of Brookline, in said county of Norfolk, William F. Collins of Boston, in said county of Suffolk, Florence E. Clark of New York city, in the state of New York, and Margaret D. Richardson of Elmhurst, in said state of New York, and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court by Charles L. Richardson of said Boston, Clarissa R. Leland of Sherborn, in the county of Middlesex, Jeremiah D. Richardson, Charlotte L. Hamilton, Edward F. Richardson and Josie E. Richardson of said New York city to register and confirm their title in the following described land: A certain parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, situate in said Millis, and bounded southeasterly by Orchard street 124.2 feet, northeasterly by land of Daniel Dinnen 227 feet; northwesterly by said land of Dinnen 928 feet, westerly by land of heirs of M. Collins and parcel hereinafter described 225 feet; southerly by land of Fred H. Williams on two lines measuring together 447 feet; northwesterly again by said Williams land 239 feet, and southwesterly by said land of Williams 94 feet.

Also another parcel of land situate in said Millis, and bounded southeasterly by Orchard street 317 feet; northerly by land of Fred H. Williams 263 feet; easterly by said land of Williams 662 feet, northerly again by land of heirs of M. Collins 550 feet; westerly, southwesterly and southerly by Bogastow Brook about 1200 feet, easterly by land of heirs of M Collins 100 feet, southerly by the same 45 feet, westerly by the same 100 feet, and southwesterly by the same 25 feet

Said lots are shown on a plan filed with said petition

You are hereby cited to appear at the Court of Land Registration, to be held at Boston, in said county of Suffolk, on the FOURTH day of SEPTEMBER, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon

Witness, Leonard A. Jones, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixth day of August, in the year nineteen hundred

Attest with the Seal of said Court [SEAL.]

CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

au10,17 24

BABY
FOOD
MILK

There's a Sucker Born Every Minute,

so give the babies a chance for life by using our improved nursing bottles and our strengthening and nourishing baby foods. Life for the little ones during the heated term means bottles that can be kept thoroughly clean and food that will make pure blood, bone and muscle, and our foods will do it.

We recommend Mellin's Food.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy
DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Perry, Miss Bessie Perry, Miss Florence Perry and Miss Mary Farrington went to Plymouth, Mass., Tuesday on an outing.——Miss Lilla Simmons of Worcester is visiting Miss Hannah Hurley.——Harry B. Lewis returned Tuesday from a two weeks' vacation with his brother in Waltham.——Tuesday night the bazaar of the Congregational society was opened. The hall was handsomely decorated. On the left was the refreshment booth, trimmed with white and festooned with garlands of dog briar. Over the centre were suspended two large bunches of hothouse grapes. Next were the lemonade stand and cotton tree. The fancy articles were displayed under a beautifully decorated booth of green and white. The Japanese pagoda, with its neat attractive shades and decoration, was in charge of young ladies in costume, who served tea. The art table, with its numerous views of the village, was decorated in red and green. The useful articles were displayed in a booth decorated with yellow and yellow chrysanthemums. The children's table was in red, white and blue. The wigwam was under the care of an attendant in Indian costume. The candy table, in the centre, was draped in pink and yellow, with a large Maypole in the middle, with sheaves of yellow and pink. The supper was excellent, consisting of salads, ices, cakes and other varieties of food. The entertainment consisted of songs by Louis Coggshall, the boy soprano, and by Miss Studley, who read and sang several selections.——Rev. Vincent E. Tomlinson of Worcester will preach at West Wrentham Universalist church next Sunday, August 12, at 4 o'clock p. m.

Remember this. No other medicine has such a record of cures as Hood's Sarsaparilla. When you want a good medicine get Hood's.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

Evil Communications.

Alice—I do wish Edgar wouldn't associate with doctors.

Mamma—Why, daughter?

"Oh, some doctor he knows has told him where his appendix is, and now he thinks he's got a pain in it."—Life.

Hood's Pills

Do not gripe nor irritate the alimentary canal. They act gently yet promptly, cleanse effectually and

Give Comfort

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.

Church Services.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 4. Sunday school at 3. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. Aquila Webb of Everett. Sunday school at 12. Y.P.S.C.E. at 6 30. No evening service.

Methodist church — Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. S. Halfyard on "The Plant of Renown." No evening service. Sunday school at 12. Epworth league at 6.30.

Baptist church, Rev. Frank B. Sleeper, pastor. Preaching at 10.30. Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6 15.

Plant Line Travel Immense.

The last departures from Boston of the three Plant Line steamers La Grande Dutchesse, Halifax and Florida, have been the heaviest of the season and simply illustrate the popularity of a sea trip especially with something worthy of interest at the other end of it. All enjoy the quaintness of Halifax as well as its hospitality, and those who go byond are simply charmed with the scenery. A trip through the Straits of Canso, with its river like course for nearly 60 miles, is alone worth the trip to say nothing of the side trip through the Brasd'Or Lakes or a short sojourn on Prince Edward Island where the latch string is always out. Many are taking these trips in economical way by avoiding stateroom charges and taking berths in the cabin which every ticket includes. They get the same privileges on board as do stateroom passengers and an equal chance to enjoy that beautiful expanse of blue water as well as that heath giving ozone so well known to lovers of the sea. Send to the Plant Line offices, 290 Washington street, or 20 Alantic avenue, Boston, for illustrated advertising telling all about it.

Sartorial Evolution.

Miss Greenery Yallery (of Boston)—We have our clothes made on scientific principles.

Miss Highnose (of New York)—Ah, yes; the survival of the worst fit!—Life.

A Possible Excuse.

He—A girl should not encourage a man to propose if she does not mean to accept him.

She—Well, it might be the quickest way to get rid of his attentions.—Puck.

Fashion.

If you're getting a new spring gown,
The fashionable gown to get
Is the gown which everyone's going to wear
But no one is wearing yet.
—Detroit Journal.

THE ROSE = FOR LOVE.
SUNRISE = = FOR BEAUTY.
"COOK CO." = FOR BARGAINS.

GO=CARTS, $8.00 == Nice.

Never heard a baby complain yet. Babies are all right in one of "Cook's Rolling Stock. Assortment is complete.

Same Good Old Terms--A Little Down, Then $1.00 or 50c. Weekly.

Everybody waits for their car in our store—so nice and cool. Try it.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,
67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free delivery at your home the hour you name

Summer Days are Here...

Perhaps you need LINEN, DUCK or WHITE P. K SKIRTS?
LINEN SKIRTS 49c. each.
LINEN SKIRTS, worth $1.25, now 98c
LINEN SKIRTS, worth $1.75, now $1.25.
BLUE and WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, were $2.25, now $1.49.
WHITE DUCK SKIRTS, were $1.25, now 87c
WHITE DUCK SKIRTS, with insertion, were $2.25, now $1.69.
WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, with insertion, were $3 25, now $2 50.
WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, with [illegible], were $3.75, now $2.98.

Marston Sanborn,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.
BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

Hoag Lake PARK.

WEEK OF AUG. 6.
Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.30.

High=Class Vaudeville

The musical comedians, Weston and Greves, in their absurdity, "Jilted."

The charming vocalist, Miss Frances Woods.

"The Novelty Duo," Edgar Foreman and Julia West, in their production entitled "After the Ball."

The kings of comedy, Conway and Staats, in their "Laughing Casey."

UNDER DIRECTION OF MORRIS BOOM.
je26-toc1

At WOODWARD'S every description of INSURANCE can be placed. This AGENCY officially represents the LEADING American and Foreign COMPANIES.

F A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass
my4-1yF

THE CANNING SEASON

Is at hand. You can find Glass Jars, Rubbers, Preserving Kettles, Porcelain-Lined Kettles, Fruit Tunnels, Stew Pans, great and small. Also a fine lot of Water Sets.

CALL AND EXAMINE

W. E. Crowninshield
2 METCALF BLOCK.
my4-4mS

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

SUPERIOR COURT.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court, to be holden at Dedham within and for the County of Norfolk

Respectfully libels and represents Susanna Smith of Sharon, in said county, that she was lawfully married to James B. Smith, now of parts unknown, at said Sharon on the ninth day of April, A. D. 1875, and thereafterwards your libellant and the said James B. Smith lived together as husband and wife in this commonwealth, to wit., at Brockton in our county of Plymouth and at Easton in our county of Bristol, that your libellant has always been faithful to her marriage vows and obligations, but the said James B. Smith being wholly regardless of the same at said Easton on Monday, the eleventh day of February, A. D. 1884, utterly deserted your libellant and has continued such desertion from that time to the date hereof, being more than three consecutive years prior to the filing of this libel.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your libellant and the said James B. Smith, and for such other orders and decrees as to your honors shall seem meet and as justice may require.

Dated the thirty first day of July, A. D. 1900.

SUSANNA SMITH.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

SUPERIOR COURT.

On the foregoing libel it is ordered that the libellant give notice to the said James B. Smith, the libellee, to appear before the justices of this court, to be holden at Dedham, within and for said county, on the first Monday of September next, by causing an attested copy of said libel, and of this order thereon, to be published once in a week for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper printed at Franklin in the county of Norfolk, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before the said first Monday of September next, and further, by sending [illegible] mail, as soon as may be, by a registered letter addressed to the last known [illegible] the said James B. Smith, an attested [illegible] of this order thereon, that the said James B. Smith may then and there show cause, if any he has, why the prayer of said libel should not be granted.

By the Court,

LOUIS A. COOK, Clerk.

August 1, A. D. 1900.

A true copy [illegible]

Attest: R. B. WORTHINGTON, Assistant Clerk.

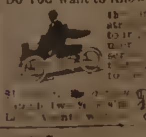
3t, 17

NOTICE.

Estate of Sarah P. M. Wiley, late of Medway, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, represented insolvent. The subscribers having been appointed by the Probate Court for said county commissioners to receive and examine the claims of creditors against the estate of said Sarah P. M. Wiley, hereby give notice that six months from the twenty-seventh day of June, A. D. 1900, are allowed to creditors to present and prove their claims against said estate, and that they will meet to examine the claims of creditors at the store of A. Maeder, Central street, Holliston, on the thirty first day of August next, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

DANIEL W. [illegible]
ALONSE MAEDER
Commissioners.

Holliston, [illegible]



Do You Want to Know about Automobiles [illegible]

The Automobile

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tell the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

Witch Hazel Jelly...

An improved form of Witch Hazel, far more effective and convenient than the ordinary Witch Hazel. It is a quick and efficient remedy in all cases of burns, bruises and all irritations of the skin, such as hives, nettle rash, mosquito bites, etc.

15 CTS. BOTTLE.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist
PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

MARKED DOWN TO CLOSE OUT:

White Shirt Waists, 75c.
Colored Waists, 35c.

Butterick Patterns and Publications.

N. C. NYE.

FALES, the Grocer
NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.
no17-S

Coal! Coal!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

JAMES F. RAY,
The Coal Dealer,
DEPOT STREET.
jly10-S

FOR SALE.

Two Grocery Wagons, one Grocery Pung, Harnesses, all Fixtures suitable for grocery business. Also, stock of Groceries. Will be sold in whole or part.

Apply to J. B. McKINNON.

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.
jly1-tf

You May Not Live Another Month

The man who neglects the money it costs to insure his life to a reasonable amount is not only selfish, but he fails to recognize one of the first duties he owes his family.

ARE YOU THE MAN?

W. S. JOHNSON, Special Agent
The Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York.
my31-tf

Something New...

Have you stopped to think of the pleasure something new always brings with it? A dress, a ring, a piece of furniture—no matter what it may be, inspiration and bright spirits follow along in its wake Especially if it's Furniture. Every time you sit in the soft chair or stretch out on the soft couch it makes you happy. This is a happiness which every one can afford while we have the stock we have and charge the prices we do.

Our Terms:

$10 worth, $1 down, 50c. a week.
$25 worth, $2.50 down, 75c. a week.
$50 worth, $5 down, $1 a week.
$75 worth, $7.50 down, $1.25 a week.
$100 worth, $10 down, $1.50 a week.
$125 worth, $15 down, $2 a week.
$150 worth, $25 down, $2.25 a week.
$200 worth, $40 down, $2 50 a week.
$250 worth, $50 down, $3 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,
WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Special engagement for the season, S. M. Stephens' PUNCH and JUDY SHOW to entertain the children.

Dancing every afternoon and Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON,
Concert by Norwood Band.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, BicycleTrack, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof. Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.

Circulars free on application.

Mortgagee's Sale,

—OF—

REAL ESTATE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Lawrence McGinnis of Medway, in the county of Norfolk and commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the Roxbury Brewing Company, a corporation duly established under the laws of said commonwealth, dated September fifteenth, 1898, and recorded with Norfolk deeds, libro 824, page 272, which mortgage has been duly assigned by mesne assignments to Stephen Jennings, the subscriber, for breach of the condition contained in said mortgage deed and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, upon the premises hereinafter described, on Tuesday, the twenty-eighth day of August, 1900, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed in and by said mortgage deed, namely: A certain tract of land, with the buildings thereon standing, known as the [illegible] estate, situated on the north side of Village street, in said Medway, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the southwest corner thereof, at the junction of Broad with Village street, and thence running easterly on Village street eighty-eight feet to land now or formerly of Minerva Hathon, deceased, thence running northerly on land of said Hathon one hundred and [illegible] feet to a corner, thence running easterly on land of said Hathon forty-six feet to a corner, thence running northerly and westerly sixty three feet on land now or formerly of Mrs. Woodward to a corner, thence running northerly on land of said Woodward to a corner of land now or formerly owned by E. A. Noyes, twenty one feet distant from barn on said premises, thence westerly on a straight line parallel with said barn to a point in line with the front of said barn and twenty one feet distant therefrom, thence continuing southwesterly on a straight line to a point in a line with the rear of the store block thirty five feet distant therefrom in a [illegible] direction, thence in a line westerly parallel with said block to Broad street, thence southerly on said Broad street to the point of departure, with right of way fifteen feet wide across the [illegible] side of the land conveyed to E. B. Stowe, May [illegible] 1886, from land of Mrs. Woodward to a point in line with the rear of the store block and [illegible] therefrom thirty [illegible] feet, [illegible] block dated March 1, 1886, and [illegible] in the well mentioned [illegible] from the [illegible] Savings Bank recorded with Norfolk deeds [illegible] 619, page 12. Excepting from the above described premises [illegible] lease from [illegible] mortgage deed [illegible] June 21, 1899, and recorded with Norfolk deeds, libro 816, page [illegible]

Said premises will be sold subject to any unpaid taxes thereon, and to a [illegible] mortgage for $[illegible] given by Lawrence McGinnis to the Milford Co-operative Bank, dated September 17, 1896, and recorded with Norfolk deeds, libro 744, page [illegible]

Terms of sale: Three hundred dollars to be paid at time and place of sale, and the balance in ten days on delivery of the deed.

STEPHEN JENNINGS,
Assignee of said Mortgage.

C. G. & C. D. KEYES, Attorneys,
[illegible] State street, Boston.

Boston, August 9, 1900.

3t17

[illegible] M Fisher. 1. Jan.

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 65. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, AUGUST 14, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Hoag Lake Park	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	8.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 00 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

A new express is shortly to be put on between here and Medway.

Mrs. Thomas Coutu gave birth on Sunday to her twenty-second child.

Rev. Mr. Sleeper has promised us a letter from Nova Scotia for our next issue.

Alphonso Briggs and daughter, Miss Annie Briggs, have been with friends in town.

Miss Mary Buckley of Unionville is spending her vacation at Old Orchard, Maine.

George Cochrane and family of Peck street are spending the summer months in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. James Keely of Union street left Saturday for a week's visit at Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Rathbun and two children will spent a few days in Woodstock, Vt.

L. P. Faxon left Monday morning for a week's vacation with friends in Manchester, N H.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Winchenbach are entertaining Miss Louise Walcott of Macon, Ga.

Mrs. Dennis Sullivan of Church street is visiting her daughter, Mrs. T. F. Milan of Milford.

Mr. and Mrs. Marston Sanborn returned on Saturday from their outing at St. Johns, N. B.

Misses Ellen and Louise Fiorani of Cottage street are visiting their sister in Reading, Mass.

Work was resumed at the Colonial rubber works yesterday after a shut down of a few weeks.

Miss Mary Fiorania of Cottage street has returned after a month's visit with relatives in Milford.

Miss Delia Morrissey of Emmons street is spending a vacation with friends at Revere beach, Boston.

Dr. M. E. Pond started on his annual vacation Monday. His office will be closed during his absence.

Prof. O. C. Skeele officiated as basso in the Congregational choir last Sabbath in the absence of Dr. E C. Abbott.

W. C. Sherman returned from his western trip on Sunday. He reports extremely hot weather in Chicago.

A number of the old Carter players, Supple and Dinninger, have been secured for the strong Woonsocket Gym team.

Flowers for the Alden club mission may be left with Mrs E. K. Ray in Unionville and with Mrs. James F. Ray here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A Geb, William B. Milliken and Miss M S Field are spending a week at Bates' grove, Webster lake.

Chester Corbin and Miss Jessie Corbin have returned home after spending a week's vacation with relatives in Hyde Park.

Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, D. D., is enjoying the Northfield meetings this week, and will be joined by others from here later.

Mrs. J. H. Everett has gone to Nova Scotia for an extended tour through the provinces, and will be absent a couple of months.

The students who have been attending the summer school at Hyannis returned last week and report a most profitable session.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Perry and two children of Waukegan, Ill., have been guests of her sister, Mrs. C. B. Johnson.

The Hoag club held a clambake at Hoag lake last Sunday, the menu attracting quite a goodly number of lovers of the bivalve.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Fisher left this morning for an outing. Mrs. Fisher will accompany Mr. F. on one of his business trips from town.

Manager Enegren has secured the American band orchestra for dancing at Lake Pearl this evening, Thursday and Saturday evenings.

Word has been received from Rev. S. A. Cook and Charles H. Prince, who are doing the Paris exposition, that they will sail for home August 21.

The Epworth league of the M. E church will hold a basket picnic at Lake Pearl Wednesday evening, August 15, if pleasant. Lunch served at 7 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Searle of New London, Conn., have returned home after spending the past few weeks with Mrs. Charles Corbin of Central street.

Labor Day is fast approaching, and something should be done in the way of getting pleasure, profit or fun out of the day. Who will make a suggestion?

The motormen and conductors of the M., A. & W. street railway company are planning a clambake in connection with the Woonsocket men in the near future.

Frank Wells has been confined to his home on Central street with throat trouble, having recently had an operation performed, which relieved the difficulty.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lesure, Mrs. K. R. Jewett and two children, Miss Emma Clegg and Mr. and Mrs. Dill of Boston left yesterday for a two weeks' outing at Squam Creek, Me.

Miss Annie Irene Croston of Auburn, Me., who has been a guest of the Misses Lizzie and Nellie Croston of Chestnut street during the past two weeks, returned home Friday.

The union picnic of the Pilgrim Fathers of this town with lodges of other towns was held at Lake Pearl last Saturday, all enjoying a good time. Grand lodge officers were present.

G. I. Partridge returned on Saturday from a two weeks' visit with relatives in several states, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Connecticut being among the number. He reports a most pleasant trip.

Capt. A. F. Pendleton has taken the contract to transport children from the Northwest district to the town schools for the ensuing year, and has fitted himself up with the necessary horses and barges to do the work.

A number from here are looking forward to the celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the Congregational church in West Medway on Wednesday, October 3, as it can hardly fail to be a notable affair.

C. F. Nye was the first golf player in the Franklin club to beat Col. Bogey, that famous gentlemen's best record being 42, while Mr. Nye covered the course in 41 last Friday. The colonel will now have to look to his laurels.

Attorney R. G. Fairbanks of West Medway is prominently mentioned as a candidate for warden in the grand lodge of Odd Fellows. Mr. Fairbanks would represent this section creditably and would make an efficient official. His friends hope he will get it.

A trolley party from Medfield came here Friday evening in a brilliantly illuminated open vestibuled car over the Medfield and Medway electric line. There were thirty-five ladies and gentlemen in the party and they spent half an hour here viewing the town.

The Bassett Bros.' straw goods factory is busy on felts and a good fall season is expected, except such depression as is more or less evident in a presidential year. Other factories engaged in the same line of business are reported having a good demand for goods.

Tickets good from August 27 to 31 are now on sale at the station here for the races at Narragansett park, the price for the round trip and admission into the grand stand being but $1.45. The tickets for Readville are also for sale; round trip, good from August 21 to 27, $1.55.

Workmen are engaged in renovating and redecorating Masonic hall. Electric lights may be put in in place of gas, and with the new carpet to be put down the Masonic bodies expect to have a beautiful as well as comfortable headquarters at the opening of regular meetings next month

Rev. Aquilla Webb occupied the Congregational pulpit last Sabbath in the absence of Rev. Dr. Sneath and preached a forceful and interesting sermon. He is a young man and spoke without notes, holding the closest attention of his auditors to the end. Rev. N. T. Dyer of Ashburnham will preach next Sabbath.

Our Boys defeated the North Bellingham nine, 14 to 9, on the latter's ground, W. Fiske, who was in the box for Our Boys, struck out fourteen men. The batteries were Fiske and Boucher for Our Boys and Highlands and Nugent for North Bellingham. This was the seventh straight victory for the Franklin team.

The chairman of the assessors recently received a letter directed to the assessors of the county of Franklin, and which was intended for the town appraisers of values. While the gentleman is a modest man, without question he must feel a little thrill of pride at the enlarged appreciation of his office implied in the address.

Mrs. Almon Sanborn is visiting her brother in Portand, Me. Last Sunday Mr. Sanborn's daughter, Mrs. Cora Parker and her husband, from Walpole with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gates, enjoyed a clambake prepared by Mr. Sanborn at his home, which was reported to have been served in the caterer's most approved style.

Uncle Silas tells of a good ride the other morning. The car had started from Unionville for Franklin, when there was a pop and something was gone. The car returned to Unionville for a new car, and then, said he, we lined it for the centre without a break, except at Beaver street, faster than I ever took the trip with the old mare.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Haslam and J. D. Sanborn spent the Sabbath at East Blackstone, where they were the guests of Rev. Frank Byron Adams, the Methodist pastor in that place. It is not impossible that the reverend gentleman may be heard here later, and he has a number of interesting lectures which he may deliver here.

The M., A. & W. street railway has forfeited its franchise in Milford, according to Solicitor Taft's opinion, since he claims that the company did not begin the construction of its railway prior to July 1, as required by the selectmen, although rails, etc., were strung along the highways. It is not impossible that the company will refuse to accept the decision and appeal to the courts, although already they have asked for a new franchise.

Rev. J. P. Chadbourne will leave Medway in a few days for Concord, N. H., where it is his purpose to remain until January 1 and then to go west. He has accepted a desirable position with the Scribner publishing country and will introduce one of its new works among the clergymen in that section and at the same time try to regain his health. Mr. Chadbourne's friends here and elsewhere unite in wishing him an early return of his oldtime strength and energy.

The delay in opening the direct street railway line from Bellingham Four Corners to Milford is because of the unfinished state of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad bridge at Bellingham. The bridge has been in an unfinished condition for over two weeks, and the non-arrival of girders ordered by the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad folks is the cause for the delay. The rails of the street railway have all been laid, wires strung and all necessary details complied with for the opening of the road.

A Franklin business man who saw Mark Hanna at the Touraine in Boston last week reports him as being a vastly different man from what the caricaturists have pictured him, but is a clean, bright, thoroughly equipped man of affairs, looking not unlike a prosperous banker. He has a keen eye, which gives one the impression that he has no time for nonsense, but it is said he can take and give a joke with the best of them. His trip to Boston was to meet representative Republicans of Massachusetts and make arrangements for securing funds for the campaign. He says the funds will be needed this year, and there is little doubt but that Mark knows how to get them.

Louis Malatesta, who keeps a fruit stand at Fisher's confectionery store in Metcalf block, and who sells fruit on the road, was robbed of $230 in cash and a gold watch valued at $45 on Saturday night, the money and timepiece being taken from his clothes in the room where he boards in the Whiting house on Central street. A fellow boarder named Antonio Simonelli and a companion are suspected of having committed the theft and Malatesta swore out warrants for their arrest. Simonelli was found at the boarding house yesterday morning by Special Officer Connor and locked up to await a hearing today, when he was discharged by Judge Doe in the district court, there being insufficient evidence to warrant his being held. The other man wanted has disappeared and the police are searching for him.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to rob the grocery store of McCabe & Cody on Union street late Saturday night or early Sunday morning. The would-be intruders removed a window in the cellar with the intention of gaining an entrance to the store above by the cellar stairs, but their way was blocked by empty barrels and boxes which are stored in the basement. They were thus obliged to give up their attempt to reach the store in this way and next turned their attention to the window in the rear of the store, which they reached by piling boxes underneath. They did not succeed in getting the window open, however, and evidently retired in disgust. This store was burglarized about a month ago, when several dollars in cash and a quantity of tobacco and cigars were carried off.

A number of national banks throughout the country are furnishing their patrons with personal receipts, by which the depositor is enabled to withdraw his money upon the receipt in the same manner as with a check, without being obliged to put on the revenue stamp. This is only permitted where the receipt is made out in the drawer's name and the money taken from the bank by him. This has been decided to be a perfectly legal procedure, and is generally taken advantage of in places where the custom has become known. The government insists that checks shall be stamped, but makes no provision for ordinary receipts, upon the supposition that the passage of money between parties, not in payment of debts, were not subject to revenue, a simple receipt being all that is necessary, as between private parties.

An extremely sad case is that of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Palmer, who lost their young son Walter, aged seven, by spinal meningitis yesterday. With other lads he had been exercising vigorously on Saturday forenoon at ball, and in the afternoon went in bathing, remaining in much too long. A quantity of unripe apples also aggravated the case, and he was taken quite sick that night. A doctor was called on yesterday morning, but it was too late, as that dread disease had secured too firm a hold to be shaken off and medical skill could not save him. A lad who had been with him during Saturday was also taken ill during that night, but timely remedies were applied and he recovered. The funeral of the lad will be held from the house tomorrow at 2 o'clock. The blow is a severe one to his parents and young mates. He will be buried in Sheldonville.

At the annual water sports given Aug. 9 on Asquam lake, N. H., by members of Camp Algonquin the first junior prize for swimming, a silver-mounted fishing rod and reel, was secured by Master Robert Thayer, who also scored a high per centage in fancy diving and canoeing. The shores were crowded with spectators from the hotels and cottages that abound in that region. A subscription party given in the evening at the boys' clubhouse proved a fitting close to the most successful field day the camp has ever held. Through the generosity of R. G. Brown, Esq., of New York, the boys will enjoy a three days' trip this week, including Mt. Washington. Many courtesies have also been shown the camp by John G. Nicolay, Esq., former secretary to President Lincoln; Admiral Bunce, U. S. N., stationed at Brooklyn, N. Y., and Miss Anna Longfellow, niece of the poet, all being cottage owners in this God-given paradise.

The Franklin grange accepted an invitation from N. B. Stone, superintendent of the Medway town farm, to spend the afternoon and evening of Thursday at his place. About thirty went over, some by way of the electrics and some driving. The guests were taken over the new almshouse, and all thought it very pleasant. The house is finished in natural wood throughout. All the arrangements are modern, thus making the work as easy as possible. One side of the house is devoted to the men, the other side to the women, and the centre is reserved to the superintendent and family. There are about forty-two rooms in the house and sixteen inmates. The party then went out to a little grove back of the house, and about 6 o'clock the baskets were brought forth and supper served. A social time was spent until 9 o'clock, when the barge arrived at the door to take the party to the village to take the 9.40 car for Franklin. All had a very pleasant time.

How About the Girl?

She has an equal chance with the boy in either the commercial or shorthand department of the Providence Bryant & Stratton Business College. Business men demand our graduates. School year opens Sept. 10.

Office Closed.

My patrons are requested to note that my dental office will be closed until further notice during my vacation.

DR. M. E. POND.

Cut flowers, all kinds of funeral designs well made up at Slade's greenhouse. Roses in small or large quantities.

Eat fish as well as meat. Shad, swordfish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fish-man.

Just received in Franklin—a genuine thirst quencher, Dewing's Persian Punch. Sold only by WALTER FIORANI.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse.

1850—Franklin—1900.

The writer, at present feeling in a sort of reminiscent mood, looking backward fifty years, finds it difficult to realize that so many years have passed away in seemingly so short a time. As his memory carries him back to those good "old times" it seems but as yesterday, and thinking that a descriptive history of the past fifty years, with its many changes in this town, may not be altogether uninteresting to many of the SENTINEL readers, he herewith, in rather a crude manner, proceeds to jot down the many changes that have occurred during the last half century.

In 1850 the town contained about 1,800 people. Now (after a portion of the town has been set off) the town contains about 5,500, or fully three times as many as fifty years ago. At that time (1850) within one mile of the railroad bridge in all directions there were, perhaps, in dwelling houses, stores, etc., about one hundred, or possibly one hundred and twenty buildings. Now there are at least eight hundred or more. Nearly all of the seven hundred new buildings were erected between the years 1872 and 1888. To note more particularly the changes that have occurred we will start at the corner of Union and Beaver streets and proceed down Union on the west side, naming the owners of the houses as we proceed.

First at the corner of Beaver and Union streets stands the old academy building, the lower floor being occupied as a dry goods and grocery store, owned and operated by the late D. R. Baker, a native (I think) and old resident of the town. The upper room was used as an academy, and the writer attended school there previous to 1850. The teacher at that time was William Peck, who later became a prominent lawyer in Providence, R. I., but who long ago joined the "silent majority," or, as the late Jim Fiske, of Erie railroad fame, expressed it, he has gone "where the woodbine twineth." Next to the academy is the house owned and occupied by Amos H. Morse. He sold the place and removed from town many years ago. The next residence was that of S. P. Adams, who died many years ago. The house was purchased several years ago by the late A. Hartwell Morse, who in the early 50's was a partner of Mr. Adams in the straw goods business, remaining with him until the death of Mr. A. in 1859. Their factory stood just beyond the east end of the new opera house block. Leaving Mr. Adams' house, the next is the "old Pratt place," so called. Then we arrive at the house and "block shop" of the late Lowell B. Cleaveland, where for nearly twenty years he made all the plaster bonnet blocks used by the six straw shops then in operation. Next in order is the Col. Cleaveland "old place," purchased about that time or a little later by the late Caleb T. Nye and occupied by him and his family up to the time of his death, some eight years ago. Next is the cottage built about 1850 by Nathaniel Thayer, one of the oldtimers. The cottage is now owned and occupied by Mr. Fitzgerald. Next in order is the cottage now owned by Mr. Thomas B. Allen, but built previous to 1850 by Mr. Luther Dean, who for several years practiced the custom tailoring business. Leaving his place we see no other house on that side of the street until we arrive at the George W. Nason homestead, located only a few feet north of the railroad. Crossing over to return on the east side of the street, the only two buildings near the railroad are the passenger and freight depots. At that time all trains stopped there, and it was called Nason's station. As we proceed north the first building we encounter is a dry goods and grocery store owned and operated by C. W. Stewart, who was for many years and is still the treasurer of the Benjamin Franklin savings bank. Mr. Lyman Cheney, who is now in town, was clerk in Mr. Stewart's store for several years between 1850 and 1860. Mr. Stewart's house comes next and is in close proximity to his store. We are now at Thayer's corner, where stands the "old boarding house," which some twenty years ago was remodeled and has since been designated as a hotel and named the Franklin house. Previous to 1850 and up to about 1878 the front part on Union street was occupied by the late C. T. Nye, who kept a general store of dry goods, groceries, hooks and eyes, etc., for more than thirty years. As we proceed north the next residence is that of Eli M. Richardson, built about 1850. Then comes the estate of Miss Emily Pond, a maiden lady of mature years, that being the last on the east side of Union street, and making in all sixteen buildings on Union street between Beaver street and the railroad crossing, while now there are forty-four buildings.

Mr. Thayer's new straw factory, as it was then called, was erected in the summer and autumn of 1864, being opened for business in January, 1865.

Starting on Main street at the H. C. Fisher old place and taking in all the buildings on both sides of the street between there and the railroad bridge, we find, including dwellings, stores, etc., there were twenty-one in all. Now there are fifty and upwards. We have neither time nor space to refer to each one separately. At that time (1850) there was one church in town, Congregational, while now there are five, namely, Congregational, Universalist, Baptist, Catholic and Methodist, and a society or guild of Episcopalians.

Crossing the railroad bridge and going east on Central street as far as the "four corners," so called, we find in 1850 but seven or eight buildings on both sides of the street, while now, including all kinds

Continued on Second Page.

The Country Club Entertains.

The North Attleboro Country club came to Franklin last Saturday for a game of golf as guests of the Franklin club, in a return game for the one of two weeks ago, when the Franklin players went to North Attleboro and beat their hosts by 25 holes up. Last Saturday they emphasized their superiority by beating the North Attleboro friends a still greater score, 57 holes up, their opponents not securing a hole. This score indicates remarkably fine work by the Franklin players, while it is no disparagement to their guests, who would have very much liked to have returned home the winners, making the honors even. Arnold made the phenomenal record of 37, which beats Col. Bogey by five points, the best score ever made on the links.

After the game a most tempting collation was served and there was a pleasing intercourse of social courtesies. The visiting friends fully appreciated the hospitality which was extended toward them, their only regret being the loss of the game. Among the guests from Attleboro were Mr. and Mrs. Foster Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Hixon, Miss Alice Blackington, Mr. G. Herbert French, Eugene Fisher, Miss Codding, Mrs. Fisher; Miss Carpenter, Miss Proctor, Miss Bennett, Miss Williams, Miss Everett, Miss Allen, of Wrentham; Miss Fisher, Mr. Blakeley Smith, of Providence; Miss Gertrude Whiting, Worcester; Charles and Fred Allen, Walpole.

FRANKLIN	Up.	NO. ATTLEBORO.	Up.
Rathbun	10	French	0
Arnold	12	Clark	0
Nye	10	[illegible]	0
Ray	6	Riley	0
Chapman	1	H. Fisher	0
B[illegible]ett	6	Blackington	0
C. Gilmore	5	Whitmarch	0
Allen	1	Howard	0
Woodward	2	C. Fisher	0
G. Gilmore	4	F[illegible]nklin	0
	57		0

Boom's Black Diamonds This Week.

The show booked for Hoag Lake this week has been received favorably wherever given. Boom's Black Diamonds will hold the boards and the company is said to be the strongest colored combination on the road. The talent comprises Erastus Banks, in "A Coontown Picnic;" Harry Brown, monologist and cartoonist; the Black Diamond quartette; Pinky Gross, prima donna; Wells sisters, singers and dancers; the Larkins, rulers of Coonville. The roaring afterpiece, "Telephone Coon," closes the performance. Charles A. Wheeler is accompanist.

The poor man's carriage offers many chances for recreation trips at small expense, and the limit can be according to the time at hand for the purpose, from an hour to a week. One of the pleasantest routes from here is to Attleboro and then to Mansfield, where a return can be made via Walpole to Dedham and from Dedham through Medfield and Medway. Of course this can be enlarged to almost any extent desired, or a return can be made in other ways.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Good wages for a girl to do housework. Inquire at SENTINEL office. 24 tf

100 cords trash hard and pine limbs, at Allen's wood yard, School street.

A competent girl to do housework is wanted at Dr. C. H. Randall's. 7tf

Wanted —A competent girl for general housework. Apply to Mrs. Dr. King, High street. 31

Cook wanted for two or three weeks at the seashore; wages $4. Inquire at once at the SENTINEL office.

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

Wanted.—A ton of horse hay. Will pay for same in carpenter work. F. E. Dudley, Union and Central streets. 14*

To Let.—In Franklin, the farm known as the Maxey Fisher place, King street. Nominal rent to the right party. Address E. S. G., 27 Main street, Charlestown, Mass. 14

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J.B.MCKINNON, Agent.

Spend your vacation on old ocean instead of the dry, hot country. Take the Plant Line to the Provinces and see something of a foreign land. Don't feel obliged to take a stateroom; a free berth in the cabin is better than the average farm house quarters. A fourteen hundred mile cruise inside of a week. Stop over allowed. Living in the Provinces cheaper than staying at home. Send for advertising telling all about it, to J. A. Flanders, New England agent, 290 Washington street, E H. Downing, agent, 20 Atlantic avenue, Boston.

A carload of brewery grain received every Tuesday at Metcalf's station, where any quantity can be purchased. Good for milch cows, hens or hogs. Great saving on grain. Inquire at the station.

Dental Notice.

Please note that my office will be closed during my absence for two or three weeks, or until further notice.

DR. E. C. ABBOTT.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Sweet peas at Slade's greenhouse.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor,
MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 14, 1900.

1850—Franklin—1900.

Continued from First Page.

of business, there are forty-seven to fifty. Just east of the bridge on the north side of Central street in 1868 was erected what was then considered a large straw goods factory, which was owned by the late Mr. Elisha Foster, and occupied and operated in 1867 and part of the spring season of '68 by the firm of Foster, Day & Pratt. They did a very successful business in 1867, but in '68 met with severe losses and reverses, their factory being burned to the ground in April and causing their failure. The factory was never rebuilt. Both Mr. Foster and Mr. Day long since passed over to the "great majority," while Mr. Pratt, the last the writer heard of him, was a resident of a western state.

Cottage, East and West streets have all been opened to the public since 1860, and nearly every lot on each street has a building upon it. Several other streets have since been opened and are nearly covered with buildings their entire length, namely, Alpine, Crescent, Garfield, Queen, Fales, and School and Emmons streets extensions, Peck, Wachusetts, Dale, Winter, McCarthy, Thayer, Fisher and many other streets not mentioned. Several of the old streets not yet mentioned, namely, Summer, Cross, Pleasant and Beaver, with others, have all, more or less, comparatively new buildings on them.

One of the oldest landmarks of the town and still in evidence, and which is an ornament to the town and a standing monument to the truly progressive ideas of the voting population, is the old town hall. Strangers in the town, when passing it, stop and view it with curiosity, and upon learning that it is the only town hall are struck dumb with amazement and truly remark that it is really a curiosity to see a town hall like that standing directly opposite a $35,000 high school building.

The greatest and principal growth of the town occurred between 1872 and 1887, in a space of fifteen years. In 1850 there were no mills in operation in the centre of the town. During the past twenty years and at the present time there are six mills in operation, employing about 1,000 hands, possibly more. There are also two straw goods factories, employing, when in full operation, about 500 people. In 1850 there were no stores and local business of all kinds eight or ten. Now there are between forty five and fifty.

The writer of this sketch, in the autumn of 1851, then a callow youth under 16, left this town and was absent six years, except during the summer months, when he returned to renew his acquaintance with the few boys and girls—now, I suppose, would be called young ladies and young gentlemen. But things have changed "since Hannah died," and times now are not as they were then, when we used to have more real enjoyment and pure, unadulterated fun to the square inch than can now be obtained to the square acre. There were in the village proper then only about a dozen or fifteen of both sexes between 16 and 20 years of age. But didn't we at times "make Rome howl!" Think of the old time berry rides, so called, when G. W. Nason would hitch up his four horse express wagon, take aboard about twenty people, with plenty of milk, bread, etc., and about thirty to fifty people more would follow in single teams, proceeding to the farm of Cyrus Allen (now occupied by his son, C. Milton Allen), pick several quarts of berries, then camp upon the ground, take our fill of berries, bread and milk. After a social hour or more ramping and a good time generally, a majority of those with private teams and their very best A 1 girl proceed to Wrentham, the nearest way home, there to visit Uncle Jerry Cobb, as he was called by everybody, and partake of about four glasses (to each person) of his ice cream. It was generally very good, but as he was a great snuff taker we would occasionally find a speck of yellow snuff in our cream. However, that only served to make the jokes and fun still more hilarious than usual. Leaving there about dusk we would extend our drive some six miles or more extra, arriving home in the "wee sma' hours" of the morning, with neither of us as tired as the poor horse, which had "toted" us from 15 to 20 miles since 2 p. m.

Ah, as the writer's memory reverts to those good old days, he almost wishes that he could again enjoy a repetition of those delightful hours. But alas! such happiness can never again be realized in this mundane sphere, as we are all each day drawing nearer the end of our earthly pilgrimage. Let us hope that in our expectations of future enjoyment we may not be disappointed. Possibly there may still be living three or four of my former intimates, whom, if they chance to peruse this sketch, will readily recognize the author and remember, as he does with pleasure, those happy days of long ago.

Fearing I have already wearied those who have attempted to digest this sketch, I will close it without further comment.

AN OLD TIMER.

Franklin, August 6, 1900.

A LASTING EFFECT.

This Evidence Should Prove Every Claim.

Relief from the pains and aches of a bad back is always welcome to every backache sufferer, but to cure a lame, weak or aching back is what's wanted. Cure it so it will stay cured. It can be done. Here's the strongest evidence to prove it.

Mr. H. P. Smith, blacksmith, of Elm street, Amesbury, Mass., says: "Mrs. Smith, from a cold which settled in her loins, suffered so severely from backache that she was unable to attend to the ordinary household duties, often finding it impossible to even make a bed for three months. I had read a great many statements of residents of Amesbury who positively declared that Doan's Kidney Pills had cured them of backache and other symptoms of kidney complaint. This led me to make some inquiries, and as a result Mrs. Smith took a thorough course of the treatment. It cured her. It is so long ago that I am confident the results are permanent. We never lose an opportunity of advising others who suffer from either weakened or over-excited kidneys to procure Doan's Kidney Pills, and we know of scores in and around Amesbury who have taken our advice and were not only surprised but gratified at the benefits received."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers; price 50 cents a box. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

Empresses in Contrast.

The present czarina of Russia goes to extremes in the simplicity of her court apparel, and in this respect forms a great contrast to the famous Elizabeth Petrowna, daughter of Peter the Great. The latter while empress, says the New York Herald, had earned the title of "Elizabeth the Good," because she never approved of any executions in her empire. On the other hand, she was much criticised for her extravagance and eccentricity in dress. After her death the fact became known that she had 15,000 costly gowns in her wardrobe, none of which had ever adorned her royal person. Now, when the dress of court is a more serious matter with the royal and noble women, Russia has a czarina who observes the strictest simplicity in her gowns, and requires the same from her guests and attendants. This has caused endless dissatisfaction. The ultra fashionable lady must bear the chagrin of appearing at court functions in a very plain toilet, for otherwise the scrutinizing eyes would pick her out as a mark for disapproval. This extraordinary plainness baffles her admirers all the more, because it is a well-known fact that the czar is extremely fond of chic and has often expressed his admiration for elaborate, costly ladies' toilets.

The Consul's Cats.

Gen. Sir Herbert Chermside, who is now in South Africa, was formerly a consul in Asia Minor, where he was very popular. Once, in a weak moment, he sent a couple of beautiful Angora cats as a present to a lady in Constantinople. The lady was so pleased that she asked him to send some more. Sir Herbert gave his native servant some money and told him to go and buy two or three. Then came a demand for more cats from the consul's friends, and he gave his servant more money with which to buy cats. This went on for two or three months, and the native servant waxed exceeding fat. One morning however, the general, on coming out of the consulate, was surrounded by a host of veiled women, who besought Mahomet to curse him because he had stolen all their cats. It appears that the native servant had pocketed the money for himself, and gone round with a sack and confiscated every cat in the place.—Collier's Weekly.

Not Off His Trolley.

A Scottish paper tells an anecdote in connection with the new electric system just opened in Aberdeen. Two farm servants came to Aberdeen to spend New Year's day. Arriving by train, they immediately made their way to the terminus of the electric tramway circuit, where, after looking at the new creation with much wonder, they decided upon having a ride. Getting on the top of the car, and after getting well along: "Wull," said mun Jock, this is a graun' invention. In Edinburg I saw them drive the cars wi' an iron rape aneth street, in Dundee they pu' them wi' an engine, but, mighty man, wha' wad a' thocht they could ca' them wi' a fishing rod!"—Argonaut.

Regicides' Cave.

After the execution of Charles I. and the restoration of the Stuarts to royal power Edward Whalley and William Goffe, two of the judges that condemned the unhappy monarch to the scaffold, were compelled to flee from England. They came to America, and for a time they hid in a rock cavern near New Haven, Conn. This hiding place has since been known as the "regicides' cave," and is one of the interesting spots in that locality.—Detroit Free Press.

On the Installment Plan.

The world may owe a man a living, but he has to collect it on the installment plan.—Chicago Daily News.

Simplicity.

The supreme excellence in all things is simplicity.—Chicago Daily News.

SAGE AND PHILOSOPHER.

Cruel people are ever cowards in emergency.—Swift.

Conversation is the vent of character, as well as of thought.—Emerson.

You will find poetry nowhere unless you bring some with you.—Joubert.

Forty is the age of youth—50 is the youth of old age.—Victor Hugo.

The secret of making one's self tiresome is not to know when to stop.—Voltaire.

In great straits, and when hope is small, the boldest counsels are the safest.—Livy.

We are al sure of two things, at least—we shall suffer and we shall die.—Goldsmith.

The nearer we approach great men, the clearer we see that they are men—Bruyere.

Anger ventilated often hurries toward forgiveness; anger concealed often hardens into revenge.—Bulwer-Lytton.

It is with books as with men: a very small number play a great part; the rest are confounded with the multitude.—Voltaire.

Avarice starves its possessor to fatten those who come after, and who are eagerly awaiting the demise of the accumulator.—Greville.

Ambition has one reward for all—a little power, a little transient fame, a grave to rest in, and a fading name.—William Winter

Men are much more unwilling to have their weaknesses and their imperfections known than their crimes; and if you hint to a man that you think him silly, ignorant or even ill-bred or awkward, he will hate you more and longer than if you tell him plainly that you think him a rogue.—Chesterfield.

GLAMOUR OF THE FOOTLIGHTS

Mrs. Fiske was a feature in her company in her early teens. Julia Marlowe at 14 belonged to an opera company, and Annie Russell was nine when she appeared first on the stage.

Ellen Terry says she intends her grandchild to begin training for a stage life when the age of seven is reached, so the small girl will never acquire self-consciousness or be tricked with the glamour of the footlights.

Successful actresses vary in their idea of the right age for a woman to go upon the stage. Duse says in knowledge is the secret—the aspirant should realize emotion before she seeks to portray it; yet she spoke her first stage lines when she was only four years old.

Sarah Bernhardt entered a dramatic school when she was 14, and made her debut four years later. Ada Rehan was but 14 when she entered Daly's company and she took his stern drill as a matter of course. Daly offered to make Bijou Fernandez famous if, at the age of 10, she were given over entirely to his charge. Her mother refused to part with the youngster.

In a Mexican theater women always go bareheaded, and the men wear their hats all the time the curtain is closed. During the performance they remove them. Frequently men rise in their seats and sweep the tiers of boxes with large glasses. It is considered something of an honor to have the glasses of a swell below leveled at your box. Smoking is permitted in all theaters.

THE MAN BEHIND THE GUN.

A battery of artillery consists of six guns.

Every German regiment has a chiropodist in its ranks.

No fewer than 22 members of parliament have gone to the front.

Two years ago the Boers had in their pay 15 German officers, 40 French and 40 Russians.

Fort Tuli, the headquarters of Col. Plumer's force, commands the roads to Victoria, Buluwayo, Mangwe, Mafeking and Pretoria.

It is generally supposed that more men are killed by artillery than infantry fire. This is a totally erroneous notion, as from medical reports it would appear that the rifle is responsible for nearly 90 per cent. of our killed. In the Franco-German war it was estimated that 6,969 Germans were killed by rifle bullets, and only 695 by artillery fire.

Teplitz, a small watering place in Bohemia, claims to have been the birthplace of Gen. Cronje, the Boer commander who surrendered at Paardeberg. It is stated that the general's father was a Frenchman and a cook to Charles X. On his arrival at Teplitz the ex-cook opened a hotel. He is said to have married a Czech maiden. The family name originally was Cronier, but was corrupted after the Croniers emigrated to the Transvaal.

Night Marches Slow.

On night marches troops do not usually advance at more than a mile an hour. In attack neither officer nor man is to stop to help the wounded, and no halt permitted until the enemy is driven off.

Nursing Mothers
dread hot weather. They know how it weakens and how this affects the baby. All such mothers need Scott's Emulsion. It gives them strength and makes the baby's food richer and more abundant.
50c. and $1. All druggists.

FOREIGN NOTES OF INTEREST.

One million pounds is spent every year in England upon the game of football.

At Zurich the theological faculty of the university finds that it has only eight students for ten professors this winter.

Tobacco is now raised in County Meath, Ireland. It grows luxuriantly and is said to be "twice as strong as the strongest tobacco sold."

Beer turns to art in Munich. The well-known brewer Pschorr is going to erect at his own expense a colossal equestrian statue of Emperor Ludwig, the Bavarian, on the Kaiser Ludwig-platz.

Over the main gateway to the Paris exposition at the entrance to the Champs Elysees a startling innovation in sculpture will be seen. The figure of the "City of Paris" will be represented as a woman dressed according to the latest fashion of 1900.

Paris has just received the largest legacy in the history of the city, 5,000,000 francs. It comes from a Mlle. Taaies, who directs that an orphanage and a school of architectural design be built with part of the money, the remainder to be used for such public or private works as the municipal council may deem advisable.

Russia is ferreting out corruption in the military and naval administration. Recently a half dozen Cossack officers, including a major general, were sent to Siberia for peculation, and now 43 officers and officials of the navy have been brought to trial at Sebastopol for frauds in the coal, oil and beef contracts for the Black sea fleet.

ELECTRICAL ENERGY.

It is proposed by a Michigan company to carry an electric current of 40,000 volts 90 miles.

The St. Louis hospital at Paris has a new laboratory for electro-therapeutics and radiography.

Electric cars are immensely popular in England, and the equipment companies can hardly keep up with their orders.

Balloon wireless telegraphic communication is to be attempted at Portsmouth, England, with a view to establishing communication between the sea and a land force.

The electric exhibit at the Paris exposition bids fair to be one of the most attractive parts of the show. There will be a complete retrospective exhibit of electrical and mechanical apparatus of historical character, and the special exhibit will be housed in the "Court of Honor" built of staff.

It is proposed to construct an electrically worked bridge crossing the Usk, says the English Electrical Review. The width of the river at this point is 240 yards and the time occupied by the carrier going from one bank to the other is estimated at about a minute. The bridge will cost $325,000.

A new instance of electric street railways being used for freight purposes is found in Cleveland, where stone is being hauled from a quarry eight miles distant. Fifteen thousand-pound capacity freight cars are used and the work done after the close of the passenger traffic.

ON EXHIBIT.

The Russian appropriation for national representation at the Paris exposition has been fixed at 2,228,82: rubles ($1,115,000).

At the Paris exposition an American company will have an ingenious and impressive exhibit indicative of the magnitude of the life insurance business.

It has been decided to hold a world's fair in Brussels in 1905, in commemoration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of Belgian independence.

The exposition authorities are anxious on account of the condition of the Seine, which in rising has done considerable damage to the buildings along the river bank. The infiltration of water has sunk one of the wings of the palace of electricity ten feet.

The Russians are preparing a map of France for the Paris exposition. Each "Department" is shown in colored jasper, while the sea is represented by lapis lazuli, the rivers by platinum and the towns, to the number of 106, are marked by precious stones. The map rests on a marble slab about three feet square.

"Take Heed Will Surely Speed."
Be sure to heed the first symptoms of indigestion, nervousness and impure blood, and thus avoid chronic dyspepsia, nervous prostration and all the evils produced by bad blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is your safeguard. It quickly sets the stomach right, strengthens and quiets the nerves, purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood and keeps up the health tone.

All liver ills are cured by Hood's Pills. 25c.

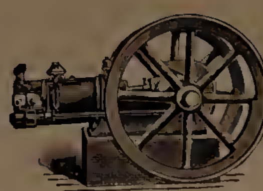
You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Albert C. Mason, druggist, will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaints and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant safe and reliable.

A lame shoulder is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles, and may be cured by a few applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

"Itching hemorrhoids were the plague of my life; was almost wild. Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently after doctors had failed." C. F. Cornwell, Valley street, Saugerties, N. Y.

Days of Comfort, Nights of Rest if you take Pyny-Pectoral for that cough.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought



OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and Gasolene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied users are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABILITY, ECONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABILITY tell the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever?
CONSULT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.
New England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.

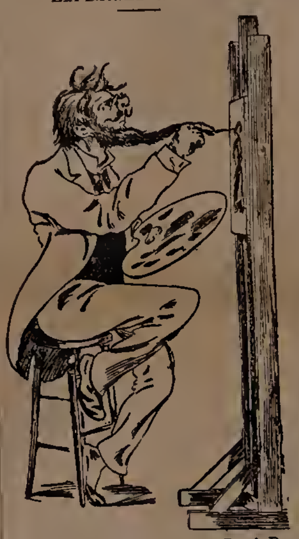
FROM THE ORIENT

CARPETS

Goods right—prices right—workmanship right—everything right.
We do by far the largest business in Boston in
Carpets and Upholstery.
What do you suppose the reason is?

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS CO.,
658 Washington Street, 658
Opp. Boylston St.,
BOSTON.

EXPLAINED AT LAST.



Everyone wondered why Prof. Danher wore such a long pointed beard, but could not imagine how he obtained such satisfactory results.—N. Y. Ledger.

Can This Be True?

A bachelor says that secrets were Introduced without a doubt
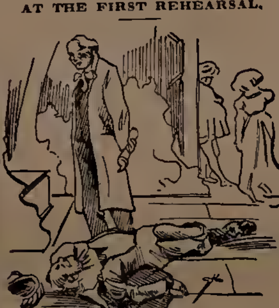
Just to give the loquacious sex
Something to talk about.
—Chicago Daily News.

AT THE FIRST REHEARSAL.



Manager—How can you smile in the death scene?

Actor—With the salaries you pay one cannot help looking upon death as a welcome release!—Fliegende Blaetter.

Of Course Not.

A woman may have a will of her own,
But, be she daughter or mother,
She never objects if her name appears
In the last will of another.
—Chicago Daily News.

Accounted For.

Aunt Jane (on a visit)—Them new neighbors o' yourn look poorer than church mice.

Mrs. Jones—Yes. That is our minister's family.—Judge.

A Higher Gift.

"A financier is a man who makes lots of money, isn't he, pa?"

"No, Freddy—a financier is a man who gets hold of lots of money other people make."—Puck.

Was a Bargain.

Tess—Isn't she a peculiar girl? She wouldn't look at him when he was rich, but now, after he's lost his money, she accepts him.

Jess—Oh, well, you know how crazy every woman is to get anything that's reduced.—Atlanta Constitution.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink
Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhold
FEVERS
Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.
References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.
This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:
One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week.......... 50
Single Gallon.............................. 05
All orders left at Dean's will receive prompt attention.
HUBERT H. GATES, P. O. Box 481.
17-tf

THE NEW YORK WORLD
THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.
18 Pages a Week...
...156 Papers a Year
FOR ONE DOLLAR.
Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.
The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.
It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

News and Opinions OF National Importance.
THE SUN ALONE CONTAINS BOTH.
Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year
The Sunday Sun
Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.
Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.
Address THE SUN, New York.

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

PATENTS
DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED
ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.
Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

AN AUSTRALIAN BUSH FIRE.

Hot!

A blistering heat that drove the fowls, with their beaks gaping, off the burning ground into the shelter of the slab hut. A scorching, withering heat that had made sapless hay of the grass in the paddocks and reddened the foliage of the gums and the stringy barks like the blaze of a bush fire. A heat that had sucked up all moisture and marbled the land with cracks of shrinkage and turned the water holes into mere mud baths, while the distant creek had nothing but its brown flag grass and dry swamp bed to show where the water had run.

About the homestead the few cattle still alive hung with their heads stolidly over the slip rails, refusing, in spite of all driving, to seek again for the sustenance it was impossible to find. The framework of a horse, his head between his legs, and as much in the shade as he could get on the lee side of an old ironbark, stood impassive and motionless. All round the horizon a dirty haze of smoke melted into a yellow veil of fog covering the sky.

Abe Saunders was down at what used to be the creek trying to draw out his last milking cow from the place where she had bogged in a vain effort to find water grass.

Abe hauled and strained at the rope, his shirt and trousers clinging to him with sweat. The beast kicked and plunged feebly, its little strength quite gone, and after two hours' work it was more firmly bogged than ever.

"It's no good," said Abe. "I must get help. I'll go up the gully for old Mason and his tackle. If we lose that cow, what will the children do for milk?"

Wearily he turned to go, when the sound of a "Coo-ee!" turned him sharply about.

"Coo-ee!" he shouted.

A little pause, and again the cry echoed:

"Coo-ee!"

"It's Mary," he said. "What the devil's up?" It was a good three miles to the ridge; but, like a wallaby with the dogs in full cry, he sped over rock and gully back to the homestead. Long before he got there he heard a strange roaring in the air, saw black, belching clouds over the tree tops and felt a fierce rushing furnace breath.

The bush was on fire.

With the energy of fear he dashed along. There was the clearing, with Mary at the house door still shouting at intervals. Even as he came up the red storm was upon them. In mad frenzy he seized the two children, one under each arm, and, shrieking to his wife above the din of the fire to bring the baby, he rushed to the center of the plowed paddock. There they crouched panting. The children were howling, the baby was crying and Mary was sobbing. The man said nothing. He watched the fire.

Would the house escape? There was 50 feet of bare ground all about it. But the air, so calm a minute ago, was now a roaring hurricane traveling at racing speed over the ridge. The ten tree scrub melted before it, and the bush trees remained in its rear only as black and burning trunks. The fence had caught: the flames licked it up daintily. The shed, with his cart and harness, were and were not while he looked. A piece of burning, stringy bark, whirled by the wind, settled on the shingles of the house. The woman moaned and pressed the child closer to her bosom. The man's face was drawn in agony.

The house was burning, the work of his own hands. How many months of weary sawing and splitting had its shingles and slabs cost him! He thought of it all as he stood there, helpless and half suffocated. In less than a minute the flames were shooting out of the doorways and windows, and a loud report was followed by the fall of a side of the house. It was the explosion of his powder flask, hung on the wall.

Through the open framework they could see the bed, the tables, the chairs all blazing one after another. The spirit of the man revolted.

"Look, Mary!" he cried. "There goes the cradle I made for the kids." And as he spoke the aspect of his face changed. The limit of his suffering had come, and, like an old time victim of the rack, he began to laugh. A hollow laugh, weird and [illegible]

"That's a good joke, Mary! The farce is ended—all over in one act! Ha, ha, ha!"

"You're mad, Abe," said his wife, shrinking from him with a great dread in her eyes. "Don't laugh like that. It's horrible!"

"Mad, my dear! That's good. Ha, ha, ha! Say I've been mad, the most confounded lunatic in this blasted, blistering country! To slog and belt for ten long years to make a home of our own, to clear land, to fence it, drain it, plant it—and all to make five minutes' bonfire! Yes, I've been mad—stark, staring mad—but now—ha, ha, ha! I was never so sensible in my life!

"See how the cradle burns, Mary. It was a bit of she oak, and worked like a watch. Don't it look pretty now? They might be silk curtains, all those flounces round it! Why don't you laugh, girl? It's a great joke. Look! The roof is falling in! It's as good as fireworks. Hold up the kids; let them laugh. It's all the same price. Ha, ha, ha!"

But the woman replied nothing, frightened, staring at him. The children screamed.

The driving sheet of flame had long gone by. Skirting the plowed ground where they stood, it had left the bare surface an untouched blank in its ghastly funeral trail. Only tree stumps, posts and fallen branches smoked and smoldered here and there. The man stood motionless till morning. But the four charred corner posts remained of his home.

"Let's see the play out," he said. "Ha, ha, ha! Ha, ha, ha!"

The fire was raging many miles further onward when Abe Saunders, taking the two children by the hand, led the way down the track to the main road. His wife dragged wearily after him, the baby in her arms, looking back from time to time at the smoking ruin.

The group passed on to the road, where the red dust blew in thick, choking clouds that shrouded them from view. But long after they had disappeared there sounded the wail of the children, the moaning of the woman and loud above all the mirthless laughter of a broken hearted man.—Exchange.

The Diamonds

Uncle Meriwether never liked Eustace. He never did him justice from the beginning—and when he heard that I was actually engaged to him he spoke in such a way that I declared I wouldn't endure it.

"I am old enough, I hope, to choose for myself," said I.

"I don't know about that, Patty," said my uncle, shrugging his shoulders.

But I remained to hear no more. I flounced back into the house, slamming the door in Uncle Meriwether's honest, spectacled face, and bursting into tears as soon as I reached the sitting room.

"It's a shame," said my sister Elspeth. "Don't cry, Patty; I'm sure the whole matter is transparent enough. Uncle Meriwether wouldn't be so domineering about it if he did not want you to marry Paul."

"I wouldn't marry Paul Meriwether if there wasn't another man in the world!" said I viciously. "And I'll marry Eustace Dalzell anyhow now. Uncle Meriwether says we don't know anything about him, but I'm sure we know enough."

That was a false assertion on my part. I only knew of my handsome fiance what he himself had chosen to tell me—namely, that he was a New York engineer, staying down at Wraysfield a few weeks for his health. And his friend, Mr. Belfield, was a stockbroker—oh, how I wished Mr. Belfield might take a fancy to Elspeth! It would be so nice to be married at the same time—to go together and live in New York!

We lived together in the lonely old brick house on the edge of the moor, so that I was very glad when Olive Oatley came down from Rochester to visit us and brought her wedding set of diamonds to show.

Elspeth and I looked with awe and admiration at the sparkling gems—necklace, earrings and brooch.

"Are they very valuable?" I asked.

"Three thousand dollars, I believe," said Olive complacently. "They belonged to Herbert's mother, and they are to be reset before I wear them."

But just then Elspeth gave a start and turned scarlet, and, following the direction of her eye, I turned and beheld Eustace Dalzell standing smiling in the doorway, with his hat in his hand.

Somehow the diamonds made me nervous, and I could not help in the course of the evening confiding my vague terrors to Eustace.

But Eustace laughed at me and made light of my tears.

Eustace Dalzell went home earlier than usual this night. In my perturbation I had almost resolved to ask him to remain all night, a self constituted guardian of our treasures, but I did not venture to do so, and so at 10 o'clock we three girls, with Dinah in the kitchen, were left to ourselves.

I had intended to lie awake all night, but I must have fallen into a light doze without being aware of it, for the clock was striking 12 when I started up at the loud peal of the doorbell below. Olive was at my side in an instant. Elspeth had her arm around me, and even old Dinah hobbled in with a flaring lamp in her hand.

"Go to the door, do, some of you," cried I hysterically. "Ask who it is. Ask what they want."

And, while Olive, Elspeth and the old attendant obeyed my behest I hurriedly threw on my white dressing gown and went to the head of the stairs to listen, for I felt that in an emergency like this some one ought to keep close to the diamonds.

"There is no one here," I heard Elspeth say, after the bolts and bars of the front door were withdrawn.

"Yes, there is. I hear some one groaning at the other end of the veranda," persisted Dinah. "Oh, dear, the draft has blown out my candle! This way, Miss Oatley, please—I'm afraid there's been an accident or something."

The next minute the heavy oaken door blew shut with a bang. It was self fastening on the inside. I was all alone in the house.

A rustle under the vines that draped the north side of the house—a low whistle, and I could hear a voice saying in suppressed accents:

"They're safe enough outside, all three of 'em. Now's your time. Quick!"

It all flashed upon my mind in a second—the sturdy boughs of the wistaria, which afforded so easy a ladder for any aspiring burglar to reach Olive's window, the open casement, the diamonds lying underneath her pillow. My worst fears had come true, and, seizing the six barreled little pistol, I rushed into the room just in time to see a tall figure with a mask over its face spring into the window and steal with catlike motion across the room.

As his hand lay on the tiny canvas bag containing the precious jewels I raised the pistol and fired. At the same moment a muttered oath, mingled with a cry, sounded in my ears, and the sound of something falling shook the beams of the floor.

I am not one of the fainting kind, but for a minute or two I stood motionless. Then, springing down stairs, I admitted the three eager women who were huddled at the door.

"I've shot him! I've killed him!" was all that I could say. "Run up stairs, Dinah, and see if—if he is dead."

But Dinah would not go alone, so we all hurried up in a crowd—and there, half sitting, half lying against the bedpost, with the canvas bag fallen to the floor beside him and a red pool of blood under his right shoulder blade, was Eustace Dalzell!

Of course we sent for help to the nearest neighbor; of course we delivered my gallant lover, who was not fatally injured, over to the police, by whom he was recognized as an old jailbird, luxuriating in a new name.—New York News.

Brought to Time.

Ada (pensively)—I hope you'll invite me to the wedding when you get married.

Jack (boldly)—I'll invite you before I ask anyone else, and if you don't accept there won't be any wedding.—Tit-Bits.

Well Qualified.

"So you wish to assist in the examination of this investment company? What do you know about dishonest examinations, young man?"

"I used to examine gas meters, sir."—Chicago Daily News.

The Spice of Envy.

Mamma—Why don't you eat your apple, Tommy?

Tommy—I am waiting till Jimmy Post comes. It wouldn't taste half as good if there was nobody to see me eat it.—N. Y. World.

A Racial Retort.

Hosiery Clerk—Can't I show you something very cheap in white?

Mrs. Darkblack—No, sah, yo' kaint. I nebber did hab any use fo' white trash, nohow.—Judge.

For Ornament Only.

Viatior—Your smoking-room is beautifully furnished.

Mr. Henpeck—Yes; if only I were allowed to smoke in it!—Tit-Bits.

Their Assistance.

"Do you think doctors ought to help an incurable patient to die?"

"If he can't die without medical assistance, yes!"—Detroit Journal.

A Few Words about Pain-Killer

A prominent Montreal clergyman, the Rev. James H. Dixon, Rector St. Judes and Hon. Canon of Christ Church Cathedral, writes:—"Permit me to send you a few lines to strongly recommend PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER. I have used it with satisfaction for thirty-five years. It is a preparation which deserves full public confidence."

Pain-Killer A sure cure for Sore Throat, Coughs, Chills, Cramps, &c.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c.

There is only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis.'

Studying the Impression.

"How is that speech?" asked the ponderous statesman.

"Fine. It was concise, lucid and interesting. You made every point perfectly clear."

"Do you mean to say you understood it right away?"

"Yes."

"Well, I'll have to take it home and rewrite it; that's all. If people fully understand what you have to say the first time you say it, they are mighty liable to think you're not deep."—Washington Star.

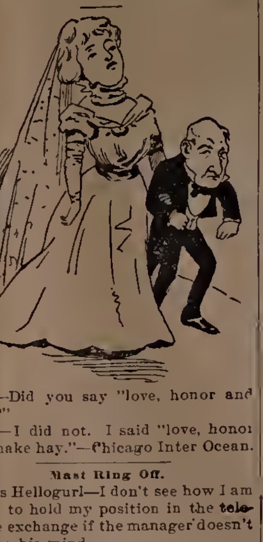
Strange Coincidence.

"You may say what you will, but blood does tell. There are the Petersmiths. Rather charming people, but there's no concealing the fact that their great-great-papa was a pawnbroker."

"How's that?"

"Haven't you noticed that by some strange fatality they have three balls every season?"—Town Topics.

AFTER THE MARRIAGE.



He—Did you say "love, honor and obey?"

She—I did not. I said "love, honor and make hay."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Must Ring Off.

Miss Hellogurl—I don't see how I am going to hold my position in the telephone exchange if the manager doesn't change his mind.

Mr. Askit—What's wrong?

Miss Hellogurl—He says if we girls don't stop talking so much he will discharge us.—Baltimore American.

Not the Proper Classification.

She—One appreciates a thing more if he has to toil and struggle for it instead of having it drop in his lap; don't you think so?

He—Yes, I suppose so. But then you know it isn't exactly the proper caper to refer to a girl as a thing.—Chicago Daily News.

Opposed to Smoking.

Charles—Is your girl opposed to your smoking?

Clarence—I think she must be. Every night when I come away from her house I find two or three broken cigars in my vest pocket.—Yonkers Statesman.

As He Figured It Out.

"Now," said the man who owned a poor little house and lot, "I know why it is better to give than to receive."

"Why is it?" his wife asked.

"You don't have to pay taxes on what you give."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Play Too Short, Perhaps.

He—Did you enjoy the matinee, dear?

She—Very much. I sat next to Mrs. Gadabout, whom I hadn't seen for years. We had a nice long chat.—Catholic Standard and Times.

In Olden Times.

"What, ho! Within there!" shouted the knight at the castle gate. The warder gat him up, yawning prodigiously. "Another man with a ho," said he to his faithful valet.—Indianapolis Press.

No Cause for Despair.

Mrs. Youngwife—The baby talks incessantly. I think he will grow up to be a congressman.

Mr. Oldbach — I wouldn't worry about it, if I were you. Maybe he'll be a barber.—Philadelphia Record.

Desperate Case.

"Papa," she said, "the count has assured me that he can't live another day without me."

"Humph," grunted the old man. "I didn't think he was as hard up as all that."—Philadelphia Record.

Just for the Baby.

Mrs. Lash—What did you get baby for a birthday present?

Mrs. Lash—I took $4.90 out of the little darling's bank and bought him this lovely lamp for the drawing room.—Boston Beacon.

Partly to Blame.

"Are you the best man at Billy Brown's wedding?"

"No: I attend as guilty bystander."

"What do you mean?"

"I introduced Brown to the girl last summer."—Chicago Record.

Truly Misanthropic.

"What," said one cynic, "is fame?"

"Fame," answered the other, "is what makes you valuable to some book publisher after you're dead."—Washington Star.

At a Medical Examination.

Professor—How would you treat a patient with water on the brain?

Student—Tap him on the head.—Town Topics.

Same Thing.

Daughter—If I can't have Percy Pinkhedd for a husband, I want nobody!

Father—Well, what's the difference?—Puck.

Skye High.

Visitor—Is this a high-bred dog?

Attendant—Yes, sir; he's a skye terrier.—N. Y. Journal.

EVERY MOTHER SHOULD Have it in the House

For common ailments which may occur in every family. She can trust what time indorses. For Internal as much as External use. Dropped on sugar it is pleasant to take for colds, coughs, croup, colic, cramps and pains.

I have used your Anodyne Liniment in treating our infant (only six months old) for colic, and our little three year old daughter for summer complaint and bowel diseases generally, and found it to be excellent. JOHN I. INGALLS, Americus, Ga.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

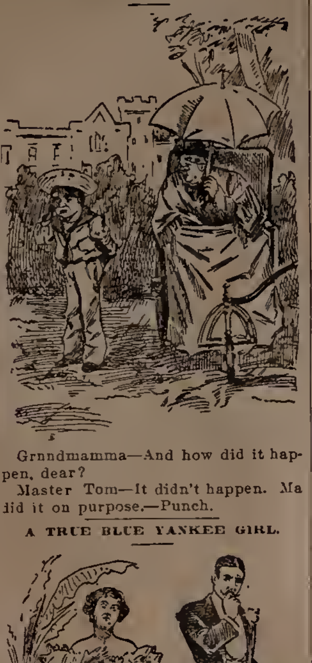
Relieves Every Form of Inflammation.

Originated in 1810 by an old Family Physician. No remedy has the confidence of the public to a greater extent. Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price 25 and 50c. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

Parsons' Pills

"Best Liver Pill made." Positively cure Biliousness, Sick Headache, all Liver and Bowel complaints. They expel impurities from the blood. Delicate women find relief from using them. Price 25c. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

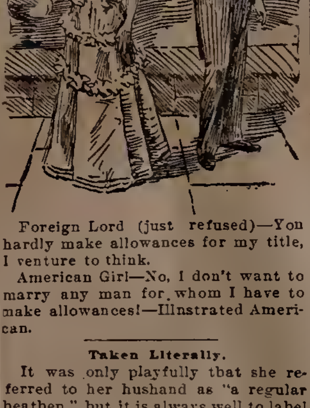
OUR DEAR LITTLE ONES.



Grandmamma—And how did it happen, dear?

Master Tom—It didn't happen. Ma did it on purpose.—Punch.

A TRUE BLUE YANKEE GIRL.



Foreign Lord (just refused)—You hardly make allowances for my title, I venture to think.

American Girl—No, I don't want to marry any man for whom I have to make allowances!—Illustrated American.

Taken Literally.

It was only playfully that she referred to her husband as "a regular heathen," but it is always well to label such remarks when made in the presence of children.

The little one who overheard this remark trotted away to Sunday school immediately thereafter, and in some way the subject of attendance at church came up in the class that day.

"My papa doesn't go," volunteered the little one.

"No?" returned the teacher inquiringly.

"Oh, no. He's a heathen, you know."—Chicago Post.

Resigned.

"Miss Middleage has confided to me that to-morrow is her thirtieth birthday."

"Has she really made up her mind to it at last?"—N. Y. World.

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy; he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find any relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured. I think it the best medicine I have ever tried." For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Accidents come with distressing frequency on the farm. Cuts, bruises, stings, sprains. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil relieves the pain instantly. Never safe without it.

Remember this: No other medicine has such a record of cures as Hood's Sarsaparilla. When you want a good medicine get Hood's.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 8 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 8 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 8 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 28 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 8 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m; S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 8 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 28 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 8 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 8 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS

For a distance of 5 miles or less, - 10c
5 to 15 miles, - - 15c
15 to 25 " - - 20c
25 to 35 " - - 25c
35 to 45 " - - 30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.

33-tf

G. A. Martin, M.D.,
.. AND ...
C. B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A. J. Gallison, M.D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.

92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.

18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,

....BOSTON.

Telephone 1839.

A FINE LINE OF

Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all here is to it.

BABY FOOD
MILK

There's a Sucker Born Every Minute,

so give the babies a chance for life by using our improved nursing bottles and our strengthening and nourishing baby foods. Life for the little ones during the heated term means bottles that can be kept thoroughly clean and food that will make pure blood, bone and muscle, and our foods will do it.

We recommend Mellin's Food.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Willie Burke of Barrington, R. I., has been visiting his cousin, Miss Alice George.——William Templeman, who has been spending a month in New York, has returned home.——Repairs on the roof of the town building are being made.——There was a large delegation of people in the village who went to Franklin Saturday afternoon to witness the golf game between the Franklin and North Attleboro Country clubs.——Mr and Mrs. M. F Whitney of Walpole are at Archer's Pond.——The marriage of Miss Olive I. Farnbam to H. L. Austin, by Rev. H. D Robinson of Mansfield, is announced.——Mr. and Mrs. Chas Humphry and son Irving of Los Angeles, Cal., are the guests of Mrs Humphrey's brother, O. J. Goodspeed

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Caution is the foundation of prudence

Vanity is universal—and it is universally disowned.

Love finds a way even if it has to stand the furniture man off.

The coming man is usually the one who holds your promissory note.

The reproaches of a true friend are always just and not too frequent

The size of a man's bank account has nothing to do with his dimensions as a man.

Were it not for wine and passion some men would never speak the truth.

Fame never blows her trumpet for a man who is too lazy to raise the wind.

The easiest way for a girl to prove that she can't sing is to make the attempt.

It's always well to bury the hatchet—and it's also well to remember the spot where it is interred.

The worst thing about a man who wastes his time is his penchance for wasting the time of other people.

It's an easy matter to interest a girl. All you have to do is talk about matrimony, new bonnets and sleigh rides.

Some people who don't claim to know very much make better use of their knowledge than others who think they know it all.—Chicago Daily News.

FACTS BRIEFLY STATED.

Mrs. Grant Allen, the widow of the novelist, is about to open a book-shop in the West End of London.

The Bank of France last year discounted in Paris 2,[illegible] separate bills for less than 100 francs each.

An appendicitis club has been formed in Cleveland, O. To become a member of this unique organization one must have been operated upon for appendicitis

It was the belief of the Egyptians that the third finger of the left hand was connected with the heart by a slender nerve Hence the custom of wearing the wedding ring on that finger.

The house No. 7 West Twenty-second street, New York city, has been destroyed to make room for a modern building It was occupied for many years by Prof. S. F. B. Morse, who died in this house A marble tablet commemorated the fact that there the great electrician resided.

According to a German electric journal an association of farmers in Bavaria is building large electrical works which will be devoted to agricultural uses. The current is produced near the village of Schaftersheim, a distance of seven miles. It is supplied partly by water and is sent to the surrounding villages at a pressure of 5,000 volts. Movable motors are used for driving thrashing machines, chaff cutters, bruising mills, etc.

Read the Business Announcements.

After Dinner

To assist digestion, relieve distress after eating or drinking too heartily, to prevent constipation, take

Hood's Pills

Sold everywhere. 25 cents.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Senator Thomas R. Bard, of California, has one of the best collections of modern French art in America.

King Menelek, of Abyssinia, receives Europeans at his court on Sundays. His state posture on such occasions is to sit cross-legged under a canopy of drapery.

Thomas E. Shea is the first actor to announce a play based on the war in the Transvaal. He has the new piece in rehearsal, and it will be given in the course of a few weeks. The play was written by a Boston author.

There are but two confirmed snuff takers in the United States senate at the present time, Senator Turner, of Washington, and Senator Carter, of Montana. The old custom of taking snuff has about died out.

A black bishop of the Anglican church was recently consecrated at Lambeth. Rt. Rev. James Johnson, assistant bishop of western equatorial Africa, is a Sierra Leone negro whose parents were rescued slaves from the Yoruba country. His station will be Benin. Durham university has made him an honorary A. M.

President John Quincy Adams once asserted that he would not give 50 cents for all the works of Phidias and Praxiteles, adding: "I hope America will not think of sculpture for two centuries to come." When some one quoted this to William Morris Hunt, he asked, dryly: "Does that sum of money really represent Mr. Adams' estimate of the sculpture of those artists, or the value which he places upon 50 cents?"

PHILATELIC FACTS.

An entirely new series of postage stamps is said to be in course of preparation for Sarawak.

There is reason to believe that the Sunday coupon on the Belgium postage stamps will soon be discontinued.

A huge batch of discarded Filipino postal stamps and cards has been sold in Manila for 50,300 Mexican dollars. The purchase was a speculation in stamp collecting.

The United States has never sold the space on the reverse side of its postage stamps for advertising purposes in the manner that New Zealand adopted some years ago, although it is said that at different times offers of almost fabulous sums have been made for the privilege.

Since it has been decreed by Russia that Finland shall have no more distinctive stamps, it will be necessary for collectors to lay in a stock before they disappear from view It is a matter of congratulation that the list is not excessively large. In 55 years the whole of the issue of stamps, envelopes, cards and wrappers number only 150 type varieties.

The third assistant postmaster general has decided to issue stamps in book form at so small an advance in cost that the public will gladly pay the difference. As is well known large numbers of postage stamps are wasted by sticking together, or to the pocket, so that a stamp book is really a necessity. The books will be of convenient size, and will contain stamps to the amount of 24, 48 and 94 cents.

He decided that he'd win her.
So he planned with insight grim
That he'd pay her no attention—
And she fell in love with him.
—Chicago Record.

Just the Girl He Wanted.

"I warn you," she said, after he had proposed, "that I have studied law and know something about the rights of woman."

"In that case," he replied, "you are just the girl for me. If you have studied law you must have discovered something about the rights of man also, and in that you are far ahead of many of your sisters."—Chicago Post.

It Never Fails.

Sniffers—Do you ever have hay fever, or anything of the kind?

Biffers—No, I never had any trouble with my nose but once. On that occasion it leaked about a gallon.

"Eh? When was that?"

"One evening when I went to a party and forgot my pocket handkerchief"—N. Y Weekly.

THE ROSE = FOR LOVE.
SUNRISE = = FOR BEAUTY.
"COOK CO." = FOR BARGAINS.

GO-CARTS, $8.00 == Nice.

Never heard a baby complain yet. Babies are all right in one of "Cook's Rolling Stock. Assortment is complete.

Same Good Old Terms--A Little Down, Then $1.00 or 50c. Weekly.

Everybody waits for their car in our store—so nice and cool. Try it.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

KNOWN ABOUT GREAT MEN.

Bolivar was a druggist.

Mehemet Ali was a barber.

Virgil was a son of a potter.

Milton was the son of a scrivener.

Horace was the son of a shopkeeper.

Demosthenes was the son of a cutler

Shakespeare was the son of a wool stapler.

Robert Burns was a plowman of Ayreshire.

Cardinal Woolsey was the son of a pork butcher

Oliver Cromwell was the son of a London brewer.

Whitefield was the son of an innkeeper at Gloucester.

Columbus was the son of a weaver and a weaver himself.

John Jacob Astor once sold apples in the streets of New York.—Buffalo Times.

Plant Line to the Provinces Carrying Many Passengers.

Every ship of the Plant line that left Boston last week was a record breaker. This is good evidence of the popularity of the trips offered by that line. A great many take the fourteen-hundred-mile cruise, while not a few are patronizing the new line to Sydney and returning through the Bras d'Or Lakes to Hawkesbury and home by the "Halifax" or "La Grande Duchesse," stopping a day at Halifax. This gives one the longest ocean voyage out of Boston to the eastward, barring a trip to Europe. Many people are finding out that these trips can be made quite inexpensive: in fact, they cost no more than an ordinary two weeks' vacation. Get maps and folders at Plant Line offices, 290 Washington street and 20 Atlantic avenue, Boston, telling all about it.

152,773 Posts Per Day.

The average daily circulation of the Boston Post during the month of July, 1900, was precisely 152,773 copies. Never before in the history of New England newspapers has any morning or evening newspaper in New England ever passed or approached the daily average of 150,000 copies No evening newspaper in New England sells within 50,000 copies per day of the Post's daily average. No two other morning newspapers in New England combined sell as many copies as the Post sold in July and is selling today And, as to local sales, all the other Boston morning papers combined do not equal one-half the Post's circulation in Boston and vicinity. The Post's present position in the New England newspaper field is absolutely unparalleled in the history of New England journalism And still the cry is "Excelsior."—Boston Post, Aug 1

Three species that threaten baby's life—cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhœa Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry never fails to conquer them.

Half the ills that man is heir to come from indigestion. Burdock Blood Bitters strengthen and tone the stomach; make indigestion impossible.

Hoag Lake PARK.

WEEK OF AUG. 13.

Afternoons at 3.15.

Evenings at 8.30.

Boom's Black Diamonds.

Erastus Banks, in "A Coontown Picnic."

Harry Brown, monologist and cartoonist.

The Black Diamond Quartette.

Pinky Gross, prima donna.

Wells Sisters, singers and dancers.

The Larkins, Rulers of Coonville.

A roaring afterpiece, "Telephone Coon."

Charles A. Wheeler, accompanist.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je26-toc1

PLANT LINE TO THE PROVINCES.

Cheapest and Best Ocean Trip Out of Boston.

1400 MILES FOR $18.00.

Points of interest include HALIFAX, STRAITS OF CANSO, CAPE BRETON, BRAS D'OR LAKES, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND and NEW FOUNDLAND Elegant steamships La Grande Duchesse, Halifax and Florida From north side Lewis Wharf for HALIFAX, HAWKSBURY and CHARLOTTETOWN, every Tuesday, 12 noon. Every Saturday 2 p. m. New line to SYDNEY every Friday 10 a. m. Illustrated advertising free.

J. A FLANDERS, N. E Agent,
290 Washington St., Boston.
E. H DOWNING, Agent,
20 Atlantic Ave., Boston.

jly24 too24

Witch Hazel Jelly...

An improved form of Witch Hazel, far more effective and convenient than the ordinary Witch Hazel. It is a quick and efficient remedy in all cases of burns, bruises and all irritations of the skin, such as hives, nettle rash, mosquito bites, etc.

15 CTS. BOTTLE.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Coal! Coal!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

Chilson's Market

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef, 10 to	12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-1yS

FOR SALE.

Two Grocery Wagons, one Grocery Pung, Harnesses, all Fixtures suitable for grocery business. Also, stock of Groceries. Will be sold in whole or part.

Apply to J. B. McKINNON.

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tf

THE CANNING SEASON

Is at hand. You can find Glass Jars, Rubbers, Preserving Kettles, Porcelain-Lined Kettles, Fruit Tunnels, Stew Pans, great and small.

Also a fine lot of Water Sets.

CALL AND EXAMINE

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

Business Announcements in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL are invariably read.

At

WOODWARD'S

every description of

INSURANCE

can be placed. This

AGENCY

officially represents the

LEADING

American and Foreign

COMPANIES.

F A WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass

my4-lyF

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

Something New...

Have you stopped to think of the pleasure something new always brings with it? A dress, a ring, a piece of furniture—no matter what it may be, inspiration and bright spirits follow along in its wake. Especially if it's Furniture. Every time you sit in the soft chair or stretch out on the soft couch it makes you happy. This is a happiness which every one can afford while we have the stock we have and charge the prices we do.

Our Terms:

$10 worth, $1 down, 50c. a week.
$25 worth, $2.50 down, 75c. a week.
$50 worth, $5 down, $1 a week
$75 worth, $7.50 down, $1.25 a week.
$100 worth, $10 down, $1.50 a week.
$125 worth, $15 down, $2 a week.
$150 worth, $25 down, $2.25 a week.
$200 worth, $40 down, $2.50 a week.
$250 worth, $50 down, $3 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Special engagement for the season, S. M. Stephens' PUNCH and JUDY SHOW to entertain the children.

Dancing every afternoon and Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON,

Concert by Norwood Band.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.

Circulars free on application.

Collector's Notice.

COLLECTOR'S OFFICE,
FRANKLIN, MASS., 1900.

The owners and occupants of the following described real estate, situated in the town of Franklin, in the county of Norfolk and the commonwealth of Massachusetts and the public are hereby notified that the taxes assessed for the year herein after specified, according to the list committed to me as Collector of Taxes for said Franklin by the Assessors of Taxes, remain unpaid, and that said real estate will be offered for sale by public auction, at the house of the Collector of Taxes, No. 10 High street, in said Franklin, on

WEDNESDAY, the 22d day of AUGUST, 1900,

at 10 o'clock a. m., for the payment of said taxes, with the costs and charges thereon, unless the same shall be previously discharged:

Henry B. Kimball—A certain piece or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, situated on the easterly side of Forest street, in said Franklin, and bounded and described as follows, viz Beginning at a point on the easterly line of said Forest street, at land now or late of one Woodbury, and running south 58 degrees east, ten and sixty-eight hundredths (10.68) chains; thence running south 42 degrees 35 minutes west, eleven chains and eighty-seven hundredths (11.87) chains to a point at the intersection of a Virginia rail fence with a stone wall; thence south 14 degrees 5 minutes east, nine and four hundredths (9.04) chains to a point at the intersection of a Virginia rail fence, with a leading way which leads from said Forest street across the granted premises; thence crossing said leading way and running in an irregular line in a southerly direction as the Virginia fence runs to where it intersects the center of Dix brook, which crosses the said described premises; thence running in the same general direction along the centre of said brook to a point where said brook is intersected by an old fence which runs between aforesaid described premises and land now or formerly of Amos P. Woodward; thence running north 80 degrees 5 minutes west, four and sixty-seven hundredths (4.67) chains, more or less, thence running north eighty degrees 5 minutes west, three and twenty-five hundredths (3.25) chains, thence north 78 degrees 5 minutes west, five chains; thence north 79 degrees 15 minutes west, seven and thirty-three hundredths (7.33) chains to said Forest street; thence northerly on said Forest street forty-seven and fifty-four hundredths (47.54) chains to the point of beginning, containing fifty-three and one-fifth acres, more or less.

The tax on the above described premises for the year 1899 is twenty-eight dollars and fifty cents ($28.50).

E. H. SHERMAN,
Collector of Taxes for the Town of Franklin.
Dated at said Franklin, July 31, 1900.
jly31,au7,14

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of John L. Fairbanks, late of Franklin, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to ELIZA FAIRBANKS, Executrix.

Address Franklin, Mass.
July 26, 1900. jly31,au7,14

[illegible] M Fisher 1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 66. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

The selectmen will meet this evening.

D. W. Corson is suffering from a severe attack of malaria.

J. Ray Wyckoff sang at the Baptist church last Sabbath.

Davis Thayer, Jr., is spending a few days at Cottage City.

A son was born on Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel N. Fiske.

Mrs. E. S. Judd is spending a few weeks at Port Jervis, N. Y.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. James E. Kelley on Sunday.

Mrs. Mary A. Whittle of South Framingham was in town Tuesday.

Rev. and Mrs. F. B. Sleeper have been spending the week in Woonsocket.

Fred Appleton of the Crescent house is on a visit to his home at Winthrop.

Mrs. S. F. Sargent of Salem is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. James E. Razee.

Sacred concert at Lake Pearl on Sunday by the Battery band of Providence.

Henry Tinnerman of Providence, a former resident, is visiting friends in town.

Miss Flo Bushee of Stoughton is spending a vacation at her home on Cottage street.

Our Boys will play at Medway tomorrow, having the Union nine for opponents.

Mrs. C. W. Mason of Union street lef this morning for a week's visit at Portland, Me.

Rev. James S. Girdwood of Woonsocket will preach in the Baptist church Sunday forenoon.

Miss Hannah McCabe of Ruggles street has returned from a visit with friends at Watertown.

Mrs. H. M. Gilmore and Miss Jennie Gilmore of Ware have been visiting in town this week.

Miss Edith Johnson left Wednesday to spend a two weeks' vacation with relatives in Rockland.

Number of marriage intentions recorded to August 13, 21. For the same period last year, 21.

Miss Annie Arnold of Boston has returned home after spending a few days with Franklin friends.

The Franklin campers at Webster lake were photographed in a group by G. L. Vesie on Wednesday.

William Richardson and Ralph Dean of Watertown are enjoying a few weeks' vacation at Lake Pearl.

Frank Sullivan of Newark, N. J., is spending a vacation at the home of Mrs. Mary Doyle of West street.

The Anthony business directory of sixteen towns of Norfolk and Bristol counties have been delivered.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hosmer and Miss Julia Landers of Indianapolis are visiting Mrs. Gilpatrick at the Daniels farm.

Mrs. G. F. Singleton of Cottage street has returned home from a vacation spent with friends in New Hampshire.

Major and Mrs. J. H. Onslow are spending the day with their daughter, who is camping out at Medfield junction.

Miss Etta Razee of Southbridge, a former Franklin young lady, is the guest of Miss Bessie Britton of Milliken avenue.

Mrs. W. M. Fisher, Frank D. Metcalf and Miss May Sawyer go this week to Onset for a week at "Dean cottage."

Charles O. White, bookkeeper at the Singleton mill, spent a few days this week at Seaconnet, enjoying the fine fishing there.

Mrs. M. F. Conroy of Summer street and her friend, Mrs. Dillon of Boston, have returned from a short vacation spent at Newport.

D. P. Moran, the shoe man, will join his wife at Higgins beach, Me., next week for a couple of weeks' outing. Mrs. M. has been there a week or more.

If you want to spend a quiet, pleasant Sabbath afternoon, with fine music, go to Lake Pearl and hear the famous Battery band of Providence at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Emma Erricson, who has been the guest of Mrs. August Johnson of Howard street the past two weeks, returned to her home in Rockland Wednesday.

Wednesday was observed as the feast of the assumption in all Catholic circles. Masses were celebrated at St. Mary's chapel at 5 and 8 o'clock in the morning.

Wednesday, August 22, J. M. Parker, J. F. Adams and Munroe Morse will be ready to entertain the Farmers' club and show the results of farm work the present season.

A camp meeting will be held at the Hebron camp ground under the auspices of the Gospel rescue mission of Providence, commencing on Saturday, August 25, and lasting over two Sundays.

The annual meeting of the Cemetery association is to be held at the office of the water company on Tuesday evening, Sept. 4, when officers will be selected and other important matters attended to.

George Fiorani of Cottage street returned Tuesday from a month's stay at Reading.

Miss Alice Oliver of Newark, N. J., has been visiting at the home of William G. Cody of Union and Central streets.

The roadmen have been at work on Beaver street this week and have greatly improved the roadway on that thoroughfare.

State or national politics so far have not made any apparent disturbance in local affairs and not much stir for a presidential year is looked for.

The laws and resolves of the great and general court of Massachusetts for 1900 have been received by the town clerk and copies are ready for the citizens who desire them.

A "clearance train" came through Franklin Tuesday to test the height of the bridges over the tracks and all were found to comply with the law in that particular.

Stephen Bernard, an Indian boy, was arrested this week, charged with the larceny of a bicycle from a resident of Wrentham. The accused will be given a hearing at Walpole today.

On Monday the first electric car of the M., A. & W. street railway passed along the line from Four Corners to the bridge on C. E. White's farm for a trial trip. Regular trips soon to follow.

George H. Croissant, the obliging and efficient ticket agent, will leave next week for a three weeks' vacation in New York state. His place will be supplied here by ex-Postmaster M. F. Conroy.

Thomas Frayer was arrested Tuesday evening for drunkenness and disturbance of the peace, and in the district court Wednesday he was fined $10 by Judge Doe. Being unable to pay, he was sent to Dedham jail for 30 days.

Contractor Grant has been more than busy all summer, and now has twenty-seven men at work, engaged in building operations in eight different places. He has done an immense amount of work at Hoag lake and the end is not as yet in sight.

While playing about a yard on McCarthy street Tuesday morning a crowbar fell on the head of Byron Coleman, aged six years, cutting the scalp. Dr. A. G. Martin sewed up the wound at the home of the boy's mother, on Union street.

Former students at Dean and other friends will be interested to know that J. H. A. Smith, the popular gymnastic instructor at the academy, and Miss Mollie Garfield Higgins, of Bar Harbor, Me., (Dean, '00,) were united in marriage at Newburyport last Saturday.

There is still considerable discussion as to the effect of the electric cars upon local business. So far as the livery stable business is concerned, there does not seem to be much doubt or difference of opinion. But in other lines of trade it is still an open question whether the effect is good or the reverse.

The property owners and residents of McCarthy street will petition the board of selectmen this evening to have that thoroughfare improved. The street is certainly in bad condition at present and needs improvement, and there is little doubt but what the selectmen will grant the prayer of the petitioners.

Some localities in town are contending with the plague of ants that overrun the food supplies and make life miserable for the housewife. Various preparations are brought into play and the exterminators finally win the day, or at least that has been the result in the past and will probably prove true at the present time.

Work has been commenced on the property of the Medfield & Medway Street Railway company on Village street, Medway. What was formerly a tenement house is being torn down and will be removed and a new and modern building will be erected for use as a car barn for the company. A large force of men are at work.

Manager Enegren has secured a fine attraction for Sunday afternoon, weather permitting, in the Battery band of Providence, which will give a sacred concert. This band is a fine one and music lovers will be well repaid for attending. As the season is drawing to a close these opportunities for Sunday outings will grow less frequent and should be taken advantage of.

The remains of little Walter Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer of Crocker avenue, who died suddenly of spinal meningitis Monday morning, were laid to rest at Sheldonville Wednesday afternoon following funeral services held here at 2 o'clock at the parents' home. Rev. F. B. Sleeper officiated, assisted by Rev. T. P. Pendleton, and a quartet composed of Mrs. C. W. Shattuck, soprano; Miss Darling, alto; J. R. Wyckoff, tenor, and H. C. Monroe, bass, sang appropriate hymns. The services were attended by a large number of mourning friends and relatives and many beautiful floral offerings were contributed by family and friends. Four boys were pall bearers.

VACATION NOTES.

BY REV. F. B. SLEEPER.

From the land of Evangeline I send you my greeting,
Where the days and the nights are delightfully cool;
Where the hours of vacation are charming and fleeting,
Like a roving student set free from his school.

Blessed is the man who can take an ocean voyage and not be seasick in the slightest, and I am one of that favored number. Just now it is all the rage and fashion to go to Nova Scotia. Thousands of New Englanders are doing this. Staterooms on the steamers are engaged days ahead. Every boat is loaded with passengers.

We were hoping for a moonlight evening, but were disappointed. It was not foggy, but slightly stormy, and neither moon nor stars appeared. Still it was not cold and the ocean breeze was refreshing after the awful humidity weather in New England. We stayed up until midnight, drinking in the pure ozone of the atmosphere of the sea that always works a miracle of restoration for me after the arduous labors of the year. It was a great pleasure to have as company on the boat two old friends, Rev. Frederic Lent and Rev. Arthur Gordon, son of the late Rev. A. J. Gordon, D. D., of Boston.

Beautiful for situation is old Yarmouth. Amid "the gold of the early sunrise" we found ourselves rapidly approaching this noted place. Like a bird of fine plumage it seems, nestling among its handsome pine groves. A strong field glass was of great assistance. The great rocks are very dark and covered with seaweed. The lofty spires of the churches stand boldly to view. We pass two lighthouses—the main one and what is called the "bug light." We find the channel very narrow as we enter.

Later on the little steamer Tourist carried us four miles down the harbor and return. This was excitement and fun alive. The boat is a madcap dasher built for speed. It is far pleasanter for a short trip going on a small steamer where you can feel every throb of the machinery and your hand can nearly or quite touch the water. On we sped by Bunker's island, where the marine hospital is located, and to Forchu's landing, where the black rocks and high boulders stand out in grim and dismal silence.

Yarmouth is a quiet, orderly place of 8,000 population and largely American in its characteristics. United States money is used as much or more than British money. The streets are wide and the many finely trimmed hedges are the pride and ornament of the village. The churches have grand edifices. Their electric cars are rude affairs and the track rough enough to shake the life out of you.

Never have fish dinners tasted so good, the material perfectly fresh and fruit so luscious. This was the boon for an enormous appetite after an hour's sail. No kept-over material that has lost its goodness or withered into deadness, but an immediate offering from Neptune and Nature's generous supply. Conceive, if you can, anything more appetizing, accompanied by a ravishing hunger.

The wholesale establishments where fish are received by large shiploads are wonderfully interesting. We were shown the widespread flakes where the salted fish are dried in the sun. We entered the large storehouses where thousands of quintals of fish, after being cured, are piled up like cordwood. Another establishment sends forth tons of fresh fish, such as halibut and mackerel, packed in ice to other towns and cities.

A Nova Scotia fog day! Ugh! No far-off delightful view while this lasts. You are shut in like a prisoner. You are at liberty to go where you please, but your prison surely goes with you. Fog that blows in great drifts through the air, and nothing can hinder it; fog that enshrouds you like a winding sheet; fog that turns life into utter desolation. We are thankful for one day of it, to know what it is, but never care for another experience of this character.

The return voyage was as glorious as a full moon, a perfectly clear night and a nearly smooth sea could render it. It seemed as if we could scoop the silver by barrelfuls from off the water. The ocean was radiant beyond description as the slow, long-swelling tides mirrored the splendor of the queen of the sky, and each gentle crest was an evangel of gladness and brightness. My first visit to Nova Scotia, but it has been a time of enjoyment, genuine rest and renewed strength.

Another Clambake, Sunday, Hoag Cottage.

The second clambake of the Hoag club will be held next Sunday, Aug. 19, at 2 p. m., at Hoag Cottage, near the merry-go round. First class service. Tickets 50c.

Office Closed.

My patrons are requested to note that my dental office will be closed until further notice during my vacation.

DR. M. E. POND.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse.

Franklin in 1830.

I read the interesting article, published in the SENTINEL last week, of Franklin fifty years ago, and perhaps it will interest some to know how Franklin looked in 1830. As I remember it very distinctly, I will name the dwellings in order as they stood, beginning at the crossing: On a high rise of ground just west of Union street stood a house called the "Bill Adams" place; the same house, remodelled, is now the first house above the crossing on the left, nearly in front of Ray's mill. The next on Union street was Maj. Thayer's tavern. In those days of stages from Worcester to Taunton this was an important place, where man and beast were refreshed with different kinds of refreshments, from cold water to New England rum, which was regarded as one of the needful articles and sold in every grocery store in the country. From Col. Cleaveland's house the common extended to just south of what is now known as the Emily Pond place. At the extreme south end of the common stood an old red house, called the "cannon house," in which were kept two brass three-pounders, belonging to the Franklin Artillery company. On the knoll just west of J. P. Bassett's residence stood a little house, in which was stored a few kegs of powder for immediate use in case of emergency, which was according to the laws of the state.

From Col. Cleaveland's the next was the Dr. Pratt house, which, remodelled, now stands where it did seventy years ago, just north of J. P. Bassett's. From there to the corner of Beaver street was a line of horse sheds the entire distance. Further north is the house of J. Riley, then called the Darius Morse place, in which were held the first Universalist meetings, perhaps four times a year, very much to the dislike of Dr. Emmons, then the only minister of the town. On the occasions of those meetings the doctor would denounce them in no mild terms and state emphatically where they would go, without naming the temperature of the place. On one occasion, in his most vehement manner, he said: "If I had the power of Almighty God I would stop that preaching or stop their breath."

One house only on Beaver street, now standing, was where Caleb Thurston lived; on the spot where Dr. Abbott's dwelling stands was the Newton Pond house; where the late James Shaw lived was another house, called the Asa Fisher house, then a tavern, where the old men would gather Sunday noons to eat their doughnuts and cheese, as there were two good, long sermons every Sunday, with an hour for intermission. The next house, south, was the old Jarvis Hill place, where J. B. Fitzpatrick now lives. Jerry Claflin's came next. Hanson Metcalf's house stood very near where the Crescent House now is; the same building, remodelled, and owned by Davis Thayer, Jr., stands near the foot of High street, on Union.

Going south on Main the next residence was that of Dr. Emmons, where stands the J. F. Ray house. The next and only one was the DeWitt farmhouse; then later a tavern, finally burned. From Thayer's corner toward Poverty lane, as Unionville was then called, were Hartford Leonard, Eli M. Richardson and Joel Daniels. The house occupied by George Hayward on Summer street and the one opposite completed the list.

Eighteen houses, one store, one church and three taverns composed all in the centre. Thurston's tavern, on the Unionville road, the late J. G. Ray's farm, was an important place where the stage horses were changed.

In those days every able-bodied man was required to hold himself ready for military duty and turn out three days in a year for drill and wind up with a "general muster," as it was called, in the fall. The militia company, the artillery and the cadets, the last two named, were all in uniform and took pride in making a fine appearance, while the old militia was composed of about everything in the shape of a man able to carry a gun, mad because they were compelled to do duty. They would dress as they pleased, those not having any regular knapsack would make one. The writer well remembers on one "training day," as it was called, of an eccentric fellow with a knapsack made of a large dried codfish strapped on his back, like old John Brown. That would go then, but times have changed "since Hannah died." A few still live in this town that remember the town as I have described it in 1830.

G. I. PARTRIDGE.

Richardson's Market.

Of course you've got to eat some meat, even if it is hot weather. Try a nice chicken or fowl for Sunday. Our vegetables are received every day fresh from the gardens. Try a can of our ten cent soup with your dinner; all kinds.

Cut flowers, all kinds of funeral designs well made up at Slade's greenhouse. Roses in small or large quantities.

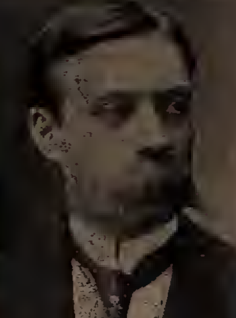
A carload of brewery grain received every Tuesday at Metcalf's station, where any quantity can be purchased. Good for milch cows, hens or hogs. Great saving on grain. Inquire at the station.

Sweet peas at Slade's greenhouse.

FRED HOMER WILLIAMS,

Candidate for Republican Nomination for Congress in the Eleventh District.

Fred Homer Williams of Brookline, Mass., was born in Foxboro, Mass., on the 7th of January, 1857, educated in the public schools there, graduated from Brown university in 1877, and was principal of the high school at East Medway from 1877 to 1879. He was admitted to the bar September 18, 1882, having obtained his college and legal education by his own unaided efforts. Immediately after his admission to the bar he was elected to the house of representatives, where he represented the Eighth Norfolk district to the credit of himself and the district, in 1883 and 1884. In 1883 he was chairman of the committee on bills in the third reading and in 1884 was chairman of the committee on insurance. In the latter year he reported a bill known as the "Williams bill," designed to regulate the business of assessment insurance, and which at the time attracted a great deal of attention and provoked much discussion.



FRED HOMER WILLIAMS.

He was recognized as one of the four or five prominent leaders of the house in 1883 and 1884, and the Hon. George A. Marden, speaker of the house during those years, thus writes of Mr. Williams in the Lowell Courier: "Mr. Williams was a member of the house two years and we speak with full knowledge when we say that he was one of the most valuable of the members of those years. He is a natural legislator, and with his entire fairness, impartiality and judicial temperament, together with a rigid honesty, both of act and purpose, he is a man the people of his district should be sure to nominate and elect."

Elected a member of the Massachusetts senate in 1898 from the Second Norfolk senatorial district, he immediately took a position of prominence there and was soon recognized as one of its leaders and hardest workers. In that year he was chairman of the committee on mercantile affairs and a member of the committee on judiciary and committee on rules. Re-elected senator in 1899, he became chairman of the joint committee on judiciary, which adopted the system of hearing all matters as a joint committee, thus making a great saving to the public in avoiding hearings before separate committees of the two branches. This position marked him as the titular leader of the senate, where he was already recognized as the practical leader. During this year he was also a member of the committee on banks and banking and of the committee on rules.

Upon the assumption that President Smith would retire at the end of that term his associates selected him as Mr. Smith's successor, and his election to that honorable position was assured. When, however, President Smith decided to return to the senate for the year 1900 Mr. Williams concluded not to stand for re election.

Robert L. Bridgman, the well-known correspondent of the Springfield Republican, thus alluded to Mr. Williams' retirement from the Massachusetts senate: "Senator Williams of Brookline, in his retirement, will mean the loss of one of the very hardest working and most efficient members of the senate. If all senators and representatives would attend to business as he does, and were equally methodical and pushing, the session would be a month shorter." As Mr. Bridgman generally sees a great deal more to condemn and criticise in the average legislator than he does to praise, this tribute to Mr. Williams must be regarded as a genuinely deserved one.

He is recognized as one of the prominent young men practicing law at the Suffolk bar, having a large general practice and a wide experience in the settlement and management of estates and complicated business affairs.

He has been frequently called upon to fill positions requiring executive ability, and on all such occasions has been eminently successful, notably as Secretary of the Norfolk Club, to which he was elected at the time of the nomination of Mr. Blaine in 1884. Under his administration the club had a most successful career for five years, and upon Mr. Williams' retirement in 1899, he was given a complimentary dinner and a substantial present by the members of the club. He has always been deeply interested in anything pertaining to the affairs of Brown university, and was the secretary of the association of the Sons of Brown in Boston and vicinity for several years, and is now president of the Brown University Club. He is also a member of Beth Horon Lodge, I. O. O. F., and of East Medway Grange Patrons of Husbandry.

A self made, practical man of wide experience in state legislation and a close student of national affairs, with the ability to express himself forcibly, independently and courageously, he is preeminently a fit man to represent the Eleventh district in the national house.

A Former Franklin Teacher Drowned.

Harvey W. Walker, the immediate predecessor of Principal E. D. Daniels in the Horace Mann High school, and now a lawyer and member of the Common Council in Boston, was drowned in the Charles river near Allston on Wednesday evening while attempting to save the life of a companion who was in bathing with him.

The swimming party consisted of Edwin Raymond, Dr. J. F. Cowan, Roger Wells and Councilman Walker, the latter being considered a very good man in the water. After leaving the Allston shore the men struck out leisurely for Captain's island, but Mr. Raymond weakened and Messrs. Walker and Cowan went to his assistance. Mr. Raymond was steadily being helped toward the Cambridge side, when Councilman Walker's strength gave out and he had to relinquish his hold of Raymond. Thereupon Mr. Wells took Mr. Walker's place and brought Raymond ashore.

Councilman Walker not having come ashore, Messrs. Cowan and Wells re-entered the water again in search of him. Mr. Walker, however, was not in sight and could not be found. The body was recovered yesterday.

Mr. Walker followed Principal Chandler here from '91 to '93. He was born in Milford in 1868 and was educated in the local schools. He graduated from Boston university among the first in his class and then from the Harvard law school. Mr. Walker has been at his law practice only three years, but had achieved a growing reputation. Two years ago he was elected a member of the Boston common council from ward 25, and was last year re elected. In politics he was a republican. He was also a prominent member of the Allston Congregational church. He leaves a mother, who is at present in Minneapolis, and a sister.

Just received in Franklin—a genuine thirst quencher, Dewing's Persian Punch. Sold only by WALTER FIORANI.

Emerson's Market.

Watermelons on ice, shell beans, green corn, gem melons, sweet potatoes, summer squash, lettuce, cucumbers, onions, cabbages, new beets and turnips, green corn. Fresh killed Chicks and fowls, lamb, veal, pork, sweet potatoes and tomatoes.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

200 cords of pine trash wood. E. S. Cook.

Good wages for a girl to do housework. Inquire at SENTINEL office. 24 tf

100 cords trash hard and pine limbs, at Allen's wood yard, School street.

A competent girl to do housework is wanted at Dr. C. H. Randall's. 7tf

Wanted—A competent girl for general housework. Apply to Mrs. Dr. King, High street. 31

Cook wanted for two or three weeks at the seashore; wages $4. Inquire at once at the SENTINEL office.

Wanted.—A ton of horse hay. Will pay for same in carpenter work. F. E. Dudley, Union and Central streets. 14*

To Let—A small tenement corner of Central and School streets; rent $4. Also one of five or six rooms on Central street. Apply to Mrs. A. P. Woodward. 17,21*

For Sale—A young, sound, "all round" family and farm horse, equally at home in tip cart or buggy, and safe for any one to drive or handle in any spot or place. Maple Farm. O. S. Stetson. 17*

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

Can While You Can.

If you want nice fruit next winter prepare to can very soon, as fruit is coming on, but don't use your old jars. Our new ones are cheaper, better, and improve the flavor of the fruit. We have the square "Royal" fruit jar, best quality selected glass, with "Lightning" top at 90 cents, $1.00 and $1.25 per dozen. There are none cheaper in the end. Window screens at reduced prices.

HOSIE BROS.

Not Like Any Other.

Independent, wide awake, progressive and aggressive, we represent the best educational progress of the day. Young men and women find a thorough training in every department of commercial work at the Providence Bryant and Stratton Business college.

Dental Notice.

Please note that my office will be closed during my absence for two or three weeks, or until further notice.

DR. E. C. ABBOTT.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk	3 Wk	1 Mo.	2 Mo	3 Mo	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
¼ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5 00 per year; twice a week, $7 50 per year

FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1900

ABOUT THE LEGISLATURE.

The reported remarks of F H. Williams about the alleged servility of the legislature to corporations of Massachusetts are interesting, but as Mr. Williams was himself a member of that legislature, why has he waited so long before freeing his mind? He certainly must have had good opportunity for missionary work during the session, but he seems to have withheld his most forcible denunciation until the members had adjourned and gone to their respective homes. Was it—is this entirely fair? It may be well to rebuke sinners, but it is even better to reform them. Why has Mr Williams kept silent so long?—Boston Daily Advertiser, Aug. 11.

POLITICAL HINTS.

Sept 24, 25—On one of these two dates the Republicans of every city and town must hold caucuses for the choice of delegates to the state, congressional, councillor, senatorial and county conventions, and possibly, for delegates to representative conventions, and for the nomination of candidates for the general court.

Oct. 1, 2—On one of these dates caucuses for the choice of delegates to a Republican representative district or for nomination of candidates for the general court may be held.

Oct. 4—10 a. m. Republican state convention in the Boston Theater, Boston.

Oct 7—Last day for registrars of voters in towns to post preliminary lists.

Oct 13—Earliest day for holding Republican representative conventions.

Oct. 15—Last day for appointing election officers in towns. Also last day for filing nominations for state officers to be voted for throughout the state.

Oct. 19—Nomination papers of candidates not voted for at large throughout the commonwealth must be filed at the office of the secretary of the commonwealth before 5 p. m.

Oct 27—Registration in towns closes at 10 p. m.

Nov 1—Last day for filling vacancies among election officers.

Nov 2—Last day for filing complaint against incorrect and illegal registration in towns.

Nov 6—State election.

MEN like ex Mayor Curtis of Boston, ex-Senator Cook of Milford, ex-Senator Darling of Hyde Park, all recognized early in the canvass that the nomination this year ought by all the principles of equity to be awarded to Middlesex county, and withdrew their names from the contest and in favor of the Newton candidate, Samuel L. Powers. Brookline has had the nomination more than one-half the time during the past twenty years, and Middlesex county has not received even a single nomination during that entire period, and has withdrawn no less than three candidates in the interest of party harmony and acquiesced in the nomination going to Brookline candidates. It is a well established custom, which has existed for generations in both the Republican and Democratic conventions, to select the nominee for governor from one section of the commonwealth and the nominee for lieutenant governor from another section. Governor Crane resides in Berkshire county and Lieutenant Governor Bates in Suffolk county, and the other state officers are selected from different parts of the state, with a view to giving every section of the state a fair and just representation on the state ticket.—Exchange.

BY the operation of a new law Franklin is to be relieved after Jan. 1, 1902, of a great burden in the care of insane poor, by placing that burden on the state. The cost of such insane will then go into the state tax levy and all cities and towns must bear some share. Franklin has always had considerable expense from this source and often because of persons who left town years ago but have never gained a residence elsewhere. "The operation of the new law is expected to remove a great many vexatious problems. The questions of settlements will no longer bother the authorities of the commonwealth. Another effect of this law will be that some towns which have never had to pay for the support of a single insane pauper, will be assessed for their share of the burden which now falls upon the whole commonwealth."

THIN HAIR

Lots of people have thin hair. Perhaps their parents had thin hair; perhaps their children have thin hair. But this does not make it necessary for them to have thin hair.

One thing you may rely upon—

Ayer's Hair Vigor

makes the hair healthy and vigorous; makes it grow thick and long. It cures dandruff also.

It always restores color to gray hair,—all the dark, rich color of early life. There is no longer need of your looking old before your time.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"As a remedy for restoring color to the hair I believe Ayer's Hair Vigor has no equal. It has always given me perfect satisfaction in every way."

Mrs. A. M. STREHL,
Aug. 18, 1898. Hammondsport, N.Y

Write the Doctor.

He will send you a book on The Hair and Scalp free, upon request. If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor write the Doctor about it.

Address,
DR. J. C. AYER.
Lowell, Mass.

POINTS ABOUT FLOWERS.

(From the Ladies' Home Journal.)

Hardy Yellow Rose.—Harrison's yellow and Persian yellow are both extremely hardy varieties of the yellow rose.

Ammonia Is Not a Plant Food.—It is a constituent of some foods, but used by itself it acts as a stimulant; therefore it should not be depended on to produce vigorous and healthy plant development.

Baby Primroses.—These charming and popular little plants belong to the Obconica branch of the Primula family. They are of easy cultivation. They like a light, spongy soil, plenty of light and plenty of water. They bloom profusely all winter and are grown from seed sown in the fall.

Clematis from Seed.—I would not advise any one to attempt to grow Clematis from seed. It would take two or three years to get the seedlings to flowering size, and then the flowers might be worthless. No one can be sure of what he is going to get in growing these plants from seed. The only sure way of propagating a desirable variety is by division of the roots or by layering.

Insects on Chrysanthemums.—The black aphis which infests the Chrysanthemum is much harder to get rid of than the common green aphis. I fight it with a preparation of tobacco called Nikoteen. This is a concentrated extract of the plant, and the use of it will soon rout all aphides. The ordinary tobacco tea, made by steeping tobacco in water, has but little effect on this black aphis.

SOMETHING NEW.

Flexible shafting has been put to a new use. It is arranged so as to be attached to a source of motive power for tree trimming.

An inventor of Schweinfurt, Bavaria, has invented a new machine for the sorting of steel balls according to quality, and it prevents the cracked balls being passed as prefect.

The two new battleships now building at the Cramp shipyards, in Philadelphia, Pa., are to be lined with asbestos. The United States naval officials are contemplating the institution of a similar application in vessels now building.

Artificial sponges are being made in Germany by Dr Gustav Pum, of Graz. His experiments are based upon the action of zinc chloride solution upon pure cellulose, says the Trade Journal's Review. The resultant product swells enormously with water but turns to a hornlike substance on drying. In order to return to the product the property for also absorbing water after drying, alkali-baths are employed in treating the cellulose with the zinc chloride. The mass after manipulation and molding is said to take the place of sponge in all its uses.

A Substitute.

Little Madge—Have your folks a family tree?

Little Ralph—No; my pa uses a trunk strap.—Chicago Times-Herald

Both Mistaken.

Biggs—You say Hamfat is a comedian? I thought he was a tragedian.

Boggs—That's what he thinks, too. —N. Y. Journal.

There Are Exceptions.

"Fun is as good for us as medicine."

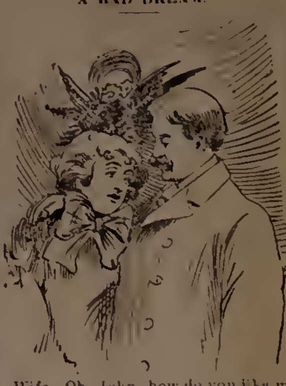
"Not when the joke is on you."—Chicago Record.

About the Size of It.

Jaggs—Texas is a great place for snakes. I once saw a green and yellow snake down there 70 feet long and as big round as a whisky barrel.

Waggs—Well, I don't doubt it—but I'll bet you saw the whisky barrel before you saw the snake.—Chicago Daily News.

A BAD DREAM.



Wife—Oh, John, how do you like my new Easter bonnet? Isn't it a dream?

John—Yes, dear; and the bill will be a nightmare.—Detroit Free Press.

Her Fatal Number.

"How many girls did you make love to before you met me?" demanded Mrs. Vick-Senn, at the close of her long tirade.

"Twelve!" groaned her husband. "But I never counted them up until it was too late!"—Chicago Tribune.

Once Too Often.

Smith—Have you heard that Jane Siligal has committed suicide?

Brown—Bless me! You don't say so.

Smith—Yes. Jumped over Waterloo bridge.

Brown—Ah, she was always fond of jumping to conclusions.—Ally Sloper

Scientific Mechanism.

"What is your idea of a statesman?"

"H'm; well, a statesman is a politician who gets what he wants without letting his own party know how he got it."—Indianapolis Journal.

Exonerating Himself.

"Look here, old chappie, just introduce me to your pretty cousin."

"All right, I'll do so; but, mark, if ever you marry her, don't lay the blame on me." Tit-Bits.

Takes on the Color.

Hogan—There is wan thing about a black eye that is dacint.

Grogan—An' fwat is that?

Hogan—It turns green before it goes. —Indianapolis Press.

A Sincere Opinion.

"Wright sent me a check this morning."

"Well, what of it?"

"I consider it the best thing he ever wrote."—Judge.

Like the Rest of the Sex.

Mrs. K—But are you sure that parrot will talk?

The Dealer—Certainly, ma'am. It's a female.—Harlem Life.

Very Remarkable.

Mrs. 400—Remarkable winter we are having, isn't it?

Mrs 399—Yes, Indeed! So few scandals.—Town Topics.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by druggists, 75c.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The Wires Were Crossed.

Hotel Man (who thinks he is calling down his butcher)—Say, I am shy a heart and liver, eight ribs and a shoulder. Now, I want 'em right away.

Railway Office (which has been connected by mistake)—Sorry, sir, but the wreck has been cleared up.—Baltimore American.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's

Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE

Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

Wallace Tower.

Wallace Tower is located in the town of Ayr, Scotland, and was erected to the memory of William Wallace, the famous Scotch patriot and hero, who was said to have been imprisoned in an ancient tower on the same site in the eleventh century, finally escaping through the aid of friends. The present tower is 133 feet high and was erected in 1832.

Wayside Inn.

This old tavern, made famous by Longfellow's poems, stands in the town of Sudbury Mass., which was a busy center in the old colonial days. It was noted for its great hospitality and for being the gathering place of noted men and qaint characters of the time.—Detroit Free Press.

Nauseating Treatment.

Potter—I see they are using castor oil on weakly house plants in the east.

Diggs (who has to lug his wife's flower tubs around the house a half dozen times a year)—Good enough for 'em!—St. Louis Republic.

Not Sufficient Time.

"Have I time to run across the street and match a sample of ribbon?" asked the woman of the depot gateman.

"Oh, dear, no!" he replied. "Why, the train leaves in three hours and a half." —Chicago Post.

Too Methodical for Her.

Fair Widow (beguilingly)—Now, Mr. Slade, suppose your wife was to die. What would you do then?

Mr. Slade—Call in the undertaker. —Harlem Life.

A Tendency of the Sex.

"If you marry that girl I'll cut you off with a dollar."

"I know you better than that, mother; you'd make it 99 cents."—Chicago Record.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened; I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed; nothing helped me; I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief; I continued to use it and am now well and strong; I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50c. and $1. Trial bottles free at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

Plant Line Travel Immense.

The last departures from Boston of the three Plant Line steamers La Grande Dutchesse, Halifax and Florida, have been the heaviest of the season and simply illustrate the popularity of a sea trip especially with something worthy of interest at the other end of it. All enjoy the quaintness of Halifax as well as its hospitality, and those who go byond are simply charmed with the scenery. A trip through the Straits of Canso, with its river like course for nearly 60 miles, is alone worth the trip to say nothing of the side trip through the Brasd'Or Lakes or a short sojourn on Prince Edward Island where the latch string is always out. Many are taking these trips in economical way by avoiding stateroom charges and taking berths in the cabin which every ticket includes. They get the same privileges on board as do stateroom passengers and an equal chance to enjoy that beautiful expanse of blue water as well as that heath giving ozone so well known to lovers of the sea. Send to the Plant Line offices, 290 Washington street, or 20 Alantic avenue, Boston, for illustrated advertising telling all about it.

Broken Bric-A-Bracs.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man, of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's cement. The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are to expensive and do not allow large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $3 75 a pound, and another cost $2 65 a gallon while a large share of the so called cements and liquid glue, upon the market are nothing more than 16 cent glue, dissolved in water or citric acid, and in some cases, altered slightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials. Major's cement retails at fifteen and twenty-five cents a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make a larger profit. The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising which now amounts to $5000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876. Insist on having Major's. Don't accept any off hand advice from a druggist. If you are at all handy (and you will be likely to find that you are more so than you imagine) you can repair your rubber boots and family shoes, and other rubber and leather articles, with Major's rubber cement and Major's leather cement. And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will save. If your druggist can't supply you, it will be fowarded by mail; either kind. Free of postage.

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Shake into your shoes Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It cools the feet and makes tight or new shoes feel easy. Cures corns, bunions, swollen, smarting, hot, callous, sore and sweating feet. Allen's Foot Ease relieves all pain and gives rest and comfort. We have over 30,000 testimonials. It cures while you walk. Try it today. All druggists and shoe stores sell it, 25c. Sample sent free. Address Allen M. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

To the Deaf.

A rich lady, cured of her deafness in the head by Dr Nicholson's Artificial Ear drums, gave $10,000 to his institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the ear drums may have them free. Address No. 3895C, The Nicholson Institute 780 Eighth avenue, New York, U S A. j127

Chilson's Market

Sirloin Steak........25c	3 lb. pails lard........33c
Rump " 25c	5 lb. pails lard........50c
Round " 18c	Bacon, strip........12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef, 10 to 12c	Smoked Shoulder.....11c
Fancy Brisket........10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted......$5.00
Thick Flanks.........6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe5-1yS

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyboid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week............ 50
Single Gallon........................ 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive prompt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.
17-tf

Mortgagee's Sale.

—OF—

REAL ESTATE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Lawrence McGinnis of Medway, in the county of Norfolk and commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the Roxbury Brewing Company, a corporation duly established under the laws of said commonwealth, dated September fifteenth, 1898, and recorded with Norfolk deeds, libro 824, page 272, which mortgage has been duly assigned by mesne assignments to Stephen Jennings, the subscriber, for breach of the condition contained in said mortgage deed and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, upon the premises hereinafter described, on Tuesday, the twenty-eighth day of August, 1900, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed in and by said mortgage deed, namely: A certain tract of land, with the buildings thereon standing, known as the Quinobequin estate, situated on the north side of Village street, in said Medway, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the southwest corner thereof, at the junction of Broad with Village street, and thence running easterly on Village street eighty-eight feet to land now or formerly of Minerva Hathon, deceased; thence running northerly on land of said Hathon one hundred and forty feet to a corner; thence running easterly on land of said Hathon forty-six feet to a corner; thence running northerly and westerly sixty-three feet on land now or formerly of Mrs. Woodward to a corner; thence running northerly on land of said Woodward to a corner at land now or formerly owned by E. A. Noyes, twenty-one feet distant from barn on said premises; thence westerly on a straight line parallel with said barn to a point in line with the front of said barn and twenty-one feet distant therefrom; thence running [illegible] on a straight line to a point in a line with the rear of the store block thirty-five feet distant therefrom in a southerly direction; thence on a line westerly parallel with said block to Broad street; thence southerly on said Broad street to the point of beginning. [illegible] right of way fifteen feet wide across the southerly side of the land conveyed to E. B. Stowe, March 1, 1886, from land of Mrs. Woodward to a point in a line with the rear of the store block and distant therefrom thirty-five feet, as said barn and store block stood March 1, 1886, and subject to the rights in the well mentioned in release from the Medway Savings Bank recorded with Norfolk deeds, lib. 649, page 42. Excepting from the above described premises that portion thereof which has been released from said mortgage deed by a release dated June 24, 1899, and recorded with Norfolk deeds, libro 846, page 511.

Said premises will be sold and conveyed subject to any unpaid taxes thereon, and to the balance due on one mortgage for $5,000.00 given by Lawrence McGinnis to the Milford Co-operative Bank, dated September 17, 1895, and recorded with Norfolk deeds, libro 744, page 577.

Terms of sale: Three hundred dollars to be paid at time and place of sale, and the balance in ten days on delivery of the deed.

STEPHEN JENNINGS,
Assignee of said Mortgage.
C. G. & C. D. KEYES, Attorneys,
17 State street, Boston.
Boston, August 9, 1900. au10,17

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Benj. C. Wood and John H. P. Kenyon to George W. Bacon, dated April 4, 1900, and recorded with Norfolk County Deeds, libro 867, folio 534, for a breach of the conditions thereof and to foreclose said mortgage deed, will be sold on the premises in Franklin, in said Norfolk county, at public auction, on

SATURDAY, SEPT. 8, 1900,

at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, to wit:

A certain tract of land, with the buildings thereon standing, containing thirty acres, more or less, situate on the easterly side of Elm street, in said Franklin, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning on said Elm street [illegible] thence running easterly and northerly on land of Herbert Bartlett [illegible] land formerly of E. N. Bullard and James F. Adams [illegible] thence on said Elm street to the point of beginning [illegible] recorded in Norfolk County Deeds.

Said property will be sold subject to a prior mortgage of $1,000.

Terms made known at sale.

GEORGE W. BACON,
Mortgagee.
au17,24,31

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN EXPRESS.

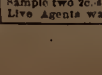
E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON)

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

apl1-tf



Do You Want to Know about Automobiles—the different kinds their construction, care and operation—tours, runs, etc., of owners and users? If so, you should subscribe for the handsomely illustrated, thoroughly original, up to date automobile monthly.

$1 a year. 10c. a copy. Sample two 2c. stamps. Live Agents wanted.

The Automobile
150 Nassau st., N.Y.

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,

Jewelers and Opticians

160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.
Sign of the Electric Clock.

del-Fly

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN SAVINGS BANK.

FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, LESTER L. BURRINGTON, WALTER M. FISHER, DR. GEORGE KING, Vice Presidents.
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, E. P. Chapman, B. M. Rockwood, George W. Wiggin, Charles Stewart.

STATEMENT JULY 31, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors		$571,160 11
Guarantee Fund		28,217 86
Profit and Loss Account		738 99
Interest Account		567 15
Real Estate Income Account		15 19
		$600,700 30

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 86
Bank Stock		27,779 32
Railroad Bonds		126,262 50
C. F. Boynton account		3,023 71
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,148 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		28,375 00
" " Mortgages		157,860 00
" " Personal Securities		169,891 18
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		34 97
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$7,822 25
Nat. Bank of Redemption	4,095 58
Mercantile Trust Co	84 16
		12,001 99
Cash on hand		752 37
		$600,700 30

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

ADELBERT D. THAYER,
CHARLES STEWART,
Committee of Examination.

July 31, 1900.

SUMMER BOARD WANTED

By the many thousand readers of the Boston Evening Transcript (No Sunday Edition).

THE GREATEST PAPER IN NEW ENGLAND FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900:

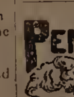
"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more farm houses of ten rooms."

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies.

Boston · Transcript · Co.,
324 Washington St., Boston.



CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

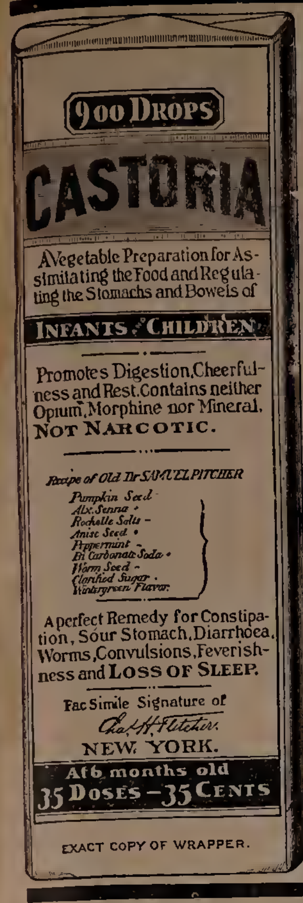
Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co.

Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

au17-4w

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists



900 DROPS
CASTORIA
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS & CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed
Alx. Senna
Rochelle Salts
Anise Seed
Peppermint
Bi Carbonate Soda
Worm Seed
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
Chas H Fletcher
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES—35 CENTS
EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Chas H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

A Fantasy of South Africa.

By J. F. X. O'Connor.

It was after the battle of Tugela River, said General Joubert, when, fatigued and exhausted by the tension of the last few months, I went to the house of an English lady, the Duchess of B——, who had been a personal friend ever since her residence in the Transvaal. Feeling perfectly secure under the circumstances, I was accompanied by a single aid, who volunteered to run all risks to secure for me the necessary quiet.

The first night and day passed quietly, with news that they were still watching, when on the evening of the second day, about 9 o'clock, the voices and tread of a dozen men were heard on the porch. Presently the door opened, the duchess entered, and, to my astonishment, introduced Sir Redvers Buller, commander of the British forces. Both of us were astounded, started instinctively, stared, but bowed courteously to each other. The duchess had warned neither, but relied on the instincts of manhood for an acceptance of the situation. We gazed fixedly one at the other, and each rightly knew he was facing a foe worthy of intense effort and of the keenest strategy.

After a few moments' pause Buller stretched forth his hand and said: "Sir, we are placed in a strange situation; I cannot forget the courtesy due our hostess, but from the moment we part, though we have met as guests of the same respected lady, hostilities are declared." He turned and left the room.

Here was a predicament. I was in the house alone with my aid. Here was a man bound to defend the honor of England too much of a soldier to seize me under the circumstances or to fire without giving warning. I was as sure a shot as he, if not a quicker. A duel of swords or pistols would have troubled me but slightly. To steal away, although ten against two, was not, to my mind, at all inviting. I resolved to wait and be on the alert. All was silence in the house—darkness outside of my room. There was a creaking sound on the floor above. Glancing at the window, I discerned, it seemed, a form just sinking into shadow from the path of light that streamed from the window. In an instant I extinguished the light and felt the world grow larger in the darkness. I had fixed in my mind three plans of action—first, to boldly attack the party; second, to mount to the upper floor to be above the enemy; third, to wait outside of the house for a sign of attack.

I gave them all up and decided to wait in the room.

The hours drew on—11 sounded, 12 and then 1, which seemed to prolong its solitary sound for several minutes, and then all was still—a silence deeper than before.

At half past 2 I heard a rustling in the hallway and then a knock at the door. The voice of the duchess was heard. She was standing outside with her maid. "General," she said, "make your escape at once. If in one hour from now you are here, General Buller sends message by me that he will consider that you have surrendered or take you by force.' '

"Madam," I replied, "if I intended to escape by flight I should not be here now. No entreaties can move me from my resolve."

"General," she said, "I beg of you to reflect. I have done all in my power; your fate is now in your own hands;" and then, in a tone of unfeigned terror, stamping her foot, "Pray, do go!"

She then withdrew, and I waited in anxious expectation of the outcome. I called quietly to my aid, but there was no answer. After nearly an hour had passed, during which many thoughts and plans rushed through my mind in rapid succession, I opened the door cautiously.

Not an object was visible, nor a sound to be heard save the tick of the swinging pendulum, which seemed to say, "Quick, quick!"

I walked about in the darkness of the vestibule, when the voice of Buller sounded from the staircase: "Ready, Joubert! I am going to fire!"

We pulled the triggers at the same instant. In the darkness the aim was true. The bullets struck in midair, one falling on the floor, the other glancing to the right of the room and smashing through a window.

Immediately several pistols flashed from the landing above, and I fired again.

A groan came from Buller. He was wounded in the foot, and of the seven or eight balls that whizzed close to me one entered my shoulder. I fell to the ground for an instant, then, rising, drew back into my room, barricading the door with an oaken table.

The lights were up in the house, and another volley rained against my barricade. I returned the fire, making a hole through the door with a shot and placing the pistol an inch or two from the opening. A dash was then made for the door, and with axes and bars it was soon beaten in, when a shout of men came from the outside.

The house was surrounded by Boers. My aid had escaped in the silence of the interval and brought timely help.

When they saw that 50 men surrounded the house and that resistance was useless slaughter, Buller asked for a parley. I said to him: "General Buller, I was in your power—you gave me a chance to fight. I shall be not less generous. You and your men may depart for your lines unmolested."

The general saw there was but one course, and left the house with his men, escorted by 20 Boers, who saw them safely beyond the patrol.—Collier's Weekly.

Eve and an Apple.

"Oh, look, mother!" cried Eve. "There is my apple."

"Hush, dear! It isn't your apple at all. It belongs to the people next door."

"He isn't people!" objected Eve.

I am a bachelor.

As the summer went on the apple grew in size and beauty. Eve watched the apple, and I watched Eve. She was so nice to watch that I did not offer her the forbidden fruit. I regarded it as a hostage for her regular appearance. In the dusk of evening Eve tried to reach it with a clothes prop—at least it looked like Eve. I knew it was a clothes prop, because she let it drop over my wall, and it smashed three panes of a cucumber frame. Next morning she happened to be in the garden, so I returned it.

"I—I'm afraid it broke something," she apologized.

"Not in the least, I assure you."

"I'll tell Mary Jane not to stand it up against your wall again," she promised mendaciously.

When I came home that evening, the apple was still there in all its glory; but when it grew dusk I noticed maneuvers with the prop going on once more. Finally I heard a cry of triumph and the rustle of her skirts as she ran indoors. Then I went out.

I climbed the tree, gathered about a gallon of apples and sent them in with a note:

> Dear Madam—I trust you will accept a few apples from my tree overhanging your garden, as I notice that there is only one upon your side. I have, however, a special reason for desiring that one. May I enter your garden to gather it? Yours very truly, FRANK NEWTON.

In a few minutes Sarah Ann returned with Mrs. Parker's thanks and an assurance that she would be pleased for me to gather the apple whenever I liked. I went round to their front door, knocked, and was shown into a cozy sitting room. Mrs. Parker received me very pleasantly, but Miss Eve was rather quiet.

"You will be surprised at my bothering you about a single apple," I said. "The fact is I want it for some one who has particularly admired it."

"We have noticed," said her mother, with a side glance at Eve, "that it is a singularly fine apple."

"I should like to see it when you have picked it," Mrs. Parker confessed. Eve said nothing. She appeared to have become absorbed in a book.

"I'll bring it in at once," I promised. I went out and ascended the tree. No one was looking, so I gathered another fine apple from my own side. When I returned, Miss Eve had disappeared.

"It doesn't look quite so large off the tree," I suggested, placing the apple upon the table.

"No," said her mother, examining it critically: "I scarcely think it does; but it is a very fine one."

"Perhaps your daughter would like to see it?"

"Ye-es." She laughed. "I am afraid it will make her feel rather envious." She rang the bell, and the servant came. "Ask Miss Eve to come for a moment, please."

After a few minutes' waiting [illegible] Eve reappeared, looking guiltily defiant.

"Mr. Newton wants you to see his apple, Eve, dear. Isn't it a beauty?"

Eve flushed and gave me a swift glance.

"Yes," she said hesitatingly. She seemed to be studying the floor rather than the fruit.

"It might be a fellow to the one that tempted Eve," I observed with a smile. She traced a pattern with her foot.

"Adam was also tempted."

"By Eve, I believe. I don't fancy he wanted the apple much, did he?"

"You could not have a nicer apple than this, anyhow." She looked right at me at last. Her eyes said quite plainly, "You needn't tell mother." As if I had any such intention!

"I am glad you like it," I said, "because I want to give it to you if I may. I could not help noticing that you admired it."

"There, Eve!" said her mother. "I told you that every one would see that you coveted it."

"I—I am sorry," she said in a subdued, little voice.

"Please don't say that, or you will spoil my pleasure in giving it."

"Then I am not sorry." She took it with a laugh.

The next day was Sunday. In the afternoon Eve sat under the shade of my apple tree reading a book. So I strolled out and looked over the wall.

"Eve," I remarked, "was turned out of paradise for stealing an apple."

She looked up and smiled. Then she looked down. Then she rested her chin on one hand and looked at me inquiringly with her big eyes. I would put down how she looked if it were possible. It isn't. Mere ordinary charm of feature or coloring is common enough to have words. Real prettiness is unique, unnamable: little willful curves of the features, little waves of the hair—and "ways." She is pretty like that.

"Adam," she remarked, "lost paradise and the apples."

"But he had Eve!"

"You have plenty of apples," she said, "and you are not shut out of paradise."

"Then," I replied promptly, "I will come in." I did.

"How do you know this is paradise?" she asked demurely.

"Eve is here."

She looked at me saucily over her book.

"Poor Eve was much to be pitied!"

"Because she lost paradise?"

"No; because she kept Adam."

"Did she mind, do you think?"

"Well, you see, it was just a very little bit her fault that he ate the apple."

"She would have eaten every scrap herself if she had been a modern Eve."

She looked up at the desecrated bough and laughed.

"I think she could be persuaded to share it with the modern Adam," she stated.

Thereupon she dived under the chair cushion and produced it.

"Now you have paradise—and the apple!" she told me.

"They are nothing," I said feelingly, "compared with Eve."

But Eve—my dainty little Eve—is coming to No. 54 in the spring. It will save any further dispute, she says, about the apple.—Madame.

A Test of Greatness.

The most charming thing in life is freshness of feeling. This freshness is the quality of a great writer or a great artist. He will show as if he sees it for the first time what we have been looking at all our lives without observing it.—Hamilton Mabie.

Sudden.

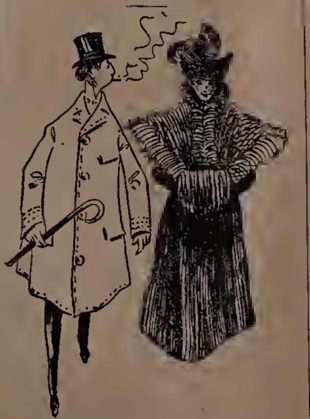
Kind Lady — Your husband is dead then?

Mrs. O'Keefe—Yis—he wint off most sudden, mum.

Kind Lady—Poor man! Heart failure?

Mrs. O'Keefe—Not th' loikes o' thot, mum. It wor loike this: Pat wor eatin' his dinner on a powder bar'l whin wan av his friends set it off in a joke. It wor most suddin, mum.—Ohio State Journal.

NOT SO RAPID.



Cholly—Am I walking too fast for you, Miss Wobbins?

Miss Robbins—Oh, no! You may run if you like.—N. Y. Journal.

You
May Need
Pain-Killer
For Cuts
Burns
Bruises
Cramps
Diarrhœa
All Bowel
Complaints
It is a sure, safe and quick remedy.
There's ONLY ONE
Pain-Killer
Perry Davis'.
Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.

Follow Suit.

Softy—How very fond of hunting Mr. Bouncer must be.

Sharpleigh—Bouncer hunt? Why, he's never even been after a red herring.

Softy—But he told me he kept several packs.

Sharpleigh—So he does—of cards.—Ally Sloper.

His Waterloo.

Visitor (at insane asylum)—Who is that wild-looking man in the padded cell?

Attendant—That is Prof. Adder, the expert accountant.

Visitor—What drove him insane?

Attendant — He attempted to straighten out his wife's household accounts.—Chicago Daily News.

Out of the Ordinary.

"What was this row about?" asked the policeman.

"It all came about," the father-in-law explained, "by some of those cheeky boys throwing shoes at the bride."

"Well," said the policeman, "that's customary."

"Yes; but not horseshoes."—Tit-Bits.

Grew to Like It.

"Are you really contented with your lot?" asked the sympathetic old lady.

"How do you mean, ma'am?" inquired the bearded lady.

"Why, your beard, you know; I should think it would annoy you?"

"Well, candidly, ma'am, I didn't like it at first, but then it grew on me."—Philadelphia Press.

Explained.

"I must confess to a great deal of egotism," said Willie Wishington.

"Indeed?" responded Miss Cayenne.

"Yes. I think about myself entirely too much."

"Oh, that isn't egotism. That's merely the usual human tendency to worry over trifles."—Washington Star.

Why He Is Single.

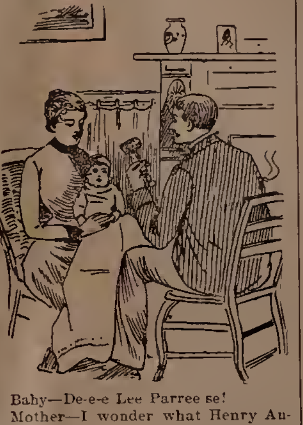
Wederly—I suppose you have never given marriage a thought.

Singleton—Oh, yes, I have.

Wederly—Then why are you still single?

Singleton—Because I have given marriage a thought. — Chicago Daily News.

SUCH WISE PARENTS.



Baby—De-e-e Lee Parree se!

Mother—I wonder what Henry Augustus is trying to say? It sounds like French.

Father—Wouldn't it be funny if he learned to talk French and we could not understand him?—Harlem Life.

Seldom Do It.

"The office," said the theorist, "should seek the man."

"Possibly, possibly," replied the practical politician, "but it is my experience that offices do mighty little searching."—Chicago Post.

Very Flattering.

The Doctor—Why have you sent for me?

The Husband—Oh, my wife's mother is feeling bad, and she says she doesn't care whether she lives or not.—Yonkers Statesman.

"Hunger Is the Best Sauce,"

Yet some people are never hungry. Whatever they eat has to be "forced down." There is, of course, something wrong with these people. By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a short time they are given an appetite, and then they enjoy eating and food nourishes them. If you find your appetite failing, just try a bottle of Hood's. It's a true stomach tonic and every dose does good.

The best family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

Point of View.

"This is the seventh time you've been before me," said the magistrate.

"Yes," replied the culprit. "It's strange how some men hold on to office." — Philadelphia North American.

The Appetite of a Goat

Is envied by all poor dyspeptics whose stomach and liver are out of order. All such should know that Dr. King's New Life Pills, the wonderful stomach and liver remedy, gives a splendid appetite, sound digestion and a regular bodily habit that insures perfect health and great energy. Only 25c. at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Genesse Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of Grain-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If people are interested in their health and the welfare of their children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all, but Grain-O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it is solid grain.

Yours for health, C. F. Meyers.

Jell-O, the New Dessert,

pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

Plenty Like Her.

Mrs. Spankers—I wish to get a house in a quiet neighborhood.

Agent—Yes, madam; we can accommodate you. I have a vacant house in a street which is as quiet as a Sabbath morn all the year round. No barking dogs, no children, no nuisance of any kind.

Mrs. Spanker—That's exactly what I want. How lucky I happened to come to you! How many rooms has it?

Agent—Ten.

Mrs. Spanker—That's just right. We need a good deal of room. We have nine children. I hope there's space at the back for a doghouse. We have three.—N. Y. Weekly.

Softly Suggested.

"Don't you enjoy hearing the old songs?" asked the young man with a sentimental look in his eye.

"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne. "Do you know any?"

"Yes; what is your favorite?"

"Oh, it depends on the mood I chance to be in. You don't know 'Bid Me Good-bye and Go,' do you?"—Washington Star.

He Paused Too Long.

Johnny is seated at the piano reading.

Johnny's Mother (from above)—Johnny, why aren't you practicing?

Johnny—I am, ma.

Johnny's Mother—Well, I don't hear anything.

Johnny—Well, I'm practicing the pauses.—Musical America.

A Thoughtful Cook.

Wife—Did you tell the cook plainly that she and I can no longer live in the same house?

Husband—Yes.

Wife—I suppose she was defiant?

Husband—On the contrary, she offers to draw cuts to see who goes.—N. Y. Evening Journal.

Very Likely, Indeed.

Jones—I wonder why it is that sailors have the reputation of being so much braver than soldiers?

Smith—I don't know, I'm sure, unless it is because the sailor has a wife in every port, while few soldiers are brave enough to tackle more than one.—Ally Sloper.

Amiable.

"So," said the young girl's father, raspingly; "he has such a lovely disposition, has he?"

"Yes," she answered. "He said that if I will marry him, he won't object to living in the same house with you, even if you are real cross."—Washington Star.

Her Excuse.

"And you dare tell me you love another and intend to marry him?" said the angry youth. "Have you forgotten that only two short months ago you declared you would marry me if your father disowned you for it?"

"No, I haven't forgotten it," replied the fair but fickle maid. "I spoke to father about it at the time and he positively refused to disown me, so I could do nothing more."—Chicago Daily News.

A Metamorphosis.

Miss Smith is as slim as a cherry-tree
sprout,
Mr. Jones is as thin as a stick,
But when they're together and no one's about,
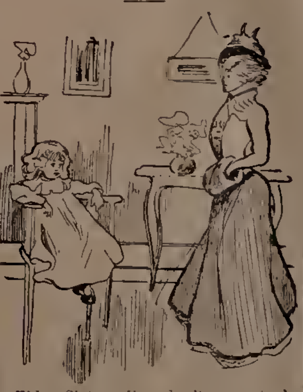
Oh, then they are awfully thick.
—Elliott's Magazine.

A STICKLER FOR PROPRIETY.



Elder Sister—You don't seem to be doing anything, Mabel. Come out for a walk.

Mabel—Thanks; but I don't think we ought both to be out together. If anyone should call on mother I think there should be one daughter at home!—Punch.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run down invalid. Only 50c. at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell-O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

Pyny-Pectoral Soothes Sore Lungs and makes tender throats well and strong.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 18 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m, S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m, 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m, 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m. S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m, 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

LOW RATES
3 MINUTES'
CONVERSATION
APPROXIMATELY
AS FOLLOWS

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	-	-	10c
5 to 15 miles,	-	-	15c
15 to 25 "	-	-	20c
25 to 35 "	-	-	25c
35 to 45 "	-	-	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to
New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.
au25F

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

G. A. Martin, M.D.,
...AND...
C. B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A. J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m.
12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.
M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m., except holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1829.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT
Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

BABY
FOOD
MILK

There's a Sucker Born Every Minute,

so give the babies a chance for life by using our improved nursing bottles and our strengthening and nourishing baby foods. Life for the little ones during the heated term means bottles that can be kept thoroughly clean and food that will make pure blood, bone and muscle, and our foods will do it.

We recommend Mellin's Food.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Thieves entered the residence of Edgar A. Dart while the latter was away on his vacation and stole two rifles and all of his silverware. That same night a five-gallon can of turpentine was stolen from the freighthouse.——Charles E. Brown has returned from his vacation at Sciaconset.——Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heffron are at Dr. Heffron's camp at King Philip's pond.——A series of races will be held at Lake Pearl Saturday afternoon by the summer residents who have cottages bordering on the lake.——Daniel Brown will probably not open his straw hat factory until September 1.——This village has $5,000 appropriated to expend on the construction of state roads. This will bring the road to near the residence of Oliver Everett.——Thirty-five pictures were sold of the famous old oak tree, which is said to be over six hundred years old, at the recent fair.

MULES ARE OF VALUE.

The South African war may be regarded as the apotheosis of the mule, as probably at no period of history have these useful animals attracted so much attention, or have their merits been so much discussed. Southern Europe and America are being scoured even to-day by British agents on the search for more mules.

These animals are being bought by the thousands, for they are invaluable to an army corps acting in hilly or otherwise difficult ground. In this country the raising of mules has long passed the experimental stage and we have reaped the reward the past year in consequence of the demand for mules by the British army in South Africa.

England has awakened to the fact that she might have kept the money herself if her farmers had devoted themselves to mule raising. They are less care than horses and are admirable draught animals, break easily and last a long time.

Foiled.

"So the elopement on the automobile was nipped in the bud?"

"Yes; the old man bid the gasoline can."—Syracuse Herald.

No Formalities Omitted.

"Did Jack kiss you when you accepted him?"

"Certainly. I wouldn't consider any but sealed proposals."—Stray Stories.

Tonight

Just before retiring, if your liver is sluggish, out of tune and you feel dull, bilious, constipated, take a dose of

Hood's Pills

And you'll be all right in the morning.

Church Services.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 4. Sunday school at 3. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9, high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. N. T. Dyer of Ashburnham. Sunday school at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30. No evening service.

Methodist church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. S. Halfyard on "The Christian's Answer." No evening service. Sunday school at 12. Epworth league at 6.30.

Baptist church, Rev. Frank B. Sleeper, pastor. Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. J. S. Girdwood of Woonsocket. Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.15.

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending August 15, 1900.

Ladies—Miss Mary Groves, Mrs. Joseph Hadran, Miss Louise Kilbride, Miss Cassie McGinty, Miss Lizzie Warren.

Gentlemen—C. S. Chalter, J. Fisher, George Gay, [illegible] Heywood, C. A. Jillson, Horace Kennard.

Foreign—Madame Etoilienne Gadou.

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

Modern Drama.

"She isn't much of an actress, but the women are all raving over the way she dresses on the stage."

"No wonder! She puts on her shoes without sitting down on the floor!"—Detroit Journal.

He Fooled the Surgeons.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from rectal fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists.

Bad blood is a bad thing to inherit or acquire, but bad blood may be made good blood by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

As He Put It.

"Yes," said the colonel; "I have always been a firm believer in discipline. Consequently, whenever my wife and daughter issue their orders I obey without hesitation."

"I understand your daughter is to be married."

"Yes; she's going to assume an independent command."—Puck.

THE ROSE = FOR LOVE.
SUNRISE = = FOR BEAUTY.
"COOK CO." = FOR BARGAINS.

GO-CARTS, $8.00 == Nice

Never heard a baby complain yet. Babies are all right in one of "Cook's Rolling Stock. Assortment is complete.

Same Good Old Terms--A Little Down, Then $1.00 or 50c. Weekly.

Everybody waits for their car in our store—so nice and cool. Try it.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

Summer Days are Here...

Perhaps n-nee-da LINEN, DUCK or WHITE P. K. SKIRT?

LINEN SKIRTS, 49c. each.
LINEN SKIRTS, worth $1.25, now 98c.
LINEN SKIRTS, worth $1.75, now $1.25.
BLUE and WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, were $2.25, now $1.49.
WHITE DUCK SKIRTS, were $1.25, now 87c.
WHITE DUCK SKIRTS, with insertion, were $2.25, now $1.69.
WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, with insertion, were $3.25, now $2.50.
WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, with insertion, were $3.75, now $2.98.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.

BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

CONCERNING CONGRESSMEN.

Senator Cullom is said to present more petitions in the senate than any other member of that body, and it is a very unusual thing for a week to pass without several being submitted by him.

Senators Platt, of New York, and Platt, of Connecticut, are both expert weather prophets. It is related of the former that he once made and won a bet with the weather man at the senate end of the capitol that a certain prediction of the weather man would not come true.

The loudest speakers in congress are Senator Tillman and Representative Brosius. Mr. Brosius speaks with a long, deep roar, while Senator Tillman, when thoroughly wrought up to his subject, speaks in spasmodic shrieks.

Several members of the house of representatives are shorthand writers of more or less skill. Many of those who are lawyers studied stenography for convenience and effectiveness in making notes. One of the most skillful of these writers is Mr. Hitt, of Illinois.

Should Remain Silent.

An ignorant man should always remain silent, but if he knows enough to do so he isn't ignorant.—Chicago Daily News.

Married.

In Newburyport, August 11, James H. A. Smith of Newburyport, Mass., and Miss Molly Garfield Higgins of Bar Harbor, Me. No cards.

Hoag Lake PARK.

WEEK OF AUG. 13.

Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.30.

Boom's Black Diamonds.

Erastus Banks, in "A Coontown Picnic."

Harry Brown, monologist and cartoonist.

The Black Diamond Quartette.

Pinky Gross, prima donna.

Wells Sisters, singers and dancers.

The Larkins, Rulers of Coonville.

A roaring afterpiece, "Telephone Coon."

Charles A. Wheeler, accompanist.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je28 toe1

THE CANNING SEASON

Is at hand. You can find Glass Jars, Rubbers, Preserving Kettles, Porcelain-Lined Kettles, Fruit Tunnels, Stew Pans, great and small.

Also a fine lot of Water Sets.

CALL AND EXAMINE

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

COURT OF LAND REGISTRATION

SUFFOLK, ss.

To Adelbert F. Perry, Terrance Cassidy, Frank Cassidy and Daniel Dinneen of Millis, in the county of Norfolk, Frances Collins of Needham, in said county of Norfolk, Fred H. Williams of Brookline, in said county of Norfolk, William F. Collins of Boston, in said county of Suffolk, Florence E. Clark of New York city, in the state of New York, and Margaret D. Richardson of Elmhurst, in said state of New York, and to all whom it may concern.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court by Charles L. Richardson of said Boston, Clarissa R. Leland of Sherborn, in the county of Middlesex, Jeremiah D. Richardson, Charlotte L. Hamilton, Edward F. Richardson and Josie E. Richardson of said New York city to register and confirm their title in the following described land: A certain parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, situate in said Millis, and bounded southeasterly by Orchard street 1242 feet; northeasterly by land of Daniel Dinneen 27 feet, northwesterly by said land of Dinneen 928 feet, westerly by land of heirs of M. Collins and parcel hereinafter described 225 feet, southerly by land of Fred H. Williams on two lines measuring together 447 feet, northwesterly again by said Williams' land 239 feet, and southwesterly by said land of Williams 94 feet.

Also another parcel of land situate in said Millis, and bounded southeasterly by Orchard street 317 feet, northerly by land of Fred H. Williams 293 feet, easterly by said land of Williams 662 feet, northerly again by land of heirs of M. Collins 650 feet, westerly, southwesterly and southerly by Bogastow Brook about 1290 feet, easterly by land of heirs of M. Collins 100 feet, southerly by the same 45 feet, westerly by the same 100 feet, and southwesterly by the same 25 feet.

Said lots are shown on a plan filed with said petition.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Court of Land Registration, to be held at Boston, in said county of Suffolk, on the FOURTH day of SEPTEMBER, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Leonard A. Jones, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixth day of August, in the year nineteen hundred.

Attest with the Seal of said Court. [SEAL]

CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

au10,17,24

Witch Hazel Jelly...

An improved form of Witch Hazel, far more effective and convenient than the ordinary Witch Hazel. It is a quick and efficient remedy in all cases of burns, bruises and all irritations of the skin, such as hives, nettle rash, mosquito bites, etc.

15 CTS. BOTTLE.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

MARKED DOWN TO CLOSE OUT:

White Shirt Waists, 75c.
Colored Waists, 35c.

Butterick Patterns
and Publications.

N. C. NYE.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Coal! Coal!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

FOR SALE.

Two Grocery Wagons, one Grocery Pung, Harnesses, all Fixtures suitable for grocery business. Also, stock of Groceries. Will be sold in whole or part.

Apply to J. B. McKINNON.

MEDFIELD AND WAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tfS

You May Not Live Another Month

The man who begrudges the money it costs to insure his life to a reasonable amount is not only selfish, but he fails to recognize one of the first duties he owes his family.

ARE YOU THE MAN?

W. S. JOHNSON, Special Agent

The Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York.

jly27-1mF

Something New...

Have you stopped to think of the pleasure something new always brings with it? A dress, a ring, a piece of furniture—no matter what it may be, inspiration and bright spirits follow along in its wake. Especially if it's Furniture. Every time you sit in the soft chair or stretch out on the soft couch it makes you happy. This is a happiness which every one can afford while we have the stock we have and charge the prices we do.

Our Terms:

$10 worth, $1 down, 50c. a week.
$25 worth, $2.50 down, 75c. a week.
$50 worth, $5 down, $1 a week.
$75 worth, $7.50 down, $1.25 a week.
$100 worth, $10 down, $1.50 a week.
$125 worth, $15 down, $2 a week.
$150 worth, $25 down, $2.25 a week.
$200 worth, $40 down, $2.50 a week.
$250 worth, $50 down, $3 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Special engagement for the season, S. M. Stephens' PUNCH and JUDY SHOW to entertain the children.

Dancing every afternoon and Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings.

No admission charge at the gates evenings after 6 o'clock.

DANCING 5c.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON,

Battery Band

OF PROVIDENCE.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof. Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.

Circulars free on application.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

SUPERIOR COURT

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court, to be holden at Dedham within and for the County of Norfolk

Respectfully libels and represents Susanna Smith of Sharon, in said county, that she was lawfully married to James B. Smith, now of parts unknown, at said Sharon on the ninth day of April, A. D. 1878, and thereafterwards your libellant and the said James B. Smith lived together as husband and wife in this commonwealth, to wit., at Brockton in our county of Plymouth and at Easton in our county of Bristol; that your libellant has always been faithful to her marriage vows and obligations, but the said James B. Smith being wholly regardless of the same at said Easton on Monday, the eleventh day of February, A. D. 1884, utterly deserted your libellant and has continued such desertion from that time to the date hereof, being more than three consecutive years prior to the filing of this libel.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your libellant and the said James B. Smith, and for such other orders and decrees as to your honors shall seem meet and as justice may require.

Dated the thirty-first day of July, A. D. 1900.

SUSANNA SMITH.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

NORFOLK, SS.

SUPERIOR COURT.

On the foregoing libel it is ordered that the libellant give notice to the said James B. Smith, the libellee, to appear before the justices of this court, to be holden at Dedham, within and for said county, on the first Monday of September next, by causing an attested copy of said libel, and of this order thereon, to be published once in a week for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper printed at Franklin in the county of Norfolk, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before the said first Monday of September next, and further, by sending through the mail, as soon as may be, by a registered letter addressed to the last known residence of the said James B. Smith an attested copy of said libel and of this order thereon, that the said James B. Smith may then and there show cause why the prayer of said libel should not be granted.

By the Court.

LOUIS A. COOK, Clerk.

August 1, A. D. 1900.

A true copy of said libel and of the order thereon.

Attest: R. B. WORTHINGTON, Assistant Clerk.

3,10,17

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW

Enclosed • Arc • Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.

UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

Hattie M Fisher 1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 67. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, AUGUST 21, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
...gee's Sale	2
... Lake Park	4
...n S. Cook & Co., Woonsocket	1
... Pearl	4
...ctions at Woonsocket Opera House	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 05 till 10 15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 2.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill to the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Miss Margaret Gallivan is at Newport for two weeks.

Fales returned from his outing in Maine today.

Mrs. Elijah Leonard has sold her place on Cottage street.

Dr. E. C. Abbott returned from his vacation yesterday.

The town officers' room is to be renovated and brushed up.

William Donovan is the new assistant in Ochee's barber shop.

Silas Bradley of Manchester, N. H., is visiting friends in town.

Trolley parties with fish-horn bands have ceased to be a novelty.

A number from here are taking in the Readville races this week.

Dr. A. J. Gallison is expected to return from Europe in September.

Mrs. John A. Barustead has returned from her vacation out of town.

Fred L. Tufts has been confined to the house by illness the past few days.

George L. Abercrombie has returned to his home in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

"Hogan's Alley," Woonsocket Opera House Thursday evening. See adv.

Miss Mary Shaughnessey is spending a vacation with friends in Providence.

Mrs. Addie Mowry will shortly remove to Norwood, where her sister resides.

Mrs. J. D. Sanborn and granddaughter are spending the day at Rocky Point.

Charles Williams of, Worcester has been visiting his sister, Mrs. C. M. Allen.

Thomas Grange left town Friday for New York, where he is to spend a vacation.

Mrs. E. F. Richardson; returned Monday from a week at the Northfield conference.

The Misses Eliza and Nellie Gallivan have returned from a week's outing at Block Island.

Mrs. C. B. Johnson and two children are spending a week or two at Wellfleet, on the Cape.

Miss Laura A. Blake, assistant cashier in the national bank, is on a vacation at Provincetown.

The field meeting of the Farmers' club will be held with James Adams and Monroe Morse tomorrow.

Miss Nellie Cody of Woonsocket is visiting at the home of William G. Cody on Union and Central streets.

Miss Nellie Tiffany and Joseph Norton of Mt. Auburn are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John McCooe of Union street.

Mrs. Frederick Bright and two children, Grace and Edith Pond, have returned from a week's outing at Rockport.

Flowers for the Alden club may be left this week with Mrs. Mabel Doe, Mrs. Talbot, Mrs. Gifford and Mrs. W. C. Sherman.

Mrs. Lewis Merrifield enjoyed last week "the old home week" in Buckfield, Me., having a poem which attracted a good deal of attention.

Cars on the Medway-Franklin electric line were tied up for three hours Friday afternoon owing to difficulty at the power house caused by the storm.

William Eddy was brought here from Worcester recently to his brother-in-law's, J. A. Smith, suffering from blindness owing to an explosion of ammonia.

Rev. E. L. Atkinson of Boston, who delivered the baccalaureate address before the High school at the Congregational church this year, is suffering from an attack of temporary blindness.

A trolley party arranged by Mrs. Frank Shiner had a specially decorated and illuminated car to Dedham on Saturday evening, about 20 couples enjoying the trip. They returned about midnight.

An official street railway map recently issued puts the old Pine Tree tavern between Lake Pearl and Wrentham instead of between Lake Pearl and Franklin, and names Mine brook as Pine brook.

William H Allen of Downington, Pa., is here for the week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Allen. He will take his children, who have been staying here a number of weeks, home with him.

Some of the legal fraternity want the missing link of street railway between Wrentham and Foxboro built to give easier communication with the district court which is held here. A great many others join in the wish.

C. H Prince, foreman of the SENTINEL office, writes home interesting letters of his trip abroad with Rev. Mr. Cook. They have their wheels with them and tour wherever it is practicable. They will return about the first of September.

A team collided with a baby carriage containing an infant at the crossing near Dana's drug store on Main street Friday afternoon The carriage was upset and the child thrown out, but when picked up it was found to have suffered no injury.

The Franklin band will give a concert at Lake Pearl Thursday evening, when dancing will be free. The last car on the Medway line that evening will not leave until 11 45. On Saturday evening the American band orchestra will furnish music for the dancing

A number of taxpayers have quickly responded to the presentation of bills and settled their 1900 account with the town. It is usually the case that a few of the prompt ones settle in August or early in September, after which there is a lull in the business until the middle of November.

The street railway company is putting in a telephone service between the car barn and the centre, and probably the length of the line too, to enable the company to keep better track of cars and locate any trouble which may arise. It will doubtless prove a very convenient arrangement.

Central street, from Unionville to east of Beaver street, has been repaired with a new coating of gravel, and east of the railroad bridge, from the plain to the Wrentham line, a gang of men in the employ of the street railway company is making improvements in the way of a wider driveway outside the tracks.

One hundred and fifty members of Josephine Cercle of Woonsocket came here on a trolley ride Friday evening and spent two hours at the Franklin House. Whist was played and there was excellent singing by the members, who got all the pleasure possible from the beginning to the end of the affair. The party returned to Woonsocket atmidnight.

The funeral of Councilman Harvey W. Walker, who was drowned in the Charles river at Allston on Wednesday, was held in the Congregational church, Milford, at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, Rev. F.E. Emrick of South Framingham officiating. There were a number of beautiful floral tributes. The burial was in the family lot in Pine Grove cemetery.

On some of the cross streets the brush are beginning to take possession of the driveways and the woodman with his axe will soon begin a campaign against them. This may be against the wishes of the forestry cranks who advocate letting the brush grow at the road side, but will meet the wishes of those who drive in such highways with covered carriages.

The Battery band of Providence, one of the finest in this section, gave a concert at Lake Pearl Sunday afternoon, lasting four hours. Large crowds were at the lake last week, but on Tuesday and Thursday evenings the gatherings have been very large, and dancing, the principal attraction, has been well patronized. Thursday evening a large crowd is expected.

William H.Smith of Union street, who is in the employ of Mrs. W. F. Ray, and Mrs. M. Ella Harris of High street, were united in marriage at the Baptist parsonage Friday evening, the ceremony being performed by Rev. F. B. Sleeper. The couple left for a wedding trip after the ceremony and will spend the honeymoon in Maine and Vermont, returning here in two weeks.

Three men were arrested late Saturday night at Beaver pond by Special Officer Cody on the charge of breaking the lock on a row boat owned by Eugene Fisher. The men are said to have been out for a night's fishing in the pond and were in the act of taking the boat when arrested. They gave bonds to appear for a hearing in the district court today, when they were fined $5 each.

At the meeting of the selectmen Friday evening a petition was received from the property owners and residents of McCarthy street, asking that the sidewalk on that thoroughfare be improved. John Ford of Beaver street appeared before the board and complained that the M., A. & W. Street Railway company were digging on his land on Beaver street without leave or license and destroying the roadway in front of his property. Supt. Daniels was given permission to make telephone connection with certain of the schools in town, and the board adjourned, after approving a number of bills.

"Two Little Vagrants," an interesting and highly successful melodrama, with an interesting story, will be the attraction at the Woonsocket Opera house Saturday matinee and night, August 25th. It is a story of the heart, from the heart and for the heart, illustrated by a complete equipment of beautiful scenery and an excellent cast, which includes Anna Bodden, Lottie Briscoe, Ethelle Earl, Katharine Vincent, Ruth Eldredge, Arthur Cogliser, Del LaBarre, Harry Collins, Hugh Cameron, James Baum, Robert Mullen, and Neva Harrison in the famous character of Fan-Fan. Seats go on sale Thursday, August 23, for matinee and night.

Antonio Simonelli, who it is alleged stole $230 and a gold watch from Louis Malatesta, who keeps a fruit stand at Metcalf block, on the night of Saturday, August 12, was arrested by Officers Powers and Kelliher at Worcester last Saturday evening and the authorities here were notified. Special Officer Connor went to Worcester Sunday and brought Simonelli here. He was locked up until yesterday morning, when he was taken to Walpole for a hearing. Judge Doe held him in $500 bonds to await the action of the September grand jury. When Simonelli was arrested at Worcester he was taken to the police station in a patrol wagon and when the prisoner was searched $3 69 was found upon him, but no watch The officers returned to the patrol wagon and found the watch and chain upon the floor, where Simonelli had evidently dropped them on the way to the station.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Stewart, who have been spending a week at the Northfield conferences, are expected home today. They report it a charming place naturally, and the services have been strong, helpful and largely attended. From 1,500 to 2,500 assemble in the auditorium several hours a day and listen with marked attention to the truths of the Gospel expounded by men of rare ability. It is impossible to begin to appreciate the work of Mr. Moody until one has visited Northfield. Right here, almost within view, are a dozen or more buildings, costing thousands of dollars each, where several hundred young girls receive an education during the year. About four miles away is Mt. Hermon, where there are as many more fine brick buildings, splendidly equipped, where five hundred boys are given a practical education. It is a wonderful work and its influence will be never-ending.

Noyes—Razee.

Frank W. Noyes of Providence and Miss Nellie T. Razee, daughter of Mrs. Sarah T. Razee, were joined in wedlock at the residence of the bride's mother on Central street at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Capen, president of Tufts college, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, little Miss Hortense Razee, a niece of the bride, acting as ring bearer. Carroll Sargent of Salem and Fred W. Noyes of Franklin, N. H., were the ushers.

The parlors, where the ceremony took place, were tastefully decorated with ferns, flowers and potted plants. Following the marriage service a wedding supper was served from 4.30 to 6, when the bride and groom left for a wedding trip. They were the recipients of many elegant gifts.

The groom is the son of Rev. James Noyes of Franklin, N. H., and his father, mother and brother, Fred S. Noyes, witnessed the marriage. He was formerly a clerk in the store of Marston Sanborn on Main street, and is at present assistant buyer in the cloak department of the Boston Store at Providence. The couple will reside in Providence.

At Hoag Lake Theatre.

Julius Ranney, manager of the theatre at Hoag lake park, promises the patrons first-class entertainment this week. Among the performers will be Gilmore and LaTour, character change artists; Phill and Phill, Dutch comedy musical act; Riley and Hughes, black-face song and dance artists, and Masse and Masse, comedy jugglers. Riley has appeared at the theatre before and is a favorite. This time he is accompanied by a partner.

Antiques in Franklin.

One of the descendants of Abijah Clark of South Franklin has a pair of gum rubber shoes There is no disputing the fact of their being all that is claimed for them. These shoes have to be thoroughly heated before they can be utilized for the feet, but don't they fit, though, when once they are put on? Before removing them from the feet they have to be warmed again. Sometimes in taking them off, if allowed to get too warm, they will stretch a yard. They can be put into all sorts of shapes, round or square, three cornered, hexagon or octagon. There is pure stock enough in this pair of rubbers to make a hundred pairs such as is put upon the market today These rubbers have had several years' wear and remain intact Among this branch of the Clark family is an Indian axe of great antiquity, also snowshoes and all kinds of household and farming utensils.

In the M. M. Daniels home, Washington street, is a clock with wooden works, a very old timepiece, antedating a hundred and fifty years ago Among the Daniels collection are many articles similar in character and construction to those reported in other families.

In the Herman Miller home, Prospect place, are some very old readers and Bibles; also files of the Boston Traveler containing the account of the Walcs-Whiting tragedy in the winter of 1839; also files of the same paper with the account of President Lincoln's assassination in April of 1865

The Peck house, a little farther down, is rich in antiques. A wooden settee, very high straight back and narrow seat, has stood there for nearly a half score of generations A whole column might be devoted to the description of the oldtime goods and chattels of this ancient landmark when we lived under the English sovereigns. Forty years ago there was no value placed upon old furniture or personal effects. The writer has been to auctions where mahogany and walnut bedsteads, chests and bureaus were sold for ten and twenty five cents to be broken up into kindling wood Mr. Alfred Clark, Jr, more than any man in town can tell you about the sale and disposition of these oldtime effects. When the "old folks" died the "young folks" got everything into money to buy new Just think of it! A mahogany or rosewood bureau selling for twenty five or fifty cents to be replaced with a painted pine affair that would all go to pieces in two years at the most if used at all.

The Tower home is especially worthy of note. There is a reclining chair made of bambo which can be extended at will, and was brought from Japan before the ports were opened to the traffic of the world. This is an expensive piece of work and evinces the rare skill in carving the Japanese are noted for. Here are five fiddle back chairs, same in structure (although repainted) as those that were in use before Napoleon was heard of Just think of it! The subjects treated in those papers for the greater part were old furniture before railroads, steamships, telegraphy or sun pictures were conceived of, not to refer to inventions of the past four decades. There should be a hall set apart in this town for the preservation of these antiques and the enlightenment of this and succeeding generations. Who will start it? All of the families the writer has consulted have expressed a willingness to loan, and some to donate, any or all of their specimens for the benefit of the community. These antiques have no place in the present mode of living. Any one caught using a warming pan or foot stove would be sent to Taunton or treated for paresis. This place is where they can be seen. A kindergarten for young and old, for those who shall come after us. It is certainly encouraging to see the interest evidenced upon every hand in regard to this matter. Since the appearance of these letters the writer has been deluged with accounts of antiques somebody's father had or ought to have had. What we want is something to be seen and felt now, and the articles referred to in these letters have all been seen and may be seen by any one who will take the time to see them, as the owners are all accessible and approachable. If any one in the town has a subject not already mentioned in these columns no doubt the SENTINEL will give it honorable mention. As for myself, the tree is dropping more apples than can be judiciously disposed of. This would be all right providing there was not so much of the fruit of the same variety. The tree I planted is getting top-heavy, as most of my friends want to put a graft on; so with one stroke I will cut the tree and the subject.

W. R. RICHARDSON.

Office Closed.

My patrons are requested to note that my dental office will be closed until further notice during my vacation.

DR. M. E. POND.

Eat fish as well as meat. Shad, swordfish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fishman.

Two chairs at Ochee's barber shop. Accomplished hair dresser, William Donovan, now in attendance. Short waits.

Sweet peas at Slade's greenhouse.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The editor assumes no responsibility for matter under this caption. This column is entirely at the disposal of the public, avoiding, as far as possible, trivial and controversial matter.]

Special Features for Workmen.

Mr. Editor:—In these days of common complaint about the conscienceless character of corporations it is very refreshing to come in contact with an evident example of the opposite disposition. Quite recently I had the privilege of visiting the plant of the Sessions Foundry Co. in Bristol, Conn., which is said to be the most complete of its kind. The company makes a large variety of castings, from the smallest piece in a typewriter to the largest used by the Metropolitan water company of Boston. The plant is inclosed by a high picket fence a mile in circumference. Every part of the plant is built upon the latest and most improved plans But what impresses the visitor most of all is the thoughtfulness for the workmen. Labor saving machinery, like huge cranes, run by electricity, railways for carrying the melted iron, pneumatic tubular system for delivering messages to every part of the plant, a most complete and extensive telephone system, private steam call whistles for the managers, superintendents and chief clerks, adding machines, etc, all of which look in the direction of saving the employe. But the following features are more especially interesting: The members of the firm have privately purchased until they possess eighty acres of land about the plant, which are being beautified in various ways. The primary purpose was to prevent any saloon being established near to the works. In place of the saloon two excellent features are introduced. In every part of the works are faucets from which can be drawn fresh spring water requiring no ice to cool it. Then, also, two milkmen are privileged to go to any part of the works and deliver milk in glass cans to the men who wish to purchase. A magnificent substitute for beer! Again, the grounds are kept in a cleanly condition, a number of acres about the plant being a lawn, which is mowed constantly with the lawn mower. Each year on this pretty place surrounding the works the firm gives a picnic to the workmen and their friends. A band is provided and luncheon served, all the expense of which is borne by the corporation.

Another helpful feature is the medical department. One of the clerks has taken instructions in simple surgery. He has a case of instruments and supplies, and the moment a man is injured he is attended to until more skillful aid can be rendered. No life has ever been lost in this foundry, although many have suffered injury. A final feature which I would mention is the fine lavatory, fitted out with washbowls, bathtubs, lockers and all the necessary articles for a first-class bath. Necessarily the foundry work is not cleanly and the men come to the close of the day with blackened hands and faces. To have the privilege of a bathroom wash is almost a luxury in such a place. As Mr. Sessions said to me, "A man, if he will, can greet his wife and children with clean hands and face."

Such a movement in the commercial life of today is in the direction of true social development of the race and of the true relations between capital and labor. Permit me to say that this is largely the result of the Christian spirit. Mr. Sessions died about a year ago, a Christian man. His two sons are also Christians. A few years ago the father built a new church edifice; one of the sons placed in it a fine organ and the other furnished the church throughout, the whole costing $75,000. The Methodist denomination has thus the finest church building in the town. Men of this character are of inexpressible value to the business world, to the race and to the kingdom of God.

I. W. S.

Braved Their Smiles.

Franklin men are slow to adopt the latest fad, the female shirt waist, but by all accounts it is bound to come, and next year will see many of them adorning manly as well as womanly forms. Indeed, a drummer at the station here the other day sported a creation which for femininity surpassed anything ever beheld in town. It was a scorching hot day, yet he looked as cool and comfortable as you may imagine, and he wore his new acquisition with as little unconcern as if it had been a part of man's apparel for all time. While he must have felt that he was the cynosure for all eyes, he yet appeared to have the courage of his convictions and looked as one who might say, "I am going to keep cool if it is a possible thing, and so long as I do not offend modesty I see no reason why I should not adopt this new style of garment." Dealers insist that it has come to stay, and though it may meet with opposition for a time, as it did when the ladies first adopted it, yet it commended itself to their good judgment and was universally adopted, and will probably never drop into innocuous desuetude.

Cut flowers, all kinds of funeral designs well made up at Slade's greenhouse. Roses in small or large quantities.

Injured in a Runaway.

Burley Smith of Hardyville drives into town every week day morning and afternoon, conveying Mrs. Smith, who is employed in the American Woolen mill, to and from their home in that village

Friday afternoon he came to town in his team as usual and as he was driving along Central street, near the High school, at 5.30, the horse became frightened, and Mr. Smith, losing control, the animal started down Central street, towards Union, at a mad pace.

Mr. Smith held on to the reins and was doing his best to check the horse's flight, when Union street was reached. Here the animal turned to the left, made a circle and the buggy was completely overturned, with Mr Smith under it, the horse freeing itself and dashing on toward the Franklin House, where it was caught by Duncan Ford.

Mr. Smith was immediately extricated from beneath the wrecked buggy and taken into the office of the Franklin House. Dr. Randall was summoned and found that Mr. Smith's nose had been broken, besides receiving two severe gashes in the forehead and being bruised and cut in the face. He was not apparently injured internally, and after Dr. Randall dressed his wounds he was driven home, accompanied by Mrs. Smith, who had been acquainted of the accident soon after the occurrence. The buggy was wrecked completely Base Ball Games on Saturday.

The Victors, formerly known as the Heliotype nine, were defeated by the North Bellingham team, 9 to 4, on the latter's grounds Saturday afternoon.

Our Boys defeated the Unions of Medway on the latter's grounds Saturday, the score standing 18 to 8 in the Franklin team's favor The batteries were Fiske and Boucher for Our Boys and Malloy and Phillips for the Unions. This made a record of eight victories and no defeats for Our Boys

The recently organized Ray base ball team and the Hayward nine played at Indian Rock park Saturday afternoon and the Ray team won out, 16 to 11. The features of the game were the battery work of Kane and McKenna, the playing of Savage, Bourbean and Cook and the batting of McKenna, Cook and [illegible] for the Rays, and the all-round playing of Davis and batting of D. Chilson and Dion for the Haywards The batteries were Kane and McKena for the Rays and Chilson and Dion for the Haywards

A Sharp Trick.

The railroad companies are giving considerable attention to a clever piece of swindling which is being practiced in towns which have electric car communication. It is the practice of these swindlers to take their baggage to the depot and get it checked, showing a mileage ticket to the baggage agent in proof of their claim to be a prospective passenger on a certain train, but in reality having no intention to travel on a steam road.

They patronize the electric cars and give them their money while making the steam cars carry their luggage. It is understood that in some cases a mileage ticket has been especially borrowed for the purpose and returned to the owner with no coupon detached. Future efforts of this nature may cause trouble for those attempting it.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

To Let.—House and barn. Emily F. Aldrich. 21,24*

Good wages for a girl to do housework. Inquire at SENTINEL office. 24 tf

100 cords trash hard and pine limbs, at Allen's wood yard, School street.

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

Wanted.—A ton of horse hay. Will pay for same in carpenter work. F. E. Dudley, Union and Central streets. 14*

Wanted.—By a middle aged English lady, a situation as housekeeper. Inquire of Mrs Charles King, at Bellingham Four Corners. 21*

To Let—A small tenement corner of Central and School streets; rent $4. Also one of five or six rooms on Central street. Apply to Mrs. A. P. Woodward. 17,21*

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office,

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J.B.McKINNON, Agent.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

A carload of brewery grain received every Tuesday at Metcalf's station, where any quantity can be purchased. Good for milch cows, hens or hogs. Great saving on grain. Inquire at the station.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

Read the Business Announcements.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

FRIDAY. AUGUST 21, 1900.

S. L. POWERS is probably as well and favorably known as any lawyer in Massachusetts. He has the hearty indorsement of his neighbors and of his whole county. His public and private life are open books. Mr. Powers will insist on a dignified campaign, as he has from the beginning.

We do not think that senatorial experience has ever been considered as a very necessary prerequisite for the turning out of a good congressman. Without going very far back in the political history of Massachusetts we think it will readily be seen that many of our best men who attained highest public office were bereft of that senatorial education which the friends of Mr. Williams hold to be so valuable.

Take our men in congress today. We do not remember that Moody, Lavering or Greene ever served even in the lower branch of the state legislature. Weymouth, Knox, McCall and Gillette certainly never reached the state senate. We are talking of Republican congressmen. Yet those men, without that senatorial experience, have made pretty good representatives of the old bay state. Gen Draper went to congress and became ambassador to Italy without ever being a member of the great and general court. Senator Lodge served only in the lower branch of the state legislature, and Senator Hoar attained eminence without any state legislative training. Even to attain so high a position of honor and trust as the governorship of the state does not seem to have demanded that legislative training. Gov. Wolcott served in the lower branch, never in the senate; Gov. Greenhalge did likewise; Gov. Russell, as the present incumbent, was never a member of the general court.

The "locality" argument is a most strong one. It obtains in national, state and city politics. To say that it should not be taken into account in this instance or in any other would argue a very slight knowledge of political institutions and traditions in this state.

Two miles from Stuart, Va., on the farm of J. W. Robertson, stands the famous Robertson tree, the parent of all apple trees of that name in the United States. It bears a large, red apple which keeps well, and it has produced at one bearing 85 bushels; is about 80 years old and is still bearing.

Twin boys born in New York on the day the great new tunnel was started have been named Robert Rapid Transit and William Rapid Transit. The run on living war heroes has subsided.

An exchange informs us that an attempt to evade the payment of one cent toll on the Berks and Dauphin turnpike has just cost a rich Pennsylvania cattle dealer ten dollars.

Growing flowers for the Easter market is not a sure business, even with the best florists, says a city florist. A very small miscalculation will result either in forcing the flowers too soon or in delaying their blooming until the Easter demand is over. In either event the flowers are a heavy loss.

It is reported that Rev. J. S. Bitter, a Methodist clergyman, of Missouri is organizing a company to develop gold mining claims at Cripple Creek, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to a fund for evangelistic work in large cities.

The genuine maple sugar makers are organizing exchanges for self-protection. To these they send their sirup and sugar, for grading, weighing and stamping thus guaranteeing the genuineness of the product.

The Omaha man who spent 115 days in jail rather than tell a lie was doubtless trying to run his affairs as George Washington would. But at that rate he will have a hard time doing any business.

Fine legal points come up in Connecticut. It has just been held in that state that asking for a chew of tobacco is not begging under the law.

IT'S NO USE—

A man simply can't make any sort of success in business if he's tortured with backache.

That means if his kidneys are out of order.

Backache is really kidney ache.

It is one of the first indications of kidney disease. It's had enough of itself, but it leads to a great deal worse.

Unless it is stopped.

How?

Doan's Kidney Pills

There's not a form of kidney trouble that this wonderful little remedy will not cure, and the people stay cured.

Mr. John C. Melloon, grocer and provision merchant at the corner of Bridge and 7th streets, Lowell, Mass., says:—

"In the spring of 1896 I was forced, from severe pain in the back, to procure Doan's Kidney Pills at Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store, at the corner of Merrimack and Central streets, and take a course of the treatment. It was speedily followed by absolute relief, and up to date I have not had a symptom of a return."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers, or sent by mail on receipt of price. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

BEAUTIFUL FIGURES.

How a Woman May Acquire and Retain Symmetrical Development.

A beautiful figure is the most precious gift, after perfect health, that any woman can possess. It is of far more value than a pretty face. It lasts much longer, and it does not betray the years, as must eventually even the most perfect features and the most lovely skin. With a perfect form, smartly gowned and well set up, a woman cannot fail to look charming.

There are three classes of women from an artistic standpoint, who may lay claim to beauty of form. In the first class belong all the daughters of Juno. They are great, tall, magnificent looking creatures, whom some men describe as "full bodied" women. In the second class are the daughters of Venus. These women usually give the impression of ideality. They are always well-developed, graceful and generally good to look at. In the third class are gathered the children of Psyche. Under this class come the women and maidens usually described as having fragile, girlish looking figures. Of the three classes, some admire one and some another, but very beautiful women are found in all three.

A woman who desires to make the very most of herself should study her own figure. She should find out its good points, its better points, its bad points and its very bad points.

She should then take it in hand, and by means of exercise, diet, gymnastics, a good tailor and a first-class corset maker, set herself up to the best possible advantage.

A woman can really do more with her figure than she can with her face.

If inclined to be too stout she should rigorously abstain from everything that encourages embonpoint, such as late hours, over indulgence at table and leading in general a lazy, indolent existence.

If she has not the courage to make these sacrifices she must say good-by to beauty of form. She will then join the overflowing ranks of women who, when they have passed the age of 30, make no further pretensions to beauty of figure.

If, on the contrary, her trouble be an unsightly leanness of body and limb, which makes it impossible for her ever to appear in either becoming evening gown or smart tailor frock, she should, with the aid of both diet and gymnasium, set about developing her form to the utmost. It is her duty to cover, with soft, firm curving flesh, the harsh outline of her angles. Some thin women think it useless to try to put on a little flesh. They say, hopelessly: "Oh, it's not my nature to be fat." They appear never to have learned that it is of the very nature of a human being to possess a healthy, well-developed body.

When they lack this gift of nature, their birthright, there is something wrong somewhere. They should find out what it is, and remedy it.—N. Y. Herald.

Always the Same.

Wicks—Your wife doesn't look a minute older than she did ten years ago.

Hicks—According to her statistics she isn't.—Tit-Bits.

SCROFULA

thin blood, weak lungs and paleness. You have them in hot weather as well as in cold. SCOTT'S EMULSION cures them in summer as in winter. It is creamy looking and pleasant tasting.

50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

FUNERAL ODDITIES.

David Garrick's widow carefully preserved all her wedding garments in order that they might serve as a shroud, and was buried in them.

A court milliner of Queen Victoria who died some years ago left strict injunctions that her body should be entirely wrapped in point lace, and her shroud cost several thousand dollars.

Margaret Coosins, who was buried in Kent, England, ordered her body to be attired in scarlet satin and placed in a mahogany coffin, lined with green silk, with a glass over the entire casket, which she directed should be set up on end beside a tall clock in the parlor of her residence during the funeral.

Sir Charles Hastings, the famous Indian soldier, ordered that after his death his body should be wrapped in anything that would hold it together, buried in an open filed and the soil around planted with acorns so that he might render a last service to his country by nourishing a good English oak.

Lord Cameltord, a famous duelist of the last century in England, directed that his body should be taken to Lake St. Lampierre, where there were trees under which he had spent many years in contemplation of the sublime scenery that surrounded him. He requested that the middle tree should be taken up until his body was deposited under it, when it should be replanted—all of which was done.

A Maj. Hook, of the East India company service in London, was entitled by the will of a relative to an annuity of £400 a year until his wife was buried. To fulfill the terms of this important document after her death he caused her body to be embalmed, sealed up in a glass case and placed in the upper chamber of his house, where it remained for 30 years, but no person was ever permitted to enter the room where it lay.—W. E. Curtis, in Chicago Record.

RECENT INVENTIONS.

An automatically-closing cap for oil cups has been designed of tubular shape and provided with a slot in one side, the cup having a groove cut near the top, in which a coiled spring is set to turn the cap, the oil can be inserted in the slot and the cap revolved to open the cup.

Fruit can be picked and automatically discharged into a barrel without bruising by a Canadian's patent picker, which has a cloth funnel suspended on the end of a rake, which is used to pull the fruit into the funnel, with a tube provied with a pad at the lower end, against which the fruit strikes.

A combined bicycle and rowing machine has been designed, having a seat and foot braces on top of the cycle frame, with handled levers pivoted on extension frames and connected by a strap running over a pulley to the rear hub, to propel the wheel as the levers are pulled on by the rider.

There has been designed a rotary blacking brush which can be held in one hand to black the shoes without moving the arm, the handle consisting of two pivoted members, on one of which is mounted a revolving shaft carrying the brush, while the other has a toothed head to revolve the brush as the handles are gripped together.

SCIENCE NOTES.

White opossums are occasionally caught in Ohio county, Ind.

A free medical dispensary has been opened in Chinatown, San Francisco. Consul General Ho Yow gave $1,500 to defray the initial expense.

Two homing pigeons flew from Pensacola, Fla., to Fall River, Mass., 1,182 miles, between July 24 and August 8, 1892. This is the longest flight on record.

Incandescent electric lamps have been employed in the laboratory as a source of heat involving the boiling or distilling of volatile inflammable liquids.

Mr. Raphael Bischoffsheim has made over the freehold of the Nice observatory which he founded, together with $500,000 to be devoted to the maintenance of the establishment. The total value of the gift is considered to be worth $1,000,000 and the continuance of the work is assured by this munificent gift.

The Royal Geographical society has awarded the "Wollaston medal" to Grove K. Gilbert, geologist of the United States geological survey. The medal was received in behalf of Mr. Gilbert by Henry White, Esq., secretary of the United States embassy. This makes the third time that the honor has gone to an American.

INDUSTRIAL INFORMATION.

As is well known glycerin is a byproduct of soap and candle factories, and something like 40,000 tons of this commodity are made yearly.

The present output of the United States is larger than that of the United Kingdom, and coal can be bought in America at the pit mouth at $1.18 a ton, as against $1.36 paid in Great Britain.

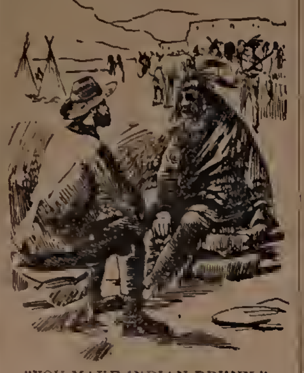
An acetylene town lighting plant has been installed at Hawes, Yorkshire, England. It was built on a capital of [illegible]. There are two generators, in which the gas is washed by passage through the water. The holder has a capacity of 1[illegible] cubic feet. About a mile of the mains have thus far been laid.

In Paris it has been customary for cyclists to go to the nearest restaurant and to inflate their tires with the help of the carbonic acid apparatus which is used to give a head to the beer but it is found that a pneumatic tire, inflated with carbonic gas soon loses its resiliency and the gas escapes with remarkable rapidity.

A WISE CHIEF.

Inflicts Summary Punishment on a Man Who Was Peddling Whisky to the Indians.

A correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat tells a good story of Chief Jonas Wolf, a famous Indian chieftain of the Chickasaw tribe. Chief Jonas was regarded by President Lincoln as the ablest Indian he had ever seen. Fully realizing that whisky was a dangerous enemy to the peace and prosperity of his people, Chief Jonas was a bitter foe to the whisky peddler, and he was always severe in enforcing the laws made to keep all intoxicating liquors out of the territory. In many instances he did not wait for the law's slow delay, as offenders frequently discovered to their sorrow.



"YOU MAKE INDIAN DRUNK."

Some years ago he encountered a well known whisky vender whom he had punished severely and ordered out of the territory several times. Chief Jonas searched the suspicious character's outfit and found that the venturesome old reprobate was well supplied with numerous packages of shotgun whisky. "Through the aid of this poison you have come here to rob my people," said the enraged old governor. "You make Indian drunk and take his horses and wagon and his clothes. Now, I goin' to make this stuff do to you same as you do to Indian." Without further words he made the offender take off the last stitch of his clothing, and while the trembling wretch stood shivering, the chief emptied all the whisky on the man's raiment and touched a match to it. "Whisky make Indian naked. This time he make peddler naked. Now you go. Catch you one time more, you die. Sabe?" Rude as this proceeding was, it cannot be denied that it had a real justice in it, though hardly of the poetic sort.

TEMPERANCE TIDINGS.

The pulse of every habitual user of tobacco, declares Dr. W. H. Riley, will show irregularities in the heart's action.

Smoking in the evening produces wakefulness, as the nicotine acts as a cerebral irritant, and interferes with the vasomotor centers.

Northern Europe contains the following estimated number of total abstainers: Sweden, 260,000; Norway, 200,000; Denmark, 100,000, and Finland, 20,000; an aggregate of 580,000 adherents.

Mr. Malins, the head of the Good Templar order, has completed his temperance tour round the world in 44 weeks, during which he has traveled 40,000 miles and sailed on 26 different steamships.

The little town of Macy, Ind., is in a state of excitement because a man named Andrew Oliver has secured a license to open a saloon there. For 30 years the place has been without a saloon, though hundreds of attempts have been made to start such places. Recently Oliver advertised in the usual way, but put his notice in a paper published 60 miles away in the most remote part of the county. It escaped the observation of Macy people and the county commissioners, finding no opposition, granted his application.

His Conscience.

"He says that he always acts according to the dictates of his conscience."

"You probably misunderstood him. He doubtless said 'Constance.'"

"Constance!"

"Yes. That's his wife's name."—Chicago Post.

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy; he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find any relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured. I think it the best medicine I have ever tried." For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Three spectres that threaten baby's life—cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhœa. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry never fails to conquer them.

Half the ills that man is heir to come from indigestion. Burdock Blood Bitters strengthen and tone the stomach; make indigestion impossible.

I Know One Sure Remedy for an obstinate cold. Its name is Pyny-Pectoral.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Chilson's Market

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef, 10 to	12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

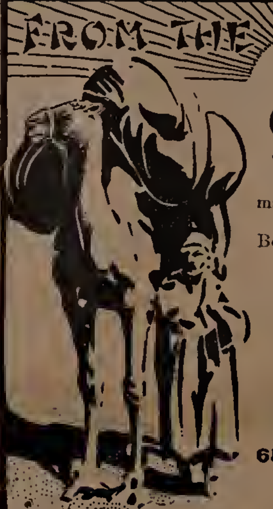
fel-tys

OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and Gasolene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied users are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABILITY, ECONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABILITY tell the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever? CONSULT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.

New England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.



FROM THE ORIENT

CARPETS

Goods right—prices right—workmanship right—everything right.

We do by far the largest business in Boston in

Carpets and Upholstery.

What do you suppose the reason is?

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS CO.,

658 Washington Street, 658

Opp. Boylston St.,

BOSTON.

Money That Is Refused.

The pope still refuses to accept the yearly stipend which the Italian government is ready to pay him. Ever since the conquest of Rome by the Italian troops of the king an annual income of $750,000 is yearly laid aside for the Pontifex Maximus by the government, which the former promptly refuses to accept. Thus for 28 years this sum has been accumulating, and to-day over $20,000,000, without the accruing interest, may be drawn by the head of the Catholic church.

The reason for the obstinacy of Leo XIII. and his predecessor, Pius IX., in accepting this salary lies in the fact that the holy fathers would by such an act acknowledge the sovereignty of another over that portion of Italy where the popes have heretofore reigned supreme. This money is apparently not needed. Pius IX. enriched the papal coffers with a legacy of $10,000,000, and it is said that Leo has undoubtedly doubled this capital. The papal chair has absolutely no liabilities.—N. Y. Herald.

Praying Material Scarce.

A young attorney in Mississippi was defending a farmer who was charged with murder and was endeavoring to implicate a state's witness named Smith. He secured a witness who swore that he would not believe Witness Smith on oath. On cross-examination by the prosecuting attorney the witness was asked the following questions:

"Is Smith a neighbor of yours?"

"Yes, sir."

"Does he not lead your prayer meetings every Wednesday night?"

"Yes, sir."

"Will you, then, please explain to the jury why you selected Smith out of all the men in your district to lead your meetings?"

"Well," explained the witness, "praying material is so scarce in our neighborhood we have to take most anyone we can get."—Memphis Scimitar.

Primitive But Straightforward.

"I don't believe," said the young man, "that any man ever courted a woman without telling her lies."

"There was such courtship once," said the middle-aged man.

"When you were young?"

"Huh! I'm young yet. I mean, back in the early days of the race. In those days, you know, when a man loved a woman, he sneaked up and knocked her out with a club and took her to his lonely home, and they lived happily ever after."—Indianapolis Press.

THE NEW YORK WORLD

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

18 Pages a Week . . .
. . . 156 Papers a Year

FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

News and Opinions OF National Importance.

THE SUN ALONE CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, ... $6 a year

Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

Address THE SUN, New York

J. A. GEB.

House and Sign Painter.

Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.

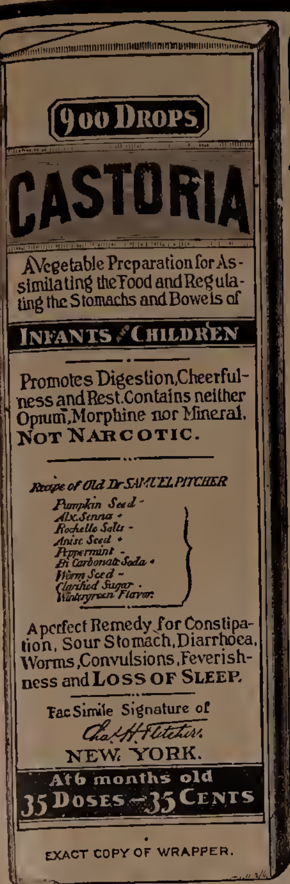
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET

22-1y

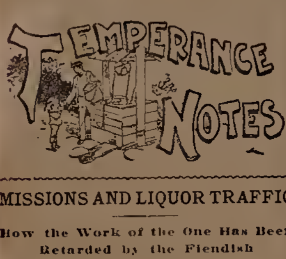
MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.

Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.



900 DROPS
CASTORIA
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS & CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed
Alx. Senna
Rochelle Salts
Anise Seed
Peppermint
Bi Carbonate Soda
Worm Seed
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
Chas H. Fletcher
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES — 35 CENTS
EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Chas H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.



MISSIONS AND LIQUOR TRAFFIC

How the Work of the One Has Been Retarded by the Fiendish Work of the Other.

The drink evil which has in Christian lands grown up in spite and defiance of the ministrations of the Gospel, and beneath the full light of Scripture truth, and has become the greatest curse of these lands, and the greatest hindrance to the work of the church, is found to be as great a curse in heathen lands and the greatest barrier to the success of the Gospel among the heathen, and for this, strange as it may appear, those nations that seek to Christianize the heathen are largely responsible for the introduction and perpetuation of the drink evil. What are the facts?

Strange as it may seem, the Brahminical, Buddhist and Mohammedan religions, considered as pagan and false religions, absolutely prohibit the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicating drinks, the curse of nations and religions; while by nations claiming to possess the pure and true religion, this curse is legalized and perpetuated, and in some instances forced upon the native races in heathen lands. Strange as it may seem, while the people of pagan nations are renowned for their sobriety, the people of Christian nations are notorious for their drunkenness, and wherever Christian nations have sought by commerce and missions to civilize and Christianize peoples the drink evil has been introduced and proved a curse. In the judgment of those conversant with African affairs, the drink traffic has proved a deadlier evil than the slave trade to the people of that country. Rev. James Johnson, the native pastor of the island of Lagos, who was sent by the Christians of that place to plead their cause before the English parliament in 1887, closed his testimony before a commission of the house of commons with these words:

"The slave trade has been to Africa a great evil, but the evils of the rum trade were far worse. He would rather his countrymen were in slavery and being worked hard, and kept away from the drink, than that the drink should be let loose upon them."

Even the New York Tribune was moved a few years ago to say editorially: "Think of the monstrous hypocrisy of so-called Christian nations, vaunting themselves on their enlightened civilization, pretending a desire that the Gospel should be carried to all peoples and then invading the dark continent armed with the rum bottle, and in cold blood debauching and ruining its people. On the one hand are the missionaries, on the other hand is the rum of Christendom. Free rum against a free people."

The superintendent of Lutheran missions in West Africa wrote a few years ago: "The vilest liquors imaginable are being poured into Africa in shiploads from every quarter of the civilized world. On one small vessel, in which myself and wife were the only passengers, there were in the hold over 100,000 gallons of New England rum, which sold on the coast for one dollar a gallon in exchange for palm oil, rubber, camwood and other products common to the country. I have seen landed from one steamer at a single port, 10,000 cases of gin, each containing 12 three-pint bottles."

Recently an African missionary wrote:

"Dear friends, we have a very mixed cargo—four missionaries, 20,000 hundred weight of gunpowder, and barrels and casks of gin without number. Our ship's surgeon, a very wicked man, said to me, pointing derisively to the gin and rum that were being unloaded at every point along the African coast: 'There are the Bibles and hymn books Christian America is sending over to civilize heathen Africa.'"

At a meeting in London a few years ago Baboo Chunder Sin said: "What was India 30 or 40 years ago, and what is she to-day? The whole atmosphere of India seems to be rending with the cries of helpless widows and orphans, who often go the length of cursing the British government for having introduced intoxicating drink."

At the Parliament of Religions at Chicago, Narasima Charya, a Brahmin of Madras, said with an outburst of feeling: "Our friends of the Brahmo-Somaj have been picturing to you Christianity standing with a Bible in one hand and the wizard's wand of civilization in the other; but there is another side, and that is the goddess of civilization with a bottle of rum in her hand. I know of a hundred people in my native land who are addicted to the drink habit. Of course we have ourselves to blame; but remember that to ape the conqueror, is one of the vices of the conquered, and that the fashionable habit of drinking is borrowed by the Hindus from the English. Oh, that the English had never set foot in India! Oh, that we had never seen a single European face! Oh, that we had never tasted the bitter sweets of your civilization, rather than it should make us a nation of drunkards and brutes!"

As a result of the introduction of intoxicating drinks into these countries by Christian nations, the heathen are prejudiced against the Gospel and its missionaries. They see the same nations that send the Gospel of peace or the waters of life to the children of darkness, send also the spirit of evil or fire water, and, in too many cases, the same vessels that carry missionaries of light in the cabin carry casks and barrels of darkness in the hold.

True, they who send out missionaries are a different class from those who send out rum, but in the minds of the heathen it is all the same. The only opportunity they have of judging the people of Christian countries is when sailors and travelers land in their midst, and traders do business with them. They say, these are American Christians or English Christians, and see what their religion does. Hence, when missionaries from Christian lands go among the heathen to propagate the Gospel, not infrequently they are accosted thus: "Why do you come here? Why do you not try to teach and reform your countrymen? Would you have us adopt such a religion as yours, to abandon the systems of our fathers, to become drunkards and blasphemers? You tell us if we remain heathen we shall certainly perish, but it is better that we should suffer than embrace a religion like yours."—James B. Dunn, D. D., in Union Signal.

An Admiring Wife.

Kippax—And who is your favorite author, Mrs. Softly?

Mrs. Softly—My husband.

Kippax—Pardon me! I did not know that he wrote.

Mrs. Softly—Oh, but he does; and so nicely—cheques!—Brooklyn Life.

A Hard Case.

"I think," said the friend of the family, "that you ought to keep a watch on your son."

"Imposisble," declared the disgusted father. "He'd exchange it for a pawn ticket the first chance he got."—Philadelphia Press.

HE IS LEGALLY DEAD

Estate of Missing Man Administered and Insurance Paid.

Absent Sixteen Years, Is Given Up for Dead and Wife Marries Again—Modern Enoch Arden Case at Gloucester, Mass.

A romance in real life, similar to that of Enoch Arden, but with more complications, has come to light in Gloucester, Mass. News of a former resident, who has not been heard from for 16 years, and who was supposed to be dead, his estate having been administered upon and his former wife having remarried, have been received. Howard A. Saville, of Little Rock, Ark., a descendant of a well-known Gloucester family, is the party in interest, and his identity and location have been discovered as the result of an advertisement inserted in a St. Louis paper, asking for information concerning him, which was wanted to settle an estate in probate. By mere accident the paper fell into his hands and a correspondence ensued, resulting in his attorney visiting this city and bringing the news of his continued existence.

After going west Mr. Saville concluded to make a new start in life, cutting away from all former associations. He settled in Arkansas, where he again began life and in time rose to considerable local prominence, being at one time postmaster of Simpson, a town in Bradley county, Ark. Not hearing from her husband for some ten years, and a report coming to Gloucester that he had died in a hospital while undergoing a surgical operation, Mrs. Saville made a claim upon a life insurance company for the amount of a policy upon his life, which, after investigation, was paid by the company, and his estate passed through the probate court for settlement.

A few years later, having no further news of her husband, she again married, while Mr. Saville also took to himself a wife in his new western home. No children have resulted from either of these marriages, but Mr. and Mrs. Saville were the parents of three sons and a daughter, the eldest of whom is Prof. Marshall Saville, the well-known archaeologist, who has returned to New York, having spent the winter in Mexico, where he made important observations and discoveries relating to the Aztecs.

MORE SCHOOLS FOR EMPLOYES

The Educational Plan to Be Extended to the Factories of Chicago.

The plan of having schools established in the large stores downtown for the benefit of the younger employes, as urged by W. Lester Bodine, superintendent of compulsory education, Chicago, will be pushed still further. Members of the board of education believe that the plan can be utilized for the education of employes of factories who are unable to attend day school and are too tired to attend night schools. Vice President Thomas Gallagher, of the board, is an earnest advocate of the method.

Superintendent Bodine is now arranging with several of the large factories to follow the example of "The Fair," Marshall Field and Siegel, Cooper & Co. in starting schools. The difficulty of placing schools in factories is, however, greater than in stores.

After the schools in the different stores have been firmly established it is expected that prizes will be offered by the board of education for those who do their work the best.

A Surprised Wife.

"Now, Percy, darling, where is the surprise you promised you would have for me when I had finished the course of cooking lessons?"

"Oh, yes—why—I discharged the cook!"—N. Y. World.

Not Equal to the Situation.

Professor (feelingly)—When I first began teaching music the wolf was often at my door.

Listener (unfeelingly) — Gracious! Why didn't you pound the piano then as you do now?—Indianapolis Journal.

Retort Courteous.

He—Girls are queer creatures—they marry the first fool man that ask them. I suppose you would do the same, wouldn't you?

She—Ask me and see.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Labels for Poor Children.

The children of the poor in Japan are nearly always labeled in case they should stray from their homes while their mothers are engaged in domestic duties.

The Whole Story
in one letter about

Pain-Killer

(PERRY DAVIS'.)

From Capt. F. Loye, Police Station No. 5, Montreal:—"We frequently use PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER for pains in the stomach, rheumatism, stiffness, frost bites, chilblains, cramps, and all afflictions which befall men in our position. I have no hesitation in saying that PAIN-KILLER is the best remedy to have near at hand."

Used Internally and Externally.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c. bottles.

Clothed with an Electric Skin.

Prof. Francis Gotch describes the electric fish of the Nile, of which the Egyptians made pictures thousands of years ago, and which still inhabits the waters of that river, as being provided with an electrical organ that incloses the whole body. It is situated in the skin, and when viewed with a microscope, is seen to be composed of about 2,000,000 beautifully formed little disks, superposed upon connected rows of minute compartments in which are the terminals of nerves. The shock is produced by an intense current which traverses the entire organ from the head to the tail of the fish, returning through the surroundings. It stuns small fish in the neighborhood. Prof. Gotch likens its action to that of a self-loading and self-discharging gun. The electromotive force of the organ in a fish only eight inches long can, he asserts, attain the surprising maximum of 200 volts. A single giant nerve-cell at the head of the spinal column is the source of the impulses which discharge the organ.

The Cheapening Telegraph.

The increase in the use of the telegraph for business purposes has been accompanied by a steady reduction in the cost of messages. When the first Atlantic cable was laid the price of a 20-word message between London and New York was $100, of five dollars per word. Now the commercial rate between the two cities is 25 cents per word. To telegraph ten words from Chicago to New York in 1866 cost $2.05. Now it costs 40 cents. Telegraphing to distant parts of the world is still an expensive business. The rate per word for a message from San Francisco to Auckland, for example, is $2.87. From New York to Manila the rate is $2.45. The charge is not always in ratio to the distance. The rate from New York to South American or West Indian ports is nearly two dollars per word, but in reaching these points the messages travel twice across the Atlantic.—Ainslee's Magazine.

Wretched Incubator Babies.

The incubator babies are great trials to the nurses who have them in charge, says the New York Times. They are often healthy little creatures, and, except that they are small, look to the outside everything that a properly constructed baby should be, but they are not to be depended upon. They will be perfectly well one minute and the next they have stepped off into eternity so quietly that no one has known it, and apparently for no reason at all. Why they don't die from very disgust at life, immediately, the novice in baby tending wonders, after once seeing them fed. They are fed directly into the stomach by means of rubber tubes, which are slipped down their unprotesting little throats. They do not even have the pleasure of tasting the insipid diet given them, to say nothing of the discomfort of swallowing a quarter of a yard or so of tubing.

An Expression of Sympathy.

"Did you found the town that they named after you?" was asked of the western man who had been bragging of the honor.

"Well, no," he slowly replied. "No; I wasn't the first settler."

"Presented it with public parks, perhaps?"

"Oh, no; there were parks enough. I didn't have to do anything at all. The vigilance committee hung my brother-in-law for horse stealing and then turned around and named the town after me to express their sympathy in my hour of bereavement."—Washington Post.

A Page from Macbeth.

"Talk about murdering sleep!"

Macbeth had been wooing the drowsy god for five hours.

"Talk about murdering sleep! A guilty conscience is a dollar's worth of morphine compared to those cats."

And he threw a coat of mail and a pair of sheet-steel boots at the feline congress across the moat.—Baltimore American.

Her Object.

Mrs. Von Blumer—I am getting so I care less and less for people in the aggregate. That afternoon tea was a great bore.

Mr. Von Blumer—What did you go, then, for?

"I wanted to see who was there."—Harper's Bazar.

Olfactory Evidence.

Mrs. Jones—Oliver Cromwell Jones, you have—

Mr. Jones—My (hic) dear—I—

"Don't you dare deny it! You've been telling people what baby said again. I can smell it on your breath way here."—Judge.

Disturbed by Glamour.

"What is the honeymoon, pa?"

"Well, the honeymoon is the only period in a man's life during which he considers it funny to come home and find that his dear little wife hasn't dinner ready on time."—Detroit Free Press.

Easy.

Distracted Husband—How can I get even with my wife for her endless piano playing?

Experienced Friend—Take piano lessons yourself.—N. Y. World.

A Wedding on the Cards.

"My queen!" fondly exclaimed the infatuated youth.

"My Jack," softly responded the blushing maiden.—Collier's Weekly.

Wisdom.

Wisdom is one of the things that don't come to the man who sits down and waits.—Chicago Daily News.

The Yelling Youngster.

When a baby cries it never sheds sufficient tears to drown the noise.—Chicago Daily News.

With Years
WISDOM.

The answer to that old query, "What's in a name?" was not hard to define in the case of one justly celebrated Family Remedy that had its origin away down in Maine, which proves that with age comes wisdom about

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

An old lady called at a store and asked for a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment; the clerk said 'they were out, but could supply her with another just as good.' The engaging smile that accompanied this information was frozen stiff when she replied:

Young Man, there is only one Liniment, and that is Johnson's.

Originated in 1810 by an old Family Physician. There is not a remedy in use which has the confidence of the public to a greater extent. Could a remedy have existed for nearly a century, except that it possess extraordinary merit?

Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price 25 and 50c. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

BATTLE WITH HAWKS.

Two Men Are Painfully Injured While Taking Eggs from a Tall Tree.

Poll Woll Young and John Hauptby had a thrilling escape from death while robbing a chicken hawk's nest. They had been trout fishing at Black creek and while on their way home saw the hawk's nest in the top of a tall pine tree. Hauptby armed himself with a club and climbed to the nest.

Just as he was about to take the eggs he was attacked by six hawks. They struck him in the face with their beaks and beat him with their wings. Hauptby defended himself until he weakened and then when the birds made a fresh attack on him he fell, lodging in the lower branches of the tree.

Woll Young went to his companion's assistance and then climbed up to the nest, only to receive the same treatment as Hauptby. Both are full-grown men, but they were so cut and bruised about the face, eyes, hands and neck that they dragged themselves home with extreme difficulty.

RAILS FOR RUSSIA.

The Biggest Single Shipment Ever Made Sent Out of Baltimore.

The steamship Samoa, which has sailed from Baltimore for Vladivostock, Russia, carried the largest shipment of steel rails ever sent to a foreign country. It amounted to 8,640 tons. The rails were invoiced at $21 a ton. A new steel industrial, which combines all the plants in the branch of the steel industry foreign to the existing combinations, is being organized at Canton, O. It is to be known as the American Sheet Metal company, and is to have a capital of $50,000,000. The combination includes 29 of the 32 plants in the country which manufacture corrugated iron and cornices of buildings.

Justly Indignant.

A man with Canadian wool trousers and a peaked fur cap as the most prominent articles of his attire came into the Biddeford post office the other day and stepped up to the window. Said he with a bland smile:

"P'rap you don' have nottin's here for Joseph Mefrau, hey?"

"I donno," said the clerk. "What do you say your name is?"

"Joseph Mefrau."

"Mee-frow, Mee-frow—how do you spell it?"

The Canadian at the window looked through the bars at the clerk, and then with a disgust that I cannot put in words, he cried:

"Ba darm, yo' donno how spell Joseph Mefrau, yo' batter sal ont dia plac' and go fin' some nodder bus'ness."—N. Y. Sun.

"Hunger is the Best Sauce,"

Yet some people are never hungry. Whatever they eat has to be "forced down." There is, of course, something wrong with these people. By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a short time they are given an appetite, and then they enjoy eating and food nourishes them. If you find your appetite failing, just try a bottle of Hood's. It's a true stomach tonic and every dose does good.

The best family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

A Professional Beauty.

Ethel—Is the new clergyman good looking, Edith?

Edith—Good looking! Oh, Ethel, he has eyelashes a yard long!—Indianapolis Journal.

Spend your vacation on old ocean instead of the dry, hot country. Take the Plant Line to the Provinces and see something of a foreign land. Don't feel obliged to take a stateroom; a free berth in the cabin is better than the average farm house quarters. A fourteen hundred mile cruise inside of a week. Stop over allowed. Living in the Provinces cheaper than staying at home. Send for advertising telling all about it, to J. A. Flauders, New England agent, 290 Washington street, E. H. Downing, agent, 20 Atlantic avenue, Boston.

A lame shoulder is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles, and may be cured by a few applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

"Itching hemorrhoids were the plague of my life; was almost wild. Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently after doctors had failed." C. F. Cornwell, Valley street, Saugerties, N.Y.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 30, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	10c
5 to 15 miles,	15c
15 to 25 "	20c
25 to 35 "	25c
35 to 45 "	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.

33-tf

G.A. Martin, M.D.,

...AND...

C.B.Hussey, M. D.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J.Gallison, M.D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.

92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.

18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,

....BOSTON.

Telephone 1830.

A FINE LINE OF

Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all here is to it.

BABY FOOD
MILK

There's a Sucker Born Every Minute,

so give the [illegible] chance for life by using our improved nursing bottles and our strengthening and nourishing baby foods. Life for the little ones during the heated term means bottles that can be kept thoroughly clean and food that will make pure blood, bone and muscle, and [illegible] foods will do it.

We recommend Mellin's Food.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy

DANA BLOCK.

COSTLY THINGS.

In 16[illegible] a tulip bulb was sold in Holland for $[illegible]. It weighed [illegible] grains. The most expensive [illegible] in the world is that of France, which [illegible]. The Italian pa[illegible] costs $[illegible] a year.

The most expensive [illegible] hall in [illegible] the largest in the [illegible] is the city [illegible]. The biggest clock in the w[illegible] tower.

The most costly book in the world is [illegible] to be a Hebrew Bible now [illegible]. In [illegible] it is said that [illegible] refused [illegible] the book [illegible] which would [illegible] great [illegible] a book.

[illegible] of modern [illegible] Yor[illegible] "The [illegible]'s Fried[illegible] the [illegible] Art.

[illegible] N. Y. [illegible] hundred [illegible] expended [illegible] Wash[illegible] in [illegible] rs.

[illegible] the world was [illegible] trotter [illegible] age of [illegible] Stanford [illegible] That beats [illegible] of the [illegible] great [illegible] New Y[illegible].

WHAT SCIENCE IS DOING.

[illegible] of cornstalks hav[illegible] to wa[illegible] a[illegible].

A new [illegible] the [illegible] nal. [illegible] Dr. [illegible] It [illegible] of a few [illegible] com[illegible] death may [illegible] properties [illegible] spoken of [illegible] highly [illegible] who have used it.

Portugal was very [illegible] to scien[illegible] the [illegible] recent eclipse. The [illegible] employes were ordered to give astronomers every facility for the entry of their baggage, their instruments being admitted free on the presentation of a certificate from an astronomical observatory, countersigned by a Portuguese consular agent.

Rubber culture was first scientifically undertaken at the botanical gardens at Peradeniya in 187[illegible], by Dr. Trimen, and in 1897 Ceylon boasted of 25,[illegible] trees of the Brazilian variety which yielded an amount of one pound and a half per tree, 50 trees being planted to the acre. It is fortunate for Brazil that very little of the east possesses the soil, climate and conditions necessary for such competition.

The Non-Irritating Cathartic

Easy to take, easy to operate—

Hood's Pills

Spoiling American Children.

Our hotels and summer resorts have helped to make the American child what he is, writes "An American Mother." Even [illegible] infant he learns to live in a staring crowd. In what other country would the baby daughters of respectable families be exhibited to the public in a contest for prizes for beauty or fine clothes? You may see every summer the poor little winners in such contests paraded up and down the street before a shouting crowd to the music of a brass band, trembling with conscious pride in the dimples or plumes that win for them the blue ribbon. A child [illegible] his mother's arms is a sight no less tragic. In what other country would the parlors of hotels be given up to the euchre parties of children in the morning, or the ballrooms to their german at night? The vanities, the jealousies of adults [illegible] are not pleasant to look upon.—Ladies' Home Journal.

How One Fox Helped Another.

Joseph Mayhan, a farmer who lives near [illegible] of here, says the Cincinnati [illegible], trapped a large red fox [illegible] caught [illegible] it in his corncrib until he could notify his neighbors [illegible] chase. The next morning the fox was gone [illegible] proved that its mate had assisted the prisoner in making its escape. The fox [illegible] worked away at the inside until it had loosened a board loose from its fastenings. This, however, was not sufficient to permit it to get out unless the board was lifted up. The board was held up from the outside, as the teeth marks on it show, until the prisoner crawled to liberty. Tracks of another fox were seen, and there is no doubt that the [illegible] after the fox [illegible] had escaped the board [illegible] held up. This is one of the [illegible] fox tricks that [illegible] hunters in the [illegible] have yet encountered.

A Wonderful Cave.

Some persons who have just returned from the [illegible] Huasteca Potosina [illegible] were [illegible] of a very [illegible] cave [illegible] country [illegible] decorated inside in a very [illegible] manner [illegible] evidently the temple of an [illegible] god. In fact, there is now [illegible] cave a huge stone image of [illegible]. From [illegible] it [illegible] still [illegible] worship of the [illegible]. It is thought that [illegible] may have [illegible] for many years in the same place [illegible] the natives, who [illegible] carry on their worship openly [illegible] the cave and there [illegible] for [illegible] and more elaborate temple the facilities afforded. —Mexican Herald.

Upsetting Arithmetical Tradition.

Jack—How did you come out on that bulldog pup you bought?

Dick—Lost over a hundred per cent. on the transaction.

"Oh, I guess not. A hundred per cent. is all you can possibly lose."

"Think so, do you? Well, I paid ten dollars for the pup, and then I had to give a boy a dollar to take him out and drown him. If that isn't a hundred and ten per cent. loss, I'd like to know what you call it."—N. Y. Sun.

In Russia.

A tourist gives the following as an example of the rigid formality with which the officials in some parts of Russia act:

Russian Official—You can't stay in his country, sir.

Traveler—Then I'll leave it.

"Have you a permit to leave?"

"No, sir."

"Then you cannot go. I give you 24 hours to make up your mind as to what you shall do."—Tit-Bits.

Some are Left; They are Waiting.

THOSE

HAMMOCKS

put on sale at reduced prices are lightly swaying as an occasional breeze wafts inward through our ever-open doors. All that remain will be sold at 25 per cent. discount straight. Regular Hammock season and we will close it with our usual liberality.

You pay $1.50 for a nice $2 Hammock or pay $2.25 for a better $3 Hammock.

All LAWN FURNITURE is being rapidly closed out at the same reduction.

REFRIGERATORS for $12, been selling at $16.

Cheaper boxes at the same cut rate, 25 per cent. off.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

The Middle Ear.

This story is told of Prof. Pritchard, who recently opened the sixth international otological congress. Reviewing the progress of the last [illegible] years, the professor referred to "chronic nonsuppurative disease of the middle ear" as being the supreme mystery at present to students of otology. "What is this middle ear?" a lady asked [illegible]. "Madam," he replied, "it is the ear with which we do not hear." In other words, the nose.—N. E. Home Magazine.

Curious Wanderings of Smoke.

[illegible] the volcanic eruption in the Hawaiian islands last [illegible] the smoke rose to a height of between five and six miles and then drifted away to the northeast. At a distance of [illegible] miles from Hawaii it settled upon the surface of the sea and was then carried back by the northeast wind to its place of origin, where it arrived [illegible] night after its original departure, and covered the entire group of islands with its heavy pall.—Youth's Companion.

An Assurance.

Voice (from within)—Who is it?

Hans Wurst—Gretchen, I am nobody else. Lock der door open.—[illegible].

You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Albert C. Mason, druggist, will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaints and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and reliable.

Accidents come with distressing frequency on the farm. Cuts, bruises, stings, sprains. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil relieves the pain instantly. Never safe without it.

Bad blood is a bad thing to inherit or acquire, but bad blood may be made good blood by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Hoag Lake

PARK.

WEEK OF AUG. 20.

Afternoons at 3.15.

Evenings at 8.30.

Boom's High-Class Vaudeville.

GILMORE and LA TOUR,
Costume Change Artists.
PHILL and PHILL,
Dutch Comedy Musical Act.
RILEY and HUGHES,
Black-Face Song and Dance Artists.
MASSE and MASSE,
Comedy Jugglers.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je2[illegible]

Woonsocket Opera House,

WOONSOCKET, R. I.

JOSH E. OGDEN, - Lessee and Manager.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 23,

Flynn and Mack will present

HOGAN'S ALLEY!

The New York World's Cartoon Comedy.
Prices 25, 50 and 75c.

SATURDAY MATINEE AND NIGHT,

The Two Little Vagrants.

A remarkable scenic drama. A magnificent production. 300 nights in New York, 200 nights in Boston. Prices 25, 50, 75c. Matinee prices 20, 30c., reserved seats. Children under 14 years, 10c.

AUG. 28, Hennessey Leroyal, in "OTHER PEOPLE'S MONEY."

At

WOODWARD'S

every description of

INSURANCE

can be placed. This

AGENCY

officially represents the

LEADING

American and Foreign

COMPANIES.

P. A. WOODWARD, Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.
my4-1yF

THE CANNING SEASON

Is at hand. You can find Glass Jars, Rubbers, Preserving Kettles, Porcelain-Lined Kettles, Fruit Tunnels, Stew Pans, great and small.

Also a fine lot of Water Sets.

CALL AND EXAMINE.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-tm5

HOW THE DOCTOR GOT THERE.

Not Always an Easy Trip for a Maine Physician to Reach His Patients.

The other day a country physician received a call to go from his place into a lumber camp in the far Brassua region, and it was such a call as a doctor cannot well refuse. So he went to West Cove on Moosehead with a big coat and wearing leggins and shoe packs, as the low moccasins are called.

A lumberman was there and this man had made arrangements to carry the doctor up as far as West Outlet on a handcar on the Canadian Pacific road. They had to stop once and unload the handcar on to their backs in a gully so that a freight train could go past.

Above West Outlet a certain portion of the lake surface was free of snow and the doctor and the woodsman guide strapped on their skates and started. There were numerous "wrinkles," huge bulging rifts in the ice where the moving of the mighty surface had met and made ruin. When they came to one of these wrinkles the woodsman went ahead and prodded and poled until he found a place where they could cross.

It is possible that more men have been drowned in the waters of Moosehead by carelessness in crossing wrinkles than by any other cause.

By the time they got to the mouth of Moose river the doctor was obliged to own to his sturdy companion that he was fair tuckered. The man had a moose sled there in the bushes. He had left it when he had come out after the doctor. He piled the medicine man on with his case, wrapped him in blankets and set away along the tote road. There was no team out, for there was much uncertainty as to when the doctor would be able to get along.

When he could he walked. The rest of the time he rode. The tough little man of the woods seemed in no wise wearied. He told the doctor that it was easy enough to make those kind of trips when one was toughened to it.

In the camp was one of the bosses who had been caught in a snub line and who had had most of the flesh on the calf of his leg rasped off by the cruel cable.

The doctor did what he could for the sufferer. Before he finished his labors there a messenger came from a camp ten miles above. They had learned that a physician was in the section and they wanted him. Ten men were down with grip and colds and two had pneumonia. So the doctor went up to that camp. There was nothing else to do. He says that if he had refused he guesses they would have loaded him on a sled willy-nilly and would have taken him along. He came out after six days in the woods.—Lewiston Journal.

The [illegible].

Mrs. Crimsonbeak—Do you believe that death ends all, John?

Mr. Crimsonbeak—Well, no; there's the fight over the will, you know.—Yonkers Statesman.

The Battles That Count.

A soldier's first engagement is of little consequence; it's the battles after marriage that count.—Chicago Daily News.

Witch Hazel Jelly...

An improved form of Witch Hazel, far more effective and convenient than the ordinary Witch Hazel. It is a quick and efficient remedy in all cases of burns, bruises and all irritations of the skin, such as hives, nettle rash, mosquito bites, etc.

15 CTS. BOTTLE.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Coal! Coal!

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

FOR SALE.

Two Grocery Wagons, one Grocery Pung, Harnesses, all Fixtures suitable for grocery business. Also, stock of Groceries. Will be sold in whole or part.

Apply to J. B. McKINNON.

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tf

Something New...

Have you stopped to think of the pleasure something new always brings with it? A dress, a ring, a piece of furniture—no matter what it may be, inspiration and bright spirits follow along in its wake. Especially if it's Furniture. Every time you sit in the soft chair or stretch out on the soft couch it makes you happy. This is a happiness which every one can afford while we have the stock we have and charge the prices we do.

Our Terms:

$10 worth, $1 down, 50c. a week.
$25 worth, $2.50 down, 75c. a week.
$50 worth, $5 down, $1 a week.
$75 worth, $7.50 down, $1.25 a week.
$100 worth, $10 down, $1.50 a week.
$125 worth, $15 down, $2 a week.
$150 worth, $25 down, $2.25 a week.
$200 worth, $40 down, $2.50 a week.
$250 worth, $50 down, $3 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Special engagement for the season, S. M. Stephens' PUNCH and JUDY SHOW to entertain the children.

Dancing every afternoon and Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings.

No admission charge at the gates evenings after 6 o'clock.

DANCING 5c.

THURSDAY EVENING,

Concert---Franklin Band

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof. Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.

Circulars free on application.

PLANT LINE

TO THE PROVINCES.

Cheapest and Best Ocean Trip Out of Boston.

1400 MILES FOR $18.00.

Points of interest include HALIFAX, STRAITS OF CANSO, CAPE BRETON, BRAS D'OR LAKES, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND and NEW FOUNDLAND. Elegant steamships La Grande Duchesse, Halifax and Florida. From north side Lewis Wharf for HALIFAX, HAWKSBURY and CHARLOTTETOWN, every Tuesday, 12 noon. Every Saturday 2 p. m. New line to SYDNEY every Friday 10 a. m. Illustrated advertising free.

J. A. FLANDERS, N. E. Agent,
290 Washington St., Boston.
E. H. DOWNING, Agent,
20 Atlantic Ave., Boston.
jly24-tno24

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test. ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE.. ..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week............ 50
Single Gallon............................ 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES, P. O. Box 481.

17-tf

Business Announcements in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL are invariably read.

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 68. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
N. C. Nye	4
Citation	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p.m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41 Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire.

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6.00 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

J. O. Chilson is confined to the house by illness.

T. B. Allen has been visiting friends in New Haven, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar K. Ray are sojourning at Castleton, Vt.

H. W. Nye of West Upton made a flying visit to town Sunday.

The mornings remind the early riser that summer is nearly over.

Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., will hold a regular meeting this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Davis are enjoying the delights of Popham Beach, Me.

The directors' room at the National bank is in the hands of the decorators.

Dr. M. E. Pond is spending a week or ten days with relatives in Rutland, Vt.

Our Boys will play the Stars of Woonsocket at Hoag lake tomorrow afternoon

The youngest child of Mrs. Alfred Whiting of East street was buried Saturday.

Louis Williams died today at his residence on Pleasant street. He is a veteran of the civil war. His age was 80.

A. W. Cheaver of Dedham, agricultural editor of the New England Farmer, was in town Saturday.

R. G. Irwin has bought the shoe store owned by O. B. Carter and will continue the business at that stand.

Leon Copleston of Brooklyn, N. Y., is spending a vacation with his grandmother, Mrs. E. S. Morse, Summer street.

Business is not quite so brisk as usual at the different mills in town. A number of hands employed are out for a few days.

Mrs. Amos Razee and her grandson, Howard Razee, of Southbridge, former residents here, are visiting friends in town.

The Medway street railway line has adorned certain of the trolley poles with a circle of white paint as a stopping place for passengers.

Mrs. E. P. Hayward of New York, who has been visiting her relative, L. S. Cheney, at C. W. Stewart's, left yesterday for Rutland, Vt.

Mrs. G. H. Cochrane, her daughter, Mrs. Dickens, and two grandchildren have been visiting friends in Norwalk and Rockville, Conn.

Thursday evening the Franklin band played at Lake Pearl and attracted a good crowd, the excellent music and dancing being especially enjoyed.

Mrs. C. E. Kemp, who has been spending the summer abroad, will sail for home from Liverpool, on the New England, next week Thursday.

Mrs. Edwin Bryant and daughter Florence of Whitman and Miss Ethel L. Holmes of Silver Lake have been visiting at Fairview, North Park street.

George H. Cochrane is getting ready for comfort the coming winter by the addition of bathroom and general renovation of heating facilities.

Rev. I. W. Sneath and family are at Dean cottage, owned by W. M. Fisher, at Onset, for a week or two. Dr. Sneath preached in Cambridge last Sabbath.

A good many of the young people have been to Hoag lake park this week, rumors of a good show doubtless being a strong inducement for turning them that way.

Engineer F. A. Hartshorne and family returned yesterday from Long Island, Me., where the ladies have been spending a month. Mr. Hartshorne was away two weeks.

Mrs. Lewis D. Merrifield picked from her orchard on Crescent street yesterday an Astrakhan apple measuring 13 1-2 inches in circumference. It looked as large as a cantelope.

Warrant Officer Fred S. Hartshorn, of of the Torpedo boat Morris, stationed at Newport, and son of Engineer F. A. Hartshorn, was made happy by the birth of a son last Saturday.

Wallace R. Richardson and his nephew, Herbert Richardson, are spending a couple of weeks in New York city, the elder showing the younger some of the sights of the metropolis.

H. M. Ticknor and family arrived here recently for the summer. Mr. Ticknor has been enjoying sea breezes at Orr's Island, Me., the place made famous by Miss Stowe's "Pearl of Orr's Island."

Mrs. Bradley M. Rockwood quite severely burned both her thumbs last Sunday morning by the explosion of some paper caps which she was throwing into the fire, necessitating medical attention.

Rev. N. T. Dyer of Ashburnham preached an interesting and helpful discourse at the Congregational church last Sabbath, and Rev. R. W. Wallace, D. D., of Somerville will occupy the pulpit next Sunday.

The members of Franklin Relief Corps will enjoy a trolley ride to Hoag lake next Wednesday afternoon; if stormy the next fair day. Members are requested to be on hand at 1.15 o'clock. A nice time is anticipated.

Dr. and Mrs. Austin B. Fletcher entertained friends at the Franklin Country club last Monday, including Dr. and Mrs. I. D. Warner, Mrs. Bates, the Misses Follett, Mr and Mrs. Will Sweatt, Mr. Alexander and Mr. E. I. Richards.

A late car will be run over the Franklin and Medway electric line Thursday and Saturday evenings to accommodate Medway people who wish to take in the attractions at Lake Pearl. The last car for Medway will leave at 11.45 on the nights named.

Edgar K. Ray generously treated the Bellingham Baptist Sunday school at its picnic at Lake Pearl Friday. More than ninety enjoyed the free trolley ride to the picnic ground. The observed of all gentlemen in the car was Mr. Ray, who made this a free ride, and rousing cheers were ringing in his ears as he alighted from the car at the Four Corners.

Dr. J. C. Gallison has had one more wish gratified. He has long had the feeling that his forest villa off Pleasant street was incomplete without a three legged iron kettle of ancient architecture, and so he has been quietly looking around to see the biding place of something of the kind, and Monday the quest was accomplished and he ordered corn beef and cabbage.

Tax Collector Sherman sold the Henry B. Kimball farm property on Forest street Wednesday. There was only one bidder and the property passed to Carrie Bill of Weymouth for the amount of taxes and costs. The property is involved in bankruptcy proceedings. Under the law the owner has the right of redemption for two years at 10 per cent. interest on the amount sold for.

Dean students and many others in town will be grieved to learn of the death of Clifford J. Dallinger, by diabetes, at his home in Cambridgeport Wednesday evening, aged 19. He came here from the Peekskill, N. Y., military institute last fall with his roommate, Lennard H. Mitchell, and may be remembered as the light haired, clever left fielder on the Dean team this spring. He was a good student, first class football player and would have been on the eleven this season. His funeral will be held Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Noyes, after the wedding on Monday, fooled their would-be tormentors nicely. After the ceremony and congratulations the relatives and friends went to the railway station with their rice, old shoes and ribbons attached to the hack to speed the couple as they departed upon the evening train. But the couple had made arrangements for themselves, and while their friends were waiting at the station for their appearance they took a hack and quietly drove to West Wrentham, where they caught a train for Providence.

While there is a fairly good condition of business in town and workmen seem to have something to do in the way of repairs, there has been comparatively nothing for the past two years for residential purposes, only two or three new buildings of the kind have been finished this year, excepting the improvements at Unionville for the railway company. Perhaps people with money are following out the precept of a former capitalist: "When business is good do not build, but when it is quiet and material and labor are cheap, then get ready for better times."

From one who has seen the Rachel Thayer medal that is to be given annually at Dean academy, beginning this year, we feel sure it must be a trophy worth striving for. It was designed and executed by Henry Guild & Son of Boston, whose experience in this line of work covers nearly fifty years. The medal is solid gold, round in shape, the inscription on either side being engraved within and about a wreath of laurel and branch of oak. We understand it is to be delivered to Prof. Peirce next week.

The annual outing of the Woonsocket and the M., A. & W. street car men took place Wednesday at Hoag lake. The night men were at the lake in the morning and the day men in the afternoon. Everything at the lake except the bake was free to the car men, and E. K. Ray, president of the Woonsocket street railway and treasurer of the M., A. & W. street railway, contributed $25 to help defray expenses. The theatre was visited and the efforts of the actors much enjoyed. At 6 o'clock a clambake was served and all who partook of the outing voted it an excellent one.

Wednesday Dr. Edward C. Abbott was drawn as juryman for the September criminal term. When the jury list was presented to the town at the annual March meeting the doctor asked to have his name stricken from the list, but the town refused to so vote. He claimed the duty would seriously interfere with his business, and now when he has just returned from his annual vacation, nerved for a successful and vigorous campaign against pain and the erection of beautiful and first-class masticators on toothless gums, it is a cruel fate that calls him away, and a just judge will perhaps be more reasonable than the municipality.

The new water pump to be used for fire purposes in connection with the Woolen company's mill is completed and was tested Wednesday for the first time. Three streams, with three men on each stream, threw water a distance of 190 feet at 150 pounds pressure. This pressure is the amount called for by the fire insurance company, but with more pressure 225 feet could be easily thrown. One of the streams got away from the men holding it, the nozzle flew off and the stream knocked one of the men to the ground. He regained his feet quickly, only to be knocked down a second time, and only succeeded in getting out of reach by crawling on his hands and knees.

One of those rare peach tomatoes that A. L. Bacon had raised this season in his truck garden, and which he was reserving for replanting purposes, disappeared in a twinkling the other day in an unlooked-for manner, greatly to the disturbance of Mr. B. It happened in this way: An old friend called and the genial "farmer" had the peach tomato out for inspection in short order. He handed the highly-prized "tomat" to the friend while growing eloquent in praise of its superior quality and turned his head for a moment to brush off a potato bug that had made its way to the off shoulder. "Yes; that's a fine tomato," the friend was saying while Mr. B. was attending to the bug, and when he looked at his visitor again he perceived that his tomato of the peach variety was fast disappearing down his throat. The "farmer's" face took on an expression that bordered on fierceness and for a time was a study for an artist. He said nothing then, but has been heard to remark since that none of the superior garden truck he is reserving will be handed out for inspection when his friends call around in the future.

Aquatic Sports.

The second in the series of water sports at Lake Pearl was held last Saturday, attracting a good many visitors and affording a vast amount of amusement. There were more participants, especially among the ladies, which added to the interest. The following are the results:

Ladies' Single—1st, Miss Rosamond Williams; 2d, Miss Grace Bennett.

Men's Single—1st, F. W. Notman; 2d, P. R. Allen.

Mixed Tandem—1st, F. W. Notman and Miss Williams; 2d, J. J. Mora and Miss Curran.

Mixed Fours—1st, F. W. Notman, J. J. Mora, Miss A. M. Ray, Miss Williams; 2d, C. M. Allen, F. W. Allen, Miss Mabel Ray, Miss Wilson.

Rowing—1st, Fred Gilmore; 2d, J. J. Mora.

Standing Paddle—1st, F. W. Notman; 2d, P. R. Allen.

Tandem Overboard—J. J. Mora and F. W. Notman; 2d, C. M. Allen and F. W. Allen.

Hurry-Scurry—1st, F. W. Allen; 2d, F. W. Notman.

Swimming—1st, Harry Metcalf; C. M. Allen.

Emerson's Market.

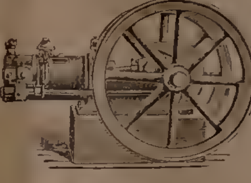
Fresh killed chicks and fowls, lamb, veal, pork and tomatoes. Watermelons on ice, shell beans, green corn, gem melons, sweet potatoes, summer squash, lettuce, cucumbers, onions, cabbages, new beets and turnips.

Two chairs at Ochee's barber shop. Accomplished hair dresser, William Donovan, now in attendance. Short waits.

The Sentinel's New Motive Power.

For a long time the SENTINEL has been endeavoring to do away with the unpleasant features connected with a steam plant for its motive power, owing to the need for constant attention, the prevalence of smoke and coal dust, and the continuance of expense even when the power had ceased. We have therefore been looking about the market for a satisfactory power, considering electricity, water and gasolene, the latter commending itself because of its cheapness in running, little attention required, its cleanliness, and other features.

To that end we examined many of the gasolene engines upon the market, selecting a three and one half horse power "Otto" as combining the most advantages for the outlay of any of its competitors. The "Otto" was really the pioneer in the gas engine field, and has been prompt to invest, take up and adapt any new improvements which were available. Its makers, therefore, feel that it has no equal, and thus far we do not see how it could be improved upon. It requires no engineer, its running is not variable, it is ready at a moment's notice, requiring but a couple of revolutions of the wheel to set it in motion.



THE OTTO.

No gasolene beyond about a gill is allowed in the building, and none can run in from outside, where the tank is stored, the feed being entirely by a pump. The gasolene is properly mixed with air automatically, and "fired" by an electric spark from a battery of cells, the engine accommodating itself to its load by taking a charge of gas only when it is required. This feature is especially advantageous on the line of economy. It is practically noiseless, the explosion taking place in an inclosed steel chamber, an exhaust chamber being provided to further deaden the sound. The engine's speed is easily regulated, and from all that can be learned it is a typical motive power for establishments of this class. We shall be pleased to show it to any one visiting the pressroom.

Franklin Looks Well.

It has long been recognized by Franklin property owners that well and tastily painted houses with green and neat lawns are telling advertisements for any village, winning compliments from visitors and yielding solid comfort to the owners or occupants. In the choice of shades the residents of this town exhibit a wide diversity of taste, no two houses being precisely alike excepting upon corporation grounds. Some owners cannot satisfy their preference for colors without adopting several; one has three varieties on the body of his house; another has five different colors, including brick basement and roof; others ingeniously blend the tints, while many change the shade in frequent opportunities to repaint, exactly as a woman must necessarily get a new style of hat every spring and autumn, or as a man every season orders a more modern cut of coat—not that the old color of the house or the trimmings on the hat or the cut of the coat were not superlatively tasty, but merely because with the lapse of months comes the imperative demand for change. Franklin ranks well with her neighbors in respect to neatness.

The Melrose school committee have adopted a plan under which all pupils who attend the High school next year, and who are not now in the school, may select such courses of study as shall best prepare them for their life's work. Elective blanks are distributed and taken home, where parents and pupils can carefully decide on a course of study suitable either for college, for scientific school, for the normal school, or for a business career.

$25.00 Reward.

I will give $25 for evidence to convict any person of selling intoxicating liquor in Franklin. DR. J. C. GALLISON.

Can While You Can.

If you want nice fruit next winter prepare to can very soon, as fruit is coming on, but don't use your old jars. Our new ones are cheaper, better, and improve the flavor of the fruit. We have the square "Royal" fruit jar, best quality selected glass, with "Lightning" top at 90 cents, $1.00 and $1.25 per dozen. There are none cheaper in the end. Window screens at reduced prices.

HOSIE BROS.

Office Closed.

My patrons are requested to note that my dental office will be closed until further notice during my vacation.

DR. M. E. POND.

All lovers of music are invited to see the display of pianos and organs at Sanford Bros., Medway. Up to date and prices right.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse.

Sweet peas at Slade's greenhouse.

COMMUNICATIONS.

[The editor assumes no responsibility for matter under this caption. This column is entirely at the disposal of the public, avoiding, as far as possible, trivial and controversial matter.]

Mr. Editor:—In the perusal of my sketch, "Franklin, 1850—1900," after it was published I noticed I omitted many details in regard to the growth of the town that ought to have been given.

In the autumn of 1851 the firm of Daniels & Greene, consisting of the late A. E. Daniels, Esq., and H. M. Greene, straw goods manufacturers, was dissolved and Mr. Daniels associated with himself his son, J. H. Daniels, and they erected a new straw goods factory corner of Main and School streets, commencing business in January, 1852.

In 1871 Mr. Greene sold his entire interest in the business, together with the factory, to Messrs. Farmer & Metcalf, who did a very successful business during the next four years. At the end of that time Mr. Metcalf retired from the firm and Mr. S. A. Beekman of New York became a partner, but two years after the firm was dissolved, and in the autumn a new firm was made up, consisting of O. M. Bassett, E. H. Sherman and John Farmer, who for several years did quite a successful business. The factory was destroyed by fire about the year 1890 and has never been rebuilt.

In 1869 Dean academy was opened, destroyed by fire in July, 1872, rebuilt and reopened in 1874. It was not very successful in its management until Mr. L. L. Burrington became principal, soon after which it commenced growing in popularity, and for fifteen years or more was and still is considered one of the finest institutions of learning of its kind in New England. Two or three years since Mr. B. resigned as principal on account of ill health, and the position has since been filled by Mr. Pierce, who came here from Vermont and has retained the popularity of the school in former years.

About the first business building of any account erected after 1866 was a building by James O. Chilson in 1870. The lower floor was occupied by Mr. C. as a meat and provision market, and the second floor contained several rooms used for business and other purposes. Mr. C. conducted the business for about twenty-two years and met with decided financial success.

In 1870 the late Messrs. J. P. and J. G. Ray had in process of erection their elegant residences, each being the counterpart of the other.

In 1872 the late Joseph G. Ray commenced the brick block, the lower floor of which contains each a dry goods and a grocery store and the postoffice. The second floor was occupied by the Franklin National bank, and there were also several business offices on the same floor, while the hall on the third floor was used by one of the lodges of the town.

In 1874 J. H. Daniels erected in close proximity to the Central house (hotel) a building designated as Daniels block. It contained two stores, billiard hall and barber's shop on the lower floor, and on the second floor a hall intended for theatrical and other entertainments.

The same year A. A. Fletcher erected a two and a half story wooden building on one of his Main street lots, and a year later another building adjoining the first. The former contained two stores and the latter three stores, each and all being occupied as soon as finished.

In 1883 or 1884 the late J. P. Ray erected the brick building which has been occupied as a hotel and gents' clothing and furnishing store.

In 1886 (in May) occurred one of the most disastrous fires known in Franklin, destroying the Daniels straw factory, Central house, stable and Daniels block, together with the elegant Universalist church, which cost nearly $45,000. The total loss was about $65,000, partially insured. The church was rebuilt two or three years later. The other buildings, excepting the stable, have never been rebuilt.

About the year 1890 the Congregationalist church was destroyed by fire, but rebuilt three years later. In the early part of the present summer the Catholic church was also destroyed by fire. It will probably be rebuilt at an early date.

Metcalf's brick block, containing five stores on the street floor, was erected in 1888, and two or three years later Mr. Butman erected a single brick building adjoining Metcalf's block.

Just below the railroad bridge, on Central square, the late A. H. Morse erected a brick block, its lower floor containing four stores and the next floor an opera house capable of seating about 800 people. He also at different times erected two or three other brick buildings.

In the spring of 1891 the elegant high school building on Central street was commenced, finished and opened in September, 1892. The Methodist church, nearly opposite the high school building, was dedicated in the autumn of 1873.

About four years ago was erected on Central street by the late Hon. W. F. Ray what is considered one of the most elegant and expensive residences in town, but alas! he lived only about two years to enjoy its benefit.

Last year the residence of the late William M. Thayer was remodeled into an unique and fashionable one by his son, A. M. Thayer, who purchased the adjoining lot, removed the house that was on it and erected in the rear of his residence a new and costly stable.

About 1892 Mr. Edwin Trowbridge erected a small building and commenced the manufacture of pianos. His business so increased that in less than three years he made two additions to the factory, which now is four stories high and nearly 150 feet long. His pianos have the reputation of being equal to any in the market. In the spring of 1898 Mr. T. died quite suddenly, and since that time the business has been managed by the widow, assisted by her nephew, Mr. Chas. Walker, as superintendent.

Last year (1899) the Catholic society, under the supervision of Rev. Fr. Lee, erected an elegant school building opposite the rectory. The building is of brick with freestone trimmings, three stories and basement, about 100 feet in length and 45 wide, and is certainly an ornament to that part of the town.

Mr. Davis Thayer retired from the straw goods business in 1871. In November of that year the factory was leased by a new firm, consisting of the late N. T. Hubbard, E. P. Bassett and H. V. Snow, under the firm name of Hubbard, Bassett & Co. They did a very successful business for five years. In January, 1880, Mr. Hubbard died very suddenly of heart disease. The business continued under the management of Bassett & Snow, and increased so rapidly that they decided to have a larger factory, and in 1886 erected one at the lower end of Dean avenue. The factory was 200 feet long, about 50 feet wide and four stories high. An addition about 100 feet in length and four stories high has since been made. In or about 1891 Mr. Bassett, in connection with his sons, Joseph and Edwin, purchased Mr. Snow's interest, and the firm thereafter was, until recently, E. P. Bassett & Sons, and now is Bassett Bros., the father having retired. Mr. Thayer's factory has since been occupied by Erickson, Stewart & Thayer, then by Erickson & Stewart, and the last three years by Mr. Stewart alone.

Within the past year two electric lines have entered the town, thus making it still more lively. They carry hundreds of passengers daily to beautiful Lake Pearl and also to Hoag Lake Park.

People who resided here previous to 1870 and have not been here since until recently all admit they should not recognize the town as the Franklin of old.

Having exhausted my "fund of information," I desist from further "boring" the readers of the SENTINEL.

AN OLDTIMER, 1850—1900.

Franklin, August 16, 1900.

An Equine Complication.

Robert Wylie of South Franklin had the horse of a neighbor in his charge for a few days, and a man employed by Wylie drove the animal one of the hot nights recently and when returning to the stable gave the horse a drink of cold water, which was followed by the collapse of the animal.

On the other hand it is alleged that the horse was sick and his collapse was not due to overheating or drinking cold water, but to natural causes, and it is further alleged that the employe who was accused of injuring the animal was set upon and maltreated in a manner neither legal nor Christian.

As a result complications have arisen in regard to the value of the horse and who should contribute to the payment thereof. The owner of the beast is G. C. Fisher, and there is a possibility that the lawyers will have a chance to cast the X-rays upon the difficulty.

Richardson's Market.

Of course you've got to eat some meat, even if it is hot weather. Try a nice chicken or fowl for Sunday. Our vegetables are received every day fresh from the gardens. Try a can of our ten cent soup with your dinner; all kinds.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

To Let.—House and barn. Emily F. Aldrich. 21,24*

100 cords trash hard and pine limbs, at Allen's wood yard, School street.

Mrs. G. W. Miner, Crescent street, would like a competent girl for housework at once. 24 tf

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

Wanted.—A ton of horse hay. Will pay for same in carpenter work. F. E. Dudley, Union and Central streets. 14*

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

Cut flowers, all kinds of funeral designs well made up at Slade's greenhouse. Roses in small or large quantities.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor,
MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public, election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in.	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 50	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1900.

The friends of Samuel L. Powers seem to be pushing his campaign for the congressional nomination in this district with old-fashioned vigor. Mr Powers is said to be a man of real oratorical abilities, and if he is elected we fancy that the district will be heard from more frequently in the next two years than it has been for a good many years past.—Norwood Advertiser.

The eleventh congressional district will make no mistake in selecting Samuel L. Powers, Esq. of Newton, to be the nominee of the Republicans at the coming convention. He has the confidence of the people of his own city in that they are a unit for him beyond the shadow of a doubt. He is by far the best equipped man in point of discretion, intelligence and ability who is available as a candidate, and who, if nominated, can add to the plurality of the Republican ticket. Such a man is an inspiration to the cause and there should be no doubt of his nomination.

It can hardly be possible that the advocates of Mr. Williams insist that no man shall be nominated for congress who has been counsel for a corporation. That certainly would exclude Mr Williams himself as well as every lawyer who has achieved any prominence at the bar. In fact, we do not recall a single instance of an able lawyer who has been sent to congress from Massachusetts in the last fifty years who has not been counsel for corporations during his practice in the profession. The very fact that an attorney represents important corporations is evidence of his ability and standing at the bar.—Hyde Park Gazette.

A short time ago a Bangor (Me.) paper had an interesting write-up of a local character in a Washington county town. Special mention was made of the fact that he believes a fortune of about half a million dollars is coming to him from England in a short time. Now it seems he received a letter a day or two after the article appeared from a [illegible] young woman proposing marriage. She took special pains to inform him that it was not his prospective wealth that induced her to break through the bars of custom and ask him to wed her, but his portrait that was published with the account made her wish and long to possess the original.

A minister in a Pennsylvania town on a recent Sunday surprised his audience by reading the following announcement from the pulpit: "The regular session of the Donkey club will be held as usual after the service. Members will line up just outside the church door, make remarks and stare at the ladies who pass, as is their custom. Any member known to escort a lady to church like a man and sit with her like a gentleman will be promptly expelled from membership." The effect was marvelous.

Progressive dinners appear to be popular in some parts of the west. A recent one in Janesville, Wis. is thus described: "At a dinner of six courses, in honor of a bride and groom, one course was served at each of six houses. From the first house the party, after [illegible] oysters, put on their wraps and started for the soup house half a mile away. After they were filled with soup and conversation they went to the fish place and so on to the end."

In the course of an [illegible] "Personals" in the Atchison Globe Mrs. P— says: "Mr P— is mistaken in stating that I have left his bed and board, for he never furnished them. As to his warning about credit, if he ever had any I never discovered it in the [illegible] years I lived with him."

The North Carolina supreme court has sustained a decision rendered in Burke county, imposing $[illegible] fine on the Southern railway for giving a free pass to a doorkeeper of the legislature in 1897.

HAIR WEALTH

Wealth of hair is wealth indeed, especially to a woman. Every other physical attraction is secondary to it. We have a book we will gladly send you that tells just how to care for the hair.

If your hair is too thin or losing its luster, get —

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Growth becomes vigorous and all dandruff is removed.

It always restores color to gray or faded hair. Retain your youth; don't look old before your time.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"I have used your Hair Vigor now for about 25 years and I have found it splendid and satisfactory in every way. I believe I have recommended this Hair Vigor to hundreds of my friends, and they all tell the same story. If anybody wants the best kind of a Hair Vigor I shall certainly recommend to them just as strongly as I can that they get a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor."
Mrs. N. E. Hamilton,
Nov. 28, 1898. Norwich, N. Y.

Write the Doctor.

If you don't obtain all the benefits you desire from the use of the Vigor, write the Doctor about it. Address,
Dr. J. C. AYER,
Lowell, Mass.

NOT FOR SALE.

A Young Minister and His Bold Stand Against a Pew Holder Who Was a Liquor Dealer.

A young minister, on going to a new church last spring, was informed by the official brethren that his salary would be $1,[illegible], and that as every summer a wholesale liquor dealer visited the town with his family and paid regularly $50 for a pew in the church, it would be policy for the minister to touch the liquor question gently to avoid giving offense. The reply of the young man was:

"Take $50 off my salary, for I want to get a shot at that pew."

Soon after he fired his "shot," but the recoil of the gun was not so bad as had been anticipated, for the liquor dealer, pleased with the young man's courage, doubled his subscription, making it $100 instead of $50. Whether he did this to relieve his conscience or to quiet the minister we cannot say, but we are strongly of the opinion that the safest thing a preacher of the Gospel can do is to tell the truth; and if there is any man who needs plain preaching at the present day, it is the man who deals in intoxicating drink and then hires a seat and comes to church to hear what the minister has to say about it. A man who fails to tell the truth in the ears of such a hearer will find in the day of judgment that he has something more serious to face than the wrath of a rumseller or the loss of his subscription.

"If the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned; if the sword come and take any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand. When I say unto the wicked: O wicked man, thou shalt surely die; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at thy hand" (Ezek. 33: 6, 8.).—Witness.

No Drink, Therefore No Crime.

Kinglake, in his "History of the Crimean War," says "that when our soldiers first landed, nothing could exceed their kindness and good behavior. 'What,' he asks, 'was the reason?' The answer is, that there was 'no drink, and therefore no crime.' The drink came with the next batch of transports, and the whole condition of the army was instantly changed for the worse. They forfeited no small measure of the golden opinions which they had won."

Hardly Kind.

"I have no money, Miss Irma — my wit is my fortune."

"Don't you care; poverty is no crime."—Fliegende Blaetter.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by druggists, 75c.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

UNLUCKY MEN.

Many Are Unfortunate from Natural Reasons, But Some Without Apparent Cause.

A man can certainly be unlucky in the proper sense of the word—that is, frequently visited by misfortune for which he is entirely irresponsible. Of course, in the majority of cases the ill luck is only apparent, the true explanation being some deficiency in the man himself of which he is totally unconscious. He knows his powers and he is aware of his weaknesses, but he is not aware of his causes of failure. He may, for example, be a really able man, with every capacity for success, except a certain inability to understand the character of other men or women. That has been often the deficiency which has ruined kings; it spoiled the career of Louis XIV., whose latest adviser, Mme de Maintenon, was a good woman of the devotee type, with a decidedly inferior brain; and it was one cause of the fall of Napoleon, whose sub-kings and marshals were, with the possible exception of Eugene Beauharnais, never men of first rate powers. That is usually attributed to his jealousy of rivals; but he chose inferior men in civil life, and never through his whole career had a private secretary or a controller of his household who was worth his salt, while of his two wives, one was a vain and extravagant person without a brain, and the other an arch-duchess who had not an idea beyond her claim to be considered on account of her birth, and who married her chamberlain. In private life the same defect is probably of all others the commonest cause of ruin—very able men, and still oftener able women, being led away in pecuniary affairs by persons of imperfect intelligence and positively untrustworthy character. Or the able man has a habit of procrastination, of which he is wholly unaware, which leads him always to miss the moment of opportunity, the commonest of defects in able yet unsuccessful generals, or he is liable to what the French call "entrainements" and the English "rushes," which lead him into blunders that all his intimates declare to be "positively inexplicable."

The ablest human being we ever knew had a way of dressing himself, always in unconsciousness, which twice cost him a great career; while another singularly competent man spoiled every chance by a temper which was in reality nothing but whimsical, but which caused all employers to pronounce him hopelessly "unreliable." We should say, indeed, that the really able were specially liable to one of the most ruinous of all vices or foibles, incurable indolence, while everyone knows a few quite competent men who never succeed because they lost opportunities through an indifference of which they were totally unaware. Still, though we recognize all these, and many more causes of failure, we cannot but admit that there are men who are genuinely "unlucky," with whom the current of events for some inexplicable reason always collides, who are always injured in an accident from which others escape, whose cabs break down when driving to important appointments, whose investments which seem most reasonable are always swept away, whose relatives are blisters, and whose friends causes of expense. The writer had once an intimate friend, who firmly believed of himself that the offchance of misfortune always happened to him, and always would happen, and it was exceedingly difficult for anyone who knew his history to doubt that he had reason for his superstition. And the writer knew well another man—indeed, he published an account of his adventures—who passed some eight times in life through accidents which would infallibly have killed anyone else, without a scratch and who had, therefore, Clive's belief that he was destined to something—which turned out an illusion. We know that there are laws which regulate chance, and we know that there are long intervals when they seem to be defied, and there is no perceptible reason why a man's life should not be lived within the influence of one of the intervals, favorable or the reverse. If he can throw aces or deuces ten times running, why should he not come to grief in ten consecutive incidents of life? There is no reason perceptible why in the great providential scheme chance should be allowed to enter, but then there is no reason why insanity should, insanity involving that hardest of all things to conceive, irresponsibility; yet both do enter. We may humbly wait for explanation, but we see no use in denying the common experience of mankind.—London Spectator.

Consumptive Houses.

That consumption does not run in families but does run in houses, is the theory of Sir Richard Thorne, who addressed the London Medical Society recently. "Refuse to live in a damp subsoil," was his advice; until people cease to live under unfavorable conditions, they need hope for little diminution in the consumption death rate. The improvement of sanitary appliances had, in the last 45 years, reduced that rate nearly 50 per cent.—N. Y. World.

An Apt Illustration.

An inspector of schools has been giving in the Humanitarian a selection of the leading "howlers" of his acquaintance. The shrewdest of all the answers came from a very small boy who was asked to give a text which forbade a man to marry two wives. Without a moment's pause he replied: "No man can serve two masters."—Household Words.

Another Kind of Lying.

If a man conceals the truth he lies in ambush.—Chicago Daily News.

VIADUCT TO BE TAKEN DOWN.

An Immense Work of Engineering in Pennsylvania Will Soon Be Destroyed.

It is authoritatively stated that the famous Kinzua viaduct, the gigantic iron girder and trestle bridge in McKean county, Pennsylvania, south of Bradford, is to be replaced at an early date by a new and wholly different structure. Two views of this famous bridge are given. Work on it was begun on May 5, 1882, and it was completed and opened for traffic less than four months later, on August 29, 1882. It is 301 feet high at the highest point and until the completion of the Garabit viaduct was the highest bridge in the world. The Garabit spans the Truyere in the south of France, is 1,849 feet long and at the highest point the rail level is 401 feet above the river. It was designed by M. Eiffel, builder of the famous tower, and was completed in 1884.

The Kinzua bridge is 2,060 feet long. It was built by the Keystone Company of Phoenixville, Pa. Its completion gave to the New York, Lake Erie & Western railroad direct communication with the coal fields of western Pennsylvania. The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh has a traffic arrangement with the Erie for the use of the bridge. The valley of the Kinzua, which this great trestle spans, is 15 miles south of Bradford and one of the wildest regions yet left in western Pennsylvania. Until recently, perhaps even yet, bear were plentiful and deer occasionally found in this valley.

The Kinzua viaduct has been a point of excursion and an object of curiosity for sightseers ever since it was built. Gen. Grant was taken there on one occasion.—Chicago Chronicle.

Counsel had been cross-examining the witness somewhat sharply, and the latter was becoming a trifle flustered, for he was evidently not used to the embarrassing position of one in the witness box.

"Do you remember of telling me that you didn't hear any conversation between the prisoner and his brother?" asked the attorney.

"I was," answered the witness, quickly, and he wondered what the jurors were laughed at.—Detroit Free Press.

High Pay for Army Surgeons.

Sir William McCormac and several other London surgeons who volunteered for service in South Africa are drawing pay at the rate of $25,000 a year apiece. Though that sum may not recoup them for what they would earn in London, it is far in excess of any salary hitherto paid to any army medical officer.—Washington Star.

"Take Heed Will Surely Speed."

Be sure to heed the first symptoms of indigestion, nervousness and impure blood, and thus avoid chronic dyspepsia, nervous prostration and all the evils produced by bad blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is your safeguard. It quickly sets the stomach right, strengthens and quiets the nerves, purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood and keeps up the health tone.

All liver ills are cured by Hood's Pills. 25 cents.

Settlers from British Territories.

It is estimated that there are 50,000 settlers more than last year in Manitoba and the territories, and of these about 15,000 are Americans.—Chicago Chronicle.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on Albert C. Mason & Co., druggist, and get a trial bottle free. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

Example Close at Hand.

"Papa," asked little Dickey, puzzled at something he had found in his school history, "what is a 'governing body?'"

"Your mamma is a governing body, my son," answered Mr. Meeker, plaintively.—Chicago Tribune.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
TRADE MARK

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint, but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Chilson's Market

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef,	10 to 12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe1-ly8

One Ingredient.

"Every day is ground hog day with me," mused the youth who acted as chief operator of the sausage mill.—Baltimore American.

Politeness.

A man's idea of true politeness is to refrain from consulting his watch during a tedious sermon.—Chicago Daily News.

Bright Prospects.

She—The cook says she won't leave the house without a recommendation.

He—Good! Perhaps we can keep her permanently.—Town Topics.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., Druggists.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

One, Indeed.

Cholly—And was my present a surprise to your sister, Johnny?

Johnny—Betcher life! She said she never suspected you'd give her anything so cheap.—Brooklyn Life.

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,
Jewelers and Opticians
160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.
Sign of the Electric Clock.

det-Fty

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON).

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices. 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-Ftf

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN SAVINGS BANK,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, LESTER L. BURRINGTON, WALTER M. FISHER, DR. GEORGE KING, } Vice Presidents.
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, E. F. Chapman, B. M. Rockwood, George W. Wiggin, Charles Stewart.

STATEMENT JULY 31, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors	$571,160 11
Guarantee Fund	28,217 86
Profit and Loss Account	738 93
Interest Account	567 15
Real Estate Income Account	16 19
	$600,700 30

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		27,759 32
Railroad Bonds		136,202 50
F. F. Boynton account		3,023 72
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		28,075 00
" " Mortgages		151,500 00
" " Personal Securities		163,841 18
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		31 97
Bank Furniture		140 00
Bank Deposits
Franklin National Bank	$7,822 25
Nat. Bank of Redemption	4,095 58
Mercantile Trust Co.	84 16
		12,001 99
Cash on hand		752 37
		$600,700 30

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.
ADELBERT D. THAYER,
CHARLES STEWART,
Committee of Examination.

July 31, 1900.

SUMMER BOARD WANTED

By the many thousand readers of the

Boston Evening Transcript
(No Sunday Edition).

THE GREATEST PAPER IN NEW ENGLAND

FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900.

"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more farm houses of ten rooms.

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT

Is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies.

Boston · Transcript · Co.,
324 Washington St., Boston.

- - THE - -
GREATER BOSTON
=Business Directory=
- - And Register - -
FOR 1900

Containing Lists of all Business Houses, City, State and United States Officials, Societies, Institutions, Etc.

With Street Directory and New Map.

Comprising also

Arlington,	Brookline,	Cambridge,
Chelsea,	Everett,	Hyde Park,
Malden,	Medford,	Milton,
Newton,	Quincy,	Somerville,
Waltham,	Watertown,	Winthrop.

956 PAGES. PRICE $3.00.

Mailed Promptly on Receipt of Price.

SAMPSON, MURDOCK & CO.,
155 Franklin St., Boston.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW
Enclosed · Arc · Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.
UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

Do You Want to Know about Automobiles—the different kinds their construction, care and operation—tours, runs, etc., of owners and users? If so, you should subscribe for the handsomely illustrated, thoroughly original, up-to-date automobilists' monthly.

$1 a year. 10c. a copy. Sample two 2c. sta'ps. Live Agents wanted.
The Automobile
150 Nassau St., N.Y.

au10-F

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Park, PHILA., PA.
Mention this paper.

au17-4w

PATENTS
DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
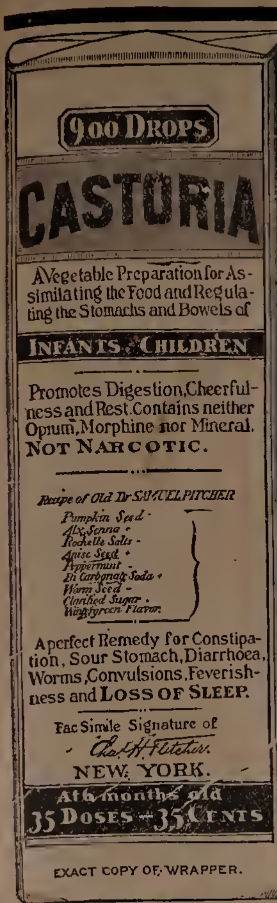
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

au3-4w



900 DROPS
CASTORIA
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed
Alx. Senna
Rochelle Salts
Anise Seed
Peppermint
Bi Carbonate Soda
Worm Seed
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor.
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
Chas H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES - 35 CENTS
EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

COLLEGE TRAINING.

Does Not Always Increase a Girl's Stock of Common Sense.

It has been remarked that modern methods of education, whatever may be their merits, do not markedly increase that most valuable of all endowments, common sense. As the development of that somewhat indefinable but absolutely necessary quality, if one would lead the most useful life, should be more aimed at than anything else, thoughtful mothers have suggested that there must be serious defects in our modern schools and colleges. One of the directions in which common sense is most likely to be shown is in the care of the health. Neither young men nor young women appear to realize the value of health, and our colleges do not seem to instill into them the precepts which aid in securing this greatest of earthly benefits. Wealth, learning, beauty, wit—all are of little comfort without health, while with it almost anything may be borne cheerfully. Not long ago a college girl graduate sat reading a book at a considerable distance from the lamp which was her sole dependence for light. Not satisfied with sitting at least three times as far from the lamp as she ought, she had carefully interposed her head between it and her book. One of the foundation facts of education is that one should always get the best possible light upon one's work, being careful never to let the sun shine directly upon it, and that the light should come over one of the shoulders, preferably the left. Under the most favorable conditions the life of a student furnishes more than enough business for the oculist.—Kate Upson Clark, in Woman's Home Companion.

Ironing Shirt-Waists.

When ironing a colored waist, either of silk or of cotton fabric, one should not use too hot an iron, and yet it must be hot enough to iron smoothly, without blistering or sticking to the starch. An overheated iron injures bright colors as much as do hot water and poor soap. In ironing a silk waist place a piece of cheesecloth over the garment, and iron as any ordinary article. By doing this the natural appearance of the silk is preserved, and this would be impossible if the iron were brought in direct contact with it.—Fannie Malin, in Woman's Home Companion.

Olive Omelet.

An omelet often served at the Havana tables, and one that is much relished by American visitors to that city, is evidently an importation from Spain. In it are folded olives that have been stoned and cut into halves. Sometimes to the olives are added blanched almonds and a few seeded raisins, but the most delicate flavor is present when the olives are used alone.—N. Y. Post.

BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY.

Two-thirds of the world's sugar is now produced from beets.

The average cost in foreign countries of all sugar imported into the United States in the fiscal year of 1872 was 5.37 cents per pound, and in 1899 2.39 cents per pound.

Prior to 1871-72 the world's production of beet sugar had reached 1,000,000 tons; in the present crop year it is, according to latest estimates, 5,510,000 tons, while the cane-sugar crop, which in 1871-72 was 1,599,000 tons, is in the present year 2,904,000 tons.

In less than half a century the sugar-producing area of the world has been shifted from the tropics northward and the farmer of the temperate zone has shown his ability not only to compete with the low-priced labor of the tropics, but in doing so to reduce by one-half the cost of the article produced.

JOKES A LA AUSTRALIAN.

Wigg—"Closefist holds on to everything that comes his way." Wagg—"Yes; he even tried to keep the Sabbath."—Melbourne Weekly Times.

Bray—"Metempsychosis? No, sir; I think it's a horrid belief. Fancy my becoming a donkey in my next incarnation!" Funnell — "Monotonous, eh?"—Sydney Town and Country Journal.

She—"What is the term applied to one who signs another's name to a check?" He—"Five or ten years, usually."—Melbourne Weekly Times.

"Are you sure this milk is free from germs?" inquired the cautious young housekeeper. "Yes, lady," replied the milkman, unguardedly, "we boil every drop of water that goes into it."—Melbourne Weekly Times.

The hostess mildly suggested to a little boy invited out to dinner that he should wipe his fingers on the napkin instead of on the tablecloth. "I beg your pardon," said the young hopeful, "but I thought it was a pity to make a clean napkin in a mess when there was such a dirty cloth on the table."—Sydney Town and Country Journal.

WISE SUMMER VACATIONS.

Take your summer vacations just how and when and where your health, purses and proper inclinations permit.

Do not try to affect either elaborate style, nor aught that will make your temporary respite from business or labor, or your necessary residential change of climate, a bore or an unbearable expense.

Do not go away from home simply for show, or to tell about it, as your mental and physical health, requiring a suitable change for their special relaxation or improvement, are more to yourself than anybody else. As a rule, others concern themselves about us, even on our vacation trips, less than we foolishly imagine.

We should cultivate more independence, and take our vacations in keeping with our individual tastes and means. Aping others is ill paid labor unless we can follow their examples sensibly and becomingly. Liberal means is not essential to an enjoyable vacation; indeed, it is probable that in the majority of cases those who have to plan carefully in regard to expenses enjoy themselves quite as much as their richer neighbors.—Christian Work.

What Drink Did.

"A two-dollar bill came into the hands of a relative of mine," writes a lady in Boston, "which speaks volumes on the horrors of strong drink or the traffic in it. There was written in red ink on the back of it the following: 'Wife, children, and over $40,000, all gone. I am alone responsible. All has gone down my throat. When I was 21 I had a fortune. I am not yet 35 years old. I have killed my beautiful wife, who died of a broken heart; have murdered my children with neglect. When this bill is gone I do not know how I can get my next meal. I shall die a drunken pauper. This is my last money, and my history. If this bill comes into the hands of any man who drinks, let him take warning from my life's ruin."—Michigan Christian Advocate.

The Parson — I t'ink it'd be moah 'propriate ef yo' 'tended chu'ch on Sunday 'stid of gwine shootin'.

The Reprobate — Wal, pahson, de shootin' in dis hyah neighbo'hood am bettah dan de suhmons!—Puck.

Conscience.

Even people who will not confess to having a conscience, must admit that they sometimes have a funny feeling inside them that is not caused by pie.—Atchison Globe.

VERSE OF THE SEASON.

The Day's Best Hour.

Sweet is the Morn that deepens to a blush
Athwart each clear-cut ridge and mountain high,
When, on the dewy twigs, the birds all vie
In tuneful measures with the glorious thrush!
And deeply sweet is Noon, when every rush
And nodding blade of grass seems full asleep;
When scarce a whisper through the woods doth creep,
While distant scenes look hazy, in the hush

But, poet's hour, loved Eve, whose shadow folds,
In peace, the deeper grasses by the mere,
Whose crimson flame gives glory to the near,
And dapples every height the eye beholds,
With fervent glory fringing cape and bay,
Thou art the sweetest, lordliest hour of day!
—William J. Gallagher, in Chambers' Journal.

That Dreadful Telephone.

"Hello! That you? Sweet Mary,
I'm running over with bliss,
If you were just beside me,
I'd give you such a kiss;
I've had a talk with mother,
Everything as bright as June,
Papa himself is willing,
And we'll get married soon.
Come closer to the 'phone, dear,
For I have lots to tell—
But mind you, not a whisper,
To that old squint-eyed Nell.

"I met her Sunday morning,
Dressed up as neat as print,
With just the same proboscis
And just the same old squint.
Now, do speak up, my dearie,
I really cannot hear,
Is it Mary, anyhow?
Your voice sounds rather queer."
"No, it isn't your sweet Mary,
You'd best creep in your shell,
It's one who knows you better—
The same old squint-eyed Nell."
—Detroit Free Press.

A Pastoral.

He wooed the simple country maid,
The youth who wore the outing shirt;
But Amaryllis in the shade
Was really an outrageous flirt.

He thought to break a country heart
For pastime ere he went to town
To whirl about the busy mart;
But she—she simply turned him down

In vain he used his best perfume
And gave his hair the middle part;
As you most probably assume,
He could not win the maiden's heart.

"Be mine," he cried. "Sweet nature's child,
Fair flower, blooming here unseen!
Oh, quit this country, rude and wild,
And reign of this striped bosom queen."

She looked at him and sweetly smiled.
Her answer made the young man glum.
She said, "'Tis true I'm nature's child,
That's why I hate a vacuum."
—Chicago Daily Record.

Prayer.

A prayerful soul breathes through the face
Like perfume through a rose;
No art can imitate the grace
Of spiritual repose.

The heart that talks with God in prayer
Unconsciously imparts
Some portion of the truths learned there
To other minds and hearts.

It needs no utterance of a word,
It needs no pen or book;
What God speaks to the heart is heard
In every act or look.

Pray much; in pleasure, toil or rest
Call on that Unseen Force,
And let your heart kneel in your breast,
Communing with The Source.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox, in Woman's Home Companion.

Her Answer.

"Dear Nell," he wrote, "those violets
I've made so bold to send to you,
Shall be my mute ambassadors;
And each shall tell how deep and true
The sender's love is, craving yours
For him. What messengers more meet?
Are they not typical of you,
They are so sweet?"

"Dear Jack," she wrote, "your violets
Have just this moment been received
Their message took me by surprise,
'Twas something scarce to be believed.
I send my answer back with them;
What fitter messengers for you?
So typical of how you'll feel,
They are so blue!"
—Catholic Standard and Times.

A Day's Work.

Early in de mornin'
While de grass is wet wid dew,
I tells myself a story
'Bout de work I's gwine to do.
An' I sits beneath a shade tree
Whah de sunlight loves to play,
An' de ol' clock keeps a-strikin'
While de daytime runs away.

Six o'clock an' seven o'clock;
Eight o'clock and nine;
It's noon befo' you knows it,
An' de dinner bell soun's fine.
One o'clock an' two o'clock;
Three o'clock an' fo'—
Da's all de time I's paid foh'
An' I dasn' work no mo'.
—Washington Star.

The Bright, Bright World.

It's a bright, bright world, with its roses and its rest,
And, till we reach the other, it's the sweetest and the best,
And hand in hand together
We'll face the stormy weather,
For a rainbow rounds the Heavens from the rosy east to west.

It's a bright, bright world, with its love and with its light—
Its blessings and caressings, its song, its wrong, its right;
And sinning and forgiven,
It's rolling nearer Heaven;
The bells—the bells are ringing, and the harbor is in sight!

Everybody
Knows
About
Pain-Killer
A Household
Medicine
A Safe and Sure Cure for
Cramps Coughs Bruises
Diarrhœa Colds Burns
Sprains and Strains.
Gives instant relief.
Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
Only one Pain Killer, Perry Davis'.

Incandescent Lamps Used.

What is the annual consumption of incandescent lamps in this country? A recent statement placed the number at 60,000,000, but this is obviously much too high. The carefully prepared estimate of the incandescent lamp business of the United States for the year 1899, which appeared in the New Year's number of the Western Electrician, showed that the volume of business was $2,700,000. Assuming an average price as low as 17 cents a lamp, the number produced is less than 16,000,000. Probably 15,000,000 is very near the exact figures representing the total output of the factories. Similarly the domestic output in 1898 was about 12,000,000 lamps. The number of incandescent lamps imported is so small that it does not affect the calculation to an appreciable degree.—Western Electrician.

One on the Judge.

A story is told of a judge who could not control his temper and so could not control other people. One day there was unusual disorder in the courtroom, and at last the judge could endure it no longer. "It is impossible to allow this persistent contempt of court to go on," he exclaimed, "and I shall be forced to go to the extreme length of taking the one step that will stop it!" There was a long silence; then one of the leading counsel rose and with just a trace of a smile, inquired: "If it please your honor, on what date will your resignation take effect?"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Mounts and Remounts.

The number of horses required by an army corps is immense. They are needed to mount the officers and the cavalry, to drag stores, ammunition and guns, to draw the ambulance wagons and all the hospital necessaries, to carry the bridges, pontoons, telegraph apparatus, balloons and hundreds of other things. An army corps requires at least 12,000 horses, and as these are constantly getting sick, getting shot and breaking down, they have to be renewed again and again. Not fewer than 1,401 wagons are needed for the various purposes of an army corps.—N. Y. Herald.

Not Much.

"Nancy," said the stern parent, as he reached for the butter, "I thought Jack Hashaway kissed you last night."

"Nonsense, father!" responded the pink-cheeked daughter. "Why did you think so?"

"Well, Nancy, as I passed the parlor door I thought I heard you say 'Oh, stop!'"

"The idea! If Jack were to kiss me, do you think I'd tell him to stop?"—Chicago Evening News.

She Apologizes.

Waitress—You are sure you don't want anything more, gentlemen?

Customer—Haven't we said so already?

"I beg your pardon, I'm sure; but I can't help being attentive to gentlemen that look as if they was going to be so liberal!"—Puck.

Suits and Damages.

Tailor—I brought you this suit six months ago, and you haven't paid me a cent.

Harduppe—But it didn't suit; it was damaged.

"I am afraid I shall have to bring another suit for damages."—Philadelphia Record.

Would Learn to Quarrel.

"Mrs. Wiggins," remarked the minister, "we wish you would let your daughter join the choir."

"O, I couldn't think of it!" was the reply. "Minnie has such a sweet disposition and I don't want to spoil her."—Ohio State Journal.

Similar But Different.

Mrs. Blinks—There's hardly any living with my husband; he doesn't know anything.

Mrs. Winks—There's no living at all with my husband; he knows everything.—Chicago Evening News.

Big Cargo of Breadstuffs.

The largest cargo of breadstuffs ever put afloat for the orient was recently cleared at Portland, Ore., in the Arab, which held the equivalent of 231,771 bushels of wheat, valued at $140,000.—Chicago Chronicle.

A Frightful Blunder.

Will often cause a horrible Burn, Scald Cut or Bruise. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, will kill the pain and promptly heal it. Cures Old Sores, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, all skin Eruptions. Best Pile cure on earth. On 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co. Druggists.

To the Deaf.

A rich lady, cured of her deafness in the head by Dr. Nicholson's Artificial Ear drums, gave $10,000 to his institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the ear drums may have them free. Address No. 5095C, The Nicholson Institute, 780 Eighth avenue, New York, U S A. jl27

Illusions.

"I wonder if the clown is just as jolly in private life?"

"I understand he's twice as jolly—because he doesn't have to be."—Puck.

If you wish to cure scrofula or salt rheum permanently, take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It expels all impurities from the blood.

Jell-O, the New Dessert, pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

Pyny-Pectoral Relieves Right Away and makes a speedy end of coughs and colds.

Starting a Conversation.

"What a study the face of that oldish man across the room would make for Max Nordau," he said, addressing the girl to whom the hostess had just introduced him.

"Why?" she asked.

"Degeneration is so plainly marked upon all his features. Jove! I should hate to have a man with his characteristics for my father!"

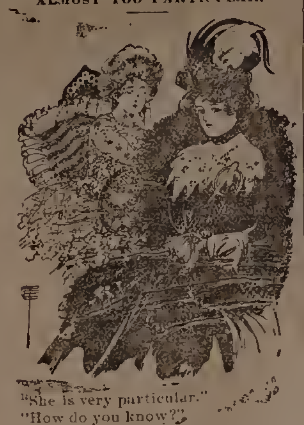
"Oh, I don't know," she replied. "It isn't so bad. Come over here, papa, and let me introduce you to Mr. Snively."—Chicago Times-Herald.

What Might Have Been.

"It's queer how people's ambitions change," said the sweet-looking old lady. "When my Willie was a boy he wanted to be a circus performer, and now he is a clergyman."

"Yes," replied the woman who has a reputation for saying things, "and it is often hard to account for these deflections, too. He might have made an excellent horizontal bar artist."—Chicago Times-Herald.

ALMOST TOO PARTICULAR.



"She is very particular."

"How do you know?"

"When she caught that burglar in her house the first thing she asked was if he had wiped his feet on the door mat."—Chicago Chronicle.

Warring Sentiments.

"You have long boasted what you were going to do with Chaffers when you met him, and when he confronted you the other day you ran away from him."

"True. But, strong as was my belligerent impulse, I couldn't overcome the influence of my mother's injunction to shun bad company."—Richmond Dispatch.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

Broken Bric-A-Bracs.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man, of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's cement. The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are to expensive and do not allow large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $3.75 a pound, and another cost $2.65 a gallon while a large share of the so called cements and liquid glue, upon the market are nothing more than 16 cent glue, dissolved in water or citric acid, and in some cases, altered slightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials. Major's cement retails at fifteen and twenty-five cents a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make a larger profit. The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising which now amounts to $5000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876. Insist on having Major's. Don't accept any off hand advice from a druggist. If you are at all handy (and you will be likely to find that you are more so than you imagine) you can repair your rubber boots and family shoes, and other rubber and leather articles, with Major's rubber cement and Major's leather cement. And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will save. If your druggist can't supply you, it will be fowarded by mail; either kind. Free of postage.

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Shake into your shoes Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It cools the feet and makes tight or new shoes feel easy. Cures corns, bunions, swollen, smarting, hot, callous, sore and sweating feet. Allen's Foot Ease relieves all pain and gives rest and comfort. We have over 30,000 testimonials. It cures while you walk. Try it today. All druggists and shoe stores sell it, 25c. Sample sent free. Address Allen M. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Genesse Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of grain-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If people are interested in their health and the welfare of their children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all, but Grain-O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it is solid grain.

Yours for health, C. F. Meyers.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 m; 12 04, 3 30, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 38 p m; S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 50, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m, 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S [illegible] 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 46, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m, 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a. m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 8 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m, 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return. 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

LOW RATES
3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION
APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	10c
5 to 15 miles,	15c
15 to 25 "	20c
25 to 35 "	25c
35 to 45 "	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to
New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.
au25F

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

G. A. Martin, M.D.,
AND
C. B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A. J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.
M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
...BOSTON.
Telephone 1839.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all here is to it.

BABY FOOD
MILK

There's a Sucker Born Every Minute.

so give t[illegible] [illegible]ies a chance for life by using our improved nursing bottles and our strengthening and nourishing baby foods. Life for the little ones during the heated term means bottles that can be kept thoroughly clean and food that will make pure blood, bone and muscle, and our foods will do it.

We recommend Mellin's Food

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

M[illegible] Elizabeth Hatch, aged [illegible]4, wife of David Hatch, died at Wampum on Sunday The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon, Rev Mr Minchin officiating She leaves a husband, four sons and one daughter the wife of B.C Hanceman —Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Bertha Atwood Harshorn to Joseph Graven Scamadi, on Wednesday, Sept [illegible], from [illegible] —Francis N Sheldon has been drawn to serve as juror for the September [illegible] term of court at Dedham —Mr and Mrs. William Whitaker [illegible] children of Cambridge are at Miss Mary McLane's —Mrs. E M, Miss Louise and Miss A M Brastow are in Yarmouth —Mrs James E Carpenter is at Nantucket —Mr and Mrs George Foster of M[illegible] are at the Metcalf cottage —The recent bazar netted [illegible] —Nathan Fales has gone on a sea voyage to Halifax, N S —Rev J W Alexander, the talented young [illegible] clergyman, [illegible] the guest of M[illegible] [illegible] Fales —Fred L Sewall, [illegible] the Wrentham High [illegible], has accepted a position as principal of the Wareham High school, with [illegible] pupils and requiring two assistant [illegible] —Daniel S Farrington [illegible] [illegible] for a vacation at the [illegible] —Miss [illegible] is visiting friends at [illegible] —Miss Mary Chase of Lichfield [illegible] is visiting her sister Mrs A M [illegible] —Miss [illegible] [illegible] —Mr. and Mrs A[illegible] [illegible] from their outing [illegible] at Me

The New Orleans [illegible] [illegible] have invented a [illegible] gets little comfort from a scientific journal. It analyzes his scheme and says his gun would have to be 1.5[illegible] feet long and operated by a plant that would cost $21, 49[illegible],[illegible]00.

Your Liver

Will be roused to its natural duties and your biliousness, headache and constipation be cured if you take

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.

SHELDONVILLE.

Miss Nellie Border of Fall River is at Mrs. E F Parmenter's.

George Austin has returned from a week's stay at Block Island

Mrs. Fred Mackay and children of Boston are visiting relatives here.

Mr and Mrs Gray and children of Holyoke are visiting at Nelson Falls

Miss Alice M Bradford leaves Sunday for a three weeks' visit in Chicago

Miss Gertrude Blakeney of North Attleboro has been visiting relatives here.

William Towne and family of Boston are at the parsonage for a month or two.

Dr and Mrs I D A Warner of Bridgeport, Conn , are visiting the Misses Fales

Miss Maud Foster of Diamond Hill visited her aunt Mrs G S. Sheldon, last week

A cottage prayer meeting was held Thursday evening at the home of S. D. Turner

Mrs W A [illegible] and Mrs Lydia Newell spent Tuesday at Rev L. Brown's, in Wrentham

Mrs. E P Ha[illegible] and children of West Roxbury are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs G F Hit[illegible]

Rev Dr P[illegible] [illegible] Providence will occupy the pulpit of the Universalist church, West Wrentham, next Sunday.

Mrs W[illegible] [illegible] and son of South Framingham have returned home after a few weeks' visit with her mother, Mrs E[illegible]

Miss Ma[illegible] Grant left Tuesday for Duluth, M[illegible], where she will be united in marriage to Ben[illegible] Becha of that place He was a former resident of Providence.

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending August [illegible], 1900

Ladies—Miss Neng[illegible] Cardetta Mrs R W Jackson, Miss Cassie G. Mackintosh (two)

Gentlemen—G English, W G Fairfield, Charles Green, E R. Newcomb, J. W. Raymond, A J Wellington, Chas. Wood, Hugh Murray

Foreign—Francesco Sara, B Sal[illegible], Concezio Celeste

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list

Read the Business Announcements

Some are Left; They are Waiting.

THOSE

HAMMOCKS

put on sale at reduced prices are gently swaying as an occasional breeze wafts inward through our ever-open doors. All that remain will be sold at 25 per cent. discount straight. Regular Hammock season and we will close it with our usual liberality

You pay $1.50 for a nice $2 Hammock or pay $2 25 for a better $3 Hammock

ALL LAWN FURNITURE is being rapidly closed out at the same reduction

REFRIGERATORS for $12, been selling at $16.

Cheaper boxes at the same cut rate, 25 per cent off.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

Summer Days are Here...

Perhaps u-nee-da LINEN, DUCK or WHITE P. K. SKIRT?

LINEN SKIRTS, 49c. each.

LINEN SKIRTS, worth $1.25, now 98c

LINEN SKIRTS, worth $1.75, now $1.25.

BLUE and WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, were $2.25, now $1.49.

WHITE DUCK SKIRTS, were $1.25, now 87c.

WHITE DUCK SKIRTS, with insertion, were $2.25, now $1.69.

WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, with insertion, were $3.25, now $2.50.

WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, with insertion, were $3.75 now $2.98.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c

Agent for New Home Sewing Machine

BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH

Church Services.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 4 Sunday school at 3. Rev. Guy W Miner, Rector

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10 Rev. M J. Lee, rector

Congregational church—Preaching at 10 30 by Rev. R. W. Wallace, D. D., of Somerville Sunday school at 12. Y P S C E. at 6 30 No evening service

Methodist church — Preaching at 10 30 by Rev S. Halfyard on "A Profitable Investment " No evening service. Sunday school at 12 Epworth league at 6 30

Baptist church, Rev Frank B. Sleeper, pastor. Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. Leander Fisher of Woonsocket Sunday school at 12 Young People's meeting at 6 15.

Read the business announcements

Hoag Lake PARK.

WEEK OF AUG. 20.

Afternoons at 3.15.

Evenings at 8.30.

Boom's High-Class Vaudeville.

GILMORE and LA TOUR,

Character Change Artists.

PHILL and PHILL,

Dutch Comedy Musical Act

RILEY and HUGHES,

Black-Face Song and Dance Artists.

MASSE and MASSE,

Comedy Jugglers

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je26-1oct

Woonsocket Opera House,

WOONSOCKET, R. I.

JOSH E. OGDEN, - Lessee and Manager

SATURDAY MATINEE AND NIGHT,

The Two Little Vagrants.

A remarkable scenic drama A magnificent production. 300 nights in New York, 200 nights in Boston Prices 25, 50, 75c Matinee prices 20, 30c , reserved seats Children under 14 years, 15c

AUG. 28, Hennessey Leroyal, in "OTHER PEOPLE'S MONEY."

THE CANNING SEASON

Is at hand. You can find Glass Jars, Rubbers, Preserving Kettles, Porcelain-Lined Kettles, Fruit Tunnels, Stew Pans, great and small.

Also a fine lot of Water Sets

CALL AND EXAMINE

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Benj. C W[illegible] and John H. P. K[illegible] to George W Bacon, dated A[illegible] 1, 1900, and recorded with Norfolk County Deeds, [illegible] [illegible], folio 531, for a breach of the conditions thereof and to foreclose said mortgage deed, will be sold on the premises in Fr[illegible]k[illegible], said Norfolk county, at public auction, on at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, to wit: A certain tract of land, with the buildings thereon standing, containing thirty acres, more or less, situate on the easterly side of Elm street, in said Franklin, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning on said Elm street, at land formerly of George Watson now Herbert Bartlett, then running easterly and northerly on land now or formerly of said Watson and land now or formerly of E. N. B[illegible]ard and James E Adams as the wall and fence now stand, to land formerly of James B. Adams, to land now or formerly of Alfred L. Bodge, thence on said land to said Elm street; thence in said Elm street to the point of beginning, being the same premises as described in a certain deed from the said George W Bacon to the said Wood and Kenyon, dated March 29, 1900, and recorded in Norfolk County Deeds.

SATURDAY, SEPT. [illegible], 1900

Said property will be sold subject to a prior mortgage of $1,000.

Terms made known at sale

GEORGE W BACON,
Mortgager

aul7,24,31

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss

PROBATE COURT

To the heirs at law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Oliver Everett late of Wrentham, in said county, deceased

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by E[illegible] [illegible] Whi[illegible]ker [illegible] Wrentham who prays [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] issued to him, [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

Witness, [illegible] H[illegible], Esq[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

au24,1,[illegible] JONATHAN COBB, Register

Witch Hazel Jelly...

An improved form of Witch Hazel, far more effective and convenient than the ordinary Witch Hazel. It is a quick and efficient remedy in all cases of burns, bruises and all irritations of the skin, such as hives, nettle rash, mosquito bites, etc.

15 CTS. BOTTLE.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

THE PRICE IS LOW . .
MERELY A WHISPER . .
LISTEN ! . . . . . .

50c.

ANY WHITE

SHIRT WAIST

IN OUR STOCK.

Butterick Patterns
and Publications.

N. C. NYE.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Coal! Coal!

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

ay16S

FOR SALE.

Two Grocery Wagons, one Grocery Pung, Harnesses, all Fixtures suitable for grocery business. Also, stock of Groceries. Will be sold in whole or part.

Apply to J. B. McKINNON.

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly1-2S

You May Not Live Another Month

The man who begrudges the money it costs to insure his life to a reasonable amount is not only selfish, but he fails to recognize one of the first duties he owes his family.

ARE YOU THE MAN?

W. S. JOHNSON, Special Agent

The Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York.

s21-tmF

Something New...

Have you stopped to think of the pleasure something new always brings with it? A dress, a ring, a piece of furniture—no matter what it may be, inspiration and bright spirits follow along in its wake. Especially if it's Furniture. Every time you sit in the soft chair or stretch out on the soft couch it makes you happy. This is a happiness which every one can afford while we have the stock we have and charge the prices we do

Our Terms:

$10 worth, $1 down, 50c a week.
$25 worth, $2.50 down, 75c. a week
$50 worth, $5 down, $1 a week
$75 worth, $7.50 down, $1.25 a week
$100 worth, $10 down, $1.50 a week.
$125 worth, $15 down, $2 a week.
$150 worth, $25 down, $2.25 a week.
$200 worth, $40 down, $2.50 a week
$250 worth, $50 down, $3 a week

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST,
Near Opera House

WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Special engagement for the season, S. M. Stephens' PUNCH and JUDY SHOW to entertain the children.

Dancing every afternoon and Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings.

No admission charge at the gates evenings after 6 o'clock

DANCING 5c.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON,

Battery Band

OF PROVIDENCE.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment

Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.

Circulars free on application.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

COURT OF LAND REGISTRATION

SUFFOLK, ss.

To Adelbert F. Perry, Terrance Cassidy, Frank Cassidy and Daniel Dinneen of Millis, in the county of Norfolk, Frances Collins of Needham, in said county of Norfolk, Fred H. Williams of Brookline, in said county of Norfolk, William F. Collins of Boston, in said county of Suffolk, Florence E. Clark of New York city, in the state of New York, and Margaret D. Richardson of Elmhurst, in said state of New York, and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court by Charles L. Richardson of said Boston, Clarissa R. Leland of Sherborn, in the county of Middlesex, Jeremiah D. Richardson, Charlotte L. Hamilton, Edward F. Richardson and Josie E. Richardson of said New York city to register and confirm their title in the following described land: A certain parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, situate in said Millis, and bounded southeasterly by Orchard street 1212 feet; northeasterly by land of Daniel Dinneen 427 feet; northwesterly by said land of Dinneen 928 feet; westerly by land of heirs of M. Collins and parcel hereinafter described 225 feet; southerly by land of Fred H. Williams on two lines measuring together 447 feet; northwesterly again by said Williams' land 239 feet, and southwesterly by said land of Williams 94 feet.

Also another parcel of land situate in said Millis, and bounded southeasterly by Orchard street 317 feet; northerly by land of Fred H. Williams 267 feet; easterly by said land of Williams 662 feet; northerly again by land of heirs of M. Collins 650 feet; westerly, southwesterly and southerly by Bogastow Brook about 1200 feet; easterly by land of heirs of M Collins 100 feet; southerly by the same 45 feet; westerly by the same 100 feet, and southwesterly by the same 25 feet.

Said lots are shown on a plan filed with said petition.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Court of Land Registration, to be held at Boston, in said county of Suffolk, on the FOURTH day of SEPTEMBER, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Leonard A. Jones, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixth day of August, in the year nineteen hundred.

Attest with the Seal of said Court. [SEAL]
CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder

au10,17,24

At

WOODWARD'S

every description of

INSURANCE

can be placed. This

AGENCY

officially represents the

LEADING

American and Foreign

COMPANIES.

F. A. WOODWARD, Dana Block, Franklin, Mass

my4-lyF

1Jan01

Hattie M Fisher

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 69. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, AUGUST 28, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
A. C. Dana & Son	4
Hoag Lake Park	4
Citation	4
Lake Pearl	1

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire.

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 05 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Miss Laura Blake has returned from her vacation in Maine.

Mrs. E. C, Dean and children are visiting friends in Walpole.

Prof. Peirce returned on Sunday from a week's outing in Maine.

Miss Tillie Raymond of Worcester is visiting her mother here.

Services at the Universalist church will be resumed next Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Spencer of Providence has been visiting at T. B. Allen's.

Mrs. George H. Grant is quite seriously ill at her home on School street.

Our Boys will play the Father Matthew ball team at Woonsocket on Labor day.

Fred Ford of Lawrence is a guest of J. B. McKinnon at the Hotel Windsor.

Mrs. E. C. Cotton and Charles Frazer have returned from their visit in Palmer.

George C. Daniels and son Clifton have been enjoying the fishing in Maine for a week.

Miss Myrtie Field is a new assistant at the postoffice, beginning her duties yesterday.

Miss Nellie W. Holmes is spending a week at Old Orchard, Me., with Miss Mae Buckley.

Selectman and Mrs. J. J. McCarthy welcomed a little son into their home last week.

Miss Sadie E. Sullivan of Oak street is entertaining Mrs. J. J. Leary and daughter Esther of Upton.

Victor Buell has resigned his position as second hand in the card room at the American woolen mill.

Rev. S.A. Cook expects to be in Franklin and conduct the prayer service at his church Friday evening.

Mrs. C. F. McCarthy and children of Winchester are visiting at the home of her parents on East street.

Dr. A. J. Gallison has returned from Europe and is spending a few days with his family at Cottage City.

Mrs. Charles Corbin of Central street entertained her mother, Mrs. McMasters of Hyde Park, Wednesday.

William Fisher, Miss Mary Fisher and Miss Mabel Young of Boston are guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Fisher.

An additional school will be opened this fall at the Nason street school house. J. R. Wyckoff will be the teacher.

James Keuney, clerk in O. B. Carter's store, returned yesterday from a vacation spent in New York the past week.

George W. Thompson attended the reunion of his old regiment, the eighteenth Massachusetts, at Plymouth Friday.

Rev. and Mrs. F. B. Sleeper have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Clark in Ashland for a few days.

Prof. H. R. Burrington has been here the past week looking out for affairs at Dean during the absence of Prof. Peirce in Maine.

John Laundry and family, who removed from here to Norwich, Conn., a few years ago, returned on Saturday to again reside here.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Bartlett, Master Philip Bartlett, Mrs. Emily Nye and Miss Emily Nye of St. Joseph, Mo., are guests of Charles F. Nye.

Flowers for the Alden club may be left this week with Mrs. Charles F. Nye, Mrs. Frank Willard, Mrs. O. B. Carter and Mrs. George E. Emerson.

Prof. A. W. Peirce, Prof. H. R. Burrington and others of the faculty of Dean academy attended the funeral of Clifford J. Dallinger at Cambridgeport on Sunday.

Misses Blanche and Harriet Stevenson of the Back Bay, Boston, and Miss Edith Edson of Worcester, who have been staying at L. W. Daniels', have returned to their homes.

W. H. Tylee has received the contract for building the Millville extension of the Woonsocket street railroad and began work Monday. This doesn't look as if we'd go to Foxboro this season.

Walter, the four-year-old son of Conductor J. B. McCarthy, died on Saturday morning, a victim of spinal meningitis. Funeral services were held this afternoon at the parents' home on Pleasant street.

All of the public schools will commence their fall term next Tuesday, Sept. 4, and Supt. Daniels will be at his office in the Horace Mann building all day Saturday and Monday to meet parents and others.

The Milford, Attleboro and Woonsocket company has been given leave to withdraw on its application for a location through Main, Pearl, Purchase, Dilla and Cedar streets to the Hopkinton town line in Milford.

The funeral of Louis Williams, the aged war veteran who passed away last Friday, was held Sunday afternoon, Rev. G. W. Miner conducting services at the family residence on Pleasant street. The interment was at Mendon.

Forty members of Eureka lodge, I. O. O. F., of Woonsocket came here last evening and put up at the Hotel Windsor, where supper was served and a pleasant time enjoyed until 11.30. The party made the trip in a special car.

Mrs. K. R. Jewett and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lesure and Miss Emma Clegg returned from their outing in Westport, Me., this morning. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dell of Quincy for a short visit here.

John Lemier, who is employed in the Worcester textile mill at Unionville, had three fingers on his left hand injured in a calendar machine while at work Friday, the top of the small finger being cut off. Dr. J. M. Crowley dressed the wound.

A number from here went to North Attleboro on Saturday to see the North Attleboro-Attleboro game, the former winning by the score of 2 to 0, making them the victors in three games out of five. Two more games will be played.

Rev. Ralph Gillam, the evangelist who labored here in the spring of '96, was in town last week looking for a suitable place in which to locate. His many friends in this locality would be pleased to have him select Franklin as his home.

Mr and Mrs. George Andrews of Brooklyn, N. Y., have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Bassett the past few days. Their daughter, Miss Josephine Bassett, and her friend, who have been here a number of weeks, will return on Friday.

It has been suggested that the example of the Franklin-Dedham street railway in putting a rubbish barrel at their station on Main street for the deposit of refuse is a good one to follow by others who sweep their dirt and papers into the street.

Our Boys defeated the Stars of Woonsocket at Hoag lake Saturday afternoon in a one sided contest, the score standing 14 to 1 in favor of the Franklin team. The batteries were Fiske and Boucher for Our Boys and Anchor and Medette for Woonsocket.

Mrs. Augustus Waldmeyer and daughter Adele of Crescent street left today for New York and tomorrow will sail on the Red Star line for Basil, Switzerland, the native place of Mrs. Waldmeyer, and where she and her daughter now return to permanently reside.

The sisters of St. Mary's convent arrived from Emmittsburg on Friday, where they have been for the past six weeks. The new sisters are Sisters Irene and Mary Vincent, and those heretofore laboring here who have not returned are Sisters Loretta, Sabina and Euphemia.

The extreme hot weather of the last few days has had a depressing effect on everything. Sunday the thermometer registered in several places as high as 103 in the shade and 117 to 130 in the sun. Monday was almost as hot, and no one moved about any more than absolutely necessary.

Little Iva Morrell, the three-year old daughter of Edwin I. Morrell of Alpine street, fell from the piazza in a rocking chair to the ground, a distance of three or four feet, and sustained a shock that partially paralyzed one side. It is hoped that the injury is not permanent and that with care she will recover.

The recent census enumeration will show that the tendency of population is toward the southwestern part of the town. It will probably be found that the falling off, if any, which some people expect, will be in the northern rather than the southern district, the section where the manufacturing interests are situated.

There is a steady call for tenements, and there are less empty ones than there was a little while since. Tenements that are provided with modern improvements are not likely to remain empty much longer. In fact, there is only an occasional one empty now. The time is near when tenements that are not thus provided will not rent so easily. It is a matter of health as well as convenience.

The Hoag lake attractions Sunday were sufficient to attract thousands during the day. Of course the principal attraction was the band concert. No clambake was served Sunday, but ice cream, soda, etc., were in great demand. The park furnished an excellent spot to escape the heat of the city, and the majority were there to find shade and rest rather than amusement.

The attractions at Lake Pearl on Sunday were numerous as usual. Large crowds were there from surrounding cities and towns and the park management gave every one a pleasant time. This week there will be special attractions intended to amuse and entertain the patrons of the place. The fair weather of the past week or two has encouraged thousands to visit Lake Pearl, and it is growing in popularity every day.

At the home of L. W. Milliken Saturday evening there was a gathering of friends to watch a night-blooming cereus. The plant had five blossoms, which began to open about 7 o'clock, and at the end of an hour were in full bloom. They remained in full bloom five or six hours and then closed up as daylight approached. The flowers were very large and a pure white. They are six inches in diameter in the largest part of the rim of the flower.

George Babcock of Medfield was before Judge Doe in the district court Saturday morning, charged with overdriving a horse and drunkenness. Special Officer Connor arrested Babcock Friday evening on Lincoln street. Babcock, the officer said, was seated in a buggy driving a horse for all it was worth in an attempt to outrun an electric car that was bowling along towards Franklin on the Medway road. The judge found the accused guilty of drunkenness and fined him $10. The charge of overdriving was placed on file.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Thayer, who arrived home yesterday from their summer outing at Holderness, N. H., made a portion of their return trip by trolley, leaving Fitchburg, Mass., yesterday at 8 A. M., and arriving here about 4 P. M., the actual distance being 61 miles. The line from Clinton to Framingham they report as excelling in scenic beauty any other part of the journey, passing, as it does, through the delightful summer towns of Lancaster and Southboro. A carriage drive taken through the Mt. Monadnock (N. H) region last week was also included on their return trip.

One man took his family on a vacation, according to an exchange, and his landlord "didn't do a thing to them." He said I allowed myself to be flim-flammed by and old jay in the country who advertised 'eggs, milk and berries' at reasonable rates. My wife thought it would do the children a world of good, so we went. The old jay took to the children, taught them how to weed onions, pump water for the stock and feed the poultry. He wanted to teach me how to hoe cabbage but I declined with thanks. There were other boarders present and he managed to get them to do two thirds of the work on the farm. He wasn't as green as he looked."

George I. Partridge has been saving money a great many years, and as a result has now in his possession a seven dollar bill, given to him by his mother when he was a young man. It was one paid to Mr. Partridge's great-grandfather for services in the Continental army. It is about two and a half by three inches in size and entitles the holder to its value in Spanish mill dollars. The bills were printed by Sellars & Hull, the names which appear on so many of the printed relics of revolutionary times. When Mr. Partridge's relative received his pay, or soon after, the bills had depreciated so much that it required about $50 to get a dinner. Probably the memento would bring a larger sum now than then.

Postmaster Talbot says that for the past few years the money order business has shown a steady growth, illustrating at once the confidence of the public in this system of remittance, as well as the return of prosperity in all branches of trade. In remitting small amounts the money order system is absolutely safe, the department throwing every safeguard around this financial method of doing business. Where safety is absolute and the fees so small, there is no excuse for any one sending bills loosely in envelopes in anticipation of safe delivery. The increase in the money order business at the local post office is most gratifying, and we trust all who intend to make small remittances will avail themselves of the system, and which the department heartily recommends.

Put to the Test.

We recently printed a recipe for inducing sleep and a reader tried it with the following result, vividly and no doubt truthfully portrayed:

"Eureka!" "Eureka!" exclaimed Mr. Von Skovendolf. He was reading the local Guardsman and a smile of infinite possibilities flickered amid the gathering drops of perspiration on his features. "I have found it," he continued, turning to the guardian angel of his matrimonial bliss in feminine apparel. "The Guardsman says that a New York physician says that the hand on the pit of the stomach is sure to induce sleep, and I shall try it." And he did. When it was time to seek nature's sweet repose Mr. Von Skovendolf donned his night cap of green mull, the latest fad, and stretched himself with contentment on his mind and hand on the pit of his stomach. It was a very heavy hand, one dreaded by the young Von Skovendolfs when exercised in the duty of correcting youthful misdemeanors, and their estimate of its weight was tempered by judgment rendered amid painful sensations and agitated emotions. To the parental mind, however, it was only the panacea for insomnia. It was hardly five minutes before Mr. Von Skovendolf experienced the sensation of departure from the material and practical world and was at ease on a couch of bliss. In the place of the paper and plaster of his apartment oriental roses hung, and in unseen nooks, where the fragrant tree boughs swung, birds with brilliant plumage and voices like unto the lute song. These strange transformations excited no surprise in the anatomy of the sleeper, neither did the next scene, when a gold brick with shining, spider legs came dancing up from the foot of the bed and, pausing on the dome of his digestive organs, remarked, "My name is Bunco; you can buy me for a nominal price." Before Mr. Von Skovendolf had time to reject the proposal with scorn as a 16 to 1 scheme or accept with complacency the spider legs twisted together, the brick began to expand, the golden hue changed to shadowy darkness and a grinning Filipino sat astride his breast and waving his hands wildly about shouted, "Where is Aguinaldo?" But, presto! in the twinkle of an eye a pleasant-featured, middle-aged gentleman in a golf suit and stovepipe hat ornamented with a slim cockade appeared, and throwing his arms affectionately around the friend of Aguinaldo, the two disappeared up the chimney. The respite was very temporary, however, and before Mr. Von Skovendolf had time to offer himself much in the way of congratulations a brownish yellow gentleman with elongated eyes, a long coil of black hair, an abreviated smock frock of violet hue, pants of dark complexion and the same size all the way down, stood before him with a brutal look upon his countenance, a long stemmed pipe in one hand from which opium fumes were ascending and an immense chop stick in the other. He was excited and flourished his implements in a dangerous manner as he exclaimed, "Melican devil tear down Chinaman josshouse; Chinaman tear shirtee Melican devil ali pieces alle samee, hool la!" And suddenly, with the agility of a cat, he jumped on Mr. Von Skovendolf's depot of commissary supplies and with heavy wooden clogs began a war dance of the most painful character to Mr. Von Skovendolf. That gentleman despaired for his life, but his commercial instincts impelled him to sell it for as much as possible, and the hand not occupied with the pit of his stomach convulsively seized the pillow and swung it at the Chinaman. It glanced harmlessly by that sardonic, smiling individual, but swept the deck of the lightstand clear of lamps, kerosene, chimneys, matches, etc., caromed on the water pitcher and wash bowl, depositing them on the floor with the other debris. But the visitor was gone and Mr. Von Skovendolf was suddenly conscious of Mrs. Von Skovendolf's voice at the chamber window several degrees above concert pitch screaming, "Murder! Thieves! Oh, Sampson Miles Von Skovendolf, get your gun quick or we'll all be murdered in our beds!" As soon as Mr. Von Skovendolf was able to get in a word of explanation that he must have been dreaming he arose and looked out of the window. And the moon looked down upon him placid as usual, but Von Skovendolf's highly sensitive nature seemed to detect wonder, if not sarcasm, in the mellow old gentleman's eyes, and as he searched for a candle amid the fumes of kerosene, broken glass and furniture he remarked, "I will see the editor of the Guardsman very early in the morning. I will try to convince him that it is easier to make a gasoline compressed air combination print his medical recipes than to force them on the pit of the subscribers' stomachs. I will make it hot in the centre of the Guardsman's preserves, even if allied forces from Europe have arrived.—Woonsocket Reporter.

Parents, a Word With You.

Do you know that the business men of today demand specially trained employes for positions of trust? Why not send your son or daughter to the Providence Bryant & Stratton Business College, where they make a specialty of this line of education?

Bright Prospects at Dean.

There is a large force of men at work at Dean academy getting the institution into shape for the opening of the fall term on Tuesday, September 11, when the prospects now are that the school will have an unusually large number of pupils, surely the largest number during the encumbency of the present principal, Prof. Peirce.

The new plumbing which has been put in this summer is an especially desirable feature, as it is put in upon the latest scientific principles and with the most approved sanitary equipment. Polished marble and nickel silver attachments give the work a decidedly attractive look, and can hardly fail to be appreciated by the students. The doors in the lavatories are of quartered oak, with nickel trimmings and locks, presenting a fine appearance. J. A. Geb, the painter, has had quite a large force of men at work there, putting everything in first-class condition, and is personally superintending the work.

In the bedrooms a radical improvement has been made. All of the double beds have been taken out and single white iron bedsteads with genuine hair mattresses put in, making a combination at once cleanly, restful and sanitary. Where there are two students in a room two beds have been put in, yet without crowding. All the rooms have transoms, admitting the free passage of air for ventilation, and with a clear conscience on the part of the student a good night's rest is assured.

Miss Hamlin, who spent the past year in Europe, has returned and will take up her duties with the opening of the term. There is but one change in the corps of instructors, and Prof. Peirce will have almost without exception a tried and trained corps upon whom he can rely for assistance and counsel. He is putting a vast amount of thought and work into the school and deserves the success which the prospects now portend.

The March of Improvement.

Two landmarks have gone to make room for the street railway on Main streets. They were a pair of large elm trees standing in front of the James Shaw house, one of the oldest houses of the town. The change in grade of the sidewalk made it necessary to remove them, and many no doubt think the change is a great improvement, but it will require a good deal of improvement to compensate for the loss of two such ancient and grand looking specimens of tree growth. It is true that we cannot have all things here to please us, even with the electric railways striving to fill the demand. The march of improvement, however, has not yet seized upon all of the monarchs of the forest; there are others.

Another tree, a thing of beauty and a joy as long as it lasts, is the big elm on Central street near the leading way to the Unionville railroad station. This is an aged landmark and somewhat noted. Gen. Jackson once stopped to light his pipe under its shade, or Socrates or some other old gentleman probably did something or other there, and if he did he is to be commended upon his choice of a spot for a historical incident.

The Business Census of the Town.

The compiler of the national census for this district has been in town recently obtaining the business census of the town. The government is very inquisitive in obtaining information and is obliged to be in order to get at the correct condition of business throughout the country. The information imparted to the agent is strictly confidential, and any agent who imparts information received by him is liable to imprisonment. The agent visits every place in town where any business is done, however large or small, whether done by one individual or more, and the census of every business is taken on a separate sheet and forwarded to Washington, where the entire census of the country is summed up and the aggregates are printed. This is done once in every ten years.

Best of Attractions.

Boom's New York comedians, a gathering of stars from the Keith theatres and the principal vaudeville houses of the metropolis, have been secured to give the entertainments at Hoag lake this week. Their performances are heralded as the best of the season, for each artist is high salaried and has an almost national fame. The bill is as follows: Hennings trio, song and dance sketch; Louisa Von Woellner, vocalist and Tyrolean warbler; Frank Burt, rube equilibrist; the Tauians, novelty musical act; Kessner and Reid, acrobatic song and dance team. Paul Kerlick is accompanist for the show, which is pleasing big audiences wherever it is given.

Office Closed.

My patrons are requested to note that my dental office will be closed until further notice during my vacation.

DR. M. E. POND.

All lovers of music are invited to see the display of pianos and organs at Sanford Bros., Medway. Up to date and prices right.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse.

Editor Cook Passes Away.

The intelligence was received here yesterday with genuine sadness that Hon. William H. Cook, the editor of the Milford Daily Journal, had passed away in Milford on Sunday of cancer of the cheek. His last work upon his paper was done July 12. He had been sick but a comparatively short time and the fatal nature of his malady was known to but few. In him Milford has lost one of her most upright, conscientious citizens, Massachusetts has lost one of her far-sighted, clear-headed, high-principled statesmen, the Republican party is bereft of a noted leader, a wise counsellor and a ready and forceful speaker, and the press of New England mourns one of its foremost representatives. He had made a name for the Milford Journal second to none of the provincial papers of the state, and his editorial column was always teeming with truths which should seek out and correct error, enthrone justice and aid the cause of right. He knew no other course. Journalism has no such men to spare, and his loss will long be felt in newspaper circles. He was born in Bennington, Vt., and was in his fifty-eighth year. A widow survives him. The funeral was held today at 2 o'clock from his late residence.

Prominent Woonsocket Man Gone.

Dr. A. W. Buckland, father of Mrs. G. S. Singleton of this place, died at his home in Woonsocket Friday morning after a long illness. Until recently he had been practicing his profession as dentist, in which he distinguished himself. He was a member of the American Academy of Dental Science, a member of the New England Dental society, of the Rhode Island Dental society and at one time was a member of the Rhode Island board of dental registration.

During his career Dr. Buckland became interested in many private business enterprises. He was president of the Woonsocket Spool and Bobbin Co., president of the People's Savings bank, a director of the Producers' National bank and one of the owners of the Woonsocket lumber yard and the Buckland & Clark building. He was also a director of several western mining companies.

He had been a commander of Woonsocket commandery, No. 32, K. T. He was also a member of other societies, including Washington lodge, No. 70, A. F. and A. M., of Windsor, Conn.; Washington lodge, Knights of Honor; Hope lodge, N. E. O. P., and the local lodge of Good Fellows. In 1866 he married Helen Augusta Marble, daughter of Joel Waters Marble and Mary Ann (Harding) Marble of Southbridge, Mass. He leaves a wife and two other daughters, Mrs. Edward Lakey of Providence and Mrs. Robert E. Davis of Woonsocket.

A Celebrated Case.

Judge Doe wrestled in spite of the heat with the complications of the "Garrity cow case" on Saturday. It seems that the cow was at pasture, tied to a stake in a yard where Mr. Hume had the right, as claimed, of mowing the grass, and Mr. Hume went to the stake to move the animal out of the way while he gathered what remained of the crop. The cow advanced on Mr. Hume so ferociously that he claims to have been seriously injured and asked damages. Accordingly two Medway attorneys and one from Boston were engaged, some twenty witnesses testified and four doctors. The final arguments will be made Friday.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Trash wood, ready cut for stove use, at Allen's wood yard.

For Sale—A 120 quart milk route, cheap for cash. W. A. Pond. 28

Good wages for a girl to do housework. Inquire at SENTINEL office. 24 tf

Mrs. G W. Miner, Crescent street, would like a competent girl for housework at once. 24 tf

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

Wanted.—A ton of horse hay. Will pay for same in carpenter work. F. E. Dudley, Union and Central streets. 14*

To Let.—A tenement of five rooms on Alpine street. Inquire at the house or at Mrs. A. E. Burnham's, Peck street. 28 tf

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R , trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

For Sale—A young, sound, "all round" family and farm horse, equally at home in tip cart or buggy, and safe for any one to drive or handle in any spot or place. Maple Farm. O. S. Stetson. 28

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

Cut flowers, all kinds of funeral designs well made up at Slade's greenhouse. Roses in small or large quantities.

These are fish days. Shad, swordfish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fish-man.

Two chairs at Ochee's barber shop. Accomplished hair dresser, William Donovan, now in attendance. Short waits.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor,
MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in.	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
¼ col.	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word; no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 28, 1900.

The opponents of Samuel L. Powers for Congressman base a large proportion of their arguments against him upon the fact that he has represented the American Telephone company at various times, as if that were a crime which must not be condoned. Since attorneys appear to be the leading candidates this year, it would be difficult to find an attorney of prominence who has not at some time been retained by powerful corporations, and the telephone company is by no means the most reprehensible of them all. Ex-President Harrison does not scruple to appear in their behalf, as do scores of other prominent lawyers throughout the country. Until accusations more grave than this can be brought against Mr. Powers the thinking voters of the district will not be moved to seek other candidates for the coveted honor.

A humorous incident of the Guiteau trial was recalled at Washington a few days ago when Catherine B. Jones filed a petition for the restraint of her husband, an uncouth and rather grotesque looking farmer familiarly known as "Bill Jones, the Avenger," because while Guiteau was being transported from the courthouse to the jail one afternoon during his trial Jones rode up on a clay bank and fired several shots at the iron vehicle with a view of cheating the gallows of its victim. "Bill Jones, the Avenger," as he calls himself, was indicted for assault with intent to kill, but was never tried, and his notoriety was his ruin, for after that exciting incident he has never been able to settle down to work again and recently has done all sorts of queer things, which caused his wife to ask the court to lock him up in the lunatic asylum, where he will likely spend the remainder of his days.

"Bill Jones the Avenger."

The Vineland (Kan.) Weekly Vine throws off this little dab of neighborly appreciation of one of its townsmen: "One of the pleasantest sights we have had in this town in a long time was the artistic manner in which John Griffin, of Lawrence, buried 'Bill' Kruger, who died since our last issue. Mr Griffin had his trade at his fingers' ends, and he handled our dead citizen with an agility that was startling in its originality. He was everywhere all the time, weeping with the afflicted widow, discussing weather prospects with the farmers and soliciting business from the other attendants at the funeral. He will doubtless be able to get all the business in these parts. Before leaving for home he subscribed for this great family weekly, paying a year in advance. Hence this puff."

It is said that not one cent of taxes has been paid to the state of Kentucky since the present trouble began. Soldiers are stationed at the door of the auditor's office, as well as at the doors of other state officers, so that no public business can be transacted. A heavy penalty is imposed on banks and large manufacturing enterprises for failure to pay taxes at the proper time. In order to escape this penalty, and to prevent their money from falling into the hands of the wrong persons, the money is placed in the State Bank of Kentucky and an injunction is then issued, preventing either party to the controversy from collecting the funds.

One of the unique institutions of Kansas City is State Line street. Kansas City is located on the border line between Missouri and Kansas, occupying a liberal stretch of territory in each side of the boundary. The Missouri state laws prohibit gambling within its borders, while Kansas is famed for its prohibition laws. A choice array of gambling resorts lines the north side of State Line street which is located on Kansas soil, while the opposite side of this thoroughfare in the state of Missouri is made up chiefly of saloons.

WHAT A BLESSING.

Many of Our Readers are Learning to Appreciate.

What a blessing it is.

Sought after by thousands.

Many a miserable man is happy now.

Nights of unrest, days of trouble.

An itching skin disease means this.

Itching Piles mean it.

Eczema just as bad, and just as hard to cure.

But Doan's Ointment relieves at once, and cures all itchiness of the skin.

A blessing to a suffering public.

Here's proof to back our statement.

Mr. Samuel Carr, of 8 School street, Haverhill, Mass., says: "I procured Doan's Ointment for an eruption on my leg which caused me considerable anxiety. The treatment gave satisfactory results and warrants me in saying that Doan's Ointment acts up to the representations made for it."

Doan's Ointment for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitutes.

BOASTFUL PHILADELPHIA.

Here was set up the first American printing press in 1685.

Here in 1690 the first paper mill in our country was built.

Here in 1731 was found the first public library.

Here in 1735 was erected the first type foundry of our country.

Here in 1741 Philadelphia published the first magazine on this side.

Here in 1743 the Quaker city took the initiatory at Bible printing.

Here in 1746 sprang up the first medical college in our native land.

Here in 1752 our first American fire insurance company was organized.

Here in 1753 our first American Arctic expedition was fitted out.

Here in 1784 the first daily newspaper in the new world was issued.

And here are some more of our firsts: First mint for coining American money; first opened a bank—Bank of North America; first man-o'-war under the federal constitution was constructed here; here was laid the first experimental railroad track on our soil.—Philadelphia Record.

BAD LUCK FOR ACTORS.

An actor cannot don his grease paint while looking into the mirror over another's shoulders.

A cross-eyed man must not obtain a seat in the front row, or he will hoodoo the company for the season.

A theatrical door tender who knows his business will never accept a complimentary pass before a paid admission ticket is presented, or the result will be an unprofitable engagement.

An actor must not whistle in his dressing-room, or look at the front of the curtain before going on the stage, nor must he put on the left shoe or stocking before getting into the right.

A yellow clarinet in the orchestra, a cat walking across the stage during a performance, leaving valuables in dressing-room or asking the manager for salary—all mean bad luck to the actor.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.

We don't like a dinner where there is more style than things to eat.

Probably no woman ever gave a "party" without borrowing something from the neighbors.

When the women say men must be handled with "tact," they usually mean that they must be deceived.

A woman who thoroughly understands the male nature, puts up fruit to prove it, instead of quoting poetry.

When you are a guest at a dinner do not hear the whispered conferences between the hostess and her "girl;" look the other way, and talk while they are in progress.

Are the Chinese civilized or barbarians? You probably know that they bind up the women's feet to keep them from gadding off to literary clubs or whist games.

AS A WOMAN SEES IT.

There is nothing like work for a heavy heart.

Independence in a woman does not mean bad manners.

A man likes to be told he is handsome, even if he knows he is not.

The feminine disposition, they say, delineates itself upon the back.

Velocity, according to a boy, is what a man puts a hot plate down with.

Some people are like porcupines—you can never go near them without getting stuck.

Is Baby Thin this summer? Then add a little SCOTT'S EMULSION to his milk three times a day. It is astonishing how fast he will improve. If he nurses, let the mother take the Emulsion. 50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

SELECTED GEMS OF VERSE.

The Philosopher.

Oh, his face is very solemn
 As he looks along the column
Where the economic theories are spread.
 And he says we must be careful,
 Likewise erudite and pray'rful,
If we aren't—well, we might as well be dead.
 And the coal is getting lower
 And the clock is ticking slower
And the lawyer's written threatening a call.
 He is poor as any peasant.
 Some would say it was unpleasant,
But it doesn't seem to worry him at all.

 His researches scientific
 Are with doubts and fears prolific,
He says the earth will shrivel up and freeze,
 And we won't have any fuel
 To confront the winter cruel—
He is much disturbed o'er matters such as these.
 His bank account is tiny
 And his sleeves are short and shiny,
And a creditor is waiting in the hall.
 It is scarce the situation
 For a man of education,
But it doesn't seem to worry him at all.
—Washington Star.

O Ye of Little Faith.

A sower sowed his seed, with doubts and fears;
"I dare not hope," he said, "for fruitful ears.
Poor hath the harvest been in other years."
Yet ere the August moon had waxen old
Fair stood his fields, a waving sea of gold.
 He reaped a thousandfold!

In a dark place one dropt a kindly word.
"So weak my voice," he sighed, "perchance none heard.
Or if they did, no answering impulse stirred."
Yet in an hour his fortunes were at stake.
One put a life in peril for his sake,
 Because that word he spake!

"Little I have to give, O Lord," one cried,
"A wayward heart that oft hath Thee denied;
Couldst Thou with such a gift be satisfied?"
Yet when the soul had ceased its mournful plaint,
God took the love that seemed so poor and faint
 And from it made a saint!
—Christian Burke, in Sunday Magazine.

The Tides.

Be careful what rubbish you toss in the tide.
 On outgoing billows it drifts from your sight,
But back on the incoming waves it may ride,
 And land at your threshold again before night.
Be careful what rubbish you toss in the tide.

Be careful what follies you toss in youth's sea.
 On bright dancing billows they drift far away.
But back on the Nemesis tide they may be Flung down at your feet all unwelcome some day.
Be careful what follies you toss in youth's sea.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox, in Youth's Companion.

"Even This Shall Pass Away."

The seasons come, the seasons go,
The crocus dies, the roses blow;
The quiet, sunny, summer noon
To winter's cold shall change full soon.
  Say not "Alas!"
  For all things pass.

This day thy feet may firmly tread
Where they who loved thee once lie dead;
The child who clings to thy strong hand
To-morrow in thy place shall stand.
  Say not "Alas!"
  For thou must pass.

But when the phantom, Death, draws near,
Breathe thou no sigh and shed no tear;
Look upward with unfailing trust
To Him who knoweth thou art dust.
  Say not "Alas!"
  For Death shall pass.
—Churchman.

A Dangerous Experiment.

I know a man who has no friend
 In all this teeming earth;
His days in solitude he'll end
 Afar from sounds of mirth.
The truth somehow went to his head;
 By trouble he is caught.
He frankly went ahead and said
 What everybody thought.

Some people said: "Of course it's true
 And that's what makes it worse;
We'll have to quit him. He is due
 To feel the social curse
Which o'er the over-bold is spread."
 His life with woe is fraught
And all because he frankly said
 What everybody thought.
—Washington Star.

God Knows.

O restless heart! why murmur?
 The sun is shining still.
Though clouds seem very near you,
 God knows. It is His will.

He knows the weary heartache,
 The longing and unrest.
"Come unto me," He whispers
 "And lean upon my breast."

What most you wish and long for
 Might only bring you pain.
You cannot see the future
 God's purpose to explain.

So trust, faint heart, thy Master.
 He doeth all things well.
He loveth more than heart can guess
 And more than tongue can tell.
—J. J. Marley, in N. Y. Observer.

A World of Blossoms.

It's like a world of blossoms—broad plains, and hills of light—
A wilderness of color, and over all the bright—
The cloudless sunshine streaming, so that each breathing clod
Is sending in the violet's breath sweet messages to God.

But what is missed from springtime, with all its joy and grace?
The sweeter music of your voice—the sunshine of your face;
That sunshine streaming round me hath little that is bright,
When I miss you from the blossoms—when I miss you from the light!
—F. L. Stanton, in Atlanta Constitution.

Resignation.

You kin talk about yoh sorrow,
 You kin kick about yoh grief;
But it ain' no use to borrow
 Trouble. Dat won' bring relief.
You must face the changin' seasons;
 So don' complain nor doubt.
You war put on earth foh reasons.
 An' dar ain' no backin' out.

De winter's mighty chilly
 An' de summer's mighty hot.
De roads is long an' hilly
 An' dar ain' no restin' spot.
But, honey, don't be tearful.
 Jes' let yoh heaht be stout.
You might as well be cheerful,
 'Case dar ain' no backin' out.
Washington Star.

Playing the Years Away.

He played with me, long years ago,
 And as we romped and ran
I liked to make believe that I
 Had grown to be a man.

My little one and I play now,
 As he and I did then,
And as we romp I make believe
 That I'm a boy again.
—S. E. Kiser in Chicago Times-Herald.

Women's Rule.

It is a singular fact that the reign of every queen in modern times has been attended by a wonderful advance in the material, political, literary and even military progress of her country. The reign of Catherine the Great of Russia witnessed the widest extension of the Russian empire that had been known up to her time, and the greater part of the Russian conquests were accomplished during the time of the other Russian empresses. The reign of Maria Theresa was a period of prosperity for Austria-Hungary, in spite of the Seven Years' war, while the reigns of Elizabeth and Anne in British history were ages of glory in letters, arts and war, and that of Mary might have been but for the unlucky foreign alliance she formed with Philip of Spain. Great Britain has never seen such an age as that of Victoria, and perhaps will not again for centuries. The presence of a queen on the throne as sovereign seems to inspire all the poetry and chivalry there is in the nature of man, and perhaps that fact furnishes an adequate explanation why countries flourish under female rulers.—Philadelphia Ledger.

California's Famous Liquor Saloon.

One of the curious sights in California which every traveler goes to see is the bar in the principal hotel at Nevada City, made out of California laurel. This bar was placed there in 1864. The hotel has been rebuilt several times since, but the bar has been taken out and always put back in the new hotel. L. D. Calkins, who went to California before the '49s, says that over $5,000,000 has passed over the counter of this bar—the largest sum of money that has passed over any bar in the same period of 35 years. The wooden top of the bar was something like eight inches thick when it was first built. Now it is worn down to less than two inches. — Leslie's Weekly.

Scotland Yard.

Scotland Yard, widely known as the headquarters of the London police, is a historical place said to have been the site of a palace where kings of Scotland were received when they came to London. It is located near the banqueting hall, Whitehall. The Scotch kings retained possession of it from 959 till the rebellion of William of Scotland. Milton, Sir Christopher Wren and other notables lived in Scotland Yard.—Detroit Free Press.

She Must Have Meant Brains.

Mr. De Smyth—My darling, my own, unless you consent to wed me, I shall end my miserable existence by blowing out my brains with a revolver.

Miss De Pyth—I didn't know you had any.

"Yes, I bought a new six-shooter to-day."

"I didn't mean the revolver."—Harlem Life.

Government Deer in Alaska.

There are now about 3,500 deer belonging to the government in Alaska, which are leased out among the natives near the missionary stations, to be taken care of under the supervision of government agents. The people who take care of them are allowed to keep the increase, which is about 50 per cent. a year.—Indianapolis News.

Condensing.

Askit—Did you read about that Brooklyn man whom the doctors operated upon and found him afflicted with a folding vermiform appendix?

Tellit—No; but it is easily explained. It is a natural result of flat life.—Baltimore American.

An Emergency Man.

He—Wife, can't you make me a mustard plaster for my lame shoulder?

She—William, there isn't an atom of mustard in the house.

"Well, mix up something with tabasco sauce."—Indianapolis Journal.

There Are Others.

Mrs. Wellment — Don't you know that rum is a destroyer?

Weary Willy—Yes, lady; but so is trolley-cars, and bicycles, and dum-dum bullets, and corsets; but still folks will use 'em.—Puck.

Uruguayan Cattle.

Eighty per cent. of the cattle of Uruguay is used for the purpose of making "tasajo," or jerked beef, for exportation to Brazil, Cuba and Porto Rico.—N. Y. Sun.

Race with the Trains.

A common sight in Cape Colony is a herd of ostriches accompanying a railway train as it speeds on its way.—N. Y. World.

A Rare Trait.

Gratitude is a sublime passion, but like other sublime things it is rare.—Chicago Daily News.

Spend your vacation on old ocean instead of the [illegible] country. Take the Plant Line to the Provinces and see something of a foreign land. Don't feel obliged to take a stateroom; a free berth in the cabin is better than the average farm house [illegible] over allowed [illegible] cheaper than [illegible] send for advertising [illegible] A. [illegible] Atlantic avenue, Boston.

A lame shoulder is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles and may be cured by a few applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For sale by Albert C. Mason, Druggist.

The spectres that threaten baby's life, cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry never fails to conquer them.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Chilson's Market

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef,	10 to 12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-ly8

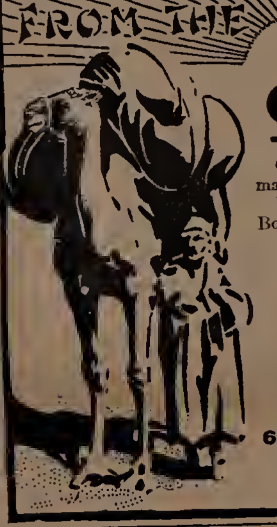
OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and Gasolene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied users are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABILITY, ECONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABILITY tell the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever? CONSULT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.

New England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.

FROM THE ORIENT



CARPETS

Goods right - prices right—workmanship right—everything right.

We do by far the largest business in Boston in

Carpets and Upholstery.

What do you suppose the reason is?

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS CO.,
658 Washington Street, 658
Opp. Boylston St.,
BOSTON.

OF INTEREST TO ENGINEERS.

In Siberia acetylene gas is largely used to light up various operations along the line where work is carried on at night.

The railway authorities of the Mexican government have been ordered to use certain safety appliances. All the passenger cars must be so equipped before the end of 1904.

Forty-one gas engines using blast furnace gas are working in Germany, the total horse power aggregating 21,950. The horse power of such engines in Belgium is 3,700, France 3,250, and England 2,060.

London is to have a new street, which will give a great thoroughfare north and south. The new street will begin at Theobald's Road, will cross High Holborn, and will finally reach the Strand by means of two arms which are limited by Somerset House.

The railway mileage of Europe has increased from 83,650 miles in 1875 to 167,439 miles in 1899. The increase has been largest in Russia, amounting to no less than 15,142 miles; then comes Germany, 14,666 miles; and France with 12,990 miles; while England has added only 5,089 miles.

It is said that coal was mined prior to 1113. In the Liege district coal was first found about 1199. In 1214 coal was attracting some attention on the southern side of the Firth of Forth. This was 100 years after the mines in the Worm district are said to have been opened and regularly worked. It is not likely that coal was mined in Great Britain before the thirteenth century.

The fire department of New York city has 94 engine and hook and ladder companies, and 1,375 officers and men in the boroughs of Manhattan and Bronx, and the boroughs of Brooklyn and Queens have 80 such companies and 1,029 officers and men. There are also six powerful fireboats in commission. The boroughs of Richmond and Queens have a volunteer service of 1,725 and 2,000 men respectively.

If you wish to cure scrofula or salt rheum permanently, take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It expels all impurities from the blood.

Accidents come with distressing frequency on the farm. Cuts, bruises, stings, sprains. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil relieves the pain instantly. Never safe without it.

Half the ills that man is heir to come from indigestion. Burdock Blood Bitters strengthen and tone the stomach; make indigestion impossible.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE NEW YORK WORLD
THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

18 Pages a Week . . .
. . . 156 Papers a Year
FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

News and Opinions
OF National Importance.

THE SUN
ALONE
CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail. - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun
Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.
Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.
Address THE SUN, New York.

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.
Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

MR. M'SWAT AS A COOK.

Notwithstanding Explicit Instructions He Makes a Dismal Failure of It.

The McSwat household was thrown into temporary confusion by the sudden adjournment, sine die, of the kitchen lady, a young woman of great force of character, who had learned of a place where the hours of work were shorter and the afternoons out longer and more frequent, and had gone to fill it.

"Now, Lobelia," said Mr. McSwat, as they were preparing to retire for the night, "if your headache isn't any better in the morning don't you hurry about getting up. I can manage the breakfast."

"You!" exclaimed Mrs. McSwat, with the contempt that every experienced housewife feels for the meddlesome masculine being who seeks to thrust himself into the affairs of the domestic cook-shop. "You! Why, Billiger, you don't know any more about cooking a breakfast than an old hen!"

"I'll show you," he retorted. "We have buckwheat cakes every morning, don't we? Well, you tell me how to manage them, and if I don't turn out as good an article of buckwheat cake as you ever put into your system I'll eat the griddle. What is the first thing you do?"

"Well, if you are bound to try your hand at it—but you've got to promise one thing. Will you do exactly what I tell you?"

"Of course I will. What do you take me for?"

"Then the first thing you do after you have got your fire all ready is to prepare the batter. It's in the stone jar on the kitchen table. There's always some left over after breakfast, and it leavens the batter for the next morning. Understand that?"

"Anybody can understand that. Go on."

"Well, I've fixed it for to-morrow morning. All you will have to do will be to thin it, put in a little soda, salt, and New Orleans molasses—"

"What is the molasses for?"

"To make the cakes brown nicely, stupid."

"Don't you call names, madam. What else?"

"Have your griddle on the fire. You'll find the greaser in the little saucedish by the batter jar. Don't use too much grease—"

"How do I thin the batter?"

"I hadn't forgotten that. You take a cup of warm water—not hot, remember—stir in a small teaspoonful of soda, about the same quantity of salt, pour it in the batter, stir it slowly a minute or two, add the molasses—that's in a fruit jar in the pantry—and then bake a trial cake. If it lacks anything you can tell what it is from the way it tastes. Can you remember all that?"

"Remember all that!" said Mr. McSwat, with crushing disdain. "Do you call that anything to remember?"

"There's one thing more. You'll need the cake turner. It is in the drawer of the kitchen table. Now do you think manage it?"

His only reply was a soft snore.

About 6:30 the next morning Mr. Billiger McSwat might have been seen in his great act of getting the breakfast.

He lighted the gas range, hunted up the griddle, put it over the fire, and approached the jar of batter.

Rolling up his sleeves he contemplated it in silence a moment, and then began business.

The first thing he did, after hunting up the necessary groceries in the pantry and greasing the griddle, was to fill a teacup with water from the boiler, which, providentially, was still warm, and stir in a heaping tablespoonful of soda

"I think that's the quantity she prescribed," he said, cheerfully. "If it isn't enough I can put in more."

Then he added a tablespoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of the New Orleans molasses and poured the mixture into the batter jar.

He stirred the batter fiercely. It foamed up at once and ran out over the top of the jar.

"She mixed up too much of the blamed stuff," he muttered, stirring it still more vigorously.

By this time the kitchen was filling with smoke.

Concluding that the griddle was hot enough he hastily lifted the jar, carried it to the stove and poured a quantity of the batter out on the smoking griddle through the spout on the side of the jar.

There was a tremendous sizzle.

"You bet it's hot enough!" he exclaimed. "Now where's the blooming cake turner?"

He could not find it.

"Never mind," he said. "I've seen my mother use a caseknife."

When he had secured a caseknife it appeared to be high time to turn the cake. On the upper side it looked dry and yellowish. But the cake stuck. He sawed the knife under it with desperate haste, however, and finally got it over—in sections—a blackened, frazzled, discouraging semblance of a buckwheat cake.

"I don't believe it needs any cooking on that side," he said, scraping it off the griddle and slapping it on a plate.

"This," he continued, with a ferocious grin, "is the 'trial cake' she was talking about."

He tasted it.

"Ye gods!"

It was all he said.

And then Mr. McSwat took that jar of buckwheat batter, carried it out to the alley and emptied it into the garbage box.

Five minutes later he appeared at the foot of the stairway leading up from the front hall.

"Lobelia," he yelled, "that batter of yours got spoiled last night! I'm going to the meat market for a steak!"—Chicago Tribune.

Not What She Expected.

A young lady of the city who is somewhat noted for her coquetry was talking a few days ago to one of her numerous beaux.

"Oh," she said, in a most pitiful tone of voice, "nobody loves me."

As she paused for reply the young man said with that tenderness which always appeals to the feminine heart:

"I am quite sure that somebody does love you."

Her face brightened very perceptibly as she said with a great deal of interest:

"I wonder who on earth it can be Do you know?"

"Oh, yes," he replied. "God and your mother."—Memphis Scimitar.

Slip of the Tongue.

An irascible old judge, being annoyed by a young lawyer speaking to him about a legal point, in the street, threatened to fine him for contempt of court.

"Why, judge," said the young attorney, "you are not in session."

"I'd have you know," angrily responded the judge, "that this court is always subject to contempt." — Indianapolis Journal.

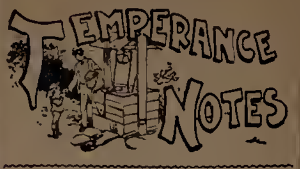
Ohio Village Marvel.

"Who? That man? Yes, I see him What is there peculiar about him?"

"That man, sir, was offered the postmastership of this town, and refused it!"

"Too independent to be willing to hold a government office?"

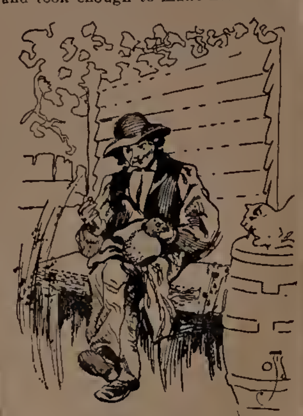
"I don't know about that. The theory here is that he is a little bit crazy."—Chicago Tribune.



THEN AND NOW.

How Sam Lawton Gave Up the Jug and the Blessings That Followed.

Sam Lawton is known as a jolly, easy-going, good-natured man; "too easy by far," has wife says, "for he lets people take advantage of him." Sam laughs at this, but has to half believe her when the remembrance of the adventures of a certain night, followed by weeks of weary waiting, comes to his mind. He tells her that he was too easy once, but now he has his eyes opened. They were opened in this way: In the old days he had been a beer drinker—what he called a moderate drinker—never taking enough to make him stagger, till one night after a barn-raising, when the owner had treated the men to a keg of beer, Sam was urged to drink again and again, and took enough to make his brain so decidedly stupid that when he started for home he lost the road, fell in a ditch and broke his leg. The weary days that followed gave plenty of time for thinking. Good Mollie, faithful wife that she was, never reproached him, but when Sam one day told her that he had done forever with beer, she told him that she was glad he had come to his senses; that all his trouble could be laid to beer, and that it wasn't fit for anybody to drink. They tried to reckon up how much that night's spree had cost him—the time lost from his work, the heavy doctor's bill, the many extras always required in sickness, to say nothing of the pain, weariness and sleepless nights to both. But those days are past, and here sits Sam, talking to himself: "Yes," he says, "we've everything to be thankful for. Here are Mollie and I with a good home, which she keeps as neat as a pin, no debts staring us in the face, no big doctor's bill to keep awake at night thinking how we shall pay it. We fare better, I look better and feel better than I used to, and if anybody asks me what I think about beer drinking, I tell him plainly he is better off without it. With such good milk as old Mooly gives, and cold water from our well, what can a man want better? Fill the pitcher, I say. No jug for me now and forever."—National Advocate.



EVERYTHING TO BE THANKFUL FOR.

TEMPERANCE TIDINGS.

Great Britain is responsible for 70,000 chests of opium sent to China from India.

The devil always scores a point when a good man opposes a good cause.—National Advocate.

The total production of cigarettes last year in this country was 19 per cent. less than the year before.

Nothing is gained for any reform by exaggerated statements or fictitious claims. Present the truth.—National Advocate.

The Tampa (Fla.) Tribune advertises for "three good cylinder pressfeeders," but gives fair warning that "no cigarette smokers or loafers need apply."

The town of Westhofen, in Germany, still enforces an old ordinance which forbids anyone walking in the street with a lighted cigar.

The oldest teetotaler in Great Britain is said to be Mrs. Sampson, aged 97. She was born at King's Lynn, and signed the pledge in January, 1820. She had ten daughters and the eight still living are teetotalers.

It does not pay to give one man, for $15 a quarter, a license to sell liquor, and then spend $5,000 on the trial of another man for buying that liquor and committing murder under its influence.

A Few Words about Pain-Killer

A prominent Montreal clergyman, the Rev. James H. Dixon, Rector St. Judes and Hon. Canon of Christ Church Cathedral, writes:—"Permit me to send you a few lines to strongly recommend PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER. I have used it with satisfaction for thirty-five years. It is a preparation which deserves full public confidence."

Pain-Killer
A sure cure for Sore Throat, Coughs, Chills, Cramps, &c.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c.
There is only one Pain-Killer. Perry Davis.'

Save Your MONEY.

To save your money, by getting more for it, ask your dealer in medicine to show you the new 50 cent size bottle of JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT. It contains over three times as much as the old 25 cent style, which is a great saving to those who use this valuable family medicine. The superior quality of this old Anodyne has never been equaled.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Fifty years ago this month, Dr. Johnson left with me some Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. I remember him distinctly, and could tell you just how he was dressed on that day. I have sold Johnson's Liniment ever since. Can truly say it has maintained its high standard from that time to this. No medicine today possesses the confidence of the public to a greater extent. JOHN B. RAND, North Waterford, Me., Jan., 1891

As a family remedy it has been used and indorsed for nearly a century. Every Mother should have it in the house for many common ailments, Internal as much as External. Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price 25 and 50c. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

Somewhat the Same.

"They who sail with me must be men of iron nerve," said the prospective commander of the arctic expedition.

"Wouldn't a brazen nerve do?" anxiously inquired the applicant; "I was formerly a book agent." — Brooklyn Life.

Setting a Neighbor Right.

"Was that your dog that was howling all night?"

"I guess it was."

"Why in thunder don't you feed him?"

"Heavens, man, it's indigestion that makes him howl!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Base Deception.

Criminal Lawyer—I was deceived in regard to that man whom I defended on a charge of embezzling half a million.

Friend—You found he was guilty?

Lawyer—No, confound it! He was innocent, and didn't have a cent to pay me.—N. Y. Journal.

As Seen by a Child.

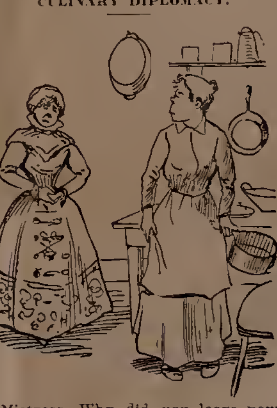
Teacher—Which one of you can tell me who Delilah was?

Johnny Jones—I kin, mum.

"Well done, Johnny; now, who was Delilah?"

"A female barber, mum." — Ohio State Journal.

CULINARY DIPLOMACY.



Mistress—Why did you leave your last place?

Bridget—Yer very inquisitive, mum. I niver axed ye why yer last cook left. —The Cigarette.

Irish Advice.

"Never be critical upon the ladies," was the maxim of an old Irish peer remarkable for his homage to the sex. "The only way that a true gentleman ever will attempt to look at the faults of a pretty woman is to shut his eyes." —Collier's Weekly.

Not the Same.

"You are accused," said the court, "of perjury, bribery, ballot stuffing, petty thievery—"

"Oh, cheese it!" cried the prisoner. "I ain't a candidate for United States senator."—Philadelphia North American.

His Point of View.

She—A married couple should pull together like a team of horses.

He—Yes, and they probably would if, like a team of horses, they had but one tongue between them.—Chicago Daily News.

Warmed Up at Last.

"Wake up!" cried the hall boy, "the hotel is afire!"

"Good!" returned the sleepy guest. "This ramshackle old barn will be heated at last."—Philadelphia North American.

"Take Heed Will Surely Speed."

Be sure to heed the first symptoms of indigestion, nervousness and impure blood, and thus avoid chronic dyspepsia, nervous prostration and all the evils produced by bad blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is your safeguard. It quickly sets the stomach right, strengthens and quiets the nerves, purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood and keeps up the health tone.

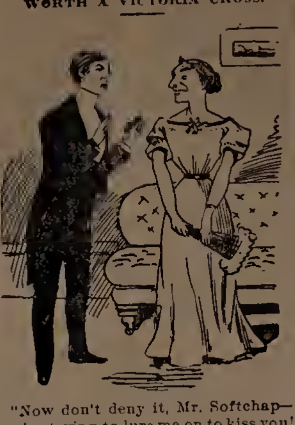
All liver ills are cured by Hood's Pills. 25 cents.

You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Albert C. Mason, druggist, will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaints and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and reliable.

"Itching hemorrhoids were the plague of my life; was almost wild. Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently after doctors had failed." C. F. Cornwell, Valley street, Saugerties, N.Y.

Pyny-Pectoral Stops the Tickling and quickly allays inflammation in the throat.

WORTH A VICTORIA CROSS.



"Now don't deny it, Mr. Softchap—you're trying to lure me on to kiss you! You wild, wicked, rakish young men are all alike—and I suppose I must yield with a good grace!"—Ally Sloper.

How He Remembered.

Chairman (of investigating committee)—I am compelled now to ask how much your campaign cost you.

Victorious Candidate—It cost me $39.73.

Chairman—How does it happen you remember the odd cents?

Victorious Candidate—From the fact that $19.73 is what the new hat cost that I promised my wife in case I was elected.—Chicago Tribune.

Worse Than Horse Races.

Blinkers—Why is it your friend Winkers is always down at the heel? Does he lose his money on horse-races?

Dinkers—He never bets on a horse-race. He loses more money on the human race.

"Eh?"

"He has nine children." — N. Y. Weekly.

Too Risky.

Caller—I want the biggest fire policy you'll write.

Agent—What is your business?

Caller—City employe.

Agent—Too great a risk; you're likely to be fired at any time.—Baltimore American.

Incomprehensible.

Mamma — I wish you wouldn't make so much noise. Tommy Brown's mother won't let him have a drum in the house.

Johnny—My goodness! How can a boy get along without a drum?—Brooklyn Life.

Just in Time.

Old Lady (excitedly)—When is the train due?

Porter—In two hours and forty minutes, ma'am.

Old Lady (with a sigh of relief)—Thank you. I am so glad I am not too late.—Tit-Bits.

Negative Comfort.

"Dear Lord," returned Dorothy, at her morning devotions, "I thank you that you didn't make me a centipede, 'cause then 'twould be awful hard to button up so many shoes before breakfast."—Judge.

A Word to the Doctor.

"Doctor," said Mr. Newpop, "when you send in your bill for this boy, please to remember that he came unfinished. He hasn't a hair on his head or a tooth in his mouth. You ought to throw off at least ten per cent."—Harlem Life.

His Kind Heart.

She—That bad little brother of mine got at the piano yesterday with a hammer and broke six of the strings.

He—May I come to see and console you every evening while it is out of order?—Chicago Times-Herald.

Good Advice.

Mr. Gaylush—Officer. I can—hic!—see two moons up zhere and—hic!—hear 'em talking to each other!

Officer—Ye can, eh? Well, ye don't want to believe nawthing that ye hear, and only half what ye see!—Puck.

Uncle Allen.

"Never boast about what you are going to do, young man," counseled Uncle Allen Sparks. "A sensible hen doesn't cackle in advance of the egg."—Chicago Tribune.

An Accepted Principle.

"I suppose that every army has a censor."

"Oh, yes! In modern war it is recognized that Truth needs a chaperon." —Puck.

An Unkind Wish.

"What's Miss Shriek singing?"

"'My Heart's in the Highlands.'"

"I wish her voice was with it."—

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy; he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find any relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured. I think it the best medicine I have ever tried." For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 38 p m; S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m,

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

LOW RATES
3 MINUTES'
CONVERSATION
APPROXIMATELY
AS FOLLOWS

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	-	10c
5 to 15 miles,	- -	15c
15 to 25 "	- -	20c
25 to 35 "	- -	25c
35 to 45 "	- -	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

Crescent House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
..AND...
C.B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m.
12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours. From 2 to 3 p. m., and by appointment.
92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.
M. M. Fisher, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1839.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT
Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all here is to it.

On the Stool of Repentance is where you will find yourself during summer's sultry days unless you clean your complexion and cool your blood by purifying it with

Dana's Sarsaparilla

50 CENTS A BOTTLE

Bright eyes and a clean, clear skin, as well as an elastic step and good spirits, comes from ridding the blood of impurities with this reliable blood purifier

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Mrs. Henry K. Fisher and her two daughters, Florence and Blanche, and son Calvin are at Digby, N. S.——Mrs. Ennis Holmes of Cambridge has been visiting friends in this vicinity.——Mrs. Joseph Heaton of Franklin has been visiting Miss Carrie Thompson.——Miss Sallie W. Frastow has taken an ocean voyage to Norfolk, Va.——Hon. John Hitz, formerly consul-general from Switzerland to the United States, but now head of the Volta bureau for the deaf and dumb at Washington, D. C., is visiting Miss A. M. Sullivan.——F. L. Blatchford is at Newburyport.——Miss Anna Cobb of Kalamazoo, Mich., is the guest of Miss Carrie Thompson.——Mr. Frank P. Brown and family of Boston are at W. D. Smith's cottage.——Miss Anne W. Harris is spending two weeks at New London, Conn.——Charles Walter Poulett left town Saturday for Maine.——Miss Vira Curren of Washington, D. C., is a guest of J. E. Chamberlin at Red farm.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"To Have and to Hold," the latest of the popular novels, is to be dramatized. Charles Frohman has secured the rights from its author, Miss Mary Johnston.

Tommaso Salvini, the famous Italian tragedian, now 72 years old, is acting in St. Petersburg, his first appearance there for 2[illegible] years. He is said to have created great enthusiasm.

Miss Alice Nielsen's opera for next year will not be a new one, though it never has been seen on this side of the Atlantic. It is by Messenger and is entitled "Fauvette du Temple." Harry B. Smith is adapting the book and the lyrics.

Miss Elsie de Wolfe will be put forward a second time as a star by Mr. Frohman the coming season. It is said the play will be of French origin and that Miss de Wolfe is to go to Paris in May to see it played in its original language.

It is said that the play "The Little Minister," for the time it has been running, has been more profitable than any other ever put on the stage. From the first sentence to the last every word and scene are thoroughly clean and wholesome. And yet it is claimed that the theater could not live unless it appealed to the coarser passions.—Boston Congregationalist.

J. N. Pychowski, a most admirable pianist, though little known to the public, died recently at Hoboken, N. J. He was born in Bohemia in 1848 and began the study of music at an early age, finishing his studies with Tomaschek at Prague. He came to New York in 1850, and since that time has devoted himself mainly to teaching. He was of a singularly retiring disposition and so averse to publicity that he could not be prevailed on to play before a promiscuous assemblage. Among musicians of the higher rank however, he was well known for his exceptional knowledge of music and his conspicuous ability as a virtuoso. He was an honorary member of a large number of European musical societies.

What He Wouldn't Do.

"If you were rich what would you do?"

"I can't be exactly sure as to that," was the reply, "but I know what I wouldn't do.

"What?"

"I wouldn't put in my time trying to convince the poor that they are lucky to escape the nervous strain of handling great wealth."—Chicago Post.

No Gripe, Pain

Or discomfort, no irritation of the intestines but gentle, prompt, thorough healthful cleansing, when you take

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists 25 cents.

JOKES FOR DINNER TIME.

"I think I'll try to reduce my weight," said the corpulent grocer. "You've been reducing it too much already," responded the customer with the 14-ounce pound of sugar.

"Yes, sir," said Mr. Winbliddle to a stranger, "I maintain that all the water used for drinking and culinary purposes should be boiled at least half an hour." "You are a physician, I presume?" "No; I am a coal dealer."

"We can only taste imperfectly in the dark," said a lecturer; "nature has intended us to see our food." "Then," inquired a forward pupil, "how about a blind man at dinner?" "Nature, sir," answered the professor, "has supplied him with eye-teeth."

Blivens—"My dear, I'm really alarmed about Tommy's health." Mrs. Blivens—"I suppose you mean you are alarmed about his ill health and future doctor bills." Blivens—"I said health, and I meant it. I was thinking of butchers' bills."

Dean Hole recently told a story of two Indians dining in England for the first time, when one of them took a spoonful of mustard which brought the tears to his eyes. The other said: "Brother, why weepest thou?" and he replied: "I weep for my father who was slain in battle," and he passed the mustard. The other then took a spoonful, and he had a tear trickling down his cheek. Said the first Indian, "Why weepest thou?" and he replied: "I weep because thou wast not slain with thy father."—Chicago Daily News.

WOMEN YOU HAVE HEARD OF.

Gen. Botha's wife was a Miss Emmet, a descendant of a relative of the Irish patriot.

Ex-Speaker Reed's daughter Katherine is one of 48 young women who have just received certificates of the woman's law class at the University of New York.

Mrs. Henry N. Couden is the only person outside of members of congress who is allowed in the speaker's lobby while the house is in session. Her husband, Rev. Mr. Couden, is chaplain of the house, and is blind. He is brought to the house daily by Mrs. Couden, and remains until she comes for him.

The late Ellen Clementine Howarth, who worked at caning chairs to support her family, once wrote thus to a friend: "Excuse me for not answering your kind note sooner. The morning I received it I had made a contract for the caning of a certain number of car seats, and they were to be done by today. By working from five in the morning till 11 at night, I have finished in time." Even thus, the family of nine hungry human beings were not able to satisfy their craving for food.

UP-TO-DATE PHILOSOPHER.

Superstition is other people's vagaries.

A crank is a person you can't turn your way.

The man who takes the world as he finds it doesn't take it by storm.

The brunette should live longer than the blond. She cannot care to dye.

Be careful not to tell people who live in basements that you will "drop in again."

The prodigal's greatest difficulty is to sober up and settle down at the same time.

Don't take the trouble to make it warm for the man who turns you a cold shoulder.

If people lamented their own faults as much as those of others the millennium would soon arrive.

There are times when a man feels that the weakest excuse, if he could think of one, would be a mighty good think.—Chicago Democrat.

Some are Left;

They are Waiting.

THOSE

HAMMOCKS

put on sale at reduced prices are lightly swaying as an occasional breeze wafts inward through our ever-open doors. All that remain will be sold at 25 per cent discount straight. Regular Hammock season and we will close it with our usual liberality.

You pay $1.50 for a nice $2 Hammock or pay $2 25 for a better $3 Hammock.

All LAWN FURNITURE is being rapidly closed out at the same reduction.

REFRIGERATORS for $12, been selling at $16.

Cheaper boxes at the same cut rate, 25 per cent. off.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

To Keep Glasses On.

"Isn't it strange," said Mr. Burton, while in a reminiscent mood, "how discoveries are made? Of course, that is a general statement, but to the case in question.

"I wear glasses, as you know, but I found great trouble in keeping them on. They were continually following the laws of gravitation and falling to the floor. The trouble was that I did not have a bridge of size, and I spent money and time experimenting with different kinds of springs and clasps and nose pieces, but all proved failures.

"Now, the other night I had an idea (that's all right; I am guilty of an idea once in awhile) that if I would put some powdered rosin on my nose that would hold 'em for awhile, so I accordingly hunted up my friend, the violinist, and getting some rosin, made a test.

"Was it a success? Why, I can turn a handspring backward and those glasses are still doing business at the old stand."—Richmond Times.

Alcohol, the Skin and the Heart.

A party of Americans in crossing Sierra Nevada encamped at a spot above the snow line. Some of them took a good deal of spirits before going to sleep, and they lay down warm and happy, some took a moderate quantity, and they lay down somewhat but not very cold; others took none at all, and they lay down very cold and miserable. Next morning, however, those who had taken no spirits got up feeling quite well; those who had taken a little got up feeling cold and wretched, those who had taken a great deal did not get up at all; they had perished from cold during the night. Those who took no alcohol kept their hearts warm at the the expense of their skin, and they remained well; those who took much warmed their skin at the expense of their hearts and they died.—Dr Carter.

Because It Was Juicy.

The Waitress—Did you ever see a cake walk, Bridget?

The Cook—Yes, indade, 'n' I've seen a pie run.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Many Millions in Cemeteries.

The cemeteries around London cover 2,000 acres, and the land they occupy represents a capital of $1[illegible],000,000.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Yarmouth, N. S., as a Summer Resort.

One of the most delightful of short sea trips is to Yarmouth, N. S., the western gateway to the Acadian province. With fine hotels, drives, picturesque scenery and excellent harbor for boating and fishing, Yarmouth is one of the most attractive of summer places. Since the Yarmouth steamship company reduced the round trip rate to Yarmouth to $8 the travel over the Yarmouth line steamers to that port has greatly increased. There are four steamers each way each week, and a trip to Yarmouth in August means that the heat of the Atlantic seaboard is escaped. For particulars inquire at the tourist agencies, 201, 298 or 332 Washington street, or of H. F. Hammond, agent of the Yarmouth line, 43 Lewis wharf, Boston.

Hoag Lake

PARK.

WEEK OF AUG. 27.

Afternoons at 3.15.

Evenings at 8.20.

Boom's

New York

Comedians

HENNINGS TRIO.

Song and Dance Sketch

LOUISA VON WOELLNER,

Vocalist and Tyrolean Warbler.

FRANK BURT,

Rube Equilibrist.

THE TANIANS,

Novelty Musical Act.

KESSNER and REID,

Acrobatic Song and Dance Team.

PAUL KERLICK, Accompanist.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je26-tocl

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of William Colvin, late of Medway, in said county deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said court for probate by James A. Snow and John H. C. Hadley, who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executors therein named.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the 19th day of September, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of August, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

au28-se4,11

HINTS FOR THE CYCLERS.

Do not back-pedal more frequently than you can help. If practiced often, back-pedaling will injure the best machine. However, do not risk your neck to save your cycle; the latter can be replaced.

To test a cyclometer, turn your wheel, if it be 28 inches, 70 times. If the indicator be correct it will show one-tenth of a mile. To facilitate the counting tie a small piece of paper round the tire. Differences in cyclometer records are sometimes due to the difference in inflation. A tire which is not blown up hard has a smaller diameter than one that is; consequently the variation.

An odd cycling freak is to trim a piece of brown paper to fit the lens of the lamp and in it to cut eyes, nose and mouth. The effect is certainly startling. It resembles at a short distance the death's head that rustic youths carve from turnips and light up with a candle fixed inside. One can picture the feelings of some nervous person on seeing these terrible features spring, as it were, out of space, and bear down on him, momentarily growing larger and larger.

Many unpleasant experiences and ruffled tempers would be saved if every rider knew how easy it often is to make a lamp which goes out burn. There are several reasons why lamps give trouble, but the most common is that the wick gets clogged with half-dried oil. It is not that part of the wick which is below the surface of the oil that gets into this state, but that part which is out of the oil. What is to be done, then, if the lamp persists in going out and the rider has no fresh wick to put in? Simply turn the wick upside down and at once the defect is remedied.

Bicyclists who ride in muddy weather will find that the machine will take no harm from the mud and that there is no necessity to have it cleaned immediately, providing the owner takes care to keep the metal work in a greasy condition. This may be effected by rubbing all the tubing, spokes, rims, etc., with an oily rag during the cleaning process. Take care not to wipe all the oil off, but leave the metal in a greasy state. The double result will follow that the metal will not be liable to rust from the mud and moisture and the mud will come off readily when the machine is cleaned. It is also a good plan to smear some vaseline over all the lubricating holes, so as to render them impervious to damp.

Witch Hazel Jelly...

An improved form of Witch Hazel, far more effective and convenient than the ordinary Witch Hazel. It is a quick and efficient remedy in all cases of burns, bruises and all irritations of the skin, such as hives, nettle rash, mosquito bites, etc.

15 CTS. BOTTLE.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Coal! Coal!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

MEDFIELD AND WAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tf8

Poor Little Willie

Little Willie used to earn
A nickel now and then
By holding Mr. Softleigh's hoss
While he and Sister Jen
Were in the parlor visiting.
But those good times are o'r,
And little Willie's services
Are in demand no more.

When Mr. Softleigh comes today,
Alas, there is no need
For anyone to stand outside
And watch his champing steed!
He pulls a plug from somewhere, and
That's all there is to do;
The rig will stand all right while he
And sister bill and coo.
—S. E. Kiser, in Chicago Times Herald

A Lullaby.

Sleep, sleep, my little one, sleep!
The oriole has flown to her nest
In maple leaf bower.
The bumble bee has crept to its rest
In the heart of a flower,
And the evening star in the west
Twinkles bright at slumber hour.
Oh, sleep, sleep! my little one, sleep!
—Alice B. Waite, in Springfield (Mass.) Republican

Only Dreaming.

The sleeper stirred uneasily in his slumber. Something was disturbing him. He could hear faraway somewhere the troublous song of a mosquito. He waited and waited. Finally it came nearer and the song was louder. The slumberer carefully and slowly disengaged one arm from under the bed clothes. He raised his hand above his cheek, held it suspended there for a moment and then brought it down with a whack that must have caused the blood to rise to the surface. The song of the mosquito went merrily on. The slumberer had missed it. He tried again, and at an opportune time whacked his forehead with his palm. Still the song of the mosquito went on. Several times did the disturbed dreamer make the attempt to take the life of his tormentor, but it was in vain. At last, rendered desperate, he rose on his elbow, opened his eyes and listened intently. And then he became aware that he had been blaming a mosquito for the tooting of an early-rising ragman that was passing in the street.—Detroit Free Press.

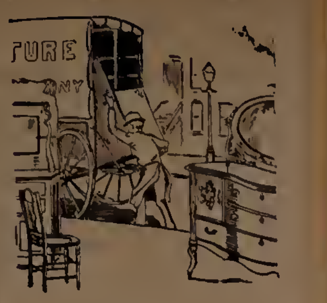
Keeping Up the Average.

Mistress—Jane, this floor doesn't look very clean. Did you sweep it today?

Jane—No, mum—I didn't sweep it to-day, nor yisterday, but I sweeped it three times the day afore that.—Chicago Evening News.

Cape Town War Prices.

Wheat costs four dollars a barrel in Cape Town. Livery teams hire for $25 a day.



Something New...

Have you stopped to think of the pleasure something new always brings with it? A dress, a ring, a piece of furniture—no matter what it may be, inspiration and bright spirits follow along in its wake. Especially if it's Furniture. Every time you sit in the soft chair or stretch out on the soft couch it makes you happy. This is a happiness which every one can afford while we have the stock we have and charge the prices we do.

Our Terms:

$10 worth, $1 down, 50c. a week.
$25 worth, $2.50 down, 75c. a week.
$50 worth, $5 down, $1 a week.
$75 worth, $7.50 down, $1.25 a week.
$100 worth, $10 down, $1.50 a week.
$125 worth, $15 down, $2 a week.
$150 worth, $25 down, $2.25 a week.
$200 worth, $40 down, $2.50 a week.
$250 worth, $50 down, $3 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Extra Attractions

Labor Day.

BICYCLE RACES,
FOOT RACES,
ROWING RACES.
PUNCH AND JUDY,
DANCING,
GOOD MUSIC.

Rhode Island Clambake

WILL BE SERVED.

REFRESHMENTS IN WELL-STOCKED CAFE

THE BATTERY BAND

of Providence has been engaged for the day.

Franklin Band Orchestra

Will furnish music for dancing.

Free Dancing During Day.

Admission - - 15c

Children 10c.

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

PLANT LINE

TO THE PROVINCES.

Cheapest and Best Ocean Trip Out of Boston.

1400 MILES FOR $18.00.

Points of interest include HALIFAX, STRAITS OF CANSO, CAPE BRETON, BRAS D'OR LAKES, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND and NEW FOUNDLAND. Elegant steamships La Grande Duchesse, Halifax and Florida. From north side Lewis Wharf for HALIFAX, HAWKSBURY and CHARLOTTETOWN, every Tuesday, 12 noon. Every Saturday 2 p. m. New line to SYDNEY every Friday 10 a. m. Illustrated advertising free.

J. A. FLANDERS, N. E. Agent,
290 Washington St., Boston.
E. H. DOWNING, Agent,
20 Atlantic Ave., Boston.

jly24-tno24

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week.............. 50
Single Gallon.................................. 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive prompt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.

17-tf F

Business Announcements in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL are invariably read.

Hattie M Fisher 1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 70. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, AUGUST 31, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Crownirshield's Store	4
Attractions at Woonsocket Opera House	4
Citation	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 05 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Rev. Dr. Sneath and family will return from Onset today.

The banks, postoffice, stores, etc., will be closed on Monday.

The criminal term of court will open at Dedham next week.

Mrs. W. A. Snow of Boston has been visiting friends in town.

Mrs. W. S. Richardson has been visiting friends in Providence.

Our Boys vs. Haywards, Indian Rock park, tomorrow afternoon.

J. H. Hutchinson has been spending a few days in New York city.

Mrs. Walter Darling and son are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Fiske.

Charles McKinnon has returned from a visit with friends in Lawrence.

Dr. A. B. Fletcher is having new plans made of the Union street cemetery.

The selectmen will hold a regular meeting Friday evening of this week.

The staging used by the decorators in the J. G. Ray block has been removed.

Henry Byrnes, who is recuperating at Hanover, N. H., is improving in health.

Rev. Mr. Cook will have charge of the Methodist prayer meeting this evening.

Mrs. Byron A. Truscott of Webster is visiting at J. A. Smith's on School street.

The remaining coal suphly for the schoolhouses is being put in the bins this week.

Judge O. T. Doe has been on a business trip to New York, returning Wednesday.

Miss S. Emma Johnson of Stoughton is visiting her brothers, W. S. and A. H. Johnson.

Mrs. Alfred Farrington and son have arrived from a month's stay at York Beach, Me.

Miss Ella King of Woonsocket is the guest of Miss Catherine Kenney of Cottage street.

D. L. Laubrich and family of Milliken avenue are visiting friends at Manchester, N. H.

Mrs. J. C. Gallison and Miss Lydia Ray are spending a few days at Cottage City and Nantucket.

Miss Belle Murphy of Fisher street retured on Saturday from a two weeks' stay at Newport.

Men are guessing on the local population census and make their figures from from 5,000 to 6,000.

Misses Mattie Fisher, Carolyn Rockwood, Eunice Crocker and Alice Sherman are at Onset this week.

Mrs. Charles Fiske has returned home after enjoying an extended vacation at Plymouth and Cottage City.

A few of the Franklin fraternity attend the races at Narragansett this week, take their choice and pay their money.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Whittemore of New York have been with friends at the Crescent House for a couple of weeks.

Rev. and Mrs. F. B. Sleeper have returned from their vacation fully invigorated for their future church work.

The next regular meeting of Franklin Corps, No. 89, will be held next Monday evening. A full attendance is desired.

Frank W. Guild has removed from Cottage street to the house owned by Mrs. Emily Aldrich on Summer street.

Miss Mae Morey has returned from Intervale, N. H., and is at present with her aunt, Mrs. Hartshorn, in Norwood.

Luke Malley, who recently purchased the property of the late Elijah Leonard on Cottage street, took possession yesterday.

Edward Ferrer of Ruggles street has been called suddenly to Brooklyn, N. Y., on account of the serious illness of his brother.

Mrs. C. R. Parks and Mrs. C. L. Jenks spent Sunday with Mrs T. M. Turner. Mrs. A. J. Turner is also visiting Mrs. Turner.

There will be a dance at Lake Pearl tomorrow evening, with music by the American band orchestra. Go and have a good time.

The basement in the SENTINEL building, formerly occupied by Spence and Granger, is soon to be opened as an Italian grocery.

The six-year-old daughter of John Keefe was bitten by a dog this week. Dr. Hussey cauterized the wound and the owner killed the dog.

The movement for free rural mail delivery seems to hang fire, and probably not much in that direction will be accomplished before early spring.

James O. Chilson has been confined to the house the past week by sickness, but is recovering and expects to be in normal condition within a few days.

Some of the G. A. R. men in this vicinity welcome a change in Memorial day which will make it less secular, but it will not be changed this year.

Daniel McLaughlin has purchased the restaurant business formerly carried on by Frank Tatro on Central square and opened the place for business.

Miss Agnes G. Dinslow of Richmond, Me., a former student of Dean academy, is spending a few weeks with her aunt, Mrs. C. F. Morse, Jr., at Medway.

Rev. Dr. Hodge writes from Lake Placid that he expects to return on Saturday, brown and rested, and will preach at the Universalist church next Sunday.

L. G. Merrifield shows us an apple grown upon one of his trees which measures fourteen inches around and weighs one pound two ounces. It is a handsome apple.

Albert Whitney of Alpine street, formerly a motorman on the M., A. & W. street railway, has removed to Hopedale, where he is employed in the Draper works.

The improvements in Masonic hall will not probably be completed in time for the first regular meeting of the fall, but may be advanced enough for the gathering to be held.

Rev. Mr. Cook and Charles H. Prince landed from their European trip on a Cunarder in Boston yesterday, reaching here last evening, having had a most delightful experience.

Mrs. G. A. Martin has gone to New Brunswick for a two months' hunting and fishing trip. The camp is finely situated for both pleasures and she expects a good deal of sport.

Thomas Coutu, Jr., leaves next Wednesday for Walbrook, Baltimore, Md., where he will begin a college course in St. Joseph's Epiphany College of the Colored Harvest of the South Manager Enegren has arranged a fine list of attractions for Labor day, and as the season is closing all who desire an outing at this popular place should arrange to go down on Monday.

Miss Anna Kelley, accompanied by Mrs. Norton and niece, Miss May Farrell, left for Brooklyn, N. Y., Wednesday. Miss Kelley is to take a course of study in a training school at that city.

Manager Connolly of Our Boys and Manager McKenna of the Ray team are negotiating for a game at Indian Rock park on Saturday, Sept. 8, when it is proposed to play for a purse of $30.

At the Baptist church next Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. F. B. Sleeper, will preach on "The Manliness of Christ." In the evening his theme, suggested by the morning topic, will be "The Commanding Christ."

The advice of one physician to thin people who wish to put on flesh is to drink water and drink lots of it. If water were only $1 per gallon, said this physician, it would be considered the greatest medicinal agent known.

A trolley party arranged by W. G. Dana and M. J. Costello chartered the illuminated Medway car last evening for a ride to Medfield, where a supper was provided and dancing was enjoyed. The party arrived home about 12, having had an excellent time.

It is eight years since the town had a Labor day celebration and almost beyond the memory of man since there was a local Fourth of July celebration of an official kind. No one seems disposed to undertake the great labor of engineering such things, and no blame can be laid at their door.

The electric car conductors are now the great financial agents to keep the fractional currency in proper circulation and prevent a nickel panic in the commercial centre. Traders say that all the change in town goes for car fares, and so traders go to the conductors for change and the country is preserved.

Three fine bear skins, mounted with the heads on, arrived here this week from Maine for Dr. G. A. Martin. The animals were shot by him and his wife on a recent hunting trip in New Brunswick and were "set up" in Bangor. They are remarkably fine specimens and will be used as floor rugs.

An interesting case was before Judge Doe yesterday. Harold I. Smith of the Boston Advertiser was tried for assault on Dr. Herbert P. Jefferson of Millis, the owner of the farm which Mr. Smith "worked." They had some dispute and the assault was the result. Mr. Smith was fined $1, which he paid.

The remains of Richard Sheahan, a relative of Dennis Sheahan of Washington street, were brought here from Pittsfield for interment in St. Mary's cemetery on Tuesday. The deceased, who was about 30 years of age and at one time a resident here, met his death by falling from a bridge at Pittsfield last week.

The many friends of Mrs. Addie Morey of Dean avenue will be pained to learn that it was found necessary to remove her to the hospital for the insane at Westboro for treatment. Her relatives have the sincere sympathy of all, and it is hoped that with the good care and treatment she will receive at the hospital that she will soon recover.

A lady from Detroit, Mich., is in town this week for the first time whose father was a native, leaving here in boyhood some eighty years ago. She was surprised to find so much of a town in the way of buildings and modern improvements, and mentioned with pleasure among them the street railway to Woonsocket, where she has friends.

The girders have been put in position on the N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad in Bellingham, under which the M., A. & W. street railway tracks are to run. No men are at work getting the track ready at the bridge, and from the bridge to Milford the tracks are covered with gravel. The grade crossing on South Main street, Milford, has not yet been put in.

Hoag lake has had one of the finest attractions of the season this week, and that these performances are fully appreciated is proved by the large audiences in attendance. From 600 to 700 attend each matinee performance, and from 800 at Monday evening's performance the attendance increased until it reached over 1,000 at Wednesday evening's performance. On Labor day there will be a fine bill, with performances at 3.15, 4 45 and 8 15.

Postmaster Talbot informs us that a new postoffice rule has gone into effect and is an important matter to bear in mind, as it imposes a penalty of $500 fine or a year's imprisonment on any one who through carelessness or otherwise takes mail not their property from the postoffice and does not return it at once. The rule applies to newspapers as well as to letters. The safe thing to do is to examine all mail received before leaving the postoffice, which act will save a return trip if some one else's mail is found among the lot. This rule takes all blame for careless distribution off the clerks and makes the recipient responsible.

Our Boys and the Hayward nine will play what promises to be an interesting and lively game of ball at Indian Rock park tomorrow afternoon. Our Boys have defeated nearly all the amateur teams that they have played with in Franklin, Woonsocket, Medway and North Bellingham this season and now have a record of nine straight victories to their credit. The Haywards, too, have been playing many games this season and have won the majority of them, but as yet have not played with the clever young ball-tossers who will be their opponents tomorrow, so it is more than likely that the contest will be one of most exciting and well worth journeying to park to see.

At the corner of Main and Emmons streets, upon the grounds of James F. Ray, stands an old buttonwood tree. Under its spreading limbs Rev. Elias Haven, the first minister of Franklin in the order of settlement, built what was later and more famous as the Dr. Nathaniel Emmons parsonage. All vestige of the building has disappeared, but the buttonwood still lives. The great expounder of the oldtime orthodoxy often took off his three-cornered hat and bared his noble brow to the refreshing breeze while studying how to overthrow Universalism and other obnoxious isms, and more than one boy has enjoyed lying on the ground, cooled by its shade in the hot summer day in perfect peace, except the expectation of hearing that direful summons, "Come, boys, let's get in that hay!"

The Public Schools.

All of the schools of the town will commence their fall term next Tuesday, with some changes in the corps of teachers, made necessary by the increase of pupils and the fact that so many of our teachers are desired elsewhere at better salaries. Indeed, it is not infrequently the case that superintendents of other schools are here looking at our teachers with the end in view of securing them to go elsewhere. But it is safe to say that the season will start out under most favorable auspices, and the prospects for a successful school year are most encouraging.

The north roof of the Thayer school has been shingled and the furnace repaired. New and more scientific benches have been added to the laboratory of the Horace Mann, making it one of the best and most useful laboratories of its size in this vicinity. New furniture is to be provided for the commercial department of the high school, so efficiently conducted by Miss Hubbard. The Four Corners school will have remodeled furniture with the Chandler adjustable fixtures, newly tinted walls and a thoroughly renovated building

With ceilings most neatly kalsomined by Artist Geb, with walls painted a soft green most suitable for the eyes, and with floors thoroughly washed and cleaned, the rooms in the Thayer and Nason buildings will present a most attractive and healthful condition. Minor changes have been made also in the other school buildings. For the better protection of property and life, fire extinguishers have been placed in all the buildings.

School Notes.

Everything points to the most successful school year of the past eight.

There will be at least thirty pupils from surrounding towns.

Never had a better corps of teachers.

Mr. Albert I. Oliver, a graduate of Boston university with highest rank, president of his class and student at Harvard last year, succeeds Mr. Wilkins as teacher in first year of Horace Mann.

Mr. J. Ray Wyckoff, a graduate of Dean and a former student at Harvard, will teach in the room to be opened in the Nason school.

Miss Ellen J. Butters, valedictorian of the last class graduating from the Horace Mann, is to act as apprentice teacher in the Unionville school.

Mr. Wyckoff, Miss Butters and Miss Reilly followed courses in the Hyannis normal school the past summer.

Clara E. Ham will return to the science department of the Horace Mann after a most successful session teaching in the Newton summer school.

Mr. Frank H. Wilkins was promoted, because of his successful loyalty to school work, to the principalship of the Plainville high school. A bright future awaits him.

Miss Anne L. Judd, formerly a most successful teacher in the Horace Mann, has been elected to the Holyoke high school—a most merited promotion.

Last year a circular letter was sent to all the parents of children attending the Horace Mann high school, asking their opinions about the school sessions. One hundred and three were returned. Of these, seven preferred two sessions, ninety six one session. The committee therefore, voted one session for all the grades of the Horace Mann for the fall term. The plan cannot succeed unless the parents co-operate and see that the child eats a hearty and suitable breakfast, takes plenty of outdoor work or exercise in the afternoon, studies and retires early in the evening.

The committee also followed what seemed to be the wish of a majority of the parents of school children in the South Franklin district and continued the plan of transporting the children to the schools of the centre. Contracts have been made with A. F. Everett, A. F. Pendleton and J. H. Tyler.

Principal Daniels, who has given so much of his time and thought to the betterment of the schools, has proved the right man for the place, and has received the earnest co-operation of the committee in all his efforts for the improved efficiency of the schools. They have worked hand in hand, and wherever it has been practicable the committee have submitted vexed questions to the parents so as to avoid friction and insure satisfaction. The committee, as at present constituted, is an admirable one, and with the enligbtened assistance of parents, teachers and pupils the schools of Franklin will take no second rank with towns of even larger population and pretension.

Franklin School Officials for 1900-1.

Chairman—Ambrose J. Gallison, M.D.
Secretary—William A. Wyckoff.
Fred P. Chapman.
Superintendent—E. D. Daniels.

Corps of Instructors.

HORACE MANN HIGH SCHOOL.

Ernest D. Daniels, Master.
Grace C. Whiting,
Ruth E. Hubbard,
Clara E. Ham,
Lillian H. Favour,
Francis E. King,
Albert I. Oliver.

WILLIAM M. THAYER SCHOOL.

Isabel M. Reilly, Principal.
Charles F. Frazer,
Lucy B. Connor,
Alice H. Fernald

NASON SCHOOL.

Theresa D. Lewis, Principal
J. Ray Wyckoff,
Pearl L. Jacobs,
Lucy E. Tower.

Brick School—Rebecca Dunning.
Four Corners' School—Bertha A. Hood.
Arlington School—Margaret M. Sullivan.
City Mills School—Mary E. Bright.
Unionville School—Bertha E. Ellis, Ellen J. Butters.

SUPERVISORS

Mrs. Elizabeth T. Hosmer, Music.
Adra R. Mason, Art.

TRANSPORTERS

Mount District—Alfred F. Everett.
North West District—A. F. Pendleton.
South Franklin District—John H. Tyler.

TRUANT OFFICERS.

Nelson E. Newell,
J. Bernard Fitzpatrick.

A Narrow Escape.

An alarm of fire was rung in from box 13 about 12.30 on Wednesday morning, a fire having been discovered in Bresnahan's grocery store in the postoffice block by Charles Spence, who happened to be passing and smelled the smoke. The blaze proved to be in the cellar, near a large kerosene tank containing about 200 gallons of oil, the tank being partially uncovered. The fire burned portions of the tank, the timbers above the tank being burned also. The firemen poured the water in upstairs and gradually worked their way down to where the fire was located and succeeded in extinguishing the flames. Smoke and water did the major part of the damage. The miraculous part of the affair was that the fire did not communicate with the tank, causing an explosion which would have wrecked the building and not unlikely killed the firemen who were at work trying to save it. No one has any idea how the fire might have originated, as everything was in proper shape when the store was closed for the night about 7 o'clock. The insurance adjusters arranged with Mr. Bresnahan in regard to the loss at once and the store continued business with but slight interruption.

M., A. & W. Street Railway Notes.

The property of the M., A. & W. street railway is valued at $527,338.90.

The total mileage is 26 6 miles. The track for three fifths of a mile is 85-lb. girder rails and the rest is 60-lb. T rails. Steam railroad ties, two feet apart, are used.

The company's land and buildings alone are valued at $46,400. The powerhouse and the commodious car barn are of brick, and are suitably equipped in every respect.

The total earnings over about eight and a half miles on a two car service from October 1, 1899, to July 7, 1900, aggregated $19,304 32, and operating expenses were about $9,500. The interest charges were about $5,000.

It owns six open ten bench cars, six open fifteen bench cars, eight closed twenty foot vestibule cars and one Ruggles rotary snow plow. The company is running all of its fifteen-bench cars at the present time, owing to the heavy travel.

The road commenced operations October 1, 1899, running two cars from Franklin to Woonsocket. Near the end of May, 1900, the cars commenced running on the Caryville branch, and also from Wrentham to Lake Pearl, and in the middle of June the through line from Woonsocket to Plainville was opened. The branch to Milford will be in running order within a short time, and will contribute materially to the revenue of the company.

Woonsocket Opera House.

The Bennett & Moulton comedy company opens a week of repertoire at the Woonsocket opera house, commencing Monday evening, September 3, and, commencing Thursday afternoon, matinees will be held daily. This season's company includes many old favorites of the theatre-goers of this place, among them Justin Adams, Orson Dunn, Daniel McClure and Joseph Harris. Among the new faces this season are those of the following people of high reputation: Miss Lizzie Hunt, Madge Tucker, Lizzie Taylor, etc. The orchestra remains the same as last season. A carload of entirely new scenery, painted by Mr. Ansel Cook of the Castle square theatre, Boston, insures magnificent stage settings. Seats now on sale.

Labor Day.

My studio will be open only from 7.45 to 9.30 a. m., except by appointment. Sittings must be previously arranged for.

R. J. CALKIN.

Richardson's Market.

Of course you've got to eat some meat, even if it is hot weather. Try a nice chicken or fowl for Sunday. Our vegetables are received every day fresh from the gardens. Try a can of our ten cent soup with your dinner; all kinds.

Some of the Plays that are Coming.

The Southern war drama, "Brother Against Brother," was to have opened the season at Morse Opera House on Saturday, Sept. 8, but the date has been cancelled owing to the burning of the company's scenery last week. The season will now in all likelihood open Sept. 12 with a musical comedy, "Finnigan's Ball." This is one of Olie Mack's attractions and is up to date in every way. Two of Lincoln Carter's new plays, "Down Mobile" and "The Eleventh Hour," "The Span of Life" and "Monte Christo" are among the fine attractions already booked.

Church Services.

Universalist church.—Rev. Dwight M. Hodge, D.D., pastor, will preach at 10.30; subject, "What is the Use of Living?" Y. P. C. U. at 6.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 4 Sunday school at 3. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Baptist church —At 10.30 preaching by the pastor, Rev. Frank B. Sleeper; theme, "The Manliness of Christ." Sunday school at 12 Young People's meeting at 6 15. Preaching at 7.30; theme, "The Commanding Christ" Short after service in the vestry

Methodist church—Preaching at 10.30 and 7 30 by the pastor, Rev. S. A. Cook; morning subject, "Home." evening subject, "The Castle of Truth" Sacrament of the Lord's Supper at the close of morning service. Sunday school at 12. Epworth league at 6 30.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10 30 by the pastor, Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath. Sunday school at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. consecration service at 6.30. Short evening service at 7.30 The pastor will speak upon "Northfield and Onset; a Spiritual Contrast." The communion of the Lord's Supper" will be held in connection with the morning service.

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending August 29, 1900:

Ladies—Mrs. Frances T. Bowman, Miss Lena Clifford, Mary Comelean, Mrs. Julia Farley, Mrs Ella Fitzpatrick, Mrs. H E. Grose, Mrs. William Hanson, Betsey Brakely.

Gentlemen—Rev. O. W. Adams, H O. Dow, J. F. Sargent.

Foreign—Liscio Poteto di Michele (3).

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

Emerson's Market.

Fresh killed chicks and fowls, lamb, veal, pork and tomatoes. Watermelons on ice, shell beans, green corn, gem melons, sweet potatoes, summer squash, lettuce, cucumbers, onions, cabbages, new beets and turnips.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Room wanted, with board if possible. Address Box 302. 31

Trash wood, ready cut for stove use, at Allen's wood yard.

For Sale—A 120 quart milk route, cheap for cash. W. A. Pond. 28

Good wages for a girl to do housework. Inquire at SENTINEL office. 24-tf

Mrs. G. W. Miner, Crescent street, would like a competent girl for housework at once. 24 tf

Wanted.—A ton of horse hay. Will pay for same in carpenter work. F. E. Dudley, Union and Central streets. 14*

To Let.—A tenement of five rooms on Alpine street Inquire at the house or at Mrs. A. E. Burnham's, Peck street. 28 tf

Wanted.—Girl for general housework in family of three. Apply to Mrs. Alfred Farrington, Union street, foot of High street. 31

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

Can While You Can.

If you want nice fruit next winter prepare to can very soon, as fruit is coming on, but don't use your old jars. Our new ones are cheaper, better, and improve the flavor of the fruit. We have the square "Royal" fruit jar, best quality selected glass, with "Lightning" top at 90 cents, $1.00 and $1.25 per dozen. There are none cheaper in the end. Window screens at reduced prices.

HOSIE BROS.

Office Closed.

My patrons are requested to note that my dental office will be closed until further notice during my vacation.

DR. M. E. POND.

Cut flowers, all kinds of funeral designs well made up at Slade's greenhouse. Roses in small or large quantities.

All lovers of music are invited to see the display of pianos and organs at Sanford Bros., Medway. Up to date and prices right.

Two chairs at Ochee's barber shop. Accomplished hair dresser, William Donovan, now in attendance. Short waits.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.
MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 In..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 In..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 In..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 In..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 In..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 In..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col.	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 1.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

FRIDAY. AUGUST 31, 1900.

THE NEXT MEMBER FROM THE ELEVENTH DISTRICT.

There is probably no better constituency in the whole country than the eleventh Massachusetts congressional district. The standards of the people are high in everything that makes for progress along right lines. That such a district should be well represented in congress goes without saying. The voice of their congressman should be heard and his influence felt. In casting about for a representative who will be worthy of this district we, for our part, know of no better way to make a wise choice than by taking a man of whose past we are sure. In Mr. Samuel L. Powers of Newton we are confident that the people cannot be mistaken. He has been weighed in the balance and not found wanting. His professional career has been one of steady growth and has been marked by the success that comes to honest character and intellectual strength. He is trusted by his clients and respected by his professional brethren. He possesses in his own home and wherever else he is known the influence that only men attain whose dealings are honorable and whose sympathies are broad. Mr. Powers is not only an upright man and a good lawyer, but he is a very humane man. His interests are not bound up with those of any coterie in the community in which he lives, and hence he has the confidence of all kinds of men. He is a hard hitter, but a fair one. To borrow an expression from the field of athletics, he is a good sportsman. He never sulks in defeat. There are a good many men in Mr. Powers' own city, and not a few in the rest of the district, who remember with gratitude the loyalty and unselfish support they have received from him in past struggles. They have been hoping for years that the time would come when they could do something for him, and they rejoice that in showing their friendship for Mr. Powers they are able to do their whole duty by the eleventh district.—Hyde Park Gazette.

It is being made manifest to all close observers that the telephone is having various effects on social life that were not at first suspected. The Telephone in the Country. But the continuing developments of this character are of a surprising nature. For example, few habits are more ingrained in the commercial and business man than that of meeting on 'change. The practice long antedated railroads, and has been common among all civilized peoples. But now it would appear that having learned to make extensive use of the telephone while at the exchange brokers are neglecting business on the floor and are transacting it more and more directly from office to office by the telephone. It is said that this practice is gaining ground to such an extent that the exchanges in some lines of trade suffer quite appreciably. So much for trade in the bulk. It is also said that the cotton-growers are benefiting by the high prices this year to an unusual extent because of the greater telephonic facilities they are enjoying. This, if true, simply confirms the recent statement as to some transactions in the broom corn district of Illinois. Buyers from outside began to clean up the broom corn at $60 a ton, when a telephone official called up the farmers on his system and told them the market was rising rapidly. The result was that before the season ended they had sold their crop at $24 a ton. Telephones would be cheap at any price anywhere on such terms, and it is a fact that the value and benefit of the service are not yet by any means appreciated.

In a recent case of pneumonia 5,500 gallons of oxygen was used, the sick man was packed in ice, an alcohol bath was given every 25 minutes, and four quarts of milk with three quarts of whisky were administered daily. The Brooklyn paper that tells this story says the patient recovered.

GRAY STREAKS

Why let all your neighbors and friends think you must be twenty years older than you are? Yet it's impossible to look young with the color of 70 years in the hair. It's sad to see young persons look prematurely old in this way. Sad because it's all unnecessary; for gray hair may always be restored to its natural color by using—

Ayer's Hair Vigor

For over half a century this has been the standard hair preparation. It is an elegant dressing; stops falling of the hair; makes the hair grow; and cleanses the scalp from dandruff.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"I have been using Ayer's Hair Vigor for over 20 years and I can heartily recommend it to the public as the best hair tonic in existence."
Mrs. G. L. ALDERSON,
April 24, 1899. Ector, Tex.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the Vigor, write the Doctor about it. Address,
DR. J. C. AYER,
Lowell, Mass.

SHOWN IN THE SHOPS.

[Dry Goods Economist.]

Wrought iron bouquet lamps with ruby etched globes.

Girdle-shaped belts finished with a soft Directoire scarf and bow.

Snowflake, cross-stripe, madras, creton and printed Java curtains.

Flowing-end scarfs in fancy light and dark effects for men's wear.

Painted and spangled fans with bone or exquisitely carved sticks.

Alligator, lizard and seal chatelaine bags and purses in great variety.

Boleros fashioned from jewel-studded lace with plaited chiffon stoles.

Infants' lace caps and poke bonnets adorned with light lace and ribbon.

Many styles of white and colored piques with cross and straight welts.

Silk warp novelty ginghams in a world of tasteful colors and patterns.

Poplins, armures, etamines and fancy crepes in all the best shades of the season.

Cambric, nainsook and swiss skirtings and flouncings in elaborate open patterns.

Mohair and silk grenadines showing open lace stripes or effective figure designs.

Rhinestone brooch pins in the form of crescents, sunbursts, stars, hearts, horseshoes and fleur-de-lis.

Duck suitings in figured polka dot and striped designs, together with a complete range of solid colors.

Wide Cluny lace flouncings edged with narrow frills of white chiffon or Valenciennes for trimming dressy costumes.

Short capes of net, guipure, cloth or silk elaborately jetted and finished with frills of chiffon and long scarf ends.

Medallion, Venetian, floral and serpent designs in French gray, gun metal, oxidized and rose-finished gilt belt clasps.

Theorizing.

"Do you believe that men are descended from ourang-outangs?" asked the studious man.

"That's the trouble with [illegible] tists," said Mr. [illegible]. "They [illegible] ize too much. They [illegible]. They get a [illegible] thing [illegible] they stop. I know [illegible] wasn't descended from [illegible] tang. And I [illegible] were. But there are numerous [illegible] about whom [illegible] are just [illegible] our [illegible]."—Washington Star.

The Secret Out.

Quizzles—Scribber's new [illegible] has made a [illegible] hit among the fair sex.

Spacer—[illegible] It must be [illegible] interesting book.

"On the contrary. It's unusually tiresome."

"Then how do you account for its popularity?"

"The last chapter immediately follows the preface."—Chicago Evening News.

Willing to Do Her Best.

Lady of the House—Listen, cook. I am going to give a supper and a dance. Now, you will have to show what you can do, so as to keep up the credit of my establishment.

Cook—With pleasure, ma'am; but I can only dance the waltzes and the polkas. You will have to excuse me from the quadrilles.—Tit-Bits.

A bank cashier says that the ranks of women who know how to indorse a check are slowly filling up.—Philadelphia Times.

A Hopeless Case.

Lawyer—Perhaps we can make out an alibi!

Prisoner—I'se 'fraid not! Dar warn't no pra'r-meetin' dat night, no revival, de Tennyson club didn't meet dat night, nor de Social Purity league—and, besides, dey kotched me comin' right out ob de coop wif de chickens!—Puck.

Obliging.

Mrs. Youngwife—I want five pounds of sugar, please.

Dealer—Yes, ma'am; shall I send it for you?

"No, I'll take it with me if it isn't too heavy."

"I'll make it as light as possible for you, ma'am."—Philadelphia Press.

Too Much Risk.

"Mrs. Wiggins," remarked the minister, "we wish you would let your daughter join the choir."

"Oh, I couldn't think of it," was the reply. "Minnie has such a sweet disposition and I don't want to spoil her."—Ohio State Journal.

Willfully Misunderstood.

Mrs. Strongmind—Women would not be the blind slaves of a party. They would be quite ready to scratch candidates.

Prof. Sneers—Shouldn't wonder. I suppose they would even use hat pins.—Brooklyn Life.

A Clash at Arms.

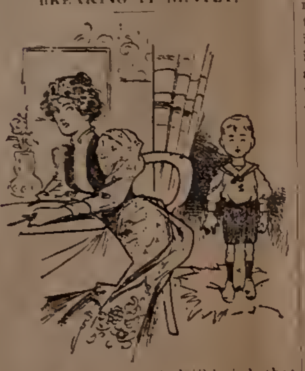
Marie—How d'ye do, Isabel? I would have spoken sooner but I didn't know you.

Young Woman Who Resembles Isabel—Beg pardon: my name's not Isabel, so you don't know me yet.—Chicago Record.

A Disquieting Thought.

The bird sits moping on the bough,
And takes it rather ill
That he, forsooth, is killed to dress
The girl that dressed to kill.
—Detroit Journal.

BREAKING IT GENTLY.



"Mummy is that indelible ink that daddy's got in his studio?"

"No. Why?"

"Because I've spilt it all over the carpet!"—Ally Sloper.

Glorious News

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile of Washita, I. T. He writes "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists. Guaranteed.

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Shake into your shoes Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It cools the feet and makes tight or new shoes feel easy. Cures corns, bunions, swollen, smarting, hot, callous, sore and sweating feet. Allen's Foot Ease relieves all pain and gives rest and comfort. We have over 30,000 testimonials. It cures while you walk. Try it today. All druggists and shoe stores sell it, 25c. Sample sent free. Address Allen M. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Condensing.

Askit—Did you read about that Brooklyn man whom the doctors operated upon and found him afflicted with a folding vermiform appendix?

Tellit—No; but it is easily explained. It is a natural result of flat life.—Baltimore American.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by druggists, 75c.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Good as the Best.

"You have some fine roads I see," said the stranger, as the native drove him over the boulevards.

"Good roads!" repeated the Pittsburger. "I should say so! They haven't better roads in Rhode Island itself!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

"Seeing is Believing."

When you see people cured by a remedy, you must believe in its power. Look around you. Friends, relatives, neighbors all say that Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Greatest Medicine, cleansed the blood of their dear ones and they rise en masse to sing its praises. There's nothing like it in the world to purify the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints.

VARIOUS NOTES OF INTEREST.

The entertainment of royalty costs British society each year fully £2,000,000.

At a recent men's card party, at which poker was the entertainment of the evening, the ices at supper were in hand forms. The hand was set upright in a position to hold cards, and in each one was arranged a good poker hand, real, but small, cards being used.

It is an established fact that the post office department saves the credulous people of this country fully $100,000,000 a year that they would lose by investment in clever swindling schemes but for the care exercised by postmasters and inspectors in the delivery of letters and the payment of money orders.

One of the most important features of the educational exhibit of the United States at the Paris exposition is the two-volume work entitled "Education in the United States," which was planned and edited by Prof. Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia university. The work consists of 19 monographs, each prepared by an eminent specialist, and covering every aspect of education in this country.

HINTS FOR HOUSEKEEPERS.

To polish a tortoise shell comb, apply a few drops of olive oil and rub long and thoroughly with a woolen cloth.

A strong solution of alum in hot water applied to furniture and crevices in the wall with a paint brush is sure destruction to insects of all sorts.

Fat mutton is apt to disagree with those of feeble digestion and should be avoided by them. Mutton should not be eaten until the sheep is three years old. The best English Southdown mutton is obtained from sheep six years old.

Do not sacrifice yourself to a false notion of economy. I once knew a farmer's wife who for years did the ironing for a family of six with two irons. Think of the waste of wood and strength and time and temper involved in that little piece of mismanagement! An economy that wears out the mother of a family is dear at any price. It is the pernicious kind that risks breaking the mainspring to save buying a ten-cent watch key.

ARMY AND NAVY.

A Rumford Falls (Me.) veteran has in his possession some of the hardtack composing the last ration dealt out to him in the civil war. It is in a good state of preservation.

There has not been an execution in the American navy since 1849. Of the many soldiers sentenced to death for military offenses during the war with Spain not one has been executed.

Liberia has been deprived of her entire navy by the sinking of one gunboat, the Rocktown, and the capsizing of the other, the Gorronomah. They cost $140,000 and there is no money to replace them.

On a train running between Ghent and Brussels a fierce discussion about the South African war arose among the passengers. An alarm was given the train stopped and the disputants were forced to finish the dispute on the ground.

Agreed Exactly.

The Mistress—Bridget, you must stay until I get another girl.

Bridget—That was my intenshun, anyway. I want her to know the koind ov a woman ye are!—Harper's Bazar.

A Record in Blood.

The record of Hood's Sarsaparilla is literally written in the blood of millions of people to whom it has given good health. It is all the time curing diseases of the stomach, nerves, kidneys and blood, and it is doing good every day to thousands who are taking it for poor appetite, tired feeling and general debility. It is the best medicine money can buy.

Hood's Pills are non-irritating. Price 25 cents.

Yarmouth, N. S., as a Summer Resort.

One of the most delightful of short sea trips is to Yarmouth, N. S., the western gateway to the Arcadian province. With fine hotels, drives, picturesque scenery and excellent harbor for boating and fishing, Yarmouth is one of the most attractive of summer places. Since the Yarmouth steamship company reduced the round trip rate to Yarmouth to $3 the travel over the Yarmouth line steamers to that port has greatly increased. There are four steamers each way each week, and a trip to Yarmouth in August means that the heat of the Atlantic seaboard is escaped. For particulars inquire at the tourist agencies, 201, 298 or 332 Washington street, or at H. F. Hammond, agent of the Yarmouth line, 43 Lewis wharf, Boston.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of grain-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If people are interested in their health and the welfare of their children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all, but Grain-O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it is solid grain.

Yours for health, C. F. Meyers.

To the Deaf.

A rich lady, cured of her deafness in the head by Dr. Nicholson's Artificial Ear drums, gave $10,000 to his institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the ear drums may have them free. Address No. 5095C, The Nicholson Institute, 780 Eighth avenue, New York, U. S. A. jl27

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell-O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

But He Hooked It.

An eel skirt in the closet
The burglar's eye then met.
"I'll take that, too," he said. "All's fish
That comes into my net."
—Chicago Tribune.

Next Door to It.

Farmer Higgins (calling on Farmer Wilcox, whose wife always addresses him as honey)—My wife never actually calls me honey but she comes pretty near it—she calls me old beeswax.—Judge.

Entitled to Her Opinion.

Mrs. Holmes (severely)—I would rather live on bread and water than on charity!

The Tramp—Yessum! There's no disputin' about tastes.—Puck.

His Great Sacrifice.

Mrs. Crimsonbeak—You are always talking of sacrifices; pray, what did you ever do for your fellow men?

Mr. Crimsonbeak—Well, I married you, didn't I?—Yonkers Statesman.

Another Version.

"Now, Freddy, tell us about Adam and Eve."

"Adam and Eve was a-eatin' apples in a garden, an' a big snake come along an' chased 'em out."—Chicago Record.

Selecting a Wedding Present.

Jeweler—Why not give them a dozen elegant spoons?

Customer—Oh, there hasn't been any novelty for them in that article in nearly a year.—Jeweler's Weekly.

And Doctors Don't Agree.

Hewitt—I'm not feeling well.

Jewitt—What is the matter?

Hewitt—I don't know yet; I've seen only three doctors so far.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine
Carter's
Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION
GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE.
Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,
Jewelers and Opticians
160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.
Sign of the Electric Clock.

del-Fly

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN
SAVINGS BANK,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN,
LESTER L. BURRINGTON, } Vice Presidents.
WALTER M. FISHER,
DR. GEORGE KING,
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, E. P. Chapman, B. M. Rockwood, George W. Wiggin, Charles Stewart.

STATEMENT JULY 31, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors	$571,100 11
Guarantee Fund	28,217 86
Profit and Loss Account	738 99
Interest Account	767 15
Real Estate Income Account	16 19
	$600,700 30

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		27,773 32
Railroad Bonds		156,202 50
C. F. Boynton account		3,023 72
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		28,375 00
" " Mortgages		157,560 00
" " Personal Securities		161,8[illegible] 18
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		34 97
Bank Furniture		100 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$7,822 25
Nat. Bank of Redemption	4,095 58
Mercantile Trust Co.	84 16
		12,001 99
Cash on hand		752 37
		$600,700 30

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.
ADELBERT D. THAYER,
CHARLES STEWART,
Committee of Examination.

July 31 1900

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN
EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON.)

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.
Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.
ap14-Ftf

WE'VE HAD A
PIANO FIRE.

We've settled the insurance. We are ready for business and we mean business. A few pianos were destroyed, a few almost destroyed and some seriously injured—these have gone to the factory—you'll hear of them later. To-day we've got some very slightly damaged pianos and a large number, say 150, that show no damage, their only fault that they've seen a fire. But we will sell them at "damaged" discount, but under the fullest warrant. Must clean them out before September to make room for new. Easy payments. Rental Purchase Plan.

IVERS & POND PIANO CO.,
114-116 Boylston St., Boston.

SUMMER
BOARD WANTED

By the many thousand readers of the Boston Evening Transcript
(No Sunday Edition).
THE GREATEST PAPER
IN NEW ENGLAND
FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900:

"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more farm houses of ten rooms.

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT
Is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies.

Boston · Transcript · Co.,
324 Washington St., Boston.

- - THE - -
GREATER BOSTON
=Business Directory=
- - And Register - -
FOR 1900

Containing Lists of all Business Houses, City, State and United States Officials, Societies, Institutions, Etc.

With Street Directory and New Map.

Comprising also

Arlington, Brookline, Cambridge,
Chelsea, Everett, Hyde Park,
Malden, Medford, Milton,
Newton, Quincy, Somerville,
Waltham, Watertown, Winthrop.

956 PAGES. PRICE $3.00.

Mailed Promptly on Receipt of Price.

SAMPSON, MURDOCK & CO.,
155 Franklin St., Boston.

Do You Want to Know about Automobiles—the different kinds their construction, care and operation—tours, runs, etc., of owners and users? If so, you should subscribe for the handsomely illustrated, thoroughly original, up-to-date automobilists' monthly.

$1 a year. 10c. a copy. Sample two 2c. stamps. Live Agents wanted. The Automobile 150 Nassau St., N. Y.

auto-F

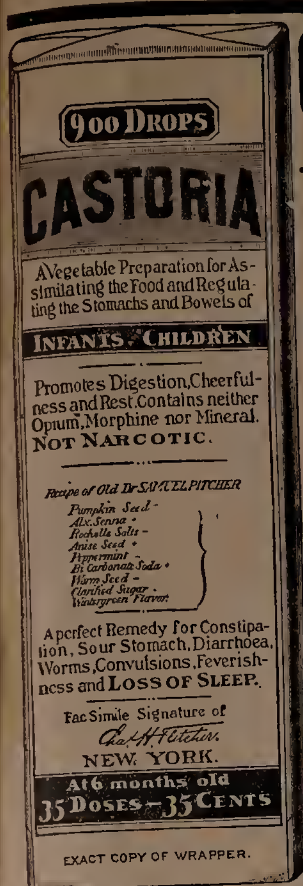
CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Park, PHILA., PA.
Mention this paper.

au17-4w

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

au31-4w

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.
Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.



900 DROPS
CASTORIA
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed
Alx. Senna
Rochelle Salts
Anise Seed
Peppermint
Bi Carbonate Soda
Worm Seed
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES—35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

AMONG THE BOERS.

An American Journalist's Account of Camp Life.

The Dutch Soldiers Have No Discipline or Science, But Are Not Lacking in the Quality of Military Horse Sense.

Jacobsdal was still quiet on December 4. There were not more than 50 guards out on that day, though the English outposts were within about three miles. On the 3d President Steyn ordered all the ammunition and supplies out of the town, and all were busy till late at night moving the wagons, says the London Times.

On the 5th I visited the camps which lie on the north side of the Modder.

The large wagon laagers in these camps present a strange appearance. In some of the larger commands as many as 250 wagons are grouped in a large irregular circle; inside this there are few tents and many large awnings. The wagons are all loaded with supplies and ammunition. In nearly every one there are a number of steel trunks, large and small. In these the burghers carry their spare clothing, and perhaps some luxuries brought from the distant farm.

All the time the roads were crowded with men hastening to the front. Almost all of them had merely the most primitive kind of outfit. The cheap "store saddle," which the majority of them have, has a few paltry bags attached to it in which the rider stores a limited supply of food. All the clothing, boots and blankets the men use are the usual "shoddy" that is sold in the country trading stores. It seems incomprehensible why no provision was made to clothe and mount the men in a serviceable manner, when one thinks of the immense amount of ready money on hand. There appears also to be a great lack of order, and it is surprising that the primitive system has stood the strain so long. It is the marvelous adaptability of the people that upsets a stranger's estimate of what results of their methods are likely to be.

During the time I have been among them I have not heard one man really grumble or refuse duty. The discomforts are accepted as unavoidably incidental to the war, to be borne with equanimity. A considerable proportion of the young men are well educated, and many of them have been to Europe to study or for pleasure. There was a large corps of express riders under Capt. Ficbardt and Capt. Jooste doing splendid work on horse and bicycle around Jacobsdal.

On the morning of the 6th President Steyn returned suddenly to the village from his tour of the camps. Abruptly entering the door of his primitive hotel, he found that the well-filled table left no room for visitors, so he sat outside on a dilapidated bench till the men had finished their breakfast. The president is distinctly democratic. For a conveyance he had an old blue farmer's cart, without a hood or shelter of any kind from the scorching sun. That morning, as he and Mr. Fischer sat on the bench, they received people, read and dispatched their telegrams and attended to all their varied business. When this was done the president visited the hospitals, and, after passing a few cheerful words with the dozen wounded who remained there, he left for Bloemfontein.

During the whole of that day mounted men and wagons kept streaming into Jacobsdal from the front. The general at last seemed to have recognized the necessity of protecting the place, and at the same time using it as a base for attempts on the English rear and on the railway. During these days the English showed no signs of advancing, but kept working at the repair of the railway bridge while they waited for reenforcements.

It was practically impossible to arrive at any reliable estimate of the strength of the Boer army. By the 6th it was perhaps 7,000 men, and constantly increasing in small numbers. It seemed to me impossible for this small number of men to oppose the magnificently equipped army that might attack them at any moment. The English, moreover, retained control of the railway behind them, and thus had constant supplies of all sorts. The Boers, on the other hand, were 100 miles from their base railway, and had to depend on the ox wagon. Nevertheless they seemed to have complete confidence in their ultimate success.

On the 5th about 1,500 men, lustily singing "Praise God, from Whom all blessings flow," started out to take up a position for an attack on the English rear and railway. With them went three cannon and the Scandinavian corps. The Scandinavians were to use the dynamite when necessary. Their corps consisted then of 109 men, speaking nine different languages among them. I heard Danish, Swedish, Norwegian, Russian, Finnish and Polish. They have, together with the Irish brigade at Ladysmith, a great reputation for reckless bravery. A Jew with whom I talked told me he had made his money in the Transvaal, and would fight for it, to show the world that all Jews were not mere cowardly money makers.

ROYALTY AND YACHTING.

Emperor William has designed another palatial yacht for himself. The plans are completed and work upon the construction will be commenced at once.

It is not a little remarkable that, though Queen Victoria has presented one or more cups for racing every year of her reign except the season following the death of the prince consort, she is not the patroness of any yachting organization.

Germany's empress is the only empress or queen who has ever hoisted a racing flag afloat. Her stately schooner Iduna takes part each year in one or two events in the Kiel regatta, upon one occasion securing first honors among 20 large crafts—a record number for German waters.

Empress Eugenie is the only royal woman owning a steam yacht. Her fine ship, the Thistle, is one of the best known pleasure craft on the Mediterranean, the previous owner of the boat, the duke of Hamilton, spending much of his time voyaging about in the Thistle, and consequently having it fitted up in luxurious style.

Archduchess Stephanie of Austria, now Countess Lonyay, and Empress Frederick of Germany are the only royal patronesses of yacht clubs. The former is the head of the Egylt Balaton Fured, while the dowager empress is the august chief of the Nordeutscher Regatta verein, founded in 1868 and having its headquarters at Hamburg. Archduchess Stephanie's club was established at Buda-Pesth in 1884 and flies a handsome flag of royal blue with an imperial crown in the center.

Currency.

She—We discussed the greenback at our study club to-day.

He—Well, what did you decide?

"That government should either issue currency in all the going tints or else not at all!"—Detroit Journal.

THE BLACK WATCH.

Some Services of the Famous Regiment Now in South Africa.

In the battle at Modder river, one of the regiments which suffered severely was the famous "Black Watch." That is not its official name. It figures in the army list as the Royal Highlanders, and it has a record of a century and three-quarters of gallant service. The original Black Watch comprised six companies of picked Highlanders who were enlisted to check the depredations of disaffected Highland clans. They wore the clan tartan of their leaders, consisting mostly of blue and black and green, which gave them the somber aspect from which their popular name originated. Their dark dress was more striking by contrast with the red uniforms of the regular troops.

The regiment first saw foreign service in Flanders, much against its will, for its members had enlisted with the understanding that they would not be sent out of the country. This was in 1743. Thirteen years later it was sent to America, where it took part in the engagements with the French, joined the expedition against Louisburg and fought with great bravery in the battle of Ticonderoga. Later, when war was declared against Spain, a part of the regiment joined in the operations against Havana.

During the present century the regiment has played its part in most of the wars in which England has been engaged—against the French in 1815, in the Crimea, in the Indian mutiny and in Egypt. It carries on its standard such inscriptions as "Egypt," "Pyrenees," "Waterloo," "Alma," "Sevastopol," "Lucknow" and "Telel-Kebir," in commemoration of battles in which it has fought.

When the Black Watch became a regiment of the line, its uniform was a scarlet jacket and waistcoat, a tartan plaid of 12 yards plaited around the middle of the body, tartan hose and a blue bonnet; but in the African service it wears the khaki. It is still made up of men selected for physical strength and courage, who are as proud of the historic marches and battles of their regiment as if they had had a personal share in all its achievements.—Youth's Companion.

The Wonderful Clam.

The clam's body is completely shrouded in the mantle except for two openings, through one of which the foot can be pushed out, while the other is for the siphon—what is commonly known as the "neck" of the clam. In some respects the clam may be better off than other folks; for he has a little brain in his foot. He also has a gland which secretes strong fibers, from which he spins a "byssus," and by it can attach himself to any object he likes. He does not have to search for food, but waits for it to come to him, and it always does. He makes for himself a burrow in the mud or sand and attaches himself to the bottom by this byssus. Then he thrusts his siphon up through the mud and water, and thus maintains communication with his world. The siphon has two tubes, the water flowing through one and out through the other. The clam lives on the minute organisms, animal and vegetable, found in the water—and gets a living that is so satisfactory to him that he has come to be adopted as a type of contentment and happiness.—Rockland Opinion.

LITERARY SMALL TALK.

David Harum has reached its four hundred and thirty-fifth thousand.

The manuscript of Lorna Doone was submitted to eighteen publishing firms before it was finally accepted.

William Dean Howells' first literary workshop, when but a boy, was a small space under the staircase in his father's house. He used it for five or six years.

A lady living in Wilkesbarre, Pa., went to a bookstore in that city and inquired for one of Walter Scott's novels. "Walter Scott?" inquired the young woman clerk dubiously. "Has he published any new books lately?"

It is now announced that Mark Twain will ere long again take up his abode in Hartford, Conn. One of the papers there says, in speaking of Mr. Clemens' return, that "when a man owns a good house in a good town it is a good plan to live in them both."

Mr. Frank Stockton, the novelist, has been living at Morristown, N. J., for a number of years, but has recently purchased a farm near Charlestown, W. Va., where he finds a better climate and greater privacy.

Gen. Lew Wallace's first dedication of Ben Hur was worded: "To the Wife of My Youth." Immediately many letters of condolence (over her supposed death) began to pour in. Then the wording of the dedication was thus changed: "To the Wife of My Youth Who Still Abides with Me."

You May Need

Pain-Killer

For Cuts
Burns
Bruises

Cramps
Diarrhœa
All Bowel Complaints

It is a sure, safe and quick remedy.

There's ONLY ONE

Pain-Killer

Perry Davis'.

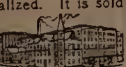
Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.



Home of Swamp-Root.

How It Happened.

"How did you come to sever your engagement with Miss Dashleigh, the heiress?" the poet's friend asked.

"I will tell you," the bard sadly replied. "I wrote a sonnet to her and had it published. In one of the lines I made use of the words 'her plaint.' The printer made it 'her paint.' So you see how little things continue to upset our fondest calculations."—Chicago Times-Herald.

An Annual Disturbance.

Politician—How are things up in your country?

Farmer—Waal, I tell you, the country's likely to be consid'able disturbed most any time now.

Politician—So? Expansion or silver, I suppose.

Farmer—No. Spring plowin'.—Philadelphia Press.

Their Great Feasts.

"Now, boys," said the Sunday School teacher, "can any of you name the three great feasts of the Jews?"

"Yes'm, I can," replied one little fellow.

"Very well, Johnny, what are they?"

"Breakfast, dinner and supper," was the unconsciously logical reply.—Buffalo News.

Imitation.

"I hyub de white young lady say dat she was gwineter cut de yutbuh young lady dat made huh so mad," said Miss Miami Brown.

"It's scan'lous de way dese white folks is actin'," answered Mr. Erastus Pinkley. "Fust dey sings coon songs, den dey does cake walks, an' now dey's gwine in foh carryin' razors."—Washington Star.

Not In Any Danger.

"I don't like to think of building a new house," remarked Mr. Chugwater. "I've noticed that when a man of my age branches out, puts up a new dwelling, and moves into it, he always dies."

"Yes, but you won't," urged Mrs. Chugwater. "You're too contrary to do anything that other men do."—Chicago Tribune.

Looked Like a Failure.

Mrs. Newlywed—I was going to have some sponge cake as a surprise for you, dear, but I confess it is a failure.

Mr. Newlywed—What was the matter?

Mrs. Newlywed—I don't know for sure, but I think the chemist sent me the wrong kind of sponges.—Tit-Bits.

Making Him Glad.

"George," she said, with considerable severity, "this is the last time I shall ask you for money to get my coat made over."

"Good," he exclaimed. "There's another matter out of the way that has been worrying me for a long time."—Chicago Times-Herald.

No Men There.

Mr. Krabby — Thank goodness! there's "no marrying or giving in marriage in Heaven."

Mrs. Krabby (sweetly)—Naturally, my dear. A marriage is impossible without a bridegroom.—Philadelphia Press.

A Life and Death Fight.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost me $5.00 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at A. C. Mason's drug store.

Jell-O, the New Dessert, pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

Balsams from the Northern Wood are in Pyny-Pectoral, the certain cure for coughs.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

YOUNG MULTI-MILLIONAIRES.

William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., will never have to worry over bills, for he is the prospective heir to his father's $100,000,000. He is a born business man, rather than a student. He left college before graduation and married Virginia Fair.

Young Alfred Vanderbilt, who inherited the bulk of his father's fortune over his brother Cornelius because the latter's marriage did not suit his father, is 23. He has graduated from college and has seen a great deal of society life.

During the next century the Gould fortune will be pretty well cut up, for there are many heirs, the richest of whom will be Kingdon Gould, George Gould's eldest. At present George Gould's rating is $70,000,000. Kingdon, though a mere child, speaks German and French and knows considerable about yachting.

The son of William Waldorf Astor, who lives in England, is 19 and will get the bulk of his father's fortune. At the present time it is estimated that fortune is $200,000,000. John Jacob Astor, of New York, while not so rich as his brother, has over $75,000,000, most of which will go to his nine-year-old son, a bright youngster.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is heir to more millions than any other young man in the country to-day. He is not yet 25, and his whole life has been a preparation for the enormous task of caring for the estate. Young Rockefeller follows his father in having no taste for club or social life, but devotes his time to business.

Another prospective millionaire is J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr. Like his father he objects to any notoriety, and his name seldom appears in the papers. While he is still less than 30 years of age, he is the manager of his father's London office, and will eventually come into a fortune that will scarcely be less than $150,000,000. A few years ago he was married to Miss Jane N. Grew, of Boston, and the position that he holds in London society is one of the best.

One of the young men who will be among the richest of the rich of the first decade of the twentieth century is Harry Payne Whitney. He is at present the heir of three great fortunes. His father, William C. Whitney, is worth probably not less than $75,000,000; his uncle, Col. Oliver Payne, has nearly as much, and it will go to him. His wife, who was Gertrude Vanderbilt, will receive something like $15,000,000 from her father; so, taking it all in all, Harry Payne Whitney is liable to be one of the richest men in the United States a quarter of a century hence.—N. Y. Telegraph.

Startling Ingratitude.

Mr. Newkid—Uncle Thomas has lost his entire fortune in Wall street!

Mrs. Newkid—Oh! the ungrateful wretch! Right after we had named the baby for him!—Puck.

Speed.

"What? With all your debts you bought an automobile?"

"That's precisely why I bought it. I had to have some way of escaping my creditors."—N. Y. World.

Mysteries of Nature.

She—As a rule, big, strong men are good-natured and jolly.

He—Yes; and as a rule, weak little women are pert and saucy.—Chicago Daily News.

The Usual Way.

Askit—Who is the fellow who is so energetic in discoursing on Jigsby's faults?

Telbit—That's his bosom friend, of course.—Baltimore American.

All the Difference.

Hewitt—Don't you believe that a man should practice what he preaches?

Jewett—It depends upon what he preaches.—Town Topics.

Bismarck's Iron Nerve

Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where stomach, liver and kidneys and bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25c. at A. C. Mason & Co.'s

Broken Bric-A-Bracs.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man, of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's cement. The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are to expensive and do not allow large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $3.75 a pound, and another cost $2 65 a gallon while a large share of the so called cements and liquid glue, upon the market are nothing more than 16 cent glue, disolved in water or citric acid, and in some cases, altered slightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials. Major's cement retails at fifteen and twenty-five cents a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make a larger profit. The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising which now amounts to $5000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1878. Insist on having Major's. Don't accept any off hand advice from a druggist. If you are at all handy (and you will be likely to find that you are more so than you imagine) you can repair your rubber boots and family shoes, and other rubber and leather articles, with Major's rubber cement and Major's leather cement. And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will save. If your druggist can't supply you, it will be fowarded by mail; either kind. Free of postage

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.
BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.
WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.
NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.
CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 8 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.
PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.
HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.
WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.
NEW YORK, all rail 9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.
New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m. S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.
ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:

For a distance of 5 miles or less, -	10c
5 to 15 miles, - -	15c
15 to 25 " - -	20c
25 to 35 " - -	25c
35 to 45 " - -	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.

33-tf

G.A. Martin, M.D.,

...AND...

C.B.Hussey, M. D.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J.Gallison, M.D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours. From 2 to 3 p. m., and by appointment.

92-118

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.

18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,

....BOSTON.

Telephone 1889.

A FINE LINE OF

Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

On the Stool of Repentance is where you will find yourself during summer's sultry days unless you clear your complexion and cool your blood by purifying it with

Dana's Sarsaparilla

50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Bright eyes and a clean, clear skin, as well as an eleastic step and good spirits, comes from ridding the blood of impurities with this reliable blood purifier.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

William Nowell and family are now living in Boston.——Miss Annie W Harris has returned from New London.——Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Amelia Bugbee Cook to Joseph Matthews Philbrick of New York, in the Congregational church, Tuesday, Sept 11, at 3 o'clock, by Rev W. B. Allis of New York and Rev. W J. Minchin. A reception will be held immediately after the ceremony at the residence of Daniel A. Cook, the bride's brother.——George T Hittenger has moved to the old Messinger house at Wampum.——Miss Carrie Grace Hill has accepted a position at Andover. Her place will be filled by Miss Eleanor Hittenger.——Miss Carrie Tozier of Somerville has been appointed assistant at the High school in place of Miss Francis Shepard.——The Sunday school of the Congregational society held its annual picnic Tuesday, going on a trolley ride to Hoag lake. About one hundred persons went in a special car.——Mr and Mrs D G Joy and family, Mr and Mrs Slocum and Mr and Mrs Law and family of Dorchester are at Fred H Bean's.——Mrs. Skinner and Mrs Batey have returned to New York.——Mr and Mrs. E A White and children of New York are visiting B I Hardman.——Thieves entered the residence of Hiram Ware Wednesday night by removing the sash of a window in his bedroom and took $10 in money, a silver watch and several articles of jewelry. Mr Ware has been robbed three times before.——L. V Symonds, principal of the High school, has returned to town.——Red Farm will close Saturday night.——Tomorrow evening Mr and Mrs Chamberlin, with their two children, Raymond and Dolly, and Mr and Mrs. Walter S Dodd and son David start for a carriage drive to Vermont, where they will remain for two weeks.

The Very Worst.

"James," she said, sleepily, "don't you hear queer noises? I believe there are burglars in the house."

"No such good luck!" cried James, after a minute's pause. "That baby is awake again."—Philadelphia North American.

Constipation

Headache, biliousness, heartburn, indigestion and all liver ills are cured by

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists 25 cents.

Along the Road.

To make life easy to the end
A man should have, I say,
Some cash to spend and some to lend,
And some to tuck away.
—Chicago Record.

The Rural Humorist.

Farmer Dunk (to his nag)—Whoa, there, Filipino! Whoa, confound you!

Farmer Hayroob—That's a funny name fer a hoss. Why in tunkett do ye call him Filipino?

Farmer Dunk—B'cuz he's always runn'n' away.—Judge.

Wasted Mud.

"Did you ever try mud baths for your rheumatism?"

"No. I once ran for a political office, but that was before rheumatism had asserted itself."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Not for Cape Nome

Higgins—Why don't you go to Cape Nome and get rich this summer?

Wiggins—I don't have to; I've got all the rooms in my summer hotel taken till October.—Detroit Free Press.

A Poor Reason.

"Why do you allude to your cousin as Miss Trout, when that isn't her name?" asked Larker.

"She is a freckled beauty," replied Spatts.—Town Topics.

When we have good blood we are healthy, strong, vigorous and full of life and energy. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes good blood.

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but skin eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them, also old, running and fever sores, ulcers, boils, felons, corns, warts, cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, chapped hands, chilblains. Best pile cure on earth, drives out pains and aches. Only 25c box; cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher

The Kind You Have Always Bought

A Pocket Romance.

"How did Jones happen to marry Miss Brown? He used to be in love with that pretty Miss Smith."

"Miss Brown lived in the next block, and it cost Jones two street-car fares to get out to Miss Smith's."—Chicago Record.

Some are Left; They are Waiting.

THOSE

HAMMOCKS

put on sale at reduced prices are lightly swaying as an occasional breeze wafts inward through our ever-open doors. All that remain will be sold at 25 per cent. discount straight. Regular Hammock season and we will close it with our usual liberality.

You pay $1.50 for a nice $2 Hammock or pay $2.25 for a better $3 Hammock.

All LAWN FURNITURE is being rapidly closed out at the same reduction.

REFRIGERATORS for $12, been selling at $16.

Cheaper boxes at the same cut rate, 25 per cent. off.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free delivery at your home the hour you name

Summer Days are Here...

Perhaps u-nee-da LINEN, DUCK or WHITE P. K. SKIRT?

LINEN SKIRTS, 49c. each.
LINEN SKIRTS, worth $1.25, now 98c.
LINEN SKIRTS, worth $1.75, now $1.25.
BLUE and WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, were $2.25, now $1.49.
WHITE DUCK SKIRTS, were $1.25, now 87c.
WHITE DUCK SKIRTS, with insertion, were $2.25, now $1.69.
WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, with insertion, were $3.25, now $2.50.
WHITE P. K. SKIRTS, with insertion, were $3.75, now $2.98.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.

BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

There Are Exceptions.

"It's the little things that count in this world, I tell you."

"Oh, I don't know. Our bookkeeper weighs 225."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Condoned the Offense.

"I am a self-made man!" he boasted.

"Oh, well," said a hearer, "we'll forgive you. Only don't do it again!"—N Y World.

Hoag Lake PARK.

WEEK OF AUG. 27.

Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.30.

Boom's New York Comedians

HENNINGS TRIO, Song and Dance Sketch.
LOUISA VON WOELLNER, Vocalist and Tyrolean Warbler.
FRANK BURT, Rube Equilibrist.
THE TANIANS, Novelty Musical Act.
KESSNER and REID, Acrobatic Song and Dance Team.
PAUL KERLICK, Accompanist.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je29 tocl

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

JUST RECEIVED, A NEW LINE OF

Blanks, Pads, Tablets, Pencils, School Bags, Etc.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

Woonsocket Opera House,

WOONSOCKET, R. I.

JOSH E. OGDEN, - Lessee and Manager.

ONE WEEK, commencing

MONDAY, SEPT. 3d,

Bennett-Moulton Co.

AND THEIR OWN ORCHESTRA

REPERTOIRE.

EVENINGS—Monday, "Shadows of a Great City," Tuesday, "Darkest Russia;" Wednesday, "Wicked London," Thursday, "The Pride of Kerry," Friday, "The Lost Paradise," Saturday "The Wide-Wide World."

MATINEES Thursday, "A Daughter of the South," Friday (to be announced), Saturday, "Wicked London."

Prices—10, 20, 30c. Matinees, 10, 20c. Secure seats for the week.

TUESDAY, SEPT 11, the great play "THE CHRISTIAN."

At

WOODWARD'S

every description of

INSURANCE

can be placed. This

AGENCY

officially represents the

LEADING

American and Foreign

COMPANIES.

P. A. WOODWARD, Dana Block, Franklin, Mass
my4-lyF

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW

Enclosed • Arc • Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.

UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Richard H. Dimond, late of Wrentham, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said court for probate by John H Dimond of Wrentham, who prays that letters of administration with the will annexed may be issued to him, or some other suitable person, the executor named in said will having declined to serve,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the nineteenth day of September, A D 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this twenty [illegible] day of August, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

[illegible]

Witch Hazel Jelly...

An improved form of Witch Hazel, far more effective and convenient than the ordinary Witch Hazel. It is a quick and efficient remedy in all cases of burns, bruises and all irritations of the skin, such as hives, nettle rash, mosquito bites, etc.

15 CTS. BOTTLE.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

THE PRICE IS LOW . .
MERELY A WHISPER .
LISTEN! . . . .

50c.

ANY WHITE

SHIRT WAIST

IN OUR STOCK.

Butterick Patterns and Publications.

N. C. NYE.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

md7-S

Chilson's Market

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef,	10 to 12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe1-lyS

Coal! Coal!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tfS

You May Not Live Another Month

The man who begrudges the money it costs to insure his life to a reasonable amount is not only selfish, but he fails to recognize one of the first duties he owes his family.

ARE YOU THE MAN?

W. S. JOHNSON, Special Agent

The Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York.

jy2 tmF

Something New...

Have you stopped to think of the pleasure something new always brings with it? A dress, a ring, a piece of furniture—no matter what it may be, inspiration and bright spirits follow along in its wake. Especially if it's Furniture. Every time you sit in the soft chair or stretch out on the soft couch it makes you happy. This is a happiness which every one can afford while we have the stock we have and charge the prices we do.

Our Terms:

$10 worth, $1 down, 50c. a week.
$25 worth, $2.50 down, 75c. a week.
$50 worth, $5 down, $1 a week.
$75 worth, $7.50 down, $1.25 a week.
$100 worth, $10 down, $1.50 a week.
$125 worth, $15 down, $2 a week.
$150 worth, $25 down, $2.25 a week.
$200 worth, $40 down, $2.50 a week.
$250 worth, $50 down, $3 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Extra Attractions

Labor Day.

BICYCLE RACES,
FOOT RACES,
ROWING RACES.
PUNCH AND JUDY,
DANCING,
GOOD MUSIC.

Rhode Island Clambake

WILL BE SERVED

REFRESHMENTS IN WELL-STOCKED CAFE

THE BATTERY BAND

of Providence has been engaged for the day.

Franklin Band Orchestra

Will furnish music for dancing.

Free Dancing During Day.

Admission - - 15c

Children 10c.

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Oliver Everett, late of Wrentham, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by Elbridge J. Whitaker of Wrentham, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said county of Norfolk, on the twelfth day of September A. D. 1900, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esq., Judge of said Court, this twenty-second day of August, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

au24,31,se7 JONATHAN COBB, Register.

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Benj. C. Wood and John H. P. Kenyon to George W. Bacon, dated April 4, 1900, and recorded with Norfolk County Deeds, libro 867, folio 534, for a breach of the conditions thereof and to foreclose said mortgage deed, will be sold on the premises in Franklin, in said Norfolk county, at public auction, on

SATURDAY, SEPT. 8, 1900,

at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, to wit:

A certain tract of land, with the buildings thereon standing, containing thirty acres, more or less, situate on the easterly side of Elm street, in said Franklin, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning on said Elm street, at land formerly of George Watson (now Herbert Bartlett) thence running easterly and northerly on land now or formerly of said Watson and land now or formerly of E. N. Ballard and James F. Adams, as the wall and fence now stand, to land formerly of James B. Adams, to land now or formerly of Alfred L. Bodge, thence on said land to said Elm street; thence on said Elm street to the point of beginning, being the same premises as described in a certain deed from the said George W. Bacon to the said Wood and Kenyon, dated March 29, 1900, recorded in Norfolk County Deeds.

Said property will be sold subject to a prior mortgage of $1,000.

Terms made known at sale.

GEORGE W. BACON, Mortgagee.

au17,24,31

TAKE ADVANTAGE

Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

Hattie M Fisher

1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 71. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Lake Pearl	4
The Plant Line	4
Hoag Lake Park	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 05 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Mrs. W. H. Jackson left last week for Chicago.

Alfred Briggs has returned from his outing at Onset.

Editor Johnson is spending a few days with his family at Wellfleet.

Arthur V. Molloy of Boston is visiting Mrs. A. Burgess of Cross street.

The pupils of St. Mary's school resumed their studies this morning.

The fence surrounding the residence of A. D. Thayer was removed today.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Choquette of Worsted street on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith returned from their wedding trip in Vermont Friday.

Frank and Miss Amelia Conti of Buxton were guests at the home of R. Fiorani yesterday.

William G. Cody and family have removed from Union and School streets to Alpine place.

J. P. Bassett and wife of Union street are spending a vacation at a summer resort on the Hudson.

Mrs. Inez Arnold of Boston, for many years a resident of Franklin, is a visitor in town for a few days.

Miss M. J. Burr is visiting friends in Western, Mass., where she went to school in her young days.

The annual meeting of the Cemetery association will be held this evening in the water company's office.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blake of Providence spent Labor day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oramel Blake.

Miss Mabel Bailey of Woonsocket, who has been the guest of Miss Ida Briggs the past week, has returned home.

The prayer meeting of the First Congregational church will be held on Friday evening instead of Thursday this week.

Flowers for the Alden club can be left with Mrs. T. L. Martin, Miss Craig, Mrs. Solon Abbott and Mrs. Estelle Stewart.

Everett C. Crossman of Union street moves to Worcester this week, where he has secured a permanent position at carpenter work.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Snodgrass spent Sunday and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ledbury of Roslindale and friends in Boston.

The First church held a lawn party last evening on the parsonage lawn. A number of persons were present from Wrentham.

The first regular meeting of the season of Excelsior Lodge, A. F. and A. M., will be held September 3 in their renovated headquarters.

The taxes for 1900 begin to come to the collector and two or three small taxpayers have already responded to the collector's notice.

The Globe Congregational church in Woonsocket will be dedicated on Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock. A number of persons are going from Franklin.

There will be a concert by the Franklin band at Lake Pearl Thursday evening. Dancing will be free. An admission of 10 cents will be charged at the gate.

The name of Miss Mary Bright was inadvertently omitted last Friday from the list of Franklin pupils in attendance at Hyannis Normal school the past summer.

September is the month for the annual school census to be taken. Following so soon after the national enumeration may give some people the impression that they are counted often.

All of the household furniture in the Briggs boarding house on Central street, recently purchased by J. A. Geb, will be sold at auction by D. W. Corson & Co. next Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The road men have been engaged in cutting brush at the sides of the highways this week, and some of them are paying a good deal of attention to the poison ivy which they have encountered.

Dr. J. Cushing Gallison has not been as well as usual for the past few days. With his brother, Dr. Ambrose Gallison, who arrived from Europe Saturday, he goes to Maine for a very short time to settle their father's estate.

Cornelius J. O'Donoghue, a former well-known resident here, and at present a superintendent of the Metropolitan insurance company at Orange, N. J., returned to Orange yesterday after a brief visit with relatives here.

Some of the engineers want to build a hose house for the hose carriages at the railroad crossing. There is no appropriation for such a purpose, and the appropriation for the support of the department is nearly exhausted.

Miss M. E. Wells and Master Elliot Crossman of Milton, Mr. J. P. Cobb of California, Mrs. C. A. Sanborn and son of Somerville, Mr. Lawrence Fuller and sister of Dorchester have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sanger the past week.

The dry weather of the past summer has had a practical effect on the highways, somewhat like that of the heavy showers a year or two previous. Then the soft places were washed out and holes left, and now the dirt is ground out and blown away in dust.

John A. Geb has purchased from Mrs. H. A. Talbot the property formerly known as the Briggs boarding house on Central street. Mr. Geb is to improve the property, which is a double dwelling, and will occupy a part of it when the alterations are completed.

They are all boys this year, and this peculiarity of the new arrivals leads Aunt Abigail to remark, "It's a sign of war." But Uncle Silas remembers that all signs fail in a dry time, and as for war, it don't need any signs, for the nations are already well into the turmoil of a free fight.

The funeral services of the infant son of Mrs. William White, who died of cholera infantum Wednesday evening, was held Tuesday at the residence of Mrs. Hector McCullough of Chestnut street at 11 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. Guy V. Miner. Burial was in Union street cemetery.

Albert and John Malloy, who are pupils at St. John's training school at Newton Highlands, were visitors with their parents here yesterday. Both are members of the Boys' Working Home brass band of forty pieces, which took part in the Labor day parade in the morning. The boys returned this noon.

The Hayward nine were defeated, 4 to 3, by Our Boys in a close and interesting game at Indian Rock park Saturday afternoon. The contest was hard fought from start to finish, Our Boys being in the lead from the start. The batteries were Feeley and Boucher for Our Boys and Farley and Chilson for the Haywards.

The law relative to naturalization which was passed by the legislature at its recent session, provided that the courts shall do the entire work without any appeal to the town clerk. This means that applicants for papers will not hereafter have to secure a certification from the town clerk. This formerly cost the applicant 50 cents.

There is a great bill at Hoag lake this week and large audiences are present. The attraction is the Rialto company consisting of Gates & Leroy, in a travesty sketch; DeCamo, eccentric juggler; Cora, the canine wonder; Alexander and Morton, in a comedy musical act; Madeline Burdette, a sweet-voiced soprano singer, and Rae and Benedetto in a contortion act on an extension ladder.

Since the law relating to the fitting of freight cars with automatic couplers went into effect, August 1, there have been no cars detained at the local station. All the companies have forbidden the loading of cars which are not equipped according to law, and the result is that few cars are being held on the road. The car shops are crowded with cars, which are being fitted with the automatic couplers as rapidly as possible.

Even the most careless observer is forced to admit the vast difference in number of bicyclists seen now and a couple of years ago. Take it on Sunday two years ago it was no uncommon thing to count a couple of hundred of wheels coming into town from all directions. This year there is not a quarter part of that number. Apparently the popularity of the wheel as a pleasure vehicle has reached its height and the tide is turning the other way.

A new instructor comes to Dean gymnasium department, highly recommended, experienced and capable of maintaining the standard of the institution in that respect. His name is Nathan Pulsifer, of Auburn, Me. He is a graduate of Bates '99 and comes here from Hebron academy. He was also for a time connected with Dummer academy in Byfield. He is an athlete and has captained his nine and eleven both in the baseball and football organizations.

School began today and the mother, the cousins and the aunts have been busy getting the costumes into shape for the campaign. One little miss was bewailing her fate, and thought she could do better with home study, and when pressed for a reason, confessed that she did not expect the teacher would allow her to "cut up" without punishment to follow, a more logical conclusion than many older people comfort themselves with when they cut up.

Did you ever notice while riding in the electric cars of the street railway how polite and obliging the men are in giving their seats to the ladies? They are much more ready here to give up their seats than in the nearby cities where, when a lady enters a car where the seats are all full, the men gaze at one another as if saying "why don't you get up?" Finally one of them gets ashamed of himself and offers the lady his seat, which is of course accepted. We are glad to note the difference here.

It is understood that the Milford, Attleboro and Woonsocket street railway company has notified the selectmen of Milford, through counsel, that it will insist on its rights through Main, Pearl, Purchase, Dilla and Cedar streets to the Hopkinton town line, and that it will take the case into the courts for settlement if necessary. The company claims that the fact of its having distributed rails along the route and filed plans of construction with the selectmen constitutes the commencement of actual construction work.

It is agreed that newspaper subscriptions are an infallible test of a man's honesty. They will sooner or later discover the man. If he is dishonest, he will cheat the printer some way—declare he has paid when he has not—sent money in the mails which was lost—will take the paper and not pay for it on the ground that he never subscribed for it—or move off and leave it coming to the office he left. Thousands of alleged Christians are dishonest in this particular, at least, and the printer's book will tell fearful tales at the final judgment.

Frank Dennett Blake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oramel Blake, and for several years a valued employe in the SENTINEL office, was united in marriage to Miss Florence Ellen Hunt at Brunswick, Me., the home of the bride, last Sunday. Mr. Blake is engaged with the Dennison company at South Framingham, where he has been located for the past three years. He and his bride have the best wishes of a large circle of friends here and in South Framingham for unbounded happiness and prosperity at the beginning of their journey through life together. They will reside at No. 6 Alexander street, South Framingham.

The regular meeting of the selectmen was held Friday with Messrs. Gallison and Clark present. In addition to the approval of bills, Everett S. Messenger and Julius Morrill were made special policemen. F. P. Wyman appeared before the board in relation to the work of the street railway company in front of his residence on Central street, but as Mr. McCarthy was not present the matter was carried over. C. Walter Pond of the Wrentham board of selectmen made an informal call upon the Franklin board and was an interested spectator of the work. Two applications for state aid were acted upon and at 9 p. m. the board adjourned for two weeks.

Mr. Lowell Gilmore died in Binghamton, N. Y., Saturday morning, August 31, of heart trouble. Mr. Gilmore was born in Franklin, June, 1821, on the Mount; was a schoolmate of Mr. Partridge. There are five left now living in Franklin who went to school together, all more than 78 years old. Mr. Partridge had just returned from a visit to Mr. Gilmore, and although his health was poor, he was able to be out and enjoy trolley riding every day with Mr. Partridge. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Emma Curran and Mrs. Grace Henwood. Since the death of his wife he has lived with Mrs. Henwood. He had a picture gallery in Binghamton for thirty years.

These are fish days. Shad, swordfish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fishman.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse.

Northfield and Onset.

The Congregational church experienced a very auspicious day last Sabbath. A large audience greeted Dr. Sneath in the morning. The church had been most tastily decorated with flowers under the direction of Miss Sarah J. Daniels. The pastor preached from the theme, "God's Providence Is Mine Inheritance," being a motto taken from Hall Caine's "The Deemster." He emphasized the truth that God lives for us, that this is the Divine Providence and that this Providence is our inheritance here and now. The Sabbath school and Y. P. S. C. E. were well attended.

In the evening a large audience came to hear the pastor's contrast of spiritual conditions between Northfield and Onset. He said: Nature has done much for both these places. Northfield is most beautifully located among the hills, and the Connecticut river winds its way through them. Onset is also a charming place, with its hills, bay and islands. Socially, very delightful people are to be met at each place. There are also ample opportunities for recreation. It seemed singular that two such resorts, to which thousands go every year, should not as yet have the advantage of the electric cars. The marked contrast between these two places is evident along spiritual lines. Both use the term spiritual, but in vastly different senses. Onset is one of the great vacation centres for Spiritualists. In contrasting these two places one notes first of all that Northfield is a place of Bibles, while Onset is not. One stray evangelist found his way to Onset and carried his Bible with him. It was the only Bible we saw in public. Nor was the Bible read in public anywhere that we could learn. In Northfield Bibles are visible everywhere—in meetings, on the streets, in the hotel, at the tables—not for ostentation, but for study. A great portion of the conferences are given to Bible study. The Bible is the greatest book in the world. That is a comparatively safe place where the Bible is read. Again, Northfield is ever recognizing the Christ; Onset does not. There are Christian people in Onset who do, but the Spiritualists as a body do not. All prayers are offered to the Great Spirit and other spirits, and always in the name of truth, humanity or love; never in the name of Christ. In Northfield Christ is honored in every service; in the songs, prayers, at morning prayers in the hotels, tents and cottages, at meals—everywhere. It is a Christian conference and Christ is remembered. A conference for spiritual ends without the recognition of Christ cannot make very great progress. Further, Northfield is ever seeking the guidance of the Holy Spirit; Onset, the direction of other spirits. All the meetings at Onset are held ostensibly to receive messages of some kind from departed friends or spirits. These messages in the main pertain to the individual's material welfare. No special efforts are put forth in the interest of man's spiritual welfare here and hereafter. At Northfield the aim sought in all that is said and done is the deepening of the spiritual life. The air is full of consecration to qualify the worker for more efficient service. There is nothing fanatical, but the simple urging of the will to definite decisions for truer living and more faithful service in the church's work. Finally, Northfield seeks primarily the spiritual good of men. Onset would seem to seek primarily their material good. There are mediums, psychics, test readers, magnetic healers, clairvoyants, etc., in great numbers. The objects of all these are healing of body and relieving the mind. There are expressed messages from chieftain spirits and departed friends. There are some excellent moral teachings and psycological suggestions, but no Gospel. There are no preaching services, Sabbath schools or prayer meetings. Sunday is given up to band concerts and "circles." At one meeting a leader suggested singing "Nearer, my God, to Thee," and said, "It may sound churchy, but it will bring us nearer to the spiritual world." Whatever is done at Northfield is in the line of the spiritual. There are daily prayer services, Bible readings, sermons, talks to children, conferences on Christian work, and every part of the day may be given to obtaining an actual experience of "Nearer, my God, to Thee; nearer to Thee." Onset is doing something along educational and philanthropic lines, but there is nothing to compare with the Northfield and Mt. Hermon schools for boys and girls. Mr. Moody's work will endure because he planted it well in Christ and a Christian education. His one foot was on the rock Christ and his other on the Bible. There can be but one conviction. There may be different philosophies, but there can be but "one faith." He who discards Christ and the Bible builds on sandy foundations; while he who follows them builds upon the rock which abides forever.

Office Closed.

My patrons are requested to note that my dental office will be closed until further notice during my vacation.

DR. M. E. POND.

All lovers of music are invited to see the display of pianos and organs at Sanford Bros., Medway. Up to date and prices right.

Labor Day in Franklin.

There was no celebration of Labor day in Franklin yesterday and a goodly proportion of the residents took the cars on both of the electrics for an outing. The majority of the business places were open until noon, but after that time until evening the town was as quiet as it is ordinarily on a Sabbath afternoon. Large crowds made their way to Hoag Lake and Lake Pearl and the trolley cars were packed during the day and evening. The fine attractions at both the resorts proved popular with the great crowds and both managements are entitled to commendation for the good entertainments provided.

There was one sporting event at Indian Rock park in the morning. This was a lively and exciting game of ball between Our Boys and the Victors, which resulted in favor of Our Boys, 12 to 11, after a contest that was in doubt as to the outcome until the last man was out in the ninth. The batteries were Feeley and Boucher for Our Boys and McKenna and Morrell for the Victors. This was the eleventh straight victory for Our Boys.

Reunion of the Adams Family.

Just two hundred years ago John Adams, the first ancestor of the family of James F. Adams of this place, settled in this country. He came over from Crittenden, in Devonshire, England, at the age of fifteen, and settled in South Franklin, where in time he built for himself a home. The two hundredth anniversary of this event was fittingly celebrated last Thursday, when a reunion of the descendants of the first Adams was held at the spacious homes on the farms of Mr and Mrs. James F. and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Adams, which adjoin the summit of Franklin hill. During the day about 75 guests were entertained, most of whom were relatives. At 1 o'clock in the afternoon a sumptuous collation was served in James F. Adams' home. During the afternoon a party of 30 took carriages and went to South Franklin, where they visited the home and surroundings of the original Adams. The first house built by the original Mr. Adams lasted for over one hundred years, and another one was then constructed upon the same site, and although nearly ninety years old, continued in a marked degree of preservation until last January, when it was destroyed by fire. Another one was then constructed upon the same site.

Four generations of the descendants were present, among whom were the following: Mrs. Robinson of Washington, D. C., aged ninety-one years; Mrs. Clara D. Adams of this place, aged eighty four years; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mann and family of Franklin; Melza W. Allen and family of Walpole; Willard Everett, Alden Mann and Harry Smith, with their families, of Lowell; Mrs. Nathan T. Dyer of Ashburnham, N. H ; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Allen of Andover, the former a professor at Andover academy; Fred W. Allen, formerly captain of the Yale 'varsity crew and a graduate of that university in the class of 1900; Miss Kate C. Adams of Holliston; Mrs. Hattie Moon of West Medway; Misses Edith and Anna Bigelow of Boston; Mrs. Mary Adams Kendall and daughter of Waltham; Mr. Spalding of Worcester; James T. Adams and family, Hon. Milton M. Fisher, Rev. and Mrs. Drawbridge of Medway. Miss Ellen W. Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Adams, also assisted in the entertainment of the many guests. The party broke up about 9 o'clock, and it was the unanimous expression of those present that this was one of the most successful reunions that the Adams family has ever held. Several of the guests, including Mrs. Robinson of Washington, remained here for short visits.

It is said that certain parties supposed to live less than a thousand miles from Woonsocket have been engaged in catching fish in a certain pond not a thousand miles from Faanklin, and it is further supposed that they may be caught in the pastime, contrary to law made and provided, and suffer an arrest, and perhaps fine, for their defiance of the majesty of legal enactments.

A Surprising Fact.

No president has been re-elected since Grant—that is, in 28 years.

No president has been renominated since Grant except Harrison and Cleveland, and both were defeated for a second continuous term—that is, no president since Grant has had a second continuous term.

In 1888 Cleveland seemed to be absolutely sure of re-election, but he was defeated.

In 1892 Harrison seemed to be sure of re-election, but was defeated.

Will Mr. McKinley furnish a third example and will history repeat itself?

We guess not.

Cut flowers, all kinds of funeral designs well made up at Slade's greenhouse. Roses in small or large quantities.

Two chairs at Oches's barber shop. Accomplished hair dresser, William Donovan, now in attendance. Short waits.

Read the Business Announcements.

A GOOD MAN TO TIE TO.

A good friend you need, a real friend, indeed;
Just give the editor your printing.
To this bit of advice I pray you give heed;
Just give the editor your printing.
You're pushing your business, would like a kind word;
Just give the editor your printing.
That's what he will do, has never demurred;
Just give the editor your printing.

Remember he's human, but wants to be just;
Just give the editor your printing.
You give him a slight, don't expect to be "cussed;"
Just give the editor your printing.
Your son goes out west, you'd like him "well-sped;"
Then give the editor your printing.
Your daughter gets married, a nice word is said,
'Cause you give the editor your printing.

You're running a show, want the people to go;
Just give the editor your printing.
Take the printing elsewhere, the notice "comes slow;"
So give the editor your printing.
In a word, you want on the right side to keep
Of the editor who does your printing.
Like bread on the waters, a harvest you'll reap
If you give the editor your printing.

—Paper and Type.

Long Ago.

It is not very remarkable, perhaps, but still a coincidence, that the beginning and end of what was formerly the Congregational buildings on the original lot of the parish went up in smoke, the recent burning of the church building owned by the Catholic society being the finishing stroke, and the burning of the horse sheds, which many of the older residents will remember, being the beginning of the end. There was a larger comedy element in the destruction of the horse sheds than in the destruction of the church. In the old days long strings of useful, but not ornamental, sheds for the protection of horses and carriages were on the grounds adjacent to the church edifice.

When the population began to gather more into villages and modern ideas as to the proper thing in landscapes began to enlarge, many people wanted the blots on the landscape removed, but the substantial old burghers, with whom a horse shed and noon house made a part of their material evidence of religious life, scarcely less venerated than the church itself, would not consent to the removal of the material evidences of prosperous church life. The other side, to whom the eternal sacredness of perishing material did not strongly appeal, argued the question for a time, but without avail; and then the things caught fire on a dark night.

It is the impression of the writer that they were afire two or three times before the finish, and the final struggle was aggravated by strange actions on the part of the would-be-savers. Several pails were conveniently at hand, apparently containing water, but, as a matter of fact, having a supply of burning fluid, at that time used in considerable quantities in the straw goods factories. The men working to put out the fire seeing this supply, would seize upon the pails and throw the contents upon the burning wood, and behold with astonishment the increased volume of smoke and flame that would belch forth. However, no one could explain who started the trouble, and the excitement cooled down after a time like the fire. A good many of the participants have left their earthly affairs to executors or administrators and a few are living who knew enough about it not to know nothing.—Woonsocket Reporter.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Trash wood, ready cut for stove use, at Allen's wood yard.

Good wages for a girl to do housework. Inquire at SENTINEL office. 21-tf

Wanted.—A girl for general housework. Apply to George C. Daniels, Union street. 4-tf

Mrs. G W. Miner, Crescent street, would like a competent girl for housework at once. 24-tf

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

To Let.—A tenement of five rooms on Alpine street. Inquire at the house or at Mrs. A. E. Burnham's, Peck street. 28 tf

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

Save money by getting your railroad tickets of Charles H. Prince at the SENTINEL office. Mileage books to let on ALL railroads. Trip tickets and short ends always on hand. It saves 33 cents on the round trip to Boston. Tickets to all points in New England.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.
MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk	1 Mo.	2 Mo	3 Mo	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 50	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
¼ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1900.

OUR exchanges in this congressional district are advancing some very strong arguments in favor of the candidacy of Samuel L. Powers, and indications seem to point to his success in obtaining the nomination. Ranking, as he does, among New England's most prominent and talented lawyers, his character, both public and private, above reproach, and with ability unquestioned, he would indeed make an ideal member of the national house. The bitter warfare being waged against him by certain of his opponents is unjust and indefensible, and will but tend to help Mr Powers cause with all fair minded people.—Sharon Advocate.

Passing of the Skilled Workman

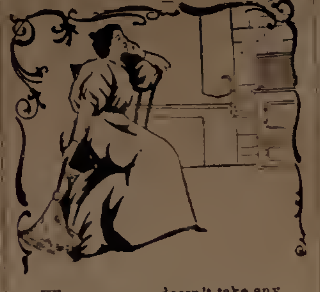
A revolution in the field of industry is going on so quietly that it is noticed by very few and yet the century will see the all-round, thorough mechanic pass out of existence in many branches. Machinery has taken his place. Skilled labor is less in demand now than it was years ago, it will be still less required as machinery is made to do the work formerly performed by man's trained fingers. A mechanic no longer needs to know every branch of his trade but he must be able to handle his machine. A mechanic at the beginning of the century was required to produce perfect work and complete the whole product of his trade, be it a shoe or a watch. At the end of the century the workman in the factory produces day in and day out, one single piece multiplied many times by the aid of the machine. As to the construction of everything else entering into the finished product he very seldom has the slightest idea. He learns to handle one machine and there he usually stops. He can minutely describe the workings of his one machine; of the others he remains profoundly ignorant. In this way he gradually degenerates to a machine, a part of the one he works with. Progress in the field of industry is for him retrogression. He has deteriorated as a mechanic and the machine has changed skilled into factory labor.

Medical Marriage Licenses

There is a vein of good sense in a certain bill now before the Colorado legislature relating to the issue of marriage licenses. The measure provides for the creation of a board of medical examiners in each county, whose duty it shall be to examine all candidates for the wedded estate and make a report on their health. The issuance of license is made conditional upon the production by the parties of proper [illegible] certificates declaring that they suffer from no disease which would be likely to be transmitted to their children. The importance of such a restriction has been brought to the attention of the people of Colorado by reason of the circumstance that many consumptives resort to that state for relief and there contract marriages which result in the propagation of the dread disease. That such marriages are improper is a fact beyond dispute. It is a [illegible] with which to deal. No law on the subject would be necessary if all men and women had a proper sense of their obligations, not only to themselves, but to those yet unborn. However, this can hardly be expected. People will continue going into marriage and [illegible] marriage, even when they know that their children if they have any will in all probability be born to a heritage of suffering. It is argued by the proponents of the Colorado bill that this is where the state should take a hand.

A Kansas paper mentions the death of G. Whizz. He was the gentleman whose name was so universally used by our Christian people as a substitute for the favorite swear words of the sinful class.

The American corn kitchen at Paris will be in charge of a colored woman trained as a cook in Maryland.



When a woman doesn't take any interest in her housework—
When the least exertion tires her—
When her back aches constantly—her head troubles her—limbs pain, and she feels generally miserable, it's a pretty sure indication that her kidneys are not doing their duty.

That backache is simply kidney ache—

The poison the kidneys should take out of the blood is left in, and is breeding all sorts of dire diseases—

But you can stop it—

Doan's Kidney Pills

Act directly on the kidneys—strengthen them, help them to do their duty.

Read what one grateful woman has to say about it.

Mrs. S. Lake, professional nurse, residing at 39 Temple street, Nashua, N. H., says:

"It afforded me great pleasure early in the spring of 1896 to testify to the wonderful value of Doan's Kidney Pills. I had suffered for four or five years with severe pain across the small of my back and had been unable to obtain any permanent relief until I took a course of the treatment. It affords me greater pleasure now, and it is nearly three years since I gave my original statement for publication, to say that my opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills has been strengthened instead of weakened by the lapse of time. Not only was the cure effected in my case permanent but I know of many others in Nashua who have reason to be thankful for the existence of this remarkable preparation."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

BOOK OF HIS DREAMS.

It Took Quaritch, the Bibliophile, Forty Years to Make Money Enough to Buy It.

Bernard Quaritch, the celebrated London bibliophile, recently deceased, was the son of a German officer, and was born at Worbis, Prussia, in 18[illegible]7.

When he settled permanently in London, 55 years ago, he accepted humble employment under the late Mr. Bohn, the famous bookseller, with the avowed determination to become in time the first bookseller in Europe. Step by step, by perseverance and unremitting toil, he built up a business which made his name and reputation world-wide. Looked at from the point of view of the ordinary bookbuyer, however, Mr. Quaritch was really not a bookseller. He did not deal in current publications, and his great reputation was due, not to the greatness of his sales, but to the limited number of them and to high prices. His exertions were devoted chiefly to supplying libraries and a few private collectors with bibliographical curiosities. He dealt in missals, early Bibles, illuminated books, manuscripts, and similar rarities, wherever they might be found or in whatever language they were printed. He was always found as a competitor whenever a Mazarin Bible or a first-folio Shakespeare or a collection of Alduses or Elzevirs was offered for sale.

Mr Quaritch would scarcely so much as look at a modern collection of first editions, and very few books of the present century had any special attraction for him. He was especially attracted toward early Americana, and in 18[illegible] he sent his son to New York with a noble collection of old books and manuscripts, to dazzle the eyes and gladden the hearts of American bibliophiles. It is related of him that, while still a struggling youth, he formed a firm determination to buy for himself, at whatever price if he should at any time have the opportunity and money, a copy of the "book of St. Albans." It was only after 40 years of patient toil that he had acquired the means, and a sale at Christie's presented him with the chance of carrying out his long-cherished resolve. Then, amidst restless silence the hammer fell to his bid of [illegible] guineas, and at last he bore off his long-desired prize.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

An American Reporter.

They have a reporter on one of the Williamsburg papers who may not be long on style, but for placid nerve [illegible] "get there" he is a wonder. A little while ago he was assigned to a political meeting and asked to give a good report of it. Now, it happened that the festivities were conducted entirely in Polish, a language of which the young man knows nothing. This fact, however, did not phase him a bit. He pushed his way through the hall, pushed up to the platform and sat down with the secretary. For several minutes he industriously took notes, and finally the secretary, turning to him, [illegible] out a volley of Polish.

"I am not in it, dear boy," retorted the young man, as he turned again to listen to the speaker.

The secretary looked surprised. Finally he went out and brought in a man who asked in English:

"Are you a Polish reporter?"

"Nope," was the reply. "I am an American one."

"Do you understand our language?"

"I never heard it before," retorted the scribbler. "But I think I have picked up enough since I have been here to give a rattling good story."

And he did.—N. Y. Press.

ODD FACTS ABOUT ECLIPSES.

From the New York Journal.

An unnatural chill comes into the air.

Chickens go to roost as the darkness approaches.

Birds flutter about in consternation and seek their nests.

Beasts of prey grow ferocious and attack human beings boldly.

People are nervous and excited, while children cling to their mothers in fright.

Dogs run to their masters and cower and whine piteously between their outbursts of yelping.

Such natural sounds as waterfalls and the whistling of the wind seem excessively loud and alarming.

Cows go home from pasture. They stop chewing their cuds and sniff the air as if fearing a great storm.

Ignorant and superstitious people have an abject fear of some great calamity, they know not what.

Horses in harness are frightened at familiar objects, and those loose in the fields run about distractedly.

Trees lose their usual look and color, and the light sifts down through them in fantastic round blotches.

Just before the eclipse becomes total the sun's feeble light seems divided into separate beams that come down quivering and slanting.

The young of all creatures run to their mothers in fear, while the males among the animals seek their mates to protect them.

The sudden changes of light and heat make peculiar electrical conditions which are probably the cause of excitability in all living things.

In the total eclipse of July 29, 1878, in the United States a negro seized with frenzy killed his wife and three children.

During the eclipse of May 15, 1877, in Europe the Turks raised a riot and fired guns and cannon at the sun to deliver it from the claws of the supposed dragon.

While the darkness lasts there is a groaning of illness among all living things except dogs and wolves. These set up a snappish yelping quite different from the ordinary bark or night howl.

At Peking, on January 28, 1888, at the beginning of an eclipse, an uproar occurred like that heard in Chinatown on New Year's day. The mandarins ordered the drums to be beaten to put to flight the celestial dragon that was swallowing the sun.

At the eclipse of August 18, 1868, which M. Janssen, the French astronomer, went to India to observe, a queer incident occurred. The natives whom he had engaged to attend to his apparatus all ran away at the moment the sun began to darken and went into the river to bathe. A heathen religious rite commands them at such times to plunge into water to exorcise the influence of the evil spirit.

SAYINGS OF SAGES.

To the pure all things are pure.—Shelley.

A good laugh is sunshine in a house.—Thackeray.

Children have more need of models than of critics.—Joubert.

He who believes in nobody knows that he himself is not to be trusted.—Auerbach.

Drive prejudices out by the door, they will reenter by the windows.—Frederick the Great.

Minorities lead and save the world, and the world knows them not till long afterward.—John Burroughs.

We sometimes think that we hate flattery, but we only hate the way in which we are flattered.—La Rochefoucauld.

Let us be of good cheer, remembering that the misfortunes hardest to bear are those which never happen.—Lowell.

We are hunted by an ideal life, and it is because we have within us the beginning and the possibility of it.—Phillips Brooks.

All who have been great and good without Christianity would have been much greater and better with it. If there be, amongst the sons of men, a single exception to this maxim, the divine Socrates may be allowed to put in the strongest claim. It was his high ambition to deserve by deeds, not by creeds, an unrevealed heaven, and by works, not by faith, to enter an unpromised land.—Colton.

To the Juvenile Mind.

"Paw," said Tommy, "I don't see why they call it a Turkish bath."

"Why not?"

"Because all the Turks I've ever seen looked as if they never took a bath at all."—Chicago Tribune.

Investigation Proved It.

"When I put my foot down, I'll have you to understand," says Mrs. Najoker, "that there's something there."

On investigation it was found to be a No. 11 shoe.—Tit-Bits.

Not Unique.

Her: Crowded, were you? I thought you went early to avoid the rush.

She: So I did; but about 5,000 other people did the same thing.—Brooklyn [illegible]

"Brevity is the Soul of Wit."

Wit is wisdom. Blood is life. Impure blood is living death. Health depends on good blood. Disease is due to bad blood. The blood can be purified. Legions say Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Greatest Blood Medicine, purifies it. A brief story but it tells the tale.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

FOR MOLTING HENS USE

Once daily in a hot mash, Sheridan's Condition Powder. It assists in growing new plumage, gets them in condition to lay early.

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

It has been used and indorsed over thirty years by all poultrymen. "How to Feed for Eggs" sent free. If you can't get it we send one pack for 25 cts.; five, $1. Large can, $1.20. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

DRY GOODS TERMS DEFINED.

Jardiniere.—In flower-garden designs.

Jupon.—A short petticoat. Applied to the new double and triple skirts. The upper skirt is the jupon.

Jaconet. — A fine muslin, heavier than cambric, free from starch or dressing, but glazed by calendering.

Bolting Cloth.—Made of linen or silk and used in mills for sifting meal and flour. A fine white linen fabric used by ladies for fancy work.

Rep.—Style of weaving in which the surface has a crosswise ribbed appearance as a distinction from "cords" which extend lengthwise in the fabric.

Serge.—Twilled worsted fabric, in weight and texture belonging to the flannel family. Woven in a fine or coarse twill with a worsted warp and a woolen weft.

Suede. — Leather tanned on the wrong or bleached side, or having the thin, glossy undergrain shaved or peeled off, leaving an undressed surface. Usually mocha or lambskin.

Brandenburgs.—A variety of ornamental buttons made in the shape of an oblong, narrow cylinder, smaller at the ends than in the middle. Usually a wooden mold covered with silk or mohair and worn with loops on the front of garments and to fasten men's overcoats. Called frogs on women's garments.—Dry Goods Reporter.

OLD-FASHIONED RECIPES.

Mush, or Hasty Pudding.—A most healthful dish is hasty pudding. It is made by mixing enough water with a pint of Indian meal to take out all the lumps. Add the mixture, a tablespoonful at a time, to a quart of water, kept at boiling point. When this has been thoroughly dissolved, add a sufficient quantity of dry meal to thicken, season with salt and serve.

Sally-Lunn.—A hot breakfast dish that is most palatable is sally-lunn. Take one and a half cupfuls of butter and the same quantity of sugar, five eggs, three cupfuls of sweet milk and a cupful of liquid yeast; add enough flour to form a stiff batter and let rise over night. Bake in small muffin rings, and when sufficiently browned butter and serve hot.

Boiled Indian Pudding.—A boiled Indian pudding is made with one cupful and a half of sour milk, two thoroughly beaten eggs and one teaspoonful of saleratus. Enough corn meal should be sifted in to form a batter, as for fried cakes, and a cupful of dried fruit, such as cherries, etc., should be added. Put the mixture into a pudding bag that has been wrung out in hot water and boil for one hour, being sure that the water is at boiling point when the pudding is put in.—N. Y. Tribune.

Plant Line Popularity.

The following is a sample of unsolicited testimonials frequently received by the Plant line: "My son and wife have just returned from a delightful trip by your line through the provinces. Will you kindly mail me two of the maps or charts showing the route to Charlottetown, etc. I would like that trip very much." It is not only popular with individuals, but with organizations and excursion parties. A Raymond and Whitcomb party of fifty returned to La Grande Duchesse this week, and the Zingari cricket club of Boston and Rhode Island cricket club of Providence left on the same ship Saturday for a tour of Nova Scotia and Newfoundland. The map so highly spoken of will be mailed on receipt of a two cent stamp by J. A. Flanders, N. E. A. 290 Washington street, Boston, or E. H. Downing, Agent, 20 Atlantic avenue, Boston.

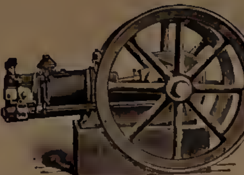
Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Thirty Years of Suffering.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Halloway of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale by A. C. Mason, druggist.

It's folly to suffer from that horrible plague of the night, itching piles. Doan's ointment cures, quickly and permanently. At any drug store, 50 cents.

One of nature's remedies; cannot harm the weakest constitution; never fails to cure summer complaints of young or old. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Days of Comfort, Nights of Rest if you take Pyny-Pectoral for that cough.



OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and Gasolene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied users are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABILITY, ECONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABILITY tell the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever? CONSULT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.

New England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.

FROM THE ORIENT

CARPETS

Goods right prices right—workmanship right—everything right.

We do by far the largest business in Boston in

Carpets and Upholstery.

What do you suppose the reason is?

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS CO.,
658 Washington Street, 658
Opp. Boylston St.,
BOSTON.

PATENTS GUARANTEED

Our fee returned if we fail. Any one sending sketch and description of any invention will promptly receive our opinion free concerning the patentability of same. "How to Obtain a Patent" sent upon request. Patents secured through us advertised for sale at our expense.

Patent taken out through us receive special notice, without charge, in THE PATENT RECORD, an illustrated and widely circulated journal, consulted by Manufacturers and Investors.

Send for sample copy FREE. Address,

VICTOR J. EVANS & CO.,
(Patent Attorneys,)
Evans Building, - WASHINGTON, D. C.

EDISON'S PHONOGRAPH

Better than a Piano, Organ, or Music Box, for it sings and talks as well as plays, and don't cost as much. It reproduces the music of any instrument—band or orchestra—tells stories and sings—the old familiar hymns as well as the popular songs—it is always ready. See that Mr. Edison's signature is on every machine. Catalogues of all dealers, or NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., 135 Fifth Ave., New York.

inbl-eow

HUMOROUS.

Young Mother—"Did you notice how quiet the baby is?" The Brute—"Yes. Is he dead?"—Harlem Life.

Somewhat Personal.—"Did you know that every lobster has his name on him when he's born? Queer, ain't it?" "Yes. How long ago did you discover yours?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Professor—"I believe, sir, that you have merely skimmed over this lesson?" Imp Udence '03—"Why, professor? Because I seem to have gotten the cream of it?"—Princeton Tiger.

Last week a policeman was severely blamed for arresting a deaf woman. "It's the best thing that ever happened to her," he answered, "for she will get her hearing at nine o'clock to-morrow morning."—Harvard Lampoon.

"I shall have to crown that tooth," said the dentist, indicating the particular molar. "Yes," assented the victim. "It's a-king rather more than any of the others." Whereupon the dentist mentally decided to make the bill about $2.50 higher.—Ohio State Journal.

"By the way, was that second cousin of yours cured of his fits?" "Pretty near, but he stopped doctoring for them." "Run out of money?" "Naw. A farce-comedy manager saw him when he was in one of them and engaged him on the spot at 300 per."—Indianapolis Press.

"Although you have refused me," sighed Clospenny, "I shall always cherish as most dear the moments I spent with you." "Really!" she asked, with visions of the ice cream and candy and such which she never got, "and since they were so dear will you never regret having spent them?"—Philadelphia Press.

Last week a delinquent subscriber said he would pay up if he lived. He died. Another said: "I will see you to-morrow." He's blind. Still another said: "I'll pay you this week or go to the devil." He's gone. There are hundreds who ought to take warning of these procrastinators and pay up now.—Finley (S. D.) Slope.

The Thought.

Thought is company only for those who are capable of entertaining it.—Chicago Daily News.

When we have good blood we are healthy, strong, vigorous and full of life and energy. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes good blood.

THE
NEW YORK WORLD
THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

18 Pages a Week . . .
. . . 156 Papers a Year
FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

News and Opinions
OF National Importance.

THE SUN
ALONE
CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

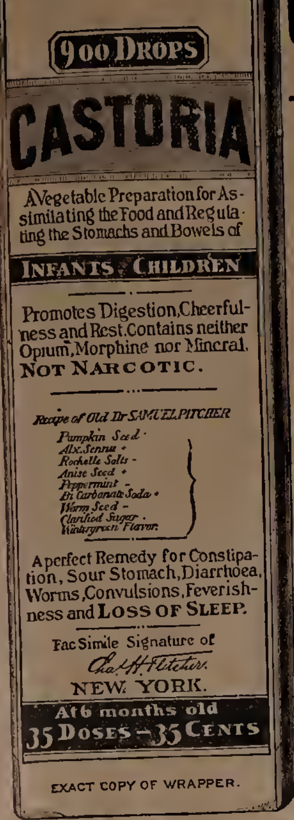
Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

Address THE SUN, New York.

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative
Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

Business Announcements in the one-cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL are invariably [illegible]



900 DROPS
CASTORIA
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed
Alx. Senna
Rochelle Salts
Anise Seed
Peppermint
Bi Carbonate Soda
Worm Seed
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES—35 CENTS
EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

COTTON MADE SILK.

Accidental Discovery of Process That Made Millions.

The Valuable Find of an English Dyer and Its Subsequent Improvement Has Made Much Money.

A boy sat before the fire and watched his mother's kettle boil. The lid quivered, rose a little, and the boy gave steam power to the world.

John Mercer, an English dyer, filtered caustic soda through a square of cotton cloth. Thence a new verb—to mercerize—in the language, a new fabric on the market, and a new business, engaging millions of capital, to cheer the unemployed.

The story of the boy, John Watt, is old, but Mercer's story is new and interesting. Mercerized cotton, either cotton yarn or cotton cloth, resembles silk absolutely. It has the luster of silk; it will take on, like silk, the richest and most brilliant dyes, and it has the unmistakable soft-harsh, nestling feel which nothing but silk ever had, says the Brooklyn Eagle.

Also cotton, under this process, does not weaken, as might have been feared, but it acquires strength. A skein of cotton yarn in the natural state that will carry 13 ounces without breaking will carry, after mercerizing, 19 ounces. And if you take three coats and line the first with a plain cotton lining, the second with mercerized cotton and the third with silk, the cotton and the silk will wear out, about together, but the mercerized lining will outlast them two or three times over.

Mercerized cotton is used in linings, in underwear, in spindle banding, in stockings, in dress goods, in negligee shirts. There is a profit in mercerizing of from 100 to 200 per cent. In the last year or two many public dyers have added mercerizing machines to their plants, and a good number of mercerizing mills have been established.

Mercerizing began as far back as 1846 in the English town of Accrington, where John Mercer, manager for the firm of Hargreaves, filtered caustic soda through a cotton cloth. Mercer, by accident, kept this cloth by him, happened to test its strength, happened to splash it with a dye. He found that it was about twice as strong and about twice as susceptible to dye liquor as it had been before. Slight savings, in connection with big outputs, come in the long run to astonishing totals. Here was a saving by no means slight. Here, just by running a cotton thread through a liquid as cheap as water, it would come to do the work of two threads, and in being dyed it would save half the quantity of the dye stuff.

Mercer rejoiced. He refused for his secret an offer of $200 000 from a French firm. He had the idea of an immense syndicate, with himself at the head, rolling up millions of profits per annum.

Then it was found that cotton shrunk in the mercerizing. A yard of cloth would save in dyestuffs and in raw stock, say five cents to its manufacturers, but it would come out of the mercerizing bath only three-quarters of a yard of cloth. Against the profit of five cents a loss through shrinkage of about ten cents would have to be set. This is why Mercer never formed his syndicate, why mercerizing was of no commercial importance until latterly.

For the remaining 20 years of his life the man toiled ineffectually on, and he died disheartened. But his name lives. That is because, somewhere around 1890, Horace Lowe, in England, and Thomas and Provost, in Germany, began to try to see if it might not be possible to mercerize a cotton thread and to prevent the thread from shrinking in the process. They more than succeeded.

Mercer had taken his cotton, steeped it for about three hours in caustic soda, then washed it. That is mercerizing in its simplest terms. To the Englishman, Lowe, and the Germans, Thomas and Provost, came simultaneously the idea of keeping the cotton stretched while steeping it in the caustic soda bath. They tied the ends of their cotton threads to sticks and then mercerized them. The sticks did not break, the thread did not even show signs of shrinkage. So easy was it to do what Mercer had been failing at for years and years.

But, more than this, they found that cotton mercerized under tension came out glossy, soft and rustling. To their amazement they found that they had transformed cotton into silk. And ever since the Englishmen and Germans have been fighting over the patents on this wonderful discovery.

The explanation of the luster that cotton, being mercerized, takes on, is simple. The soda and the tension together change the nature of the cotton fiber. The natural fiber is flat, shriveled; the mercerized fiber fills out, becomes round and smooth. And just as a flat, dried raisin has no luster, whereas the full ripe grape catches and throws back the light, so there is no luster to the flat fiber of the natural cotton, but on the mercerized sort the light shines and is reflected just as on the grape.

FEMININE FRILLS.

The Latest in Lingerie and Fashionable Trifles for the Season's Costumes.

Shades of gray are charming in the new woolen materials which are to be seen for the new gowns. There are all sorts of pretty grenadine-like materials, similar to those worn in the sixties—loosely woven materials, but with body enough to drape excellently. Some of them are to be seen with pretty satin stripes, some with little embroidered figures, the small bow knots that never seem to grow old.

With the thought of the war in almost everything done nowadays in England, the bonbon boxes of silver are no longer used to hold various small bonbons, but are filled with "meat lozenges." They are fitted for the pocket, and are supposed to be just the thing for the soldier boy in time of need.

Pretty little handkerchiefs with a pattern woven in them somewhat after the way patterns are woven in damask for the table are now coming in. There are little bowknots, for instance, at intervals through the body of the handkerchief, and the table-linen effect is most noticeable in a damask-like band around the edge, and in which the pattern is set at regular intervals, as in a border.

Most of the shoppers from the big shops who purchase French lingerie are now abroad getting up the new stock, and, this being just about between seasons, it is a good time for bargains in pretty underwear. There are many women who consider underwear their one extravagance. They do not care so much about their outside garments, but there is a certain delightful daintiness in wearing the prettiest and most attractive clothes out of sight. They feel that they dress for themselves, and it gives a certain feeling of self-respect and special pleasure. These women never dare to go near the underwear counters in the big shops when the contents of their purses are at a low ebb, for they simply cannot resist the pretty things displayed.

The drapery effect around the shoulders obtains in many things, especially where yokes are worn. Below the yoke of the opera cape soft material or lace is draped entirely around the shoulders, and in tea gowns the same effect is used with good results.

Not every woman would like or would look well in an Empire wedding gown, but the gowns themselves are charming. One has a puffed yoke and sleeves, while from under the arms two broad pieces of lace are brought and fasten a little to the left of the bust, the ends hanging in soft folds to the lower edge of the skirt. This gown is finished without a collar at the throat, the top of the puffed yoke fitting snugly, with a cord set in.

Long Empire coats which have an air of distinction are kilt-plaited in the skirt and have little jacket effects. In one of these the jacket differs from the skirt, being heavily embroidered, as are the sleeves. The back of the jacket is cut up a little in the center, and comes down in long points in the front.

Much tulle is to be used with straw this coming season, and many hats will be made in alternate rows of straw and tulle. A great deal of tucked taffeta will also be used, as it has been during the winter. The milliners are groaning because Easter comes so late this year. Very few women wear the old-time "Easter bonnet" to church on Easter day; it is not smart to do so, but at the same time Easter is the bonnet season, and its being late or early makes the spring millinery late or early. In good weather many of the smart women are out of town over Easter.—N. Y. Times.

THE HOME WEDDING.

What to Do When the Nuptial Ceremony Is Celebrated at Home.

For the home wedding the house is made bright with flowers. The mother and sisters of the bride receive the guests. The father first appears when he enters the room with his daughter. As the hour strikes the clergyman takes his place, facing the company, followed by the bridegroom and his best man, who stand at his left, awaiting the bride. Two ushers mark off an aisle with broad white ribbons, attaching them at the ends, and they precede the rest of the bridal party, who enter at the farthest corner of the room. The bridesmaid or maids follow the ushers, and the bride comes last with her father. Or, the ushers may precede the best man and the one bridesmaid, and the bride and bridegroom follow. At a house wedding they often have no attendants and rarely any music. At the conclusion of the service the clergyman congratulates the bride and bridegroom and then retires. They then turn to be greeted, first by their parents, next by the members of the two families and near relatives, afterwards by every one present. All wish them happiness. Refreshments are served in the dining-room, and may be simple or elaborate, as one chooses.—Ladies' Home Journal.

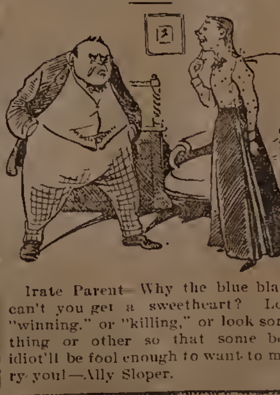
Sausages and Celery.

Pick small sausages several times, so that they will not burst in frying, lay them in the blazer, cover closely, and cook until crisp. Or, if there are cold cooked sausages in the house, they may be heated in the blazer in a little butter or bacon fat. In either case, add to the fat two tablespoonfuls of celery, cut up very small, and let this cook two or three minutes, so that it will be done through, but not cooked enough to lose the distinctive taste of fresh celery. This may be served on toast or crackers. It is also good served on shredded wheat biscuit.—Good Housekeeping.

Don't.

In the town's big business battle,
  In the bargain sales of life,
Be not like dumb, driven cattle,
  Don't go shopping with your wife.
—Judge.

JUDICIOUS ENCOURAGEMENT.



Irate Parent—Why the blue blazes can't you get a sweetheart? Look "winning," or "killing," or look something or other so that some born idiot'll be fool enough to want to marry you!—Ally Sloper.

The Whole Story in one letter about

Pain-Killer

(PERRY DAVIS')

From Capt. F. Loye, Police Station No. 5, Montreal:—"We frequently use PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER for pains in the stomach, rheumatism, stiffness, frost bites, chilblains, cramps, and all afflictions which befall men in our position. I have no hesitation in saying that PAIN-KILLER is the best remedy to have near at hand."

Used Internally and Externally.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c. bottles.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF COD-LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES

should always be kept in the house for the following reasons:

FIRST—Because if any member of the family has a hard cold, it will cure it.

SECOND—Because, if the children are delicate and sickly, it will make them strong and well.

THIRD—Because if the father or mother is losing flesh and becoming thin and emaciated it will build them up and give them flesh and strength.

FOURTH—Because it is the standard remedy in all throat and lung affections.

No household should be without it. It can be taken in summer as well as in winter.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

Had Use for Him.

Barry Sullivan, the Irish tragedian, was playing in "Richard III." some years ago at Shrewsbury. When the actor came to the lines: "A horse, a horse! My kingdom for a horse!" some one in the pit called out:

"Wouldn't a donkey do, Mr. Sullivan?"

"Yes," responded the tragedian, turning quickly on the interrupter. "Please come round to the stage-door."—Tit-Bits.

Willing Martyrdom.

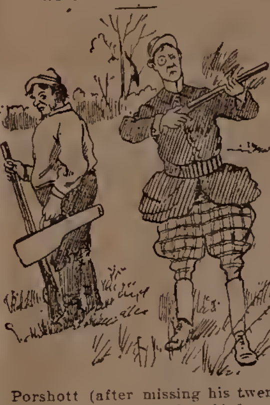
Solicitous Parent—Evelyn, you mustn't ride in this open street car such a cold day as this without your jacket. Put it on, child. You will have pneumonia if you don't.

Miss Evelyn (with supreme contempt)—What of that? Do you suppose I'm going to let Mabel Upjohn see me wearing a jacket that's all out of style?—Chicago Tribune.

On the Stump.

Now doth the wily candidate
About the country's future prate,
Insist the way to save the land
Is with the party true to stand
And thwart the opposition's plan
To choose a most unworthy man;
Urge your support for one that's fit—
And, incidentally, he's it.
—Puck.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.



Porshott (after missing his twentieth bird)—I believe the birds are frightened at me.

Gamekeeper—They needn't to be, sir.—Chicago Chronicle.

Life Is Sweet.

"This world is but a fleeting show,"
  And yet there's not a man
But wants to see as much of the Performance as he can.
—Philadelphia Press.

Diplomacy for Home Use.

"Oh, yes, I always let my girl go just as soon as the summer fairly begins."

"Why? Do you prefer to do your own work in hot weather?"

"No, but it gives me an excuse to let my husband know that we can't possibly be visited by any of his people."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Seeing Him Twice.

Judge—Have I not seen you twice under the influence of liquor?

Prisoner—If you were in that condition, your honor, you probably did.—Catholic Standard and Times.

Her Fault.

Bob—So you're waiting upon Miss Slowboy lately?

Tom—Lately? I should say so. We never get anywhere on time.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Not by the Piece.

Merchant—No, I tell you, I have absolutely nothing for you to do.

Applicant—Well, I'd be willing to do that, on salary.—Philadelphia Press.

A Record In Blood.

The record of Hood's Sarsaparilla is literally written in the blood of millions of people to whom it has given good health. It is all the time curing diseases of the stomach, nerves, kidneys and blood, and it is doing good every day to thousands who are taking it for poor appetite, tired feeling and general debility. It is the best medicine money can buy.

Hood's Pills are non-irritating. Price 25 cents.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Don't Tell Lies.

"Where have you been, Mr. Rocky?" demanded the boss.

"Oh, sir!" replied Rocky, mendaciously, "my landlady is a most excellent woman, and she has been so ill that I had to stay at home to nurse her."

This excuse went, and the boss turned away. The following day Rocky felt as if he had sand in his head, and a headache as long as a rainy Sunday in the country developed. He stayed at home, sending the excuse that his landlady was dead and he had to attend the funeral. Later in the day a lady entered the book store and inquired for Mr. Rocky.

"The reason I came here," she explained, "is because I am his landlady, and, not having seen him for a week, I became uneasy and called to inquire about him."

"His landlady!" gasped the boss. "Why, woman, he's attending your funeral this very day, and has been nursing you for a week."

It was a shock to the poor woman to find she was dead, but a shock of another sort struck Rocky when he came back to work. It was his funeral that time.—Louisville Times.

Shells Four Miles in the Air.

The power of the modern gun is a thing that cannot be grasped. The 100-ton projectile strikes with a force equal to 485,000 11-stone men jumping from a height of one foot. When the 81-ton gun fires a shot 12 miles it is fired at such an angle that the shell goes up to a height 5,482 feet higher than Mont Blanc. Big guns have been longer in use than most people think. In the year 1478 they had guns called "bombards," which threw projectiles weighing a quarter of a ton. They were wider at the muzzle than in the bore, and were used for battering buildings. The English used big guns at the battle of Crecy, and amazed the French, who had never seen such weapons before.—Answers.

Opportunity Not to Be Missed.

He had called on her several times, and finally mustered up courage and assurance to be somewhat more affectionate than the circumstances warranted, perhaps.

"You must not do that," she said, somewhat nervously.

"Do what?" was the innocent query.

"Put your arm around my waist."

"Why not?"

"My brother might come in suddenly and see you."

"Well, what of that? He couldn't kill me!"

"No, I suppose not; but he would try to borrow some money from you, and I have lost two chances already by his doing that."—Pearson's Weekly.

The Middle Ear.

This story is told of Prof. Pritchard, who recently opened the sixth international otological congress. Reviewing the progress of the last 30 years, the professor referred to "chronic nonsuppurative disease of the middle ear" as being the supreme mystery at present to students of otology. "What is this middle ear?" a lady asked a sage physician. "Madam," he replied, "it is the ear with which we do not listen." In other words, the nose.—N. E. Home Magazine.

A Very Trifling Incident.

A clergyman was called upon to perform a marriage ceremony for a couple in middle life. "Have you ever been married before?" asked the clergyman of the bridegroom. "No, sir." "Have you?"—to the bride. "Well, yes, I have," replied the bride, laconically; but it was 20 years ago, and he was killed in an accident when we'd been married only a week, so it really ain't worth mentioning."—San Francisco Wave.

Rats as Scavengers.

A mining company at Marquette, Mich., has discovered that rats are the best and cheapest underground scavengers. Before the men go to work in its new shaft it wants to have at least the nucleus of a colony of rats in the pit, so that the scraps and fragments of the miners' dinners, which are thrown about underground, may be disposed of.—Indianapolis News.

White Rhinoceros.

The native commissioner at Sebungwe, Africa, reports that the white rhinoceros is still to be seen on the veldt in the districts between the Sanyati and Zambesi rivers. It was generally thought that this gigantic animal was extinct.—N. Y. Journal.

City Sights.

"Uncle Abner, did you enjoy staying at that big hotel in town?"

"Gee—I guess so; I rid up an' down in that there iron fire-escape all day fer nothin'."—Detroit Free Press.

Impossible.

"We can be friends," she said, softly.

"Then we can never be man and wife," he answered, dismally.—Philadelphia North American.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Great Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

When doctors fail, try Burdock Blood Bitters. Cures dyspepsia, constipation; invigorates the whole system.

Takes the burn out; heals the wound; cures the pain. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, the household remedy.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 8 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m, 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m, S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	-	10c
5 to 15 miles,	- -	15c
15 to 25 "	- -	20c
25 to 35 "	- -	25c
35 to 45 "	- -	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

Crescent House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.

33-tf

G.A. Martin, M.D.,

..AND...

C.B.Hussey, M. D.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours From 2 to 3 p. m., and by appointment.

92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

9 MAPLE ST. Near brick schoolhouse.

18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark. Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton. Committee of Investment M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer. Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December. Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,

....BOSTON.

Telephone 1839.

A FINE LINE OF

Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

On the Stool of Repentance

is where you will find yourself during summer's sultry days unless you clear your complexion and cool your blood by purifying it with

Dana's Sarsaparilla

50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Bright eyes and a clean, clear skin, as well as an elastic step and good spirits, comes from ridding the blood of impurities with this reliable blood purifier.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Mrs. M. A Smith, with her two children, Ashley and Evelyn, are at Westboro.——Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Symonds have been spending a week in Salem.——Mrs. Ella Bonney and daughter Helen have been the guests of Ed Bonney in Foxboro.——Rev. W. B. Allis preached at Medway last Sunday evening.——School commenced today with only a few changes in the teachers.——Miss Nancy Stanley and Miss May Stanley are at David T Stone's.——Mr and Mrs. Elmer Forrest and son Lawrence are at G F Dart's.——Mrs. Ella B Fisher, who has been in camp during August, was taken home Friday, suffering from typhoid fever.——Mr. and Mrs. E. D. McClennan are at their home on Winter street.——Saturday afternoon the hospitable doors of "Red farm," the home of Joseph E. Chamberlin, were closed and the family, together with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dodd and son, left for a carriage drive to Vermont.——Miss Semple of Louisville, Ky., and Miss Blodget of Chicago are at Mrs M. K. Bates'.——A gentleman in town had $500 stolen from his house which has been mysteriously returned after being retained for several days.——Friday the 9.50 train into Boston ran into a freight train through an open switch, and several from this town, who were in the Boston train, were badly shaken up, Mr Ed Fielding being bruised about the head and several teeth loosened.——Miss Sadie Mitchell of Harrisville has arrived in town for the winter.

WORDS WE SAY BACK.

Encouragement for the Little Ones Does Much to Brighten Their Lives.

Little Dorothy came from the kindergarten with her eyes shining, holding in her hand a braided mat of bright-colored paper. The little mat found approving words and admiration in the family circle, and was exhibited when Miss Cary, her mother's friend, came to supper that night.

"It is very pretty," said Miss Cary to Dorothy, "and soon you will be making more pretty things, sewing on cardboard and making bright-colored paper chains. A little boy sent me this word not long ago in his mamma's letter: 'Tell Aunt Beth I've made a chain long enough to reach through two rooms of the house.' "

Dorothy's eyes shone with pleased excitement at the little kindergarten story, and eagerly she asked: "And what did you say back?" The quick question was a revelation. To the little child the success of the story lay in what was "said back."

Words of encouragement are perhaps oftener called for in what we say back than any others, encouragement to begin, to keep on, and to try again, hold within them the kernels of a happy childhood, and successful manhood and womanhood. Let us watch these words we say back to the children, and if possible make them wise with incentives toward future activity.—Constance Conrad, in Woman's Home Companion.

Economical Pudding.

Bake any remains of bread a golden brown and crush them to a fine powder while hot. Of these take four ounces, two ounces of brown sugar or golden sirup, two ounces of raisins or dried cherries, half a pint of milk and the same of boiling water, together with half a teaspoonful of allspice. Pour the boiling water on the crumbs, stir well, and let them soak till soft, then mix in all the other ingredients, and pour the mixture into a dish plentifully rubbed with butter or well clarified dripping, and bake for 20 to 25 minutes.—Philadelphia Press.

Easy to Take
Easy to Operate

Because purely vegetable—yet thorough, prompt, healthful, satisfactory—

Hood's Pills

DIVORCE IN MEXICO.

The Republic, by a Recent Decision, Does Not Recognize Divorces Granted in United States.

The laws of Mexico have always been strict in regard to marriages and divorces. Recently a case has been decided in the City of Mexico which attracted attention on account of the plaintiff's prominence in society and the legal points involved. In fact, the civil court found it necessary to establish a precedent, as no case of the same character has been tried in the republic, says the New York Times.

In 1895 an American citizen, Edgar Joseph Hahn, of St. Louis, married a young Mexican lady, Senorita Paz Diez Barrosso. The wedding was a society event and some of the chief dignitaries of the land were present. Mutual disillusionment and a separation followed, a baby girl being left with the mother. The lady in the case is the plaintiff, and, it is said, she desires to marry again.

The rules of the Roman Catholic church do not permit a divorcee to marry. The question of one desiring to do so was not to be considered by the church, and there was no civil law to cover the case. The laws of reform make a civil ceremony necessary to a legal marriage. As Roman Catholics consider marriage a sacrament, both civil and religious rites are the rule, and the former taking place first. In case of annulment of the marriage contract new vows may be taken.

The plaintiff in question claimed to have discovered after her marriage that her husband had a wife living, from whom he was divorced. Therefore, as her church did not allow her to marry a divorced man—or him to marry her—she prayed that the contract be declared null and void. This, it is said, the church was ready to do, but, a civil ceremony being necessary, it fell to the court to decide her real status, and it has taken several months to reach a decision, as it felt the responsibility of establishing a law which, in view of the steady growth of foreign colonies in the republic, may be frequently tested.

If the man had no right to marry, the lady's situation was a peculiar one—though she chose to accept it, if thereby she is allowed to make a new marriage. Fourth Civil Judge Jesus F. Uriate decided the marriage to be null and void, owing to a prior union on the man's part, though he had been divorced from his wife in the United States, where it was a lawful act for him to marry again. As he had acted in good faith in his Mexican marriage, no action against him was taken, and each party had its own costs to pay.

Thus it is clear that, while Mexico recognizes a foreign marriage, she does not recognize a divorce secured in any country as giving a right to marry again within her limits.

The status of the child did not come before the court, it having died a few months ago.

The consensus of opinion among Americans seems to be that Mexico, through her courts, has taken a wise step in endeavoring to preserve the sanctity of the marriage vow.

A Serious Mistake.

"I am very much surprised to hear that they are married. I thought he was merely flirting with her."

"He thought so too." — Collier's Weekly.

With Malice Aforethought.

Phebe—What makes you think you can break the will?

Brief—What makes me think so? Why, I drew it up!—Town Topics.

Her Ruler.

Census Man—Who is the head of this family?

Hen Peck—Mrs. Peck is, on the cook's day off.—Baltimore American.

Some are Left;
They are Waiting.

THOSE
HAMMOCKS

put on sale at reduced prices are lightly swaying as an occasional breeze wafts toward through our ever open doors. All that remain will be sold at 25 per cent discount straight. Regular Hammock season and we will close it with our usual liberality.

You pay $1.50 for a once $2 Hammock or pay $2.25 for a better $3 Hammock.

All LAWN FURNITURE is being rapidly closed out at the same reduction.

REFRIGERATORS for $12, been selling at $16.

Cheaper boxes at the same cut rate, 25 per cent off.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,
67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

An Apt Illustration.

An inspector of schools has been giving in the Humanitarian a selection of the leading "howlers" of his acquaintance. The shrewdest of all the answers came from a very small boy, who was asked to give a text which forbade a man to marry two wives. Without a moment's pause he replied: "No man can serve two masters."—Household Words.

Too Serious.

In a case of an assault by a husband on his wife the injured woman was reluctant to prosecute and give her evidence.

"I'll lave him to God, me lord," she cried.

"Oh, dear, no," said the judge, "it's far too serious a matter for that."—Green Bag.

The Queen's Private Solicitor.

It is not very generally known that the queen, the prince of Wales and other members of the royal family have their own private solicitor. Sir Henry Arthur White has acted in that capacity to the royal family for a good many years.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Facts in the Case.

Timkins—But is your income sufficient to justify you in marrying?

Simkins—I'm afraid not.

"Then what reason have you for taking such a step?"

"I have no reason at all. I'm in love."—Chicago Evening News.

Housekeepers

who want an easy and quick answer to the daily question, "What shall we have for dinner or for supper or for breakfast?" should take the Boston Daily and Sunday Globe.

Every day the Globe publishes a simple, inexpensive and nice bill of fare for a breakfast, a dinner and a supper. This is specially prepared by an experienced, skilled and economical housekeeper.

In addition, the choicest recipes from the skilled cooks of the homes of New England are printed every day, and any special recipes wanted by any woman are readily supplied.

In fact, the Globe is a daily cook book for the housekeepers of New England.

The housekeepers' department in the Globe every day tells you how to get rid of pests, how to take care of plants, flowers and animals, how to do fancy work, etc., etc., etc. Order the Globe at once of your newsdealer and try it.

Hoag Lake
PARK.

WEEK OF SEPT. 3

Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.15.

BOOM'S
RIALTO
COMPANY.

GATES and LEROY,
In a travesty sketch.

DeCAMEO,
Eccentric Juggler.

CORA,
The Canine Wonder.

ALEXANDER and MORTON,
In a Comedy Musical Act.

MADELINE BURDETTE,
The Sweet-Voiced Soprano.

RAE and BENDTTO,
In their great extortion act on an extension ladder.

UNDER DIRECTION OF MORRIS BOOM.

e29-to1

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

JUST RECEIVED, A NEW LINE OF

Blanks, Pads,
Tablets, Pencils,
School Bags, Etc.

W. E. Crowninshield
2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

PLANTLINE
TO THE PROVINCES.

GREAT REDUCTION IN RATES.

To Halifax, Hawkesbury,
Sydney and Charlottetown.

775 miles for	$7.50
1000 miles for	9.50
1400 miles for	11.00

DON'T MISS the opportunity to take the greatest trip for the least money on record. It can be made within a week and comprises a deep sea voyage, a sail along the entire Nova Scotia coast, through the Straits of Canso, St George's Bay and Northumberland Straits. Autumn most delightful season in the Provinces.

A Grand Opportunity for Natives to Visit the Old Home.

S. S. Halifax every Tuesday, 12 noon, for Halifax, Hawkesbury and Charlottetown. S. S. Florida every Saturday, 12 noon, for Halifax and Sydney, from north side Lewis Wharf. Maps and other advertising free.

J. A. FLANDERS, N. E. Agent,
290 Washington St., Boston.
F. B. DOWNING, Agent,
20 Atlantic Ave., Boston.

jly24-tno24

SCHOOL AND CHURCH.

In Nebraska there are 141 log schoolhouses, 517 built of sod, one of baled straw and one of steel.

The bishop of London, speaking at the Royal Society club, defined a club as a place where the women ceased from troubling and the wicked were at rest.

In chemical work upon cement manufacture at the University of Michigan three advanced chemical students are now engaged in investigation under Prof. E. D. Campbell.

There are 6,750,000 volumes in the libraries of American colleges and universities. Harvard has 500,000 volumes, Chicago university 350,000, Columbia 275,000 and Cornell 225,000.

Experiments made in Baden, Germany, in regard to co-education have convinced the authorities that there is no harm in it, and that it has advantages, especially in the smaller towns.

The Welsh Baptists have 913 houses of worship, with a total of 242,710 sittings. The present membership numbers 101,057. In their Sunday schools there are 10,896 teachers and 111,693 pupils. There are 513 ordained ministers and 550 "lay preachers"—a new species to us in America.

Rev. Dr. N. D. Hillis, in a recent Sunday evening service at Plymouth church, Brooklyn, gave an exhortation of the evangelical type, in which he called on all in the audience who had asked during the year nine non-church-goers to attend service to raise the hand. Not a hand was raised.

The International Order of the Double Cross is a new organization just started in New York to extend Christianity by the combination of religious effort and medical service. The active members are divided into five guilds—physicians, students, nurses, helpers, cadets. They will serve in the army, the navy, and in medical missions the world over.

There Are Such Fools.

"Yes, we had to take Emma out of school, you know. She isn't at all strong, and we feared the application to study was undermining her health. It's never wise to permit a young girl to overexert herself."

It was the fond mother who spoke, and the sympathetic neighbor naturally asked what the invalid was doing to pass away the time.

"Oh, she's getting a great deal of enjoyment out of her bicycle," was the reply. "She made a century run yesterday and another about a week ago."—Chicago Post.

Very Neatly Put.

A city man complained bitterly of the conduct of his son. He related at length to an old friend all the young man's escapades.

"You should speak to him with firmness and recall him to his duty," said the friend.

"But he pays not the least attention to what I say. He listens only to the advice of idiots. I wish you would talk to him."—Tit-Bits.

The Finest.

"Uncle John," remarked Dick, "is the finest after-dinner speaker I know of."

"Why," said his friend, with some astonishment, "I never heard he had any ability in that direction at all."

"Well, he has. I've dined with him several times at various places, and after dinner he always says: 'That's all right my boy, I'll pay for it.' "

Witch Hazel Jelly...

An improved form of Witch Hazel, far more effective and convenient than the ordinary Witch Hazel. It is a quick and efficient remedy in all cases of burns, bruises and all irritations of the skin, such as hives, nettle rash, mosquito bites, etc.

15 CTS. BOTTLE.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

FALES, the Grocer
NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Chilson's Market

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef, 10 to	12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-1yS

Coal! Coal!

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

JAMES F. RAY,
The Coal Dealer,
DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tfS

Something New...

Have you stopped to think of the pleasure something new always brings with it? A dress, a ring, a piece of furniture—no matter what it may be, inspiration and bright spirits follow along in its wake. Especially if it's Furniture. Every time you sit in the soft chair or stretch out on the soft couch it makes you happy. This is a happiness which every one can afford while we have the stock we have and charge the prices we do.

Our Terms:

$10 worth, $1 down, 50c. a week.
$25 worth, $2.50 down, 75c. a week.
$50 worth, $5 down, $1 a week.
$75 worth, $7.50 down, $1.25 a week.
$100 worth, $10 down, $1.50 a week.
$125 worth, $15 down, $2 a week.
$150 worth, $25 down, $2.25 a week.
$200 worth, $40 down, $2.50 a week.
$250 worth, $50 down, $3 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,
WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Special engagement for the season, S. M. Stephens' PUNCH and JUDY SHOW to entertain the children.

THURSDAY EVENING,
Concert---Franklin Band

ADMISSION 10c. DANCING FREE.

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof. Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.

Circulars free on application.

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month	$1 00
" " three times per week	50
Single Gallon	05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.

17-tfF

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of William Colvin, late of Medway, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said court for probate by James A. Snow and John H. C. Hadley, who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executors therein named,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the 19th day of September, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of August, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

au28,se4,11

TAKE ADVANTAGE

Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 72. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
N. C. Nye	4
Lake Pearl	4
Attractions at Woonsocket Opera House	4
Marston Sanborn	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 00 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Mrs. Walter Cook is visiting friends in Pittsfield.

The fall term at Dean academy opens next Tuesday.

There will be dancing at Lake Pearl tomorrow evening.

Dr. C. F. McCarthy of Arlington was in town Wednesday.

Miss Margaret Halloran of Main street is entertaining relatives.

First Friday services were held at St. Mary's chapel this morning.

The Hayward ball team will play at Bellingham tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Darling of Providence are visiting friends in town.

Patrick McWilliams and family removed to West Newton this week.

Miss Louise Fiorani has resumed her studies at Comer's business college.

The hands at the Bassett Bros.' straw goods factory are busy on felt goods.

The condition of H. M. Bullock of Ruggles street is considered critical.

The Republicans of Norfolk will hold a caucus on Monday evening, Sept. 24.

George W. Wiggin has returned from his annual outing in the Maine Woods.

Miss Minnie Bowers is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Archibald, and husband of Uxbridge.

Miss Minnie Sullivan of Dean avenue is spending a week's vacation at Manchester, N. H.

Miss Alice Bennett spent the past week at the home of Miss Grace Wilmot at Wrentham.

Charles Stewart is out with samples of felt hats to close up the stock on hand at the factory.

Mrs. J. F. Timmerman of Webster is visiting at the home of Walter Cook, on Central street.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Flynn of Brockton are guests of Mrs. John Ford of Beaver street.

Miss Gertrude Bly of Union street has returned home after a few days' vacation at Block Island.

Miss Mary Maroney of Bristol is the guest of her sister, Mrs. James Riordan, of Central street.

A. C. Dana and F. M. Richardson are spending a week at Baltimore, Md., and Old Point Comfort.

The holy communion will be celebrated at St. John's rectory next Sunday morning at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Russell and daughter May of Dorchester are the guests of Mrs. Ervin Holmes of Oak street.

The proposed contest between Our Boys and the Ray nine for a purse of $20 has been declared off.

The High school opened the fall term Tuesday with the largest number of pupils ever registered.

Mrs. Winfred Smith of Woonsocket is the guest of Mrs. Charles Fiske at her home on Central street.

Thomas Flynn and family, formerly residing on Pleasant street, removed yesterday to Woonsocket.

Dr. M. E. Pond returned from his vacation at Ashburnham today and will open his office tomorrow morning.

Edward Young of Milford, formerly a Franklin man, has been visiting old friends here the past few days.

A. F. Pendleton began his northwest line for carrying pupils of the public schools Tuesday and brought in 26.

There will be a special meeting of the Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist church at 8 p. m. today. Important business.

Charles Stewart, the straw goods manufacturer, has gone into bankruptcy and a first meeting will be held Sept. 12.

Mrs. J. H. Riordan and child of Central street have returned from a three-weeks' visit with friends at Willimantic, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walsh of West street have returned home after having spent a short vacation with friends in Natick.

Chester M. Whitney has gone to New York on business connected with his shipments of lumber from Central America.

Herbert and Everett Stewart of King street have returned from a week's visit with their uncle, George C. Stewart, at Providence.

Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Weinschenk, who have been visiting at the home of Rev. I. W. Sneath, returned today to their home in Dorchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Morse of Howard street were made happy Sunday morning by the advent of a 12 pound boy into their home.

Miss A. A. Robinson of Raynham, Mass., and F. S. Thompson of Pueblo Co., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lesure of Central street.

The marriage intentions of Richard Foley and Miss Catherine Williams were announced Sunday for the second time at St. Mary's church.

Mr. and Mrs. William Howard of Mt. Auburn spent Labor day with Mrs. Howard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Maroney of Union street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cannon and two children of South Framingham spent Labor day at the home of the Misses Byrnes, Cottage street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Peden and Benjamin and Charles Hutchinson of Arlington street have returned from a vacation with friends in New York.

The proposed street railway from Medway village to Holliston finds many advocates here, as it would give an almost direct line to northern points.

Master Robert Thayer, who arrived from camp yesterday, brought home another prize, having won the junior silver cup in the tennis finals last week.

Miss Alice E. Sherman has returned from Onset, where she and Miss Eunice L. Crocker have been entertained by Miss Amy P. Briggs at "Blake cottage."

A number of Franklin theatre-goers are planning to attend the production of "The Christian" at the Woonsocket opera house next Tuesday evening.

At the Universalist church next Sunday evening the subject of the Y. P. C. U. will be "The Transmission of Power." Mrs. H. B. Haslam, leader.

Miss Annie Rogers and the Misses Ruth and Maggie Byrnes of East Boston, who have been the guests of Mrs. Hugh Rogers of Lincoln street, have returned home.

Mrs. C. Lane and son James of Jersey City, who have been spending the past two weeks at the home of Miss Nellie Lane of Oak street, have returned to their home.

George Keefe, employed in the finishing room at the American woolen mill, had two fingers on his right hand severely crushed in a folder while at work on Tuesday afternoon.

Esther Calkin, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Calkin, who was stricken with spinal meningitis while visiting here a short time ago, is much improved, we are pleased to note.

Business meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the First Congregational church this evening at the close of the prayer service. All should be present and assist in the election of officers.

Joseph McInnis of Pond street and Miss Elizabeth Yeomans of Hampton, N. B., were united in marriage at the Baptist parsonage on Wednesday, Rev. Frank B. Sleeper performing the ceremony.

The grounds on the Union street side of the property of Mrs. W. F. Ray are being graded and already present a decidedly improved appearance. Patrick Reynolds is superintending the work.

One family at Grantville furnishes six pupils for the public schools, a small number for old times, when school kept three or four months in the year, but large for degenerate modern days.

S. W. Nickerson, who has been employed as policeman at Lake Pearl during the summer season, has been relieved from duty on account of the approaching end of the picnic season.

Henry Grey of Chestnut street has accepted a position in a piano factory at Concord, N. H., entering upon his new duties this week. His family will continue to reside here for the present.

Charles R. Coombs and Miss Pauline O. LeGassy, both of Boston, were married last evening by Rev. F. B. Sleeper, the ceremony being performed at the residence of E. E. Paine on Summer street.

At the Norfolk county probate court, held at Dedham Wednesday, the tenth, eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth accounts of Samuel Warner and Wm. M. Proctor, trustees of the estate of Thomas Proctor, were allowed.

Antonio Simonelli, who was arrested a few weeks ago and held on the charge of larceny preferred by Louis Malasteta, the Main street fruit dealer, has been indicted by the grand jury. He will probably be tried next week.

Annie, the 7-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mary Gillaney, of Pond street, who has been undergoing treatment at the Massachusetts General hospital in Boston during the past month, has returned, greatly improved in health.

All interested in work for the young men of the town are invited to meet with the Young Men's Christian league next Monday evening, at 7.30, in Music Hall block, front room. Plans are to be considered toward opening a reading room.

The Ladies' Benevolent society of the First Congregational church will hold their first monthly supper on next Wednesday evening at half-past six o'clock. The society will meet in its first session after the vacation at 2 p. m. of the same day.

William Nickerson, who has been in Cranston prison awaiting the action of the Rhode Island grand jury on a charge of larceny of silverware from a Cumberland dwelling some time ago, was admitted to bail in the sum of $500 last Saturday.

A horse attached to a coal cart ran away from the depot yard yesterday morning, and after speeding along Depot and Main streets and Dean avenue the animal was stopped by a citizen on the latter thoroughfare before any damage resulted.

Next Sunday there will be a sacred band concert and clam bake at Lake Pearl. Dinner will be served at 2 p. m. Tickets 50 cents. This will be the order for the three following Sundays at the Lake, and no doubt a large number will be present.

The subject of the prayer meeting this evening at the Methodist church will be "A Parable of the Kingdom," Scripture reference, Matt. xiii, 31–32. There will be a meeting of the official board directly after the meeting, and a full attendance of the members is desired.

An excellent audience, considering the season, greeted Dr. Hodge last Sunday morning. The new carpet was in place in the auditorium and chapel, but the work of renovating the church was not complete. Other improvements than the new carpet are in progress.

Frank Whitney, who has for some time held the position of express agent at Branford, Conn., arrived here with his family by carriage last evening, much impaired in health. He will reside for the present with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Whitney, on the Mount.

The manager of the Hayward ball nine says that the statement that Our Boys led throughout the game on Saturday is erroneous, as the Hayward team had the best of the argument until nearly the close. It is probable that the same teams will meet for another game before the season ends.

At the annual meeting of the Franklin Cemetery association, held in the water company's office on Tuesday evening, the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Austin B. Fletcher; treasurer, Adelbert D. Thayer; secretary, William A. Wyckoff; auditor, Fred H. Bartholomew; trustees for three years, H. E. Ruggles, Alfred Clark, B. M. Rockwood.

The drought begins to show its effects in all directions. Grass land is turning brown, the leaves are turning yellow and fast dropping from the trees, and highways are beds of dust. The prophets are foretelling a severe cold winter to balance the very hot summer, while ordinary folks are getting in the usual supply of coal and attending to business with the least discomfort possible.

The members of Excelsior lodge, A. F. and A. M., met in their partly renovated hall Monday evening. The annual election of officers will be held at the regular October meeting. The new carpet has not yet been put down, but will soon be in place, and with the fresh paint, the hardwood finish platform around the hall and other changes it will give the members a very comfortable place for meetings.

The advance reports of the new edition of Murray & Mack's famous farce comedy, "Finnigan's Ball," is indeed flattering to the management. The performance contains a whole lot of good things foremost of them all being clever comedians especially suited to the different parts assigned them, and pretty and talented girls This play will be given at Morse opera house Wednesday, September 12.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Coates returned today from a few days visit in Haverhill. While there they were in attendance at the annual reunion of the decendants of John White who landed at Plymouth in 1638, and of which Mrs. Coates is a lineal decendant. Representatives were present from many of the states, nearly 200 people being present. The occasion was a most enjoyable one.

The endeavor to clear the debt on the Methodist church is meeting with a pleasing measure of success and already since the return of the pastor several subscriptions have been paid in, and the interest on the principal has been reduced one-half. There is every evidence that the near future will see the completion of the task and the removal of the entire debt through the indefatigable efforts of the pastor.

The steady dry weather has brought the cranberry crop to maturity early in the season, but has also had the tendency to make the berries small and somewhat off color, so that the quality will be poorer than usual. With one or two exceptions, not as much attention is given to this crop in this vicinity as formerly, so that many farms that produced five, ten or twenty bushels annually now produce comparatively nothing like those amounts.

The northern district of the township does not seem to grow with the southern district, or in other words the northern district has fallen off or not increased in the line of buildings and population, while the southern in these respects indicates progress, even if small. With the street railway to Medway this condition ought to change and property in that direction increase in usefulness. Good building locations are plenty where pleasant homes could be made, and the next few years, if the town prospers, ought to witness a substantial growth northward from the centre.

First Car to Milford.

The first car over the Milford branch of the Milford, Attleboro & Woonsocket Street Railway company was run Tuesday morning from Bellingham Four Corners, Bellingham, to the South Main street crossing of the Grafton & Upton railroad in Milford. The object was to test the roadbed and also to remove obstructions, such as overhanging limbs, etc.

The roadbed was found to be in first-class condition. None of the company's officials were aboard. Regular trips will not be run until the rails arrive for the Grafton and Upton crossing, which will probably be not later than Saturday.

To Form a Y. M. C. A.

Steps were taken Wednesday evening by about 25 young men of the town to form a Young Men's Christian association in Franklin, the meeting being held in Music hall block. George E. Knight, secretary of the Hyde Park Y. M. C. A., was present and delivered an address, encouraging the formation of an association.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. S. A. Cook and afterward remarks were made by Rev. Dr. I. W. Sneath, Rev. F. B. Sleeper, Charles L. Stewart and others, and it was agreed by those present to meet again next Monday evening at the same place, when it is probable the association will be duly formed.

Woonsocket Opera House.

The brief engagement of Liebler & Co.'s magnificent production of "The Christian" will scarcely be sufficient to accommodate the crowds who will flock to see it, but that is all the time that could be provided for it here owing to previous engagements elsewhere. The sale of seats is now in progress, and from present indications the house will be sold out before the performance takes place, on Tuesday, Sept. 11. The cast numbers fifty odd people.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all friends and neighbors who rendered so many acts of kindness during the illness and at the death of our beloved one.

E. A. WOODS,
MR AND MRS. S B. WARE.
Norfolk, Mass., Sept. 4, 1900.

Important.

Mr. E. C. Morse wishes to meet all the members of the Y. P. C. U. at the Universalist parlor at 8 o'clock this evening. He is to make arrangements for the giving of "The Pied Piper of Hamlin"

Please make an effort to be present.

At Present There are Nine Graduates of the Providence Bryant and Stratton Business College, employed in the office department of the Draper Co. of Hopedale This fact proves that business men are pleased with the special training that this school affords. Reopens Sept., 10.

Office Open Tomorrow.

My patrons are notified that my office will be reopened again tomorrow (Saturday) morning, at 8 o'clock.

DR. M. E. POND.

Through Western Norfolk by Trolley.

Have you ever been through Western Norfolk by trolley? If you never have enjoyed the pleasure of the delightful trip you should take a day off some pleasant day and make it, and you will agree with the writer that it is one of the most delightful rides that can be found and enjoyed in this section of Massachusetts. This is the writing word for it. The Norfolk Western system opens up a very interesting locality of Western Norfolk, ripe with history and civilization. The line runs through a charming and delightful section of country from the shire town of the county to its terminus in the beautiful town of Franklin, with its thrifty population of 6,000 inhabitants, famed for its seat of learning and numerous interesting and pretty girls. Now, if you wish to enjoy a refreshing ride, the distance of 20 miles into the wilds of Western Norfolk, take the early car from Dedham about the time the sun rises over Blue hill if the weather is delightful, and you will find yourself soon whizzing along at a good rate of speed up High street, the boulevard of the judicial town, past beautiful residences of millionaires and bankers. Soon, under the safe guidance and care of the motorman, you are flying over Westwood ridge into a beautiful little town of 1,000 inhabitants, a thorough farming community, absent of any judicial air whatever. There is only one street, the principal thoroughfare being High street, running directly through the centre of the town. This beautiful street for a long distance is lined with neat white residences ornamented with clean-kept surroundings, beautiful flowers and clinging vines, the picture typical of New England character. Westwood formerly was a part of Dedham and with a history as old. A few years ago West Dedham applied for a charter, drew the line and became a town, thrifty, prosperous and contented. The ride through Westwood is a delightful one, and especially to those who are fond of traveling by trolley and can now and then get a day off for the pleasure. The scenery is well diversified, with here and there a charming bit of landscape thrown in. Leaving Westwood you are hustled along through quite a stretch of country until Medfield, the gem of Norfolk county, is reached about the time the sun is waking up Bread Meadows for the hay getting. Here the cars stop long enough to give you a chance to blow the fizz from a glass of soda in Ed Snow's fine restaurant Medfield is a beautiful village and a gem in the eye of every visitor. The place contains some very fine residences, indicative of thrift and prosperity, and the people appear to be well groomed, contented and happy. There are a number of old landmarks and places of historical interest within the borders of the town that the Medfieldians are proud of, and they are always ready and willing to enlighten strangers with their knowledge of the town and its history. It has the appearance of being a very quiet place, away from the hurly-burly and bustle of the outside world, with no cares and everything going easy. Leaving the charming village of Medfield you are soon crossing the trestle over the lovely Charles, swinging on its way through the meadows. The next place touched by trolley is Millis The most remarkable thing about this town is that a few years ago a general prosperity boomed the town and for awhile business was successful, but there were reverses and prosperity got busted and the blinds were pulled down. Since then the town has been trying to get on its feet again, and there is a likelihood that it will and business be booming again. Millis is a nice little town, with a good system of water works, good air and nice people. The next place you trolley into is Medway, the town on the hill. In this airy town, with a history of honorable record, resides the Hon. M. M. Fisher, a prominent and well-known gentleman, who for many years has been closely allied with Norfolk county. Here the Milford and Medway finds its terminus, touching the Western Norfolk, both lines running into populated centres. Here the Norfolk Western bends to the left, crossing Charles river near the Sanford woolen mills, and you are soon climbing the long stretch of hill to the level country beyond, where you enjoy a magnificent view of the territory for miles to the north, east and west, with a refreshing breeze tugging at your palm leaf hat. Soon the car is buzzing into the beautiful village of Franklin, where we bid you adieu for the present.—"Fairfax," in Dedham Transcript.

Personal Property at Auction.

All the household furniture contained in the house at No. 61 Central street, formerly known as the Briggs boarding house, will be sold at public auction tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 1 o'clock, without reserve; sale will take place rain or shine.

D. W. CORSON & CO., Auctioneers.

Richardson's Market.

Of course you've got to eat some meat, even if it is hot weather. Try a nice chicken or fowl for Sunday. Our vegetables are received every day fresh from the gardens. Try a can of our ten cent soup with your dinner; all kinds.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse.

Honored by the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows.

The annual session of the Grand lodge of Odd Fellows of Massachusetts was held in Boston Thursday and a very large number of representatives were present, there being an attendance of about 700 during the session. The lodges in this vicinity were largely represented. H. E. Ruggles, Esq, of this town, took quite a prominent part in the deliberations. He has been a member for over ten years of the standing committee on appeals, one of the most important committees. At the present session he was appointed chairman of the committee on analysis and distribution of the communication of the grand master, which has in charge new or proposed legislation. He was also re-elected trustee of the Odd Fellows' Home of Massachusetts, at Worcester, for the term of five years. He has been chosen grand representative of the Grand lodge of Massachusetts to the Sovereign Grand lodge, which meets in Richmond, Va., during the week from September 17 to 22 The representatives from New England will leave on the 10th in a special car for Richmond, stopping at Gettysburg, Luray caverns, Washington and other points of interest, and the itineracy is through the beautiful Shenandoah valley. The party is expected to return about October 1.

Fall Meeting N. C. E. U.

Arrangements have been made for the Franklin Christian Endeavorers who desire to attend the fall meeting of the Norfolk union, which is to be held at Foxboro on Saturday afternoon and evening, as follows: By electric to Wrentham, thence by barge to Foxboro. Those going in the afternoon should take the 1.15 car to Wrentham; in the evening the 5.45 car. Barge will leave Foxboro after the services in time to connect with car for Franklin.

The following will be the order of exercises:

AFTERNOON.

2.30—Praise and devotional service.

2.45—Address of welcome, Rev. H. T. DeWolfe.

2.55—Reports of secretary and treasurer and business.

3 10—Talk to juniors, Miss Masters of Brooklyn, N. Y.

3.25—Reports of junior societies.

3.30—Address, "Working and Winning." Rev. W. F. Grant of Mansfield.

4.30—Consecration service.

5.00—Social hour.

EVENING.

7.15—Praise service.

7.30—Reports of societies, unfinished business and election of officers.

8 15—Address, "A Sleeping Giant and How to Awake Him," Rev. J. F. Cowan, D. D., of Boston.

Benediction.

Emerson's Market.

Fresh killed chicks and fowls, lamb, veal, pork and tomatoes. Watermelons on ice, shell beans, green corn, gem melons, sweet potatoes, summer squash, lettuce, cucumbers, onions, cabbages, new beets and turnips.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Trash wood, ready cut for stove use, at Allen's wood yard.

Good wages for a girl to do housework. Inquire at SENTINEL office. 24-tf

Wanted.—A girl for general housework. Apply to George C. Daniels, Union street. 4-tf

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

Wanted—Competent girl for general housework. Apply to Mrs. H. E. Batchelor, 14 Dean avenue. 7,11,14

To Let.—A tenement of five rooms on Alpine street. Inquire at the house or at Mrs. A. E. Burnham's, Peck street. 28 tf

I have my usual crop of excellent peaches now ripening, and shall be glad to supply all customers old and new. Send in your order and get some good peaches. Monroe Morse, Medway, Mass. 7,11,14

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor J.B.MCKINNON, Agent.

Save money on your car fare by getting tickets of Chas. H. Prince at SENTINEL office. A ten-trip ticket to Boston for $5.00. Round-trip tickets to Providence and Milford at a saving of 12c from the regular fare. Mileage books to let.

Can While You Can.

If you want nice fruit next winter prepare to can very soon, as fruit is coming on, but don't use your old jars. Our new ones are cheaper, better, and improve the flavor of the fruit. We have the square "Royal" fruit jar, best quality selected glass, with "Lightning" top at 90 cents, $1.00 and $1.25 per dozen. There are none cheaper in the end. Window screens at reduced prices.

HOSIE BROS.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

Cut flowers, all kinds of funeral designs well made up at Slade's greenhouse. Roses in small or large quantities.

All lovers of music are invited to see the display of pianos and organs at Sanford Bros., Medway. Up to date and prices right.

Two chairs at Ochee's barber shop. Accomplished hair dresser in attendance. Short waits.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.
MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES

Space.	1 Wk	2 Wk.	3 Wk	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in.	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	18 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col.	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1900

The people in the eleventh congressional district are fast finding out that their prominent candidate, Samuel L. Powers, Esq., is one of the ablest men who has been mentioned for the office of congressman for many years. He is essentially the ideal politician in that he is honest, affable, magnetic, earnest and progressive. We defy any candidate or any one else to match him in any particular. He deserves the nomination and we have every reason to believe he will get it.—Hyde Park Gazette.

The legal right of a baby to yell in New York city's limits, whether the neighbors object or not, seems to have been definitely established by the holding, under heavy bail, of a cantankerous old bachelor who assaulted a woman living in his flat because her infant made such vocal disturbance that he was "unable to think," and then caused her arrest as the mother and maintainer of a nuisance. Inasmuch as the average baby will yell when it happens to want to, whether it has any legal right or not, the incident is not important except as it calls for an explanation from those New Yorkers who are always crying aloud the praises of their city as to why a baby born and nurtured amidst the delights of flat life in the great metropolis should ever want to yell.

A man with a genealogical record not easily matched is Moses Chamberlain, of Milton, Pa., born in 1812, the twenty-third child of Col. William Chamberlain, who commanded a New Jersey regiment in the revolutionary war. He was married four times and had seven children by the first wife, four by the second, four by the third and eight by the fourth. Only one survives, though their descendants number over a thousand. The life of the survivor and that of his father reaches back to 1736, when Washington was four years old.

A New York superintendent of schools says: "We have had more cases of corporal punishment to investigate this year than usual. Our boys seem more than ever given to fighting. I think it is due to the way in which most of the newspapers exploit the doings of prize fighters. Not only is a great deal of space devoted to prize fights, but the pugilists and scenes at the ringside are fully illustrated. Now, all this has a bad effect on the boys, and is the cause of most of their disorderly acts."

A young woman whose home is within a few miles of Augusta, Ga., makes a comfortable living for herself and her mother by growing bulbs and selling them to northern seed houses. She inherited about 50 acres of land which the neighbors said was too poor to sprout cowpeas. She bought a mule and went to work clearing up and fertilizing. Now she has a beautiful bulb and flower farm.

A young woman has had the color of the pupil of her eye restored by tattooing with India ink at the Miami (O.) medical college. Years ago an ulcer involving the cornea encroached upon the pupil leaving an unsightly white scar. The patient suffered a three days' ordeal during the process of tattooing.

Prairie dog meat is now said to be "white, tender and delicate," with a "rich, toothsome flavor" superior to that of spring chicken or quail. There has always been a theory that the prairie dog must have been created for some useful purpose but the information as to its food qualities comes late.

In the Illinois house of correction the women prisoners are to be set to work at flower culture for the market in three large greenhouses recently added to the institution. An expert horticulturist will direct the training. The prisoners seem pleased with the new departure.

HAIR HELP

So many persons have hair that is stubborn and dull. It won't grow. What's the reason? Hair needs help just as anything else does at times. The roots require feeding. When hair stops growing it loses its luster. It looks dead.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

acts almost instantly on such hair. It awakens new life in the hair bulbs. The effect is astonishing. Your hair grows, becomes thicker, and all dandruff is removed.

And the original color of early life is restored to faded or gray hair. This is always the case.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor, and am really astonished at the good it has done in keeping my hair from coming out. It is the best tonic I have tried, and I shall continue to recommend it to my friends."
MATTIE HOLT,
Sept. 24, 1898. Burlington, N. C.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Hair Vigor, write the Doctor about it.
DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

FLORAL HELPS AND HINTS.

All the leading florists can furnish books on the cultivation of the mushroom.

Grevillea Robusta.—This plant does very well in a shaded window. Give it a soil of rich loam. See that it has good drainage. Water moderately. Shower as often as possible to keep down the red spider, which greatly injures it if not interfered with.

Sphagnum moss is found in swamps. It is of a grayish green color, grows in thick, compact masses, and is so deep that one often sinks almost to the knees in it. It is something like a sponge in its ability to absorb and retain moisture. Because of this it is much used by florists for wrapping about the roots of plants which are to be sent a distance.

Asplenium Nidus.—The "Bird's-Nest Fern" (Asplenium nidus) is a shade-loving species, and thrives best in a temperature of about 60 degrees. The soil best adapted for the healthy development of this plant is a coarse and fibrous one, largely composed of peat. The plant should not be potted very firmly. Water should be given freely when the plant is making strong growth.

Palms should not be kept in a very shady place. The danger in doing so consists in the bad effect shade has on the soil. It often sours away from the light, and this brings on an unhealthy condition of the roots, which soon shows itself in the foliage. It is a good plan to have two sets of plants for room decoration. Give each set its turn at the light. By this I do not mean that I would put them in strong sunshine. But I would place them near a window where the soil could get the benefit of direct light.—Ladies' Home Journal.

WITTY AND WISE.

Cultivate a love for that which your reason commends.

Cowardice becomes cruelty whenever it gains the power.

A man with plenty of "the dough" can afford to "loaf."

If you make others happy you cannot escape being so.

Knowledge without wisdom is force with nothing to govern it.

Don't hurry, but always try to be moving in the right direction.

The brave are always gentle. The coward is the one who would kill.

The distress of being sick is recompensed by the joy of getting well.

Be as kind to everyone as though you knew it were your last meeting.

If one were to try to sell snuff without a license the police would pinch it.

The heart should be filled with beautiful dreams, the hands with beautiful deeds.

Good listeners are as rare as good talkers. "To talk well is talent, but to listen is a fine art."—Elliott's Magazine.

Reversing the Process.

"He might have been drunk or just having a fit," said the copper. "I own to a doubt and couldn't determine the least little bit, though I cudgeled his brains to find out."—Chicago Record.

Quicker.

He—Now, if you want money while you are away, dear, just write for it.

She—What's the matter with telegraphing?—N. Y. World.

WONDERFUL CAPE NOME.

Capt. Craigie Corroborates the Stories of the Rich Gold Diggings.

In a letter received recently Lieut. Wallace M. Craigie, Seventh United States infantry, now stationed at Cape Nome, Alaska, in charge of an army substation, says:

"Cape Nome, according to the old-timers, will be the greatest mining camp in the world. Nome City, as it is now called, is right on the coast of Behring sea, and extends for some miles along the shore. Along the beach the miners rock out gold and make from $5 to $50 or more a day one man. This sounds like a statement that admits of doubt, but it is a fact. One man told me himself he had worked with three others for 14 days, and they had rocked out just $6,000, all hard-earned gold, but they had it to prove the statement. Then up along the several creeks—Anvil, Discovery, Snow Gulch, etc.—the yield is really enormous. The famous claim here is known as No. 1, on Discovery, and has turned out about $1,000,000. A few days ago a nugget weighing 30 ounces was found, and about a month ago one weighing a little over 19 ounces was taken from the sluice boxes on the same claim. Some men have a centrifugal pump down on the beach below the town, and have sluice boxes running back to the soil, called tundra by the natives, which is filled with fine gold of a very pure quality.

"The thing that impressed me most was that in less than a month after the town started the 'diggings' was the circulating medium, and valued at $16 an ounce, although no official assay had been made. Men go out with their rockers and pans, and come back to town, and eat and drink, and pay for it with the result of the day's diggings. There are numerous propositions to interest men of capital, such as a good water supply system, electric light plants, and the man who can lay a trolley system up to the mines for transporting freight and supplies has the greatest and surest business venture of all. These are now carried by pack trains and freight wagons. Dogs are also used, they being able to carry about 40 pounds each. The town has increased in five months from about 250 to 3,000 inhabitants, and it is thought when navigation opens in the spring there will be 30,000 or 40,000 people here. Coal is $75 a ton, lumber $125 per 1,000; yet people are building and settling here. Our new quarters are very comfortable—frame covered with corrugated iron. We are all nicely settled for the winter. I am told the northern lights as seen here are beyond description, and the moon as bright and clear as crystal, which in a measure will have to make up for no day or sun. If our monthly mail scheme only proves successful there are many worse places than Cape Nome, even though so isolated and distant. We hope for great things in the spring; more United States troops and better facilities for communication with the outside world during the long fall and winter season."

One of the Heirs.

A certain amount of freshness is natural and desirable in youth, but there is a young man in social Washington who is offensively and incurably fresh. One day last week, however, he had a setback, which to most persons would have been ample for all purposes. He was at a tea, and had been presented to a young woman from Ohio who believes in heroic treatment of desperate cases, which she very soon perceived his to be. In the course of the conversation she suggested that something might be learned from the past.

"Oh," he said, "I am the heir of all the ages in the foremost files of time, and I can't waste my precious moments looking back, like Lot's wife."

"At least," she responded, with a sweet insinuation, "the result in the case of Lot's wife could scarcely be possible in yours."

"I don't quite understand," he said, groping for her meaning.

"Don't you remember she was turned into a pillar of salt?"

He understood it then, for a wonder, and somehow afterward the conversation lost interest for him.—Washington Star.

Another War Cloud.

She—Just think, dearest, only two more days and we shall be one.

He—Yes; and I want you to understand right now that I intend to be the one.—Chicago Daily News.

Dares Not Weep.

"She is a girl of very little feeling, I think. I notice that she never cries even at the most pathetic plays."

"No; her complexion won't permit."—Chicago Post.

Her Preference.

Minister—Now, little girl, you want to be a Christian, don't you?

Ethel—No, sir; I'd rather sing in the choir!—Puck.

Piercing Cries.

The air was filled with piercing cries. It was a flock of mosquitoes, with bills unsheathed, buzzing their way to attack a Jersey village.—N. Y. World.

"He That Any Good Would Win"

Should have good health. Pure, rich blood is the first requisite. Hood's Sarsaparilla, by giving good blood and good health, has helped many a man to success, besides giving strength and courage to women who, before taking it, could not even see any good in life to win.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

FIRE SALE
OF PIANOS.

Having made settlement with the insurance companies, we offer the entire stock of [illegible] which were in our warerooms at the time of our recent fire at great reductions in prices. Many of our finest [illegible] were not damaged at all. All these are included in our special sale. A few pianos were severely damaged. These we shall not offer for sale. Not a single piano will be sold that we do not fully warrant. The stock is the finest in Boston and comprises everything from the largest grand to second-hand squares at $50 to $75. Never has such a stock of pianos of the highest grade been offered at such tempting prices. Every [illegible] on our Rental Purchase Plan if desired, giving two and three years to complete payment. First selections will of course be [illegible]. Pianos purchased at this sale [illegible] delivered in the fall, if desired. [illegible] description by mail if you cannot call.

IVERS & POND PIANO CO.,
114 and 116 Boylston St. Boston.

The Wonderful Clam.

The clam's body is completely shrouded in the mantle except for two openings, through one of which the foot can be pushed out, while the other is for the siphon, what is commonly known as the "neck" of the clam. In some respects the clam may be better off than other folks; for he has a little brain in his foot. He also has a gland which secretes strong fibers, from which he spins a "byssus," and by it can attach himself to any object he likes. He does not have to search for food, but waits for it to come to him, and it always does. He makes for himself a burrow in the mud or sand and attaches himself to the bottom by this byssus. Then he thrusts his siphon up through the mud and water, and thus maintains communication with his world. The siphon has two tubes, the water flowing through one and out through the other. The clam lives on the minute organisms, animal and vegetable, found in the water—and gets a living that is so satisfactory to him that he has come to be adopted as a type of contentment and happiness.—Rockland Opinion.

Difficult Postal Service.

A Yukon mail carrier writes to the general superintendent at San Francisco, telling how he has had to sacrifice "celerity," one of the requirements of the "star" postal service, to "safety" in some recent experiences. On his arrival from the trip up Forty-Mile river he found the Yukon jammed with huge cakes of ice, which it was unsafe to cross because of the great holes through which a man or mail pouch might easily fall. Whenever any mail has gone to the bottom in an ice jam, he says, every man thereabouts feels certain that at least a dozen of his letters were in that particular pouch. So this carrier waited a favorable opportunity, which came on November 6, when his party started forth at daylight. They made ten miles before sundown, having two sleds loaded with 300 pounds each drawn by dogs. The ice was piled so high in some places that they had to chop a passage through it rather than attempt to go over. These are some of the difficulties that Uncle Sam's servants in the postal service have to surmount.—Youth's Companion.

A Good Plan.

Nomunn—I am having an awfully hard time. It's all I can do to keep the wolf from the door.

Cashless—Why don't you let him in and train him to keep your creditors out?—N. Y. World.

Best Part of the Trick.

"Yes," said the great magician, "my wife is much better than I am at making money disappear, but she hasn't learned yet how to make it reappear."—Philadelphia North American.

Discoveries.

Many important discoveries have been made during the present century—but the north pole still persists in remaining undiscovered. — Chicago Daily News.

Self-Inflicted.

Nine-tenths of the earthly punishment a man receives he inflicts on himself.—Chicago Daily News.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY, }

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the city of Toledo, county and state aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

{ SEAL. } A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75c.
Hall's Family Pills are the best

An Artist in Achievement.

"What's a lawyer?"

"A lawyer is a man who can make other people pay him for making them do as he tells them."—Chicago Record.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition; my skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying Electric Bitters, and to my great joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them; only 50c. per bottle at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store.

Pyny-Pectoral Soothes Sore Lungs [illegible]

Chilson's Market

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef,	10 to 12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe3-1yS

What is a Kopje?

No one who has not seen an African kopje can easily realize it. It is not a hill so much as the stump of a hill—what is left of it after ages of denudation; but the special feature of it is that it is almost invariably covered with a breastwork of bowlders. Tropical torrents have washed away the earth and all the soluble components of the rock, and what is left consists of heaps and lines of detached masses of sandstone, ironstone or granite. The kopjes are the Boers' fortifications, and they have any number of them.—Cardiff Western Mail.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer of 1125 Howard street, Philadelphia, Pa., when she discovered that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this royal cure: "It soon removed the pain in my chest, and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, chest or lungs. Price 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

A True Proverb.

"It's a true proverb," said the whale, after casting forth Jonah, "which says: 'It is hard to keep a man down.'"—Judge.

Red Hot From the Gun

Was the gun that hit G. B. Steadman of Newark, Mich., in the Civil War. It caused horrible ulcers that no treatment helped for 20 years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Cures cuts, bruises, burns, boils, felons, corns, skin eruptions. Best pile cure on earth. 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists.

Fine Feathers.

Fine feathers may not make fine birds, but with the assistance of the milliner they make fine bills.—Chicago Daily News.

WASHINGTON, D. C.
Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of Grain-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If people are interested in their health and the welfare of their children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all, but Grain O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it is solid grain.

Yours for health, C. F. Meyers.

To the Deaf.

A rich lady, cured of her deafness in the head by Dr. Nicholson's Artificial Ear drums, gave $10,000 to his institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the ear drums may have them free. Address No. 5095C, The Nicholson Institute, 780 Eighth avenue, New York, U.S.A. jl27

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

When you say your blood is impure and appetite poor you are admitting your need of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Begin taking it at once.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,
Jewelers and Opticians
16a MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.
Sign of the Electric Clock.

del Fly

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW
Enclosed · Arc · Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.
UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
F. L. BLANCHARD, Local supt.

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN
EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON.)

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-Ftf

--THE--
GREATER BOSTON
=Business Directory=
--And Register--
FOR 1900

Containing Lists of all Business Houses, City, State and United States Officials, Societies, Institutions, Etc.

With Street Directory and New Map.

Comprising also

Arlington, Brookline, Cambridge,
Chelsea, Everett, Hyde Park,
Malden, Medford, Milton,
Newton, Quincy, Somerville,
Waltham, Watertown, Winthrop.

956 PAGES. PRICE $3.00.

Mailed Promptly on Receipt of Price.

SAMPSON, MURDOCK & CO.,
155 Franklin St., Boston.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN
SAVINGS BANK,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, Jr., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, } Vice Presidents.
LESTER L. BURRINGTON, }
WALTER M. FISHER,
DR. GEORGE KING,
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a.m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p.m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, E. P. Chapman, B. M. Rockwood, George W. Wiggin, Charles Stewart.

STATEMENT JULY 31, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors		$511,150 11
Guarantee Fund		78,217 86
Profit and Loss Account		138 99
Interest Account		567 15
Real Estate Income Account		16 19
		$590,090 30

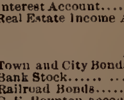
ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$87,051 25
Bank Stock		37,779 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
C. F. Boynton account		3,023 72
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,148 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		28,875 00
" " Mortgages		151,560 00
" " Personal Securities		109,851 18
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		34 97
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank..	$7,822 25
Nat. Bank of Redemption	4,095 58
Mercantile Trust Co....	84 16	12,001 99
Cash on hand		152 37
		$590,090 30

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

ADELBERT D. THAYER,
CHARLES STEWART,
Committee of Examination.

July 31, 1900.



Do You Want to Know about Automobiles—the different kinds their construction, care and operation—tours, runs, etc., of owners and users? If so, you should subscribe for the handsomely illustrated, thoroughly original, up-to-date automobile monthly.

$1 a year. 10c. a copy. Sample two 5c. sta'ps. Live Agents wanted.

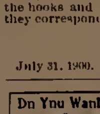
The Automobile
150 Nassau St., N.Y.

au10-F

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co.
Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

au17-4w



PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists.

au31-4w

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.

Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

PROPELLER LOOSE ON DECK.

Runaway Cannon of Hugo's "Ninety-Three" Duplicated on a Tramp Steamer.

The perils of the underballasted tramp, steaming to the westward with head gales lashing the seas into fury, furnish the marine reporters of nearly every Atlantic seaboard city, every winter, with columns of vivid stories. The tramp skipper is undaunted by the appalling dangers of his underpaid profession. The business of following the sea is the only one he knows anything about, and he must either risk starvation on shore or boldly face the manifold dangers of a rover of the oceans of the world, which little notes the loss of a tramp steamship here and there. When a tramp skipper loses his job—he never gives it up—there are a dozen or more applications for it, despite its perils and its meager pay.

All the smaller tramps that visit ports without facilities for providing or repairing machinery, carry usually on the main deck aft or between decks a spare propeller. There have been several instances in which tramps with these extra propellers have just escaped destruction in heavy weather. A little British tramp that came into New York from the Mediterranean several years ago had a spare propeller made fast between decks aft. One night, when she was within a few days of Sandy Hook, plunging and rolling in a cyclone, the propeller broke from its lashings, and began thundering about the deck. The only illumination aboard ship was by means of flickering kerosene lamps. The skipper and several of his crew went down into the gloomy space between decks and made an effort to check the erratic flight of the three-winged iron monster.

They were armed with wooden and iron bars and pieces of dunnage, which they tried to use as levers. It was difficult to keep the ship's head up in the swell. She persisted in dropping off, and every time she rolled the demon of a propeller rumbled across the steel deck, to port or starboard, threatening to smash through the ship's side. The skipper sent one of his men to the bridge to tell the officer in charge to try to keep the ship's head up, the movements of the propeller being less dangerous while the ship was pitching, but she wouldn't answer her helm. The mass of metal stopped at times just long enough to allow the skipper and his adventuresome men to get within reach of it. Then it stirred like a sentient thing, and apepared to spring at them. They saved themselves from injury by jumping aside, or leaping over it. At last, as the ship lurched heavily to port the propeller whirled down the inclined deck and smashed against the side. One of its blades went through a plate; it hung for a moment against a rib of the ship; then, loosening itself as the ship rolled and heeled to starboard, it bowled athwartship again. A fountain of sea water spurted through the hole made by the propeller blade as the tramp rolled to port again, and the propeller slid that way. A few more holes in the ship's side would have caused her to take in so much water that she would have been in danger of foundering, and the skipper began to wish that the propeller had gone all the way through and dropped into the sea.

There was one passenger aboard the tramp, a stout young fellow who had experience as a cowboy on the Texas plains. He had heard the booming of the spare propeller, and he went to the skipper and volunteered to check it in its mad course. At first it revealed itself only dimly to him, a huge, batlike shadow, under the faint and unsteady glow of the kerosene lamps. After the cowboy had become somewhat accustomed to the gloom and had spent a few moments dodging the propeller, he took a lasso, which he made of a hawser, and with the unerring aim of an expert bull puncher, he rung one of the blades with the noose. He made a turn with the other end around a winch, about amidships, and the propeller was subdued. Then the skipper and his men fell upon it as if it were a living thing, and with beams and bars, and chains and ropes they made it so fast that all the storms of the North Atlantic could not have broken it loose again.—Samuel A. Wood, in Ainslee's Magazine.

IN THE SHOP WINDOWS.

Many novelties in the line of lace-striped grenadines.

Fancy striped and figured effects in men's scarfs and English squares.

Many new ideas in ruchings and rufflings for millinery and dress trimmings.

Oxidized silver and gilt chain girdles with and without chatelaine attachment.

Many evening wraps in pastel shades trimmed with rich lace flouncings in wide widths.

Elaborate displays of figured India and high-grade wash silks for waists and costumes.

Beaded elastic belts in white, black and steel with variously shaped ornamental clasps.

Arabian, Marie Antoinette and renaissance lace curtains in new and effective designs.

White corded lawns, India linens, swisses, bastistes and mulls for midsummer costumes.

Many spring hats made of flexible straw braid trimmed with tissue materials and roses.

Leather-mounted traveling mirrors, flasks, bill books, jewel boxes, desk clocks and portfolios.

Parasols in light and dark colors showing elaborate appliques, of lace studded with steel beads.

Taffeta ribbons showing cannelle stripes, hemstitching, cords, open lace effects and fancy borders.

White, black and colored crocheted cuff links made of silk or cotton to be worn with wash shirt waists.—N. Y. Dry Goods Economist.

SCIENTIFIC MENTION.

The ministry of public instruction in France encourages art by an annual expenditure of $3,600,000. This includes the support of the Ecole des Beaux-Arts and ten other state schools of fine arts.

The Italian government has brought forward a bill authorizing the purchase of all the pictures in the Borghese collection. The government valuation of $700,000 is a very low one and is not at all commensurate with the treasures it contains.

Women physicians have established themselves all over Russia and they have achieved a respected position. Some of them are employed by the government, and since last year are entitled to a pension. Many of them occupy positions as country physicians, school physicians, physicians for the poor and as surgeons for the municipal ambulance system, etc.

Wherever land is valuable for agricultural purposes the fact that wire fences take up little space is becoming more and more recognized. Stone fences are often three to six feet wide, and therefore waste many acres of valuable soil on every farm. The zigzag fence wastes a considerable amount of land. The hedge is also wasteful and they may profitably all be torn down and replaced by wire fences, for the crops which could be obtained from the area thus reclaimed would soon pay for the fence.

Most Considerate Man.

"Yes; I think his marriage showed him to be a most considerate and kind hearted man."

"Considerate and kindhearted! Well I admit that she's not beautiful, but she's worth a mint of money, and wouldn't have suffered for a husband if he had never seen her."

"Oh, I don't mean that he showed consideration for her, but for his creditors."—Chicago Post.

It Looks Suspicious.

"I believe you have been secretly married to young Mr. Noodle," cried the irate father.

"How ridiculous!" replied his daughter.

"Well," said her sire, "he used to come here at eight o'clock and stay till 11:30, and now he doesn't get here until nine o'clock and leaves at 10:15."—Tit-Bits.

Busy.

It is first a nomination over which he has to fret,
And next it's on election that his ardent hopes are set.
And when he gets elected and there's nowhere else to climb,
He hustles to be chosen for the place another time.
In the midst of all these duties which a statesman cannot shirk
You wonder where he gets the time to do his office work.
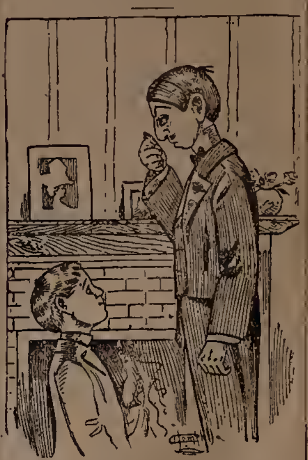
—Washington Star.

TRUTH DEARER THAN GLORY.



"Ah, so youah name is Gawge; named after Gawge Washington, I suppose."

"Yes, a long time after."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

The Mystery Solved.

She never smiles. Has frowning grief
With bonds of iron bound her?
Has care a long, lean finger raised,
To cast some spell around her?
Has one so young the lesson learned,
That true love is oft betrayed?
Ah, no! She never smiles because—
Her front teeth are decayed.
—Chicago Daily News.

A Great Saving.

Aunt Dinah—Whatfoah you weahs brack, Deacon Ebony? You am not a widower.

Deacon Ebony—I is economcial, honey. One brush do me foah a hat brush, ha'r brush, clothes brush, shoe brush and flesh brush.—N. Y. Weekly.

Why He Was Proud.

Magistrate (to prisoner)—You are charged with beating your wife.

Prisoner—Yes, yer honor, an' I'm proud of it.

Magistrate—Proud of it?

Prisoner—Because, yer honor, she weighs 20 pound more'n me.—Tit-Bits.

Unnecessary.

Mrs. Hiram Offen—Dinah, I hope you didn't forget to wash the fish before you put it in to bake.

New Servant—Mah Lan'! Whut fur Ah gwine wash a fish dat's a-libin' in de wahtah all bits life? — Catholic Standard and Times.

He Did Not Count.

"How many free lunches have you had this week, Snodgrass?" asked Skidmore.

"Sir," replied Skidmore, "I am a lunch eater, not a lunch counter."—Town Topics.

Poor Woman!

"Mrs. Jones has become an infidel—an unbeliever."

"Yes, she listened to so many stories from her husband, explaining his late hours, that she lost faith in everything!—N. Y. World.

Not Just What He Meant.

"Her face," he said, desiring to voice his admiration of her frankness and honesty, "is like an open book."

"Yes," replied her dearest friend, "she does talk a good deal."—Chicago Post.

Proved.

Patient — Look here; you've taken out the wrong tooth. This one is perfectly sound.

Dentist's Assistant (triumphantly)—And you distrusted my ability to take out even a loose one!—N. Y. World.

Everybody Knows About

Pain-Killer

A Household Medicine

A Safe and Sure Cure for

Cramps Coughs Bruises
Diarrhœa Colds Burns
Sprains and Strains.

Gives instant relief.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.

Only one Pain Killer, Perry Davis'.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

TRADE MARK.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

A Life of Excitement.

City Cousin—But don't you find it dreadfully dull?

Country Cousin—Dull? The idea! Why, there's the Epworth league one evening; and class meeting, another; and prayer meeting always on Wednesdays; and the Dorcas meeting, and the other means of grace. There's almost always something exciting going on after supper.—Brooklyn Life.

The Fever of Love.

They say that love is a fever,
Consuming night and day;
That from its sweet contagion
No mortal gets away!—
Yes, love's a fever every Man soon or late endures—
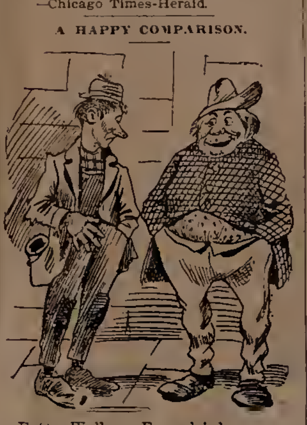
A fever absent treatment
Invariably cures!
—Chicago Times-Herald.

A HAPPY COMPARISON.



Fatty Walker—Ever drink any uv this Pollynarris water?

Slimmy Rhodes—Yep.

Fatty Walker—How did it taste?

Slimmy Rhodes—Jist like yer foot wuz asleep.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

A Discrepancy.

This thing they call money's a mystery stern.
The study—there's no way of ending it.
It's something that takes days of toiling to earn,
But a minute's sufficient for spending it.
—Washington Star.

Practical Preaching.

A certain minister during his discourse one Sabbath morning said: "In each blade of grass there is a sermon."

The following day one of his flock discovered the good man pushing a lawnmower about his yard and paused to say: "Well, Parson, I'm glad to see you engaged in cutting your sermons short."—Chicago Daily News.

A Crying Evil.

Mrs. Sparenotrod—Marjorie, it was for your own good that I punished you. There are some things that a mother knows best.

Marjorie (between sobs)—I don't see—I don't see why mothers couldn't all be grandmothers!—Puck.

Accusing the Accuser.

Knox—Your neighbor Jaggers seems to know a good deal of your early history; he says you ran away from home and got married.

Fox—He needn't talk; he got married and ran away from home.—Boston Courier.

The Same, with a Difference.

She—What a fitting token of married life is the wedding ring.

He—It is. A ring has no end; and it also has no beginning. It is absolutely without variety, and is much easier put on than taken off.—Harlem Life.

Teapot of No Importance.

"My cook broke three two-dollar teapots in one month."

"How dreadful!"

"Yes; then I bought a ten-cent one, and it has lasted a whole year."—Indianapolis Journal.

Not That Kind.

"So John is at college?"

"Yes."

"I suppose, then, he's busy sowing his wild oats?"

"No; John is at an agricultural college."—Town Topics.

FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Narrow strips of ticking tied to a piece of broom handle is the best whip to beat upholstered furniture.

In bridal veils two plaited fans of tulle are now used instead of the coronet arrangement. They stand upright upon the head as would an aigrette, and are placed one on either side of a tiny spray of orange blossoms. The fans must not be too tall or stiff.

Peanut butter is the latest of the many uses to which the little nut is put, and is becoming an important commercial product. Peanut butter is made by grinding the nuts very fine and reducing the mass to a pasty substance, a portion at least of the large amount of oil contained being removed. Some salt is added for flavoring, and the result is a cheap and nourishing spread.

To wash white veils take a lined saucepan, and in it make a strong solution of soap and water, put the veil into it and place over the fire to simmer for about 20 minutes; then squeeze the veil in warm soap and water till it is quite clean; rinse in cold water, then again in a little cold water, to which has been added a few drops of blue and one lump of sugar. Shake the veil gently and pin it on a clean towel to dry.

MUSICAL NOTES.

The Musical Record says: "There is the 'cello face, a mask of the deepest gloom. Cannot a man play the 'cello and yet seem, outwardly at least, reasonably happy?"

A novelty in comic opera is an exclusively male chorus, with all but one of the principals women. The book is by W. A. McConnell. This opera may be produced in New York next summer.

A monument is to be erected in Halle, England, to Robert Franz, an influential and highly representative committee, including many leading professors of the university, having recently been formed for this purpose.

A hymn tune, popular in England, is that by Rev. S. J. Stone, rector of All-Hallows church, London Wall, to the words "The Church's One Foundation." A story is told about this tune which involves no less a personage than the archbishop of Canterbury, who, visiting a certain parish in his official capacity was entertained at luncheon by the incumbent, who asked: "May I give your grace a little cold chicken?" Whereupon the archbishop replied, decisively: "No, you mayn't! Wherever I go they sing to me 'The Church's One Foundation,' and want me to eat cold chicken. I hate them both!"

Boom! Boom!

Friend—How's business?

Musician—Booming! I am playing the bass drum in Wagnerian opera.—N. Y. Journal.

"Delays Are Dangerous."

A small pimple on your face may seem of little consequence, but it shows your blood is impure, and impure blood is what causes most of the diseases from which people suffer. Better heed the warning given by the pimple and purify your blood at once by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine cures all diseases due to bad blood, including scrofula and salt rheum.

The non-irritating cathartic—Hood's Pills.

Broken Bric-A-Bracs.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man, of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's cement. The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are to expensive and do not allow large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $3.75 a pound, and another cost $2.65 a gallon while a large share of the so called cements and liquid glue, upon the market are nothing more than 16 cent glue, dissolved in water or citric acid, and in some cases, altered slightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials. Major's cement retails at fifteen and twenty-five cents a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make a larger profit. The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising which now amounts to $5000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876. Insist on having Major's. Don't accept any off hand advice from a druggist. If you are at all handy (and you will be likely to find that you are more so than you imagine) you can repair your rubber boots and family shoes, and other rubber and leather articles, with Major's rubber cement and Major's leather cement. And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will save. If your druggist can't supply you, it will be fowarded by mail; either kind. Free of postage.

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Shake into your shoes Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It cools the feet and makes tight or new shoes feel easy. Cures corns, bunions, swollen, smarting, hot, callous, sore and sweating feet. Allen's Foot Ease relieves all pain and gives rest and comfort. We have over 30,000 testimonials. It cures while you walk. Try it today. All druggists and shoe stores sell it, 25c. Sample sent free. Address Allen M. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Jell-O, the New Dessert,

pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m, 12 50, 6 05, 9 38 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m, 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m, 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a. m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m, S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 36 p m.

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	10c
5 to 15 miles,	15c
15 to 25 "	20c
25 to 35 "	25c
35 to 45 "	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.

33-tf

G.A. Martin, M.D.,

..AND...

C.B.Hussey, M. D.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL.

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J.Gallison, M.D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours: From 2 to 3 p. m., and by appointment.

92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.

18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,

....BOSTON.

Telephone 1839.

A FINE LINE OF

Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

On the Stool of Repentance

is where you will find yourself during summer's sultry days unless you clear your complexion and cool your blood by purifying it with

Dana's Sarsaparilla

50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Bright eyes and a clean, clear skin, as well as an elastic step and good spirits, comes from ridding the blood of impurities with this reliable blood purifier.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

A very quiet wedding was [illegible] at the residence of Mr Henry [illegible] horn Wednesday evening, [illegible] his eldest daughter, Bertha [illegible] Hartshorn, was united in marriage to Joseph Graven Schmadl of North Attleboro. The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by Rev F. L. Masseck of North Attleboro, only the immediate families being present. Under a marriage bell of asters, with a background of green and white flowers, the happy pair received their friends from 8 to 10 o'clock. The bride wore a handsome gown of blue and white foulard silk, while the groom wore the conventional black. On the lawn in front of the house a booth had been erected, made of chestnut and maple boughs, where refreshments were served. There was a fine display of presents, a magnificent set of table silver being given by the shopmates of the groom, while from the firm came an equally fine set. Other articles were in china and glass, with many fine pieces of table linen together with $75 in money. After a short wedding journey on the Cape, Mr and Mrs. Schmadl will reside in North Attleboro.——Miss Anna Jelleson and Mr. Arthur B. Patterson were quietly married at their summer cottage at Lake Pearl yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, the ceremony being performed by Rev F. A. Brooks of Boston.

Working Night and Day.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar coated globule of health that changes weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co.

Much Area But Few Inhabitants.

Russia's Asiastic possessions are three times the size of Great Britain's, but hold only 23,000,000 inhabitants, as compared with England's 297,000,000 subjects.—N. Y. World.

Headache

Biliousness, sour stomach, constipation and all liver ills are cured by

Hood's Pills

The non-irritating cathartic. Price 25 cents of all druggists or by mail of C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

If you want to buy or sell anything, have lost anything or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent a word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow.

MARTIAL STRAINS.

New contracts with the United States government allow army surgeons pay during authorized absences.

A skull and crossbones is the somewhat grim emblem adopted by Capt. Montmorency's scouts in South Africa.

Deducting dubious vessels, the completed battleships of England now number 36 and those of France and Russia 38.

For new shops at the Philadelphia naval station $1,000,000 will be expended. Thirty-two structures will be added to the League Island plant, giving facilities to turn out ships of war.

Several new ten-inch guns mounted on disappearing carriages have been placed in the fortifications guarding San Francisco harbor. Experts say the harbor is now proof against anything that may try to steam into it.

Tired Mothers

who want an easy and quick answer to the daily question, "What shall we have for dinner or for supper or for breakfast?" should take the Boston Daily and Sunday Globe.

Every day the Globe publishes a simple, inexpensive and nice bill of fare for a breakfast, a dinner and a supper. This is specially prepared by an experienced, skilled and economical housekeeper.

In addition, the choicest recipes from the skilled cooks of the homes of New England are printed every day, and any special recipes wanted by any woman are readily supplied.

In fact, the Globe is a daily cook book for the housekeepers of New England.

The housekeepers' department in the Globe every day tells you how to get rid of pests, how to take care of plants flowers and animals, how to do fancy work, etc., etc., etc. Order the Globe at once of your newsdealer and try it.

His Daily ...

"And they say you drove that rich man to drink?"

"Yes, sir, but I couldn't help it."

"Couldn't help it! What do you mean?"

"He made me, sir. I was his coachman."—Harlem Life.

Some are Left;
They are Waiting.

THOSE

HAMMOCKS

put on sale at reduced prices are lightly swaying as an occasional breeze wafts inward through our ever-open doors. All that remain will be sold at 25 per cent. discount straight. Regular Hammock season and we will close it with our usual liberality.

You pay $1.50 for a nice $2 Hammock or pay $2.25 for a better $3 Hammock.

All LAWN FURNITURE is being rapidly closed out at the same reduction.

REFRIGETORS for $12, been selling at $16.
Cheaper boxes at the same cut rate, 25 per cent. off.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free Delivery at your home the hour you name.

Final Clearance Sale.

SHIRT WAISTS AT HALF PRICE.

Shirt Waists worth 50c., now 19c.
Shirt Waists, assorted Percales, were $1.00, now 49c.
Black Shirt Waists, were $1.00, now 75c.
Black Shirt Waists, were $1.98, now $1.39.
White Shirt Waists, were $1.75, now 87c.

Ladies will find our store a pleasant and convenient place to wait for the electrics.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.

BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH

Church Services.

Universalist church.—Rev Dwight M. Hodge, D D., pastor, will preach at 10.30; subject, "The Judgments of Men." Y. P. C. U. at 6; subject, "The Transmission of Power;" leader, Mrs H. B. Haslam.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 4. Sunday school at 3. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev M. J. Lee, rector.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath. Sunday school at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30. Evening service at 7.30; preaching by the pastor; theme, "Are You Like the Nine?"

Baptist church.—At 10.30 preaching by the pastor, Rev. Frank B. Sleeper; theme, "The Practical Heroism of the Good Samaritan." Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.15. Preaching at 7.30; theme, "Soul Liberty." Short after service in the vestry.

Methodist church.—Preaching at 10.30 and 7.30 by the pastor, Rev. S. A. Cook; morning subject, "Ambassadors for Christ," evening subject, "The Principle of Accommodation." Sunday school at 12. Epworth league at 6.30; subject, "Our Simple Duty;" leader, J. T. Hutchinson, Jr.

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending September 5, 1900:

Ladies—Mrs J. C. Boyington (2), Mrs. Jas. P. Danovan, Mrs. Ella Fitzpatrick, Miss S. J. K. Southworth.

Gentlemen—Rev. G. W. Adams (book), Fred Hans, J. A. Hartingensis, S. Howard, Jason Lowell, James McFarlon.

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

The Acorn and the Oak.

"When I heard your son reading his graduation essay I could not help thinking of the mighty oak and the little acorn."

"Why? He didn't mention them anywhere in his paper."

"No. But the grandeur of his style and the way he held himself kept reminding me of the mighty oak."

"And where did the acorn come in?"

"You were there, you know."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Yarmouth, N. S., as a Summer Resort.

One of the most delightful of short sea trips is to Yarmouth, N. S., the western gateway to the Arcadian province. With fine hotels, drives, picturesque scenery and excellent harbor for boating and fishing, Yarmouth is one of the most attractive of summer places. Since the Yarmouth steamship company reduced the round trip rate to Yarmouth to $8 the travel over the Yarmouth line steamers to that port has greatly increased. There are four steamers each way each week, and a trip to Yarmouth in August means that the heat of the Atlantic seaboard is escaped. For particulars inquire at the tourist agencies, 201, 296 or 332 Washington street, or of H. F. Hammond, agent of the Yarmouth line, 43 Lewis wharf, Boston.

Hoag Lake

PARK.

WEEK OF SEPT. 3

Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.15.

Boom's Rialto Company

GATES and LEROY, In a travesty sketch.
DECAMEO, Eccentric Juggler.
CORA, The Canine Wonder.
ALEXANDER and MORTON, In a Comedy Musical Act.
MADELINE BURDETTE, The Sweet-Voiced Soprano.
RAE and BENDTTO, In their great extortion act on an extension ladder.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je29-toe1

Woonsocket Opera House,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

OSCAR F. OGDEN, - Lessee and Manager.

TUESDAY NIGHT, SEPT. 11

Liebler & Co.'s Superb Production.

THE CHRISTIAN

Prices—$1.00, 75, 50, 25c. Seats now on sale.

THURSDAY, SEPT 13. The heart-interest play, as great as the Old Homestead, THE VILLAGE POSTMASTER. Prices 75, 50, 25. Seats on sale Tuesday, Sept. 11.

SATURDAY, SEPT 15, Matinee and Night.—Lewis Morrison's great spectacular play of FAUST.

LITERARY SMALL TALK.

New periodicals to the number of 276 were started in the United Kingdom last year, and 132 publications were discontinued. London's newspapers magazines and miscellaneous periodicals at present number 2,240.

Kate Sanborn, in New York Times, gives a list of nearly 100 women writers for whom she claims the rare quality of humor. The list begins with Lady Ashburton and ends with Kate Douglas Wiggin.

Switzerland, in proportion to the number of inhabitants, produces more books than any other country, the proportion being one book to every 3,000 Swiss. In our own country the proportion is one to every 12,000.

Charles Major, who less than two years ago was a struggling lawyer in the Shelby county (Ind.) bar, and who was made wealthy by his book, "When Knighthood Was in Flower," has just paid $17,000 for a farm near Shelbyville.

"The Battle of the Baltic," "Ye Mariners of England," and "Hohenlinden" are three of the best martial poems ever written. As Sir Philip Sidney said of the ballad of Chevy Chase, they "stir the heart like a trumpet."

A man rumaging around in an old Philadelphia book store a few days ago discovered a couple of first of the century exploration books. They were by MacKenzie, and told of his two journeys to the northwest. He carried them away for 70 cents. He found that the market value of the books is $35.

In view of the celebration in Italy in 1904 of the six hundredth anniversary of the birth of Petrarch, Signor Salvo-Cozzo, principal librarian of the Biblioteca Nazionale, Palermo, is preparing a bibliography of all the poet's own writings and of the various works that have been published regarding him.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

ARE YOU Looking for CHOICE CONFECTIONERY, always fresh?
ARE YOU Looking for CHOICE CIGARS?
ARE YOU Ever THIRSTY?

We have Confectionery from 20c. to 50c. per lb., Cigars from 2c. to 20c. each, and our Soda is simply delicious.

Just come in and try us once.
We know you will come again.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

THE PRICE IS LOW . .
MERELY A WHISPER . .
LISTEN! . . . . . .

29c.

LADIES' COLORED SHIRT WAISTS, 29 CENTS.

WORTH 50 CENTS. Sizes 36 and 38 only.

Butterick Patterns and Publications.

N. C. NYE.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-8

Coal! Coal!

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-8

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-1fS

You May Not Live Another Month

The man who begrudges the money it costs to insure his life to a reasonable amount is not only selfish, but he fails to recognize one of the first duties he owes his family.

ARE YOU THE MAN?

W. S. JOHNSON, Special Agent

The Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York.

jly27-1mF

Something New...

Have you stopped to think of the pleasure something new always brings with it? A dress, a ring, a piece of furniture—no matter what it may be, inspiration and bright spirits follow along in its wake. Especially if it's Furniture. Every time you sit in the soft chair or stretch out on the soft couch it makes you happy. This is a happiness which every one can afford while we have the stock we have and charge the prices we do.

Our Terms:

$10 worth, $1 down, 50c. a week.
$25 worth, $2.50 down, 75c. a week.
$50 worth, $5 down, $1 a week.
$75 worth, $7.50 down, $1.25 a week.
$100 worth, $10 down, $1.50 a week.
$125 worth, $15 down, $2 a week.
$150 worth, $25 down, $2.25 a week.
$200 worth, $40 down, $2.50 a week.
$250 worth, $50 down, $3 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor

OPEN DAILY FROM 9 A. M. TO 11 P. M.

BAND CONCERT
EVERY THURSDAY EVEMING.
Admission 10 cents. Dancing free.

Sacred Concert and Clam Bake
EVERY SUNDAY
till further notice. Admission 10 cents.

— DANCING —
Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday Evenings.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

JUST RECEIVED, A NEW LINE OF

Blanks, Pads,
Tablets, Pencils,
School Bags, Etc.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

At WOODWARD'S every description of INSURANCE can be placed. This AGENCY officially represents the LEADING American and Foreign COMPANIES.

P. A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass

my4-lyF

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, SS.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Oliver Everett, late of Wrentham, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by Elbridge J. Whitaker of Wrentham, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said county of Norfolk, on the twelfth day of September, A. D. 1900, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esq., Judge of said Court, this twenty-second day of August, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

au24,31,se7 JONATHAN COBB, Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, SS.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Richard H. Dimond, late of Wrentham, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said court for probate by John H. Dimond of Wrentham, who prays that letters of administration with the will annexed may be issued to him, or some other suitable person, the executor named in said will having declined to serve,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the nineteenth day of September, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this twenty-ninth day of August, in the year nineteen hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

au31,se7,14

Hattie M Fisher 1Jan01

The

VOL. XXIII. NO. 73.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Mortgagee's Sale	4
Hoag Lake Park	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9:00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 00 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Editor Johnson and family will arrive home this evening.

Miss Alice Keefe of Attleboro visited relatives in town Sunday.

The new engine for the Singleton Worsted company has arrived.

The public library is open regular hours since the August closing.

Mrs. Annie Potter of Howard street is confined to her home by illness.

Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., will hold a regular meeting next Friday evening.

Richard Kennedy of Hopedale spent Sunday with his parents on Main street.

The infant daughter of Mrs. John Creighton of Howard street is seriously ill.

Dean academy opened this morning with a largely increased attendance of pupils.

Mrs. Rathbun and Mrs. Walker of Fall River, spent the Sabbath with Mrs. S. C. Bourne.

The Young Giants defeated the Hayward second nine, 15 to 10, Saturday afternoon.

Chester Cobb, a former Franklinite, is spending a few days' vacation with old friends.

Miss Emma Bradley of Somerville is visiting her sister, Mrs. P. Lennon, of West street.

Miss Lydia Pedan of Arlington street entertained Miss Edith Merwin of Caryville Sunday.

The American band orchestra will furnish music for dancing at Hoag lake on Friday evening.

A goodly number enjoyed the clambake and band concert at Lake Pearl Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Cody of West street is visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Sullivan, at Brighton.

Joseph Shay of Salem visited at the home of his brother, Daniel Shay of Cottage street, Sunday.

The Ladies' Social circle of the Universalist church will meet in the church parlor tomorrow afternoon.

Joseph P. Bassett has been chosen to fill the vacancy which existed in the Republican town committee.

The Republican voters will meet in caucus at the town hall on Tuesday, September 25, at 7.30 p. m.

Bouncing twin boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis W. Coughlin of Washington street Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Hopkins and son of Providence, R. I., are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Haslam.

Mrs. Annie Johnson of Rockland is the guest of her son, August Johnson, at his home on Howard street.

Miss Mary McGroary of Pawtucket is enjoying a week's vacation at the home of her parents on Ruggles street.

Miss Minnie Sullivan of Dean avenue, returned home Friday after spending a week's vacation at Manchester, N. H.

The selectmen will hold a meeting on Friday. Dr. Gallis man, is expected back from week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. C turned from Onset, where t a week's vacation at Miss M cottage.

Harry Boocock of Hu will leave town this week for ed visit with friends and re England.

Miss Mary Hutchinson, a the class of F. H. S, 1900, mence studies at Mount Ho this week

Flowers for the Alden left this week with Miss Wiggin, Mrs. Sneath and Stewart.

The Middlesex and Nor grange will hold their nex Norfolk tomorrow morning, 10 o'clock.

The democratic town co applied for the town hall pose of holding a caucus Th tember 27.

Mr. and Mrs. John Murray of Brooklyn, N. Y., are gues Peter McDonald, at her res Winter street.

Walter W. Mack, who has h manager at Hoag lake for the p weeks, has resigned to accept with W. Dinsmore.

Mrs. Mary Holmes has resig position as designer in Bassett' shop. Mrs. Holmes occupied the tion since last October.

The Sullivan family at Caryville charge of the state, have all recover except one daughter, who is not expected to live many days.

There is considerable complaint in regard to the transmission of newspapers through the mails, the delay being at times from 12 to 36 hours.

Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath delivered the address at an open air meeting in Milford, on last Sabbath afternoon, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Photographer R. J. Calkin will attend the convention of the Photographers' Association of New England, which opens at Copley hall, Boston, tomorrow.

Mrs. William Chilson of Hyde Park and Miss Rose Dorrington of Blackstone were guests of Miss Mary McGroary at her home on Ruggles street Sunday.

The summer time, with the Saturday afternoon holiday at the Bassett Bros.' straw goods factory, changed yesterday to the regular 10 hours a day schedule.

The balance of the furniture in the Briggs boarding house will be disposed of by D. W. Corson & Co. at auction in Opera house block next Friday evening.

The appearance of Maple street is greatly improved by the mowing of the brush on the side of the road, which has been much needed for some time past.

Warren King, who recently returned from a visit in Maine, and who was taken ill while away, is now reported in a critical condition at his home on Chestnut street.

A large delegation of Franklin Christian Endeavorers attended the fall meeting of the Norfolk Christian Endeavor union at Foxboro Saturday afternoon and evening.

The Mendon Conference will meet with the First Congregational church, on Wednesday, October 17. Mr. Sneath is engaged at present in securing speakers for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Blake, who were joined in wedlock at Brunswick, Me., last week, visited at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oramel Blake, on Sunday.

Miss Mary Murphy of Fisher street and Miss Annie Connors of Alpine place have accepted positions in the Hood Rubber company's works at Watertown and left for that place Sunday.

Alex. Ewen, who has been spending the summer in New Hampshire, was in town a short while today, greeting old friends. He enters upon his second year at Amherst next week.

If reports are true a certain young man in town who has been "long" on cotton, reaped a harvest yesterday during the temporary panic occasioned by the terrible news from Texas.

The Ladies' Benevolent society of the Congregational church will meet in the parlor tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Supper will be served at 6 30; tickets at usual price. Social in the evening.

The Epworth league will hold a business and social meeting at the home of Miss Mary Bright, on Central street, Wednesday evening. A committee will be appointed at this meeting to nominate officers for the ensuing year.

A beautiful bouquet of gladiolus adorned the altar of the Methodist church last Sabbath. They were from the farm of J. Warner Clark of Millis. Mr. Clark takes all the first prizes yearly on gladiolas at the horticultural exhibition in Boston.

u
B
Lo
for per
Fred

Ant month in takin atesta, a money a in the crim day and fo short delibe for sentence.

The Young La with St. Mary's chu noon at 4 o'clock in was a good attendance and senior branches. juniors will meet with th make one large sodality, whic charge of Sister Vincent. C Sunday will be the first Sunday month.

Miss Lillian Cleveland, daught George R. Cleveland, who was rep as missing last week, has returned to home of her parents. On Friday s left the house ostensibly to go to schoo but instead took an electric car fo Hoag lake. She returned on Saturday and was visiting friends in town when her parents were made aware of her whereabouts.

There is some friction about the transportation of school pupils to the center schools, and some of the parents certainly have an erroneous idea in the belief that the law requires the school authorities to furnish transportation direct from the door of each household. A reasonable distance would be a consideration in the matter, the same as in the location of a schoolhouse.

The first game of the series of three games for a cup, offered by Mr. A. Blakely Smith, of Providence, was played on the links of the Franklin Country club, Saturday afternoon, as follows: Sherman 92, Rathbun 94, C. Ray 95, Bassett 101, Nye 110, Chapman 111, Woodward 111, G. Gilmore 111, Palmer 112, Rockwood 113, Ramsey 114, Thayer 115, W. Ray 117, Stanton 148.

Witty dialogue, catchy songs, charming dances, big novelty acts and up-to-date specialty features are the inducements offered to theatre-goers by Murray and Mack in their famous farce comedy, "Finnigan's Ball," tomorrow evening. The American Band orchestra, with Mrs. Tracy, pianist, are engaged to furnish music, and will play their new and popular airs in connection with the show.

Friends of temperance and especially of the soldiers are startled at the statement made by General Horatio C. King, president of the New York State Board that has control of the Soldiers' Home at Bath, N. Y. In an official letter to Governor Roosevelt, he says that of the more than $100,000 paid last year in pensions to the inmates of that institution, "it is not an overestimate to state that at least 90 per cent. was spent for intoxicants." It seems incredible.

An editor of an exchange says: "If newspaper subscribers would only pay their bills as they do almost any of their other expenses, there would be better papers and more prosperous and happy i th me frie polit gume down t never spe noticable argue are and probabl another thing

Usually a hat
This is among tics certainly ha well as a serious

Boom's Trans-

The show at Hoa consists of Boom's Tra the programme is as fo McGinleys, sensational Williams and Williams, bl edy sketch; Miss Emma K donna; Murphy and Will sketch, "Doughnuts;" Gilb imitator of voices and animals phys, acrobatic comedy sketc show will be presented every afte and evening and bids fair to be as en taining as anything given at the la this summer.

The Proposed Y. M. C. A.

Quite a number of representative business men were present last evening at the adjourned meeting held for the organization of a local branch of the Y. M. C. A. Plans were suggested and discussed, and a committee of three was appointed to draw up articles of association and find suitable rooms for meeting. The committee will report Saturday evening, when it is expected that organization will at once follow.

Two chairs at Ochee's barber shop. Accomplished hair dresser in attendance. Short waits.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse.

We wish to the friends many acts of kin of Miss Titcomb.

MA
NAT

Notice Photogr

On and after Wednesday further notice, my studio w while I am in attendance at tion of the P. A. of N. E., whe to get the latest in the art for my

CALKIN, Photograph
Depot stre

Get your round-trip Boston, Providence and Milford tickets of Charles H. Prince at the SENTINEL office.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

Two n
39 Dean avenue.
709.

OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and ...solene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied ...s are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABIL... ...CONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABIL... ...the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever? ...LT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.

...England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.

...OM THE ORIENT

CARPETS

Goods right prices right workmanship right everything right.

We do by far the largest business in Boston in

Carpets and Upholstery.

What do you suppose the reason is?

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS CO.,
658 Washington Street, 658
Opp. Boylston St.,
BOSTON.

...he ...gn of pros... spite ...le the ...in Brit... ...ry in let... ...t of Mary ...he unlucky ...with Philip ...as never seen ...Victoria, and ...for centuries. ...en on the throne ...to inspire all the ...there is in the na... ...rhaps that fact fur... ...ate explanation why ...n under female rulers. ...Ledger.

...have Meant Brains.

...th My darling, my own. ...nsent to wed me. I shall ...rable existence by blowing ...ains with a revolver ...e Pyth— I didn't know you had

... I bought a new six-shooter to

...'t mean the revolver."—Harlem Life.

...were ...In ...Phi... [illegible]

Mistakes Will Happen.

[illegible] the ...mistakes. This is probable, but we ...d be ...to make as many new ...Times.

"Hit the Nail On the Head."

If you have eruptions, pains in the head or kidneys, stomach trouble and ...of weariness, "Hit the nail on the head." Hood's Sarsaparilla is the ...ment ... It will purify your blood. ... for doing this and ... the whole body healthy.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints.

...on. ...weet ...ning! ...it he ...o many ...narrow ...ning. He ...h but a fool, ...ing from his ...ess, with only ...on his shoulders, ...and into the court... heard the sound of ...oaching; perhaps he nothing more in order ...danger; at all events, he ...rst horse he could find, ...n it bareback, and rode for ...moment too soon. He had galloped out of the courtyard ...several armed men hurriedly into it. Gallet met them at the ...nce. He had seen them a short ...before from his hayloft at the ...when they were preparing for ...eir murderous errand, and whence ...had run to warn his "sweet friend" William. He knew them and their purpose. "Ha, ha!" he cried, with mad glee, "you're late, my sirs; you're late. The duke is gone! William is off! Your stroke has missed! But hark ye: bide a bit. He will pay you! You made him pass a bad night he will make you see an ill day." And then he capered derisively about them. — St Nicholas.

Victim of Strategy.

Wife—George, are you going to the club to-night?

Husband Yes, my love. I really don't care to go, but it is an important meeting, and it would hardly do for me to absent myself.

"What time do you expect to return home?"

"By 11 o'clock at the latest."

"Well, on your way just stop for me at the Weman's Twentieth Century club, on Keener street; I'll be sure to wait for you." —Richmond Dispatch.

Official Indignation.

Quick as a flash the man snatched her purse and was off with it. Directly behind her, not 20 yards away, stood a policeman who had witnessed the crime. She turned to him, crying frantically "Robber! robber!"

In a few moments the policeman stood beside her

"Say!" he cried "Don't you yell 'Robber' at me!"

His indignation was but natural, for wasn't it not his duty, after all, to see just such things? Philadelphia Press

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Great Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people every where. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

When doctors fail, try Burdock Blood Bitters. Cures dyspepsia, constipation, invigorates the whole system

People in Mild Climates.

...people over 100 years old are ...in mild climates than in the ...er latitudes. According to the ...census of the German empire, of ...population of 555,000,000 only 78 have passed the hundredth year. France, with a population of 40,000,000, has 213 centenarians. In England there are 146, in Ireland 578, and in Scotland 46. Sweden has ten and Norway 23, Belgium 5, Denmark 2, Switzerland none. Spain, with a population of 18,000,000, has 401 persons over 100 years of age. Of the 2,250,000 inhabitans of Servia, 575 have passed the century mark. It is said that the oldest person living is Bruno Cotrim, born in Africa and now living in Rio de Janeiro. He is 150 years old. A coachman in Moscow has lived for 140 years.—Boston Budget.

The Easiest Way.

Stern Papa—So that young whippersnapper, Smith, wants to marry you?

Daughter—Yes, papa. What did you say?

"I didn't say anything. I wouldn't listen to him."

(In tears)—"Oh, papa, when you—"

"Don't you begin now. I won't have it. That's why I shut him up. What do I want to hear a whole lot of promises and prospectus talk and half-page advertising business about what he will do, and all that, for? I don't. Go 'long and get married, if you want to, and the Lord have mercy on you. I'll give you a check for $25,000 on your wedding day, so you can be just as sassy to him as you want to be. Run along now, and don't bother me."—Detroit Free Press.

The Four Most Populous Nations.

For a decade or two longer the United States must be content to remain in the fourth place in point of population among the nations of the earth. China, despite the encroachments upon her territory, still holds the lead, with 402,680,000 men, women and children within her borders; the British empire comes next, with 381,037,874 subjects, including the dusky fanatics of the Soudan, and the Russian empire is third, 129,211,113 persons owing allegiance to the czar.—N. Y. Sun

Curious Wanderings of Smoke.

During the volcanic eruption in the Hawaiian islands last summer the smoke rose to a height of between five and six miles and then drifted away to the northeast. At a distance of 600 miles from Hawaii it settled upon the surface of the sea, and was then carried back by the northeast wind to its place of origin, where it arrived a fortnight after its original departure, and covered the entire group of islands with its heavy pall. Youth's Companion.

Now that the most successful tourist season on record is over, the Plant Line is offering to late vacationists as well as native Provincialists who wish to visit the old home practically half rates during the month of September The points covered are Halifax, Hawkesbury, Charlottetown and Sydney In many respects there is no time equal to the autumn in the Provinces. The air is pure and bracing, yet not too cold, as many imagine One very desirable feature is the general absence of fog along the coast and the autumn foliage makes the scenery all the more grand The ships stop at the various ports sufficiently long to enable passengers to go sight seeing All details may be obtained of J A Flanders, New England agent, 290 Washington street, Boston, or E. H Downing, agent, 20 Atlantic avenue, Boston.

I Know One Sure Remedy
for an obstinate cold Its name is Pyny Pectoral.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE
NEW YORK WORLD
THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

18 Pages a Week . . .
. . . 156 Papers a Year
FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

News and Opinions
OF National Importance.

THE SUN
ALONE
CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun
Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.
Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.
Address THE SUN, New York

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW
Enclosed · Arc · Lamps
Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.
MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.
Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.
UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE,
McCARTHY STREET
22-1y

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED
ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.
Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

Business Announcements in the conta... [illegible] the SUN ... are invariably ...

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

STRANGE ATLANTIC FISH.

Aquatic Specimens That Were Supposed to Be Extinct Again Making Their Appearance.

Nearly 21 years ago, in May, 1879, Capt. Kirby, of Gloucester, Mass., in command of the schooner William V. Hutchins, was almost directly south of Nantucket seeking hake and cod, when his crew commenced to take great numbers of "a strange and handsomely colored fish." With the conservatism that marks fishermen, most of these strangers were thrown overboard, but Capt. Kirby kept a few and cooked them for his own table. He found it one of the finest fishes he had ever eaten, and determined to keep all that were taken thereafter, so when the schooner came in at Gloucester it brought some 2,000 pounds of the new fish. Messrs. Friend & Son bought the lot and disposed of their purchase in various ways. Capt. Kirby sent one of the fish to the National museum, where Dr. G. Brown Goode and Dr. Tarleton H. Bean examined it and pronounced it a tile fish, but a new genus and species. The fine appearance of the new fish, its delicious taste and bountiful abundance seemed to promise a valuable addition to our food products, and Prof. Baird, then United States commissioner of fish and fisheries, was much interested in this new factor in the resources of the sea.

In 1880 the fish commission steamer Fish Hawk was completed, and the scientific exploration of the bottom life off our coasts was begun with facilities unattainable before. It was found that the coast fell away gradually until the water was about 100 fathoms deep, and then declined very suddenly. To use Prof. Verrill's words, the slope beyond the 100-fathom line is "usually as steep as the side of a great mountain chain and about as high as Mt. Washington." Off the southern coast of Massachusetts this slope is very near the gulf stream, and it has a fauna unsurpassed in the world in scientific interest. The gulf stream brings stragglers from the tropics and the cold arctic currents bring beings whose normal habitat lies in the polar region, and the result is a naturalist's paradise. The tile fishes belong in warm water, and the gulf stream was no doubt responsible for their being so far north.

For three years the tile fish was a source of wealth to the fishermen, and then a sudden catastrophe befell the industry, the exact nature of which may never be known. During March and April, 1882, vessels entering New York and other Atlantic ports reported passing great numbers of dead fish on the northern edge of the gulf stream. They proved to be tile fish, and investigation showed that they covered an area 170 miles long and 23 miles wide. The fish commission chartered the schooner Josie Reeves for an investigating tour, but the vessel returned without having taken a single specimen. This unprecedented destruction of animal life attracted wide attention among the newspapers and scientific journals, and from the data collected Capt. J. W. Collins of the fish commission estimated the number of dead fish at 1,438,720,000, a number that would be sufficient to give every man, woman and child in the country 288 pounds of fish, allowing ten pounds to each fish. Prof. Verrill attributed this destruction to a very severe storm that prevailed at that time and probably drove the icy cold water near shore into the area usually covered by the warm water of the outer margin of the gulf stream. Not a single individual seemed to have escaped, and the tile fish was placed provisionally in the list of extinct animals.

On February 8, 1897, the 78-ton schooner Mabel Kenniston was overtaken by a gale while on Georges bank and was blown about 120 miles to the westward. The exact position is not known, but it was about 140 miles southwest of No-Man's-Land, when haddock trawls were let down in 65 fathoms of water. When these were brought in, 30 tile fish, weighing from five to fifteen pounds each, were taken and were landed in Gloucester a few days later.

In 1898 the fish were taken in considerable numbers, and in 1899 they were almost as abundant as ever, many young specimens being found. This latter point is important, as indicating that the fish are breeding on their old ground and are not mere stragglers.

The extermination and re-establishment of the tile fish is of more than scientific interest. The fisheries are a source of great wealth to our country, and everything that can throw light on them should be welcomed. The mysterious destruction of these fish points to a line of investigation that should be encouraged, in the hope that such catastrophe may be averted in the future.—Boston Transcript.

Incandescent Lamps Used.

What is the annual consumption of incandescent lamps in this country? A recent statement placed the number at 60,000,000, but this is obviously much too high. The carefully prepared estimate of the incandescent lamp business of the United States for the year 1899, which appeared in the New Year's number of the Western Electrician, showed that the volume of business was $2,700,000. Assuming an average price as low as 17 cents a lamp, the number produced is less than 16,000,000. Probably 15,000,000 is very near the exact figures representing the total output of the factories. Similarly the domestic output in 1898 was about 12,000,000 lamps. The number of incandescent lamps imported is so small that it does not affect the calculation to an appreciable degree.—Western Electrician.

ABOUT POSTAGE STAMPS.

It is reported that the one-cent I. R. inverted has been counterfeited in Italy and sent to this country for sale.

The British penny postage stamp has resumed its former red color, in order to comply with the provisions of the Universal Postal union. The half-penny (which corresponds with our one-cent stamp) is green.

In order to keep up with the times—or rather, to be a little ahead of them—the St. Louis post office is now using a cancellation mark which is an oval bearing the inscription: "World's Fair, 1903, Louisiana Purchase."

English Farmer's Gratitude.

A collector of subscriptions for the brass band fund once came across a farmer who was noted for his meanness. To his surprise, the farmer at once consented to subscribe fully as large a sum as any he had yet received.

"Mr. Hardfist," he said, addressing the farmer, "you are surely very fond of music, to give so much?"

"Oh, yes," said the farmer, "they're grand for scarin' the crows from my 'taties when they're practicin', and I'm grateful."—Tit-Bits.

A Boer Patrol.

A Boer patrol consists of three men, a veteran and two youngsters, usually an uncle and two nephews, or a father and two of his sons.—N. Y. World.

Judging by the Umbrella.

It's unwise to judge a man by the umbrella he carries until you find out who owns it.—Chicago Daily News.

VERSES OF EARLY SPRING.

Spring Fever.

Lazy, lazy, lazy!
Hit's de springtime comin' sho',
Hit's put de tiah'dness in mah back
Twell I cain't wuk no mo'.
Lazy, lazy, lazy!
Twell I cain't shovel coal;
But Marfy do de washin'
For de white folks, bress 'er soul.

Lazy, lazy, lazy!
Want to git out in a boat,
En' watch de co'k a-bobbin',
En' jes' lay deh en' float.
Tiah'd, tiah'd, tiah'd!
Hit mus' be in de aih;
En Marfy—she'd be lazy
Ef she had de time to spaih.

Lazy, lazy, lazy!
Jes' es feeble es kin be,
I's mos' too tiah'd to eat de stuff
Dat Marfy cook foh me.
Tiah'd, tiah'd, tiah'd!
I jes' cain't draw mah breff;
When Marfy done dat washin'
She c'n hit home huhse'f!
—Josiah Wink, in Baltimore American.

The Harbor Lights.

When the sweet dusk comes down, and sward and tree
Take its soft dimness, and the dew unlocks
The deep hearts of the flowers and sets them free;
When swift incoming tides rise on the rocks,
Eager to meet the slowly lifting moon
And mirror back her beauty's mystery—
Then harbor lights shine out, across the sea,
Man's friendly greeting with God's blessing blent
In one pure ray. . . . And as the sail grows white
Nearing the shore, passing the guiding light,
To anchor 'neath the headlands, safe and soon,
It seems to musing eyes a vision sent,
A soft dream-picture, imaging the blest
And glad home-coming of a soul to rest.
—Madeline S. Bridges, in Overland Monthly.

Be Strong.

Be strong!
We are not here to play, to dream, to drift.
We have hard work to do, and loads to lift.
Shun not the struggle—face it; 'tis God's gift.

Be strong!
Say not the days are evil. Who's to blame?
And fold the hands and acquiesce—oh, shame!
Stand up, speak out, and bravely, in God's name.

Be strong!
It matters not how deep intrenched the wrong,
How hard the battle goes, the day how long;
Faint not—fight on! To-morrow comes the song.
—Maltbie D. Babcock, D. D., in S. S. Times

A Rain Song.

Don't you love to lie and listen,
Listen to the rain,
With its little patter, patter,
And its tiny clatter, clatter,
And its silvery spatter, spatter,
On the roof and on the pane?

Yes, I love to lie and listen,
Listen to the rain.
It's fairies—Pert and Plucky,
Nip and Nimble-toes and Lucky,
Trip and Thimble-nose and Tucky—
On the roof and on the pane!

That's my dream the while I listen,
Listen to the rain.
I can see them running races,
I can watch their laughing faces
At their gleeful games and graces,
On the roof and on the pane!
—Clinton Scollard, in St. Nicholas.

War.

"From hill to hill he harried me;
He stalked me day and night.
He neither knew nor hated me;
Not his nor mine the fight.

"He killed the man who stood by me,
For such they made his law.
Then foot by foot I fought to him,
Who neither knew nor saw.

"I trained my rifle on his heart;
He leapt up in the air.
My screaming ball tore through his breast,
And lay embedded there.

"It lay embedded there, and yet,
Hissed home o'er hill and sea,
Straight to the aching heart of her
Who ne'er did wrong to me.
—Arthur Stringer, in Ainslee's Magazine.

"Gentle Spring."

At 8 the skies are bright and gay,
At 9 o'clock it snows,
At 10 it's like a summer day,
At 12 a blizzard blows.
The sun returns again at 2
And shines to beat the band,
At 4 the tempest howls anew
And winter rules the land.

And one will keep where'er he goes—
If he's a prudent man—
His winter and his summer clothes,
And overcoat and fan,
His gauze and flannel undersuits,
The flimsy ones and thick,
His outing shoes and fur-lined boots
Where he can grab them quick.
—Elliott's Magazine.

Pearls and Tears.

"What splendid pearls the bride has! How can a man give his bride pearls? They mean tears."

"Oh, that's superstition. Besides, they are imitation pearls."

"Well, if she knows that, the tears will be genuine, at any rate."—Fliegende Blaetter.

French Matrimonial Agents.

A regular business, carried on in France by ladies of the highest standing, is to secure rich American brides for penniless men of title. These matrimonial agents receive heavy fees when they are successful.—Albany Argus.

A Few Words about Pain-Killer

A prominent Montreal clergyman, the Rev. James H. Dixon, Rector St. Judes and Hon. Canon of Christ Church Cathedral, writes:—"Permit me to send you a few lines to strongly recommend PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER. I have used it with satisfaction for thirty-five years. It is a preparation which deserves full public confidence."

Pain-Killer A sure cure for Sore Throat, Coughs, Chills, Cramps, &c.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c.

There is only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis.'

Pullets Eggs

WANTED

at this time of year. Get your pullets to laying by October is what makes poultry pay. You can do it by good care, proper foods, and the use as directed of

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

It causes perfect assimilation of the food elements needed to form eggs and bring pullets to laying.

If you can't get it we send one pack for 25 cts; five, $1. Large can, $1.20. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

An American Reporter.

They have a reporter on one of the Williamsburg papers who may not be much on style, but for placid, nervy "get there" he is a jewel. A little while ago he was assigned to a political meeting and asked to give a good report of it. Now, it happened that the festivities were conducted entirely in Polish, a language of which the young man knows nothing. This fact, however, did not phase him a bit. He made his way through the hall, pushed up to the platform, and sat down with the secretary. For several minutes he industriously took notes, and finally the secretary, turning to him, pumped out a volley of Polish.

"I am not in it, dear boy," retorted the young man, as he turned again to listen to the speaker.

The secretary looked surprised. Finally he went out and brought in a man who asked in English:

"Are you a Polish reporter?"

"Nope," was the reply. "I am an American one."

"Do you understand our language?"

"I never heard it before," retorted the scribbler, "but I think I have picked up enough since I have been here to give a rattling good story."

And he did.—N. Y. Press.

Taking Census in Porto Rico.

The census enumerator's lot is not wholly happy, even in his and our own land; but compared with that of his brother official in Porto Rico, it is an enviable one. There he not infrequently has to invent or evolve Christian names for those who never had any, or who have forgotten them, if they ever had. And fancy his perplexity when, after asking a woman her age, he is told that so many years have elapsed since she "was pretty"—her particular age when her beauty was conspicuous being a matter of mere conjecture. When the same query is propounded to a man, it is usually followed by a perplexed grin. The omnipresent small boy is of course at hand on these occasions, and beholding him, the relieved native will cheerfully aver, as he points toward him, that he "was as tall as that boy at the time of the 'San Filipe hurricane!'" Thus it happens that in striving to attain approximate correctness in statements of ages, the word "about" is in frequent use in the census records of Porto Rico.—Youth's Companion.

Mount Hope.

Bristol county, R. I., is noted as containing the eminence known as Mount Hope, which is celebrated as the residence of King Philip, the last of the Wampanoags, the Indian chief that carried a long and destructive warfare with New England's early settlers. Philip signed a treaty with the Massachusetts Bay colony in 1671, in the old church at Taunton, but the negotiations were abridged and fierce strife broke out in 1675 and lasted for some time. King Philip's wigwam was fixed near the brow of the hill. Irving wrote his biography, Southey perpetuated his memory in poetry, and Forrest portrayed him on the stage. Mount Hope is nearly opposite Fall River, Mass.—Detroit Free Press.

Cautious Man.

"Are you married?" he asked of the man who sat next to him on the suburban train.

"What's that to you?" was the ungracious retort.

"Oh, no offense meant, no offense at all. I'm a bachelor myself, but I've just been visiting a married sister, and I feel the need of expressing my views on children to some one. If you're married, though, possibly it wouldn't be wise."—Chicago Post.

In French.

Kendrick (who for two months has been studying French)—Say, Sutton, I can write a good letter in French now.

Sutton—H'm! Is that so? Well, you may be able to write a good letter in French, but I don't believe you can write a letter in good French.—Boston Transcript.

Proof.

"Did you say that trusts were the means of raising wages?"

"Certainly," answered Senator Sorghum. "I know the president of a combination who has raised his salary four times in the last two years."—Washington Star.

A Sample Pair.

What fools these earthly mortals be!
What freaks the human race begets!
'Mong others is the girl who paints
And the man who tackles cigarettes.
—Chicago Daily News.

It's folly to suffer from that horrible plague of the night, itching piles. Doan's ointment cures, quickly and permanently. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Too Much Tinkering.

Mrs. Winks—I see the question of omitting the word "obey" from the marriage service is up again.

Mrs. Minks—Yes, it's perfectly abominable the way they are tinkering at the marriage service. They'll be leaving out "love and honor" next, and bring the beautiful sacrament down to a commonplace civil contract. Well I must be going. I want to take this bundle to the tailor's before his place is shut up. It is some of my husband's duds, which he told me to mend, but I think I see myself. Good-by, dear.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Trunkless Body.

An explorer lately returned from his travels was relating his adventures. "I peered," said he, "into the thicket, and there before me lay a trunkless body." "Nonsense," remarked an interfering critic, "who ever heard of a trunkless body?" "My friend," replied the traveler quietly, "the body was that of an elephant." He then resumed his story.—London Globe.

An Object of Consideration.

"Yassir," said Erastus Pinkley, "when I made my appearance in dat convention, I was de object of mo' attention dan anybody else in de place. Dey riz up to dar seats when dey saw me comin' down de aisle."

"Did you make a speech?"

"No'ndeed; I had a bucket of ice water an' a glass."—Washington Star.

Her Comparison.

Mrs. Meeks—I'm afraid that young man who is courting our daughter doesn't amount to much.

Mr. Meeks—Why do you think that, my dear?

Mrs. Meeks—I really don't know why—unless it's because he reminds me so much of you.—Chicago Daily News.

Honest Means Wouldn't Do.

Visitor—And how is the restoration fund going on, Mrs. Lychgate?

The Rector's Wife—I'm sorry to say it's going on most unsatisfactorily. We've tried every conceivable means of getting the money honestly, and failed, and now the rector says we must try what a bazar will do.—Punch.

Highly Recommended.

Patent Medicine Proprietor—Here's a recommend for our medicine from a life insurance president.

Junior Partner—Good! What does he say?

Proprietor—Says fewer of his policy holders die from taking our medicine than any other.—Judge.

Guests.

"I wonders," said Miss Miami Brown, "why dey calls de folks dat hires rooms in dis hotel 'guesses?'"

"I reckons," said Mr. Erastus Pinkley, "dat it's because de landlord looks at 'em an' guesses how much money dey hab, an' den puts it in de bill."—Washington Star.

Hardly to Be Expected.

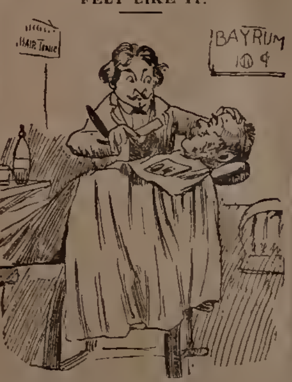
Mrs. McGorry—Harrity, who was killed by bein' blown two hoondred feet in the air by an ixplosion, left a woife an' noine children, didn't he?

McGorry—He did thot. He bod no toime to make provisions for takin' 'em wid him.—Judge.

Even There.

And so, alas! she died, and when
She'd passed the pearly gate,
She asked a sister-angel there:
"Say! are my wings on straight?"
—Cleveland Plain Dealer

FELT LIKE IT.



The Victim—They call you a "Knight of the Razor," I believe?

The Barber—Yessir!

The Victim—I didn't know but what you were "The Man with the Hoe!"—N. Y. Journal.

Heard in the Office.

"Do all your employes drop tools the instant the whistle blows?"

"Oh, not all of them. The more orderly ones have their tools put away before that time."—Tit-Bits.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Thirty Years of Suffering.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Halloway of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale by A. C. Mason, druggist.

One of nature's remedies; cannot harm the weakest constitution; never fails to cure summer complaints of young or old. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad
— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for
BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m, Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 10 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.
BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.
WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 6 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.
NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.
CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.
PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.
HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.
WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.
NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.
New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for
PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a. m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m. 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for
MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.
ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

LOW RATES
3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION
APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS

For a distance of 5 miles or less, - -	10c
5 to 15 miles, - -	15c
15 to 25 " - -	20c
25 to 35 " - -	25c
35 to 45 " - -	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to
New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.
au25F

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
..AND...
C.B.Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J.Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON,
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours From 2 to 3 p. m., and by appointment.
92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1839.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT
Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

On the Stool of Repentance

is where you will find yourself during summer's sultry days unless you clear your complexion and cool your blood by purifying it with

Dana's Sarsaparilla

50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Bright eyes and a clean, clear skin, as well as an elastic step and good spirits, comes from ridding the blood of impurities with this reliable blood purifier.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.
DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

The summer cottages at King Philip's pond are being rapidly deserted. The entire North Attleboro colony have left for the season and many of the other cottages closed today. Mr. and Mrs. C E. Dupee of Roslindale have closed their cottage and returned home.——H A Cowel has been spending a few days at Salem Willows.——Frank J. Ruggles has lost a valuable dog owing to the extreme heat.——C. E. Brown and F. A. Shepard left Monday for a trip to New York.——A F Bennett has torn down the ell of his residence and is to remodel it with all the latest modern improvements.——B. C. Hardman has sold his farm to Boston parties, who buy for a home and will occupy Mrs. A. J. Philips' house for the winter.——Mrs. Oliver Everett is to sell her residence and move to North Attleboro.——The state mile will be pushed forward so as to be completed by the time winter sets in.——William Everett of Lowell has closed his residence on Gilmore road and returned home.——Rev. and Mrs Winkley are occupying Red farm during the absence of the Chamberlins in Vermont.——The ladies of Trinity church contemplate giving a concert next week.——Joseph M. Philbrick of New York arrived in town Saturday.——Proctor Fisher is in Halifax, N. S.——Fred E. Gilmore and C. A. Gilmore are on a hunting trip in Maine.

SHELDONVILLE.

George Heffron spent a few days in Providence last week.

Mrs. B. N. Wales entertained relatives from Franklin last week.

Mr. and Mrs C. E. Thomas are entertaining friends from Virginia.

Miss Irene Hawes of Riverside, R. I., is visiting at F. N. Sheldons.

Miss Beatrice Provan of West Wrentham spent a week in Peabody recently.

Lyman Parmenter went to Fall River last week where he joined a yachting party. He is to be absent a week.

The Ladies' Aid society were to give a lawn party last Thursday evening on the grounds of L. L. Whiting, but owing to the threatening weather they repaired to the vestry of the church where an enjoyable evening was spent by all who attended.

A forest fire which the origin is unknown raged for several days last week. It started in a meadow a short distance from the village and reaching the woods burned briskly for several days. A large tract of land was covered and much woodland destroyed.

"Cops'" Conversation.

Roundsman Clubbem—They must have a pretty husky set of boys on the police force in South Africa.

Sergt. Kluze—Yes?

"Yes. I see 15,000 British soldiers couldn't hold one kop down."—Baltimore American.

A Canter Shot.

He (with the contempt of a boy of 16)—Girls always giggle more than boys.

She (with the acuteness of 15)—That's because they have to look at boys.—Indianapolis News.

A Lapse of Memory.

Wife—What do you mean by coming home in this condition? Have you any excuse to offer?

Husband—I had one, M'ria, a blame good one, too, but I can't remember it now.—N. Y. World.

Stops the Cough and Works Off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price 25 cents.

Well Named.

He—Why do you call your husband a lobster?

She—Because lobster never agrees with me.—Yonkers Statesman.

Hood's Pills

Do not gripe nor irritate the alimentary canal. They act gently yet promptly, cleanse effectually and

Give Comfort

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.

Census Taking in Arizona.

He covered the porch of the Red Hat with an ugly brace.

"Say!" he roared, as the hotel guest moved uneasily. "I am here wid Uncle Sam at me back. I am here to take de census, an' I'm here to do it quick. Gimme de facts in yer career, or I'll have to git it from yer relatives, see!"—Chicago Daily News.

A Theatrical Haunt.

"I suppose in your varied theatrical experience," said the matinee girl, "you have seen life in all the big cities. What is your favorite haunt?"

"Well, really 'haunts' are not my specialty," replied Mr. Barnes-Tormer, "although once I did play the ghost in Hamlet."—Philadelphia Press.

The Flies Are Wary.

Mrs. Goaph—My daughter, you should cultivate a sweeter disposition toward the young men. Remember that "vinegar never catches flies."

Miss Goaph—But, mamma, you always cautioned me not to permit any fly young men to call.—Baltimore American.

An Apple Eater.

During a visit to the south of England a gentleman was met with who related a unique and most interesting experience in dietetics. It was that for the last three years he had lived on one meal a day, and that meal was composed chiefly of apples! Further astonishment was evoked by his reply to my question as to what he drank, when he stated that the juices of the apples supplied him with all the moisture or drink he needed; this, he claimed, was of the purest kind, being in reality water distilled by nature, and flavored with the pleasant aroma of the apple. He partook of his one meal about three o'clock in the afternoon, eating what he felt satisfied him, the meal occupying him from 20 minutes to half an hour. He looked the picture of healthful manhood, and is engaged daily in literary work.—Chambers' Journal.

Ways to Wear the Hair.

Many ladies are wearing their hair parted a little to the side, slightly waved, and a few soft curls straying over the forehead on one side only. Young girls dispense with the waving and fold the hair loosely on either side, so that it falls over in an artistic fashion, but a girl needs to be pretty to wear her hair this way.—Washington Star.

Young Brides

who want an easy and quick answer to the daily question, "What shall we have for dinner or for supper or for breakfast?" should take the Boston Daily and Sunday Globe.

Every day the Globe publishes a simple, inexpensive and nice bill of fare for a breakfast, a dinner and a supper. This is especially prepared by an experienced, skilled and economical housekeeper.

In addition, the choicest recipes from the skilled cooks of the homes of New England are printed every day, and any special recipes wanted by any woman are readily supplied.

In fact, the Globe is a daily cook book for the housekeepers of New England.

The housekeepers' department in the Globe every day tells you how to get rid of pests, how to take care of plants, flowers and animals, how to do fancy work, etc., etc., etc. Order the Globe at once of your newsdealer and try it.

Takes the burn out; heals the wound; cures the pain. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, the household remedy.

To Cure a Cold In One Day.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

French Matrimonial Agents.

A regular business, carried on in France by ladies of the highest standing, is to secure rich American brides for penniless men of title. These matrimonial agents receive heavy fees when they are successful.—Albany Argus.

Some are Left;
They are Waiting.

THOSE

HAMMOCKS

put on sale at reduced prices are lightly swaying as an occasional breeze wafts inward through our ever-open doors. All that remain will be sold at 25 per cent. discount straight. Regular Hammock season and we will close it with our usual liberality.

You pay $1 50 for a nice $2 Hammock or pay $2 25 for a better $3 Hammock.

All LAWN FURNITURE is being rapidly closed out at the same reduction.

REFRIGERATORS for $12, been selling at $16.

Cheaper boxes at the same cut rate, 25 per cent. off.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,
67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free Delivery at your home the hour you name

Consumptive Houses.

That consumption does not run in families, but does run in houses, is the theory of Sir Richard Thorne, who addressed the London Medical Society recently. "Refuse to live on a damp subsoil," was his advice; until people ceased to live under unfavorable conditions, they need hope for little diminution in the consumption death rate. The improvement of sanitary appliances had, in the last 45 years, reduced that rate nearly 50 per cent.—N. Y. World.

Hunting Rabbits with a Hose.

Boys in Nebraska, a ferretless country, carry with them when hunting a coil of hose about an inch in diameter, which they pay out down a rabbit-hole until the bottom is reached, meanwhile drawing the mouth of a sack over the hole. A cheerful shout down the hose brings the rabbit out at his best pace plump into the sack. The hose evidently does the business as quickly as the ferret, with no vexatious delays.—Chicago Chronicle.

A Caller for Father.

Farmer—There's a fine fat pig for sale here. Can I see it?

Boy (calling out—Fa-a-ther, some-un wants to see yer.—Tit-Bits.

E W Grove

This signature is on every box of the genuine Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets
the remedy that cures a cold in one day

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Hoag Lake
PARK.

WEEK OF SEPT. 10
Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.15.

Boom's
Trans-
Atlantic
Stars.

THE TWO McGINLEYS,
Sensational Trapze Actors.
WILLIAMS and WILLIAMS,
Black Face Comedy Sketch.
MISS EMMA KRAUSE,
Prima Donna, Soprano.
MURPHY and WILLARD,
Comedy Sketch, "Doughnuts."
GILBERT GIRARD,
Imitator of Voices and Animals.
THE MURPHYS,
Acrobatic Comedy Sketch.

UNDER DIRECTION OF MORRIS BOOM.
je26-toc1

PLANT LINE
TO THE PROVINCES.

GREAT REDUCTION IN RATES.

To Halifax, Hawkesbury,
Sydney and Charlottetown.

775 miles for.......$7.50
1000 miles for....... 9.50
1400 miles for....... 11.00

DON'T MISS the opportunity to take the greatest trip for the least money on record. It can be made within a week and comprises a deep sea voyage, a sail along the entire Nova Scotia coast, through the Straits of Canso, St. George's Bay and Northumberland Straits. Autumn most delightful season in the Provinces.

A Grand Opportunity for Natives to Visit the Old Home.

S. S. Halifax every Tuesday, 12 noon, for Halifax, Hawkesbury and Charlottetown. S. S. Florida every Saturday, 12 noon, for Halifax and Sydney, from north side Lewis Wharf. Maps and other advertising free.

J. A. FLANDERS, N. E. Agent,
290 Washington St., Boston.
E. H. DOWNING, Agent,
20 Atlantic Ave., Boston.
jly24-tno24

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in two mortgage deeds given by Lothrop J. Wilder to the Medway Savings Bank, one dated Jan. 17th, 1891, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 649, folio 43, the other dated April 27th, 1893, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 691, folio 618, for breach of the conditions thereof and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on

WEDNESDAY, the THIRD day of OCTOBER, 1900,

at three o'clock p. m., all and singular the following described property

A certain tract of land, with the buildings thereon standing, including all permanent fixtures and heating appliances, situated in Medway, county of Norfolk and state of Massachusetts, on the east side of Broad street, bounded and described as follows, to wit Beginning at the northwest corner thereof, on said street, at land of Mary H. Wilder, and thence easterly on a line with said Mary H. Wilder's land one hundred and forty (140) feet to a corner at land of Mrs. Sarah S. Woodward, thence southerly on land of said Woodward to land of Frank A. Henry, thence westerly on a line with land of said Henry parallel with and twenty-one (21) feet distance from northerly side of stable on said Henry's land to a point for a corner on a line parallel with westerly end of said stable, thence southwesterly in a straight line to a point for a corner on a line with rear of grant[illegible] thirty five feet distance therefrom, thence westerly on a line parallel with southerly side of said block [illegible] Broad street, thence northerly on said street to the first mentioned point. Same premises recorded with Norfolk Deeds, [illegible] 613, folio 441, conveyed to grantor by deed from [illegible] B. Stowe, subject to a right of way [illegible] conveyance, and more fully set forth and described in a deed to John McGinnis, [illegible] 1886 [illegible] south[illegible] side of [illegible]

Terms at sale

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK, Mortgagee,
By its Treasurer W. H. Upton.
Medway, Mass., Sept 6, 1900. se11.18,25

FIGHTING FOR A "ZOO."

Prof. Langley's Persistent Efforts for the Preservation of Wild Animals at Washington.

In an illustrated article on "The National 'Zoo' at Washington," Ernest Seton-Thompson, the author-artist, tells what hard work Prof. Langley had to do before congress would pass a bill to establish such an institution. In 1887, when the newly-appointed secretary of the Smithsonian institution, Mr. S. P. Langley, who, though an astronomer and a physicist, had been very strongly impressed by the fact that all our largest and most interesting native animals were rapidly approaching extinction, conceived the idea of securing a tract of country, as primitive as possible, that it might be made a lasting city of refuge for the vanishing races. This was the main idea when first Mr. Langley went before congress to urge the establishment of a National Zoological park.

In all ages it has been the custom of potentates to keep a collection of wild animals for their amusement, and the American people, being their own ruler, had numberless precedents before them when urged to make this much-needed collection of animals.

In such a case the advantage of a monarchy is that only one man must be convinced, whereas in a republic the consent of a majority of seventy millions had to be obtained.

This took time. Fierce battles had to be fought with ignorant and captious politicians. One objected that he did not see why people should pay "to have the Nebraska elk and Florida alligator cooped up." If they had to spend money for it they should want things they could not see at home—dog-faced baboons, kangaroos, man-eating tigers, etc. Another, a fervent patriot, objected to any money being spent on exotic species, as it was contrary to the spirit of the constitution to encourage or import foreigners.

Altogether the secretary of the Smithsonian found it no easy bill to carry, though it was indorsed by nearly every scientist and educator in the country.

After three years of persistent effort, involving vastly more worry than the management of the whole Smithsonian institution for three times that period, Mr. Langley succeeded in carrying both houses of congress over the successive stages of ridicule, toleration, and favorable consideration, to the point of accepting and providing for the scheme.

An appropriation was made for a National Zoological park to be established in the District of Columbia for the "advancement of science and the instruction and amusement of the people," as well as a city of refuge where those "native animals that were threatened with extinction might live and perpetuate their species in peace."—Century.

Next to His Worst Habit

"Your husband, I presume, like many other men, is addicted to the coffee habit?"

"Yes, but I don't mind that as much as I do his clove habit."—Chicago Tribune.

Fond of Music.

Patrice—I told Will if he kissed me I'd scream.

Patience—And what did he say?

"Oh, he said he thought I had a very musical scream."—Yonkers Statesman.

ARE YOU Looking for CHOICE CONFECTIONERY, always fresh?
ARE YOU Looking for CHOICE CIGARS?
ARE YOU Ever THIRSTY?

We have Confectionery from 20c. to 50c. per lb., Cigars from 2c. to 20c. each, and our Soda is simply delicious.

Just come in and try us once.
We know you will come again.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist
PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

FALES, the Grocer
NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.
no17-8

Chilson's Market

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Sirloin Steak.........25c
Rump " 25c
Round " 18c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef, 10 to 12c
Fancy Brisket.........10c
Thick Flanks......... 6c
3 lb. pails lard.........33c
5 lb. pails lard.........50c
Bacon, strip.........12c
Smoked Shoulder.........11c
Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted.....$5.00

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.
fe7-ty8

Coal! Coal!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

JAMES F. RAY,
The Coal Dealer,
DEPOT STREET.
jly10-8

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.
jly10-tl8

Something New...

Have you stopped to think of the pleasure something new always brings with it? A dress, a ring, a piece of furniture—no matter what it may be, inspiration and bright spirits follow along in its wake. Especially if it's Furniture. Every time you sit in the soft chair or stretch out on the soft couch it makes you happy. This is a happiness which every one can afford while we have the stock we have and charge the prices we do.

Our Terms:

$10 worth, $1 down, 50c. a week.
$25 worth, $2.50 down, 75c. a week.
$50 worth, $5 down, $1 a week.
$75 worth, $7.50 down, $1.25 a week.
$100 worth, $10 down, $1.50 a week.
$125 worth, $15 down, $2 a week.
$150 worth, $25 down, $2.25 a week.
$200 worth, $40 down, $2 50 a week.
$250 worth, $50 down, $3 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,
WRENTHAM, MASS.
WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
OPEN DAILY FROM 9 A. M. TO 11 P. M.

BAND CONCERT
EVERY THURSDAY EVENING.
Admission 10 cents. Dancing free.

Sacred Concert and Clam Bake
EVERY SUNDAY
till further notice. Admission 10 cents.

DANCING
Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday Evenings.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

JUST RECEIVED, A NEW LINE OF

Blanks, Pads,
Tablets, Pencils,
School Bags, Etc.

W. E. Crowninshield
2 METCALF BLOCK.
my4-4m8

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week......50
Single Gallon......05

All orders left at Dean's will receive prompt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.
1:4tf

At WOODWARD'S
every description of
INSURANCE
can be placed. This AGENCY
officially represents the
LEADING
American and Foreign
COMPANIES.

P. A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass
my4-1yF

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, SS.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of William Colvin, late of Medway, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said court for probate by James A. Snow and John H. C. Hadley, who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executors therein named.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the 19th day of September, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of August, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

au28,se4,11

Hattie M Fisher

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 74. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Austin S. Cook & Co., Woonsocket	4
Quarterly Statement Franklin National Bank	4
Weeks Furniture Co.	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p.m. Saturdays, 6.30 a.m. to 8.15 p.m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a.m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 19, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire.

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a.m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p.m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 00 till 10.15 p.m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p.m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a.m. and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

The selectmen meet this evening.

Drs. J. C. and A. J. Gallison returned from Maine last evening.

The Elm farm milk company has taken the McGinnis milk route.

The lawn about A. D. Thayer's residence is being regraded.

The elegant Morse house on Main street is advertised for sale.

Dr. Charles F. McCarthy of Winchester was a visitor in town Monday.

Alfred Gore, the veteran soldier, has gone to the home in Togus, Me.

The Our Boys and the Haywards will meet again tomorrow afternoon.

Rev. Dr. Hodge has been confined to the house this week with lumbago.

Mr. and Mrs E. K. Ray are expected home from their vacation this week.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McDermott of West street on Monday.

A regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., will be held this evening.

E. B. Sherman's family are returning from their summer outing at Bellingham.

Alvan I. Fiske, a former resident, now located in Hartford, Conn., is visiting in town.

Patrick Enegren, a former Franklin boy, is visiting at his home on Cottage street.

Mrs. W. F. Ray and family will return from their summer's stay at Lake Pearl next week.

Miss Nellie Gallivan has returned home after having spent a week's vacation at Buttonwood.

Dr. Sneath will preach in the South Franklin meeting house on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

George E. Daniels was head usher at the swell Cushman Sumner nuptials in Milford last week.

Business is good at the Trowbridge piano factory, western orders having been received lately.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Brown of Emmons street are spending a few weeks with relatives in Woonsocket.

There will be dancing at Hoag Lake this evening. The American band orchestra will furnish the music.

W. C. Scott of Elmira, N. Y., left this morning for his home after a ten days' visit at George W. Hosie's.

Manager Enegren has now opened Lake Pearl free to all who desire to come, with dancing Saturday evening.

Mrs. Geo. Stacy and son of Pawtucket spent Wednesday with her aunt, Mrs. D. W. Corson, Emmons street.

Supt. E. L. Blanchard attended the electricians' annual outing at the Pomham club in Providence yesterday.

The road men have done a good job on some of the highways by mowing grass and weeds along the gutters.

There will be dancing at Hoag lake this evening, music being furnished by the American band orchestra.

The subject of the Y. P. C. U. meeting of the Universalist church next Sunday evening will be "Choosing a Master."

Franklin school children have discovered that there are three "R's" in September—reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic.

Conductor Nahum E. Daniels of Perry, Iowa, is on a three weeks' visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Jefferson Daniels.

Mrs. Della Mudd, daughter and maid of Denver, Col., have been visiting Mrs. E. S. Judd, who is a cousin of Mrs. Mudd.

James Holmes and family, who removed from here to Braintree nearly two years ago, have returned to Franklin to reside.

The Foresters will entertain members of the North Attleboro court after the regular meeting next Wednesday evening.

Mrs. E. C. Slocumb, who resides with her nephew, D. W. Corson, has gone to visit friends at her former home, Sutton, Mass.

It is reported that the Charles River Woolen company is willing to give free the land for a hose house near Nason's crossing.

The effect of the railway business and textile works at Unionville is seen in an increase in the number of school pupils in that locality.

The ladies of the Congregational church furnished a very appetizing supper on Wednesday evening, receiving generous patronage.

The new mill of the Norfolk Woolen company at Unionville is nearly completed, the interior requiring a little more work to finish.

A brush fire was making good headway on the Whiting land on Fisher street Wednesday when neighbors got to work and extinguished it.

A. B. Chilson is making extensive improvements and alterations upon his house on Dean avenue, Contractor Simonds doing the work.

Mrs. M. L. Hubbard and daughter, Miss Ethel Hubbard, and Miss A. F. Daniels of Wellesley are staying a few weeks at L. W. Daniels'.

Dr. C. B. Hussey and Fred V. Hussey left for London, Eng., on Wednesday. They take with them a host of good wishes from friends here.

A. M. Thayer is still further improving the appearance of his house by adding a box tower, thus giving an impression of greater height to the house.

The attendance at Hoag Lake this week was large. The dancing pavilion was an attraction and the theatrical performance was up to the standard.

This evening a special car will be run on the Medway line for all those wishing to attend the benefit given by the Foresters in Medway in aid of Dudley Durant.

A great many Franklinites witnessed a very fine production of "The Christian" at the Woonsocket opera house Tuesday evening. A late car was run after the play.

The date for the Republican state convention has been set for Thursday, October 4. The Democratic state convention will be held in Faneuil hall, Boston, October 1.

Miss Hattie Tobey, a former Franklin lady, and Mrs. Nellie Porter, both of North Hanover, have been visiting at the home of Miss Mabelle A. Gilmore, Peck street.

"Finnigan's Ball" played to a good-sized house on Wednesday evening, proving a remarkably fine show, with clever people. Manager Partridge has made a good start.

Attorney H. E. Ruggles declines an invitation to be a guest of the Upton Farmers' club at the fair on September 27, having a previous engagement at Richmond, Va.

A forest fire started on wood land off Washington street. near Alfred Clark's residence, Monday afternoon, and burned over a small tract before it was got under control.

All young men are earnestly requested not to forget the meeting for the formation of a Y. M. C. A. in Franklin tomorrow evening at 7.30 o'clock. See notice in another column.

The trial of the liquors seized last Saturday will take place in about a week; the law requiring a fourteen days' delay after a seizure. The trial will awaken a good deal of interest.

The roof of the new addition built on to the Ray woolen mill is undergoing a coat of tar. The new part will be the dry finishing room. Work was commenced in the room Monday.

Capt. E. E. Paine, the fish man, spent a few days at his former home in Wellfleet recently, where he owns a nice residence. All of his neighbors there have a good word for him.

A Milford paper says that the man who thinks Milford has a government of the people, for the people and by the people, is a fool. Don't worry, neighbor; Milford isn't different from other towns.

Manager Pulsifer of the Dean gymnasium had his young men out for a practice run on Wednesday, attracting no little attention. He proposes to work his material up into fine shape, and he has the reputation of being able to do so.

These delightful September and October days will soon be gone, and all who like the open air should take their trolley rides soon, as the cars will doubtless go on their winter hourly schedule later.

Mrs. M. E. Averill of Bellingham left on Tuesday for a week's trip to Ottawa, Montreal, coming home via Malone and Alburgh Springs, Vt., where her relatives live. She will make a short visit at the latter place.

Now that the schools are open again the streets are filled with happy children, who have been greatly missed during the summer months while they have been away to country and seaside or resting for another year at the books.

Antonio Simonelli, who was found guilty in the Dedham court Monday of stealing $230 and a gold watch from Louis Malatesta, the Main street fruit dealer, was sentenced to one year in the house of correction on Tuesday.

Franklin housewives who desire to be strictly up to date should remember that a dinner for guests should include soup and fish. Indeed, house help characterize the better class of houses as "soup and fish families," even for every-day service.

Rev. Mr. Miner is looking up an eligible location for a parish house in connection with his Episcopal labors here. He has a number of places in view, among them being the Morse lot on School street, which he considers admirably situated for his purpose.

The rehearsals for the "Pied Piper of Hamlin" have commenced. The first rehearsal was held Wednesday and a most successful beginning was accomplished. The second rehearsal will take place this evening. It will probably be ready for the public the second week in October.

Dr. G. A. Martin has been considering an automobile for a long time and is getting to be an expert on the different makes and styles. He inclines to a gasoline motor, and we should not be greatly surprised to see him whizzing about our streets in a vehicle of his own. He wants the best, however.

One of the largest crops of peaches that has ever been harvested in this section is that which is now being gathered from the trees on Monroe Morse's farm. Quite a number of Medwayites are employed picking and packing the fruit, for which a ready market in this and adjoining towns is found.

A calculagraph, which automatically computes and prints the exact length of a conversation, will later be placed on the switchboard in the local telephone office. By its use the operators will be saved considerable work in reckoning time and the patrons will be assured that no mistake has been made.

The Massachusetts campaign is already on, and Samuel L. Powers of Newton, candidate for congress from the eleventh district, in company with Congressman Moody of Massachusetts and Congressman Littlefield of Maine, will speak at Haverhill, Mass., next Monday evening. Mr. Powers may be heard here later.

The electric traffic from Milford to Hoag Lake, Woonsocket and Franklin has been very large over the new line, especially during the afternoon and evening. On several cars 125 fares were taken and on one 147 passengers were registered. This end of the line promises to be a great money winner for the company.

Henry Earle, aged 70, a respected citizen who has lived in Franklin nearly all his life, passed away at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning at his late residence on Summer street. He had been ill for some time. He leaves a widow. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. S. A. Cook officiating.

The Medfield and Medway street railway company have several new eight-wheeled vestibuled electric cars at their car barn which they are getting ready for winter use. Much rivalry exists as to which road should build the electric railway from Holliston to Medway. The Medfield and Franklin and the Natick and Holliston companies both want the route.

The firemen's clubroom at the Emmons street engine house is now open to its members, and donations of books and papers will be thankfully received and called for by notifying John Molloy. The members desire to thank those who kindly donated books and papers last year: E. H. Rathburn, Dr. J. C. Gallison, A. M. Thayer, C. B. Johnson, O. M. Bassett, E. S. Messenger and L. E. Morrissy.

Those who remember the excellent playing of Dan Murphy, of last year's North Attleboro team, will be pleased to know that half a dozen of the big league teams are after him, the Bostons having the first chance at him. He is playing with Norwich this year and Manager Doe wants $1,500 for him. The Bostons offer $1,000. He is a "heady" player with no bad habits, and has a good future before him.

George I. Partridge likes to fish, and when he is not fishing for an attraction for the opera house he fishes for a fry of the finny tribe. But the other day he thought he would go to a little meadow pond in the woods that he knew about and try his luck. He had forgotten how dry the weather had been, and, like Old Mother Hubbard who went to the cupboard, when he got there the pond was bare and fish he had none.

A. L. Pierce, the superintendent and manager of the Wallingford, Conn., municipal lighting plant, was in town Wednesday, en route to attend the annual banquet of electricians at the Pomham club, Providence, yesterday. Mr. Pierce reports the venture of municipal ownership as working very satisfactorily where he is located, and he is doing a vast amount of hard work to make it a success.

Miss Mary Augusta Holbrook, who has resided with Mrs. Alois A. Baker on Main street for several years, was discovered dead in her bed by Mrs. Baker at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning, having passed away some time during the night, the evident cause being heart failure. Miss Holbrook was 81 years of age. Rev. Dr. Sneath conducted funeral services at the Baker residence yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. Interment was at Norfolk.

The Thurber Medical association will hold its annual meeting and banquet at Hotel Willian, in Milford, October 4. The annual address will be given by Dr. W. W. Browne of Blackstone on "Lights and Shadows of a Doctor's Life," and Dr. J. C. Gallison of this place will be anniversary chairman. The prize for the best paper of the year will be decided by vote this month and the prize given the winner at the annual meeting.

Arthur C. Zimmerman has been appointed postmaster at West Wrentham. The former office at West Wrentham was discontinued a few years ago, and since that time the residents of that part of the town have had their mail from the Sheldonville office. The new office will be at the railroad station, about three-quarters of a mile from the location of the former office. Mr. Zimmerman has had charge of the railroad station at that place for several years past.

John Williams, aged 20, living on Ray street, jumped from a moving freight train when opposite the Colonial rubber works Tuesday noon and struck on his head. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to his home. Dr. Elliott was summoned and found the young man suffering from severe injuries about the head and face and a bad fracture of the outer cantus of the right eye, which may lead to concussion of the brain. His condition is considered critical.

Mr. and Mrs. M Gilmore of Cleveland, O., are spending a week or more with friends here. Mr. Gilmore has been away from here for about forty years, though he has endeavored to return as frequently as possible to keep pace with the changes here. This is is his first visit now in five years. For a good many years he was engaged in the hat business and invented a number of machines used in that connection. Of late, however, he has been building straw sewing machines, but sold out just before coming east.

The wise and august judge would not excuse Dr. E. C. Abbott from jury duty, doubtless considering it better for the toothless to eat liquid food a week or two longer rather than have justice delayed, and the influence of Vermont blood is infused into the verdicts. The court has the following list: For sentence or other disposition 24 cases; jail cases, 21; liquor cases, 33; continued from April term, 13; new indictments, 11; new appeals, 25; forfeited bonds, 5; total, 132. Among the cases are three from Medway, two from Bellingham and one from Millis.

The work of grading on the repairs of the part of the cemetery owned by the town at the corner of Union and Central streets has begun, with Charles Rand in charge of the men. The town appropriated $600 for the purpose, and the job is in care of the selectmen and cemetery association. It is the part of the cemetery established by the town in the last century, and contains the remains of many of those who were prominent in the early history of Franklin. The stones will be removed for the grading and then reset. Many of the old ones were either down or partially so, and the change will doubtless greatly improve the appearance of the locality.

Unionville had a little excitement Tuesday afternoon for a short while. About 4 o'clock the drying room of the Norfolk woolen mill, which is situated in a small brick building close by the mill, took fire. The Cataract fire engine, which one inhabitant of the town said had not seen service for 20 years, was called out. That, with the men employed in the mill and the carpenters, painters and masons who were at work on the new addition being built to the mill, succeeded in confining the fire to one room and extinguishing it in the course of an hour. The building was gutted, and had it been a wooden structure, with the high wind blowing, the mill with its new addition would probably have gone up in a short time. The cause of the fire is unknown.

The fierce wind storm of Wednesday was the tail end of the hurricane which devastated and destroyed Galveston. About half the apple crop in this vicinity was blown from the trees, necessitating a heavy loss, especially in winter apples, the Baldwins holding on somewhat better than the Greenings. The wind swept through here at the rate of forty miles an hour and the dust was something unbearable, owing to the dry state of the roads. On Central street, east of the railroad bridge, an electric arc light fell and was smashed. In another part of the town an electric light pole was blown over and the wires were so badly broken that several places were unable to light up until some time after the darkness made it desirable. Supt. Blanchard and his men, however, kept busy repairing the damage until most places were supplied by 7 o'clock. The wind moderated before sundown, but the effects are to be seen in all directions.

One of K. R. Jewett's pigs got out of the pen the other day and eye-witnesses declare that the expressman must have lost, besides his patience, several ounces in weight in his effort to capture it. The pig made its way out on Central street and then into Metcalf's lumber yard, where its owner espied it. Here began a game of tag between the two, with the pig proving most elusive. Several times the expressman thought he had the runaway, but the latter slipped away with apparent ease, and in one instance its owner nearly went sprawling in his effort to hold on, while the pig gave a grunt of evident satisfaction at the fun he was having. The chase went on from the yard to Central street and then back again, until finally help arrived. The pig was then brought to bay, a rope procured and tied to one of its hind legs, when the owner, covered with dust and about exhausted, drove it back to the pen, vowing that he'd build a pen six feet high, if necessary, to prevent the hog getting another chance to perambulate on the street.

The Work of the Trusts.

The Detroit Free Press says that the city of Adrian, Michigan, is feeling very sad over the collapse of the Page Fence Company of that city which had a weekly pay roll of $20,000 and made Adrian a prosperous city. But the company had the temerity to decline an invitation to be swallowed by the American Wire Fence Company. It being the special mission of that great trust to crush out competition, the wire trust, which owns the wire fence trust, proceeded to squeeze the Page company by advancing the price of wire over 100 per cent. So far as the plants comprising the fence trust were concerned, it would make no difference had the raise been a thousand or a million per cent., for the same capital that was selling was buying, and could give its product away to itself or quote it at its weight in gold without making a dollar's difference in the outcome of the business. It was by this process that the Page company, rich in all the vital requirements of a great industrial enterprise, willing to stand or fall upon its own merits and refusing to combine for the purpose of arbitrarily dictating outrageous prices, was driven to the wall. It is one of the most flagrant examples of trust tyranny that has come to the people of this state, and cannot but multiply the number demanding an efficient regulation of these financial cormorants, the only alternative being their complete demolition.

A World Beater.

The opening performance of "Monte Christo" with James O'Neill as Edmund Dantes, at the Boston Theatre, will be given, Tuesday, September 18. Real boats will be seen moving about in the harbor of Marseilles; the castle of the Chateau d'If is wonderful. The most stupendous scene will be the conservatory in Act IV, where two balconies, thronged with real people, will cover three sides of the stage, one above the other. The grand staircase, on which Monte Christo makes his entrance, is 28 feet wide and 50 steps high. When the curtain rises on the Forest of Fontainebleu, in the last act, the audience will behold a forest of crystallized snow. Every leaf on every tree is coated with a new preparation and behind every leaf is an electric bulb. Fairyland will never be brought any nearer than by the effect thus obtained.

Mrs. L. K. Dearborn will return next week and reopen her dressmaking rooms.

Emerson's Market.

Fresh killed chicks and fowls, lamb, veal, pork and tomatoes. We also have shell beans, green corn, gem melons, sweet potatoes, summer squash, lettuce, cucumbers, onions, cabbages, new beets and turnips.

Notice Photographic.

On and after Wednesday, Sept. 12, until further notice, my studio will be closed while I am in attendance at the convention of the P. A. of N. E., where I expect to get the latest in the art for my patrons.

CALKIN, Photographer,
Depot street.

Cut flowers, all kinds of funeral designs well made up at Slade's greenhouse. Roses in small or large quantities.

COMMUNICATIONS.

[The editor assumes no responsibility for matter under this caption. This column is entirely at the disposal of the public, avoiding, as far as possible, trivial and controversial matter.]

TO THE SELECTMEN:—As a taxpayer in town I would respectfully ask the selectmen if it would not be a good move on their part to place a telephone in the town officers' room? Very frequently some one at a distance desires to communicate either with the board of selectmen, the tax collector or the town treasurer, and there being no telephone connection, time is wasted. It is quite likely that the town would get a slight reduction from the regular rate for past favors conferred, and, if not, a telephone is now a necessity instead of a luxury. Put in a 'phone, Messrs. Selectmen, and save our time, your time, and all the time.

A WEARY WALKER.

Franklin, Mass., Sept. 13, 1900.

Come and Help the Cause.

All men, young and old, who are interested in the formation of a Y. M. C. A. in this town are earnestly requested to be present tomorrow evening at 7.30 o'clock in the room over Fisher's candy store, in Music hall block. The report of the committee which was appointed last Monday evening will be heard and plans of organization will be submitted, and it is expected that organization will follow. That Franklin is greatly in need of an association of this nature is admitted by all, and it is seriously hoped that a large delegation of representative Franklin people will be present, that the right start may be made in this direction along the line of this most important work.

The Home Paper.

The home paper is never appreciated at home as it is when its weekly visits are received by one away from town. This is often spoken of regarding the SENTINEL. Many kind words come to us of that import, and we are always glad to receive them, for it is and always has been the purpose to make the SENTINEL a clean, reliable and complete statement of the local happenings of the week, and to do everything possible toward exerting a healthful moral influence in the town, and to advance its business interests. To please everybody is impossible. Indeed a newspaper or individual that can get along without crossing the grain of somebody amounts to but little. It should not be the purpose to create antagonism, but if in doing duty as it is seen from day to day, antagonisms come, as they are sure to, they should be met manfully, as they carry no discredit with them.

Richardson's Market.

Now that cooler weather is on you are thinking of meat. We have the pick of the market at the right prices. Choice beef, pork, ham, lamb, etc. Our vegetables are from home gardens, received fresh every day. Fowls and chickens for your Sunday dinner, with a can of nice soup for only 10 cents. Best butter in town at the price. Our order team will call.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Trash wood, ready cut for stove use, at Allen's wood yard.

To Rent.—A desirable tenement of six rooms; $12 per month. Inquire of O. T. Doe. 14 tf

Two neatly furnished rooms to let at 39 Dean avenue. For information, box 709. 11,14*

These are fish days. Shad, swordfish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fish man.

Lost—A bunch of keys. Finder will please leave at SENTINEL office and receive reward. 14 tf

Wanted—Competent girl for general housework. Apply to Mrs. H. E. Batchelor, 14 Dean avenue. 7,11,14

I have my usual crop of excellent peaches now ripening, and shall be glad to supply all customers old and new. Send in your order and get some good peaches. Monroe Morse, Medway, Mass. 7,11,14

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

Round-trip Boston tickets can be had at $1.05, (less than the five-trip rate), of Chas. H. Prince at SENTINEL office. Also round-trip Providence and Milford tickets at a saving of 12c from regular fare. Mileage books to let.

After a successful season at Hoag Lake the gifted Laura Lee, palmist and inspirational card reader, may be consulted at her residence, corner Garfield and Crescent streets. Ladies, 25 cents; gentlemen, 50 cents. 14*

Wanted.—Local or traveling salesmen, salary or commission, to handle our oils, greases, petrolatum, paints and white lead. Goods guaranteed; prices low. Good freight rates and prompt delivery. Best season of the year for soliciting oil trade. Penn Petrolatum Co., main office and refinery, Coraopolis, Pa.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

All lovers of music are invited to see the display of pianos and organs at Sanford Bros., Medway. Up to date and prices right.

Two chairs at Ochee's barber shop. Accomplished hair dresser in attendance. Short waits.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Se[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] will confer a favor by sending [illegible] early in the week as [illegible] such matters of interest the p[illegible] — elections [illegible] officers, [illegible] entertainments, etc.

ADVERTISING RATES

Space	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in.	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	[illegible]	6 00	[illegible]
2 in.	1 75	2 25	2 75	[illegible]	4 [illegible]	5 75	[illegible]	[illegible]
3 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	3 50	4 [illegible]	[illegible]	8 [illegible]	14 00	[illegible]
4 in.	3 25	4 00	4 7[illegible]	5 50	8 00	11 50	16 00	28 00
5 in.	4 00	5 00	6 [illegible]	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in.	4 7[illegible]	[illegible]	7 50	10 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	[illegible] 00
½ col.	7 00	[illegible]	[illegible] 00	14 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	[illegible] 00	18 00	21 00	[illegible] 00	32 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices [illegible] [illegible] Business [illegible]. Announcements [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] than [illegible].

Business [illegible] Pr[illegible] [illegible] cards, [illegible] one-half inch space, [illegible] week, $[illegible] per year, twelve [illegible], $[illegible] per year.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1900.

FOR CONGSESSMAN IN THIS DISTRICT.

For the first time in more than twenty years the city of Newton this year will present a candidate in the Republican congressional convention, with a solid delegation in his favor. Several times in this period Newton has come forward with two or more candidates, with the inevitable result of some more fortunate candidate receiving the nomination. But this year Newton is enthusiastic in the candidacy of Hon. Samuel L. Powers, one of her most prominent as well as popular and able citizens. Newton presents an able man, one upon whose name no scandal of any nature rests, and who has the ability and the strength to fill with honor a seat in the national house of representatives. Mr Powers has but one competitor—Hon F H Williams of Brookline. But a choice must be made by the voters at the coming caucuses, and after looking the field over candidly we feel that for the interests of the Republican party the nomination should go, and by a decisive vote—to Mr Powers. Newton, as we have stated before, has not had a congressional nomination for over twenty years, while during this time Brookline has had four nominations of Hon John W Candler and two of Hon Charles F. Sprague, both of whom made congressmen of ability and merit.—Milford Journal

THE tidal wave of sympathy which goes out to stricken Galveston is not less in volume than the destructive wave which devastated it. There is no south; we are all kin.

RICHARD OLNEY doesn't seem to find it difficult to turn a somersault. Expert politicians have to perform that feat occasionally. But where is his great and good friend Cleveland?

FEW ministers are in a position to refuse a raise in salary of $1,000, as did Rev Dr Lorimer. This disposes of the false though oft repeated slur that ministers work for "what there is in it."

IT isn't strange that accidents like that on Sunday to the steamer John Endicott occur when captains take chances in order to beat competitors. They seem to forget that lives are precious.

Now it transpires that the Corbett McCoy fight was a fake after all, and the latter was slated to lose. How those who lost their bets will kick themselves when they recall how slick they were taken in and done for.

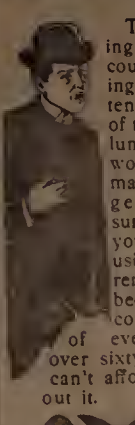
A CLERGYMAN elected to the best paying office in Maine, that of sheriff, is something of a novelty. He proposes, however, either to enforce the liquor law or make his enemies repeal it because enforcement hurts. At present it is a farce.

IN New York state Wednesday the tiger and the lion laid down together, and shortly after there wasn't any lion. Hill and his followers were swallowed up in the capacious jaws of Tammany, which is now in a position to dictate to the entire state. Croker is the Napoleon of the hour, but St. Helena is in sight.

MAINE has spoken, and it is difficult to see how the democrats can get much comfort out of the returns, however little the republicans may jubilate. In a state like that where is nothing at stake except the moral effect the republicans could not be stirred. When the presidential election comes on they will be heard from all right.

REPRESENTATIVE MELLEN's [illegible] his [illegible] tor into the congressional ring and boldly tells John R. Thayer that he considers himself a more popular and a younger man than Mr. Thayer himself. Mellen is never happy unless he's in a good, stiff fight. However, no better man can win in that district, and Walker had no one to thank but himself for losing to Thayer.

THE fight in the eleventh congressional district is practically decided in favor of Mr Powers. With Newton, Watertown, Belmont, Holliston and Sherborn in Middlesex county, Milford and Hopedale in Worcester county, nearly all of the Boston wards and the larger towns in Norfolk county in Mr Powers' favor, there is scarcely anything left for the friends of Mr Williams to build any hopes upon, and they must see that any further work on their part will be of no avail.



Hacking

There is nothing so bad for a cough as coughing. It tears the tender membrane of the throat and lungs, and the wounds thus made attract the germs of consumption. Stop your cough by using the family remedy that has been curing coughs and colds of every kind for over sixty years. You can't afford to be without it.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

loosens the grasp of your cough. The congestion of the throat and lungs is removed; all inflammation is subdued; and the cough drops away.

Three sizes: the one dollar size is the cheapest to keep on hand; the 50c. size for coughs you have had for some time; the 25c. size for an ordinary cold.

"For 15 years I had a very bad cough. The doctors and everybody else thought I had a true case of consumption. Then I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and it only took a bottle and a half to cure me."

F. MARION MILLER.
Oct. 28, 1898. Camden, N Y

Write the Doctor. If you have any complaint whatever and desire the best medical advice write the Doctor freely. Address,
DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass

THE FOOTPAD GAYLY LEAVES.

Before Taking His Departure He Apostrophizes the Breezy Lakeside City.

The footpad's athletic figure was bundled in a huge ulster. He carried a grip and an umbrella, and his general appearance was that of a man on travel bent.

"Yes," he said, as he blew the smoke from his cigar in the face of the swell barkeep, "I'm off. To give you the confidential tip, Washington is a poor place for gentlemen of my profession. I haven't done as well here as my talents deserve. I'm dead stuck on the town as a place of residence, however, and when I retire to an honorable, quiet and peaceable life on the fruits of my nightly labors, I am going to buy a house on Mount Pleasant—unless I am brought to an untimely end by a dum-dum.

"What's that? Afraid of whom?" And the highwayman drew himself to his full height, and expanded his broad chest. "The what? The police? Are they on to me? Scared me away? Bless your innocence. The detec's never bother me. I'm an expert at my business, and like a shrinking pansy (say, I'm a sweet little old pansy, ain't I?), I bloom unseen, but not unappreciated by the police. Perhaps I might call myself a night blooming cereus, eh? But I'm off to Chicago. I am.

"List as I apostrophize thee, O Chicago! go!

"Chicago! the queen city of the mighty west. Where the English tourist thinks the prairie wolf howls his midnight howl, the horned owl hoots his taunting hoot, the rattlesnake rattles his rattles and the woolly buffalo wallows in his muddy wallow. Where the wind shaves men better than a barber, and the city aldermen extend the limits regularly every Monday morning after the roll call. Where the citizen, on rising, draws up his bathing water from the middle of Lake Superior and his [illegible] drinking fluid from Milwaukee [illegible]. Where the housemaids throw the dish water by the drainage canal into the back yards of the sad residents of Saint Louie.

"Chicago! the Mecca of the footpad and the burglar; where the high-toned robber gallantly lifts his prey into a cab and searches him at his aristocratic leisure. The city at once the pride and the delight of the wild west and the despair of St. Louis. The abode of the 'I Will' maiden of mature years [illegible] face and [illegible] woman's attitude. Where society gentlemen [illegible] dress suits at noon and the fair divorcee timidly tells her biennial [illegible]. Where millionaires work [illegible] clerk and clerks [illegible] millionaires. The city which will [illegible] the [illegible] Cook county, Chicago."

The footpad returned to Pennsylvania avenue from his apostrophising [illegible], flighting and leaving the barkeep to [illegible] up for the drinks and cigars, made a bee-line for the B. & P. depot.—Washington Star.

The Nature of It.

"They say that mule meat gave the hungry people in Kimberley much better satisfaction than horse meat."

"That isn't strange. Mule meat would naturally make them kick at other food."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

ART FURNISHER'S TRIALS.

The Funny Order That Floated In on a New York Professional the Other Day.

"We have strange orders for decorative work," said an art furnisher. "We are ready to supply everything but plumbing and the way in which our versatility is taxed is sometimes amusing. Of course we furnish special designs for carpets and draperies and we undertake to make ancestral stained-glass windows. You don't know what they are? Well, they are a cross between memorial windows and family portraits. We design puritan windows for New England families and Dutch windows for New Yorkers and Norman windows for Anglo-Americans. If the weakness of the family be ancestors the figures in the windows are usually pointed out to visitors as Peter Van Block, who came to this country in such and such a year, or our ancestor Reginald Sloane. So, who came over in the Mayflower, etc.

"But I was going to tell you about the funny order that floated in the other day. It came from a man who has made a fortune in patent medicines and whose portrait is printed on every bottle. He is as familiar to the public as are the big-typed advertisements of his patent cure-all. We furnished his house for him, not long ago, and as he gave us full sway it is a very decent looking house if I do say it. One feature of the furnishings was his own idea, however, and we humored him and, of course, charged him for it. He insisted upon having his monogram woven into the doormats in large red and blue letters. He was satisfied with the house and it seemed about complete to us. But a few days ago came the order to have a 'portrait rug' woven for him, the portrait, if you please, to be his own! He is not a handsome man, and he is not picturesque, so we 'hedged.' We asked if he meant to have the portrait taken in fancy dress. He said no; he would wear his ordinary turn-down collar and white necktie and his everyday pompadour coiffure.

"Then the art manager of the rug and carpet department took the law into his own hands and said the order could not be carried out. No portrait rugs could be made for at least six months—the artist usually intrusted with such delicate work being on a vacation in Australia. The patent medicine man was displeased and much disappointed in us. I'm afraid, but we must encourage the beautiful and keep down the commonplace in order to live up to our reputation."—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

MAN-EATING SHARKS.

A Pacific Mail Steamship Captain Gives a Description of the Monster.

"If Clark Russell or Robert Louis Stevenson had, in one of their sea romances, described the wrecking of a ship, the upsetting of life rafts by shoals of ravenous sharks, and the devouring of 45 of the crew, they would have, indeed, been termed romancers by the public," said a former captain in the Pacific Mail service, "yet this was the unhappy fate of the crew of the British ship Hepuh, wrecked recently in the China seas.

"People here and along the eastern seacoast do not know what sharks are, as compared with the huge and voracious man-eaters of tropical waters. Whenever a good-sized shark is seen off one of the New Jersey coast resorts, it is made a matter of news in the press, and timid people 'won't bathe' in consequence. In the warm waters of the tropical Pacific they flourish to enormous size and, in the harbors, swarm around the Pacific Mail steamers in schools like gigantic minnows. It is actually terrifying to lean over the steamer's rail and watch these bloodthirsty tigers of the sea glide through the still waters, fighting like demons for scraps of ship's refuse thrown overboard by the cooks.

"In the harbor, landlocked and placid, of Acapulco, on the west Mexican coast, they are as thick almost as salmon in the Columbia. The third engineer and a fireman on one of the vessels I commanded were returning to the steamer one afternoon, both a trifle under the influence of stimulants. In some manner they capsized the small boat in which they were rowing, and, before my eyes and those of the crew and passengers on the deck, were sucked down in a whirlpool by the sharks, the straw hat of the engineer alone floating beside the upturned boat to tell the tale of their untimely end. It was a horrifying, pulse-stopping sight. Every sailor on board of Pacific vessels knows that one of the most terrible of deaths awaits him if he falls overboard when the vessel is lying in harbor. In the Atlantic his chances of being saved are good."—Washington Star.

Had Been a Change.

Kansas Man (visiting in the east)—We have lots of near neighbors now.

Friend—Why, I thought your nearest neighbor was 20 miles away.

"Yes; but we've had a cyclone since then."—Harlem Life.

"A Miss is As Good as a Mile."

If you are not entirely well, you are ill. Illness does not mean death's door. It is a sense of weariness, a "tired feeling," a life filled with nameless pains and suffering. In 90% of cases the blood is to blame. Hood's Sarsaparilla is Nature's corrective for disorders of the blood. Remember

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

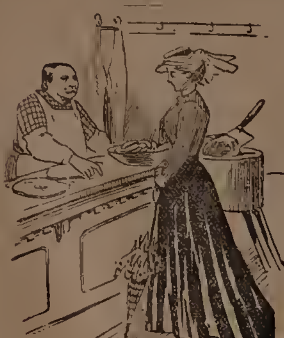
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE.
Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

SHE DIDN'T KNOW.



Mrs. Younghusband—I want some lamb.

Butcher — Yes'm. Forequarter of lamb, mam?

Mrs. Younghusband—Well, no; I think three-quarters will be enough.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

How to Brush a Hat.

Some men will buy two or three black derby hats a season, and these will always look rusty and old. Other men will not buy more than one a year, and that will never lose its deep and brilliant gloss. "I'll tell you why it is," said the best dresser in Germantown the other day. "It is because one man brushes his hat with a stiff bristled whisk, and the other rubs his softly with a woollen cloth. The felt of a hat is such a delicate stuff that a stiff whisk applied to it has pretty much the effect that a currycomb or a rake would have on a suit of clothes. It wears the nap off in short order. A piece of woollen cloth, rubbed over a hat with a circular motion that conforms to the grain, doesn't rub off the nap at all but keeps it lustrous and firm and of good color. I buy one two-an'-a-half hat a year, and rub it each morning with a bit of flannel. I guarantee that it outlasts three five-dollar hats that are raked and scraped with whisks every day."—Philadelphia Record.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, }
LUCAS COUNTY. } ss.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the city of Toledo, county and state aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

SEAL. A. W. GLEASON,
Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75c.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Prevented a Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs George Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1 00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at A. C. Mason's drug store.

Yarmouth Line's Fall Excursions.

Not to have visited Nova Scotia during September is to have missed one of the most delightful of autumnal tours. During this month the Yarmouth Steamship company will sell excursion tickets, good for thirty days from date of purchase, to all points in Nova Scotia at unusually low rates. You may go to Yarmouth and return for only $7; to Digby and return for $8.50; to Halifax and return for $8.50; and correspondingly low rates to all other places, including south shore ports reached by the steamer City of Monticello from Yarmouth. Yarmouth line steamers leave Pier 1, Lewis wharf, every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 2 p. m. for Yarmouth. Full particulars and tickets at the tourist agencies, 201, 296 and 332 Washington street, or of H. F. Hammond, agent Yarmouth Steamship company, Pier 1, Lewis wharf, Boston.

Pyny-Pectoral Relieves Right Away and makes a speedy end of coughs and colds.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Chilson's Market

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef, 10 to	12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

feb-ly8

EDISON'S PHONOGRAPH

Better than a Piano, Organ, or Music Box, for it sings and talks as well as plays, and don't cost as much. It reproduces the music of any instrument—band or orchestra—tells stories and sings—the old familiar hymns as well as the popular songs—it is always ready. See that Mr. Edison's signature is on every machine. Catalogues of all dealers, or NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., 135 Fifth Ave., New York.

mhl-eow

Her Experience.

"Have you," he asked, "ever taken a trip through the slums?"

"No," she replied, "but I once walked through a smoking car where the men were spitting on the floor. That was slumming enough for me."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Gratified.

"They say that in time the horse will become practically extinct," said the young woman.

"Well," answered Bronco Bob, "I'm glad to hear it. It'll save a powerful sight o' lynchin's."—Washington Star.

Good Reason.

Grandma—I wouldn't eat that hard apple in that way, Willie.

Willie—I shouldn't think you would, grandma. I wouldn't either if I didn't have no more teeth 'n you got.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Fundamental Principles.

She—Yes, a woman's first duty is to her husband.

He—What's a man's first duty?

She—Why, to become the husband of some nice girl, of course.—Chicago Record.

Cause and Effect.

"I hear the tenor is laid up with a sprained ankle," said the church choir baritone.

"Yes," giggled the soprano, "he slipped up on an organ peal."—Philadelphia Record.

A Stranger in Church.

Struggling Minister—There was a stranger in church to-day.

His Wife—What did he look like?

Struggling Minister—I did not see him, but I found a dollar in the contribution box.—Ohio State Journal.

Gentle Little Hint.

Gerald—What do you think I'm best fitted for?

Geraldine—I think you would make a howling success as an armless wonder.—Town Topics.

A Hard World.

"Friends are always riddy to push ye up," said the janitor philosopher, "but viry few av thim will put a fither bid under ye whin ye fall."—Chicago Daily News.

Different Denominations.

"A man gave over a hundred dollars for a copper cent the other day."

"That's nothing. An English syndicate has just paid $2,000,000 for a woolen mill."—Harlem Life.

So They Do.

"Do people ever have corns anywhere except on their feet?"

"Why, yes; farmers have corn in the ear."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Very Likely.

Fox—Sailors used to believe it was a bad omen to kill an albatross.

De Witt—Yes? No doubt the albatross did too.—N. Y. Journal.

Doubtful Imitation.

"That's imitation coffee you're drinking. Never guessed it, did you?"

"No. I thought it was tea."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Eating and Sleeping.

Food supplies the substance for repairing the wastes of the body and gives strength. Sleep affords the opportunity for these repairs to be made. Both are necessary to health. If you can't eat and sleep, take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It creates a good appetite and tones the digestive organs, and it gives the sweet, restful sleep of childhood. Be sure to get Hood's.

Biliousness is cured by Hood's Pills, 25 cents.

His Request.

Heiress—No, I can never be yours.

Suitor (in desperation)—Then remain engaged to me for one week. I beg of you, so that I may patch up my credit a little.—N. Y. World.

He Fooled the Surgeons.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from rectal fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists.

To the Deaf.

A rich lady, cured of her deafness in the head by Dr Nicholson's Artificial Eardrums, gave $10,000 to his institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the ear drums may have them free. Address No 5085C, The Nicholson Institute, 780 Eighth avenue, New York, U.S.A. jl27

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN

EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON).

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.
Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-Ftf

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

SAVINGS BANK,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, }
LESTER L. BURRINGTON, } Vice Presidents.
WALTER M. FISHER, }
DR. GEORGE KING. }
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, E. P. Chapman, B. M. Rockwood, George W. Wiggin, Charles Stewart.

STATEMENT JULY 31, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors		$571,100 11
Guarantee Fund		28,217 86
Profit and Loss Account		738 99
Interest Account		5[illegible]7 15
Real Estate Income Account		[illegible] 19
		$600,700 30

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		27,719 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
C. F. Boynton account		3,023 12
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		28,915 00
" " Mortgages		157,500 00
" " Personal Securities		169,841 18
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		34 97
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$7,822 25
Nat. Bank of Redemption	4,095 58
Mercantile Trust Co.	84 16
		12,001 99
Cash on hand		752 37
		$600,700 30

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

ADELBERT D. THAYER.
CHARLES STEWART.
Committee of Examination.

July 31, 1900.

News and Opinions
OF National Importance.

THE SUN

ALONE
CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

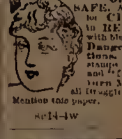
Address THE SUN, New York.

Do You Want to Know about Automobiles—the different kinds their construction, care and operation—tours, runs, etc., of owners and users? If so, you should subscribe for the handsomely illustrated, thoroughly original, up-to-date automobilists monthly.

$1 a year. 10c. a copy. Sample two 2c.-sta'ps. Live Agents wanted.

The Automobile
150 Nassau St., N.Y.

au10-F



CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

Mention this paper.

se14-4w

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

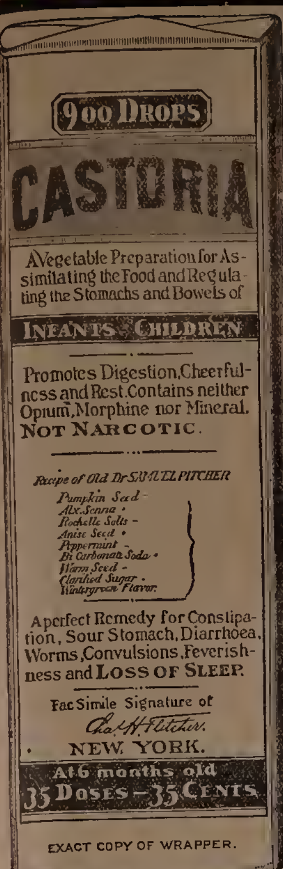
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1 00 at Druggists

au31-4w

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.

Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.

Business Announcements in the [illegible] cent-a-word column in the SUN [illegible] are invariably [illegible]



900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS & CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna •
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed •
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda •
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar •
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES—35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

FOREIGN GOSSIP.

The consumption of cotton per head has more than doubled in Germany since 1875.

The valley of the Amazon still remains almost unexplored. What has been done has been accomplished, in great measure, by Europeans.

Queensland is beng converted into a large orange orchard. The Australian orange ripens at a time when Spain, Italy and California cannot provide the fruit.

The oldest note in the possession of the Bank of England is dated December 19, 1699, for £555. In the bank library is a note for £25 which was not presented for 111 years.

Storms of great severity are common on the Caspian sea, owing to its great size and the fact that its coasts are peculiarly favorable to sudden and violent atmospheric changes.

Malta is one of the most important coaling ports in the Mediterranean, and consequently there are many firms there dealing in coal, of which there is at all times a large stock on hand.

Germany's exportation of ready-made clothing is falling off. In 1898 it amounted to $211,542,000, which was $16,000,000 less than in 1896, and $46,450,000 less than in 1889. The reduction is mainly in shipments to England, Holland and Switzerland.

The maidens of Denmark never experience the pleasure of receiving a diamond engagement ring. They are presented with a plain gold band, which is worn on the third finger of the left hand. On the wedding day the bridegroom changes the ring to the right third finger, which is the marriage finger in that country.

INDIA'S PECULIAR PEOPLE.

This Account Says the Bicycle Has Nearly Emancipated the Parsi Women.

The most peculiar people of India are the Parsis (or "Parsees," meaning "Persians"), who feed their dead to the vultures upon the Towers of Silence. They fled to India from Persia when that land fell into the hands of the Arabs 12 centuries ago. Their men are the first very singular persons the traveler sees on board the ship which takes him to India, their singularity consisting in their long sallow faces and large eyes, their shiny, patent-leather-looking, tubular hats and their long and ugly coats. They are most numerous in Bombay, but one meets them in other cities on "Bombay side," and in Madras and Calcutta on the other shore. They are the richest natives of India, and have made and still make their money in trade.

They are the only Indians who as a body admire and cultivate western progressive ideas, who treat their women fairly well ((according to our ideas), and who permit their widows to marry again. Their first rule of life is to practice benevolence, and no people do this more liberally. They maintain nearly two score charitable institutions in Bombay alone. They are the only people in the world who do not smoke, and this is because they will not trifle with fire, which is sacred in their belief. They never spit, and they will not in any way contaminate the earth or water or defile the trees and flowers. That is why they destroy their dead without burning the bodies.

They have no beggars among them; they are monogamists; they are not caste-ridden (or rotted), like the Hindoos, for they acknowledge but two classes—the priests and the people. They keep New Year day, not only as a religious fete day, but, much as we do, as a day for general visiting. Their women are not imprisoned with their servants or otherwise degraded, but may be met anywhere and everywhere to the same extent as English women in India. So often are these women comely, and so beautifully are they clad—in such soft and exquisitely colored silks—that, as one writer says, "they appear as houris floating about the earth in silk balloons, with a ballasting of anklets, necklaces, earrings and jewelry." It is no more than fair of the Parsi men to let this be as it is, for they are the ugliest men that crawl upon this globe.

An English lady advised me to go and see the rich Parsi young women riding bicycles on the road beside the see at four o'clock of any afternoon. What an idea! The bicycle has so revolutionized young womanhood in England that men who return there after a short absence cannot credit their sense as they note the change in the maidens and their home government. What will it do—or not do—in India? Truly that oddest-looking toy has worked as much of the change in this swift-hooted century as many of our most important inventions. It has proved a steed which leaps the highest hars of prejudice, runs away with the deepest-rooted conventions—even outpaces the plans of women for their own emancipation. I try to fancy what it may do in India, but, after all, it has only a few thousands of Parsis upon whom to work.—Harper's Magazine.

Proof Against Him.

"Why, papa," exclaimed the lovely maiden, "I don't see how you can object to Archibald. He is handsome and brilliant."

"I know that," the gruff old man replied, "but I have no faith in him."

"And he must be very rich, because he told me last night that his taxes for this year were more than $20,000."

"Oho! That settles it. You shan't be his. Now I know that he has no ability as a financier."—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Prize.

Little Wife—See what I have bought you for a birthday present — I got it at an auction — a genuine, antique, old-fashioned boot-jack, such as your colonial ancestors used.

Husband—I haven't worn boots for 20 years.

Little Wife—I know. Won't it look lovely when it's decorated and hung up?—N. Y. Weekly.

Almost One.

"Pa, what's an agnostic?"

"A man who doesn't know."

"Then are you an agnostic, pa?"

"No. Why?"

"'Cause I heard ma saying this morning that you didn't know any more than a pair of old shoes with the strings out."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Bears Them in Mind.

Wiggs—He's very charitable, isn't he?

Waggs—Who, Pincher?

Wiggs—Yes. He says he always remembers the poor.

Waggs—Well, that's all. It's a matter of memory. Philadelphia Catholic Standard.

A Query.

"Come, come!" cried the philosophic mamma dog, who had just chastised one of her puppies. "Can you mend matters by whining in that fashion?"

The puppy continued to whine.

"If not," resumed the mother dog, "whine not?"—Philadelphia Press.

A Serious Case.

Nodd—Is Gilpins really henpecked?

Todd—I should say so. Why, he goes to church with his wife every Sunday.—Town Topics.

One View of Her.

Business Caller (looking at photograph)—This is a picture of Mrs. Peckington, I suppose?

Peckington—Yes; that's her when she is er—getting her picture taken.—Puck.

His Little Joke.

Mrs. Diggs—I wonder if I can get any dye stuff at the corner drug store?

Mr. Diggs—Sure thing. But in order to get the die stuff you'll have to have a prescription from a physician.—Chicago Daily News.

An Assurance.

Voice (from within)—Who is it?

Hans Wursts—Gretchen, I am nobody else. Lock der door open.—Judge.

One Should Be Careful.

Veiled threats often result in an entire mourning costume. Chicago Dispatch.

One View of It.

We always criticise; others find fault.—Philadelphia Times.

After the Catastrophe.

"The cashier confesses that he wrecked the bank."

"And didn't the assistant cashier know anything about what was going on?"

"Certainly! He was assisting the cashier."—Puck.

Mean of Him.

"I peeped into the parlor as I came along the hall," remarked Mr Familiman, "and I saw quite a strange freak of nature."

"Really?" exclaimed Mrs. Familiman. "Edith is there with her young man."

"Yes. I saw two heads on one pair of shoulders."—Philadelphia Press.

In Mitigation.

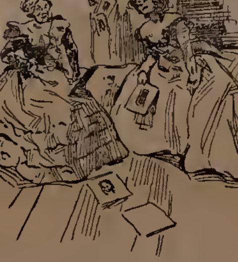
"The complaining witness says you started the quarrel by telling him you would hate to be found dead with such a shirt on as he was wearing."

"So I would, your honor. I'd hate to be found dead any way you could fix it."—Chicago Tribune.

The Useful and the Beautiful.

Oh, merry bird! Your ways almost
Make human life a failure flat.
You cost a dollar served on toast
And twenty on a lady's hat
—Washington Star

FLATTERY WITH A THORN.



"This last photograph of mine is simply atrocious."

"Yes, but an excellent likeness, don't you think, dear?"—The King.

Man's Lost Power.

No wonder that man made his mate
Obey in olden days,
For then the men wore armor plate
That hatpins wouldn't phase.
—Chicago Times-Herald.

After the Honeymoon.

"You argue like an idiot," angrily exclaimed the husband.

"I know it, my dear," calmly replied his better half. "You see, I dont want to take an unfair advantage of you."—Chicago Daily News.

An Unfortunate Case.

Mrs. Bundy—Do you know that when Mrs. Lundy comes to my house I can never find anything to talk about?

Mrs. Grundy—Great heavens! don't you know anyone that she knows?—Town Topics.

Art Distinction.

Fair Amateur—Yes. I painted this. What school of painting would you call it?

Artist (gently)—Boarding school.—N. Y. Weekly.

Theory vs. Fact.

Professor—For anatomical reasons, women cannot stand so long as men.

Young Lady—I guess you never saw a woman having a dress fitted.—N. Y. Weekly.

Not Guilty.

"Do you use tobacco in any form?" asked the bishop of the applicant for work.

"No, sor," replied Pat. "I shmoke storgies."—Town Topics.

Evidently She Failed.

"So she tried to freeze you with a look?"

"Yes; that's what made me so hot."—Chicago Times-Herald.

You May Need

Pain-Killer

For Cuts Burns Bruises

Cramps Diarrhœa All Bowel Complaints

It is a sure, safe and quick remedy.

There's ONLY ONE

Pain-Killer

Perry Davis'.

Two sizes, 25c and 50c.

PIANOS

At Fire Sale Prices

OVER 100 pianos in our warerooms at the time of the fire were uninjured. Their only fault is that they have seen a fire at a distance, and they will be sold at a heavy discount; every one [illegible] warranted; easy payments; two or three years to finish paying if desired. Ivers & Pond uprights, $[illegible] and [illegible] upward; uprights of other makes, $1[illegible] and upward; squares $5 and upward.

HANDSOME Ivers & Pond upright, mahogany case, medium size, was not near the fire, stood in another part of the warerooms, is in perfect condition; price before the fire $[illegible], now $2[illegible]; $2[illegible] down and $[illegible] per month.

BEAUTIFUL Ivers & Pond upright, mahogany case, large size, entirely new; you would never know it had been near a fire; delightful tone and action; regular price, $[illegible]; special sale price $315, $25 down and $[illegible] per month.

IVERS & POND upright, our largest and most expensive style, had been slightly used before fire, not damaged by the fire in the slightest; exquisite tone, delightful action; regular price $500; fire sale price, $3[illegible]5, on easy payments if desired.

150 more genuine bargains can be seen at our warerooms. If you cannot call, write for list of special bargains.

IVERS & POND PIANO CO.,
114 and 116 Boylston St., Boston.

Why He Changed His Mind.

Bacon—That fellow used to be one of the most outspoken foes of the trusts.

Egbert—Isn't he now?

"Oh, no; he's completely turned around."

"What brought about this wonderful change do you suppose?"

"Oh, he owns a little stock in one of the trusts, now."—Yonkers Statesman.

Spring Sounds.

There's a sound in the land like the rub
a-dub-dub
Of the drum when it's calling to war.
But it's only the noise when the dutiful hub
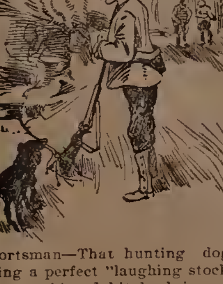
Is beating out rugs by the score.
—N. Y. World.

TOO WELL TRAINED.



Sportsman—That hunting dog is making a perfect "laughing stock" of me; everything I hit he brings back to me!—N. Y. Journal.

A Spring Song.

Spring is not a feast of blossoms,
Nor of bonnets—on my soul.
Deeper lies its fount of gladness—
Spring is just surcease of coal.
—Chicago Record.

Their Frequent Trips.

"The grand jury must go away frequently," said Mrs. Gaswell to her husband.

"Go away?" repeated Mr. Gaswell. "What do you mean?"

"I often see in the papers a headline which reads: 'Grand Jury Returns.'"—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

Not in a Hurry.

Tramp—Kind lady, kin yer help a pore man wot's lost his wife?

Mrs. Kindheart—Oh, isn't that too bad! Here is some pie that I made myself.

Tramp—T'anks, lady. I ain't anxious ter join me wife jest yet.—N. Y. Journal.

Effect of Travel.

"I suppose your daughter acquired a great deal of manner from her foreign experiences?"

"Oh, no; she lost all her manners and brought home a lot of airs."—Chicago Record.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female disease quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a Godsend to weak, sickly, run-down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co. druggists.

Gratitude.

Aunt—I have, my dear boy, formally made you my heir.

Nephew—My dearest aunt! Oh, what a fine funeral you shall have to pay for this!—N. Y. World.

The Appetite of a Goat

Is envied by all poor dyspeptics whose stomach and liver are out of order. All such should know that Dr. King's New Life Pills, the wonderful stomach and liver remedy, gives a splendid appetite, sound digestion and a regular bodily habit that insures perfect health and great energy. Only 25c at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store.

DAVID CITY, NEB., April 1, 1900.
Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it. My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

Yours truly, LILLIE SOCHOR.

The Adornment of an Arab Girl.

Arab girls before they enter the harem and take the veils are a curious sight to behold. Their bodies and face are dyed a bright yellow with tumeric. On this ground they paint black lines with antimony over their eyes; the fashionable color for the nose is red; green spots adorn the checks, and the general aspect is grotesque beyond description.—"Southern Arabia."

A Worked-Out Mine.

"I am the gas meter inspector," announced the caller.

"Come in," replied the man of the house, "but I don't think you'll find much left. The plumber has just left, and we were visited by burglars during the night."—Philadelphia North American.

A Vivid Idea.

The Preacher—The human mind can form no adequate idea of hell.

The Plodder—Can't, eh? Well, you just let your wife drag you into one of these department stores for a shopping tour.—Kansas City Independent.

Honeymoon Discoveries.

"Daughter, is your husband amiable?"

"Well, ma, he's just exactly like pa; when he gets his own way about everything he's just lovely."—Detroit Free Press.

Love of Change.

Milliner—That hat will last you several seasons, Miss Flyhigh.

Miss Flyhigh—Oh, I don't want that kind of a hat; show me one that won't be fit to seen in about four weeks.—Chicago Record.

No Dainty Morsel.

Tramp (to hired girl)—Could I get a bite here?

Hired Girl—No; we ain't got anything on the place that would bite such a looking object as you are.—Harlem Life.

Unendurable.

Mrs. Buggins—Why did you move in from the country? Did you find it too lonesome?

Mrs. Muggins — Yes; there wasn't even anybody to inquire how much we paid our cook.—Philadelphia Record.

Sartorial Sapiency.

Bobbs—Clothes do not make the man.

Dobbs—No; but many a lawyer has been made by a good suit.—Baltimore American.

What He Preferred.

"Do you take sugar in your coffee?" asked Mrs. Small of the star boarder.

"No, ma'am," replied the latter; "but I would like some coffee in it."—Harlem Life.

Perils of the Sea.

"Yes," said the lady who had been shipwrecked, "we suffered terrible hardships. We drifted for two weeks in an open boat and I lost my pocket mirror the first day."—N. Y. Journal.

Easy to Get Along With.

Yeast—Is your wife hard to manage?

Crimsonbeak—No; not if I let her have her own way.—Yonkers Statesman.

Still Relaying.

"What's become of that fellow who used to ride in the relay races?"

"He's putting down old carpets."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

EASE AND DISEASE.

A Short Lesson on the Meaning of a Familiar Word.

Disease is the opposite of ease. Webster defines disease as "lack of ease, uneasiness, trouble, vexation, disquiet." It is a condition due to some derangement of the physical organism. A vast majority of the "dis ease" from which people suffer is due to impure blood. Disease of this kind is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, pimples and all eruptions. It tones the stomach and creates a good appetite, and it gives vigor and vitality to the whole body. It reverses the condition of things, giving health, comfort and "ease" in place of "disease."

Broken Bric-A-Bracs.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man, of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's cement. The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are to expensive and do not allow large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $3.75 a pound, and another cost $2.65 a gallon while a large share of the so called cements and liquid glue, upon the market are nothing more than 18 cent glue, dissolved in water or citric acid, and in some cases, altered slightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials. Major's cement retails at fifteen and twenty-five cents a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make a larger profit. The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising which now amounts to $5000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876. Insist on having Major's. Don't accept any off hand advice from a druggist. If you are at all handy (and you will be likely to find that you are more so than you imagine) you can repair your rubber boots and family shoes, and other rubber and leather articles, with Major's rubber cement and Major's leather cement. And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will save. If your druggist can't supply you, it will be forwarded by mail; either kind. Free of postage.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 m, 12 04, 3 30, 4 34, 5 15, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 10 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m, 12 48, 41[illegible], 5 15, 6 01, 7 13, 7 30, 9 10 p m, 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7 58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 50, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m. S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m, 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m, 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 29 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m, S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 16, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 00 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m. S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m, 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 5 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m, 5 35 p m.

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	-	10c
5 to 15 miles,	- -	15c
15 to 25 "	- -	20c
25 to 35 "	- -	25c
35 to 45 "	- -	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

G. A. Martin, M.D.,
. . AND . . .
C. B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL.
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A. J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours From 2 to 3 p. m., and by appointment.
92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1829.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all here is to it.

On the Stool of Repentance

is where you will find yourself during summer's sultry days unless you clear your complexion and cool your blood by purifying it with

Dana's Sarsaparilla

50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Bright eyes and a clean, clear skin, as well as an eleastic step and good spirits, comes from ridding the blood of impurities with this reliable blood purifier.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

PHILBRICK—COOK

Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the Congregational church at Wrentham, Miss Amelia Bughee Cook was married to Joseph Matthew Philbrick of New York. The officiating clergyman was Rev. William B. Allis of Plymouth church of Brooklyn, assisted by the pastor of the Congregational church, Rev. William J. Minchin. The church was handsomely decorated. The bride came in on the arm of her brother, Daniel A. Cook, of Boston, who gave her away. She was handsomely attired in white silk and point lace, wearing a veil fastened with lilies of the valley and carried the same flower She was attended by Miss Florence A Fisher, who wore white organdie over white silk and carried pink roses. There were no bridesmaids. The best man was William Alden Paull of Cambridge, cousin of the groom. The ushers were George B Chadwick of Taunton, Frederic P. Fisher of Boston, George W. Gilmore and D. S Farrington of Wrentham, Horace F Pomeroy of New York and Edmund B. Haynes of Andover.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride. The house was a bower of loveliness and the grounds were decorated with oak boughs and golden rod The presents were magnificent, including a silver coffee service, tea service and a wealth of cut glass and fine china, together with an elegant lot of silver. A handsome vase was the gift of George Fred W[illegible]ms. Mr. Philbrick is a very able young man, a former resident of Taunton, who was a member of the common council and board of aldermen for several years he also represented his city in the legislature, where he has many friends Mr and Mrs. Philbrick will be at home to their friends the first Tuesday in November at 244 West 138th street, New York city.

Judging by the [illegible].

It's [illegible] to [illegible] by the umbrella he carries un[illegible] find out wh[illegible] Chicago [illegible] News.

Church Services.

Universalist church.—Rev Dwight M. Hodge, D.D., pastor, will preach at 10.30 on "What the World is Waiting For" Y. P. C. U at 6.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 4 Sunday school at 3. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10 Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D; theme, "1 Timothy, ii., 5." Sunday school at 12 Y. P. S C E. at 6 30 Evening service at 7.30; subject of pastor's talk, "The Message of Two Strangers."

Methodist church — Preaching at 10.30 and 7.30 by the pastor, Rev. S. A. Cook; morning subject, "Crucified with Christ;" evening subject, "Saving the Lost." Sunday school at 12. Junior Epworth league at 3. Epworth league at 6 30; subject, "The Broad Way—The Narrow Way;" leader, Miss T Desire Lewis.

Facts in the Case.

Timkins—But is your income sufficient to justify you in marrying?

Simkins—I'm afraid not.

"Then what reason have you for taking such a step?"

"I have no reason at all. I'm in love."

—Chicago Evening News

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending September 12, 1900.

Ladies—Miss J. F Closson, Mrs. E. P. Hayward, Miss Nellie McKenna, Miss Ada R. Mosar, Mrs Margaret E. Moon, Mrs. Ellen Ryan, Mrs Hugh Smith

Gentlemen—F. B Brightman, George Chaplin, J. Maker, Percy Wildman, H. L. White.

Foreign—Angelo Paoletta.

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list

After Dinner

To assist digestion, relieve distress after eating or drinking too heartily, to prevent constipation, take

Hood's Pills

Sold everywhere. 25 cents.

SLEEPING-ROOM OUTFIT ON EASY TERMS:

This comprises an elegant selected Chamber Set in golden oak finish, 2 Chairs, Rocker and Table to match, Woven Wire Spring, 1 pair Pillows, a good Mattress and Decorated Dresden Toilet Set.

ALL FOR $38.00.

TERMS—$5.00 or $10.00 down, $1.00 each week.

Where will you go to get credit? Don't go at all. COME—your credit is good right here.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free Delivery at your home the hour you name.

Final Clearance Sale.

SHIRT WAISTS AT HALF PRICE.

Shirt Waists worth 50c., now 19c.
Shirt Waists, assorted Percales, were $1.00, now 49c.
Black Shirt Waists, were $1.00, now 75c.
Black Shirt Waists, were $1.98, now $1.39.
White Shirt Waists, were $1.75, now 87c.

Ladies will find our store a pleasant and convenient place to wait for the electrics.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.

BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

A Guilty Conscience.

'Rastus—Whad yo' t'ink is de mattah wif me, doctah?

Doctor—Oh, nothing but chicken-pox, I guess.

'Rastus (getting nervous)—I 'clare on mah honah, doctah, I hain't bin nowhar I could ketch dat!—Judge.

Warned.

"I may be a tramp," said Waggles, "but under my ragged coat there is a heart that beats."

"Stranger," said the farmer, "under the fence yonder is a dog that bites."—Philadelphia North American.

Strange, Indeed.

McJigger—That's a funny thing

Thingumbob—What is?

"Miss Passey was an old maid before she married, and now that her husband is dead she has become a young widow."—Philadelphia Record.

Not Always Redcoats.

The British soldier has not always worn a red uniform. White was the prevailing color under Henry VIII., and dark green or russet in the time of Elizabeth.—N. Y. Sun.

Florida and the South.

The Southern railway, with its perfect service, is now handling a very large business for parties destined south and southwest The system operates through sleeping car service from New York to Atlanta, Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Chattanooga, Birmingham, Meridian, Memphis, Nashville, Columbia, Augusta, Savannah, Jacksonville and Tampa; also Pullman tourist sleeping cars from Washington to San Francisco. Dining car service on all through trains. For information regarding the south and its resorts apply to George C. Daniels, N E. P. A, 288 Washington street, Boston.

Women Keeping House

who want an easy and quick answer to the daily question, "What shall we have for dinner or for supper or for breakfast?" should take the Boston Daily and Sunday Globe.

Every day the Globe publishes a simple, inexpensive and nice bill of fare for a breakfast, a dinner and a supper. This is specially prepared by an experienced, skilled and economical housekeeper.

In addition, the choicest recipes from the skilled cooks of the homes of New England are printed every day, and any special recipes wanted by any woman are readily supplied.

In fact, the Globe is a daily cook book for the housekeepers of New England

The housekeepers' department in the Globe every day tells you how to get rid of pests, how to take care of plants flowers and animals, how to do fancy work, etc., etc., etc Order the Globe at once of your newsdealer and try it.

Your best friend can give you no better advice than this. "For impure blood, bad stomach and weak nerves take Hood's Sarsaparilla"

Hoag Lake

PARK.

WEEK OF SEPT. 10

Afternoons at 3.15.

Evenings at 8.15.

Boom's Trans=Atlantic Stars.

THE TWO McGINLEYS,
Sensational Trapze Actors.
WILLIAMS and WILLIAMS,
Black Face Comedy Sketch.
MISS EMMA KRAUSE,
Prima Donna, Soprano.
MURPHY and WILLARD,
Comedy Sketch, "Doughnuts."
GILBERT GIRARD,
Imitator of Voices and Animals.
THE MURPHYS,
Acrobatic Comedy Sketch.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je26-tocl

No. 1207

REPORT of the condition of the FRANKLIN NATIONAL BANK, at Franklin, in the state of Massachusetts, at the close of business, Sept. 5, 1900

RESOURCES

Loans and discounts		$316,943 84
U. S Bonds to secure circulation		100,000 00
Stocks, securities, etc		48,000 00
Due from National banks not reserve agents		46,615 79
Due from approved reserve agents		14,875 04
Checks and other cash items		127 20
Notes of other National banks		5,000 00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents		85 75
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz:
Specie	$9,400 00
Legal tender notes	20,602 00—	30,002 00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation)		5,000 00
Total		$566,649 62

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$200,000 00
Surplus fund	50,000 00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	47,986 18
National bank notes outstanding	99,400 00
Due to Trust Companies and Savings Banks	5,025 42
Dividends unpaid	2,214 00
Individual deposits subject to check	161,143 10
Certified checks	750 00
Exchange account	130 92
Total	$566,649 62

State of Massachusetts, county of Norfolk, ss:

I, F. H. Bartholomew, cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

F. H. BARTHOLOMEW, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 13th day of September, 1900

ORESTES T. DOE, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest

WILLIAM A. WYCKOFF,
ADELBERT D. THAYER,
JAMES F. RAY,

Directors

Contempt.

Two young lawyers were debating in Judge Frazer's part of the Wayne circuit court, and a German witness was on the stand.

"I don't kind understan' gut Anglish," said the witness.

"There is no danger of hearing any," said Judge Frazer.

"It must be that your honor is about to make a speech," put in one of the attorneys and he escaped without a fine for contempt.—Detroit Free Press.

When It Failed.

"Was your Don't Worry club successful?"

"Yes, indeed—that is, up to a certain point."

"What do you mean by that?"

"Why, it was all right so long as all we had to do was to refrain from worrying about other people's troubles, but after awhile we got to some of our own, and that was different, don't you know."—Chicago Post.

Comer's Commercial College

Known Everywhere

as the most modern, progressive and in every way "up-to-date" business school. Prepares

Young Men and Women

in the shortest time—at the least expense—for good paying business positions. Day and evening sessions. If you want to know all about Shorthand, Book-keeping and the most successful Employment Department send for latest prospectus.

666 Washington St., cor. Beach St.,
BOSTON.

se14-6wF

ARE YOU Looking for CHOICE CONFECTIONERY, always fresh?
ARE YOU Looking for CHOICE CIGARS?
ARE YOU Ever THIRSTY?

We have Confectionery from 20c. to 50c. per lb., Cigars from 2c. to 20c. each, and our Soda is simply delicious.

Just come in and try us once.
We know you will come again.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

THE PRICE IS LOW . .
MERELY A WHISPER . .
LISTEN! . . . . 29c.

LADIES' COLORED SHIRT WAISTS, 29 CENTS.

WORTH 50 CENTS. Sizes 36 and 38 only.

Butterick Patterns
and Publications.

N. C. NYE.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Coal! Coal!

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

MEDFIELD AND WAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tfS

J. A. GEB.

House and Sign Painter.

Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET

22-ly

If you want to buy or sell anything, have lost anything, or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent-a word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW

Enclosed • Arc • Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.

UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

∴ READ the Business Announcements

Your Wife is a Jewel

and her home is the setting. It is your duty to make this setting as beautiful as possible. Elaborateness doesn't necessarily mean beauty. Some of the prettiest Furniture in our store is the least expensive. Look around at home and then look around here, and you'll find means to brighten up the house wonderfully.

A small payment at time order is given and a little every week will pay for all your Furniture needs.

CHAMBER OUTFIT.

Suit complete, including Mattress, Springs and Toilet Set, $26.50
$2.75 down, 75c. a week.

KITCHEN OUTFIT.

Complete with Range, Table, Chairs, Oil Cloth, small ware, $35.00
$3.50 down, $1.00 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., • • Proprietor

OPEN DAILY FROM 9 A. M. TO 11 P. M.

BAND CONCERT

EVERY THURSDAY EVEMING.

Admission 10 cents. Dancing free.

Sacred Concert and Clam Bake

EVERY SUNDAY

till further notice. Admission 10 cents.

— DANCING —

Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday Evenings.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

JUST RECEIVED, A NEW LINE OF

Blanks, Pads, Tablets, Pencils, School Bags, Etc.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

At

WOODWARD'S

every description of

INSURANCE

can be placed. This

AGENCY

officially represents the

LEADING

American and Foreign

COMPANIES.

P A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.

my4-lyF

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet FEVERS
Tyboid

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE.. ..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week......50
Single Gallon......05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.

17-tf F

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Richard H. Dimond, late of Wrentham, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said court for probate by John H. Dimond of Wrentham, who prays that letters of administration with the will annexed may be issued to him, or some other suitable person, the executor named in said will having declined to serve,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the nineteenth day of September, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this twenty-ninth day of August, in the year nineteen hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

au31,se7,14

Hattie M Fisher

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 75. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
A. C. Dana & Son	4
Hoag Lake Park	4
Pullers Wanted at Bassett Bros	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 00 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Our Boys defeated the Haywards on Saturday, 18 to 10.

Charles A. R. Ray returned to Brown university yesterday.

James Hood of East street will begin his freshman year at Tuft's college this week.

Many of the wells around town have gone dry, owing to the continued dry weather.

C. Peter Kimball of Cohassett was in town Friday looking after his real estate interests here.

D. W. Fisher left last night for New York and from there to Philadelphia on a business trip.

Miss Eva Spence is reported critically ill with typhoid fever at the home of her father on Summer street.

Charles J. McDermott has resigned his position as assistant superintendent at the Colonial rubber works.

A grocery store has been opened by Sebastian Mucciarone in the room beneath the SENTINEL office.

Ex-Postmaster M. F. Conroy began work today in the N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad ticket office at Milford.

Wesley Fiske has been assisting at the Fairfield lunch wagon during the absence of the regular attendant.

The academy students again add life to the town. Some have been seen here before and others are new to the town.

The American band orchestra will furnish music for dancing at Hoag Lake tonight and Thursday and Saturday evenings.

Capt. Richard, a man of advanced years and a familiar figure in Franklin about ten years ago, is visiting old friends in town.

George E. Croissant has returned to his duties as ticket agent at the station here, after an extended vacation in New York state.

Roadmaster Savage left today to attend the roadmasters' convention held in Saratoga. He will visit in Binghampton, N. Y., before his return.

The Franklin House has been reopened for guests with Duncan B. Ford as manager. Proprietor Briggs, who is at Onset, will return about Oct. 1st.

Saturday evening a theatre car was run from Woonsocket for all those who attended the production of "Faust" at the Woonsocket opera house.

One of our townsmen, who is, by the way, a connoisseur of Belgian hares, has been out of town the past few days looking up some blue ribbon stock.

A large number of Franklin young people attended the benefit dance given in Medway last Friday night, by the Foresters in aid of Dudley Durant.

Mrs. Nellie Martin of School street and Miss Bessie Britain of Milliken avenue have returned home from a two weeks' vacation spent at Springfield.

Harry L. Howard, the popular and obliging clerk of the district court of western Norfolk, has just been admitted to the bar in Norfolk county. His home is in Walpole.

The Foresters will have as guests tomorrow evening a delegation from Sarsfield court of North Attleboro. An entertainment will be provided and a collation spread.

Rev. J. P. Chadbourne has returned to Franklin, where he will remain until Oct. 1, when he enters upon a contract with a publishing company, travelling through the West.

The remains of Mrs. Zoy Vanelette, who died of cerebral apoplexy at her late home on Central street last Friday at the age of 63 years, were taken to Millbury for interment on Saturday.

Arrangements are under consideration for holding a teachers' convention here some time in October. It is about six years since the board of education has furnished an intellectual treat of the kind for Franklinites.

The damage to the apple crop by the blow Wednesday was large, as hundreds of bushels of partially ripe fruit was shaken from the limbs. The abundance will probably create a boom in the cider making industry and create a large demand for casks of the right kind for the product.

Hubbard M. Bullock died at his home Monday noon after an extended illness. The funeral services will be held at the house Thursday forenoon at 10 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Cook officiating. A sketch and portrait will appear in the SENTINEL on Friday.

The first round in the ladies' tournament for the A. Blakeley Smith prize will be played off on the links of the Franklin Country club on Saturday forenoon. The second round of the gentlemen's contest will take place in the afternoon.

Thirty-one years ago Thursday, according to a local historian, the great September blow was on hand, when there was much destruction of property. It only lasted a short time and was accompanied with rain, therefore the blow of 1900 was a day ahead as an annual.

Major J. H. Chadwick, president of the Lead trust and trustee of Boston university, together with R H. Husted, treasurer and also trustee of the same institution, were guests of Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Fletcher yesterday. Dr. Fletcher is a confrere of these gentlemen upon the board of trustees.

Jacob F. Gebb has purchased of Mrs. Morse-Russell the Morse house on Union street, and will have it altered and painted and papered for a home himself. It is at present occupied by F. P. Bly, who will remove within a few days. It is a valuable property, and will make Mr. Geb a fine residence.

They say that the old Cataract engine worked beautifully at the Unionville fire Wednesday afternoon. The carpenters, the plumbers and the painters were near at hand to help man the brakes, and the machine responded at once with a full stream of water. Her long rest in the engine house had not stiffened her joints.

Attorney J. J. Feeley of Walpole, who is well known here, is organizing a street railway corporation to construct a line from Holliston to Natick via Sherborn. Mr. Feeley is the principal stockholder, being pledged to take 371 of the 500 shares. He is one of the prominent men operating the line from Dedham to Franklin.

The school committee have recently put a commercial telephone into the Horace Mann building and will shortly connect the William Thayer, the Nason street and the High school by a private line, which will be of especial service to Principal Daniels in communicating with his teachers. It will be money wisely expended.

Franklin voters will this year have an opportunity to vote for a county commissioner, register of deeds and county treasurer, each for the three years. The term of James Hewins of Medfield as county commissioner expires, and the other two offices are filled by John H. Burdakin of Dedham and Charles H. Smith of Dedham.

A new invention in the line of ladies' felt hats is having them made of narrow pieces of the material sewed together in the way that braid hats are made, instead of being pressed out of a single piece. They are somewhat heavier than the ordinary felt hat, and as they are a novelty, of course the ladies must have them for a change.

The busy season will open earlier to the man who doesn't neglect his advertising during the dull months, and the man who doesn't have any need of advertising will probably awaken some day to the realizing sense that there are many things he does need. No wide-awake business man wants to be quoted as saying that advertising doesn't pay.

The registrars of voters held their preliminary meeting to revise the voting list last week. There were only 770 names, though it is probable that a good number of additions will be made before the close of registration. As the list now stands the number of voters is as small as at any time during the past few years. It was 1,015 at the close of registration in 1896.

The next rehearsal for the "Pied Piper of Hamelin" will be tomorrow evening. A full attendance is very necessary. All who have thus far rendered their services have taken hold wonderfully, and with a full attendance at the next rehearsal great progress can be made. It is hoped to be ready for the stage by October 11. It is a good thing. Come and help it along.

The Republican voters of Franklin will meet in caucus at Town Hall, Tuesday evening, Sept. 25 at 7.30 to choose three delegates each to Republican state, congressional, councillor, county and senatorial conventions and four delegates to the representative convention of 1900, to elect a town committee for 1901, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the caucus.

Dr. E. C. Abbott was excused by His Honor after serving a few days at the Dedham court. The doctor was made foreman of the juries upon which he served, and enjoyed the experience exceedingly. He says that had he known how valuable an experience was to be gained by jury service he would have endeavored to have arranged his business so it would have have been possible to have remained. The man who refuses to serve is the loser.

The home of Arthur Currie, a student at Dean academy, is at Galveston, Texas, and when the news came of the terrible hurricane there he telegraphed to Galveston inquiring as to the safety of his parents. Receiving no reply to a second and third telegram, he became alarmed and decided to leave for home. Mr. Currie departed on Thursday, and shortly after leaving a telegram came to the academy from the student's parents at Galveston announcing their safety.

Dr. Austin B. Fletcher is preparing a bill for introduction into the legislature which provides that the trust funds of cemetery associations may be deposited with the state treasurer at an annual interest, the same as paid on state bonds. In this way the funds of such associations would be invested in a safe way as long as the state government was alive and all liability to poor investments avoided. So far as the associations are concerned, the idea seems to be an excellent one.

Judge H. E. Ruggles left Saturday to attend the seventy-sixth annual services of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., held in Richmond, Va., September 17 to 22. He will visit Washington, D. C., Old Point Comfort, Harper's Ferry, Antietam and Gettysburg before he returns. The headquarters will be at Jefferson hotel and the sessions will be in Convention hall, on the roof of the building. Judge Ruggles goes as grand representative in the suite of Grand Sire Alfred S. Pinkerton of Worcester, a distinguished honor.

The present indications are that electric railways will soon be so numerous in Massachusetts that no town of respectable size and average population will be left out in the cold. Already it is impossible to walk ten miles toward any point of the compass without tripping over an electric line or over a franchise for a line; the entire community is on the move, and every man, woman and child is ready to invest a couple of nickels for the chance to enjoy a fresh, cool breeze and a refreshing ride to an adjoining town.—Exchange.

The Barrington Courier hopes that in devotion to the modern expanded system of education, the teachers will not forget that readin', 'ritin' and 'rithmetic are important studies, and spelling likewise. Good English is too much at a discount in our modern school methods. Not one high school graduate in fifteen is half the adept in using English that he or she should have been before leaving the grammar department. And there are even common school teachers, and now and then a high school principal or headmaster, whose English is just as faulty.

Candidates for office in Franklin would have an easy time if there were more men who could "deliver the goods," like the one following. "Dear Sir and Fren—Herein that you wur in the Raice fer offie I want to know if you would caire for the voat of my Settlement. As I goes, so goes that Voat. The Settlement Swairs by me, an what I telle 'em to do they does. It is a white and cullored voat mixed, but it is au inteller-gent voat, if I does say it Myself. It is a voat that kin read, rite and count. If you wants that voat, let me know. If you don't want that voat, I know who does."

Tomorrow evening Manager Partridge will have for an attraction at Morse opera house "Peck's Bad Boy." Of all old friends none are more welcome than "Peck's Bad Boy." This good-natured lad and his mischievous pranks will always hold a warm place in the hearts of the old and young. For years he has amused and entertained the American public, and he now comes as full of merriment as ever. A bright galaxy of specialty artists adds to the general excellence of the performance, and nothing but the highest praise is heralded all along the route, and crowded houses testify to the increasing popularity of 'Peck's Bad Boy."

New Quarters.

The telephone exchange is shortly to be removed into more commodious quarters, an all-night service is to be arranged and a lineman will be kept here continually to attend to any difficulties that may arise.

Since the installation of the exchange here it has been in Mason's drug store, but with the advent of new subscribers the management decided upon having the office in a room by itself, and accordingly two rooms have been secured in the Fletcher block, upstairs, in the rear of the Norfolk woolen company's office. A new cable is to be put in from the office to Emmons street and also Central, and it is believed that this cable will result in better service.

Having a lineman here will also please patrons better, thus doing away with exasperating delays incident to getting a repairer over from Milford when a line gets out of repair. The all night service will be thoroughly appreciated, as it will give those having telephone access at night to physicians, the electric light station in case of fires, to neighbors, etc., and really makes an instrument of appreciable value. This new movement can hardly fail to result in the introduction of more telephones in town, as well as better satisfaction on the part of those already using them.

The new manager, D. S. Small, has been looking the field over very carefully since taking charge, and promises that Franklin exchange shall have every possible attention shown in order to make it a success. He is a very pleasant gentleman to meet, and will see to it that his patrons are satisfied if the thing is possible. He is an experienced telephone man, and will give this exchange especial attention.

Continue Their Success.

The Franklin Country club entertained the Cumberland Country club of Woonsocket on Saturday afternoon, providing a friendly contest at golf of interest and pleasure. The Franklin members gave a good account of themselves and defeated their opponents handsomely, notwithstanding the visitors numbered some crack players. A return game will be played later, when the Woonsocket players will endeavor to reverse the score. The Franklin club entertained its guests in a hospitable manner, and they all affirmed that, though beaten, they had enjoyed the visit thoroughly. The wives of nearly all the members of the Cumberland club were present. Among the lady guests were Mrs. Cass, Mrs. Simson, Mrs. G. Carr, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. White, Mrs. Boyden, Miss Edwards and Miss Cole.

FRANKLIN.	Up.	WOONSOCKET.	Up.
E. H. Rathbun	10	J. W. Cass	0
L. W. Arnold	3	John Simson	0
G. F. Willett	0	G. A. Carr	0
W. C. Sherman	4	T. V. Carr	0
Chas. A. R. Ray	1	W. A. Robinson	0
J. P. Bassett	5	D. M. Edwards	0
Chas. F. Nye	0	C. E. Thomas	4
Fred P. Chapman	1	Fred P. Cole	0
P. A. Woodward	1	S. G. Smith	0
A. B. Palmer	2	A. F. White	0
Carl Emerson	0	J. R. Boyden	1
	27		5

A Good Start.

A number of people interested in organizing an active Y. M. C. A. in town met on Saturday evening, and made plans to provide a reading room and make it an attractive place; to maintain a weekly bible class for the young men on Saturday evening, a 9 o'clock prayer service Sunday morning and a service Sunday afternoon with music and address; gymnasium classes; two or three educational classes; a personal workers' band, etc. A number of available rooms were considered, and officers will be selected at the meeting tomorrow evening. Further plans will be considered, raising of funds, securing equipment, etc. Everyone present felt the need of some such organization, and all interested are invited to come to Metcalf's block on Wednesday evening to discuss the movement further.

No trespass notices are seen in many fields, but in many cases they do not serve to keep trespassers off. In such cases one or two arrests would have a wholesome influence. There are people who have no regard for trespass signs or anything else, and a dose of law is the only thing that will bring them to their senses. One farmer who has recently posted trespass notices says he cares not how much hunting and fishing there is done on his premises, but he seriously objects to having his fences and stone walls torn down by the trespassers, and he does not like the idea of having his cattle killed by hunter's dogs. He has recently had two head of cattle killed by dogs. One of the dogs got within range of his gun and will do no more mischief.

Registrars' Notice.

The board of registrars announces that it will be in session on Wednesday evening, Sept. 19, and on several evenings in October. Those who intend to vote at the caucuses in September, and whose names are not already on the list, should present themselves before the registrars at the meeting next Wednesday evening with a certificate from the board of assessors or a tax bill showing they have been assessed a poll tax or a resident of the town on the first day of May, 1900.

It Is Said

That business will be quiet till after election.

That telephones ought to be cheaper and more of them.

That the electric cars have had a remarkably profitable summer.

That if we managed the rain we should have spread it over a trifle more time.

That the voters are wondering who is to be the political "boss" of the town.

That there is less evidence of liquor about the streets than before the raid.

That our farmers will have only a half crop of apples, but will get double price.

That the electric road to Foxboro ought to be running next spring by some company.

That the town ought to own the lot adjoining the town house for a future possibility.

That no one will regret the money spent upon the cemetery when the work is finished.

That the liquor officer has one more card up his sleeve that is also considered a trump.

That Franklin has many things to be thankful for, considering the condition two years ago.

That coal is going to be high this winter and the barons will get the increase, not the miners.

That if times are good a number of new moderate-priced houses are going up in the spring.

That a man's conscience and not his party ought to control his vote in the coming election.

That the gold democrats in town are remarkably quiet this year, and may vote either way.

That it would be well for our officers to keep an eye on the young men's club rooms this winter.

That those who say a good deal of liquor is being sold will not aid you to detect the offenders.

That a number of automobiles will be seen upon our streets next season and one lady will have one.

That the new postmaster and his assistants are genuine servants of the public and no one is "kicking."

That the ranks of prominent Franklin men have been sadly decimated the past few years, and who will take their places?

That McKinley managers promise a full dinner pail and Bryanites swear to down the trusts. Neither will entirely keep their promises.

That the running time between here and Woonsocket ought to be very much shortened, especially when the hourly schedule goes into effect.

That our district court is a well-managed institution and Judge Doe and his associate, Judge Ruggles, dispense impartial justice, and the county is the gainer.

SAGE T.

Our Solons Grapple with Vital Questions.

At the selectmen's meeting Friday evening, Walter E. Cook was drawn as a juryman for the October civil term at Dedham. C. W. Pond of the Wrentham selectmen was present and stated that the work of the street railway company in Wrentham was very unsatisfactory in the way entrances to many private residences were left, and that the town proposed to take the necessary steps to have a remedy applied, and Franklin was invited to join in the move if so inclined and had cause. The notice of Annie M. Hawes of claim for damage on account of injury while getting off a Medway car nearly opposite the residence of Eugene F. Ware on Main street on August 31 was informally considered by the board and Assistant Supt. Savage of the railway company. It is alleged that Mrs. Hawes and a friend had been to Medway, and when the car stopped the conductor asked them to get off the car on the west side of the track, and that the friend did so, while Mrs. H. alighted on the east side. J. B. McKinnon, chief engineer of the fire department, asked the sanction of the selectmen to the plan of building a hose house near Nason's crossing, and the plan was favorably considered by the board. Cemetery improvement and several minor matters were talked over. A. B. Fletcher of the cemetery association and Mr. McCarthy of the selectmen discussed the details of the work at some length. At 10 p. m. the board adjourned for two weeks.

Pianos Tuned.

I shall be in Franklin during the second week in October to care for my pianos and to attend to new ones. Orders may be left at the SENTINEL office.

J. W. WALKER.

These are fish days. Shad, swordfish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fishman.

A new lot of potted plants, ferns, rubber plants, palms, etc.; cut flowers, roses in large or small quantities; funeral designs well made up. Slade's greenhouse.

Two chairs at Ochee's barber shop. Accomplished hair dresser in attendance. Short waits.

COMMUNICATIONS.

[The editor assumes no responsibility for matter under this caption. This column is entirely at the disposal of the public, avoiding, as far as possible, trivial and controversial matter.]

MR. EDITOR:—There has been so much talk about the canteen system in the army and its "good" results that I wish you would publish the following letter, which covers the point exactly. It is a letter from an officer in the army to his mother. He writes:

"I am surprised to be informed by the papers what a means of elevation it is to the soldiers. To me it means a demoralizing establishment. It is a place where men learn to drink—men who have never been regular drinkers—a place where those confirmed in the habit of guzzling can tighten the bonds of their slavery.

"I have had no knowledge of those 'pure' canteens that have broken up the outlying dives and doggeries which this moral institution is recommended for, having seen canteens rather that encouraged wastefulness, drowsiness and beastiality.

"The endless trouble that intoxication causes in army administration is an argument most convincing for a coming policy of demanding total abstinence from our soldiers. The change in the class of men that we now enlist and the intolerance of the man that is frequently seen drunk is the cause of the improvement in the tone of the army—not the establishment of drinking places; a still more rigorous attitude towards this destructive vice should follow.

I have eighty men in my battery at present and I cannot imagine that one of them would be benefited by opening one of the vice "eradicators" here, and I should be ashamed to tell them that I hoped they would come to it and drink for their own good and for the sake of a dividend for their mess fund. We have an exchange here, but sell for drink only soda water, and even that is not entirely satisfactory to me. I do not like to see men spending dollars every month for drinks of any kind when water is accessible and would be much better for them."

D.

Hoag Lake Attraction This Week.

Included in Boom's Manhattan Vaudevilles at Hoag Lake this week are the Carrolls, who give a true representation of the Southern darkey, introducing songs and dances and their trick mule, Pete; Rube Hilton, one of the most daring trick bicycle performers in the business; Steve Hoyt, a comedy acrobat, and Lou Wells, a musical comedian.

The management have taken precautions to provide for the comfort of their patrons at the theatre on these chilly nights and have purchased about 500 yards of extra heavy canvas, which will be used to cover the openings in the side of the building. This will keep out the chilly air and make the hall comfortable for those who attend. The theatre will be kept open until Oct. 1.

"Peck's Bad Boy"

Will be the attraction at Morse Opera house tomorrow evening. There is probably no farce comedy on the road that has lasted so long and given such general satisfaction to the fun loving public as that funny play, "Peck's Bad Boy." This year the piece has been rewritten and brought up to date with new scenery, new costumes, catchy music, graceful dancers, quartets, duets, choruses, medleys, etc. The cast this year is stronger than ever and contains many old and new favorites.

An Explanation.

A misunderstanding seems to exist in this community as to the terms upon which the real estate in Pondville was presented to the King's Daughters and Sons of Norfolk county for a home for the aged of the county. It has been thought by some that Mr. Pond had made a stipulation that the property should revert to the original owner after the lapse of fifty years. This is a mistake. He presented the property for the purposes designated with the understanding that it be used as a home for the aged of Norfolk county for a term of fifty years, after which it is free from all incumbrances. The property was given outright to the organizations in consideration of one dollar, this latter provision being a legal necessity.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Trash wood, ready out for stove use, at Allen's wood yard.

To Rent.—A desirable tenement of six rooms; $12 per month. Inquire of O. T. Doe. 14-tf

Wanted.—A girl to do general housework. Apply to G. H. Grant, School street. 18-tf

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

A competent girl can obtain a good situation doing housework by addressing "E," SENTINEL office. 18

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

Round-trip Boston tickets can be had at $1.05, (less than the five-trip rate), of Chas. H. Prince at SENTINEL office. Also round-trip Providence and Milford tickets at a saving of 12c from regular fare. Mileage books to let.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	16 00	25 00	39 00
¼ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1900.

RIVAL CANDIDATES.

The time for personal attacks in a congressional campaign in this state where the candidates are honorable men, such as Mr. Powers is known to be, [illegible] We firmly believe that Mr Williams and his friends are making a serious mistake, both for themselves and the party, in making the attacks upon the good name and standing of Mr. Powers. The people will not believe that the Republicans of Newton, with its intelligent and high citizenship, would unanimously endorse Mr. Powers for congress were he other than a pure and high-minded man. Personal abuse of a rival candidate is not good policy and is sure to react. We believe Mr. Powers' canvass is growing in strength daily by his dignified manner and words and that he will be the next congressman from this district. He is able, a fine orator, genial in his manner and a thorough gentleman, fitted in every way to make a congressman that will honor our district.—Milford Journal.

Almost all foreign cheese whose consumption warrants the establishment of the plant to make them are now successfully imitated in this country and Canada. Tons of so-called Cheddar, Stilton and double Gloucestershire are exported from the provinces and the United States to Great Britain, where they are sold undetected as the native product. Neufchatel, Gruyere, Gorgonzola and other Swiss and Italian cheese are made here by natives of those countries in such close imitation of the originals that the difference is not noticeable.

A clerical organ of Chili declares that the Chilians sympathize with the Boers, because they hate the United States. "Chili," it says, "has never been bullied or brow-beaten by England, but the treatment she received at the hands of the United States in 1883 and 1891 cannot easily be forgotten, and it is not strange that a feeling should be abroad that the great powers of late years have been coming to feel contempt for the weaker countries, which exposes these small powers to humiliation, and even to oppression."

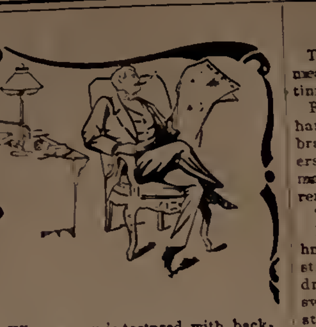
Very young lambs are as like as peas in a pod to everything, except the noses of their mothers, says an agricultural authority. A hundred ewes at pasture, with lambs of the same size, will make no mistake about their children—that is, if the children have once been accepted as their own. Sometimes it happens that for no visible reason a ewe rejects her lamb and cannot be induced to own it. If she has twins she may own one and reject the other.

Sportsmen's shows are a growing attraction throughout the country. One just held in Boston has been highly successful, and another is announced in New York. At Boston there was an extensive Indian village with representatives of a dozen tribes, collections of wild animals, a display of conveniences for camp life and 12 tanks of living fish, one containing lake trout, which not only survived transportation but were in a lively condition.

The new building of a New York cremation company was opened Monday night with an entertainment in the apartments which will be used as chapel. The exercises began with prayer, followed by singing, recitations and performances on the banjo, mandolin and xylophone. Then came a lecture on liquid air and a collation was served before the audience dispersed.

In a vaccination case the supreme court of Indiana has decided that the matter of protection to the public health comes within the police power of the state.

An industrial exchange informs us that [illegible],000 bushels of potatoes will be ground in Wisconsin starch factories this year.



When a man is tortured with backache or lame back he doesn't want to experiment with new and untried remedies.

He realizes that the backache is kidney ache.

The lame back virtually means lame kidneys, and he knows that there's very serious trouble in store if he doesn't get his kidneys to do their duty. In his trouble he naturally turns to

Doan's Kidney Pills

Others all around him have been cured of kidney complaint by this wonderful little remedy. He has the testimony of others to guide him. He KNOWS that Doan's Kidney Pills WILL cure, no matter what form of kidney complaint he may have.

He learns this by reading emphatic evidence like the following:

Mr. H. J. Woodbury, carpenter, of 77 South Chestnut street, Augusta, Me., says:

"I was interviewed in the spring of 1896 by a gentleman who asked me for my experience with and opinions of Doan's Kidney Pills. I told him that I had been greatly annoyed by the action of my Kidneys, that the slightest cold always settled there and produced intense suffering, and that Doan's Kidney Pills had cured me. It is now two years and a half since I was first interviewed, and I can conscientiously say, the longer and more fully you know Doan's Kidney Pills the greater faith you have in them. Everyone, as far as I have heard, speaks in the highest terms of their great value."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N.Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

THE LARGEST AFLOAT.

Col. Drexel's New Yacht to Be the Finest Private Ship Ever Built.

Col. A. J. Drexel, of Philadelphia, now enjoys the distinction of owning the largest steam yacht afloat, as the Margarita was successfully launched upon the Clyde. Over a year ago Mr. Drexel commissioned G. L. Watson, the famous British naval architect, to design a yacht for him that would be as nearly perfect as human ingenuity, aided by unlimited freedom as to cost, would accomplish. Expense was nothing to Mr. Drexel so long as the Margarita, when completed, would prove to be the handsomest, most complete as to appointments, largest and safest pleasure vessel afloat.

Mr. Watson did not slight his opportunity. The Margarita's length over all is 323 feet; her load water line length, 272; beam, 36 feet 9 inches; draught, 16 feet 8 inches. A crew of 68 men will be employed on the yacht, which has a continuous double bottom, and will be fitted with Scotch boilers and triple expansion engines. She will have a coal capacity of 550 tons and an indicated horse power of 5,[illegible], the same as that of the White Star liner Britannic.

Her internal arrangements are so designed that every inch of space is utilized to the best advantage. The drawing-room, extending the full width of the ship, will be furnished in the style of Louis XV, the library in empire and the dining-room in Chippendale. The contract calls for a speed of 17 knots over an 80-knot trial course.

LEAKED DIMES AND NICKELS.

A Butte (Mont.) Man's Trunk Creates a Sensation in St. Louis Depot.

A trunk belonging to Charles Lenz, of Butte City, Mont., bulged open the other morning in the Union station baggage room at St. Louis and leaked dimes and nickels. Lenz, who was boarding a train for Vandalia, Ill., was told of the mishap. "That's all right," he said. "Never mind the money; I've got to catch this train to see mother before starting for Cape Nome." Meanwhile John R. Bentley, general baggage agent for the Pennsylvania lines, guarded the trunk and had it placed in the car.

"You see," said Lenz, "I don't care about that trunk. It's full, of course, but the contents are only nickels and dimes. I'm interested in Montana mines. Out there everything costs a quarter. Every time I've received a nickel or a dime I've tossed the coin into that trunk for mother."

The trunk followed Lenz on the next train. It contained a fraction over $[illegible], all in dimes and nickels, according to Mr. Bentley. Lenz certainly showed his faith in the honesty of the railway men, as he did not go near the trunk, but trusted everything to them.

Universal.

Cora—Do you know the one thing that every girl gives up during Lent?

Merritt—The diary she started to keep at the beginning of the year.—Judge.

Well-Matched.

A horsey man and a nagging woman make a well-matched pair.—Chicago Daily News.

Different Effects.

A run on a theater enriches it, but a run on a bank is somewhat different.—Chicago Daily News.

Hit by a Brick from the Sky.

The telegraph operator, who always means to tell the truth, even if he sometimes does fail, tells me this:

Feller was walking along the street hanging onto his head and feeling his brains "sloppin' up against the rafters," as Bill Nye once so soulfully remarked. Feller groaned and finally remarked to himself:

"Oh, I wish I were dead."

He was passing a four-story brick building that was in process of construction. A mason 'way up aloft dropped a brick accidentally. It swooped down through the air and struck Feller on the top of his koko. It didn't kill him—but near it, very near it.

To say the least, the feller was real provoked.

He looked up at the sky—not at the mason. "Can't ye take a joke?" says he.

What if heaven always took us at our word?—Lewiston Journal.

Rouen's Remarkable Bridge.

A bridge in the form of an aerial ferry has just [illegible] at Rouen, on the River Seine. In [illegible] to avoid interference with shipping, it was determined to place no structure in the stream, or near its surface. Instead of a bridge in any of the ordinary forms, a horizontal flooring, sustained by steel towers and suspension cables, was stretched across the river at an elevation of 167 feet. On this flooring run electrically-driven rollers, from which is suspended, by means of steel ropes, a car, which moves at the level of the wharves on the river banks. The car is 36 feet wide and 42 feet long, and is furnished, like a ferry boat, with accommodations for carriages and foot passengers. The ropes that carry the hanging car are interlaced diagonally in such a manner that the support is rigid, and a swinging motion is avoided.—Youth's Companion.

An Embarrassing Alternative.

A lady whose Christian name is Jane, and whose little daughter is named after her, engaged a housekeeper, who is also named Jane.

Thinking that three Janes in one household might occasion confusion, the lady said to the newcomer, who was a tall, angular woman, with a rigid air and an uncompromising cast of countenance: "I think, Jane, it will be better for me to call you by your last name if you have no objection."

"No'm; I have no objection," said the housekeeper, standing stiffly erect, valise in hand.

"Call me 'Darling,' ma'am, if you prefer. That's my name."—Memphis Scimitar.

Status of Birds' Nests.

One of the comicalities of the protective tariff appears in the treasury correspondence, where Assistant Secretary Spaulding instructs the collector at Los Angeles that duty must be assessed on Chinese birds' nests as "unenumerated manufactured articles." Gen. Spaulding says that these birds' nests are "manufactured" in the sense of having been put through cleansing to prepare them for market. If anybody protests, the department will welcome it as a means of getting the question before the courts and having it definitely settled. — Chicago Chronicle.

Communion Plate in Battle.

The soldiers from New South Wales in South Africa carry with them a set of communion plate, which is as historic as it is valuable. When New South Wales furnished its volunteers for Egypt in the '80's the force was presented with a set of communion plate, which went with them to the front. On their return the plate was presented to Christ church, Alexander Bay, Sydney, on condition that if at any time New South Wales soldiers went on active service the communion plate was to be given up. — Chicago Chronicle.

Why She Refrains.

"It is true. My wife never scolds, never scowls, never frowns."

"Do you expect me to believe such nonsense?"

"I do. Why not? I can explain."

"Then explain."

"She doesn't scold because it twists her mouth, she doesn't scowl because it gives her crows' feet, and she doesn't frown because it brings wrinkles."

"Good. But inwardly?"

"Don't ask me. The question is too harrowing." Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Infallible Preliminary.

Nell—Do you know, I really think I will marry Harry. He is good-looking, rich and I am rather fond of him!

Belle—I didn't know you were engaged.

"Oh, it's not formal yet; but he has told me I seem different from other girls."—Puck.

Her Idea of Horseflesh.

"Papa, won't you buy me a pony?" pleaded little Ethel Beechwood.

"What would you feed it?" asked Mr. Beechwood.

"Oh, I'd feed it horse radish and horse chestnuts."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

"Every Man is the Architect of His Fortune."

"An architect designs, and his plans are executed by a builder. The greatest builder of health is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It lays a firm foundation. It makes the blood, the basis of life, pure and strong. Be an architect of your fortune and secure Hood's as your health builder.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF COD-LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES

should always be kept in the house for the following reasons:

FIRST—Because, if any member of the family has a hard cold, it will cure it.

SECOND Because, if the children are delicate and sickly, it will make them strong and well.

THIRD—Because if the father or mother is losing flesh and becoming thin and emaciated, it will build them up and give them flesh and strength

FOURTH - Because it is the standard remedy in all throat and lung affections

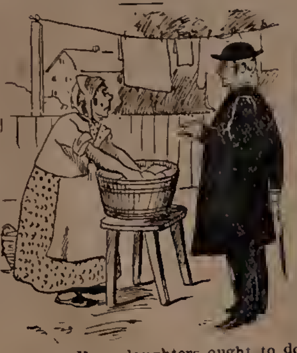
No household should be without it. It can be taken in summer as well as in winter

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

Sartor Resartus.

Many a young swell, grandly got-up,
With the ladies makes a hit:
He wears a three-inch stand-up collar,
With no shirt hanging on to it.
—Ally Sloper.

FIT FOR A HIGHER SPHERE.



Vicar—Your daughters ought to do this heavy washing, Betty; you are too old for such work now.

Betty—Ah, and other work, too, sir; I ought to be only for ornament at my age!—Fun.

Answered the Purpose.

A woman whistled at a car,
It stopped with sudden jerk:
Her whistle was a failure—but Her face got in its work.
—Chicago Daily News

Old Aristocrats.

Mrs. Beaconstreet (of Boston)—Do your new neighbors belong to the newly-rich class?

Mrs. Porkenlard (of Chicago)—Dear me, no! They've had money for over six months.—Judge.

His Preference.

"I don't care for your poem, 'The Song of the Lark,'" remarked the editor. The poet sighed wearily.

"To tell the truth," he replied, "I myself much prefer the lay of the hen."—Philadelphia Record.

Domestic Troubles.

Mistress—Why did you get steak for breakfast when I told you to order pork chops?

New Cook—Shure, ma'am, Oi niver eat pork at all, at all.—Chicago Daily News.

She Was Too Inquisitive.

Castleton—Wasn't your engagement with Miss Splicer broken off rather suddenly?

Clinker—Yes. She insisted upon knowing what my intentions were.—Town Topics

The Old Fallback.

"If wae hod th' same wither always," said the janitor philosopher, "thor'd be a lot av people who wudn't know phwat to talk about."—Chicago Daily News.

Eating and Sleeping.

Food supplies the substance for repairing the wastes of the body and gives strength. Sleep affords the opportunity for these repairs to be made. Both are necessary to health. If you can't eat and sleep, take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It creates a good appetite and tones the digestive organs, and it gives the sweet, restful sleep of childhood. Be sure to get Hood's.

Biliousness is cured by Hood's Pills 25 cents.

A Worked-Out Mine.

"I am the gas meter inspector," announced the caller.

"Come in," replied the man of the house, "but I don't think you'll find much left. The plumber has just left, and we were visited by burglars during the night." Philadelphia North American.

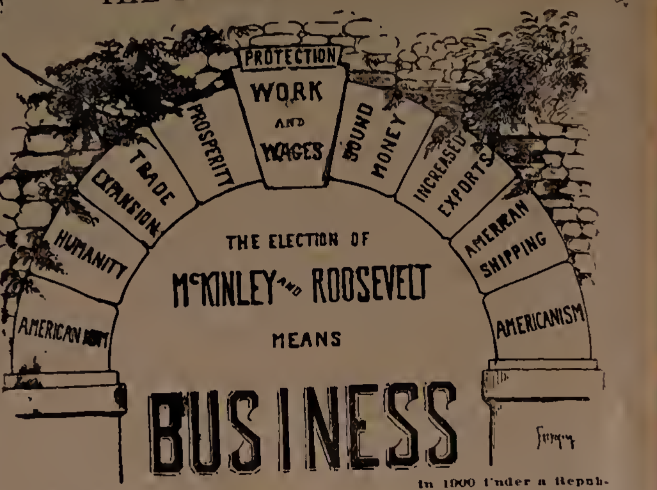
Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Great Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

When doctors fail, try Burdock Blood Bitters. Cures dyspepsia, constipation; invigorates the whole system.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE PARAMOUNT ISSUE.



In 1895 Under a Democratic Administration and a Free Trade Tariff:		In 1900 Under a Republican Administration and a Protective Tariff:
$50,000,000,000	Bank Clearings	$105,000,000,000
$1,539,508,138	Foreign Commerce	$2,244,193,543
$793,392,599	Exports of Merchandise	$1,394,479,214
$152,158,617	Customs Receipts	$233,857,958
Deficit, $42,805,223	Treasury Balance	Surplus, $81,229,771
$78,568,200	Balance of Trade	$544,764,885
$226,096,834 (1896)	Failures	(1899) $90,879,889
$2,291,016,000	Wages Paid	$3,056,635,000
38,298,783	Sheep, Number	63,121,881
$65,167,735	Sheep, Value	$246,175,335
6,657,388 (1894)	Pig Iron Production, Tons	(1899) 13,620,703
[illegible]850	Miles Railroad Built	5,100
1893-7 Loss in Value $4,2[illegible],000,000	Farm Products	1897-1900 Increase in Value $6,355,000,000
In 1894-6 Had to Borrow $262,000,000	Uncle Sam	In 1900 Has $300,000,000 in Bank.

AND AMERICANS ARE LENDING MONEY TO ENGLAND.

JUDGING BY EXPERIENCE.

Some Figures Right Here in Massachusetts of Interest to Voters.

During recent years a number of the states have published from year to year from their bureau of labor statistics, information showing the number of persons employed in leading industries, the total wages paid employes and the value of products, etc. In every case where these facts have been published for a sufficiently long time, they show a marked difference between the years of Democratic and those of the Republican administration. In the years of Democratic administration a decided falling off was experienced in business activity, in the number of persons employed, total wages paid, etc.; while during the Republican administrations of Harrison and McKinley there were increases all along the line. The most complete statistics that have been published are those experienced by the state of Massachusetts. During the four years from 1888 to 1892 (Harrison's administration) there was a total increase in Massachusetts of $73,941,880 in the value of the product, $18,244,474 in the total wages paid, and 27,363 in the number of persons employed in the establishments reporting for those years. It was quite a different story under the next four years of Cleveland's administration, with its tariff reform and other Democratic shibboleths. Subtracting the increase of 1894 from the total increase during the other three years, there was a net decrease of $96,916,006 in the value of products, $4,085,252 in the total wages paid, and 16,687 in the number of persons employed. In 1897 and 1898, with McKinley's administration, came again years of prosperity. Once more the same increases are noted all along the line. During these two years, there was a total increase in Massachusetts of $45,300,054 in the value of products, an increase of $4,219,751 in the total wages paid, and of 14,215 in the number of persons employed.

A study of these statistics, plain and homely as they are, ought to furnish an object lesson for the manufacturer, the merchant and laboring men, who are to cast their vote next November either to continue the Republican administration or to have another change. It is a true statement of an eminent statesman: "I know of no other way of judging the future but by the past," and applying this rule to the result of the Republican administration of Massachusetts, ought to convince the most sceptical voter who considers his future welfare in connection with his ballot.

Registration.

The most important work of the political committees of the state at the present time is the matter of registration. It should be the duty of every town committee to carefully compare the assessed list with the last published voting lists, and then use every effort to see that as many names are added to the new voting lists as possible. The importance of this work cannot be underestimated. Here are a few important dates which should be carefully considered by every committee:

Oct. 1. Last day assessment in Boston.

Oct. 4. Evening registration opens in Boston in the several wards, from 4 p. m. to 10 p. m.

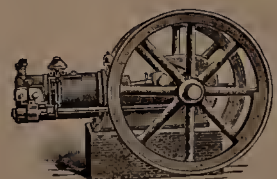
Oct. 7. Last day for regist[illegible] voters in every city and tow[illegible] Boston, to post in each voting [illegible] preliminary alphabetical lists of vo[illegible]

Oct. 17. Last day for regist[illegible] all cities. Upon this day ev[illegible] of voters must be kept op[illegible] o clock noon (in Boston from [illegible] until 10 p. m.

Oct. 27. Registration in tow[illegible] at 10 p. m.

New York Journal, June 1[illegible]

It is hastily assumed tha[illegible] rying of the flag away from h[illegible] "Imperialism." That is a m[illegible] conquer and colonize dist[illegible] the sake of glory and profit [illegible] to secure outposts, the p[illegible] which will better enable us to [illegible] peace and be more efficient f[illegible] when war does come, is anoth[illegible]



OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and Gasolene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied users are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABILITY, ECONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABILITY tell the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever? CONSULT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.

New England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.

FROM THE ORIENT

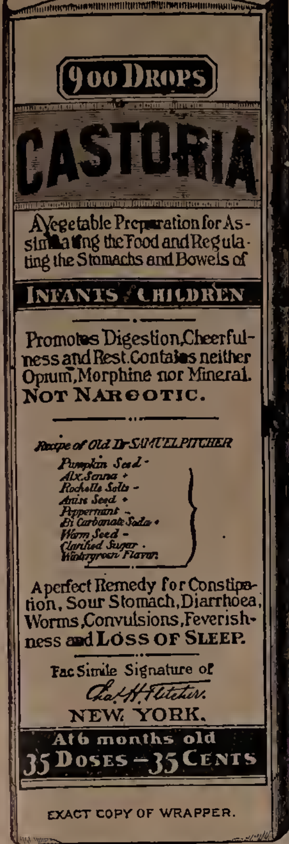
CARPETS

Goods right—prices right—workmanship right—everything right. We do by far the largest business in Boston in

Carpets and Upholstery.

What do you suppose the reason is?

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS CO.,
658 Washington Street, 658
Opp. Boylston St.,
BOSTON.



900 DROPS
CASTORIA
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna +
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed +
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda +
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar .
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES — 35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

GOSSIP OF DIPLOMATS.

Twenty-nine countries are represented in the diplomatic corps at the capital of this country—12 of the European nations, including Great Britain; 12 of the Central and South American republics, and five of the oriental countries.

The Russian embassy at Washington has a young and charming mistress. Count Cassini, the ambassador, is a widower, and his grandniece, Mlle. Marguerite, does the honors of the house with the ease and tact acquired as her granduncle's constant companion in his diplomatic posts in all parts of the world.

In a large brick building on the fashionable section of I street, Washington, is the Mexican embassy and its beautiful interior is suggestive of foreign lands. Senora de Azpiroz, the new ambassador's wife, continues the lamented Mme. Romero's custom of holding public receptions, and every other Friday during the season her rooms are thronged.

The Austro-Hungarian legation on Connecticut avenue is one of the show houses of Washington, D. C. It was built by Senator Yule, of Florida, who spent a fortune on it. Just as it was completed he failed of reelection and was obliged to sell it. Baroness Hengelmuller, wife of the minister, frequently called the most beautiful woman of the corps, entertains sumptuously.

For the last three years the Italian embassy has been left in the hands of a charge d'affaires much of the time. Nearly that long ago the Ambassador and Baroness de Fava lost their only son, an unusually gifted young man. The blow almost broke the baroness' heart. They went back to Italy with the body and for many months she felt as though she could not live in America again.

The German embassy property is a fine three-storied brick structure on Highland terrace. As the under officials of the embassy, like their chief, are unmarried, there are no women connected with it. This lack of femininity does not, however, affect the entertainments that are given there. Dr. von Holleben is famous for his dinners and other social functions, on which occasion he usually invites the wife of a brother diplomat to assist him in doing the honors.

EDUCATION AND RELIGION.

The ministers of St. Paul have approved a project of making billiards one of the features of the Young Men's Christian association rooms.

Archbishop Feehan, of Chicago, went to the scene of his present labors in 1852, making the trip from New York by stage and steamboat.

One hundred and twelve pupils of the Indian school at Carlisle, Pa., have been received into the Catholic church. The school has 162 pupils.

The pastor of the Third Moravian congregation in Philadelphia prepared the plans for a new church, supervised its construction and labored on it with his own hands, thus saving the congregation an estimated $2,000.

More than 2,200 German teachers have been taught to become instructors in manual training. Of these 950 were taught in Leipzig and 1,250 acquired training in 33 places in other parts of Germany.

A woman recently asked President Hadley, of Yale—he tells the story himself—what he was teaching. To his reply, "Economics," she said, thoughtfully: "Oh, you teach the students to be economical! That is good. When I was a young woman they never learned to be economical until they got married."—Pittsburgh News.

The homeopathic medical library of the University of Michigan has received, as the gift of Dr. Thomas P. Wilson, of Detroit, 102 volumes. As but few of the volumes are duplicates of those already in the library the addition is a highly valuable one. Dr. Wilson was a professor in the homeopathic department of the university during the years 1880-85.

PITH AND POINT.

An occasional hearty laugh is a wise act.

It is always better to be right than to be consistent.

Money is often used to cover the spots on a man's reputation.

In order to acquire a true friend you must first learn to be one.

The average man has a poor foundation when he stands on his dignity.

Sometimes a man starts out to be a social lion and ends by making a goose of himself.

A hack writer who is obliged to walk when he travels says there is nothing in a name.

There would be no objections to a man riding his hobby if he would only give people an opportunity to get out of his way.

Don't be alarmed if your boy begins to write poetry at the age of seven; there is always a possible chance of his outgrowing it.

A man has reached the age of discretion when he is old enough to know that he doesn't know some things he will know when he gets older.—Chicago Daily News.

SELF-PROPELLED VEHICLES.

An automobile club has been organized in Baltimore.

Queen Victoria has had a handsome automobile regularly attached to her stables.

An automobile race will take place in France during four days of the last week in July.

The Chicago aldermen are considering the advisability of requiring automobile owners to provide their vehicles with fenders.

Pity the Groom.

Pity the groom on his wedding day,
On one the sun ne'er shone,
Of whom the guests had a word to say—
They have eyes for the bride alone.
Pity the groom on the day he's wed,
And a bachelor adds, with laughter.
"He needs it on that day, as you've said,
But pity him ever after."
—Philadelphia North American.

Too Late.

Percy—I feel deuced sorry for poor Jack.

Ethel—Why, what is the trouble? He has only been married a month.

Percy—Yes; and his rich uncle has just died and left him a million, when it's too late to do him any good!—Puck.

Another Mean Man.

"Stimson is a mean man."

"Why so?"

"He's got a way of keeping his wife from going through his pockets for loose change."

"How's that?"

"He spends it all before he gets home."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Bible Chronology.

"Nannie, don't you suppose that Adam and Eve were created in the spring?"

"No, it must have been late in the summer. It was shortly before the fall, you know."—Harlem Life.

A Leading Question.

She—Charley, I heard to-day that diminutive Jack Barnes had made $200,000.

He—Yes; Barnes is a lucky man.

She—Well, but, Charley, why can't you make $400,000? You're twice his size.—Judge.

Issues of the Hour.

Estimates as to the electoral vote give President McKinley 284, Bryan 142, while the following are placed in the doubtful column: Kentucky, 13; Maryland, 8; Colorado, 4; Nebraska, 8. Total, 33. Should Mr. Bryan carry all of these states, his vote in the electoral college would still be less than it was in 1896.

Mr. Bryan is no stronger than he was in July. His anti-imperialism has won him a few votes in eastern states, which even his friends do not hope to carry. Silver is weaker in the west than it was four years ago, and it is impossible to see where Mr. Bryan is making any effective progress with either of his great issues. Let all work for Republican success with diligence and intelligence and determination to secure popular favor for Republican tickets from top to bottom. But let panic be avoided, for it does more to unnerve voters and encourage opponents than its money returns or machine triumphs are worth.—New York Tribune.

"Before Dewey's victory the United States was regarded everywhere in Asia by the common people and by the governing classes as a secondary power. Our commerce and our influence were hampered and checkmated. The glorious achievement of May 1, 1898, and the subsequent occupation of the Philippine islands made America a country respected and treated as a first-class power for the first time in the history of our relations with Asiatic nations. We would have been laggards instead of leaders in rescuing the ministers and missionaries at Pekin, and we would have been the last, instead of the first, power to have led in the protection of life, property and rights in China, if we had not held by moral, as well as material, right, our new possessions in the Philippines. If 8,000,000 Filipinos do not yet understand us, 800,000,000 of other Asiatics have been taught to respect our flag and country."—Hon. John Barrett, ex-minister to Siam.

General Elwell S. Otis says under date of Sept. 1: "The people are growing more conservative every day and are becoming more satisfied. There would be little trouble throughout the islands but for the coming presidential election in this country. Aguinaldo and his lieutenants are hanging on in wild and mountainous places in northern Luzon, hoping that the result of the presidential election may change the attitude of this country. They get newspapers from the United States and keep thoroughly posted as to what is going on here. When their hope is unfulfilled I look for a complete collapse of the opposition to the authority of this country. As a matter of fact, there is comparatively little opposition now. When I left the Philippines, Aguinaldo was in the mountains with about 250 guns. He was on the run all the time. When our troops were not close on his trail and fighting him he was being pursued by the mountain natives. This was in one of the few parts of Luzon not then under complete control by us. This control, however, was far more complete than it ever was under the Spanish regime. In some of the islands there is practically no trouble. Our troops have covered the entire islands, which was never done by Spain. The harvesting of the crops will aid in bringing about a more conservative feeling. The sugar crop will mature in most of the islands in December and will furnish money and employment to the people. A large rice crop is now being planted and will give them employment. The natives are industrious and intelligent. They will, and do, work. There is not an abler body of men in the world than the members of the Philippines supreme court. Many of the natives are educated in Paris and other European cities. They desire peace and are ambitious for their country. They believe in the good intentions of the United States and think that through us will come their salvation. This class of men is increasing in numbers every day, and they are doing much to put down the robber bands and the reckless natives who have been disposed to follow the lead of Aguinaldo and his associates."

Why Timothy Changed.

"I'm with the Republicans' platform and against the Democrats. For some weeks 40,000 Filipinos tried to break through our lines at Manila to cut my throat, and since then I cannot see any particular virtue in the Filipinos.

"I never want to see the American flag pulled down in that glorious city and I'll never vote to have it done.

"No Democrat who was in Manila on Feb. 4, 1899, will vote for Bryan on his new platform."—Timothy W. Coakley, Boston.

"It is a question, whether we are to have prosperity or adversity. It is a question whether William McKinley is going to be President of the United States or Mr. Bryan. It is a question whether the Republican party is to continue to rule as it has ruled the country for 40 years, practically, I mean as to legislation. It is a question whether the Republican party, which is used to legislation, knows how, is progressive, has courage, has intelligence, or the Democratic party shall control the affairs of this republic, the latter party without experience except in one single Dolly Varden piece of legislation, the Wilson bill.—Senator Frye.

The Whole Story
in one letter about
Pain-Killer
(PERRY DAVIS')

From Capt. F. Loye, Police Station No. 5, Montreal:—"We frequently use PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER for pains in the stomach, rheumatism, stiffness, frost bites, chilblains, cramps, and all afflictions which befall men in our position. I have no hesitation in saying that PAIN-KILLER is the best remedy to have near at hand."

Used Internally and Externally.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c. bottles.

Pullets Eggs

WANTED
at this time of year. Get your pullets to laying by October is what makes poultry pay. You can do it by good care, proper foods, and the use as directed of

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

It causes perfect assimilation of the food elements needed to form eggs and bring pullets to laying.

If you can't get it we send one pack for 25 cts; five, $1. Large can, $1.20. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

Dreadful Cass.

There once was a man that sang bass,
And whenever he opened his fass
The girls would cry: "Oh!
How lovely! And soh Artistic! What power and grass!"
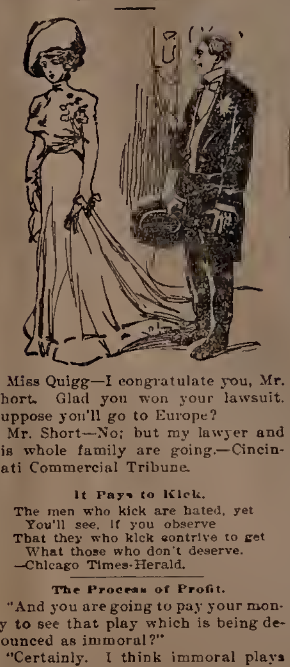
—Indianapolis Press.

JUST AS USUAL.



Miss Quigg—I congratulate you, Mr. Short. Glad you won your lawsuit. Suppose you'll go to Europe?

Mr. Short—No; but my lawyer and his whole family are going.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

It Pays to Kick.

The men who kick are hated, yet
You'll see, if you observe
That they who kick contrive to get What those who don't deserve.
—Chicago Times-Herald.

The Process of Profit.

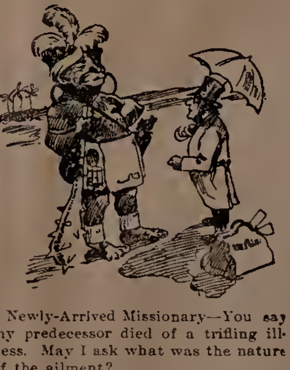
"And you are going to pay your money to see that play which is being denounced as immoral?"

"Certainly. I think immoral plays ought to be denounced. And as a fair-minded person, I feel that I have no right to denounce it until after I have seen it."—Washington Star.

The Wishing Habit.

If all man's wishes were fulfilled
He'd sadly wish away
That he could think of something else
To wish for day by day.
—Chicago Times-Herald.

JUST A LITTLE BOIL.



Newly-Arrived Missionary—You say my predecessor died of a trifling illness. May I ask what was the nature of the ailment?

Chairman of Reception Committee—Oh, nothing much; merely a little boil.—Ainslee's Magazine.

The World.

The world is swingin' in a frame—
A purty frame of blue;
An' all its light, by day an' night,
Is the smile of God to you!
—Atlanta Constitution.

The Verdict.

"Have a cigar, judge," said the young lawyer. "By the way, did you ever try this brand?"

"Yes," replied the judge, "and I regret to say I found it guilty."—Chicago Daily News.

Her Opinion.

He—Then you consider woman more intelligent than man?

Miss New—Decidedly! Man hasn't even intelligence enough to recognize his inferiority.—Puck.

Living Pictures for Diagnosis.

In a certain continental hospital a camera has been adopted to record minutely the action of patients in epileptic fits and similar afflictions, and many "living pictures" have been taken showing the movements in walking of persons afflicted with locomotor ataxia. They are produced slowly on the screen, so that physicians are enabled to study the symptoms carefully. Moving pictures have been taken in Vienna showing operations being performed by great surgeons.—Science Siftings.

Your best friend can give you no better advice than this: "For impure blood, bad stomach and weak nerves take Hood's Sarsaparilla."

I Know One Sure Remedy
for an obstinate cold. Its name is Pyny-Pectoral.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

The Perfect Home.

That the possession of wealth is not indispensable to a perfect home life is shown by the late Helen Hunt in these beautiful words: "The most perfect home I ever saw was a little house into the sweet incense of whose fires went no costly things. A thousand dollars served as a year's living for father, mother and three children. But the mother was the creator of the home; her relations with the children were the most beautiful I have ever seen; every inmate of the house involuntarily looked into her face for the keynote of the day, and it always rang clear. From the rosebud or clover leaf, which, in spite of her hard housework, she always found time to put aside our plates at breakfast, down to the story she had in hand to read in the evening, there was no intermission of her influence. She has always been and will always be my ideal of a mother, wife and homemaker."—Good Housekeeping.

Down 12,000 Feet for Gold.

After the unfortunate war in South Africa is over, a scientific problem of much interest will be presented to the engineers of the Transvaal gold mines. Some of the shafts recently opened on the rand are expected to go down 4,000 or 5,000 feet in search of gold-bearing veins, but in the future, Mr. John Yates says, it may be necessary to descend 12,000 feet. That, he thinks, will be about the limit of depth at which men can work, because the temperature there will be at least 100 degrees Fahrenheit. Other engineers think the shafts could be sunk several thousand feet lower through the adoption of devices for cooling the air.—Youth's Companion.

Electric Fans in India.

American ingenuity has upset an ancient custom in India. For centuries every rajah and even the minor potentates have had special men to fan them during their waking hours. These men are known as punkas, and the position was one of honor and profit. Now their situations are gone, for every rajah has bought an American electric fan with a motor to run it. The punkas have told the superstitious people that the fans are worked by a little devil in the motor that turns the wheels. This, no doubt, saves many inquisitive fingers from being amputated, but the rajahs are not scared a bit.—Golden Days.

Traveling German Students.

German students are returning to the medieval notion of wandering about the world. The modern Goliards, however, are personally conducted and know beforehand precisely what their journeys will cost them. Last year they visited Italy; this spring 1,500 of them will go to Constantinople and to Asia Minor. On the way they will fraternize with the Roumanian university students, who are preparing a big "fruhschoppen" for them in Bucharest.—N. Y. Times.

Full Returns.

Edith—All is over between us, sir. Here are your letters, and the little gold locket and the ring you gave me Ch-ch-ch-ristmas.

Cyril—There are some other things I gave you, Edith. You must return all.

"What are they?"

"Eleven thousand, nine hundred and thirty-seven kisses."—Harlem Life.

She Was Boss.

Tommy—Let's play grand opera.

Ethel—All right! I'll be the boss.

"No; it takes a man to be the manager."

"Oh! you can be the manager, but I want to be what they call the bella donna."—Catholic Standard and Times.

How It Looked.

Casey—Costigan got his life insured lasht April and he's dead so quick!

Cassidy—Shure, and he must hov hod a pull wid de insurance company!—Puck.

Not Necessarily.

"The sword swallower must have to pay a lot for board."

"Why?"

"He has such a sharp appetite."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Discreet Constancy.

"We never get tired of baked apples at the place where I live."

"You don't?"

"No; we know if we did we'd get prunes."—Chicago Record.

Never Learn.

Mrs. Henpeck—Why do you say divorce brings only temporary relief?

Henpeck—Because most of them marry again.—Judge.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Thirty Years of Suffering.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Halloway of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale by A. C. Mason, druggist

One of nature's remedies; cannot harm the weakest constitution; never fails to cure summer complaints of young or old. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

It's folly to suffer from that horrible plague of the night, itching piles. Doan's ointment cures, quickly and permanently. At any drug store, 50 cents

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad
— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)
Trains leave FRANKLIN for
BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.
BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.
WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13, 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.
NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m. S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.
CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.
PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.
HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.
WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.
NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.
New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.
Trains leave FRANKLIN for
PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.
Trains leave Franklin for
MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.
ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

LOW RATES
3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION
APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	-	10c
5 to 15 miles,	-	15c
15 to 25 "	-	20c
25 to 35 "	-	25c
35 to 45 "	-	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to
New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.
au25F

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
..AND...
C.B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL.
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours. From 2 to 3 p. m., and by appointment.
92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.
M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m., except holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1839.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT
Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all here is to it.

Truss Advice.

We advise an Elastic Belt Truss because it wears longer than the spring truss, fits better and is far more comfortable. We have had a long personal experience with all styles of trusses. Throw your old spring truss away and get one of our Elastic Belt Trusses. We can fit you. Double and single at moderate prices.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK, FRANKLIN.

WRENTHAM.

Fred E. Gilmore and Charles A. Gilmore have returned from Maine.——An entertainment will be given in the town hall Wednesday evening by the ladies of Trinity church. Among the attractions will be singing by Miss Grace Adams of Franklin and Fred Mills of North Attleboro. A social dance will follow the concert.——Mrs. Charles R. Talbot and daughter Gladys have gone to Red Beach, Me.——Christopher Gore of Auburndale, a grandson of the late Gov. Christopher Gore of Massachusetts, and who built Gore Hall at Harvard, has been visiting D. S. Farrington.——Rev. William B. Allis, wife and two sons have returned to New York.——Miss Adams, daughter of Dr. J. Q. Adams, is visiting Miss E. A. McGaw.——Moses Farnum is making extensive improvements on his property at Elmwood mills.——Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dodd and son have returned from their carriage drive to Vermont.

SHELDONVILLE.

Mrs. Minnie Thaine of Sheldonville is visiting her brother, Fred A. Brown, of Haverhill.

England's Oriental Resources.

It is estimated that if the laws of German conscription were applied to her East Indian possessions Great Britain would have a standing army of 2,500,000 soldiers, and about 800,000 recruits coming up for enrollment every year.—N. Y. Journal.

Men Wash In Egypt.

The washing in Egypt is usually done by the men. The Egyptian washermen stand on the banks of the Nile and slap the wet clothes on the smooth stones at the edge of the running water.—N. Y. Sun.

Herat.

Herat, to the Moslems, leaving the steppes of Turkestan, presents the effect that Palestine produced on the Hebrews when they approached from the Arabian desert.—Chicago Tribune.

Had Begun to Turn.

The Good One—If he drinks so much he will turn into a sot!

The Other One—Shouldn't wonder. The last time I saw him he was turning into a saloon!—N. Y. Press.

Old Proverb Revised.

There are not as good fish in the sea as some anglers claim to have caught.—Chicago Daily News.

Proof.

Heat travels faster than cold; anyone can catch cold.—Chicago Daily News.

To Cure a Cold in One Day.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

Takes the burn out; heals the wound; cures the pain. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, the household remedy.

The Adornment of an Arab Girl.

Arab girls before they enter the harem and take the veils are a curious sight to behold. Their bodies and face are dyed a bright yellow with tumeric. On this ground they paint black lines with antimony over their eyes; the fashionable color for the nose is red; green spots adorn the cheeks, and the general aspect is grotesque beyond description.—"Southern Arabia."

Tonight

Just before retiring, if your liver is sluggish, out of tune and you feel dull, bilious, constipated, take a dose of

Hood's Pills

And you'll be all right in the morning.

Wouldn't Be Obstinate.

"We've come ter tell yer, pardner," announced the spokesman of the vigilance committee, "that every cuss in town 'cep'in' yourself has agreed that it's time fer yer ter light out."

"Ef that's the case, gents," replied the facetious bad man, "I'll move ter make it unanimous."—Philadelphia Record.

More Likely.

Mrs. Kindheart—A poor tramp came here to-day who said he had been blown up by dynamite and lived to tell the story. I gave him a dinner and some of your old clothes.

Her Husband—I am afraid, my dear, that he deceived you. He probably tells the story to live.—N. Y. Journal.

Not a Success.

"I tried my poem on a dog, sir, as you advised," said the poet.

"Well," said the editor, "what was the result?"

"I was arrested by an officer of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals."—Harlem Life.

Fire Dogs In Dawson.

Horses are scarce in Dawson City, while dogs are numerous, and so the latter are used by the fire department. They are so trained that at the tap of the fire bell they jump at once into place, so that their collars can be snapped about their necks. Then they go tearing off down the street, as fast as any metropolitan fire department.—Cleveland Leader.

A Time Limit.

Physician—I'm afraid you smoke too much.

Patient—Well, I do smoke almost continuously from morning till night.

"Why do you do that?"

"Because it's the only time I have to smoke. I have to sleep at night."—Chicago Evening News.

Her Chance.

"I must confess to you," he said, in a burst of confidence, "I'm an odd man. I'd like to be different if—"

"This is so sudden!" she cried, throwing herself upon his neck. For she, too, was odd, and she had longed to be even.—Philadelphia Press.

A Jury's Verdict.

A western jury returned the following verdict recently: "We find that the deceased died by the will of Providence, or some other disease unknown to us."—Chicago Daily News.

Size of London.

London is 12 miles broad one way and 17 the other, and every year sees about 20 miles of new streets added to it.—Chicago Chronicle.

The Other Fellow's Love Letters.

A man never realizes what fools men can make of themselves until he reads a love letter written by some other fellow.—Chicago Daily News.

Nature.

Nature not only benevolently guards the rose with thorns, but she endows women with pins.—Chicago Daily News.

Stops the Cough and Works Off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price 25 cents.

Hard to Understand.

"Did you say he had studied music?" said the gentleman with the long hair, when the soloist had concluded.

"Oh, yes, indeed!"

"It's very remarkable!"

"His voice?"

"Yes. If he has studied music I can't understand why he should persist in trying to sing."—Washington Star.

SLEEPING-ROOM OUTFIT ON EASY TERMS:

This comprises an elegant selected Chamber Set in golden oak finish, 2 Chairs, Rocker and Table to match. Woven Wire Spring, 1 pair Pillows, a good Mattress and Decorated Dresden Toilet Set.

ALL FOR $38.00.

TERMS—$5.00 or $10.00 down, $1.00 each week.

Where will you go to get credit? Don't go at all. COME—your credit is good right here.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free Delivery at your home the hour you name.

The Prisoner Was Mixed.

"Prisoner," said the Maryland justice, as the case was closed. "You have been found guilty of stealing a pig belonging to Col. Childers. Have you anything to say before I pass sentence?"

"I has, suh," answered the prisoner, as he rose up. "It was all a mistake, jedge—all a mistake. I didn't dun reckon to steal no pig from Kurnel Chilvers. What I was arter was a hawg belongin' to Majah Dawson, an' how dem two animals got mixed up and de constable found de meat in my cabin am gwine to bodder me 'till I come out o' jail an' lick de ole woman fur not keepin' better watch at de doah!"—Washington Post.

Gift of Tongue.

A female witness, possessed of a rich brogue, was on the stand in Judge Donovan's court the other day. Her tongue moved so rapidly in the narration of her story that her words were quite unintelligible. Finally the court interrupted:

"Hold on. Not so fast! Not so fast! This man (pointing to the court stenographer) can write about 200 words a minute, but you are going at the rate of 400. Give him a chance to catch up."

"Arrah, why don't yez git a good man, jedge? What does yez kape a slow skate fur, at all?" was the ready retort.—Detroit Free Press.

Got What He Asked For.

"So you are looking for a position?" said the merchant to the youth with the high collar and noisy necktie. "What can you do?"

"Oh, any old thing," replied the young man. "Of course, I don't expect the junior partnership at the start, but I want to be sure of an early rise."

"Very well," replied the merchant, "I'll make you assistant janitor. You will rise at four o'clock every morning and sweep the floors."—Chicago Evening News.

Appropriately Named.

"Quite a colony of Englishmen are settling in that new suburban town of ours," said the big real estate operator. "I'm thinking of calling the town 'Shilling.'"

"That sounds rather cheap," protested his partner.

"Well, it's the British quarter, you know."—Philadelphia Press.

Important Notice.

In order to make a few alterations necessary for handling the immense business now offering for Sydney the steamship Florida will omit her sailing from Boston Saturday, Sept. 22, but will be regularly in commission again on Saturday, Sept. 29, 12 noon, for Halifax and Sydney. There will be no change in sailing of the steamship Halifax from Boston every Tuesday at 12 noon for Halifax, Hawkesbury and Charlottetown.

E W Grove

This signature is on every box of the genuine Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets the remedy that cures a cold in one day

Wanted

IMMEDIATELY.

Pullers on Ladies' Shoddy Felt Hats.

BASSETT BROS.,
Franklin, Mass.

se18-2t

Hoag Lake

PARK.

WEEK OF SEPT. 17

Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.15.

Boom's Manhattan Vaudevilles.

- The Carrolls, introducing songs and dances and their trick mule, Pete.
- Rube Hill, trick bicycle performer.
- Steve Hoyt, comedy acrobat.
- Lou Wells, musical comedian.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je26-toc1

Goat Caught a Wolf.

A very singular occurrence is reported in a Paris exchange from the village of Chez-Tablot, in the district of St. Cloud. A widow named Sigalard was working in a field. Her goat, a large, fine animal, was grazing a little way off along the edge of the adjacent woods, when suddenly a wolf sprang on the domestic milk purveyor. By some curious hazard the goat must have raised her head at the same moment, for the head of the wolf was caught between her horns and could not be withdrawn. Each animal pulled in a different direction, and the noise of the struggle attracted Mme. Sigalard's attention. Paralyzed from fear and excitement, the woman could not utter a word or call for help. Fortunately, a neighbor happened to pass. He seized the wolf's hind legs, while the widow stabbed it in the side until it was killed. The goat, since its adventure, has been affected with a kind of St. Vitus' dance, but Widow Sigalard serenely accepted the premium of 160 francs given to those who kill a wolf. How much of this she gave to her kind neighbor the French writer does not tell.—Baltimore Sun.

Derivation of Boer.

It is curious to note, in connection with the national designation of our present foes in South Africa, the survivance in Scottish legal and agricultural parlance of the closely allied term "Bower" (pronounced Booer). The expression is properly applied to a person who hires, from the proprietor or principal tenant of a farm, a stock of cows along with the right of grazing them on certain fields. The Bower makes in return a money payment of so much per cow, and trusts to making his profit out of the sale of the dairy produce. The precise legal position of a party who has a "bowing" lease is somewhat indeterminate, being midway between that of a mere manager and that of a subtenant. Instances of this mixed contract of lease of land and hiring of labur are now rare, but it is still to be found in agricultural districts. An instance of it in Arran was the subject of judicial consideration in 1894. The word "bower" is allied to the Gaelic "bo," a cow, and among its numerous cognates in the Aryan languages is included the Dutch term "Boer."—Law Times.

The Ox-Pecker.

These starlings not only rid the animals they frequent of ticks, and other vermin, but they often peck at sores on oxen and donkeys until they form cavities, which measure sometimes 20 inches or more in diameter, and as much in depth; they acually do eat the flesh and drink the blood of these animals. Oxen submit quite placidly to this process of being eaten alive and seem none the worse for it afterward, but donkeys show their objections by trying to rid themselves of the birds by rolling on the ground and running under bushes.—"The Birds of South America."

Youthful Patriotism.

There is a small boy at Islington, whose father is a Frenchman, but who, himself, was born in England, and has lived there all his life. Consequently, he considers himself to be an Englishman. He has recently gone to school and has been taking his first lessons in English history. The other night he looked up from his book, musingly, and said to his father:

"Papa, we licked you awfully at the battle of Waterloo, didn't we?"—Tit-

ARE YOU Looking for CHOICE CONFECTIONERY, always fresh?

ARE YOU Looking for CHOICE CIGARS?

ARE YOU Ever THIRSTY?

We have Confectionery from 20c. to 50c. per lb., Cigars from 2c. to 20c. each, and our Soda is simply delicious.

Just come in and try us once.
We know you will come again.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Chilson's Market

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef, 10 to	12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-1yS

Coal! Coal!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-8

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-1fS

Your Wife is a Jewel

and her home is the setting. It is your duty to make this setting as beautiful as possible. Elaborateness doesn't necessarily mean beauty. Some of the prettiest Furniture in our store is the least expensive. Look around at home and then look around here, and you'll find means to brighten up the house wonderfully.

A small payment at time order is given and a little every week will pay for all your Furniture needs.

CHAMBER OUTFIT.

Suit complete, including Mattress, Springs and Toilet Set, $26.50
$2.75 down, 75c. a week.

KITCHEN OUTFIT.

Complete with Range, Table, Chairs, Oil Cloth, small ware, $35.00
$3.50 down, $1.00 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

JUST RECEIVED, A NEW LINE OF

Blanks, Pads,
Tablets, Pencils,
School Bags, Etc.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

PLANT LINE

TO THE PROVINCES.

GREAT REDUCTION IN RATES.

To Halifax, Hawkesbury, Sydney and Charlottetown.

775 miles for	$7.50
1000 miles for	9.50
1400 miles for	11.00

DON'T MISS the opportunity to take the greatest trip for the least money on record. It can be made within a week and comprises a deep sea voyage, a sail along the entire Nova Scotia coast, through the Straits of Canso, St. George's Bay and Northumberland Straits. Autumn most delightful season in the Provinces.

A Grand Opportunity for Natives to Visit the Old Home.

S. S. Halifax every Tuesday, 12 noon, for Halifax, Hawkesbury and Charlottetown. S. S. Florida every Saturday, 12 noon, for Halifax and Sydney, from north side Lewis Wharf. Maps and other advertising free.

J. A. FLANDERS, N. E. Agent,
290 Washington St., Boston.
E. H. DOWNING, Agent,
20 Atlantic Ave., Boston.

jly24-tno24

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE.. ..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month	$1 00
" " three times per week	50
Single Gallon	05

All orders left at Dean's will receive prompt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.

17-tf

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in two mortgage deeds given by Lothrop J. Wilder to the Medway Savings Bank, one dated Jan. 17th, 1891, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 649, folio 43, the other dated April 27th, 1893, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 691, folio 618, for breach of the conditions thereof and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on

WEDNESDAY, the THIRD day of OCTOBER, 1900,

at three o'clock p. m., all and singular the following described property:

A certain tract of land, with the buildings thereon standing, including all permanent fixtures and heating appliances, situated in Medway, county of Norfolk and state of Massachusetts, on the east side of Broad street, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at the northwest corner thereof, on said street, at land of Mary H. Wilder; and thence easterly on a line with said Mary H. Wilder's land one hundred and forty (140) feet to a corner at land of Mrs. Sarah S. Woodward; thence southerly on land of said Woodward to land of Frank A. Henry; thence westerly on a line with land of said Henry parallel with and twenty-one (21) feet distance from northerly side of stable on said Henry's land to a point for a corner on a line parallel with westerly end of said stable; thence southwesterly in a straight line to a point for a corner on a line with rear of grantor's store block and thirty five feet distance therefrom; thence westerly on line parallel with southerly side of said block to said Broad street; thence northerly on said street to the first-mentioned point. Same premises recorded with Norfolk Deeds, lib. 612, folio 441, conveyed to grantor by deed from Elijah B. Stowe; subject to a right of way mentioned in said conveyance, and more fully set forth and described in a deed to John McGinnis, March 1st, 1886. With all rights to well on southerly side of said estate.

Terms at sale.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK, Mortgagee,
By its Treasurer, W. H. Upton.

Medway, Mass., Sept. 6, 1900.

se11,18,25

M Fisher 1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 76. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
N. C. Nye	4
Attractions at Woonsocket Opera House	4
Citation	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10. p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 00 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10 30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Mrs. L. K. Dearborn arrived home yesterday.

James O. Chilson has been confined to the house by illness.

Nathan C. Nye returned from Acton, Me., Tuesday.

T. J. Healey has resumed teaching at the City Mills school.

The Dean academy boys are getting into shape for football.

Mrs. Thomas Foley is seriously ill at her home on Cottage street.

Rev. John L. Keedy of Lysander, N. Y., has been visiting Dr. Sneath.

Mrs. Ellen Fiorani has returned from a visit with her sister in Reading.

G. S. F. Singleton is enjoying a few days with dog and gun in Canada.

The proposed Y. M. C. A. will likely be organized next Monday evening.

The trial of the liquors taken in the recent raid will be held Tuesday, Oct. 2.

The frost is holding off well, fortunately for the owners of cranberry bogs.

Rev. and Mrs. Sneath have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ball of Cambridge.

Edward Ferrer left town Monday for Brooklyn, N. Y., to attend his brother's funeral.

Asa Adams is putting in a well for Nathan A. Daniels at his farm on the Medway road.

F. B. Flanagan and family removed on Wednesday from Cottage street to Pleasant street.

Miss Catherine Connolly of Milford is visiting at the home of D. F. O'Sullivan, Pleasant street.

Rev. Mr. Sneath will preach in the River's End schoolhouse, City Mills, on Sunday at 3 p. m.

The board of registrars held their first meeting at the town officers' room last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. W. H. Burdick of Scranton, Pa., has been visiting her sister, Mrs. H. S. Ward, in Unionville.

Holy communion will be celebrated at St. John's rectory Sunday next at 8 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Thayer of Greeley, Col., are enjoying their annual trip East, being guests at "Cobblestone."

The Sullivan girl, in charge of the state at Caryville, has died. She is the last one of the family sick there.

The American band orchestra played at Hoag lake Tuesday evening. A large number of Franklin people attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Marston Sanborn returned this morning from New York, where they have been purchasing fall goods.

Mrs. H. L. Wales of Waterbury, Conn., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Alfred Clark, Jr., and her sister, Mrs. W. S. Johnson.

Charles Knowlton employed at the Heliotype work, is ill with typhoid fever at the home of his mother on Summer street.

Dr. E. S. Elliott, who has been substituting for Dr. A. J. Gallison during the latter's absence in Europe, left for N. H., Wednesday.

Master Robt. Thayer left Thursday for Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, where he enters upon his second year at the New York military academy.

Mrs. Joseph Pothier of New Bedford, a sister-in-law of ex-Mayor Pothier of Woonsocket, is a guest at the home of Hugh Murphy on Fisher street.

W. A. Pond has sold the Henry Davis place at Millis, containing 20 acres, with modern buildings, William Sawyer of Attleboro being the purchaser.

The Sabbath school of the First Congregational church will observe September 30 as Rally Sunday. The day will be observed with special services.

Excursion tickets may be procured at the station here for the Universalist convention in Springfield for $3.80, good from September 24 to 30, inclusive.

It is said that typhoid fever is unpleasantly prevalent, nearly a dozen cases being cared for. By all means keep gardens, cellars and other places cleaned up.

Chester, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Allen of King street, died yesterday, a victim of spinal meningitis. Two other children in the same family are also ill.

Mrs. Annie Ballard of Lewiston, Me, is visiting friends in town. She is a very successful ladies' tailoress and is considering locating here, which is pleasing to many.

The prizes at the golf tournament of the Franklin Country club tomorrow, consisting of cups for the winning lady and gentleman, are on exhibition in Mason's window.

Dr. Jacoby took dinner with Albert C. Mason one day this week and called on a few old friends in town. He was on his way to the Rangely Lakes, Me, on a hunting and fishing trip.

Liveryman Ware is out with one of the finest rubber-tired hacks ever seen in town, finely upholstered and up to date in every particular. It is indeed a luxury to ride in such an equipage.

Daniel Crowley of Medway was up before Associate Justice Whitaker on Tuesday, charged with maliciously attempting to obstruct a street railway in Medway. The case was assigned for tomorrow.

Charles E. Johnson has begun the foundation for a new house on his Crescent street property. Mr. Johnson is to take time by the forelock and have his place ready for the coming demand for modern tenements.

Work was begun Tuesday on the new hose house of the J. G. Ray hose company, which is to be erected on land donated by the Charles River company on the easterly side of Union street, near Nason's crossing.

John T. Prince, agent of the state educational board, has arranged to hold a teachers' convention here on Wednesday, October 24, and a fine address may be expected. All of the schools of this vicinity have been invited.

James Murray Gallison, son of Dr. A. J. Gallison, has entered Brown university for a four-years' course. He was graduated from Dean academy last year, being the class president and had the salutatory upon graduation day.

Miss Eva Spence, daughter of Harry Spence, passed away last evening at the home of her father on Summer street after a two weeks' illness with typhoid fever. Her sister, Miss May Spence is also ill with the same disease.

The pulpit platform of the First Congregational church has been adorned with large and handsome bouquets of dahlias, the gift of Mrs. T. H. Shepardson of Plainville, in whose gardens are a large number and great variety.

Charles McDougall has resigned his position as superintendent of the Charles River Company's mill at North Bellingham. Mr. McDougall was formerly a resident here and held the position of superintendent of the Ray woolen mill.

The annual children's festival under the auspices of the Alden club will be changed this year to a social reunion at Elm farm in October, where the young people can meet and have plenty of space to swing their arms, run and be joyous.

The Milkmen's association of Bellingham and vicinity held a meeting at Hoag lake on Wednesday, about thirty being present. They partook of one of Caterer Blackmar's famous turkey dinners with "fixin's," and expressed themselves as being highly pleased.

"Peck's Bad Boy" had a fair sized audience at the Opera House Wednesday evening. Except the first act little remains of the original drama, the second and third being mostly vaudeville acts. New situations make the change an improvement and give added interest to the comedy.

Manufacturer Singleton is putting in a large 150 horse power steam engine, displacing a smaller one of 50 horse power. He has recently put in a second pump, run by a Springfield gas engine, which he hopes will furnish him with an abundant supply of water for manufacturing purposes.

The fall session of the Mendon conference is to be held with the Congregational church here on Wednesday, October 17, and N. C. Nye, H. W. Thayer, B. M. Rockwood, Mrs. F. M. Richardson, Mrs. W. S. Richardson and Miss Mabel Ray have been appointed a committee to arrange the details of the affair.

Next week Wednesday, Sept. 26, the closing field meet of the season of the Franklin Farmers' club will be held at Sheldonville. Fred Reed, Horatio Metcalf and Benjamin Guild will be the entertainers, and will probably have good results of the season's work to show, notwithstanding the dry weather.

Col. N. F. Heft, discussing the failure of electric railways, says it has been found that on lines extending to suburban towns a distance of nine miles where a fare of 15 cents has been charged the roads were operated at a loss, but after the fare was reduced to 10 cents the same roads were operated at a profit.

Wednesday morning Arthur Barrows, who is employed at Singleton's mill, fell from a door on the second floor to the ground below, while helping to unload some cases which were being raised to the doorway. His face was badly scratched, his back bruised and he was severely shaken up. He went to his home for treatment, but returned in the afternoon to his work.

Deputy Sheriff Fitzpatrick is paying attention to complaints that have been made concerning loitering and cider drinking in the vicinity of Nason's crossin, and on Tuesday evening, in company with Officer Redpath, paid a visit to that quarter and captured a crowd near the Nason barn on Union street. The names of each one of the party were taken, but no arrests were made.

The Massachusetts Universalist convention meets on Tuesday next at St. Paul's church, Springfield. Rev. Dwight M. Hodge, D. D., is the president and will preside at the meetings. Principal A. W. Peirce and James F. Ray are delegates from Franklin. Springfield has three Universalist societies and can easily entertain the convention. A Y. P. C. U. convention follows the one above mentioned.

David L. Stain, now serving a life sentence and whose friends are trying to secure a pardon for him, was a resident of Franklin for several years and was arrested at the shoe store on depot street, where he worked. Several times efforts have been made to secure his release, but without success. During the time he lived here there was nothing that attracted attention toward him as he apparently lived a quiet life.

Last Sunday was the Home Missionary Sunday in some of our churches. The rain and the consequent small audiences led to the postponement of the collection in some churches. Dr. Hodge had faith to try his hand with a small audience, however, and was rewarded by securing the full amount he intended to ask for. It is the faithful attendants who are to be depended on, as a rule, in other things than attendance.

Excelsior Lodge, A. F. and A. M., will receive an official visitation at the hands of the deputy, Jarvis B. Woolford of Holliston, on Wednesday evening, October 24, and Fred M. Estey, deputy of the ninth capitular Masonic district, will visit Miller Royal Arch Chapter on Tuesday, October 9. Deputy Estey will be accompanied by John J. Van Valkenburgh as captain of the host. Past high priests of the various chapters have been invited to be honorary members of his suite.

The report comes from Bellingham that a protest is to be made against a 10 cent fare from North Bellingham to Bellingham center, which, it is alleged, is collected. It is claimed that while there is nothing in the franchise in relation to the matter, the location from the four corners through the center was granted upon the condition that fare from the north end via the four corners should be five cents, and so recorded on the selectmen's records, and which is claimed is the consideration for the franchise.

On Sunday evening next at Tufts college Rev. Dr. Hodge will give the Russell lecture for 1900. An endowed lectureship makes this lecture an annual affair and the lecturer is chosen a year in advance by the corporation of the college. The subject is prescribed and certain conditions are laid down in the bequest establishing the lectureship. Dr. Hodge's topic is "The Importance of Christian Faith and Belief in the Formation of the Character of the Good Citizen and Good Man." Under this prescribed theme Dr. Hodge will speak of "The New Religious Life."

On account of the storm Sunday morning Rev. F. B. Sleeper gave his sermon on "The Rich Fool" in the evening instead of at the morning service. He carefully elaborated four principal thoughts. That the Bible calls a man a fool who makes an idol of worldly thing or wilfully disbelieves in a future existence or does not fill his earthly life with heavenly ambition, or does not seek to incarnate God in his soul and every thought and action. The word fool does not signify an idiot. He may be a man well educated and refined. He may have all the knowledge this earth can afford. But if he harbors sin and rebellion and infidelity in his heart the Lord pronounces him a fool. If he lives only for the earth with no hope of an endless heaven he is acting in the most senseless way possible.

Griffin court, M. C. O. F., entertained about fifty members of Sarsfield court of North Attleboro at their rooms in Opera house block Wednesday evening, the visiting delegation including Deputy High Chief Ranger P. F. Grady, Chief Ranger William Hanbury and Vice Chief Ranger John Joyce. The local court gave their brethren a royal welcome, and a varied programme of vocal and instrumental solos and duets, readings, recitations, etc., was followed by dancing, refreshments being served during an intermission. The affair was a most enjoyable one and the visitors left at an early hour in the morning in a special trolley car, all delighted with the cordial reception tendered by Griffin court.

An alarm was rung in from box 6 at 2 o'clock this morning for a fire at the dwelling owned by John Wilson on the City Mills road. The firemen responded promptly, but when on the way were sent back by a messenger from the scene of the fire, who gave the information that it had been extinguished by neighbors. It would appear, however, that the fire had not been entirely put out, as another alarm was rung at 6.40 o'clock. The firemen went all the way this time, but the blaze had gained considerable headway and soon the dwelling was gutted and practically destroyed. The loss will reach $900, which is covered by insurance. Mr. Wilson is at present in Maine and the house was in charge of a housekeeper, who states that she believes the fire was caused by a cat jumping from a table and upsetting a lighted lamp.

The following brief but very graphic account of the terrible disaster at Galveston has been received by Dr. J. C. Gallison from his old schoolmate and friend, Dr. A. B. Chamberlain of that city, who is the sovereign grand inspector general of the Masonic order in Texas and thirty-third degree Mason. He says, under date of September 10: "Galveston has just passed through the most fearful and destructive storm that ever visited any city. The destruction cannot be described nor the number of killed and wounded now be estimated. Not a house in the city that is not more or less wrecked, and hundreds upon hundreds are gone entirely, and the men, women and children that are lying dead at every turn beggars description. All of our folks are saved, thank God! Occasionally, when some house would fall, crashing down with a terrible noise, my little boy would say, 'I wish the wind would stop blowing.' I put this in the office, but don't know when it will get away. My telegram to you I sent to Houston by boat, the only means of communication for some time."

Y. M. C. A.

There was a goodly number of interested persons at the meeting in Metcalf block on Wednesday evening to discuss the plans for forming an association for the Christian betterment of the young men of the place. Most of those present agreed to join as members, although the plans for the complete organization have not as yet all been formulated. After a full and interesting discussion the meeting adjourned to next Monday evening, when it is expected a speaker from Boston will be present to render assistance and give further impetus to the work.

The meeting will be held in the room over J. R. Hosford's dry goods store, and the room should be filled with earnest workers for the saving of the young men of the place. Come out and assist in the good work, as it must be carried on by some one.

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending September 19, 1900:

Ladies—Miss Bessie Beaumont, Mrs. Etta Schofield.

Gentlemen—Alton Handley, Roland McIntyre, Barney McGinnis, W. E. Miller, B. N. Rodgers, Bertram H. Smith, Alfred Thibadeau, Ernest L. Wilson, C. F. Warner, Thayer & Metcalf, B. Salit.

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

Extra choice candy, Zunino & Gregori's fruit store, Main street. Fancy chocolates, 15c. lb.; French mixed, 10c.; all penny goods, 55c. box.

Emerson's Market.

Fresh killed chicks and fowls, lamb, pork and tomatoes. We also have spinach, shell beans, cauliflower, gem melons, sweet potatoes, squash, lettuce, celery, grapes, onions, cabbages, new beets and turnips.

Hubbard Martin Bullock.

The funeral of the late Hubbard M. Bullock took place yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Cook officiating. Rev. Mr. Chadbourne, a former pastor of Mr. Bullock's, was present and assisted in the exercises. The music was furnished by Mrs. Jenks and Mrs. Stewart, who sang "I Am But a Pilgrim, Stranger," add "Abide With Me" very touchingly. The bearers were Henry R. Jenks, Lewis R. Whittaker, A. P. Woodward and George S. Hosie. They accompanied the body to the train, where it was sent to Oak Grove cemetery, Fall River, for interment.

His illness was of a lingering duration, something in the nature of a stroke affecting him early in the year, from which he rallied sufficiently to be about, but not to attend actively to business. A second stroke came upon him while he was at Dedham doing jury duty and he returned home sick, from which attack he never entirely rallied. The end came peacefully and painlessly on Monday.

HUBBARD M. BULLOCK.

Mr. Bullock was born in Grafton, N. H., Dec. 14, 1833, moving to Fall River at an early age. He was engaged in the grocery and provision business for three years, ill health later compelling him to give up his business career, and he disposed of his store. He then purchased a farm in Bellingham, retiring there to regain his health, which he succeeded in doing. After a rest of two years he again entered active business life, coming to Franklin, where he established a real estate and insurance business, securing many patrons. For the twenty three years in which he has lived here he has been continually interested in the advancement of the town, both materially and morally. He has been one of the trustees of the Benjamin Franklin Savings bank for fifteen years, and prominently connected with the Business Men's association. For more than twenty years he has been an untiring worker in the Methodist church, officiating as its treasurer. His life was one of unselfish devotion to his family and friends, being naturally of a genial obliging disposition. He was an earnest worker in the temperance cause, ever anxious to uphold, defend and protect the good name of the town in this respect. He leaves a widow and four children, Hon. William J. Bullock, representative to the Massachusetts legislature from New Bedford, Mrs. William H. Judd of Boston, Mrs. Frank T. Barton of Providence and Mrs. Albert C. Estey of the same city.

Don't Miss It.

Those who enjoy fine acting and fine plays will be pleased to know that J. E. Toole, the singing comedian, supported by his competent company, will appear at the Opera house two evenings, Sept. 28 and 29. The first evening "Killarney and the Rhine," interspersed with comedy, pathos, original music, songs and dances, special scenery and elaborate costumes, with the same company that has been playing in New York and Boston. The second night Joseph Jefferson's version of "Rip Van Winkle" will be presented. The prices will be for these attractions: Centre orchestra and balcony, 35c.; admission, 25c. Any one wishing to know about this company are referred by the management to A. M. Thayer, the leading lady having been a pupil of the latter.

Team for Sale.

A bay horse, top buggy, harness, nearly new; price reasonable. Inquire of F. A. M., Plainville, Mass.

Pianos Tuned.

I shall be in Franklin during the second week in October to care for my pianos and to attend to new ones. Orders may be left at the SENTINEL office.

J. W. WALKER.

A new lot of potted plants, ferns, rubber plants, palms, etc.; cut flowers, roses in large or small quantities; funeral designs well made up. Slade's greenhouse.

Two chairs at Ocbee's barber shop. Accomplished hair dresser in attendance. Short waits.

Read the Business Announcements.

A Foregone Conclusion.

Next week the voters of Franklin will have an opportunity to register their preferences in caucus to see who shall represent this congressional district at Washington, taking the place now held by Congressman Sprague, who declines a renomination. There are but two candidates in the field, Hon. S. L. Powers of Newton and Fred H. Williams of Brookline. Few would question the capability of either candidate to fitly represent the district, yet at the same time there is an acknowledged difference in the two men, the superiority clearly resting with Mr. Powers.

It is a fact that Mr. Powers has so impressed himself upon the thinking voters of the district that they have instinctively turned toward him as the proper man for the place. This is shown by the number of prominent men in the various towns of the district who have espoused the cause of Mr. Powers. Mr. Williams has rather querulously complained that his opponent has already secured the promised assistance of many of the strong men of the party, as if that were in itself something reprehensible. The question at once suggests itself, isn't that exactly the result Mr. Williams sought and would have attained had that been possible? Did not the crime of the thing consist mainly in the success? Surely that cannot have been wrong in Mr. Powers which Mr. Williams sought to effect.

It is, therefore, true that Mr. Powers has secured the co-operation of many of the leading men throughout the district, who propose to see to it that the coveted honor to be given to the man who shall adequately fill the requirements of the position. Mr. Powers' prominence in the counsels of his party, his recognized forensic ability, his uprightness of character, the cleanliness of his campaign, all entitle him to the suffrages of the intelligent voters of this district, if they desire to be ably represented in the halls of halls of congress. It has been shown that a gratifying majority of the voters of this district desire thus to honor themselves and Mr. Powers by making him their standard bearer, end in the political parlance of the day. "It is all over but the shouting."

His magnanimity has been shown already in his published statement that he should take off his coat and work for the success of his opponent if he felt that the voters of the district preferred Mr. Williams to himself. He would scorn to "sulk in his tent" simply because he misjudged the wishes of his possible constituents. That is a magnificient testimonial to the character of the candidate, and the sentiment does him decided honor. Knowing Mr. Williams as we do, we think it safe to say that he will do likewise.

John McAuliffe's Stock Company All Next Week.

Commencing Monday night and continuing all the week, with daily matinee, commencing Tuesday, Jere McAuliffe's stock company will present a week of repertoire at the Woonsocket opera house. Tom Edson, the electrician, with an entire scenic outfit; "Southern Chimes," with a sugar crusher and the belfry scene; "All for Gold" and "Camille," with its wealth of magnificent gowns and jewels;" "The Man of-War's Man," the great naval play; "Under Sealed Orders," dealing with a British secret service department: "The Fugitive," the great "Diamond Robbery," made famous by Madame Janauscheck. The system of daily matinees, beginning Tuesday, and the Monday night ladies' tickets will rule during thie engagement.

Freshly Baked Goods.

Everything fresh from the Elkerton bakery may be procured at any time at Crowninshield's bargain store. Hot rolls after 5 o'clock every night.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Trash wood, ready cut for stove use, at Allen's wood yard.

Wanted—A girl to do general housework. Inquire of Dr. Geo. King. 21-tf

To Rent.—A desirable tenement of six rooms; $12 per month. Inquire of O. T. Doe. 14 tf

Wanted.—A girl to do general housework. Apply to G. H. Grant, School street. 18-tf

Girl Wanted—A girl to do general housework. Apply to Mrs. Alfred Farrington. 21 tf

Wanted—A woman to do family washing at her own home. Apply to Mrs. Joseph P. Bassett. 21, 25

A competent girl can obtain a good situation doing housework by addressing "E," SENTINEL office. 18

Wanted.—Competent woman for general housework. Address, stating references, Box 118, Franklin, Mass. 21,25,28

Mrs. Nellie Razee Noyes announces to the public that she will open a dancing school about the middle of October.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. McKINNON, Agent.

Round-trip Boston tickets can be had at $1.05, (less than the five-trip rate), of Chas. H. Prince at SENTINEL office. Also round-trip Providence and Milford tickets at a saving of 12c from regular fare. Mileage books to let.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1900.

A Crack at Kentucky.

Man born in the mounteins of Kentucky is of fend days and full of virus. He fisheth, fiddleth, cusseth and fighteth all the days of his miserable life says the Martin (Tex.) Democrat. He shunneth water as a mad dog and drinketh much mean whisky. When he desireth to raise a rumpus he planteth a neighbor, and lo! he reapeth twentyfold. He riseth even from the cradle to seek the scalp of his grandsire's enemy, and bringeth home in his carcass the ammunition of his wife's neighbor's wife's cousin's father-in-law, who avengeth the deed. Yes, verily his life is uncertain and he knows not the hour when he may he jerked hence. He goeth forth on a journey half shot and cometh back on a shutter, shot. He riseth in the night to let the cat out, and it taketh nine doctors three days to pick the gunshot out of him. He goeth forth in joy and gladness and cometh back in scraps and fragments. A cyclone bloweth him into the bosom of his neighbor's wife and his neighbor's wife's husband bloweth him into Abraham's bosom before he hath time to explain. He emptieth a demijohn into himself and a shotgun into his enemy, and his enemy's son lieth in wait for him on election day; and lo! the coroner ploweth up a 40-acre field to bury the remains of that man. Woe, woe is Kentucky, for her eyes are red with bad whisky, and her soul is stained with the blood of innocent moonshiners.

Good Results of a Revival.

A strange result of a revival is given by the New York Observer: "A few months ago a Franklin, N. Y., business man inadvertently gave a customer a ten-dollar gold piece for 50 cents change. The customer who received the ten-dollar gold piece observed to another party a few hours after that it was the funniest 5-cent piece he had ever seen. 'Yes,' replied the new arrival, 'but I'll give you two quarters for it.' The fool and the knave closed the bargain; the fool walked off with two silver quarters and the knave with the yellow piece. The loss of the ten-dollar gold piece worried the Franklin merchant, because he could not account for its disappearance. During the recent revival in Franklin, conducted by Rev. H. W. Pope, superintendent of the Northfield extension the men with the ten-dollar gold piece was converted and finally returned the gold piece to the merchant. Justice was thus rendered on all sides. The merchant got back his gold, the converted man got back the half dollar be paid the rustic, and the latter by this time probably has traded his two silver quarters for a jackknife."

There is a plan on foot among the colored people of Omaha to restore the Lincoln car, built at the opening of the civil war, to its original condition and place it in a public building, where it will be kept permanently. The Union Pacific company bought the car soon after the war and used it in the west as a pay car, it being especially desirable for this purpose, as it had within its sides, concealed by upholstering and mahogany, half-inch boiler plates. They were placed there as a protection to prevent President Lincoln from being shot while at the front, where he frequently went in his armored car.

A New York superintendent of schools says: "We have had more cases of corporal punishment to investigate this year than usual. Our boys seem more than ever given to fighting. I think it is due to the way in which most of the newspapers exploit the doings of prize fighters. Not only is a great deal of space devoted to prize fights, but the pugilists and scenes at the ringside are fully illustrated. Now, all this had a bad effect on the boys and is the cause of most of their disorderly acts."

PASSING YEARS

Look in your mirror today. Take a last look at your gray hair. It surely may be the last if you want it so; you needn't keep your gray hair a week longer than you wish. There's no guesswork about this; it's sure every time.

To restore color to gray hair use—

Ayer's Hair Vigor

After using it for two or three weeks notice how much younger you appear, ten years younger at least.

Ayer's Hair Vigor also cures dandruff, prevents falling of the hair, makes hair grow, and is a splendid hair dressing.

It cannot help but do these things, for it's a hair-food. When the hair is well fed, it cannot help but grow.

It makes the scalp healthy and this cures the disease that causes dandruff.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"My hair was coming out badly, but Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling and has made my hair very thick and much darker than before. I think there is nothing like it for the hair." CORA M. LEA, April 25, 1899. Yarrow, I. T.

Write the Doctor.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you desire from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Address, DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

Make It Up.

Our temper runs away at times, as everybody knows;
We say things, while we're angry, that we won't say in repose
To show the truest penitence, this little maxim keep:
Just make it up before you go to sleep!

Don't let the darkness find you with a sword of anger drawn
To make some fond heart suffer till the breaking of the dawn.
Come, let your anger vanish, knock your pride into a heap:
Just make it up before you go to sleep!

Who knows where you will wander when the shades of night depart?
Don't enter that dim country with hot anger in your heart!
Don't mind the provocation—as ye sow so shall ye reap:
Just make it up before you go to sleep!
—Rural New Yorker

A Large Undertaking.

How many fishes are there in the seas?
How many sands on the shore?
How many branches are there on the trees?
How many grasses have waved on the leas?
How many stars have shown o'er?

When you have answered these questions of mine,
Then I will earnestly search
And faithfully try in some way to divine
In just how many angles a boy will incline
As he lists to a sermon at church.
—Nixon Waterman, in Woman's Home Companion

Who May with Shrewd Hours Strive?

"Who may with the shrewd hours strive?
Too thrifty dealers they
That with the one hand blandly give,
With the other take away

"And glitters there some falling flake,
Some dust of gold, between
The hands that give and hands that take Slipped noiseless and unseen.

"Ah, comedy of bargainings!
What gain of years we found
A little sift of golden things
Forgotten on the ground"
—Arthur Colton, in Ainslee's Magazine.

A Sad Case.

She—I suppose, senator, you find the glare of publicity very annoying sometimes?

He—Yes, I frequently become so weary of it that I am almost tempted to run for the vice presidency.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The Simon-Pure Article.

Percy—Have you ever loved before?

Edith—No, Percy! I have often admired men—for their strength, courage, beauty, intelligence, or something like that; but with you, Percy, it is all love—nothing else!—Puck.

May Have Got Something.

"A burglar got into our house last night."

"Did he take anything?"

"The children are all sick, and we hope be got the measles."—Chicago Record

Not the Same.

"I have a unique thing in the book line," said the poet.

"So I have heard," returned the cynic. "The complete first edition of your own book, is it not?"—Harlem Life.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY. }

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the city of Toledo, county and state aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

SEAL. A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucuous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best

GEN. ALGER INVESTS.

He and His Associates Pay $1,500,000 for 230,000 Acres of Southern Timber Land.

Ex-Secretary Russell A. Alger and his associates have just completed the purchase of 230,000 acres of choice long leaf yellow pine timber lands, situated in the counties of Escanaba, Conecuh, Monroe and Baldwin, in Alabama, extending from the Alabama river on the north to the Florida state line on the south. The purchase was made from Martin H. Sullivan, the millionaire timber king of the south. The price paid was $1,500,000.

Gen. Alger and his associates will immediately orgauize a corporation to be known as the Alger-Sullivan Timber company. They will build on these lands several fine mills and the necessary railway tracks for carrying on the export timber business to which they will devote most of the lands. The mills will have a capacity of 200,000,000 feet per annum.

From government reports it appears that the forests are fast being depleted, and hence the great wisdom of northwestern enterprise in securing this the last large body of timber land in the south. This land being connected by water with Pensacola, the logs can be floated direct to the mills, while ample railway facilities afford transportation to the wharves for shipping the timber to foreign ports. Included in this purchase by Gen. Alger is the finest wharf at Pensacola, upon which the new company will expend $100,000 in improving and extending. The water is of sufficient depth for the largest ocean-going steamers to come alongside. The South Atlantic squadron, headed by the New York, anchored out in the bay in front of it about three weeks ago.

The American Car company of Detroit, Mich., of which the ex-secretary is one of the largest stockholders, it is understood, will erect extensive works at Pensacola for building cars. They will place in charge some of the most expert workmen in their employ, many of them having 20 or 30 years' experience. The chief object in locating the works and sending the labor south is that the transportation of the timber to the works north is almost as much as the cost of the material itself.

SIAM'S FIRE PROTECTION.

King Interested in American Apparatus and Will Purchase for His Kingdom.

The king of Siam is planning to establish a fire department for his kingdom. His attention has been called to the fact that the fire department of New York city has something called a Siamese hose, and his majesty's curiosity is aroused.

With a view to obtaining the most advanced ideas of fire methods, the king's own representative, the Siamese minister, Phya Prasiddhi, has come to town. One thing he will learn about the "Siamese hose" is that it owes nothing whatever to Siam save the reputation of the Siamese twins.

Phya Prasiddhi has come from Washington with a purpose to spend as much time as may he necessary in an inspection of Chief Croker's department. A communication was received by Acting Mayor Guggenheimer from Isaac Townsend Smith, consul general for Siam, requesting permission for Minister Prasiddhi to inspect the service.

The acting mayor gave him a letter to Commissioner Scannel, and at such time as the Siamese minister may designate his tour of the department will be made with all the courtesies befitting his high rank.

SMOKE SHELLS TO BE USED.

French Officials Decide on an Innovation for the Artillery Service.

An innovation has been introduced in the French artillery service by the decision to furnish the guns with a smoke shell. Hitherto the cannon has been provided with melinite and shrapnel shell only.

This new shell is intended to be launched at an opponent's artillery which, on bursting, will envelop it in a dense cloud of smoke, thus hampering the return fire. The new shell is the outcome of the introduction of smokeless powder.

Formerly, with the old powder, the result now aimed at was brought about by the guns themselves, the firing of which produced a smoke which blinded their own gunners. Experiments show that this invention creates a sort of veil before the enemy's artillery. Both the army and the navy will be supplied with these shells.

AMERICAN OWNERS BARRED.

Cannot Hold Property in the Exclusive Japanese Settlements in Corea.

United States Consul General Horace N. Allen, at Seoul, has been seeking to obtain an interpretation of the treaty regarding the right of non-Japanese to own land in the exclusive Japanese settlements in Corea. The question involved is one of great interest to Americans, as land so situated is very valuable for business purposes. Upon thorough inquiry, Mr. Allen has found that the holding of property in the Japanese settlements is confined to Japanese alone, and that though an American or other foreigner could take a mortgage on such property in the event of enforcing the payment of the debt the property would be sold at auction and only a Japanese could buy it in.

Mortality in Rome.

The mortality in Rome has been reduced within a few years from 25 per 1,000 to 15 per 1,000.

"Every Man is the Architect of His Fortune."

"An architect designs, and his plans are executed by a builder. The greatest builder of health is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It lays a firm foundation. It makes the blood, the basis of life, pure and strong. Be an architect of your fortune and secure Hood's as your health builder.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Secretary Long in his address at Rumford, Me., last week put the case in a nutshell in the following.

"Politics," said he, "ought to be conducted on business principles. It is not a question of parties, but of your own bread and butter. If one of your great industries here should be unusually prosperous during the year, would you consider it good policy to change managers and workmen at the end of the year?

"The Democrats really have no issue. There is no such thing as imperialism; our American institutions will not permit it. There may be a very few honest men who believe in imperialism, as there are some who believe in ghosts. The Democrats use the term to hoodwink the people.

"The great questions are, 'Is labor in good demand with good wages? Is business prosperous? Are our general conditions improving?' If they are, let us keep on."

There has been no time since the destruction of the enemy's fleet when we could or should have left the Philippine archipelago. After the treaty of peace was ratified, no power but congress could surrender our sovereignty or alienate a foot of the territory thus acquired. The congress has not seen fit to do the one or the other, and the president had no authority to do either, if he had been so inclined, which he wes not. So long as the sovereignty remains in us, it is the duty of the executive, whoever he may be, to uphold that sovereignty, and, if it he attacked, to suppress its assailants. Would our political adversaries do less?—President McKinley's letter of acceptance.

New York Journal, Sept. 17, 1898.

We have a duty to perform in the Philippines—a duty to the Filipinos, to ourselves, to republican ideas, to civilization. The American people are perfectly willing to assume all the risks and burdens of that duty. No dishonorable desertion of the rescued people of the Philippines!

New York Journal, Aug. 12, 1898.

The American flag is up at Manila. Let it wave there until the people of the Philippines, under American protection, have grown into capacity for full self-government. That is the just, the American, policy. Nail the flag to the mast!

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., Druggists.

Yarmouth Line's Fall Excursions.

Not to have visited Nova Scotia during September is to have missed one of the most delightful of autumnal tours. During this month the Yarmouth Steamship company will sell excursion tickets, good for thirty days from date of purchase, to all points in Nova Scotia at unusually low rates. You may go to Yarmouth and return for only $3; to Digby and return for $6.35; to Halifax and return for $8.50; and correspondingly low rates to all other places, including south shore ports reached by the steamer City of Monticello from Yarmouth. Yarmouth line steamers leave Pier 1, Lewis wharf, every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 2 p. m. for Yarmouth. Full particulars and tickets at the tourist agencies, 201, 296 and 332 Washington street, or of H. F. Hammond, agent Yarmouth Steamship company, Pier 1, Lewis wharf, Boston.

First Senator—It seems this new member paid $500,000 for his seat! It would be a dangerous precedent to accept his credentials.

Second Senator—Decidedly! We cannot afford to countenance any such extortionate price as that!—Detroit Journal.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. TRADE MARK.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Campaign Echoes.

"Let us strive to make the conditions of life such that as nearly as possible each man shall receive the share to which he is honestly entitled and no more, and let us remember at the same time that our efforts must be to build up rather than to strike down and that we can best help ourselves, not at the expense of others, but by heartily working with them for the common good of each and all."—Governor Roosevelt.

"I love liberty, I love equality, and I love justice, and when the party to which I belong is too cowerdly to make a stand for the right, I leave it for good. Given the choice between McKinley and Roosevelt, upon the one hand, and Bryan and Stevenson and the unpatriotic Kansas City and Chicago platforms, upon the other, I shall without hesitation record my vote on election day for William McKinley and for Theodore Roosevelt, whose name and fame are deer to every soldier of the Spanish-American war and every citizen of the United States who venerates courageous, incorruptible American manhood."—Captain William E. English of Indiana.

"I went a government that gives every poor men the hope of becoming rich some day," says Bryan. That is the kind of a government he has always lived under, and personally he illustrates American opportunities. As for getting rich by cutting the value of the dollar, that is a joke.—Milford Journal.

Following is the schedule of wages per hour in Lyons, France, at the present time as furnished by United States Consul Covert: Carpenters, 13½ cents, masons, 12 cents; locksmiths, 11 cents; plasterers and painters, 12 cents; plumbers, 11 to 12 cents; stone cutters, 11 to 12 cents; chimney builders, 11 to 12 cents; layers of mosaic peving, 12 cents; laborers, 9 cents.

"When the peace congress met it concluded in the treaty to buy the Philippines and take chances with them. Many senators among the Republicans were not in favor of ratifying this treaty. Colonel Bryan was the instrument that succeeded in making the Philippines part of our territory. He came to Weshington, and by personal and persistent appeals rallied enough Democratic senators to the support of the treaty to insure its passage, and it is this same William J. Bryan that is now bringing forth this cry of imperialism for a new hobby on which to ride into power."—Senator Hale of Maine.

Expansion.

There is a rank due to the United States among the nations of the world which will be withheld, if not absolutely lost, by the reputation for weakness.—Washington.

Having practiced the acquisition of territory for nearly 60 years, the question of constitutional power to do so is no longer an open one with us.—Lincoln.

I am persuaded no constitution was ever before so well calculated as ours for extensive empire and self-government.—Thomas Jefferson.

I tell you, increase and multiply and expand is the law of this nation's existence.—S. A. Douglas.

I now behold the great American eagle, with her Stars and Stripes, hovering over the Lone Star of Texas, with cheering voice welcoming it into our glorious Union.—Andrew Jackson.

I do not share in the apprehension held by many as to the danger of governments becoming weakened and destroyed by reason of their extension of territory.—Grant.

Who is right, Mr. Bryan or The Fathers?

Averting a Challenge.

The Widower—Life, my young friend, is a duel between love and me.

The Pert Young Thing—But don't expect me to be your second.—Puck.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at A. C. Mason's drug store.

Broken Bric-A-Bracs.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man, of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's cement. The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are too expensive and do not allow large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $3.75 a pound, and another cost $2.65 a gallon while a large share of the so called cements and liquid glue, upon the market are nothing more than 16 cent glue, dissolved in water or citric acid, and in some cases, altered slightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials. Major's cement retails at fifteen and twenty-five cents a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make a larger profit. The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising which now amounts to $5000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876. Insist on having Major's. Don't accept any off hand advice from a druggist. If you are at all handy (and you will be likely to find that you are more so than you imagine) you can repair your rubber boots and family shoes, and other rubber and leather articles, with Major's rubber cement and Major's leather cement. And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will save. If your druggist can't supply you, it will be fowarded by mail; either kind. Free of postage.

Pyny-Pectoral Stops the Tickling and quickly allays inflammation in the throat.

Comer's Commercial College

Known Everywhere

as the most modern, progressive and in every way "up-to-date" business school. Prepares

Young Men and Women

in the shortest time—at the least expense—for good paying business positions. Day and evening sessions. If you want to know all about Shorthand, Book-keeping and the most successful Employment Department send for latest prospectus.

666 Washington St., cor. Beach St., BOSTON.

se14-6wF

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhold
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week............ 50
Single Gallon............................ 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES, P. O. Box 481.

17-tf f

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON).

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices. 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-Ftf

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.

22-1y

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW
Enclosed · Arc · Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.

UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

News and Opinions OF National Importance.

THE SUN ALONE CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

Address THE SUN, New York.

Do You Want to Know about Automobiles—the different kinds their construction, care and operation—tours, runs, etc., of owners and users? If so, you should subscribe for the handsomely illustrated, thoroughly original, up-to-date automobilists' monthly.

$1 a year. 10c. a copy. Sample two 2c.-sta'ps. Live Agents wanted.

The Automobile, 150 Nassau St., N.Y.

au10-F

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

Mention this paper.

se14-4wl

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

au31-4w

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.

Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.

Business Announcements in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL are invariably read.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

POETIC POESIES.

A Sadje, Sadje Fate.

This is the tale of Peter Gunn,
Who read and talked of "kopje;"
Also of Cronje and the Boers,
Until he could not stopje.

He tacked a "je" to every word,
Or nearly every oneje,
Until his friends and family
Wished war had ne'er begunje.

At evening he was not content
To sit at home and talkje,
But he would ask his wife if she "Would like to take a walkje."

He hired a man to scoop the snow
Which lay upon his lawnje,
And paralyzed his little boy
By saying: "Come here, Johnje."

He bristled o'er with news of war,
Said: "Buller flew the coopje,"
And backed it up by stating that
"Old White is in the soupje."

He asked a friend if she would sing
"In words of tuneful soundje,
The ballad 'When You Have No Coin
You Needn't Come Aroundje!' "

And thus be went from bad to worse,
Until, what do you thinkje?
He tried to drown Great Britain's woes,
Likewise his own, in drinkje!

And now they have him in a place,
Locked in a padded cellje,
Where every day that awful "je"
With all his words he'll yellje.

Take heed, take heed—this simple tale
Should warn you everyoneje—
Lest you should tempt the fate that met
Our poor friend, Peter Gunnje.
—W. D. Nesbit, in Baltimore American.

The Annual Fever.

We're hunting a house—do you know of one
With bath and a furnace and closets and gas;
Well, cistern and faucets and plenty of sun,
And a plat in front having lots of grass?
A garret where traps can be stored away,
And a nice back yard for Bobby and Sue,
And a barn for the horse and oats and bay,
And a summer kitchen and woodshed, too?

We're hunting a house—and it must be where
The children can easily walk to school;
Not too far out from the courthouse square,
But still the location must be cool.
The paper and paint must be fresh and clean;
The place in the best condition be.
Perchance you've a house that should be seen:
Please tell us where we can get the key.

We're hunting a house—as the one we're in
For fully a year has sheltered us—
Hence now it is time that we begin
To have our annual "moving" fuss.
The season is here and a vague unrest
Has driven the people by hundreds mad,
So we will change to a neighbor's nest—
And others will enter the one we've had.
—Edwin L. Sabin, in Munsey's Magazine.

A Cradle Song.

Hushaby! rockaby! mother's wee darling,
Bright stars are gleaming o'er meadow and lea;
Now close your bright eyes and sweet be your slumber.
Angels will guard both my baby and me

Sweetly the mocking bird sings in the willow;
List to the song that he warbles for thee.
Dream in the happy land 'way over yonder,
Far, far away, o'er the bright slumber sea.

Rockaby! hushaby! full moon is rising,
Peeping her head o'er the line of the sea.
So heave up the anchor, spread out the canvas
And sail away, dearie, like gulls that are free!

Mother will stow thee away in thy cradle,
Rocking it gently while singing to thee.
He, for your pilot, who loves all the children,
Who said: "Suffer them to come unto me."
T. J. NICHOLL.

Sorter Wonderin'.

Sorter wonderin' if you know
That I'm lovin' of you so!
That I want you all day long—
In the sighin', in the song
In the dark an' in the light—
In the blossom an' the blight—
Sorter wonderin' if you know
That I'm lovin' of you so!

Sorter wonderin', when the day
Goes the weepin' twilight's way,
An' the gold is turned to gray
Where the winds kneel down to pray;
When the shadows seem to be
Lengthenin' 'twixt your life an' me—
Sorter wonderin' if you know
That I'm lovin' of you so!

Sorter wonderin'! But I seem Nearer to you in a dream;
Then no thorny barriers frown;
Then you kiss my eyelids down;
An' the grief that made the day
Drifts in dreams o' you away.
In your dreams, dear, do you know,
That I'm lovin' of you so?
—F. L. Stanton, in Atlanta Constitution.

NOT ENOUGH CADETS.

A Growing Shortage of Men from West Point to Fill Vacancies—Provision for More Appointments.

An importance scarcely second to that of the increase of artillery is attached by the secretary of war to the clause in the pending army bill providing for the appointment by the president of 100 cadets at large to the military academy, at West Point. This year's class at the academy graduates only 54 to supply 130 vacancies in the regular establishment, and after the enlisted men are found to increase the available worthy material perhaps to 80 there will still remain at least 50 vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant. The next class at the academy is now only about 75 strong and will graduate about 60. The vacancies will probably exceed 150, and four years from now the vacancies will amount to 250, with no increase in the properly qualified graduates to fill them.

FASTS FOR FOUR MONTHS.

The Case of a Young Indiana Woman Proves a Puzzle to Physicians.

Miss Paul Curry, the Howard county (Ind.) girl who on the last memorial day remarked to a friend: "On Memorial day next year you can decorate my grave," has now fasted 120 days and is still alive. Her case has puzzled the most eminent specialists in the country. She is evidently determined to make her words come true. The lack of nourishment has produced inflammation of the digestive organs and she could not now assimilate food if it should be forced into the stomach. She refuses to talk of her condition to the doctors and has uttered a very few words only since she began to fast. During all this period she has taken nothing but a little vinegar with lemon juice and a pinch of salt.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN ORE.

Students from the University of Minnesota on a Tour in Colorado Will Study It.

Charles E. Barneceld, professor of mining in the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis, is at Idaho Springs, Col., for the purpose of making arrangements for the accommodation of the class in mineralogy, which is to spend about three weeks at that place. Some 20 of the students will arrive, under the charge of Prof. Appleby. The purpose of the visit is to place the students on a more familiar standing of the mining in the Rocky mountains. They have visited the copper and iron mines in northern Michigan, but find in Colorado a more extensive field for study. They have already visited Aspen.

He (with the contempt of a boy of 16)—Girls always giggle more than boys.

She (with the acuteness of 15)—That's because they have to look at boys.—Indianapolis News.

Politeness.

A man's idea of true politeness is to refrain from consulting his watch during a tedious sermon.—Chicago Daily News.

If Bryan Wins.

H. W. Peabody, a well-known banker of Boston, says "The currency is the leading issue of this campaign" in a recent article. He thus sums up the situation in case that Bryan should win:

"A lapse from the gold basis would occur immediately after Mr. Bryan's election was a known fact. All greenbacks and treasury notes and gold certificates would be presented for payment in gold, so long as the treasury had gold to pay with, when the treasurer would be obliged to stop and the banks would also stop payment of gold.

"This national bankruptcy would destroy confidence of all holders of American securities, which would be thrown upon our market for forced sale, and enormous demands for gold would quickly place it at a premium over our paper currency, as during the Civil war.

"The withdrawal from circulation of United States notes and gold in circulation and in bank reserves, would cause contraction, stringency and panic. We might not be squarely upon a silver basis until free coinage was established by law, and this chance would prevent the utter depreciation of our currency, according to the silver strength of congress. We should be upon a paper basis, with silver certificates, United States notes and bank notes redeemable only in silver, as we should have no other coin. Prices of the necessaries of life would advance according as the gold value of our currency depreciated, and along with the depreciation the deposits in banks and savings institutions, income salaries and wages would shrink as the money they are payable in deteriorated. The election of Mr. Bryan would reverse our prosperity into calamity."

The New York Journal's List.

From the Lewiston (Me.) Journal

On Monday, Aug. 27, the New York Journal, an ardent and industrious (not to say imaginative) advocate of the free silver school of Bryan, published a list of "distinguished Republicans in several states who declare their reasons for forsaking the Republican party, as now controlled." Among the names mentioned is a list from Maine, as follows:

Ex-Justice Clarence Willis, Silas Look, Daniel T Salt, Abraham Piper, Charles Bond, Lewis Fay.

The New York Journal goes widely into this state purely as a sensational newspaper. Its reputation as a political prophet is now and always has been bad, and this but makes it worse. A whole army of names, in black type like the above, adorns the same page as this unique list from Maine. Not one of them from this state ever existed. Every one of them was born in the imagination of the astute political novelist in Mr. Hearst's office, who had to have a list of recalcitrant Maine Republicans because Maine's vote is earliest of all the states

"There is another reason why the people have gone into the city and left the farm. It is because your legislation has been causing the foreclosure of mortgages upon the farms. * * * I cannot understand how a man living upon a farm can be deluded with the idea that the gold standard has anything but misery and suffering for him."—Bryan's speech at Monmouth, Ills.

The gold standard has remained in operation since this assertion, yet the condition of the farmers has been, in the four years since that time, vastly improved, as shown by the value of farm products already quoted; while the speed with which the mortgages complained of have been paid off is illustrated by the figures for Mr. Bryan's own state, which show an increase of 50 percent for the state of Nebraska alone, in the value of mortgages released in 1898 as compared with 1896.

Judge John J. Hunt, who was the leader of the Silver Democrats of Georgia in 1896, has written a letter in strong opposition to Bryan and h's "paramount issue" of imperialism. "For my part," he says, "I do not intend to agree, in the face of all evidence to the contrary, that the American people, or even any respectable political party in America, is capable of making vassals and slaves of the Filipinos, or that the American people or any respectable political party in my country is an alder and abettor in any scheme of conquest." He adds. "Any Democrat has a right to protest against this senseless issue being thrust on a great historic party as a paramount issue, merely because Mr. Bryan, at the expense of the greatest and most glaring personal inconsistency, wishes it done."

While the Democratic party is talking about "paramount" issues Mr. McKinley has met their cry with a better one in his letter of acceptance. He says in reference to the silver question:

"If another issue is paramount, this is immediate. It will admit no delay and will suffer no postponement."

The stability of our national currency is therefore secure, so long as those who adhere to this platform are kept in control of the government. In the first battle, that of 1896, the friends of the gold standard and of sound currency were triumphant, and the country is enjoying the fruits of that victory. Our antagonists, however, are not satisfied. They compel us to a second battle upon the same lines upon which the first was fought and won.—McKinley's letter of acceptance.

Everybody Knows About

Pain-Killer

A Household Medicine

A Safe and Sure Cure for

Cramps Coughs Bruises
Diarrhœa Colds Burns
Sprains and Strains.

Gives instant relief.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.

Only one Pain Killer, Perry Davis'.

THE PIANO FIRE SALE

is still in progress. Many genuine bargains are still on hand. More than 100 pianos in our warerooms at the time of the fire were uninjured. These will all be sold at a heavy discount. Every one fully warranted the same as if there had been no fire. It's like finding money to buy one of these instruments at our fire sale price. The insurance companies are helping you pay for every one of these pianos. Our list of bargains is a large one and a very attractive one. Ivers & Pond Uprights $275 and upward. Uprights of other makes $180 and upward Squares $50 and upward. All sold on our Rental Purchase Plan if desired. Two to three years to complete purchase. You are invited to call and inspect the greatest piano bargains ever offered in the City of Boston. If you cannot call send postal and full description will be sent you by mail.

IVERS & POND PIANO CO.,

114 and 116 Boylston St., Boston.

"The evidence that Mr. Bryan's unpatriotic associates have sacrificed the lives of our soldiers and the money of our people to an enormous extent is abundant. General Lawton, the most brilliant and successful soldier of the war, lost his life through the machinations of the Anti-Imperial league. Before his death he discovered conclusive evidence that the enemy he was fighting in the Philippines was the Anti-Imperial league of the United States, and that if his life was sacrificed the league would be responsible."—Senator Stewart of Nevada, in the announcement of his purpose to support McKinley this year.

The Democrats are trying to abstract some comfort from the Vermont election returns, but the fact that the 31,000 Republican majority was greater than any of the election prophets had dared to predict and the largest majority, but one, cast in that state for a dozen years puts a face on the Democratic claims that is unanswerable.

In the matter of rallies, "It is the early bird that catches the worm." The Republican state committee are now filling dates for the campaign rapidly, and it is important that early application be made for assignment of speeches.

No; President McKinley will not avail himself of the privilege of talking his opinions into a graphophone. He will leave that circus performance to Candidate Bryan, who ought to make a success of it, in view of his long practice in talking through his hat

By the way, what a funny metallic sound those graphophone speeches of Candidate Bryan will have after the idea of November are past.

Here is what Mr. McKinley says in his letter of acceptance in regard to the trusts:

"Combinations of capital controlling the market in commodities necessary to the general use of the people, by suppressing natural and ordinary competition, thus enhancing prices to the general consumer, are obnoxious to the common law and the public welfare. They are dangerous conspiracies against public good, and should be made subjects of prohibitory and penal legislation."

"We have passed from a bond issuing to a bond paying nation; from a nation of borrowers to a nation of lenders; from a deficiency in revenue to a surplus; from fear to confidence; from enforced idleness to profitable employment."—William McKinley.

Edmunds on Trusts.

Ex-Senator Edmunds is in favor of McKinley for re-election and states his reasons in his usual able and convincing manner.

"In regard to trusts," he says, "the country will be as well off under one party as another. Combinations of men cannot be broken. We may harass them and in a measure control them, but men will continue to combine for mutual interests, and you cannot stop them. The tendency is toward combinations. Men are engaged in bigger enterprises than ever before, and many of these can be effected only by combination. Everything is bigger. Even our locomotives are larger and more powerful," said Mr. Edmunds, as one of them went puffing past the hotel.

"This is not a party question. When business interests are involved all men are of one mind. They may belong to different political parties, have widely varying religious beliefs and disagree on many subjects, but when it comes to business, to the earning of a livelihood, they invariably agree. I think you will find as many Democrats in the trusts as you will find Republicans, and I know that some of the biggest capitalists contribute equally to both parties, and they naturally expect that no matter who is elected, their interests will be protected.

"I would venture to say that, taking all the persons in the large cities worth $100,000 or $500,000, you will find as many Democrats as Republicans.

"No, combination of men for business purposes is not a party question. They will all stay together, just as labor unions vote one way when the interests of their members are involved.

"On the other hand, take, for instance, that dispatch in the morning paper naming Altgeld for the supreme court. I suppose it is a fake, but at the same time it sets one thinking of what is likely to happen. Altgeld may be honest. Bryan may be honest; I believe, for that matter, that the majority of anarchists are honest, but it is the ideas they have and which they may try to carry out that makes them unsafe. They are too visionary."—Ex-Senator Edmunds.

Can You Tell Why

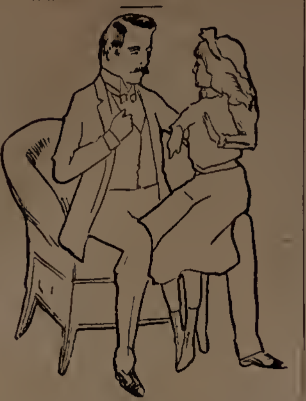
You have constant headaches, are nervous and sleepless at night and feel tired in the morning? Your blood isn't carrying the right materials to your nerves and other organs. Begin taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood enricher, and you will soon realize a change You will feel better and stronger, will relish your food and enjoy refreshing sleep

Nausea, indigestion are cured by Hood's Pills

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher The Kind You Have Always Bought

WHERE OPINIONS DIFFER.



"I want to tell you something, dear! Your former governess, Fraulein Grete, is going to be married soon!"

"Well, I'm thankful, pa, that that stupid thing is going to leave the house. But what numbskull is going to marry her?"

"I am, my dear!"—Der Floh.

Too True.

Some men we know have taking ways,
But, O! alas! alack!
There are but few we know of who Have ways of bringing back.
—Philadelphia Press.

Interrupted Enjoyment.

"Did you enjoy your vacation?" asked the congressman's friend.

"Not much," answered the member from Cowtrack Crossing. "It's kind o' hard to hear all the folks saying that vacations are good things for the country, 'cause when we're home the public can be sure we ain't doing any damage."—Washington Star.

Taking After Papa.

"Charlie, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "the baby is trying to talk again. It's wonderful how he takes after you!"

"What is he talking about?"

"I think it must have been politics. He started very calmly, but in a few minutes he was as angry and red in the face as he could he."—Tit-Bits.

That Awful Child.

Said Mrs. G——, who had come to spend the day, to little Edith: "Are you glad to see me again, Edith?" "Yes, m'm, and mamma's glad, too," replied the child. "Is she?" "Yes, m'm. She said she hoped you'd come to-day and have it over with."—Ohio State Journal.

A Standard of Measurement.

"There's no doubt about it," said the man with a large diamond in his necktie; "that man is a genuine patriot."

"How do you know?"

"Why, he can get up as much enthusiasm over an election as he does over a prize fight."—Washington Star.

The Flaw in His Plan.

Mr. Soaksum—I flatter myself that I can always tell when I've got enough.

The Moralist—Yes, but that's where you lose track of the game. You ought to try to learn to tell when you've got too much.—Chicago Times-Herald.

High Rollers.

Lizzie—Yes, the icemen, the coalmen and the hackmen were all there, but I danced only with the milkmen.

Mayne—Why, Liz?

Lizzie—Because they are the cream of society.—Chicago Daily News.

Weighty Subject.

"Did you notice how the speaker thumped the desk at regular intervals?"

"Yes. I presume he was weighing his words, you know, and every thump was a pound."—Philadelphia Bulletin

Holding Him Off.

Doctor casually)—Well, Mr. Brown, how are you to-day?

Mr. Brown (defensively)—Oh, I'm all right, doctor. There's nothing the matter with me that would be worth $2 to you.—Chicago Record.

An Every-Day Occurrence.

Smith—Chicago has a robber who drives about in a cab.

Brown—That's nothing! I've been robbed by a cab driver many a time. —Town Topics.

Spain's Greatest Need.

Mr. R. P. Olivia, of Barcelona, Spain, spends his winters at Aiken, S. C. Weak nerves had caused severe pains in the back of his head. On using Electric Bitters, America's greatest Blood and Nerve Remedy, all pain soon left him. He says this grand medicine is what his country needs. All America knows that it cures liver and kidney trouble, purifies the blood, tones up the stomach, strengthens the nerves, puts vim, vigor and new life into every muscle, nerve and organ of the body. If weak, tired or ailing you need it. Every bottle guaranteed, only 50 cts. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co. Druggists.

To the Deaf.

A rich lady, cured of her deafness in the head by Dr. Nicholson's Artificial Ear drums, gave $10,000 to his institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the ear drums may have them free. Address No. 5095C, The Nicholson Institute, 780 Eighth avenue, New York, U.S.A. jl27

DAVID CITY, NEB., April 1, 1900.
Genesse Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

Yours truly, LILLIE SOCHOR.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	10c
5 to 15 miles,	15c
15 to 25 "	20c
25 to 35 "	25c
35 to 45 "	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.

33-tf

G.A. Martin, M.D.,

. . AND . . .

C.B.Hussey, M. D.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J.Gallison, M.D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours From 2 to 3 p. m., and by appointment.

92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m, Thursday. Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.

18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark. Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton. Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. F. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer. Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December. Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,

....BOSTON.

Telephone 1830.

A FINE LINE OF

Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all here is to it.

Truss Advice.

We advise an Elastic Belt Truss because it wears longer than the spring truss, fits better and is far more comfortable. We have had a long personal experience with all styles of trusses. Throw your old spring truss away and get one of our Elastic Belt Trusses. We can fit you. Double and single at moderate prices.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK, FRANKLIN.

WRENTHAM.

Hiram A. Cowell leaves shortly for Kansas City, to be the guest of Jeremiah Murphy.——A great deal of dissatisfaction is being heard in regard to the fifty-foot limit either side of the switch which the electric road has established in the centre of the village.——The ladies of Trinity Guild gave a successful concert and dance in the town hall Wednesday evening.——Miss Bertha Willard has entered the employ of Daniel Brown as assistant bookkeeper.——Samuel Laughlin of Webster is in town visiting friends.——The Republican town caucus will be held in the Plainville town hall Monday evening, Sept. 24. Among the delegates to be chosen those for congressman seem to be exciting the most interest.——Mrs. Hattie Curtis Merriam is visiting her friend, Mrs. Susan M. Gerould.——A petition is being circulated to the county commissioners asking them to widen East street from the town farm to the Foxboro line.——Rev. J. C. Smith of Everett is preaching at the Advent Christian church in South Wrentham.

A Treat.

Jagway—Did you have a good time at that stag dinner the other night?

Toperly—The greatest time I ever had! Why, I can't remember a thing that happened.—Brooklyn Life.

Explained.

A scientist says the earth is shrinking at the rate of three inches a year. This may account for the anxiety of some people to get possession of it before it dwindles away.—Chicago Daily News.

French Matrimonial Agents.

A regular business, carried on in France by ladies of the highest standing, is to secure rich American brides for penniless men of title. These matrimonial agents receive heavy fees when they are successful.—Albany Argus.

The Non-Irritating Cathartic

Easy to take, easy to operate—

Hood's Pills

Coming to the Front.

Jingle—I knew that fellow Storms, the comedian, would come to the front.

Weller—And he has, has he?

"Yes. You remember he used to play the part of the hind legs of the elephant in the pantomime?"

"Yes."

"Well now he's playing the front legs."—Tit-Bits.

In No Danger.

"Some of those old blue laws are very funny," he said. "For instance, it has been discovered that kissing is still against the law in Connecticut."

"But we are not in Connecticut," she suggested.

His call that evening was somewhat longer than usual.—Chicago Post.

Deceptive Environment.

It is not always safe to judge a man
According to the company he keeps,
And pass him underneath the social ban,
Classed with the hot police or common sweeps
He may not have a chance to pick his crowd.
That happens very frequently, as when
A sward [illegible] consorts with the low-browed
And many-striped inmates of the pen.
—Chicago Record

Florida and the South.

The Southern railway, with its perfect service, is now handling a very large business for parties destined south and southwest. The system operates through sleeping car service from New York to Atlanta, Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Chattanooga, Birmingham, Meridian, Memphis, Nashville, Columbia, Augusta, Savannah, Jacksonville and Tampa, also Pullman tourist sleeping cars from Washington to San Francisco. Dining car service on all through trains. For information regarding the south and its resorts apply to George C. Daniels, N. E. P. A., 288 Washington street, Boston.

Not an Exception.

Little Niece Do you eat tobacco?

Uncle Wayback—No, I only chew it.

"What's the use of chewin' anything if you don't eat it?"

"I—I dunno."

"Seems to me grown peoples never know why they do half the things they do."—N. Y. Weekly.

Church Services.

Universalist church.—Rev. Dwight M. Hodge, D.D., pastor, will preach at 10.30 on "How to Get Rid of Sin." Y. P. C. U. at 6.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 4. Sunday school at 3. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 3. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D.; theme, "The Contest of Life." Sunday school at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30. Evening service at 7.30; address by the pastor; subject, "How Jesus Spent His Sabbaths."

Baptist church.—At 10.30 preaching by the pastor, Rev. Frank B. Sleeper; theme, "Preparation for the Second Coming of Christ." Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.15. Preaching at 7.30; theme, "Christ Serving His Saints." Short after service in the vestry.

Methodist church—Preaching at 10.30 and 7.30 by the pastor, Rev. S. A. Cook; morning subject, "The Brother at Fault;" evening subject, "Practical Christianity." Sunday school at 12. Junior Epworth league at 3. Epworth league at 6.30; subject, "Tares in Your Field;" leader, Miss Jessie Hosie.

Fell Short of Her Ideal.

When school girls grow confidential with one another they sometimes, I am told, describe the sort of a man who corresponds to what they call their "beau ideal." Did you ever happen to hear what Mrs. Stephen A. Douglas was credited with saying on this topic? "When I was at school," she remarked, "I used to vow that there were three kinds of men I never could be induced to marry. First, I never would marry a man who was younger than I. Second, I never would marry a man who was shorter than I. Third, I never would marry a politician. Well, I kept my vow, except that in marrying Mr. Douglas I married a man who was not quite as old as I, who was not as tall as I, and who was one of the most prominent politicians of his day."—N. Y. Mail and Express.

A Frightful Blunder.

Will often cause a horrible Burn, Scald Cut or Bruise. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, will kill the pain and promptly heal it. Cures Old Sores, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, all skin Eruptions. Best Pile cure on earth. On 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co. Druggists.

When you need medicine you should get the best that money can buy, and experience proves this to be Hood's Sarsaparilla

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher — The Kind You Have Always Bought

Wanted IMMEDIATELY.

Pullers on Ladies' Shoddy Felt Hats.

BASSETT BROS.,
Franklin, Mass.

se18-2

Woonsocket Opera House,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

JOSH E. OGDEN, - Lessee and Manager.

Saturday, MATINEE AND NIGHT. Sept. 22

A TIN SOLDIER.

Prices at Night—75, 50, 35 and 25c.
Matinee—20 and 30c.

MONDAY, SEPT. 24, and all week, JERE McAULIFF'S BIG STOCK CO. in a REPERTOIRE OF PLAYS. Prices at night, 10, 20 and 30. Matinees, 10 and 20c. Matinees every day, beginning Tue day.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

JUST RECEIVED, A NEW LINE OF

Blanks, Pads,
Tablets, Pencils,
School Bags, Etc.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Charles W. Thayer, late of Bellingham, in said county, deceased, intestate.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Fel ey W Thayer of Bellingham, without giving a surety on her bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the 17th day of October, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eighteenth day of September, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

se21-3-oc

Also Lost the Train.

The nervous commuter had one minute in which to catch his train. He was hastening exceedingly when the cries of a small boy smote upon his ear.

"Hey! Mister," shouted the urchin, "yer've lost somethin'."

The commuter stopped and hastily counted his bundles. "What have I lost?" he panted. "Why," said the boy, "yer've lost the shine I put on yer shoes yistid'y. I'll gi' yer another fur a nickel."—Philadelphia Press.

Mutual Regrets.

"Your refusal, Miss Quickstep," the young man said, "wounds me deeply, but you cannot deprive me of the recollection of the many happy hours I have passed in your company."

"I shall remember them with pleasure, too, Mr. Spoonamore, believe me," she replied. "No young man of my acquaintance has ever brought me as delicious chocolate creams as you have."—Chicago Tribune.

A Mean Man.

"Ah, well," she sighed—seeing a chance to reach after a compliment—"how can I help being a silly girl, when I was born on the first of April?"

"Still," he replied, "you haven't had a birthday so long that it seems as if you might have outlived the effects of your nativity."—Chicago Times-Herald.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

FOR HAY FEVER, CATARRH AND COLD IN THE HEAD, USE

MASON'S NEZALINE
MASON'S KOLD KILLER

Will break up your cold, while Mason's

WHITE PINE & TAR SYRUP

Will cure your cough.

If you have any kind of a cold, go to MASON'S for a cure.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

Autumn Dressmaking

Carries with it a hundred perplexities as to style, material and cost. The information women need at this time is crowded into the pages of the October Delineator. One hundred illustrations of clothing, millinery, etc.; several pages in colors. Fifteen cents. For sale in our Pattern Department. This department will repay a visit on the part of patrons who wish to make their own clothes.

Butterick Patterns
and Publications.

N. C. NYE.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Chilson's Market

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef, 10 to	12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-lyS

Coal! Coal!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

MED FIELD AND WAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tfS

Your Wife is a Jewel

and her home is the setting. It is your duty to make this setting as beautiful as possible. Elaborateness doesn't necessarily mean beauty. Some of the prettiest Furniture in our store is the least expensive. Look around at home and then look around here, and you'll find means to brighten up the house wonderfully.

A small payment at time order is given and a little every week will pay for all your Furniture needs.

CHAMBER OUTFIT.

Suit complete, including Mattress, Springs and Toilet Set, $26.50
$2.75 down, 75c. a week.

KITCHEN OUTFIT.

Complete with Range, Table, Chairs, Oil Cloth, small ware, $35.00
$3.50 down, $1.00 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

At

WOODWARD'S

every description of

INSURANCE

can be placed. This

AGENCY

officially represents the

LEADING

American and Foreign

COMPANIES.

F. A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.
my4-lyF

Hoag Lake PARK.

WEEK OF SEPT. 17

Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.15.

Boom's Manhattan Vaudevilles.

The Carrolls, introducing songs and dances and their trick mule, Pete.

Rube Hill, trick bicycle performer.

Steve Hoyt, comedy acrobat.

Lou Wells, musical comedian.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je26-1oct

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

SAVINGS BANK.

FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, LESTER L. BURRINGTON, WALTER M. FISHER, DR. GEORGE KING, Vice Presidents.
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a.m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, E. P. Chapman, B. M. Rockwood, George W. Wiggin, Charles Stewart.

STATEMENT JULY 31, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors		$571,160 11
Guarantee Fund		28,217 86
Profit and Loss Account		738 99
Interest Account		567 15
Real Estate Income Account		16 19
		$600,700 30

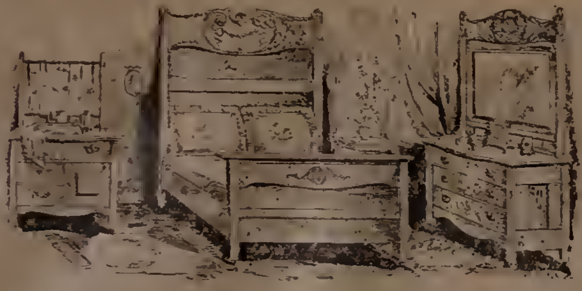
ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		27,779 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
C. F. Boynton account		3,023 72
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		28,975 00
" " Mortgages		157,560 00
" " Personal Securities		169,891 18
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		34 97
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$7,822 25
Nat. Bank of Redemption	4,095 58
Mercantile Trust Co.	84 16	12,001 99
Cash on hand		752 37
		$600,700 30

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

ADELBERT D. THAYER,
CHARLES STEWART,
Committee of Examination.

July 31, 1900.



SLEEPING-ROOM OUTFIT ON EASY TERMS:

This comprises an elegant selected Chamber Set in golden oak finish, 2 Chairs, Rocker and Table to match, Woven Wire Spring, 1 pair Pillows, a good Mattress and Decorated Dresden Toilet Set.

ALL FOR $38.00.

TERMS—$5.00 or $10.00 down, $1.00 each week.

Where will you go to get credit? Don't go at all. COME—your credit is good right here.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free Delivery at your home the hour you name.

Final Clearance Sale.

SHIRT WAISTS AT HALF PRICE.

Shirt Waists worth 50c., now 19c.
Shirt Waists, assorted Percales, were $1.00, now 49c.
Black Shirt Waists, were $1.00, now 75c.
Black Shirt Waists, were $1.98, now $1.39.
White Shirt Waists, were $1.75, now 87c.

Ladies will find our store a pleasant and convenient place to wait for the electrics.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.

BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

Hattie M Fisher 1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 77. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Hog Lake Park	4
Mortgagee's Sale	4
Executors' Notice	4
Quarterly Meeting Benj. Franklin Savings Bank	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10. p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 09 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Republican caucus tonight, 7.30.

The demand for felt hats continues good.

James O. Chilson is suffering with malaria.

Louis Fiorani is visiting relatives in Reading.

Walter King will shortly return here from Upton.

George M. Dauphinee is building a fine barn for E. S. Cook.

George H. Stowe has removed from Washington street to Boston.

Col. George W. Nason of Boston spent the Sabbath with friends here.

Joseph G. Ray has returned to his studies at Tufts for his junior year.

Miss Florence M. Howard of Worcester is visiting Mrs. H. S. Ward in Unionville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Colby have been enjoying a few days' visit with old friends here.

Monday evening's rehearsal of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin" was a great success.

The Ladies' Social circle of the Universalist church will meet tomorrow afternoon.

The Democratic caucus will be held in the town hall on Thursday evening at 7 30 o'clock.

Miss Alice Dunn of Hyde Park is the guest of Miss Elizabeth Lamont of Arlington street

Miss Viets has returned to again take charge of the millinery department in Sanborn's store.

Miss Amy M. Sanborn and Miss Anna Mae Whipple of Boston spent Sunday at Marston Sanborn's.

Henry R. Jenks has been confined to the house the past few days with a cold and malaria, but is better.

E. C. Judd went into Boston the first of the week with other station agents to arrange for winter suits.

Miss Hattie Smith of Danvers is spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Sanger of Pond street.

The brothers Fiske played with the Medways last Saturday, giving an excellent account of themselves.

The Fuller place of seven acres in Millis has been sold by W. A. Pond to Henry Davis, who buys for a home.

A collection in aid of the Galveston sufferers was taken up at both masses in St. Mary's chapel on Sunday.

Robert Wylie of South Franklin reports his cranberry crop in good condition and the yield about average.

Florist Slade is stocking his greenhouse with English violets, pinks, chrysanthemums, etc., for the winter.

The school census is larger this year than last. The gain is small, but will probably show about 3 per cent.

Dr. J. C. Gallison and family have returned to their house on Dean avenue from their camp in the Long hill woods.

Roy M. Hartshorne is to sing at a concert in Foxboro Thursday evening in connection with the Arion club of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Howard and two children of West Newton have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Stanley.

Word was received from Lowell yesterday to the effect that Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gilmore were rejoicing over the advent of a little daughter.

Mrs. D. A. Sawyer died at her home here on Sunday afternoon at 5.30, aged 80 years and 11 months. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m.

Dr. Jefferson of Millis and some of his house help were fined by Judge Doe in the district court on Saturday for assault on one Smith who had been living there.

The telephone company is putting up a cable containing sixty wires along Main street preparatory to making the proposed changes in the local headquarters.

Earl B. Guild has secured a position in the public market at Providence, where he will shortly move. He will commence his labor in his new field of work on Monday.

D. W. Fisher left for New York and up the Hudson river for the week as far as Albany and Troy. After such a dry time Mr. Fisher has his hands full to keep the dust down.

Our Boys, who up to last Saturday had a record of twelve straight victories to their credit, met defeat at the hands of the Charles-Rivers at North Bellingham, the score being 10 to 6.

Wouldn't it be wiser to clean our streets the last of the week rather than the first? Outsiders coming in on Sunday see a very unsightly looking place. Here is a thought for the road men.

Mrs. W. H. Sanger, Miss M. E. Wells, Mrs. S. A. Bullard of Dorchester, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Sanger of Framingham, and Miss M. L. Bates of Washington, D. C., visited Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Sanger last week.

An average of about 30 men, women and children are engaged in picking cranberries at the Miller bog. The berries are in good condition and fair size, some of them lighter than usual, but the bulk of good color.

The next regular meeting of the Women's Relief corps will occur next Monday evening. A full attendance is requested, as important business will be transacted. Also, there will be a short entertainment.

The balance of the coal supply for the schools is arriving slowly, somewhat behind schedule time, as the agreement called for delivery in August in order that it might be put in the bins before the schools opened.

A new milk dealers' association has been organized in Boston, but the producers in this locality will not expect to reap any great advantage from it, yet anything of the kind which comes along will be thankfully received.

The many friends of Rev. Webster Woodbury, pastor of the Congregational church in Milford, will be pained to learn that he has been obliged to resign his pastorate there on account of continued ill-health. He has been there twelve years.

George W. Wiggin, Esq., president of the Massachusetts Fish and Game Protective association, has just issued a pocket annual of the game laws of the state, which will be furnished free upon application to the secretary, 5 Park square, Boston.

The case of M. M. Daniels' estate against the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. company is expected to come up at Dedham at the October civil term. Mr. Daniels was struck by an engine at the crossing of the Providence branch and severely injured and died some weeks later.

There will be a business meeting of the Epworth league of the Methodist church at the residence of Frank Wilbert Willard, on Cottage street, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. It is the annual meeting and officers will be elected for the ensuing year. A full attendance of members is desired.

The Ladies' Benevolent society of the Congregational church will meet in the parlor Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. This is a special meeting for work, and as the society is working for a home missionary family it is hoped that all who are interested will attend the meeting and help on the good work.

Ernest Leonard of Wrentham was taken into custody by Special Officer Cody yesterday afternoon on suspicion of having stolen a quantity of lead which he had in his possession. He was arrested in Hosie's hardware store, where it is said he had endeavored to dispose of the lead. He was locked up to await a hearing.

One section of the Union street cemetery that has been laid out for regrading is nearly completed, and some of the headstones that were taken up in order to accomplish the work have been replaced. In all five sections have been laid out to be improved, but it is not likely that the appropriation will hold out to finish the full number.

Little Miss Grace Rockwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley M. Rockwood, entertained four little gentlemen and four little misses last Saturday afternoon at Lake Pearl in honor of her fourth birthday. The little people enjoyed boating, refreshments, etc, and especially the "horseless carriage." Parents were happy in the happiness of their children.

Secretaries of lodges, clubs and societies are reminded that where we do the printing the columns of this paper are open at all times for the publication of items of interest. Reports of annual meetings, installations, visitations and social gatherings are always welcome, as well as other news, the publication of which will tend to promote the growth of local organizations.

Red Men's ball was filled Friday evening with a merry crowd of young people, and the initial social dance of the season under the auspices of the Jolly club can be recorded as a pronounced success. Dancing was indulged in from 8 to 11.30, Prof. J. J. O'Sullivan furnishing music, and the affair was greatly enjoyed by all present. A number from out of town were in attendance.

Edward Filkins had three fingers badly crushed at Singleton's mill yesterday afternoon while assisting in setting up the new 150 horse power engine. A part of the engine was being moved on rollers and the accident occurred while he was replacing one of them. He was taken to the office of Dr. G. A. Martin, who found it necessary to amputate the middle finger at the second joint.

When your grocer raises your price on kerosene oil just wish you were in Russia, where the czar did not do a thing to the oil trust except to appoint an auditor of its accounts, with instructions to allow the trust a "fair profit" on its products and turn the balance into the public treasury. The time is ripening for different methods of dealing with the trusts than those we have adopted.

At the conclusion of the Democratic caucus at the town hall next Thursday evening steps will be taken to organize a Bryan and Stevenson campaign club. There is already an enrollment of over fifty names of voters who have signified their desire to become members, and at this meeting it is intended to either organize or set a date for the formation of the club and the election of officers, etc.

What a howl would go up if the newspapers were to criticise the individuals as freely as many people criticise the newspapers. Every issue of a live and reputable newspaper is a mantle of charity, and the matter left out—truth, not gossip for dames—would often more than equal the matter published. If the editor should get out sometime a cold fact edition and get up a tree and watch the result—Whew! What a panic there would be!—Exchange.

An interesting medical case has just been decided as follows: Where a physician is called by a person to treat him or his wife and he takes charge of the case and attends from day to day, evidently in view of his responsibility for skillful and proper treatment, he must, in the first instance, determine how often he ought to visit the patient, and so long as the person employing him accepts his services and does not discharge him or require him to come less frequently, or fix times when he wishes him to attend, he cannot afterwards be heard to say that the physician came oftener than was necessary and refuse to pay upon that ground.

Athletics at Dean.

The Dean football eleven opened the season at the academy Friday afternoon with the Medway High school eleven, the latter proving weak opponents and being forced from the beginning to give way to the Dean boys. The score was: Dean 51, Medway 0.

Tomorrow afternoon the eleven is to meet the Woonsocket High here.

Captain Thompson has an injured shoulder and will not play in Wednesday's game, but will probably play next Saturday, September 29, in the game game against Attleboro High school at Franklin.

The following is tomorrow's line-up: Patch, r. e.; Stone, r. t.; Burdigen, Bacon and Bassett, r. g.; Echols, c.; Woodward, Williams and Roberts, l. g ; Mitchell, l. t.; Smith and Manning, l. e.; Phipps, q. b ; Forbes, r. h. b.; Pulsifer, Tappan and Peabody, l. h. b.; Kockesparger, f. b.

An Encouraging Outlook.

There was a good-sized and enthusiastic gathering of those interested in the new Y. M. C. A. here in the hall over Hosford's store last evening. Dwight L. Rogers, secretary of the Interstate association, was present and outlined the work, showing its wonderful growth and what it would do in a community. He gave a good deal of helpful and practical advice, answering questions freely. Committees were appointed to solicit funds and secure names as members. The meeting adjourned till next Monday evening at the same place.

Philanthropy and Religion.

Dr. D. M. Hodge delivered the annual Russell lecture at Tufts college on Sunday evening. He said in part:

"The new religious life makes religion itself, as it clothes itself in life and action, a very different thing from what it has been in the past. Religion in the past has been only an element of life. It was a device for saving the soul beyond its known period of existence. Religion was utterly separated from personal endeavor and social conduct.

"We have come to see at last that religion is not simply one element of life, having the purpose of saving the soul beyond the known life of men, but that it has to do with the making of the soul,

"Religion now enters into life. Many of the characteristic features of our time bear testimony to this truth. We see it in the greater purity of personal life of our day. So far as religion goes today it makes men clean. A man who falls into bondage to the senses feels that in doing so he falls out of religious life altogether and out of the church.

"Travelers in China say that while there are individuals there living pure and honorable lives, yet an impure life excites no aversion and is not a bar to the best society. But in a Christian community such a life meets with the severest reprobation and is effectually excluded from society

"One of the most striking features of our time is the almost colossal magnitude of our philanthropies. The great buildings of the fifteenth century were cathedrals. Today in any Christian city the hospitals are equally magnificent.

"In the city of Boston today are over one thousand benevolent institutions and societies. More money is given today for support of benevolent institutions than is given for public worship A Johnstown and a Galveston are destroyed, a people are made homeless, and the purse-strings are loosened in all our towns and cities. There is a famine in India, and it is not too far away to be the concern of every Christian community.

"People say this is philanthropy; it is not religion. But it answers the command that Jesus gave, 'Give to him that asketh thee.' It fulfills the requirement implied in the question of St. John, 'Whoso hath this world's goods and seeth that his brother hath need and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?'

"Another characteristic of the time is the attention, thought and labor given to the elevation and ennobling of human life. In all our towns and cities is coming to be another class of buildings worthy of attention. I mean the public libraries, the college settlement, the people's palaces and the gymnasiums, which are all so many endeavors to elevate and ennoble human life.

"What is the impulse of all this? How did it come about? It is among the effects of the impulse given to the world in the life of Him who went about doing good. It is the very religion of Jesus Christ."

What We Missed.

About 26 years ago the car shops now at Norwood were burned to the ground in Readville, and the railroad company, before rebuilding, wanted the town to exempt them from taxes for a certain term of years. The matter dragged along, the railroad company received no encouragement and Franklin was discussed as a possible location. Meantime Norwood hustled around, agreed to exempt the company from taxes for the time asked and as a further inducement the citizens at their own expense erected the substantial brick shops which are still standing today and which give employment to about 350 hands.

Now Readville is to have a taste of good luck. In a big nearly flat stretch of territory the N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad company have found their ideal spot for the immense new car shops to care for the vast amount of rolling stock needed by the road and its myriad connections. The plans are all made and call for six immense buildings, covering many acres of ground. All things point to the fact that the railroad intends to make Readville its most important centre for its rolling stock at this end of its line, and the car shops now at South Boston, Roxbury and Norwood will clasp hands at Readville.

"Pied Piper of Hamelin."

The "Pied Piper of Hamelin" has been adapted to music by E. Channing Morse in the form of an operetta, and will be presented by local talent in Morse opera house in the near future under the auspices of the Y. P. C. U.

The musical adaptation is original with Mr. Morse and independent of any other adaptation which is being produced elsewhere. About one hundred persons will be in the cast, twenty of whom will appear as rats. Mr. Morse has been staging this for two years and has played to crowded houses everywhere.

Freshly Baked Goods.

Everything fresh from the Elkerton bakery may be procured at any time at Crowninshield's bargain store. Hot rolls after 5 o'clock every night.

The Caucus Tonight.

Tonight's caucus seems to have but one especial feature—that of the election of delegates to the congressional convention, which shall select Mr. Powers or Mr. Williams. Friends of both candidates have promised to be out in force, and while the delegates may not be "pledged," yet it is expected that their position will be pretty clearly defined in regard to their preference. Most of the other convention elections will be perfunctory affairs, few caring for the honor. A Republican town committee is also to be chosen, and there is no doubt but that there will be quite a number of names before the caucus, a thing which will appeal to the voters as being especially fair.

A Pretty Contest.

The links of the Franklin Country club presented an animated appearance all day last Saturday, as the ladies and gentlemen were contesting for the A. Blakeley Smith trophies, two handsome prizes. The ladies played in the forenoon, the gentlemen in the afternoon. The scores of the ladies were as follows: Miss King 55, Mrs. E. H. Rathbun 68, Miss Mabel Ray 75, Mrs J. P. Bassett 79, Miss Eisenhardt 86, Miss Stott 86, Mrs. C. F. Nye 101, Mrs. P. A. Woodward 104. The gentlemen's scores were: Sherman 90, Nye 91, Bassett 92, Emerson 92, Rathbun 94, C. Ray 94, Chapman 104, G. Gilmore 108, Palmer 109, Woodward 111, Thayer 111, F. Gilmore 111, Ramsey 120, W. Ray 123, Stanton 127.

The ladies will play the second of the series on Thursday afternoon and the finals on Saturday morning. The gentlemen will play their finals on Saturday afternoon. A good deal of interest is being manifested.

A New Departure.

Dean academy has taken a new departure this year in providing its students with an opportunity to take violin lessons at the academy, and Prof. Peirce has secured Miss Edith Linwood Winn, instructor at Lasalle, Auburndale, and a graduate of Berlin. There are also a number of pupils from out of town who are availing themselves of this opportunity to thus secure the best instruction at home.

Incidentally we note that there is a gratifying increase in the student list this year, over 100 pupils being enrolled and more than 80 in the building. In fact, the boys' department is entirely full, and the school was unable to accommodate a number who applied for admission. Prof. Peirce and his assistants are naturally pleased at the outlook and are making every effort to make this a "star" year in educational advancement.

Of Course You're Going.

Mechanics' hall, Boston, has never been as completely filled as it will be at the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Twentieth Century Exposition, which opens its doors to the public Monday, October 1, and continues for four weeks. Every corner and niche in the great building, including the basements, will contain something of interest to the people. Special and novel features, striking and original, will create a furore of public interest. The music alone will compel an attendance phenomenal even in Boston's annals. Since the great peace jubilee nothing like it has ever been presented in a like space of time. The Seventy first Regiment band of New York, under the leadership of Fanciulli of New York, the eminent composer, will give twelve concerts, afternoons and nights, October 1 to 6, inclusive. Sousa and his band will play here his first engagement on his return from a triumphal European trip, giving twelve concerts, afternoons and nights, October 8 to 13, inclusive. The Pittsburg orchestra, Victor Herbert conductor, will give twelve concerts, afternoons and nights, October 15 to 20, inclusive. Victor Herbert is one of the most eminent composers in the United States. Elegant souvenirs, excelling in artistic excellence any before given away at expositions, will be presented to each of the first two thousand ladies purchasing an admission ticket before noon on every day of the show.

Auction.

A lot of real estate and personal property will be sold on Saturday at the Gilmore place, on the Mount at 1 o'clock. House goods, stable goods, cattle, etc., buildings and land.

Pianos Tuned.

I shall be in Franklin during the second week in October to care for my pianos and to attend to new ones. Orders may be left at the SENTINEL office.

J. W. WALKER.

Studio Opened.

Having returned from my vacation have again opened for business.

R. J. CALKIN, Photographer

A new lot of potted plants, ferns, rubber plants, palms, etc.; cut flowers, roses in large or small quantities; funeral designs well made up. Slade's greenhouse.

These are fish days. Shad, swordfish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fish-man.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse

Read the Business Announcements.

The Last Gun.

Tonight's caucuses here and elsewhere will decide the fate of S. L. Powers or F. H. Williams as candidates for a seat in the coming congress at Washington. Earnest work has been done by the friends of both parties, though it is conceded that Mr. Powers' adherents, taken together, are a stronger body of men than those Mr. Williams' candidacy has called to his side.

If fitness counts Mr. Powers is entitled to it; if ability to talk counts, the palm must be yielded to Mr. Powers; if acquaintance with men and affairs of importance counts, Mr. Powers stands above Mr. Williams; if comparisons are to be made with other congressmen Mr. Powers will measure well with the rest of them; if a clean campaign counts Mr. Powers can lay claim to having used neither words nor methods of which he need be ashamed; if location counts, then Mr. Powers has everything on his side.

Indeed, the one great and heinous offense urged against Mr. Powers is that he represents the Bell telephone here in Massachusetts, the assumption being that in congress he would be in a position to work harm to the public weal by representing the company there. This is idle talk; it is a ridiculous charge, born of a desire to hang a suspicion upon an intangibility. Since when has it been a crime to be known as interested in the telephone business of this country? Why not include the telegraph, as well? Imagine, if possible, an exigency which could be affected by Mr. Powers' vote in the house of congress. This, then, is the bugbear which is held up before the affrighted eyes of voters, who are supposed to see another Standard Oil monopoly staring them in the face. No; Mr. Powers will in all probability win, and those who may have favored Mr. Williams will be forced to admit that the district is ably and handsomely represented.

Two Fine Entertainments.

On Friday evening, at the opera house, J. E. Toole, the German-Irish comedian, appears in "Killarney and the Rhine," a title which suggests music and song and shillelahs and wooden shoes. The plot is good, the characters are given employment, and there is yet ample opportunity for the songs and dances incident to an Irish and German entertainment. Mr. Toole sings like J. K. Emmet. In his part is to be found the same honest heart beating under the same ragged coat, and the play contains as much wrenching of the emotions as convenient. He is really a clever comedian in his line, and when he is on the stage there is no lack of amusement. He is finely supported and the piece is splendidly staged.

On Saturday evening the play will be "Rip Van Winkle." Mr. Toole is a worthy successor of the original "Rip," Mr. Jefferson Especially is he strong in the last acts, after his awakening from his long sleep. In the earlier part of the play—as the careless, drunken vagabond "Rip"—he brings his well-known dialect into play and captivates the audience. This play holds a high place in popular esteem for its interest on all grounds, and the star on the present occasion is well supported by an excellent company, making the performance a genuine pleasure from first to last.

Tickets at Dana's Tuesday evening. Prices—Reserved seats, orchestra or balcony, 35 cents; admission 25 cents.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Trash wood, ready cut for stove use, at Allen's wood yard.

Wanted—A girl to do general housework. Inquire of Dr. Geo. King. 21-tf

To Rent.—A desirable tenement of six rooms; $12 per month. Inquire of O. T. Doe. 14 tf

Wanted.—A good tenement at $8 or $9 per week. Address B, care SENTINEL office. 25tf

Wanted.—A girl to do general housework. Apply to G. H. Grant, School street. 18-tf

Girl Wanted—A girl to do general housework. Apply to Mrs. Alfred Farrington. 21 tf

Upstairs tenement of five rooms to let, pleasantly situated. Apply to Mrs. Doyle, West street. 15*

A competent girl can obtain a good situation doing housework by addressing "E," SENTINEL office. 18

Wanted.—Competent woman for general housework. Address, stating references, Box 118, Franklin, Mass. 21,25,28

Wanted—A woman to do family washing at her own home. Washing will be delivered and called for. Apply to Mrs. Joseph P. Bassett. 21, 25

Sweet cider right from the press at Maple Farm, also pure cider vinegar, nine years old. Orders at Chilson's market. Jugs called for and delivered. O. S. Stetson. 25-tf

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J.B. MCKINNON, Agent.

Save money by getting your railroad tickets of Charles H. Prince at the SENTINEL office. Mileage books to let on ALL railroads. Trip tickets and short ends always on hand. It saves 33 cents on the round trip to Boston. Tickets to all points in New England.

Two chairs at Ochee's barber shop. Accomplished hair dresser in attendance. Short waits

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor,

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 90	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word; no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1900

Hygiene in Barber Shops.

New York has been backward in "barbershop hygiene," which the Medical Record has advocated for a number of years. Paris has continued in the praiseworthy reforms started several years ago, and now only metal combs are allowed, and, so far as it is possible, all instruments have to be made of metal, or some substance which can be readily sterilized along with the towels, while the operator himself is expected to keep his hands reasonably clean. Pennsylvania is to be congratulated upon starting a movement in the proper direction, to secure an improvement in the conditions surrounding the barber and his work. The state board of health has circulated a series of recommendations which, if followed, would vastly decrease the chances of spread of contagious disease in this way. Doing away with sponges and powder puffs, not using on one customer after another the same piece of alum to stop bleeding and taking care in the use of cosmetics not to let them serve as media of transmitting disease from one person to another, are all wise suggestions. Missouri has made a stand for scientific and sterile barbering. A board of examiners will see to it that the barber is qualified, among other things, to give a clean shave. Canada is following in the footsteps of France, Austria and Germany. The province of Quebec requires the barber first of all to be himself a healthy subject, free from transmissible affections. Then he must pass an examination in disinfection, and promise to apply his knowledge for the benefit of his patrons. In connection with this important subject it is interesting to learn that Huebener, of Breslau, found pyogenic microbes in the beards of physicians 11 times in 26 examinations. Fugge found that in a bearded subject there was a marked increase in the number of colonies when the beard was left uncovered near agar culture plates. It is not however necessary for us to go into the minutiae of scientific refinement in order to convince the thinking of the necessity for some regulation of the barber's business.

American Corn for All.

The saying that corn is king is shown by the November statement of exports from this country to be something more than a mere rhetorical figure. The figure of this report attest the fact that this wholesome and nutritious product of American soil holds a truly royal place among the food products of the world. It shows that a larger quantity of corn was exported in the 11 months ending with November [illegible], 1899, and at a higher rate per bushel, than in the corresponding months of any preceding year since 1895. The total export for the period named was 185,[illegible] bushels, valued at $74,742,127. In the first 11 months of the year 1894 the total export of corn was only 37,91[illegible], or only about one-fifth as much as during the 11 months of this year. These figures of export relate to shelled corn. To this must be added the export of cornmeal, which amounted during the first 11 months of 1899 to 79[illegible] barrels. Most of the corn exported goes to Europe, where it appears to be growing rapidly in popular favor. The British Islands received nearly one-third of all sent across the seas, and Germany came next. Thus is coming to pass the prophecy of Joel Barlow, the friend and contemporary of Washington, whose famous poem on Indian corn, published nearly a century ago, has never been excelled in gustatory literature. He predicted that the time would come when hasty-pudding and "johnny-cake" would be the favorite and universal food of mankind. It is certain that a more palatable and healthful article of diet could hardly be supplied.

RECORD OF THE PAST

No Stronger Evidence Can Be Had.

Look well to their record. What they have done many times in years gone by, is the best guarantee of future results. Anyone with a bad back; any reader suffering from urinary troubles, from any kidney ills, will find in the following evidence proof that relief and cure is near at hand:

Mr. Patrick O. Dwyer, mason, of 62 White street, New Haven, Conn, says: "In 1896 when Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of backache which always bothered me when I caught cold, which hurt me when I stooped, or straightened after stooping, which refused to disappear under treatment of different medicines, I was only too pleased to let the people of New Haven know the fact through our newspapers. Three years from that date, or in the month of May, 1899, I just as ardently recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as I did when they effected the cure mentioned above. My advice to anyone suffering from kidney complaint is, call at a drug store, procure Doan's Kidney Pills, take them as directed, and you will be surprised at the results."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

CANNOT LOCATE GRAVE.

Trouble in Placing the Monument for President Lincoln's Mother.

Recent investigation as to the site of the grave of President Lincoln's mother in Spencer county, Ind., has raised a serious doubt as to whether the exact spot can be located when the time comes for the Indiana commission to erect a monument and improve the grounds, and there is much question as to whether the stone that now marks the grave is really over the grave of Mrs. Lincoln.

Some time after the burial of Mrs. Lincoln the bodies of Dr. Cessna and Mrs. Gentry, pioneers of the county, were buried near the grave of Mrs. Lincoln, but for many years no stone marked any of the graves. When the headstone was placed at one of the graves, supposed to be that of the president's mother, there were conflicting opinions regarding which grave contained the body that it was desired to mark, and the stone was placed in position without a certainty as to the fact.

Since then there has been much discussion of the matter, but no satisfactory conclusion has been reached. Descendants of Dr. Cessna and Mrs. Gentry now live in Spencer and Dubois counties, but none of them are able to say where the bodies were buried, except that the three graves were very close together.

APOLOGIZES TO NETHERSOLE.

Washington Pastor Disclaims Any Intention of Libel on Well-Known Actress.

Rev. Dr. Chalmers Easton, pastor of the Eastern Presbyterian church, Washington, made a statement to his congregation at the close of his sermon the other night with reference to the suit for slander instituted against him a few days ago by Miss Olga Nethersole, the actress. He said in part:

"When I quoted the words 'lewd actress,' in speaking of Miss Olga Nethersole in the role of Sapho, I had reference not to her personal character, of which I have no knowledge, but to the character of the role she is playing. I had not the slightest intention of denouncing Miss Nethersole's personal character, but that of the persons she impersonated, involving, as it does, a widespread and pernicious influence upon society. This explanation is given so as to be as public as the original discourse."

WORK ON WARSHIPS.

Satisfactory Progress Made in Construction of New Vessels for the Navy.

Favorable progress in the construction of naval vessels is shown in a statement just prepared by Admiral Hichborn, chief of the bureau of construction and repair. The battleships Kearsarge and Kentucky at Newport News, the protected cruiser Albany at Armstrong's, England and the torpedo boat Goldsborough, building by Wolff & Zwicker are practically completed, less than one per cent. remaining to be done. Other vessels nearing completion are the battleship Alabama, at Philadelphia, 95 per cent.; battleship Wisconsin, at San Francisco, [illegible] per cent., the torpedo boat destroyers Lawrence and Macdonough, at Fore River, Mass., [illegible] per cent.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Great Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

When you need medicine you should get the best that money can buy, and experience proves this to be Hood's Sarsaparilla.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

A Mummified Fox.

A wonderful old oak fell the other day in the royal forest of Alt-Lietzegoercke. It had flourished for more than 400 years, and there was not in the entire forest another tree quite as stately or robust. The head forester, hearing of its fall, ordered that it be cut into convenient sections and removed. While this was being done the workmen noticed that the base of the trunk was hollow, and a closer inspection showed that there was some kind of an animal within this broad cavity. It proved to be a fox, which had been severely wounded, and had sought shelter in this retreat. As the body has been completely mummified, it is supposed that at least 200 years have passed since the poor animal went into the tree to die. The body, when found, was curled up, and so admirably was it preserved that one would have said Reynard was sleeping.—N. Y. Herald.

A Strip of Virginia.

When the District of Columbia was first established it was ten miles square, and took in the city of Alexandria. After some years Virginia desired to have the part in that state receded, and the part of the square in that state was turned back to the jurisdiction of Virginia. Recently there has been shown a disposition to let part of the old territory in Virginia come back, possibly because the government is likely to expend more money in improvements if it holds the territory than Virginia is ever likely to do. Gen. J. M. Wilson has approved in his official capacity a proposition to retrocede Virginia territory up to two miles of the original Virginia line of the district. This will, if agreed to, put under the jurisdiction of the United States a strip of Virginia which it is desired by several persons to subject to a plan of extensive improvement.—N. Y. Times.

The Universal Meridian.

The meridian of Greenwich is generally accepted as the starting line from which to reckon longitude and time all over the earth. But objections are from time to time raised against the universal adoption of the Greenwich meridian for such purposes. Recently Italian savants have emphasized these objections by pointing out that on the meridian of Greenwich clouds and bad weather are frequent, interfering with astronomical observations. They suggest that the civilized world should agree to adopt the meridian of Jerusalem as a common reference line, because there the skies are clearer and the possibility of making Palestine neutral territory would eliminate political objections.—Youth's Companion.

Had to Be Taught.

Returning from school with a pumpkin seed in her hand, a little girl informed her mother that her teacher had taught her that the seed was white but the pumpkin was yellow. The mother asked: "What is the color of the vine?"

The five-year-old said that her teacher had not taught her that.

"But," said her mother, "you know you have seen the vines in the garden."

"Of course I have, but we are not expected to know anything until we have been taught."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Not Prepared.

An eccentric Maine preacher was recently driving along a country road, and, overtaking a young man tramping his weary way on foot, invited him to a seat in his sleigh. After he was comfortably seated the preacher rolled the whites of his eyes up under the visor of his cap and said, in sepulchral tones: "Young man, are you prepared to die?" With an ear-piercing scream and a back somersault over the back of the sleigh, the young man made for the dense woods, and has never been seen in those parts since.—Boston Globe.

End of a Romance.

She—I haven't seen you for five years, Mr. Barker. How's that little romance of yours with Miss Henderson?

Barker—Miss Henderson is no more.

"What! Dead?"

"No; married."

"Ha! ha! You are still friends, though?"

"No. She married me."—Harlem Life.

His Feeling.

Inquiring Tourist—Tell me, what were your sensations when you were crouching in your cyclone cellar with the terrible tornado raging just above you?

Kansas Farmer—Wa-al, I reckon it's safe to say that I felt sorter under the weather.—Puck.

Stature of Children.

The growth in children degenerates as we go lower in the social scale, as shown by statistics of 50,000 individuals. There is found to be a difference of five inches in average stature between the best and worst nurtured classes.—Indianapolis News.

Simplicity Itself.

Isaacstein—What for did you lick Mr. Callahan yet?

Tim Phelan—If yez wasn't a Jew yez wouldn't ashk sich a foolish question. Why, to kape Callahan from lickin' me av coorse.—Judge.

Too Many Mean Men.

If there weren't so many mean men in this world fewer good men would be under suspicion.—Chicago Daily News.

A Pertinent Query.

How can there be time for everything when so much of it is wasted?—Philadelphia Times.

It Should Be the Other Way.

We are always satisfied with so much less in ourselves than in anyone else [illegible]

"Brevity is the Soul of Wit."

Wit is wisdom. Blood is life. Impure blood is living death. Health depends on good blood. Disease is due to bad blood. The blood can be purified. Legions say Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Greatest Blood Medicine, purifies it. A brief story but it tells the tale.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

NOW AND THEN.

How the New York Journal Viewed the Expansion Policy Only Two Short Years Ago.

"Lest we forget" some of the bright and true things which young Mr. Hearst's Bryan organ, the New York Journal, said, it will be well to refer to his files.

The chief organ of Bryan and Bryanism in New York in the present campaign is this same New York Journal. Adopting the policy announced by the Democratic candidate himself at Indianapolis, The Journal is now loud and constant in its denunciation of "imperialism" and is doing its utmost to assist in electing the man who has declared that his first act as president would be to call congress together for the purpose of withdrawing our forces and hauling down our flag in the Philippines.

Mr. Bryan's inconsistencies in regard to the Philippine question have been frequently pointed out, and it is in order now to point out the corresponding inconsistencies of his organ, the New York Journal. This can be done very readily and without the slightest difficulty by quoting from the editorial pages of The Journal during 1898 and 1899. The following editorial opinions of The Journal are extracted verbatim from the files of that paper, and serve to show what its present opinions are worth. No comments are appended. No comments are necessary. The public will make its own comments:

New York Journal, Sept. 14, 1898.

Don't give up a foot of the Philippines!

New York Journal, Dec. 16, 1898.

We have demanded from the first the annexation of Hawaii; we demanded the war; we demanded the acquisition of territory in the West Indies and the retention of the Philippines. We now demand the government of our new territories as integral parts of this country.

New York Journal, Aug. 17, 1898.

The capture of Manila has made us masters of the Philippines, and the American diplomat who would give them up would find it advisable to stay abroad for the rest of his life.

New York Journal, Aug. 10, 1898.

American blood has been spilled at Manila. Every drop was a sacrifice to the cause of liberty. No retreat from the Philippines!

New York Journal, July 1, 1898.

Men who use their brains to think with are not to be bullied by phrases. "Imperialism" for instance. That word comes down like a portcullis before a good many minds, and the blows of fact and argument beat against it in vain. The Philippines are in point. A splendid naval victory has made us masters there. Should we keep them or give them up? An "imperialism" which means the spread of American power, free institutions and human happiness is not an "imperialism" to be feared by anybody who has faith in the vitality of this republic and confidence in the democratic principles on which it is founded.

This list of quotations from The Journal before the gammon of the "paramount issue" had struck it, might be continued to double the space given here, but the above ought to suffice to show the sober sense of The Journal when in its right mind.

Campaign Notes.

The first week of October will be a very busy one in the Republican camp. The caucuses will be held Sept. 24 or Sept. 25, and four days later the conventions will begin. The 12 congressional conventions must be held in advance of the state convention of Oct. 4, and probably several of the county, senatorial and councillor conventions will be held the same week. None of the representative conventions can be held before Oct. 10.

Registration will close at 10 p. m., Oct. 16, but don't delay until the last minute. Why not register today, and then see that your neighbor is registered.

The Republican administration keeps its pledges to the soldiers. The expenditures for national homes and disabled volunteer soldiers since 1867 has been $47,[illegible]85,382. The appropriations for maintenance of soldiers' homes for the present fiscal year are $2,510,450. To this is to be added clothing, salaries, incidentals and aid to state homes. The amount paid for army and navy pensions for the year was $139,949,717 35.

Can You Tell Why

You have constant headaches, are nervous and sleepless at night and feel tired in the morning? Your blood isn't carrying the right materials to your nerves and other organs. Begin taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood enricher, and you will soon realize a change. You will feel better and stronger, will relish your food and enjoy refreshing sleep.

Nausea, indigestion are cured by Hood's Pills.

It's folly to suffer from that horrible plague of the night, itching piles. Doan's ointment cures, quickly and permanently. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Your best friend can give you no better advice than this: "For impure blood, bad stomach and weak nerves take Hood's Sarsaparilla."

One of nature's remedies; cannot harm the weakest constitution; never fails to cure summer complaints of young or old. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Balsams from the Northern Wood are in Pyny-Pectoral, the certain cure for coughs.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

A Love Song.

Who cares for winter wild without,
Who cares for frost and snow,
When all the one he thinks about,
Is where the roses grow?
Her smiles are sweet as sunshine bright;
Her eyes like heaven's own blue;
She fills for me the world with light—
Because she's dear and true!

Who cares for winds that bitter blow,
For sleet or stinging rain,
When he at heart doth surely know—
His love gives love again?
Her whispers are like leaves attune
With wonder of the wind;
Her very presence sweet as June—
Enchanting heart and mind!

—William Brunton, in Good Housekeeping

When You Hear the Robin Call.

You may read it "May" on the calendar,
You may fix your heart on spring,
But until you hear the robin's song
You will find it's no such thing!
For he's sure just when the snow flies,
And he knows spring's secrets all.
You may be quite sure 'tis May-time
When you hear the robin call!

They'll tell you the winter's ended—
You will hear it everywhere
Just for a little sunshine
And a breath of April air,
But you may be sure of one thing:
As sure as that rain will fall,
It is really, truly springtime
When you hear the robin call!

—Agnes Lewis Mitchell, in St. Nicholas.

A Trust Paradox.

Long ere the modern trust had been
This ancient trust began;
And you may own a share therein,
Like many another man.

For though it is as strict a trust
As any trust can be,
It never could, would, should or must Become monopoly.

And many a man takes stock therein,
To scatter it abroad;
For aeons long its name has been
The Ancient Trust in God'

—Edmund Vance Cooke, in Lippincott's Magazine.

Chance for Athletes.

Farmer—Yes, I want a man. Are you a good jumper?

Applicant—Jumper? Well, yes.

"You could jump a barbed-wire fence without much trouble, I s'pose?"

"Um—I s'pose so."

"Well, that's all right, then; you'll do. You see, some of our bulls is a leetle wild."—N. Y. Weekly.

The railroads of East and West Java, says the Engineer, have recently been united, so that one can now travel from one end of the island to the other in two days.

The new motor fire engine of the Paris municipality is doing excellent work. It rendered valuable assistance at the Trianon theater fire, and at the St. Ouen spirit warehouse fire. The engine carries six men, and travels at the rate of 13 miles an hour.

An Austrian has patented an electric apparatus for preventing a collision between trains, having an automatic brake-operating device on each engine, with wires beside the track, having contacts arranged at intervals to close a portion of the circuit and stop a train following too closely.

Hand brakes, to assist in the stopping of trains were introduced as early as 1849. Twenty years later the air brake was patented, which enabled power from the locomotive to be transmitted through hose simultaneously to the brakes of all the cars in a train—a wonderful invention. In 1863 the coaches were connected by patent couplers, another measure of strength and safety.

Considerable attention, says the Railway and Engineering Review, is being devoted to the project of operating the cross town lines of street cars in New York with compressed air. The present method of using horses is not satisfactory, the trolley is inadmissible and the conduit system thought hardly advisable for these short lines. In consequence, the syndicate, with which Mr. Whitney is connected, is said to have practically decided upon compressed air as the motive power most adapted to the needs of the situation.

The Lessless Age.

"It's a 'lessless' age," remarked Simpers.

"What do you mean?" inquired Gales.

"Here's a couple who entered upon a loveless marriage, drove away in a horseless carriage and received all their congratulations by wireless telegraphy."—Baltimore American.

EVERY MOTHER SHOULD Have it in the House
To cure the common ailments that may occur in every family as long as life has woes.
JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT has been used and indorsed since 1810, to relieve or cure every form of Pain and Inflammation; Is Safe, Soothing, Sure. Otherwise it could not have existed for almost a Century.
JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT
Is strictly a family remedy for Internal as much as External use To cure Colds, Croup, Coughs, Catarrh Cramps and Colic it acts promptly—
ORIGINATED BY AN OLD FAMILY PHYSICIAN.

There is not a medicine in use which possesses the confidence of the public to a greater extent than Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. For almost a century it has stood upon its intrinsic merit, while generations after generations have used it. The best evidence of its virtue is the fact that in the state where it originated the sale is steadily increasing. You can safely trust what time has indorsed.

I. S. JOHNSON, Esq.—Fifty years ago this month, your father, Dr. Johnson, left me some Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. I have sold it ever since. I can most truly say that it has maintained its high standard and popularity from that time to the present.
JOHN B. RAND, North Waterford, Maine, January, 1891.

Send for our Book on INFLAMMATION, mailed free. Sold by all Druggists. Put up in Two Sizes, Price 25 and 50 cts. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and Gasolene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied users are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABILITY, ECONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABILITY tell the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever? CONSULT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.

New England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.

FROM THE ORIENT

CARPETS

Goods right prices right—workmanship right—everything right.

We do by far the largest business in Boston in

Carpets and Upholstery.

What do you suppose the reason is?

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS CO.,
658 Washington Street, 658
Opp. Boylston St.,
BOSTON.

EDISON'S PHONOGRAPH

Better than a Piano, Organ, or Music Box, for it sings and talks as well as plays, and don't cost as much. It reproduces the music of any instrument—band or orchestra—tells stories and sings—the old familiar hymns as well as the popular songs—it is always ready. See that Mr. Edison's signature is on every machine. Catalogues of all dealers, or NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., 135 Fifth Ave., New York.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Novel Booty Taken by Thieves.

There are some remarkable thefts that the police are called upon to hunt down, but two of the strangest and cheapest robberies that ever came to the notice of the Seventeenth district officers were reported a few days ago. In one case a ragman had pushed his cart up an alley at Seventeenth and Reed streets and left his conveyance, which contained two bags of rags, to enter the rear of a house in search of more rags. When he came out of the house, three minutes later, his two bags of rags were gone. There stood the empty cart. No trace could be found of the thieves. Not a square away, about the same time, there was carried off a tubful of infant's clothes, which had been put out to soak previous to a washing. The thieves took the tub and all, even the water in which the clothes were soaking.—Philadelphia Record.

Men's Hairdressing.

The business of hairdressing was pushed to a ridiculous excess by the late duke of Kent, particularly while governor of Gibraltar. The first person who boarded every ship coming into harbor was his royal highness' hairdresser, and no officer was allowed to land until he had submitted his head to be operated on by this functionary. On the top it was to be cut in a horseshoe form; a string put round the ear and held in the mouth decided the termination (downward) of the whiskers, and such fooleries.—N. Y. Times.

A Conditional Reward.

Woman—My husband has disappeared and may be dead. I want to offer a reward for his body.

Chief of Police—Yes, madam. A description will be needed, and this, with the reward, will no doubt prove effective. He may be alive, you know, in which case we may soon be able to return him to you.

"I shan't pay a cent reward unless he is returned dead, just remember that."—N. Y. World.

Awful Experience.

Hungry Higgins—Wotever you do, don't never let no old jay coax you into gittin' a hard-cider jag.

Weary Watkins—Such a headache?

"Headache? You git plumb bughouse. Time I got roped in on the game, I sawed a half a cord of wood before I knowed what I was doin'."—Indianapolis Press.

Has His Advantages.

Pilson — I don't believe there is much difference between genius and insanity.

Dilson—Oh! yes, there is a heap. The lunatic is sure of his board and clothes.—Columbus (O.) State Journal.

Tit-Bits for Ostriches.

A gimlet was once devoured by an ostrich in captivity and another is said to have swallowed a lighted pipe without experiencing any apparent discomfort or injury. — Indianapolis News.

The Irish of It.

Jagg—Why do you regard the shamrock as something of an Irish bull?

Wagg—Because when Pat starts in to paint the town red he does it with green.—Judge.

Very Annoying.

Bramble—How do you like that deaf mute barber?

Thorne—Not at all. He talks on his fingers while he's shaving.—N. Y. Journal.

When Patience Is No Virtue.

Some people never accomplish anything because they have too much patience with themselves.—Chicago Daily News.

FUN AT A MOCK CONVENTION.

New England Debating Societies Hold a Political Gathering at Boston.

After four hours of the liveliest kind of work and almost continuous laughing and shouting, the mock convention which the debating societies of New England held at Boston Faneuil hall failed to nominate a candidate for the presidency. Six names were presented to a house of 652 delegates, Bryan receiving 187 votes, McKinley, 133; Roosevelt, 120; Olney, 116; Long, 80, and Thomas B. Reed, 21. Dewey's name was not presented.

A republican platform was adopted, the republican party in the convention having far and away the greater strength, but splitting its vote sadly. An organized attempt to stampede the convention for Long was headed by the Washington state and New Hampshire delegations, but was not carried through.

There were 31 debating societies from colleges, high schools, Y. M. C. A.'s and other organizations represented. Each club's delegates represented a state, but in many of the states the vote was all broken up among the various candidates. The nominating and seconding speeches were all well done, and were marvels of comprehension of national issues. A number of fake telegrams were read from the leading politicians of the country, all expressing sentiments exactly contrary to the man's real belief, and some were so personal as to be almost insulting to the people credited as the writers.

Was Sorry He Said It.

There are so many things in this wicked world we would rather not have said. Mean things, spiteful things, unfeeling things, reckless things which trickle over the lips before we realize it. An estimable man in town has a wife who is a good woman, though she can never be a candidate at a beauty show. He admires her, and as he is the one to be pleased, her lack of loveliness is a small matter. One day he was talking with some friends about his disposition.

"No," said he, candidly, "you rarely see me get worked up, nervous and cross. I am the easiest person in the world to please."

"One glance at your wife shows that," responded a dear friend, who is the soul of politeness, and who, poor wretch, really meant to imply she did not have the looks of a nagged or browbeaten woman, and must get on easily with him. But, oh, it didn't sound that way, and that man would gladly have given ten dollars down for a hole in the ground just about that time.—Louisville Times.

Poor English Telephone Service.

In the matter of telephones, England is probably worse served than any civilized country in the world. Switzerland or Sweden can give her points. A telephone monopoly was created, which has worked badly. Quarrels of all kinds with the local authorities have arisen as to way leaves. I know a factory, six miles from the Marble Arch, which has, owing to this cause, for years been vainly applying for the telephone. The other day I wished to send a message to a friend in a very busy little town 15 miles from London. The place did not appear in the telephone directory. Yet in Sweden or Switzerland the smallest village is on the telephone. As for the prices charged by the company, they are extortionate. Parliament has considered the situation, but as party government is mainly concerned with making laws which are not wanted, and neglecting all that conduces to real progress, no adequate measures have been taken to right the system.—National Review.

The Congressional Field.

The importance of electing a Republican congress next November is little less than that of the re-election of President McKinley. Those who believe in the principles of the Republican party should exercise the same care in casting their ballots for representatives in congress and for members of the state legislature that elect United States senators, as they will for the election of presidential electors.

The national house may be very close. If the Democrats make good only a part of their claims, the Republicans cannot afford to elect any Democrats in Republican districts. At the present time there are three Democratic congressmen from New England. The New York Tribune thinks that two of those districts will be redeemed this year.

Those Democratic congressmen all come from Massachusetts. They are Congressman Thayer of Worcester, who represents the Third district, Congressman Fitzgerald of Boston and Concord Junction, who represents the Ninth district, and Congressman Naphen of Boston, who represents the Tenth district.

It is possible with proper care and an intelligent appreciation of the importance of this matter by Republican voters to redeem the Third and Tenth districts, and it is the earnest desire of the party managers, both state and national, that Massachusetts should regain these two districts. The whole organization of the house of representatives may hinge upon the voters of these two districts. With the duty so plain as it is here there ought not to be any question that the Republican voters will get together, and present a united front for success in November.

What Senator Frye Says.

"There was opposition to the ratification of the treaty. Mr. Bryan came to Washington and persuaded his Democratic friends to vote for the treaty, and it was through his influence that the treaty was finally ratified. It then became the duty of the United States to maintain law and order, and protect the lives and property of all residents of the islands, whether native or foreign born. The United States, at the time of the ratification of the treaty, held military possession of Manila, and immediately after such ratification assumed the sovereignty of the islands. The people of the United States, and particularly of the Pacific coast, became entitled to the vast commerce of the Pacific ocean, of which the Philippines furnish the key.

"One Aguinaldo, whose political destiny is the leading factor in the Bryan campaign, had raised a rebellion in Luzon against Spain before the commencement of the Spanish war with the United States. This adventurer had sold out or settled his rebellion with Spain for $400,000 before Dewey set sail for Manila, and as a part of the bargain with Spain, Aguinaldo had agreed to leave the islands and never return. Dewey took the wily agitator back to the islands, supposing, as a matter of course, that Aguinaldo would naturally be an enemy of Spain and a friend to the United States. In this Admiral Dewey was mistaken. Aguinaldo, as soon as he landed on his native soil, organized a rebellion against the United States, which would have been of little consequence if he had not been able to obtain aid and comfort in this country. An organization was formed in the United States, called the Anti-Imperial league, which has, for the last two years, co-operated with Aguinaldo's Tagal junta, with headquarters at Hong Kong, to supply literature and materials of war for Aguinaldo."—Senator Frye at Old Orchard.

Mr. George H. Ellis, an Anti-Imperialist, says: "I do not favor a third party ticket. I shall vote for Mr. McKinley because, while I haven't agreed with many things he has done, I believe he has given us a good administration. In choosing between him and Mr. Bryan, I have no hesitation in selecting Mr. McKinley as the proper candidate to support. I am not altogether satisfied with the president's Philippine policy, but I think that thus far he has handled the situation in China very well."

It is becoming evident that Mr. Bryan does not want much said about free silver before the election. The American people, however, are not so much concerned in what may be said before election as in what will be done after the election.—Barre Telegram.

Victories.

The battles of liberty and right are not all fought with the sword, and the noblest victories are ofttimes peaceful and bloodless ones, but the same heroic attributes are required to win them that sustain the soldier in the hour of battle.—Matthew Arnold.

Taken Literally.

It was only playfully that she referred to her husband as "a regular heathen," but it is always well to label such remarks when made in the presence of children.

The little one who overheard this remark trotted away to Sunday school immediately thereafter, and in some way the subject of attendance at church came up in the class that day.

"My papa doesn't go," volunteered the little one.

"No?" returned the teacher inquiringly.

"Oh, no. He's a heathen, you know."—Chicago Post.

A Few Words about

Pain-Killer

A prominent Montreal clergyman, the Rev. James H. Dixon, Rector St. Judes and Hon. Canon of Christ Church Cathedral, writes:—"Permit me to send you a few lines to strongly recommend PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER. I have used it with satisfaction for thirty-five years. It is a preparation which deserves full public confidence."

Pain-Killer A sure cure for Sore Throat, Coughs, Chills, Cramps, &c.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c.

There is only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis.'

Don't Get Thin

Get fat; get nice and plump; there is safety in plumpness.

Summer has tried your food-works; winter is coming to try your breath-mill. Fall is the time to brace yourself.

But weather is tricky; look out! Look out for colds especially.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the subtlest of helps. It is food, the easiest food in the world; it is more than food, it helps you digest your food, and get more nutriment from it.

Don't get thin, there is safety in plumpness. Man woman and child.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample its agreeable taste will surprise you.
SCOTT & BOWNE,
Chemists,
409 Pearl Street, New York.
50c. and $1.00; all druggist.

Stolen Again.

"The moonbeams were stealing in the henhouse door," read the rustic child with the new story book.

"What were they stealing?" teased the youth in the blue jeans.

"Chickens!" grinned the rustic child.—Chicago Daily News.

The Rival Belles

Mr. Richfellow—I am told that Miss Fineseason took all the prizes at Vassar college. What a wonderful memory she must have.

Miss Twoseason—Indeed she has. And it goes so far back.—N. Y. Weekly.

How He Won Her.

One sent her verses; in that way
His pen was somewhat handy.
The other wooer won the day—
He sent a box of candy.
—Chicago Record.

A MAN OF LETTERS.

"What are you doing, nowadays?"

"I live by my pen."

"And what do you write, if I may ask?"

"Letters to my friends to borrow money!"—Polichinelle.

Life's Bunco Game.

Our strength and our means we expend,
And we venture on many a bold trick,
To find we have gained in the end
Just experience, that ethical gold brick.
—Brooklyn Life.

Covers a Multitude of Faults.

"What made you suppose that old Crossgrain has dyspepsia?"

"Why, I like to take a charitable view of everybody, and dyspepsia is the best excuse I could think of for his disposition."—Puck.

What He Called Himself.

First Tourist—Are you not going to climb this mountain?

Second Tourist—No; it is absolutely too steep and rough for a donkey to climb, so I shall not try to ascend.—Harlem Life.

Great on Charges.

Ford—Your lawyer made some pretty severe charges against the other fellow, didn't he?"

Smallwort—Y-e-e-s; but you ought to see how he charged me.—Tit-Bits

Sometimes a Known Quantity.

"Always let X equal the thing you want to find," softly uttered the wife, as she went through her sleeping husband's pockets and abstracted the needed $10 bill.—Chicago Tribune.

He Realized It.

Wife—A man is a fool to have anything to do with a lottery.

Husband—You hit it, then. I'm still kicking myself for marrying you.—Harlem Life.

Where the Crowd Was.

"Was Mrs. Lumpkins' reception a crush?"

"The parlors weren't half full, but the dining-room was packed."—Chicago Record.

Making Her Happy.

Sunday School Teacher—Have you made anyone happy this week?

Little Girl—Yes'm. Mrs. Highupp has a baby, and it's a awful squally, red-faced little brat; but, w'en I met Mrs. Highupp yesterday, I told her she had the sweetest, prettiest baby I ever saw.—N. Y. Herald.

Why He Didn't Marry Her.

"Oh, no; I'm not a misogynist," said the confirmed bachelor, "but there has been one reason that has always prevented my marrying even the most charming of women."

"What is that?"

"She wouldn't have me."—Town Topics.

Only Apparently Contradictory.

It sounded contradictory, but after all unquestionably there are occasions when one can "give away" and "sell" at the same time.

"She told me," said her dearest friend, "that she never would marry for money, but don't you think she gave herself away when she sold herself to old Bullion?"

And the dearest friend's friend thought she did.—Chicago Post.

Applying a Remedy.

"Tommy doesn't feel like going to school this morning," said Mrs. Tucker. "He says he has a pain in his stomach. He's lying on the lounge in the sitting-room, all humped up out of shape."

"I think," said Mr. Tucker, reaching behind the mirror for a small rawhide, "I can lick him into shape."—Chicago Tribune.

Her Literary Deficiency.

She could talk about the classics in a very knowing way;
She was fine in mathematics and in art
made some display;
She was cultured and accomplished both in poetry and song,
But whene'er she read a cook book—well
she somehow got it wrong.
—Washington Star.

HOW HE WON HER.

"But, Mr. Simmons, you are so awfully ugly."

"Yes, but opposites should marry."—Chicago Chronicle.

Good Advice.

Here is a well-known proverb,
Revised to suit, the masses—
If you in a stone house dwell,
Refrain from throwing glasses.
—Chicago Daily News.

An Educational Programme.

"Is your boy's education nearly complete?" asked the friend.

"Yes," answered the man who is nothing if not sarcastic. "He knows the classics and the higher mathematics and logic and philosophy pretty thoroughly. I'm going to see if I can't put the finishing touches on his culture and get him so he can calculate the interest on a 30-day note without getting brain-fog and read the daily news without yawning."—Washington Star.

Ready for Finishing.

Caller—So you have just graduated at Miss Teachem's private academy?

Fair Graduate—Yes. I am now going to a finishing school to study drawing, music, language, sculpture, repoussee work, embroidery, etiquette, etc.

"To what finishing school will you go?"

"Oh, any of the public schools."—N. Y. Weekly.

The Only Way Out.

Chemist's Assistant—Good gracious! I have kept that woman waiting three-quarters of an hour. I forgot all about her prescription.

Chemist—You will have to charge her a good tall price in order to make her think you had a lot of trouble in mixing it up.—Tit-Bits.

And They Never Forget It.

Shank—And, so, Skooper has organized a class in mnemonics. He claims to be able to teach an unfailing method of never-forgetting.

O'Shawe—What is his scheme?

Shank—Why, he induces each member of his class to loan him five dollars. That's all!—Puck.

Circumstantial Evidence.

"Isn't your neighbor, Blinkinoff, a drinking man?"

"I wouldn't like to give an expert opinion on the subject. I'll admit, however, that I saw him the other night trying to drive a spiggot into an ash barrel, thinking that it was cider."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Cat Did the Rest.

Mother—Stop pulling the cat's tail, Reggie.

Reggie—I ain't pullin' it; I'm jes' holdin' it.—Syracuse Herald.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Thirty Years of Suffering.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Halloway of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale by A. C. Mason, druggist

When doctors fail, try Burdock Blood Bitters. Cures dyspepsia, constipation; invigorates the whole system.

Takes the burn out; heals the wound; cures the pain. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, the household remedy.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON — 5 15, 8 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 6 07, 6 30 m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 46, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 6 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 38 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 16 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 6 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 6 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD — 9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 6 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 36, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

LOW RATES
3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION
APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	10c
5 to 15 miles,	15c
15 to 25 "	20c
25 to 35 "	25c
35 to 45 "	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
...AND...
C.B.Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J.Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON,
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours From 2 to 3 p. m., and by appointment.
92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON.
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.
M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1339.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT
Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all here is to it.

Truss Advice.

We advise an Elastic Belt Truss because it wears longer than the spring truss, fits better and is far more comfortable. We have had a long personal experience with all styles of trusses. Throw your old spring truss away and get one of our Elastic Belt Trusses. We can fit you. Double and single at moderate prices.

◆ ◆ ◆

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK, FRANKLIN.

WRENTHAM.

Mrs. Sarah D. Barnard and Miss Jennie Barnard have returned from a long visit with friends in Northampton.——Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Cook of Cambridge are again in town.——Miss Kittie Tolliver and Mr. and Mrs. James Dixon of Providence are guests of Frank Tolliver.——Miss Hunt of Philadelphia is visiting Miss Ella F. Fales.——Miss Jennie Travers has been visiting Mrs. Daniel Farrington.——Frederick Gee of Fall River is visiting his friend, T A. George.——There is to be a wedding in town before long, when a young lady well known in the village will be united to a protessional gentleman from out of town.——Miss Emma Farrington has returned home from a visit to her sister-in law, Mrs. George Farrington.——Mr. and Mrs. Charles Humphreys and son John of Los Angeles, Cal., is visiting Station Agent A. J. Goodspeed.——Mrs. Harvey George is ill.——Miss Alice George is visiting her cousin in Barrington.——Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Langley are at the former's old home in Wilmot, N.H.——Mrs. Goddard of Worcester has been visiting her brother, Daniel Brown.——John Mitchell, who has just returned from the state of Washington, is visiting his sister, Miss Sadie Mitchell.——William Chisholm, late of Co. H, 26th regiment, in service in the Phillipines, has arrived from San Francisco, Cal., where he has been in the hospital, and is at his mother's, Mrs F. A. Snow. At one time while in the hospital at Manilla he weighed only 87 pounds, but gained on the sea voyage, and upon his arrival at San Francisco weighed 130 pounds.

A Friendly Suggestion.

"Life is really not worth living."
Said the pessimist with a shiver;
"Old man," the optimist replied,
"Go take something for your liver."
—Chicago Daily News.

A Forced Acceptance.

Mr. Aldermann—Young Hikoller just asked me for Mary's hand and I told him to take her and be happy.

Mrs. Aldermann—Oh, John, how could you?

Mr. Aldermann—Confound it, I had to! To-morrow is election, and if I'd kicked him out of the house I'd have lost his vote.—Judge.

Sure Way to Stop It.

"I wish they wouldn't all laugh at me whenever I get up to make a few remarks," said the legislator.

"My dear fellow," returned the wise man, "there is a sure way to stop that."

"How?"

"Try to be humorous."—Chicago Post.

Not Bribery, of Course.

"Were you ever bribed?" asked the constituent.

"Never!" replied the Montana legislator, emphatically. "No one ever has dared to even offer me money for my vote."

"I'm glad to hear you say that," said the constituent.

"Of course," went on the legislator, "some one occasionally leaves a few thousand dollars in my room or slips a little money into my pocket, but no one would have the hardihood to hand me anything."—Chicago Post.

Stops the Cough and Works Off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price 25 cents.

Not Like Other Men.

"John is so absent-minded."

"Is he?"

"Yes; whenever I give him a letter to mail he goes and mails it."—Chicago Record.

Your Liver

Will be roused to its natural duties and your biliousness, headache and constipation be cured if you take

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.

Very Ably Defended.

"Do you think your sister likes me, Freddie?"

"Yes. She stood up for you at dinner."

"Stood up for me! Was anybody saying anything against me?"

"No; nothing much. Father said he thought you were rather a donkey, but sis got up and said you weren't, and told father he ought to know better than judge a man by his looks."—Tit-Bits.

Parental Diplomacy.

"But what are your objections to the young man?" asked the mother.

"None," answered the other half of the management of the young woman.

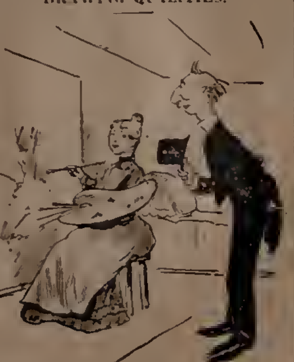
"Then why do you refuse his request for Ethel's hand?"

"Only for the dear child's good. If he have any spirit at all he will go ahead and marry her anyhow, and if he don't she is well rid of him."—Indianapolis Press.

Two Vows.

I've made but two great vows in all my life:
First, at the altar, when I took a wife;
The second, when death eased our mutual pain,
That I would never do the like again.
—Judge.

DRAWING QUALITIES.



Mr. Uglymugg—Do you know, Miss Slopper, I used to draw pretty well myself when I was a boy.

Miss Slopper—You'd draw pretty well now, in a museum.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

True to Himself.

"Do you intend to spend the balance of the century in this same idle, shiftless way, my friend?" asked the philanthropist, who had given him a meager handful of sold victuals.

"I don't like that word 'balance,'" answered Tuffold Knutt, looking at him with a coldly critical eye. "'Rest' is a blamed sight better word."—Chicago Tribune.

The Plant Line cheap return rates, viz: Halifax $7.50, Hawkesbury $9.50, Charlottetown or Sydney $11 00, continue to attract large numbers of excursionists and people are fast learning that the autumn is a delightful time to visit the provinces. If you have not had your vacation or can take a few days off try the greatest try for the least money on record. Full information of J. A. Flanders, New England agent, 290 Washington street, or E. H. Downing, agent, 20 Atlantic avenue Boston.

To Curea Cold In One Day.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

Setting Himself Right.

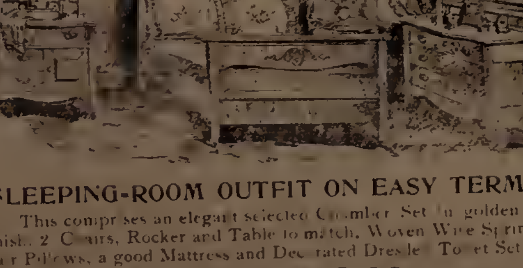
"You don't dare put your arm around Miss Passee's waist."

"I'm not afraid of her—but I'm no lemon squeezer."—Harlem Life.

Game.

"A man who will beat his wife," exclaimed Mrs. Rivers, "is cruel!"

And she upset the chessboard.—Chicago Tribune.



SLEEPING-ROOM OUTFIT ON EASY TERMS:

This comprises an elegant selected Chamber Set in golden oak finish, 2 Chairs, Rocker and Table to match, Woven Wire Spring, 1 pair Pillows, a good Mattress and Decorated Dresden Toilet Set.

ALL FOR $38.00.

TERMS—$5.00 or $10.00 down, $1.00 each week.

Where will you go to get credit? Don't go at all. COME—your credit is good right here.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free Delivery at your home the hour you name.

The Riper Choice.

Aunt Prue—Marry Fastina! Why, she has been engaged four or five times every season since she came out.

Dormy—I know it, aunt; to have been my wife's first love would, of course, be a satisfaction; but to be her last is a distinction.—Brooklyn Life.

In Good Hands.

Consumptive (at health resort)—So you make a specialty of caring for invalids.

Landlady—Yes, indeed. I let out furnished rooms, my husband is a doctor, and I have a brother here in the undertaking business.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A Cold Day.

Mrs. De Silke—I wish to give a memorial of some kind to the church, in memory of a relative. What would you suggest?

Struggling Pastor—A—er—an appropriately decorated — er — new church furnace, madam, and a—a few tons of coal.—N. Y. Weekly.

The Guilty Partner.

Tom—Here's a paper offering a $25 prize for the best answer to the question: "Why have I failed in business?" That's dead easy.

Dick—Well, why did you fail?

Tom—Because I had a partner.—Town Topics.

Wanted the Call Repeated.

Employer (to collector)—See Mr. Owen?

Collector—O, yes.

Employer—Was he annoyed at your calling upon him?

Collector—Not a bit. He asked me to call again.—Ohio State Journal.

Modern Hospitality.

Mr. Potwell—Now do look after the dinner yourself, my dear. You know the Guttletons are coming.

Mrs. Potwll—But if I do, they'll be sure to want to come again!—Brooklyn Life.

Positive Proof.

Hogan—Do you believe in dreams, Mike?

Dugan—Faith an' I do! Lasht night I dremt I was awake, an' in the morning me dream kem thrue.—Princeton Tiger.

He Was "Smooth."

"He's a very 'smooth' man," they said, with conviction.

Nor were they in error in the matter, for he had just had a clean shave.—Chicago Post.

Of the Same Mind.

The Artist—My dear fellow! I paint a picture in two days, and think nothing of it.

The Friend—I am of your opinion.—Brooklyn Life.

E. W. Grove

This signature is on every box of the genuine Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets the remedy that cures a cold in one day

Benj. Franklin Savings Bank.

QUARTERLY MEETING.

The regular quarterly meeting of the trustees of the Benj. Franklin Savings Bank will be held at the banking rooms of the bank on at 2 o'clock, to hear a report of the Treasurer and transact any business legally coming before the meeting.

MONDAY, OCT. 1, 1900,

CHARLES W. STEWART,
Clerk and Treasurer.

1t

PLANTLINE

TO THE PROVINCES.

GREAT REDUCTION IN RATES.

To Halifax, Hawkesbury, Sydney and Charlottetown.

775 miles for	$7.50
1000 miles for	9.50
1400 miles for	11.00

DON'T MISS the opportunity to take the greatest trip for the least money on record. It can be made within a week and comprises a deep sea voyage, a sail along the entire Nova Scotia coast, through the Straits of Canso, St. George's Bay and Northumberland Straits. Autumn most delightful season in the Provinces.

A Grand Opportunity for Natives to Visit the Old Home.

S. S. Halifax every Tuesday, 12 noon, for Halifax, Hawkesbury and Charlottetown. S. S. Florida every Saturday, 12 noon, for Halifax and Sydney, from north side Lewis Wharf. Maps and other advertising free.

J. A. FLANDERS, N. E. Agent,
290 Washington St., Boston.
E. H. DOWNING, Agent,
20 Atlantic Ave., Boston.

jly24-tno24

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a mortgage deed given by Mary F. Lavender and George N. Lavender in her own right to the Bowker Fertilizer Company, dated November 11, 1898, and recorded in Norfolk Deeds, book ——, page ——, and for breach of the conditions thereof and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1900,

at 10 o'clock a. m., all and singular the following described property.

A certain parcel of land situated in Millis, county of Norfolk, being the rear half of a lot conveyed to Mary E. Dean by Cyrus Daniels, by his deed dated August 13, 1892, containing about one half acre of land, and situated on the easterly side of Daniels street, and bounded as follows:

Commencing at the southeasterly corner thereof and running northeasterly on land now or late of Cyrus Daniels 110 5.10 feet to a stake, thence turning at nearly right angles and running northwesterly on land now or late of Cyrus Daniels [illegible] feet to a stake, thence turning at nearly right angles and running southwesterly on land now or late of Mary E. Dean and parallel with the first mentioned 110.5 feet to a stake, thence turning at nearly right angles and running southeasterly on land now or late of Mary F. Lavender [illegible] feet to point of departure. Being the same premises conveyed by Mary E. Dean to Mary F. Lavender, October 20, 1892, and recorded in book [illegible], page 24.

Terms cash.

BOWKER FERTILIZER COMPANY,
By its Treasurer, Henry F. C[illegible], Mortgagee.
Millis, September 25, 1900.
R. G. Fairbanks, Attorney. se25-3t

NOTICE having been received that the subscribers have been duly appointed executors of the estate of William Colvin, late of Medway, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and have taken upon themselves that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

JAMES A. SNOW,
JOHN H. C. HADLEY,
Executors.

Address Medway, Sept. 22, 1900. se25-oct9

Insects and Forest Fires.

There is a close connection and to a certain extent interdependence between the relations of forest fires to insect ravages, and insects to forest fires, diseases of trees to insects and insects to fungous diseases, which are not obvious at first sight. Dr. A. D. Hopkins, in a report on the insect enemies of the forest in the northwest, treats fully of this subject. Trees dying from injury by fires or weakened in vitality offer favorable conditions for the multiplication of vast numbers of destructive insects. Moreover, the trees which have been killed by insects furnish, in their fallen branches and partially decayed trunks and dry bark, a most favorable propagating ground for fires. It is, of course, well known that forest trees weakened by disease contribute to the multiplication of insect enemies to forests; therefore the study of insects associated with unhealthy forest trees should lead to results of economic importance.—Scientific American.

The English Language in Mexico.

The increased knowledge of the English language in Mexico during the last few years is remarkable. No establishment of any size attempts to do business without English-speaking clerks and correspondents. English is now a necessity to the prominent professional men whose practice extends to a large proportion of the important foreign residents of this cosmopolitan old city. English newspapers and magazines are read by a large proportion of the refined and educated native citizens. It will probably surprise many readers of this paper to know that one-third of the Mexican Herald's subscribers in the City of Mexico are Mexicans. The study of English in Mexico is one of the important things that is assisting in closer commercial relations between Mexico and the United States.—Mexican Herald.

A Woman's Discovery.

Isabelle—I used to sacrifice myself for other people.

Belinda—Don't you do it now?

Isabelle—No. I've quit it; people seem to like me just as well, and I know I'm more amiable and better looking.—Detroit Free Press.

Quantity Not Quality.

"Why, you stiff!" cried the first heeler, "when it comes to usefulness to the party I'm worth two of you!"

"Oh! I don't know," replied the other, "I can vote jest as often as you, if necessary."—Philadelphia Press.

Rebuttal Testimony.

The Guest—Isn't your little boy rather nervous, Mrs. Bimm?

Mrs. Bimm—No; I think not.

Little Boy—Yes, I am, ma; when people who come here stay too long it makes me wriggle around and kick my chair.—Chicago Record.

Obeying the Scriptures.

Evelyn (who has just been robbed of a kiss)—Mr. Kurate, how dare you?

Hansom Kurate (meekly)—I beg your pardon, but I was only obeying the Scriptural injunction: "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."—Judge.

Business Call.

We see her at the telephone,
We note her stormy frown;
She calls her husband up
And then she calls him down.
—Chicago Daily News.

FOR HAY FEVER, CATARRH AND COLD IN THE HEAD, USE

MASON'S NEZALINE

MASON'S KOLD KILLER

Will break up your cold, while Mason's

WHITE PINE & TAR SYRUP

Will cure your cough.

If you have any kind of a cold, go to MASON'S for a cure.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Chilson's Market

◆ ◆ ◆

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef, 10 to	12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-1yS

Coal! Coal!

◆ ◆ ◆

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

◆ ◆ ◆

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-8

MEDFIELD AND WAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tS

Your Wife is a Jewel

and her home is the setting. It is your duty to make this setting as beautiful as possible. Elaborateness doesn't necessarily mean beauty. Some of the prettiest Furniture in our store is the least expensive. Look around at home and then look around here, and you'll find means to brighten up the house wonderfully.

A small payment at time order is given and a little every week will pay for all your Furniture needs.

CHAMBER OUTFIT.

Suit complete, including Mattress, Springs and Toilet Set, $26.50
$2.75 down, 75c. a week.

KITCHEN OUTFIT.

Complete with Range, Table, Chairs, Oil Cloth, small ware, $35.00
$3.50 down, $1.00 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Hoag Lake

PARK.

Week of Sept. 24.

Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.15.

Boom's European Celebrities.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je26-toc1

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

JUST RECEIVED, A NEW LINE OF

Blanks, Pads,
Tablets, Pencils,
School Bags, Etc.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in two mortgage deeds given by Lothrop J. Wilder to the Medway Savings Bank, one dated Jan. 17th, 1891, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 649, folio 43, the other dated April 27th, 1893, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 691, folio 618, for breach of the conditions thereof and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on at three o'clock p. m., all and singular the following described property.

WEDNESDAY, the THIRD day of OCTOBER, 1900,

A certain tract of land, with the buildings thereon standing, including all permanent fixtures and heating appliances, situated in Medway, in county of Norfolk and state of Massachusetts, on the east side of Broad street, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at the northwest corner thereof, on said street, at land of Mary H. Wilder; and thence easterly on a line with said Mary H. Wilder's land one hundred and forty (140) feet to a corner at land of Mrs. Sarah S. Woodward; thence southerly on land of said Woodward to land of Frank A. Henry, thence westerly on a line with land of said Henry [illegible] with and twenty-one (21) feet distance from [illegible]erly side of stable on said Henry's land to a point for a corner on a line parallel with westerly end of said stable; thence southwesterly in a straight line to a point for a corner on a line with rear [illegible] grantor's store block and thirty five feet distance therefrom; thence westerly on line parallel with southerly side of said block to said Broad street; thence northerly on said street to the first mentioned point. Same premises recorded with Norfolk Deeds, lib. 612, folio 441, conveyed to grantor by deed from Elijah B. Stowe; subject to a right of way mentioned in said conveyance, and [illegible] set forth and described in a deed to John McC[illegible], March 1st, 1886. With all rights to well on southerly side of said estate.

Terms at sale.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK, Mortgagee,
By its Treasurer, W. H. C[illegible].
Medway, Mass., Sept. 6, 1900. se11,18,25

T KE ADVANTAGE

Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

Hattie M Fisher 13Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 78. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
A. C. Mason	4
Attractions at Woonsocket Opera House	4
Adm[illegible] No. [illegible]	4
Twe[illegible] Exposition	4
New England Telegraph and Telephone Co.	4
Macullar, Parker Co., Boston, Clothing	4
A. B. Colson	4
Help Wanted at [illegible] Bros.	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
"	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm.

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 00 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Arthur Corey has moved to Blackstone.

George Bacon has moved to Mt. Auburn.

Bernard R. Rockwood has typhoid fever.

The selectmen will hold a meeting to night.

Miss May Spence, who is ill with typhoid, continues to improve.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Richardson are visiting friends in Providence.

Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., will hold a regular meeting this evening.

H. L. Wales of Waterbury is a guest of Alfred Clark and W. S. Johnson.

Mrs. Ballou of Woonsocket, with Mrs Sarah Rockwood on Queen street.

Jacob Quilter has moved from the Ray farm to the Nason house on Union street.

Mrs. H. B. Haslam enjoyed the Universalist convention at Springfield this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lesure have been spending a portion of the week at Reading.

Look in Tuesday's SENTINEL for the synopsis of the operetta, "Pied Piper of Hamelin."

The Republicans are preparing to organize a McKinley and Roosevelt campaign club.

Mrs. Cook of Germantown, Pa., is stopping with Mrs. Lydia Harris on West street.

The game of football between Dean and Attleboro on Saturday promises to be a fine contest.

Manager M. J. Connolly of of the Our Boys baseball team is to organize a football eleven.

Mrs. Walter M. Fisher attended the funeral of Mrs. Sarah Tabor in Providence yesterday.

The expenses in the Sullivan family case at Caryville, a state charge, have been over $1100.

The American band orchestra will furnish music for the dancing at Hoag lake tomorrow evening.

A number from here took in the Bellingham fair Wednesday and pronounced it unusually successful.

The racing at Readville took a number of our sportively inclined men to that popular resort yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Dresser of South Ashburnham have been spending a few days at her former home here.

Word has been received of the safe arrival of Mrs. Waldmeyer and daughter Adele at Baisdel, Switzerland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Estes, two children and maid, are spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. H. M. Bullock.

There will be a rehearsal of the ritualistic work of the Woman's Relief corps next Monday evening. Color bearers are requested to be present.

When the solicitor of the new Y M. C A. approaches you, remember his cause and be generous.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Weeks left today for their home in Norwalk, Conn., after a visit with her father, E. M. Pond.

Lancelot T. Farrer, a former employe at the Trowbridge piano factory, was married in Philadelphia on Wednesday to Miss Florence Gengenbach.

Bert Peck has removed from Judge Doe's house on Union street to N. C. Nye's house on the same street, recently vacated by E. S. Crossman.

The teachers' meetings will be resumed October 1, at which time Rev. Dr. Sneath will make an address. The public invited, at 7 o'clock, High school.

F. P. Bly has removed from the Morse house recently purchased by J. A. Geb to W. M. Comey's house on the corner of Pleasant and Alpine streets.

Martin, the 7-year-old son of Daniel Morris, of Thayer street, and Edward, the 11-year old son of John Reilly of East street, are ill with typhoid fever.

David Menard, night operator at the station, is off duty temporarily on account of illness. George Pendergast is the substitute at the station until his recovery.

It is stated on excellent authority that Mrs. A. H. Morse has disposed of her elegant Main street residence to George F. S. Singleton, the worsted manufacturer.

The Mary Warfield Missionary society will hold its annual meeting for the election of officers Friday, October 5, at 2.30 p.m., in the parlor of the Congregational church.

Next Sabbath will be observed as Rally day in connection with the First Congregational church Sabbath school. There will be special exercises together with a review of the lesson and address by the pastor.

The Congregational church is going to try the experiment of burning soft coal for heating purposes this winter. The schools have tried it and find it cheaper than hard coal.

Experts are busy stringing the new cables and setting up the switchboard in the Fletcher building where the telephone office is to be located. They hope to have it ready by Oct. 1.

The ladies played off the second in the series for the golf cup on the Franklin links yesterday. Score later. Saturday morning they will play their finals and the gentlemen finish in the afternoon.

One of the Powers supporters remarked after the reports were all in from the district that Fred Homer Williams was going to remain a "homer," as his opponent evidently had the better staying "powers."

Rev. J. P. Chadbourne left today for Cincinnati, where will be his headquarters in the interests of Scribners. He will cover that territory among the ministers, handling a new dictionary of the bible.

The committee in charge of the coming session of the Mendon conference, to be held with the Congregational church here October 17, are planning for one of the largest gatherings in the history of the conference.

Ernest Leonard of Wrentham, who was arrested Monday afternoon by Special Officer Cody while trying to dispose of some lead at Hosie Bros.' store, had a hearing Tuesday morning before Judge Doe and was fined $5 for drunkenness.

The ordinance of baptism will be administered at the Baptist church Sunday evening. Rev. F. B. Sleeper will give a short discourse on the practical and important theme, "Must Young People's Christian Societies Die?" There will be fine singing.

Monday evening Sheriff J. B. Fitzpatrick and Officer Redpath arrested John Jacobs for assault on Peter Conlon and Harry Bulletin at the Armenian boarding house on the Wrentham road. He was placed in the lockup over night and was given a hearing Tuesday morning. He was fined $10 for assault and battery.

Surely all of Franklin's ladies and business men will be present at the opera house October 11, 12 and 13 to see the rats of Franklin charmed away by the magic forces of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin." Think of the great relief and show your appreciation of the kindness of the Y. P. C. U., under whose auspices he will be present, by your patronage.

The interest in the new Y. M. C. A. is increasing and the membership is already over thirty. It is expected that a fund of $800 can readily be raised to carry on the work, and at the meeting next Monday evening further plans will be discussed, the committee reports will be heard, etc. The furnished reading room will be a decided benefit this winter, and the need of a work among our young men was never greater than it is today.

A theatre party from here saw the magnificent production of "Monte Cristo" at the Boston theatre Wednesday evening, and pronounce it the finest thing in this line they ever saw. The beautiful golden effect in the Hotel de Morcerf in the fourth act is brilliantly contrasted with the silvery aspect of the snow scene in the fifth act, making this production of "Monte Cristo" what one might term a bimetallic spectacle—gold and silver.

After the long and intimate connection of Charles J. McKenzie with Dean academy and the Universalist church, it is eminently fitting that his memory should be honored as it has been by the memorial funds recently given to each of these institutions. All those who have the interest and welfare of the academy and the church at heart will be grateful that Mrs. McKenzie has desired in this way to perpetuate her husband's influence among us.

At the annual business meeting of the Epworth league, held at the residence of F. W. Willard on Cottage street Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Miss Theresa Lewis; first vice, Miss Emma C. Enegren; second vice, Miss Emma Camp; third vice, Charles H. Prince; fourth vice, Miss Lottie Waterman; secretary, Miss Lulu Willard; treasurer, Miss Jennie Hutchinson; pianist, Mrs. Nellie L. Willard Emory Thayer and Miss Sadie Murphy, well known residents, were united in marriage at St. Mary's rectory at 11.30 yesterday morning, Rev. M. J. Lee performing the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Eva Thayer, a sister of the groom, and Albert Murphy of Norfolk was best man. After the ceremony the couple left for New York, where they will spend the honeymoon. The bride is a sister-in-law of ex-Postmaster Conroy and was formerly an assistant in the postoffice. The groom is a conductor on the N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad and popular with patrons and fellow employes.

A new switching tower is to be built near Nason's crossing at once and the clumsy method of switching by hand will be done away with. All the tracks will be moved by levers and wire cables from the switch tower, and the switch man will have to be a telegraph operator who will have charge of the station. There are the Milford and Providence branches as well as the main line, so that it will require a clear head and a steady arm to do the work. Just how many levers are to be put in has not as yet been given out, but certainly enough to do all the work required. The system will be an interlocking one, which will be a still further safeguard. The work is to be hurried as rapidly as possible.

One of the valuable relics of old times which Alfred Clark has had quietly stored away for a long time is a pew from the old Dr. Nathaniel Emmons church. One day Dr. J. C. Gallison found that it was in the market, and his appetite for antiques was immediately excited to have it in the same family with the three-legged kettle that hung on the crane in old fireplace times. So he negotiated for it, and the result was that it is now a part and parcel of his Italian villa in Long Hill woods. As a piece of furniture it does not resemble the curves and shine of the modern plush divan, but there is an oldtime solemn impressiveness about it that pleases the doctor and gives him a mental stimulant, and every creak of the time dried boards speaks in a voice tinged with theological toughness mixed with what the leaves whisper overhead, and, well shaken before taken, makes a famous prescription for allaying the pain of feverish existence.

An Encouraging Outlook.

The coming season of the Alden club will open Monday evening, October 8. It is hoped all the former members will be present and many new ones. A rich winter's programme has been prepared by the different committees during the summer, and the executive board feels it will be fully appreciated by the club. It is hoped, also, that more members and gentlemen friends will avail themselves of the wonderfully excellent course of lectures provided and thrown open to the public. Franklin lacks in this every winter, and simply because our citizens either cannot or will not support the effort when it is made. The Alden club has engaged some of the best talent in the field for this winter. Will not our friends show us they realize it as we open our doors and offer our treasures? The executive board will gladly receive names for membership vouched for by a present member. They may be handed in writing to Miss Bertha Hood, corresponding secretary.

Pied Piper of Hamelin.

The "Pied Piper of Hamelin" will be ready for the stage October 11. It will be presented at Morse Opera house two evenings, October 11 and 12, and a matinee, October 13. Wherever this operetta has been given it has scored a great success. Truly, Franklin will have a treat when it is played here. "You will miss it if you miss it."

A Card.

The undersigned desire to take this occasion to return their sincere thanks to all who remembered them so kindly in this hour of their bereavement, trusting that a similar sympathy may be extended to these kind friends when occasion presents itself for a like expression.

MRS. H. M. BULLOCK AND FAMILY.
Franklin, Mass., Sept. 28, 1900.

An Interesting Affair.

The Republican caucus on Tuesday evening proved more interesting than was anticipated, and the ballots were so badly cut up as to necessitate a good deal of work to get them straightened out. The town committee prepared a ticket as usual, giving upon all of the delegations a number of extra names for selection, and in the matter of the town committee there were eighteen names presented, nine of which could be voted for.

There had been a rumor current upon the street during the day that a special ballot would be presented in the interest of Mr. Williams for congressman, and so it proved. The voters had their choice, and H. W. Thayer announced to the caucus that the delegates thereon were interested in the candidacy of Mr. Williams. Mr. Thayer also explained that the ticket had not been prepared in opposition to the town committee ticket, but simply to insure the presentation of a practically "pledged" Williams delegation to the voters, and this appeared to be the simplest way out of the matter. Thereupon C. F. Nye announced that the first three men upon the town committee ticket could be relied upon to stand for Mr. Powers' interest. The voting began and to the surprise of every one the especial Williams ballot ran remarkably well, very nearly equalling in number those prepared by the town committee. The Williams ballot also carried the names of the present town committee, with the additional ones, H. M. Grant and C. E. Woodward.

W. A. Wyckoff, officiating as moderator, announced the closing of the polls, selecting P. A. Woodward, E. D. Daniels, E. F. Lovejoy, H. A. Talbot and C. B. Johnson as tellers. Owing to the fact that the town committee ticket gave such a choice of selections it made the task of counting quite lengthy, as the voters had found it necessary to erase or check against so many names. There were 142 voters checked by the secretary, J. E. Barber, and the counters found the same number of votes cast.

The count showed that the Williams ticket had prevailed by about 15 majority, thus giving him the Franklin delegation in the coming convention. It was asserted by the Powers men that their defeat was primarily due to the fact that their ticket admitted of so great a selection that it scattered the votes which would otherwise have been centered upon three candidates, instead of having been divided among six.

Naturally the Williams men insisted that the two ballots in the field did not affect the will of the voter in the least. Be this as it may, the contest would have been a pretty one had there been three Powers names and three Williams names upon the regular ticket, which would have simplified the issue. It may or may not have affected the result—this opinion, however, depending entirely upon the point of view. The voters for the present having expressed a preference for Mr. Williams, that expression had to stand.

The success of the Williams ballot of course encompassed the defeat of every name upon the ticket prepared by the town committee, a somewhat unexpected consummation, and one that some of the sponsors of the Williams ballot hasten to disown. The very fact that the town committee offered so many names for selection was the deciding factor in bringing about this apparent rejection of their ticket. Indeed, the friends of the committee insist that had there been but the requisite number of names desired upon the ballot, that ticket would have gone through.

There was practically no interest in regard to the other delegations, some of the voters not taking the pains to vote, but allowed their ballots to be counted as blanks. This may be a mistake, as prospective aspirants are already cropping up for the positions of representative, senator, etc., and these delegates may have some strong inducements offered to support particular candidates. This year, however, Franklin is making no claim for anything, so her delegates will be in a position to pay off some of the debts which have been incurred in the past, when our sister towns have stood by us when we needed their assistance. The following is the result:

State convention, Emory S. Judd, Fremont M. Richardson, Edwin C. Mason; congressional, Rev. Dr. Hodge, A. D. Thayer, E. H. Sherman; senatorial, E. C. Abbott, E. N. Thain, G. W. Wiggin; county, L. R. Whitaker, J. R. Hosford, H. W. Thayer; councillor, George King, Dr. A. J. Gallison, F. E. Osborne; representative, G. E. Emerson, Rev. Dr. I. W. Sneath, G. A. Martin, W. A. Fairfield, James Onslow, D. W. Corson; town committee, J. P. Bassett, F. P. Chapman, O. B. Carter, W. M. Fisher, B. M. Rockwood, C. F. Nye, H. T. Hayward, H. M. Grant, C. E. Woodward.

The following was the ticket presented by the town committee:

State convention, H. T. Hayward, G. W. Wiggin, A. D. Thayer, E. K. Ray, O. B. Carter, E. H. Sherman; congressional, H. R. Jenks, N. C. Nye, J. P. Bassett, B. M. Rockwood, E. D. Daniels, E. B. Sherman; councillor, H. W. Thayer, E. C. Abbott, T. G. Thain, P. A. Woodward, O. T. Doe, G. E. Emerson; county, G. W. Wiggin, W. M. Fisher, A. J. Gallison, G. R. Winsor, N. E. Newell, L. R. Whitaker; senatorial, W. A. Wyckoff, James H. Knapp, F. H. Bartholomew, E. A. Mason, M. E. Pond, Marston Sanborn; representative convention, J. T. Hutchinson, Solon Abbott, W. A. Pond, J. R. Hosford, E. N. Thain, Charles E. Woodward, E. P. Chapman, E. F. Lovejoy, J. F. Ray, C. E. Whiting, W. E. Crowninshield, H. W. Hosie; town committee, F. P. Chapman, C. F. Nye, B. M. Rockwood, O. B. Carter, W. M. Fisher, H. T. Hayward, J. P. Bassett, G. W. Wiggin, G. R. Winsor, O. T. Doe, E. S. Judd, H. W. Thayer, Eugene Thain, C. E. Whiting, J. T. Hutchinson, E. C. Abbott, Fred T. Ahrens, Jr., A. M. Thayer.

The Political Pot.

With the holding of the town caucuses candidates are already springing up for the coveted places in the political line, and, strange to say, Franklin is asking for nothing this year. But her assistance will be of great value to the aspirants from the other towns, the understanding being that nearly all of the towns desire a representative to the coming great and general court in Boston.

With the completion of Representative L. L. Burrington's second term and his removal from town, Franklin loses its member. His colleague, Warren E. Fairbanks of Bellingham, has decided not to ask for a second term, so there will probably be two new men from this district.

Medway is already in the field with a candidate—George W. Bullard, one of her solid citizens, receiving the harmonious support of the republican voters at the caucus on Monday evening, at which there were about one hundred present. The Medwayites point to the fact that Franklin and Medway have always "pulled together," and therefore they are counting on her assistance, which is valuable this year.

Wrentham is also presenting a candidate—Selectman W. F. Maintein, a representative business man and member of the board of selectmen. He is a young man of ability and well known here.

Norfolk also has a candidate—Silas E. Fales, who received seven votes for representative at the convention held here last year.

It is understood that Foxboro is also to demand recognition this year—A. F. Bemis, the straw goods manufacturer, being the one to claim the coveted honor.

Thus it will be seen that the convention promises to be an unusually interesting one, though most of the work will be done in advance and "on the quiet."

Later there will be the matter of senator to come up, and again the political pool will be troubled to see who shall receive the coveted prize. The last time it came to Franklin was when the district was represented by the late William F. Ray. He was followed by Fred H. Williams, the present aspirant for congressional honors, and he by the present incumbent, Frank A. Fales of Norwood.

Tonight and Tomorrow.

"Killarney and the Rhine" is a dainty narrative of the experiences and antics of a witty German in good old Erin. There is a very strong element of the melodrama running through its scenes, enlivened here and there with songs of years ago and of today. J. E. Toole's songs are fresh and spontaneous, his dancing is graceful, and his delineation is truthful and filled with those touches here and there of Teutonic humor that always sparkle and never fail to raise a laugh. The play is staged well and the many scenes of the Wicklow county are picturesque and of interest.

On Saturday evening "Rip VanWinkle" is to be heard here for the first time. Rip's famous toast, "Here's to your good helt and your family's good helt, may you all live long and brosper," is never uttered with more warmth and fervor than by J. E. Toole while impersonating the vagabond of the Catskills. His work is artistic throughout, though possibly he excels in the latter portion of the legend. While Mr. Toole has evidently seen and appreciated the worth of Mr. Jefferson's portrayal of Washington Irving's masterpiece, yet here and there he gives indications of originality not to be expected under the circumstances. The supporting company includes a number of well-known artists, fully competent to do the work required of them.

Emerson's Market.

Fresh killed chicks and fowls, lamb pork and tomatoes. We also have spinach, shell beans, cauliflower, gem melons, sweet potatoes, squash, lettuce, celery, grapes, onions, cabbages, new beets and turnips.

Fall Styles in Footwear.

Mothers, bring your children to Irwin's shoe store for their school shoes. Our goods are right, our prices are right and satisfaction is assured.

Studio Opened.

Having returned from my vacation have again opened for business.

R. J. CALKIN, Photographer.

Two chairs at Ochee's barber shop. Accomplished hair dresser in attendance. Short waits.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse

Dean Academy vs. Woonsocket High School.

Dean academy football team played its second game of the season on the home grounds Wednesday, defeating the Woonsocket High school. Score—29 to 5. The features of the day were the magnificent rushing of Pulsifer, Patch and Stone, the former scoring all the touchdowns except one made by Patch. Kockersperger after kicking the first goal was thrown on the 25 yard line, wrenching his ankle and forcing him to retire from the game. The goal kicking of Nowell was also a feature.

DEAN.	Positions.	W. H. S.
Forbes	r. e.	Cook and Barry
Stone	r. t.	Carrol
Berdigan	r. g.	Estes and Stewart
Echols	c.	Normand
Woodward	l. g.	McLoughlin
Mitchell	l. t.	Lyons and Fountaine
Smith and Manning	l. e.	R[illegible] and Walsh
Phipps	quarte	Jones and Clough
Patch	r h. b.	Lord and Williams
Pulsifer	l. h. b.	Mee and Head
Kokespergar, Ba[illegible]on	f. b.	Gilbert

Touchdowns—Dean, Pulsifier 4, Patch 1; W. H. S., Gilbert. Referee—Nowell. Umpire—Baxton. Linesmen—Arnold and Smith. Timekeeper Cassidy.

Democratic Caucus.

The Democratic caucus was held in the town hall last evening. D. F. O'Sullivan, chairman and B. W. McCabe, secretary. The following were chosen delegates to the various conventions:

State convention—D. F. O'Sullivan, J. H. Riordan.

Congressional—B. W. McCabe, L. J, Kelley.

Councillor, County and Senatorial—John B. Collins, C. R. Russell.

Representative—P. P. Doherty, J. A. O'Sullivan, S. Y. Reed.

Town committee—D. F. O'Sullivan, Martin Feeley, M. J. Costello, Daniel Shea, John B. Collins, C. R. Russell.

After the adjournment of the caucus a Bryan and Stevenson club was organized. Sixty five members were enrolled and the following officers chosen: President, C. R. Russell; first vice, L. J. Kelley; second vice, Timothy Healy, Sr.; third vice, B. W. McCabe; fourth vice, W. F. Buckley; fifth vice, Dennis Fitzgerald; sixth vice, S. Y. Reed; secretary, John B. Collins; treasurer, J. A. O'Sullivan.

Woonsocket Opera House.

In the plot of William Gillette's "Secret Service" which is to be presented Wednesday, October 30, the heroine is the beautiful daughter of one of the Confederate Generals, who is loved by two men, Benton Arrelsford and Captain Thorne. The former, piqued because the heroine gives his rival the preference, endeavors to bring into disgrace the hero, who is in the secret service of the United States, and is in Richmond concerned in a plot to bring about its surrender to the North. Although the hero and heroine have differences in sectional sympathy, love finally conquers all.

The greatest production of the season will be "Qua Vadis." Don't fail to see this greatest of all scenic productions. Saturday, October 6. Friday, October 5, Broadhurst's "Why Smith Left Home."

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse.

Trash wood, ready cut for stove use, at Allen's wood yard.

Room to Let—Opposite R. G. A. hall on East street. Mrs. McCormier. 28*

To Rent.—A desirable tenement of six rooms; $12 per month. Inquire of O. T. Doe. 14-tf

Wanted.—A good tenement at $8 or $9 per month. Address B, care SENTINEL office. 25tf

Wanted.—A girl to do general housework. Apply to G. H. Grant, School street. 18-tf

Girl Wanted—A girl to do general housework. Apply to Mrs. Alfred Farrington. 21-tf

Lost—Boy's brown overcoat. Finder please return to Alfred Farrington, Franklin, Mass. 28*

A competent girl can obtain a good situation doing housework by addressing "E," SENTINEL office. 28

Get your round-trip Boston, Providence and Milford tickets of Charles H. Prince at the SENTINEL office.

Wanted.—Competent woman for general housework. Address, stating references, Box 118, Franklin, Mass 21,25,28

Sweet cider right from the press at Maple Farm, also pure cider vinegar, nine years old. Orders at Chilson's market. Jugs called for and delivered. O. S. Stetson. 25-tf

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J.B.MCKINNON, Agent.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

Pianos Tuned.

I shall be in Franklin during the second week in October to care for my pianos and to attend to new ones. Orders may be left at the SENTINEL office.

J. W. WALKER.

A new lot of potted plants, ferns, rubber plants, palms, etc.; cut flowers, roses in large or small quantities; funeral designs well made up. Slade's greenhouse.

Auction.

A lot of real estate and personal property will be sold on Saturday at the Gilmore place, on the Mount at 1 o'clock. House goods, stable goods, cattle, etc., buildings and land.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year In Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in.	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c a word, no notice less than 15c

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1900

Here is a dialogue that recently occurred between two rural members of the Kentucky militia which brings out some of the curiosities of dialect: "We've bin ordered to Frankfort." "I gad, I hain't goin'!" "I gad, you hev to go!" "I hain't and there's lots more that hain't goin', nuther!" "I gad, youns swored you go, and, I gad, you've got to go!" "I gad, we don't got to go! We hain't got no unicorns and we hain't got no guns and we hain't goin, nohow We 'most friz last time, and didn't git nuthin' to eat!" "Well, mebbe youns won't go, but if youns don't you'll git found like hell!"

Three centenarians in Philadelphia are said to be the oldest white persons in North America. They are Mrs. Celestine Nigro, an Italian, aged 110; Mrs. Sarah Doran Terry, born in New Jersey, aged 109, and Michael Mooney of Irish birth, aged 107. The oldest colored person is Jerry Skin, of Rome, Ga., who says he is 140, but his claims have not been verified.

Inoculation against glanders is being performed on every horse and mule shipped to the Philippines or Hawaii from San Francisco by the United States army, as a possible preventive against glanders.

What a Congressman Does. When a St. Louis congressman had looked over his morning mail one day the past week he found that he had these errands to do for his constituents before he could attend the sitting of the house with an easy conscience: War department, to see about the transportation of the body of a soldier who had died in Cuba back to this country; (2) navy department, to see about vacancy of assistant paymaster in the interest of a young candidate from his district; (3) general superintendent of railway mail service to push application of a constituent for promotion, (4) third assistant postmaster general, about refusal to admit publication of a constituent to mail as second-class matter; (5) pension office, to locate a pensioner who had deserted his family; (6) treasury department, to inquire about redemption of a bunch of mutilated currency; (7) geological survey, to ask for charts to be sent to a constituent. These seven miscellaneous requests came in one day's mail In addition, says a Washington correspondent, there were the usual petitions to look after pension cases. The latter range from one to seven daily The seven miscellaneous requests were a rather high average Sometimes a St Louis congressman can discharge this part of his daily routine with less traveling The requests may take him to only two or three departments. These days he considers himself in luck.

The "School of Comparative Jurisprudence and Diplomacy," at Washington, a branch of the Columbian university, is something new in American education, says the Nation. There is a school of diplomacy in Paris, which has been conducted successfully for about years, but this is the first one to be established in America, and the only other one in the world. It will confer the degree of master of diplomacy. It sometimes happens that a supply creates a demand which is a reversal of the ordinary statement. If it should prove true in this case, perhaps a supply of trained young diplomats may create a demand on the part of the United States government for them.

Through the operation of Boston's Sunday cigar law, people who wanted to smoke there on a recent Sunday were compelled to buy a cheap box of matches at a large price, and receive the tobacco, cigar or cigarette as a present.

A shell-fish, known as the pianna, in the Mediterranean has the curious power of spinning a viscid silk, which is made in Italy into a regular fabric. There is a fish that ought to make

HON. SAMUEL L. POWERS

Will be Nominated for Congressman by the Republicans of This District.

HON. SAMUEL L. POWERS.

Mr. Powers has secured an overwhelming portion of the delegates as against Mr. Williams, and will doubtless be made the unanimous choice of the convention. This is a notable victory for Mr Powers, and the district is to be congratulated that it is to have at Washington so able and splendidly equipped a representative.

Mr Powers' campaign has been such as to leave no regrets on his part, and has been conducted with due regard to the dignity of the high office which his friends have selected him to fill. Mr Powers will maintain the splendid position which the eleventh congressional district won when it was honored by the [illegible]

An Ohio girl who was married to a man after an acquaintance of three days complains now because he turns out to be a convict and not the naval captain he represented himself to be. While she undoubtedly has cause to mourn, it is hardly right that she should receive all the sympathy. The man, on his part, ran some risk. He was probably led to believe that he was getting a wife who possessed reasoning powers.

In experiments for testing the memory powers of an equal number of boys and girls at different ages in school and university classes, they were all read a simple story containing 324 words and 152 distinct ideas. The reading required three minutes, after which they immediately proceeded to write what they could remember. The conclusions were that the growth of memory is more rapid in girls than in boys.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the city of Toledo, county and state aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

SEAL

A. W. GLEASON,
Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O

Sold by druggists, 75c

Hall's Family Pills are the best

Rose Displays at Buffalo.

In the outdoor horticultural exhibits of the Pan-American Exposition will be numerous beds of roses of choice varieties, each containing 500 bushes. Imagine what a brilliant show they will make when all in blossom!

A Fall River Woman.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 15, 1900.—Mrs. Almira J. Sprague, living at 55 Seventh street, this city, states that had it not been for the well known medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, she would not now be able to do her work She has taken this medicine to purify her blood and tone up her system, and it has done her a world of good No medicine has ever helped her so much. It has made her feel strong and healthy.

Yarmouth Line's Fall Excursions.

Not to have visited Nova Scotia during September is to have missed one of the most delightful of autumnal tours. During this month the Yarmouth Steamship company will sell excursion tickets, good for thirty days from date of purchase, to all points in Nova Scotia at unusually low rates. You may go to Yarmouth and return for only $3; to Digby and return for $6.35; to Halifax and return for $8.50; and correspondingly low rates to all other places, including south shore ports reached by the steamer City of Monticello from Yarmouth Yarmouth line steamers leave Pier 1, Lewis wharf, every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 2 p. m. for Yarmouth. Full particulars and tickets at the tourist agencies, 201, 296 and 332 Washington street, or of H F. Hammond, agent Yarmouth Steamship company, Pier 1, Lewis wharf, Boston.

Traced the Resemblance.

"You remind me of my first husband," she said.

"I have felt recently," he replied, "that I was gradually becoming a very meek man."—Chicago Post.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine
Carter's
Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION
GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE.
Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

Merchants' and Manufacturers'
20th Century
Exposition,
OCT. 1st to 27th, 1900.
Mechanic's Building, Boston.

First Triennial Show Under Auspices of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Exhibition Association Incorporated.

This exposition is open to all products and manufactures of articles known to civilization and there is every reason to expect the attendance of more than a half million visitors to this [illegible] during its four weeks [illegible]

The great show will be in full operation daily from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. Sundays excepted. The most famous Bands and Orchestras that money can secure [illegible] and other special features will add to the general attractiveness and beauty [illegible]

Excursions from Everywhere

ADMISSION - - "A QUARTER."

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

The thing to do is to help the system to discharge the humors, and to strengthen the digestive and assimilative functions against their return.

Hood's Sarsaparilla can be confidently relied upon to do that, according to thousands of voluntary testimonials.

It effects radical and permanent cures.

"I was troubled with eczema for some time, but have had no return of the disease since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla." J. G. HINES, Franks, Ills.

"I was troubled with pimples on my face and back and chafed skin on my body. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me of both troubles." MISS ALVINA WOLTER, Box 212, Algona, Wis.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is positively unequaled—the medicine for all humors.

HOOD'S PILLS are the best cathartic.

A FINE HORSE SHOW.

PLANNED TO PLEASE THE VISITORS TO THE PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

A Field Day For the Fashionables. Exhibits of Horses of All Breeds. The Interest of Leading Breeders and Associations Enlisted.

A Horse Show of the fashionable kind, with all the embellishments that society can bestow upon it, will be one of the features of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo next year.

It is planned upon the lines observed in those well known society events of a like nature held annually in Madison Square Garden, New York city. Metropolitan society is regularly thrown into a flutter of excitement as the time approaches each season for these picturesque events, and the great Garden takes on a festive air that is not rivaled again throughout the year.

Society then shines resplendent. Popular conversation is upon the comparative merits of favorite animals. The decorations of the person and of the building and the attire of devotees suggest the horse. The newspapers talk horse and the whole metropolis pays homage to the high bred animals whose proud pedigrees become as familiar as the biographies of statesmen at election time.

It is expected to make the great horse show to be held in the fall of next year at this Exposition quite as spectacular and interesting as those held in New York. On this occasion the finest bred animals of the Americas will be brought together to compete for honors and the favor of the public.

The show will be held in the Stadium, which is to be the great show place of the Exposition, having seats for more than 10,000 and a track a quarter of a mile in circumference.

While a general display of horses will be made at this show, of particular interest will be the animals adapted to the uses of fashionable society, such as saddle horses and ponies, tandem drivers, hunters, jumpers, polo ponies, coupe and coach horses, four-in-hands, trotters and runners. The show will include many costly equipages and novel turnouts that are used with the finely bred animals that will be brought forward to delight the public eye.

Superintendent F. A. Converse of the Live Stock division has planned to accommodate 1,000 horses in the exhibit of American bred animals. The breeds that will be recognized are Standardbred, Thoroughbred, French coach, French trotters, Cleveland bay, Oldenburg, etc., Belgian, Hackney, Morgan, Arabs, Percheron, Clydesdale, English shire, French draft, Suffolk, Punch, Shetland ponies, Jacks and Jennets.

This will be the occasion for bringing together the finest animals bred on the western continent. While the trolley car and the automobile have relieved the horse of much of his drudgery, he continues to occupy a distinctive field of work in the general economy. The tendency of the times, too, is to produce better animals.

The cheap car horse has to a large extent gone out, and scientific breeding is replacing the common stock with horses of higher intelligence and efficiency. The experience of many breeders during the introduction of the trolley car and the flooding of the market with cheap horses was discouraging, and a large number turned their attention to other lines of work.

The situation, however, is considerably improved, and prices are again more nearly what they should be. The interest in breeding is regulated by the pecuniary reward, and the improved demand lends a new attractiveness to the breeding and training of horses. The demand for horses in cities continues brisk particularly for draft animals such as the Clydesdale and the Percheron, and for gentlemen's driving and coach horses.

The Live Stock division of the Pan-American Exposition will offer to breeders an opportunity to place before the public high bred, stylish, good acting horses with a view of showing what particular crosses are advantageous in producing such animals. Experiments have been made with a view of producing large standard bred horses with the most admirable results.

Another feature will be an exhibit of horses adapted for cavalry purposes. The extraordinary demand for cavalry horses within the last few years has brought to the attention of breeders the wisdom of producing a type of [illegible] manifest that the cavalry service requires. Not only has the demand been very large for the United States army, but foreign buyers have frequented the American markets and purchased many animals for the armies of other countries. Several large breeding establishments are already turning their attention to the raising of cavalry horses. With the great number of horses that will be brought together at the Pan-American Exposition the visitor will have an opportunity seldom equaled to make a particular study of this line of breeding.

Superintendent Converse is in correspondence with the entire 28 National Associations whose members are engaged in sheep breeding and wool growing. He reports that every association, without exception, is much interested in the Pan-American Exposition and that it will contribute exhibits to the show which will take place in September.

A strong feature of the sheep exhibit will be in the middle wool class, in which mutton is the first consideration and wool secondary. This class includes Shropshires, Oxfords, Southdowns and like breeds. The exhibits of these breeds will be exceptionally large. The classification of sheep includes some 14 breeds. Some of them are new to America, such as Tunis, Suffolks and the Highland Black Face. These new breeds will be particularly interesting on account of their novelty. The Highland Black Face is a well known breed in Scotland, but in America there are comparatively few flocks.

Wool growing is carried on in nearly every part of the United States, the business being particularly adapted to rough and mountainous districts where the steep hillsides and mountain pastures can be utilized. The exhibit of sheep will therefore come from nearly every state in the Union and will include about 1,500 of the finest bred animals. The exhibits of imported sheep will be made only by American breeders, the rules requiring that the stock shall have been in the possession of exhibitors at least 60 days before the date of the entry.

The display of swine to be made in the latter part of September will include representatives of 12 breeds. Among these will be the new breeds known as Suffolks, Victorias and Tamworths. The Tamworth stock is bred to some extent in Canada, but is practically unknown in the United States. While swine growing on an extensive scale has been confined largely to the corn belt, it is becoming a profitable industry among dairymen. It is particularly so in connection with cheese making, the byproducts furnishing an economic and suitable food for swine.

A special exhibit will be made of breeds adapted for the production of bacon. The secret of "fattening hogs lean" is the one that swine growers are striving to learn, and this exhibit will be judged with special reference to their bacon producing qualities. It is expected that not less than 1,500 animals will be shown in the exhibit of swine.

MARK BENNITT.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened; I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed; nothing helped me; I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief; I continued to use it and am now well and strong; I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50c. and $1. Trial bottles free at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

To the Deaf.

A rich lady, cured of her deafness in the head by Dr. Nicholson's Artificial Ear drums, gave $10,000 to his institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the ear drums may have them free. Address No. 5095C, The Nicholson Institute, 780 Eighth avenue, New York, U S A. jl27

DAVID CITY, NEB., April 1, 1900.
Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN O that there is nothing better or healthier We have used it for years My brother was a great coffee drinker He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it and told us to use GRAIN O We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

Yours truly, LILLIE SOCHOR.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today Try Jell-O, a delicious dessert. Prepared in two minutes No baking add hot water and set to cool Flavors Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers, 10c.

Chilson's Market

Fresh Killed Chicken, 20c lb.
Fresh Killed Fowl, 16c.
Lamb Legs, 14 to 16c.
Boston Celery, 13c bunch, 2 for 25c.
Grapes--Concord, 10c basket; Delaware, 15c; Niagara, 13c.
White Sponge Flour, $5.00 barrel.

CHILSON,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe1-1yS

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN
SAVINGS BANK,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, } Vice Presidents.
LESTER L. BURRINGTON,
WALTER M. FISHER,
DR. GEORGE KING,
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, E. P. Chapman, B. M. Rackwood, George W. Wiggin, Charles Stewart.

STATEMENT JULY 31, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors		$571,160 11
Guarantee Fund		28,217 86
Profit and Loss Account		738 99
Interest Account		567 15
Real Estate Income Account		16 19
		$600,700 30

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		27,759 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
C. F. Boynton account		3,043 72
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		28,975 00
" " Mortgages		157,560 00
" " Personal Securities		169,891 18
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		4 97
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$7,822 25
Nat. Bank of Redemption	4,095 58
Mercantile Trust Co	84 16
		12,001 99
Cash on hand		152 37
		$600,700 30

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

ADELBERT D. THAYER,
CHARLES STEWART,
Committee of Examination.

July 31, 1900.

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN
EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON).

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.
Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.
ap14-Ftf

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative
Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE,
McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW
Enclosed · Arc · Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE
BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.
UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

Do You Want to know about Automobiles—the different kinds their construction, care and operation—tours, runs, etc., of owners and users? If so, you should subscribe for the handsomely illustrated, thoroughly original, up-to-date automobilists' monthly.
$1 a year. 10c. a copy. Sample two 2c.-stamps. Live Agents wanted.
The Automobile
150 Nassau [illegible]
au10-F

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co.
Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.
se14-4w

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists se25-1w

PATENTS DESIGNS
TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED
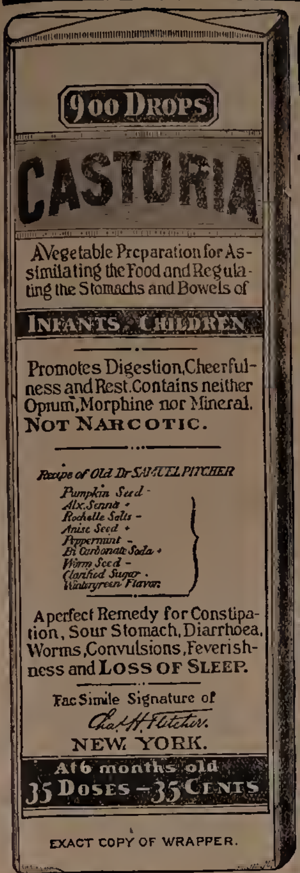
ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY
FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.
Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

MONEY
To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address,
THE PATENT RECORD,
Baltimore, Md.
Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.



900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER

Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna +
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed +
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda +
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar .
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES — 35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY. NEW YORK CITY.

A BIG CATTLE SHOW.

ALL BREEDS TO HAVE RECOGNITION AT THE BUFFALO EXPOSITION.

A Building to Be Devoted to Exhibits of Dairy Appliances, Methods and Products—Milk In All Its Commercial Forms.

It is expected that the live stock, poultry and pet stock exhibits at the Pan-American Exposition next year all told will include about 25,000 individuals. Beginning the latter part of August, Superintendent Frank A. Converse has arranged for a special cattle show, to continue two weeks. The 16 or 17 breeds recognized in this country and Canada, including beef and dairy cattle, will have a place in this division. The classification of beef animals includes the Shorthorns, Herefords, Aberdeen-Angus, Galloways, Devons and Polled Durhams. The National Live Stock, Shorthorn, Hereford and Galloway associations will endeavor to make exhibits exceliing in interest any that they have heretofore brought together. The co-operation of these great associations gives strong assurances of an unqualified success in this feature of the show. The National Live Stock association expects to make a very instructive exhibit, showing the character of animals upon the ranches many years ago along with those of the present day, illustrating the remarkable results of scientific breeding.

The dairy associations are putting forth a special effort to be represented at the Exposition by their best animals, and individual exhibitors are preparing to come in considerable numbers with specimens of very fine dairy stock. The displays of dairy breeds will include Jersey, Holstein, Ayrshire, Guernsey, Brown Swiss, Red Polled, French Canadian and Dutch Belted cattle. Liberal prizes are to be awarded by the Exposition for the best animals of the several breeds. These attractive purses are certain to bring out a fine selection of animals.

So important are the dairy interests of the Americas that a large building will be devoted exclusively to them at Buffalo. The building will be equipped with a complete refrigerating outfit, so that fresh exhibits may be shown throughout the continuance of the Exposition. The many ins and outs of dairy management will be illustrated by means of models of stable appurtenances, ties, water buckets, mangers and appliances of all kinds. Particular attention will be given to the proper manipulation of dairy products.

In this connection will be shown all sorts of churns, separators, vats, bottles, butter workers, cans, creamers, apparatus for sterilizing and pasteurizing and vessels for setting and shipping milk. An exhibit will be made with special reference to the sanitary and hygienic management of the animals themselves, the stables which they occupy and the buildings in which the milk and cream are cared for. It has been found that nearly all diseases to which dairy cattle are subject can be avoided by cleanliness and proper management. The germ theory of the transmission of disease has had a revolutionary effect in dairy management, and the importance of the observance of hygienic rules will be graphically portrayed. The ventilation of dairy buildings, having due regard for the comfort and health of the animals, has been developed upon scientific lines, and present knowledge upon this feature of dairy construction will be shown by means of proper models. The exhibit of dairy products will include milk and cream in all their commercial forms, embracing pasteurized, sterilized and condensed milk, butter and many varieties of cheese.

America has never produced a distinctive breed of beef or dairy animals, but scientific breeding has so improved upon the imported stock that it is said the American product would hardly be recognized in the land of its origin. The effort will be made at this Exposition to bring to the attention of stock growers, dairymen and unscientific breeders of beef and dairy cattle the advantages to be derived from the possession of choicer and more efficient breeds.

It is said that half the dairymen in the United States are milking cows with no profit to their owners, while it is possible for well bred cows, whose milk is marketed at normal prices, to yield a profit of $100 per annum. This lesson in profit and loss concerns every one who devotes any part of his time to dairy work.

The judging of cattle will take place in the Stadium, where the honors will be bestowed and where an audience of 10,000 people may witness these formalities. The live stock buildings will accommodate not less than 1,000 cattle, and their construction is upon plans best adapted for the comfort and convenience of the animals and herdsmen.

MARK BENNITT.

LAUGHING GAS.

Mary and Her Landlord.

Mary opened a little shop
To help her on life's way,
And honest toil found its reward,
And it began to pay.

"How's biz?" the landlord often asked,
And Mary was imprudent;
Of course she never guessed he was
An economic student.

But Mary's landlord's eagle eye
Was watching how things went,
And when the first of May came round
He doubled Mary's rent.

The imposition staggered her,
But what could Mary do?
Subsistence bare is the tenant's share,
All above is the landlord's due.

So Mary kept on as before,
Improving as time went,
But step by step, with increased trade,
The landlord raised the rent.

And thus the merry game went on Till Mary's life was spent;
As fast as God could prosper her
The landlord raised the rent.
—Westminster Review.

Exchanging Careers.

It is not always the first profession a man chooses that proves to be the right one. A modern instance is that of four young men who were fellow cadets at the United States Military academy at West Point in the class of '69. They were Arthur Sherburne Hardy, John Brisben Walker, Charles King and John Savage, whose rooms in the barracks adjoined.

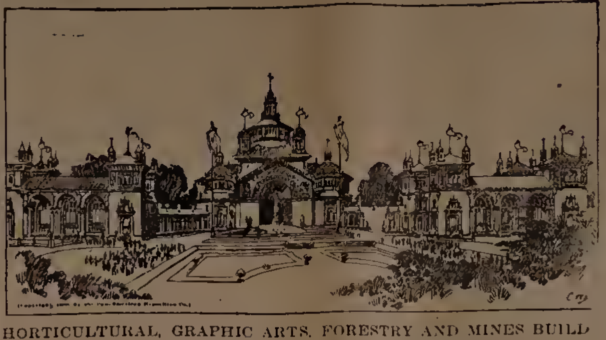
None of the four dreamed of a literary career. Mr. Walker and Mr. Hardy became magazine editors, while Captain King and Colonel Savage became noted authors and writers. On the other hand, General Joseph R. Hawley and General William F. Rogers began life as editors, but won fame after they had exchanged the pen for the sword.

Examples are not lacking in other lines, as is shown by the experience of Francis B. Thurber, who became a lawyer after a long career in business, and in that of William C. Whitney, who abandoned law to become a business man and capitalist. Mental alertness will enable a young man to quickly exchange a career for which he is not fitted for one in which success will await his efforts provided he be made of the right sort of material.—Success.

Preparing the Kansas Exhibit.

Kansas is preparing a grand display of fruits and other products for the Pan-American Exposition. Kansas is popularly looked upon only as a great corn state, but her possibilities in all round farming, stock raising and fruit and vegetable growing are to be shown by means of splendid object lessons in her exhibits at Buffalo next year.

The advance of knowledge upon the subject of irrigation has prompted the management of the Pan-American Exposition to provide for an adequate exhibit showing methods of irrigation and various tools and supplies.



HORTICULTURAL, GRAPHIC ARTS, FORESTRY AND MINES BUILDINGS, PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

THE STADIUM.

Magnificent Arena For the Display of Live Stock and For Sports.

While the Stadium at the Pan-American Exposition was designed primarily for athletic and sporting events, it is intended also for the parade and judging of live stock and for the exhibition of farm and road machinery, traction engines, automobiles and other vehicles in motion. It will be the most magnificent arena ever erected in America. The seating capacity is 12,000. It will contain a quarter mile track and abundant space for all the popular athletic games and sports.

It is said that no exhibitor has ever had such a splendid arena in which to make displays of live stock, machinery or vehicles.

The architectural adornment of the Stadium is very simple and beautiful, giving it an aspect of massiveness and durability. The arrangement is that of a vast amphitheater, the seats being under cover and affording comfort to the spectators. The main entrance of the Stadium is a large building whose upper floors will be used for restaurant purposes. This building is 241 feet long by 52 feet wide, with towers 164 feet high. The architecture is very picturesque and appropriate for the use for which it is intended.

The style is that of the Spanish Renaissance in conformity with the general character of Exposition buildings. The lower story is an arcaded arrangement, and the red tile roof has broad eaves. Bright colors will be used in the further decoration of the building, and the old Spanish towers give it a finished beauty and make it one of the most prominent features of the Exposition.

The Stadium is on the east side of the Plaza, opposite the Midway. It is near the great northern entrance to the Exposition, adjacent to the steam and trolley railway stations. The Athletic Carnival to be held in the Stadium is intended to be one of the most important ever held in America. It will bring together many of the most famous specialists in the world, who will entertain the Exposition visitors with their feats of strength, skill and endurance. The Stadium resembles the one built at Athens a few years ago and is intended as a model of what it is hoped some day may be executed in permanent form.

GREAT FOOD EXHIBIT.

A Comprehensive Display From Pan-American Countries at Buffalo.

In the division of Foods and their accessories an exhibit will be made at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo of a most comprehensive character and covering one-quarter of the large area of the Manufactures and Liberal Arts building.

The division will bring to the attention of the consumers and tradesmen the food resources of Pan-America, showing them that the countries of the western hemisphere produce, and are capable of producing in quantities sufficient for all demands, a great variety of foods that are now imported from the islands and countries of the far East.

It is hoped thus greatly to stimulate Pan-American trade. The division will present a collection of food products and their accessories in such a way as to challenge the interest of every inquiring visitor, and he will be offered valuable instruction upon the nature, origin and use of the various foods.

One group will relate to literature and statistics of food, live plants, vines and trees from all parts of the western world and miscellaneous specimens of trunks, limbs, leaves, seeds, grasses and grains.

Under another will be exhibited such products as coffees, teas, cocoas, chocolates, kola and their substitutes, spices, aromatics, mustards, olives, vinegars and other condiments, herbs, hops, essential oils and flavoring extracts. An interesting collection of confectionery and sweets, including the sugar cane, beet, sorghum, maple, grape, palm, etc., honey and glucose, will be exhibited. Preserves and kindred products will be shown under another group and nuts and dried fruits and vegetables, etc., under another. Prepared cereals, breads and crackers, Indian corn as food for the table, macaroni and preparations of paste and leavening preparations will constitute still another interesting group. Mineral waters and beverages, both alcoholic and nonalcoholic, preserved and packed meats and sea food, gelatin preparations and even machinery used in food preparation processes will be displayed. The food exhibit is under the supervision of Mr. G. Edward Fuller an expert of worldwide reputation in this line of work, who has traveled around the world and into many of its remote corners in search of information upon the subject of foods.

You May Need

Pain-Killer

For Cuts Burns Bruises

Cramps Diarrhœa All Bowel Complaints

It is a sure, safe and quick remedy.

There's ONLY ONE

Pain-Killer

Perry Davis'.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.

POULTRY AND PET STOCK.

Mammoth Display of Feathered Favorites to Be Made at Buffalo.

There are some 45 national associations interested in poultry raising in the United States. The Live Stock division of the Pan-American Exposition, of which Frank A. Converse is superintendent, is in correspondence with all of these, and a most cordial co-operative spirit is shown on the part of every one toward making the poultry and pet stock show of this Exposition the greatest of the kind ever held. The displays of poultry will comprise about 100 breeds. To these will be added six breeds of turkeys, 11 breeds of ducks and nine breeds of geese.

As an evidence of their interest in the coming show many of the associations have volunteered to duplicate the prizes offered by the Exposition. It is also proposed by the associations to do all in their power to boom this feature of the Pan-American Exposition at the winter poultry shows to be held in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other cities. It is estimated that not less than 75 per cent of the poultry associations will offer special prizes.

An important feature of the Pet Stock Show will be the exhibit of Belgian hares. The classification, however, covers all kinds of pet stock. The Belgian hares are being extensively raised in various parts of the country on account of the value of their meat. The fine stock in these animals brings a very high price, and the demand is surprisingly great. The Belgian hare is much heavier than the common rabbit, weighing some seven or eight pounds and quite a different animal. Its flesh is described as a cross between venison and mutton and is highly prized in European countries for food. It breeds rapidly and feeds upon such simple and cheap foods as carrots, white oats, lettuce, clover and tender green food of many kinds. It does not burrow and is very tame. Children are very fond of them as pets.

Aside from their value for food, their fur is in demand for making fine felt. This will be the first noteworthy exhibit of these animals in America and will afford an opportunity for every one to gain useful knowledge concerning them.

Not a Case In Point.

Mr. Goodygirth—Now don't get in too much of a hurry, my dear; haste makes waste, you know.

Mrs. G.—Oh, I don't know; you were never known to be in a hurry, and I'm sure you've got plenty of waist.—Boston Courier.

The Truth of the Matter.

"I understand that Spiffins has resigned the management of that business," said Bloomfield.

"My understanding is that he was fired from the mismanagement of it," added Bellefield. — Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Unprofitable Game.

City Sportsman—Any game here?

Jerseyman—Plenty o' snipe.

"Snipe! It doesn't pay to hunt them. Too small."

"Too small ter cook?"

"Too small to hit."—N. Y. Weekly.

Shabby.

He—Marry me, darling, and life will be one grand, sweet song.

She—I am not quite sure about the sweetness. On ten per week it could only be a rag-time song. — Chicago Daily News.

Another Kind of Lying.

If a man conceals the truth he lies in ambush.—Chicago Daily News.

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but skin eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them, also old, running and fever sores, ulcers, boils, felons, corns, warts, cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, chapped hands, chilblains. Best pile cure on earth; drives out pains and aches. Only 25c box; cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists.

Jell-O, the New Dessert, pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers, 10c.; try it to day.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Comer's Commercial College

Known Everywhere

as the most modern, progressive and in every way "up-to-date" business school. Prepares

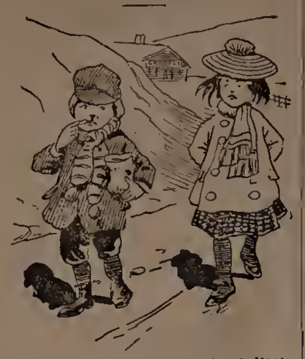
Young Men and Women

in the shortest time—at the least expense—for good paying business positions. Day and evening sessions. If you want to know all about Shorthand, Book-keeping and the most successful Employment Department send for latest prospectus.

666 Washington St., cor. Beach St., BOSTON.

se14-6wF

HOW SHE FIGURED IT OUT.



Jimmy (with the peanuts)—A little girl choked to death eating peanuts the other day.

Jane—Well, she'd been livin' yet if she'd known you!—N. Y. World.

Not a Circumstance.

The chilliness of liquid air
Seems more like warmth, 'tis found,
To those who meet that frigid stare
Where Boston girls abound.
—Elliott's Magazine.

The Way It Came About.

He—The woman was the first temptress, you know.

She—Oh, yes. But if the man hadn't had more stomach than conscience or heart he wouldn't have succumbed.—Philadelphia North American.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run down invalid. Only 50c. at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store.

Broken Bric-A-Bracs.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man, of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's cement. The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are to expensive and do not allow large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $3.75 a pound, and another cost $2.65 a gallon while a large share of the so called cements and liquid glue, upon the market are nothing more than 16 cent glue, dissolved in water or citric acid, and in some cases, altered slightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials. Major's cement retails at fifteen and twenty-five cents a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make a larger profit. The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising which now amounts to $5000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876. Insist on having Major's. Don't accept any off hand advice from a druggist. If you are at all handy (and you will be likely to find that you are more so than you imagine) you can repair your rubber boots and family shoes, and other rubber and leather articles, with Major's rubber cement and Major's leather cement. And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will save. If your druggist can't supply you, it will be fowarded by mail; either kind. Free of postage.

Not for Him.

"Are you an advocate of spelling reform?"

"No, by Jinks! I'm taking a dictionary that costs three dollars a number, and I've got 24 numbers of it bound and paid for."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Bismarck's Iron Nerve

Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where stomach, liver and kidneys and bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25c. at A. C. Mason & Co.'s

Do you read what people say about Hood's Sarsaparilla? It is curing all forms of disease caused or promoted by impure blood.

Days of Comfort, Nights of Rest
if you take Pyny-Pectoral for that cough.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m. S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m, 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m. 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a. m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m, S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m, 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week............ 50
Single Oallon.................................. 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.
17-tf F

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
..AND...
C.B.Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
.·. Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J.Gallison, M.D
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m.
12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours. From 2 to 3 p. m., and by appointment.
92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday. Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.
M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1839.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT
Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all here is to it.

Truss Advice.

We advise an Elastic Belt Truss because it wears longer than the spring truss, fits better and is far more comfortable We have had a long personal experience with all styles of trusses. Throw your old spring truss away and get one of our Elastic Belt Trusses. We can fit you. Double and single at moderate prices.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK, FRANKLIN.

WRENTHAM.

Daniel Brown leaves Friday for his annual hunting trip in the Maine woods, and Elbridge J. Whitaker, Esq., Selectman William F. Maintein and John Weber start the first of October for their usual hunting near Moosehead lake. They will be gone nearly two weeks.——Hiram A Cowell left town Wednesday for an extended trip throughout the west.——Constable Edgar I Blake is out looking for unlicensed dogs——Misses Ida and Bertha Fuller are visiting friends in Pigeon Cove.——Miss Clara J. Randall, of the primary school, is taking a vacation in New York. During her absence her duties are being attended to by Miss Bertha Fuller——The Republican caucus was held Monday night in the town hall at Plainville and the following delegates chosen: State, A W. Burton, Chas W. Pond; councillor, Daniel Brown, J. H. Shannon; congressional, E. J. Whitaker, Franklin Brown; senatorial, Geo. W. Wood, J E Grant; county, W. H. Nash, D. S Farrington; representative, W F Maintein, W C. Averell, Fred E. Gilmore, Hosmer F. Keeney; town committee, E. J. Whitaker, Franklin Brown, W E. Pond, J. E. Carpenter, W F. Maintein. The delegates to the congressional convention were for Williams Fifty-one votes were cast.

Embarrassing.

Lobbyist—What did you mean by refusing to vote on this measure?

Congressman I had forgotten which way you paid me to vote.—N Y Journal.

No Need to Listen

Mr. De Lond I have—er—called, sir, about—er—about your daughter, sir. Will you—er—listen to my suit?

Old Gentleman—Huh! I could hear that suit a block off!—N Y Weekly.

No Gripe, Pain

Or discomfort, no irritation of the intestines—but gentle, prompt, thorough healthful cleansing, when you take

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.

Church Services.

Universalist church.—Rev. Dwight M. Hodge, D.D., pastor, will preach at 10.30 on "Do We Make Enough Out of Life."

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 4. Sunday school at 3. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D.; Sunday school at 12. Rally Sunday, Y P S. C. E. at 6.30. Evening service at 7.30. Address by the pastor; theme, "A Strike for Salvation."

Baptist church.—At 10.30 preaching by the pastor, Rev. Frank B. Sleeper; theme, "An Unspeakable Calamity." Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.15. Preaching at 7.30; theme, "Must Young People's Christian Societies Die?" The ordinance of baptism will be administered.

Methodist church—Preaching at 10.30 and 7.30 by the pastor, Rev. S A. Cook; morning subject, "The Spiritual Seed and the Ground of the Soul;" evening subject, "The Great Invitation." Sunday school at 12. Junior Epworth league at 3. Epworth league at 6.30; subject, "Our Foolish Excuses"—Luke xiv, 15 24.

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending September 26, 1900

Ladies—Miss Katie E. Conners, Mrs. A M. Miller, Miss Annie Kernan, Mrs. S. S Riske, Miss Mary Ryan, Miss N. J Whitaker.

Gentlemen—John Brown, W E. Miller, F C. Wilkie.

Foreign—Andrea Vijoochi, Fiorinto Cotesco.

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

Read the Business Announcements.

SLEEPING-ROOM OUTFIT ON EASY TERMS:

This comprises an elegant selected Chamber Set in golden oak finish, 2 Chairs, Rocker and Table to match, Woven Wire Spring, 1 pair Pillows, a good Mattress and Decorated Dresden Toilet Set.

ALL FOR $38.00.

TERMS—$5.00 or $10.00 down, $1.00 each week.

Where will you go to get credit? Don't go at all. COME—your credit is good right here.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free Delivery at your home the hour you name.

Special Prices

For Friday, Saturday and Monday.

SKIRTS.

LADIES' RAINY-DAY SKIRTS, were $1.98 to $4, this sale, $1.25.

WRAPPERS.

LADIES' $1.25 and $1.50 WRAPPERS, to close, 97c.
LADIES' $1.00 WRAPPERS, to close, 79c.

SHIRT WAISTS.

SHIRT WAISTS, were 39c., now 15c.
SHIRT WAISTS, were 50c., now 19c.
SHIRT WAISTS, were 87c., now 29c.
SHIRT WAISTS, were $1.00, now 39c.
SHIRT WAISTS, were $1.50 and $2.00, choice 98c.
SILK WAISTS, size 32 bust, were $3.75, to close, 98c.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.

BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

A Biblical Reason.

Jeweler—Why do you refer to watch cases without movements as faith?

Pious Clerk—Well, you see, they don't amount to very much without good works.—Jewelers' Weekly

Very Bad.

Jimmie—How's business?

Cracker—Bad, very bad.

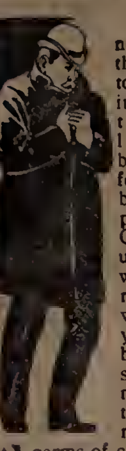
Jimmie—What yer been doin' lately?

Cracker—Robbin' safes.—N. Y. Weekly

What People Never Do.

Folks sometimes take ill what is meant well, but they never take well what is meant ill.—Chicago Democrat.

COUGHS KILL



We know of nothing better than coughing to tear the lining of your throat and lungs. It is better than wet feet to cause bronchitis and pneumonia. Only keep it up and you will succeed in reducing your weight, losing your appetite, bringing on a slow fever, and making everything exactly right for the germs of consumption.

Better kill your cough before it kills you.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

kills coughs of every kind. A 25 cent bottle is just right for an ordinary cough; for the harder coughs of bronchitis you will need a 50 cent bottle; and for the coughs of consumption the one dollar size is most economical.

"My cough reduced me to a mere skeleton. I tried many remedies, but they all failed. After using the Cherry Pectoral I immediately began to improve, and three bottles restored me to health. I believe I owe my life to it."

SARAH F. MORGAN,
Oct. 7, 1898. Browntown, Va.

WANTED

AT ONCE.

Pullers of Shoddy Felt.
Machine Girls for Felt Work.
Trimmers for Ladies' and Children's Felt Hats.

BASSETT BROS.

Woonsocket Opera House,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

JOSH E. OGDEN, - Lessee and Manager.

Doors open at 7.15. Performance at 8 p. m.

WILLIAM GILETTE'S

SECRET SERVICE

Prices 25, 50, 75c, and $1.00.

FRIDAY, OCT 5.—Broadhurst's Gleeful Plenitude, WHY SMITH LEFT HOME. Prices 25, 50, 75 and 25c.

SATURDAY, OCT. 6.—F.C Whitney & Knowles' New York production, QUO VADIS. Prices 25, 50, 75c and $1.00.

Seats now on [illegible] above companies.

At

WOODWARD'S

every description of

INSURANCE

can be placed. This

AGENCY

officially represents the

LEADING

American and Foreign

COMPANIES.

F A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.
my4-1yF

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Felix Auclair, late of Bellingham in the county of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond and appointing Jules Beraud of Blackstone, county of Worcester, state of Massachusetts, his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

PIERRE CHAPDELAINE.
61s Social St., Woonsocket, R. I.
September 28, 1900. se28,o5,12

If you want to buy or sell anything, have lost anything, or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent a word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow.

UP IN SMOKE

There are many financial schemes that send your money "up in smoke."
The money you invest in

OUR CIGARS

Also goes "up in smoke"—with a difference—

YOU GET YOUR MONEY'S WORTH!

I carry a carefully selected stock of the Best Known Brands of

IMPORTED, KEY WEST AND DOMESTIC CIGARS.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

Autumn Dressmaking

Carries with it a hundred perplexities as to style, material and cost. The information women need at this time is crowded into the pages of the October Delineator. One hundred illustrations of clothing, millinery, etc.; several pages in colors. Fifteen cents. For sale in our Pattern Department. This department will repay a visit on the part of patrons who wish to make their own clothes.

Butterick Patterns
and Publications.

N. C. NYE.

Our Business for Half a Century has been to make and sell

CLOTHING FOR Men and Boys.

We make but one grade of goods—the highest—and the work is done on our own premises under cleanly conditions and open at any time to the inspection of our customers.

It is impossible to make, anywhere, BETTER clothing than we make, or to sell it at a LOWER PRICE.

MACULLAR PARKER COMPANY,
400—Washington Street—400
BOSTON.

se28-F

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Coal! Coal!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. NC. ISPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tfS

Your Wife is a Jewel

and her home is the setting. It is your duty to make this setting as beautiful as possible. Elaborateness doesn't necessarily mean beauty. Some of the prettiest Furniture in our store is the least expensive. Look around at home and then look around here, and you'll find means to brighten up the house wonderfully.

A small payment at time order is given and a little every week will pay for all your Furniture needs.

CHAMBER OUTFIT.

Suit complete, including Mattress, Springs and Toilet Set, $26.50
$2.75 down, 75c. a week.

KITCHEN OUTFIT.

Complete with Range, Table, Chairs, Oil Cloth, small ware, $35.00
$3.50 down, $1.00 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Hoag Lake PARK.

Week of Sept. 24.

Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.15.

Boom's European Celebrities.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je26-toc1

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

JUST RECEIVED, A NEW LINE OF

Blanks, Pads, Tablets, Pencils, School Bags, Etc.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:

For a distance of	5 miles or less,	10c
	5 to 15 miles,	15c
	15 to 25 "	20c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Telephone Service at Your Residence

Is useful always, helpful often, necessary sometimes and cheap all the year round

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

se25-2mF

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Charles W. Thayer, late of Bellingham, in said county, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to [illegible] Thayer of [illegible] without giving a surety on her bond,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the 17th day of October, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eighteenth day of September, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

se21,28,oc5

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 79. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Notice to Voters	4
Jog Along Clothing Co.	4
Marston Sanborn	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" " "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 00 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10 30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

H. R. Jenks is able to be out again.

Selectman J. J. McCarthy has gone to Kentucky.

Miss Olive Glenister of Boston has been visiting friends in town.

A number of the Red Men enjoyed the meeting at Worcester last week.

There will be a regular meeting of the Foresters tomorrow evening.

The hourly timetable went into effect on the Medway street railway Monday.

Miss Kate Shumsky has returned after a week's stay with friends in Providence.

Miss Bessie Sherman of Wayland is visiting her cousin, Miss Alice Sherman.

Mrs. H. O'Donnell and family of Crescent street moved to Watertown yesterday.

Hosie Bros. have just put on a fine new low gear express wagon for use in their business.

Aaron Willard and family have changed their place of abode from Garfield street to Dean avenue.

Mrs. James E. Razee and daughter Hortense are visiting Mrs. Razee's mother at Salem.

The barbers have agreed to hereafter close their shops on Thursday afternoons, beginning this week.

The Franklin Country club contests with the Cumberland club at Woonsocket on Saturday at golf.

Miss Lucy B. Connor has resigned as teacher here, to take effect Friday, for a better position in Natick.

F. H. Bartholomew is preparing for winter by replacing his furnace with a new Plummer steam heater.

Rev. and Mrs. G W. Miner will entertain Lawrence Guild at the rectory Wednesday evening from 7 till 9.

Miss Myrtie Whiting will sing at the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary at West Medway on Thursday.

Richard Costello of West street has accepted a position as telegraph operator at the Parker house, Boston.

George Sneath caught a fine partridge in his hen yard last week. How it came to be there he does not know.

C. E. Whiting is putting a veranda upon the east side of his house, Contractor Crowninshield doing the work.

In the district court Thursday morning Alexander McCullock was sent to the state farm at Bridgewater for drunkenness.

W. A. Pond has sold the G. A. Crockett farm of 30 acres at West Medway, with stock and tools, to Henry Kinkle of Norwood.

Mrs. J. Walrath and daughter Anna Mae of Oswego, N. Y., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Drown of the Crescent House.

Sylvester G. Buxton is the new pressman at the SENTINEL office, taking Fred Handerson's place, who enters a new business.

The liquors taken at the recent seizure were tried in court here this morning. No claimants appearing, they were ordered forfeited.

Horace P. Sawyer, who was called here from Norway, Me., last week on account of the death of his mother, returned home yesterday.

Joseph G. Ray is one of the full backs at Tufts this year, and the Boston Journal says he "is a hard working man and a good little plunger."

"Peck" Chisolm, a former resident here, is "home from the war" in Manilla. He likes soldiering well enough, but not so far away from home.

On Wednesday evening last J. B. McKinnon and Miss Etta McMillan were married at St. Mary's rectory, Rev. M. J. Lee performing the ceremony.

The first meeting of the Mothers' section will be held on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. A. M. Thayer, when a debate will be enjoyed.

The many press notices of the performance of "The Pied Piper" are very complimentary and our townspeople may be assured of a delightful evening.

Mrs. F. P. Black, wife of the ex governor of New York state, has been here the past few days as guest of her sister, Miss Sara Hamlin, at Dean academy.

Rev. Mr. Sneath will deliver the address of greetings from the Mendon Conference on Thursday at the 150th anniversary of the West Medway church.

W. F. Morey of Milford, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Noyes of Providence and Arthur Jenness of Raynham were visitors at the residence of Mrs. S. T. Razee on Sunday.

October devotions will be held in St. Mary's chapel on Tuesday and Thursday evenings during the month. Masses will be celebrated every morning during the week at 7 o'clock.

The King's Daughters will hold their first meeting of the fall Wednesday evening at 7 30 at the home of Amy Briggs. Will all please come prepared to pay annual dues.

St. John's Guild will meet at the rectory on Crescent street Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This will be an important meeting, at which all members are urged to be present.

On Saturday evening, at the Congregational parsonage, Dr. Sneath united in marriage Charles E. Ellis and Miss Jennie F. Aldrich, both of Franklin. They will reside on Elm street.

It is quite likely that W. D. Fellows, secretary of the Fall River Y. M. C. A., may be heard here shortly in the interest of the work in Franklin. He is thoroughly in earnest and a fine speaker.

The principal parts in the operetta of "The Pied Piper" will be taken by the following persons: Piper, Mr. Hosford; Mayor, Mr. Leach of Walpole; Gretchen, Miss Grace Adams; schoolmaster, Mr. Desmond.

Some of our warm politicians have been wondering why we are having no political rallies thus far. By the decision of the Republican national committee the speaking campaign does not begin until October 2.

Franklin is really in its youth, when you think of Medfield celebrating its two hundred and fiftieth anniversary next year and the West Medway church enjoying its one hundred and fiftieth anniversary next Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L Wales have returned to their home in Waterbury, Conn. Mr. Wales is a Franklin boy, and has risen through his own pluck and energy to the position of superintendent of the street railway system of that city.

Edward S. Spring has tendered his resignation as superintendent of the Norfolk Western and Medfield and Medway street railways in order to accept a position with the Boston and Lowell street railway company. He will be missed here.

P. B. Whitney of Walpole was in town on Saturday with a new automobile, built upon the lines of the Stanley steam carriage, though with a number of new improvements. It was built at the Plympton works in Walpole. Ye editor enjoyed his first ride in a steam carriage.

The forty-seventh annual meeting of the Thurber medical society, to be held in Milford on Thursday, is to be a notable affair. Dr. J. C. Gallison of this place, is to preside as anniversary chairman, Congressman (to be) S. L. Powers is to speak, and Dr. French of the Medfield insane asylum is to have a paper.

The following children of the Four Corners school were neither absent or tardy during the month of September: Freddie Brogan, Beatrice Copeland, Mildred Dauphinee, Bertha Feeley, Lina Hamilton, George Joyce, Emma King, May Keefe, Chester Ledbury, Louise Richmond, Genevieve Searle, Lora Searle, Raymond Smith, Willard Smith, Robert Winters, Leon Long.

John A. Geb removed yesterday from West street to the house recently purchased by him on West street, and on Saturday his brother, Jacob Geb, moved into the Morse house on Union street, which became his property a few weeks ago. F. P. Bly and family, who formerly lived there, have moved into the residence at the corner of Pleasant and Alpine streets.

Announcement is made of the intended marriage of Miss Emma Frances Bradley of Somerville, formerly a resident of Franklin, a graduate of the High school here and lately a teacher in the Somerville schools, to Joseph Degan of New Haven, Conn., on Wednesday evening, Oct. 10, the ceremony to be performed at the residence of the bride's mother, No. 7 Buckingham street, Somerville.

The telephone company commenced business in its new quarters yesterday morning, the two rooms at the rear of the Fletcher building up stairs being finely fitted up. Miss Tracy is in charge as formerly and a night man will be on duty all night. A pay station has been arranged in Mason's drug store, where patrons can telephone as before, the old room being reserved for that purpose.

The following children of the third grade, Nason street school, were neither absent nor tardy during September: Clarence Arnold, Maud Blackmar, Robt. Carlson, Emma Clark, Alice Cook, Carleton Corbin, Irwin Daniels, Raymond Dean, Sara Doherty, Percy Fairfield, George Geb, Sadie Gormley, Oliver Holmes, James Hutchinson, John Hutchinson, Stella Johnson, Lizzie Joyal, Eddie King, Agnes Landry, Dora Landry, Esmah Metcalf, Anna Morris, George Murphy, Annie Pariseau, George Pendleton, Sadie Pendleton, Henry Petron, Grace Russell, Max Seisel.

There was a large attendance at the baptismal service at the Baptist church Sunday evening. Miss Minnie R. Scott and Mr. Leander Minot were baptized. Rev. F. B. Sleeper gave an interesting and impressive discourse on the great question now being discussed at large, "Must Young People's Christian Societies Die?" The preacher boldly advanced the thought that, except young Christians work continually and ignore the age, live and sweeten in divine grace and become broadly catholic, their societies will die and ought to die. The service closed with the beautiful baptismal ritual.

Contractor J. J. McCarthy, with others associated with him, is one of the bidders on the new Clinton dam, to the extent of $2,217,255. To provide for this immense basin the town of Boylston is practically wiped off of the map. The reservoir is to provide the city of Boston, fifty miles away, with a permanent supply of pure water. The entire work will require eight years, and when completed and all conditions complied with there will be in existence Wachusett reservoir, a lake eight and one-half miles by two miles for its maximum dimensions, of an average depth of forty-six feet, maximum depth of one hundred and twenty-nine feet, and retaining sixty three billion gallons.

Daniel Pendergast, formerly superintendent of the Armour felting industry at Chicago and at present superintendent of the Byfield Felting Co., located at Byfield, Mass., has leased for a term of years the new mill erected by Enoch Waite at South Franklin last spring, and which Mr. Waite had intended to use as a paper mill. Mr. Pendergast will begin the manufacture of shoddy at the plant about Nov. 1, and will be assisted by his brother, William Pendergast, who lives here, the former maintaining his present position and residence at Byfield, while his brother will have charge of the South Franklin factory. It is also intended to manufacture horse blankets as soon as possible after the shoddy industry has been started. A part of the machinery to be used in the shoddy work is already at the mill and the rest will be shipped from Providence to South Franklin and set up during the present month.

C. L. Stewart, H. W. Thayer, J. E. Barber, C. B Johnson, R. J. Calkin and C. H. Prince went to Milford Sunday afternoon to enjoy the exercises of dedication of the new Y. M. C. A building, recently purchased in that place. The address of welcome was made by ex Mayor Fred Fosdick of Fitchburg, and State Secretary Armstrong also spoke. President Miett gave an interesting history of the work since its inception, Secretary Fellows of Fall River read the Scriptures, and Rev. Messrs McGill and Beekman also participated. Excellent music was provided and afterwards the friends enjoyed an inspection of the building. Secretary Davis appears to be just the man for the place and the work will surely be blessed, as the organization now has its own "home" and an impetus to work. In this connection we note that Marblehead held its forty first aniversary Sunday, having paid off its debt of $1350 the past year. The deeds were burned in the presence of the spectators.

Old Folks' Home at Pondville.

A fund of $20,000 is needed in order to start the home. One thousand dollars has been given by one man, and it is the wish of the King's Daughters and Sons here to be the next to pledge $1000. Will those interested in the home bear this in mind? Contributions or pledges of money sent to Miss Amy Briggs or Mrs. Clara J. Marsh, Needham, Mass., will be promptly acknowledged. The society hopes to be able to report at the county convention at East Weymouth on Thursday a small amount at least.

Dean Academy 6, Attleboro High 0.

Dean defeated Attleboro High Saturday afternoon in the cleanest exhibition of football seen on the Dean campus thus far this season by a score of 6 to 0. The game was full of interest, as both teams played a snappy, aggressive game, and one that was entirely free from any objectionable roughness. Attleboro was a little heavier on the line, particularly in the three centre men, but Dean showed the effects of competent coaching and won through their superior team work.

Attleboro kicked off to Dean's 20 yard line and Dean carried the ball back to the 40-yard line. Then followed successive rushes by Pulsifer, Thompson and Patch, all for substantial gains, until Attleboro's 15 yard line was reached. Here Richardson was over-anxious and was off side, Dean receiving 10 yards for this offense. Forbes then took the ball over the line for the only touchdown in the game. Forbes kicked the goal. The rest of the half was played almost entirely on Attleboro's territory.

The second half Attleboro played a little stronger defensive game, holding Dean for downs within a yard of their goal line, thus preventing a second touchdown by Dean. Most of Dean's gains were the results of end runs and plays directed at the tackles. Attleboro made several short gains through Dean's guards, but none of them were for more than three yards.

Pulsifer, Thompson, Forbes and Patch made strong rushes, and with Phipps, who ran the team like a veteran, played the strongest game for Dean. Roberts, the 280 pound centre, Richardson and N. Lamb put up the best game for Attleboro.

The line up was as follows:

DEAN.	Positions.	ATTLEBORO.
Manning (Burdakin)	l. e.	C. Lamb
Mitchell	l. t	Allton
Woodward	l. g.	Briggs
Echols	c.	Roberts
Burdakin, (Roberts)	r. g.	W. White
Stone	r. t.	Read
Patch	r. e.	C. White
Phipps	quarter	Cobb
Forbes	l. h. b.	Roundsvilloe
Thompson, (capt)	r. h. b.	Richardson, (capt.)
Pulsifer	f. b.	N. Lamb

Score—Dean 6, Attleboro 0. Touchdown—Forbes Goal from touchdown—Forbes. Time—15 and 10-minute halves. Umpire—Gilman. Referee—Nowell.

The Prize Winners.

The finals at golf in both the gentlemen's and ladies' classes took place on Saturday, evoking unusual interest in the successful contestants for the beautiful prizes offered by E Blakeley Smith of Providence. As may be seen by the score Carl E. Emerson captured the getlemen's prize and Miss Mabel Ray the ladies' prizes. The awarding of prizes in golf contests may not be generally understood. Players are allowed a credit handicap, which is taken off from their total or gross score, the handicap depending upon their average play. Thus, the larger the credit handicap the better chance a player has to win, as a crack player will have less deducted from his total score than a less expert player, and thus fail to carry off the prize. But that is golf and it "has to go." In the three contests W. C. Sherman went the fifty-four holes in the least number of strokes, as indicated by the score, requiring on his part but 270 strokes. The following is the score:

GENTLEMEN'S MATCH

Player.	Gross.	Handicap.	Net.
Sherman	270	24	246
C. Ray	279	39	240
Rathbun	289	24	265
Bassett	296	36	260
Nye	299	42	257
Emerson	301	60	241
Chapman	313	48	265
Palmer	320	66	254
Woodward	330	66	264
Ramsey	333	72	261
G. Gilmore	347	84	263
Rockwood	351	72	279
H. W. Thayer	358	96	262
Stanton	391	102	289

LADIES' MATCH.

Player.	Gross.	Handicap.	Net.
Miss Frances E. King	166	24	142
Mrs. E. H. Rathbun	197	63	134
Miss Mabel Ray	216	84	132
Mrs. J. P. Bassett	248	96	152
Miss Maud Stott	251	117	134
Miss Florence Elsenhardt	258	117	141
Mrs. P. A. Woodward	292	132	160
Mrs. C. F. Nye	295	132	163

Our Elder Sister.

The programme for the exercises in celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the Congregational church at West Medway will be: Wednesday evening, October 3, reception to the pastor, Rev. G. E. Sweet and wife, assisted by all the former pastors and wives. Thursday morning at 9 30, a prayer and praise service, Rev. M M. Cutter of Holliston leader, congregational singing; at 10 30, historical address by Rev. George E. Sweet, pastor of the church, followed by remarks by visiting clergymen; in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, music, after which the original poem written for the occasion by Mrs. Eleanor Spencer, and salutations given from vicinity churches; at 3, Dr. A. Z Conrad of Worcester will preach the anniversary sermon, taking for his subject, "The Angel of His Presence." to be followed by communion; evening service, beginning at 7 o'clock, will include brief addresses by vicinity and resident ministers and an address by Rev. William Byron Forbush.

A Caution.

As a physician and servant of Franklin, I protest against the indiscriminate use of the terms typhoid and typhoid fever in Franklin Our town is one of the most beautiful and healthy towns in the state.

DR. J. C. GALLISON.

Franklin, Mass., Oct. 2, 1900.

Wanted—Men.

Dr. Sneath preached on Sabbath morning at the First Congregationlist church upon the above theme, using Jeremiah v, 1, as a basis of his remarks: "Run ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem and see now and know and seek in the broad places thereof if ye can find a man, if there be any that executeth judgment, that asketh the truth" Men were needed in the days of Jeremiah, they were wanted in Diogenes' day, they are needed today. We do not want mere figure-heads, we want men. Mushrooms spring up in a night; so do mush-heads, and the world suffers from their presence. The world needs good, substantial men who seek the truth and defend the right. What is true manhood? What enters into its composition? A subject of great importance and worthy of study! Shakespeare considered it. Pope said it was the proper study of mankind. Har in his guesses at truth declared "the Christian to be God Almighty's gentleman." There is a diversity of opinion as to true manhood, but in Christ we have a clear illustration of it: He is the perfect man. "Once in the flight of ages past there lived a man," and He was it. Jesus was the true standard of man by reason of His sinlessness. In living a sinless life He lived up to the law of His own being. Sin is the transgression of the law of our own being. If we live up to the law of our own being we will not sin. The more we study the life of Christ the more we will learn the law of our own being and be inspired to live up to it. Again, Jesus became the true standard of manhood by the fact that He overcame difficulties and rose above the conditions by which He was hemmed in socially. He rose above the obstacles which came in His way from poverty, environment and the selfishness of the Jews He surmounted all obstacles, and with no family prestige, no social standing, no instruction from noted rabbies and no political influence, He pushed His way upward to the perfect life with the same persistency that the plant forces its way through the hard ground into the light of day. He also became the standard of true manhood by choosing as supreme in His life the highest possible principle of action, viz , love, and by so adhering to this principle as to give to the world the highest example of heroism ever known. He might have made a selfish choice, but He spurned all false inducements and remained firm to the highest principle of right moral action. He was the one matchless hero of history. The pilot of the Galilean lake so piloted His life that it knew but one direction, it had but one compass, it sought but one end. George Macdonald has said, "God never gave a man a thing to do concerning which it were irreverent to ponder how the Son of God would have done it." As Dr. Sheldon puts it, "What would Jesus do?" In seeking true manhood He is our standard. With His teaching and life we can approximate the true manhood be possessed, if we will but try.

Help the Young Men.

The meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last evening was decidedly enthusiastic, and the reports of committees showed a most helpful and encouraging state. Funds are being handed in every day to C. L. Stewart by friends interested in the work, the membership is growing, and it is hoped to raise about $800 so as to do the work this winter as it should be done. A good location is under consideration, where every facility will be had for reaching and helping young men. A constitution has been adopted and at the meeting next week officers will be elected. We shall shortly publish a sketch of the work which it is hoped to accomplish here in Franklin, as earnest, Christian hearts have taken a deep interest in the matter.

"The Choir Invisible."

Henry Jewett, whose sterling worth is appreciated in England and Australia as well as in America, enacts John Gray. He gives the role the artistic conception it merits, and looks the part of the Scotch Irish Kentucky schoolmaster just as well as he plays it. Miss Frances Hastings, the adapter of Jane Lane Allen's story, has so carefully planned the production and her ideas have been so successfully carried out by the producing managers, Liebler & Co., that one lives in far away Kentucky in the post-Revolutionary era, so perfect is the illusion. It is on at the Park Theatre, Boston, where it is having crowded houses.

Household Goods.

Don't forget the sale at Opera House block at 7.30 Friday evening, as some choice furniture, harnesses and miscellaneous articles will be sold.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

These are fish days. Shad, swordfish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fish-man.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse.

Read the Business Announcements.

Keep Cool.

The political pot is boiling and the canvass will soon be at fever heat. The floods of eloquence, sarcasm, sophistry and logic, not to mention misrepresentation and personal abuse, will ere long deluge the country from Maine to Texas and from the Atlantic seaboard to the Golden Gate. It will be a flood that would turn a Quaker meeting into a pandemonium were it subjected to the affliction. It will be the quadrennial of tongues; the American Babel of speech; the test of equanimity of temper; the fiery furnace of truth and character; the glory of the politicians and the despair of the truthful of spirit. Yet, like the measles, mumps, chicken-pox and the endless variety of diseases which in their turn affect the body physically, it is something that once each four years we must expect and endure. To one and all we tender the sound advice—keep cool! Maintain serenity of temper; keep full control of the vocal organs; cultivate the spirit of charity, especially that which "suffereth long and is kind;" get sound sleep and plenty of it, and above all remember that the conscientious exercise of a freeman's duty to his country will carry any citizen safely past the election crisis—this spectacular presidential football game.—Exchange.

"Ten Nights in a Barroom."

Go to Morse opera house Friday, October 5, if your mind needs relief from the worries of the day and see one of the greatest successes of the age, the beautiful melodrama, "Ten Nights in a Barroom." Did you like "The Old Homestead?" Did "Shore Acres" please you? If they did, then you will be charmed again with this great successor, "Ten Nights in a Barroom." It is a play with well proportioned light and shade, rich in humor, pathos and dramatic incident, ably acted by a capable company, its story, its purpose and the characters concerned in the plot are revealed with clearness and force. The attention which has been given to the details of the action and the scenic accompaniment has made "Ten Nights in a Barroom" an artistic success. It is a play long remembered, not alone because of novelty, but also because of the deep impression it makes upon all who witness it, whether young or old. Tickets on sale at Dana's Tuesday evening—25, 35 and 50 cents.

In Remembrance.

At a meeting of the trustees of the Benj. Franklin Savings Bank, held Monday, October 1, 1900, the following memorial was unanimously adopted:

Since it has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our councils our friend and brother, Mr. Charles J. McKenzie, we, the trustees of the Benj. Franklin Savings Bank, hereby express our appreciation of his character and faithful services as a member of this body.

While we mourn his loss and miss his genial presence at our meetings, we do much more miss his wise counsel, his faithful attention to public business and his devotion to every interest of the bank.

We also desire to extend our sympathy to Mrs. McKenzie in her great bereavement, and assure her that our high regard for her late husband prompts us to offer her any assistance in our power if occasion ever requires.

It is the pleasure of this body that this memorial be spread upon the records of the bank and a copy of the same be forwarded to Mrs. McKenzie and also published in the Franklin SENTINEL.

Respectfully submitted,

LESTER L. BURRINGTON,
GEORGE KING,
CHARLES STEWART,
Committee.

Franklin, July 29, 1900.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse.

Trash wood, ready cut for stove use, at Allen's wood yard.

To Rent.—A desirable tenement of six rooms; $12 per month. Inquire of O. T. Doe. 14-tf

Wanted.—A girl to do general housework. Apply to G. H. Grant, School street. 18-tf

Girl Wanted—A girl to do general housework. Apply to Mrs. Alfred Farrington. 21 tf

A competent girl can obtain a good situation doing housework by addressing "E," SENTINEL office. 28

Get your round-trip Boston, Providence and Milford tickets of Charles H. Prince at the SENTINEL office.

To Let.—Five rooms with stable, formerly occupied by Sabin Hubbard, Central street, near Union; call at house 2,9,18

Sweet cider right from the press at Maple Farm, also pure cider vinegar, nine years old. Orders at Chilson's market. Jugs called for and delivered. O. S. Stetson. 25-tf

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

Pianos Tuned.

I shall be in Franklin during the second week in October to care for my pianos and to attend to new ones. Orders may be left at the SENTINEL office.

J. W. WALKER.

A new lot of potted plants, ferns, rubber plants, palms, etc.; cut flowers, roses in large or small quantities; funeral designs well made up. Slade's greenhouse.

Two chairs at Ochee's barber shop. Accomplished hair dresser in attendance. Short waits.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their [illegible] lion a [illegible]

Contributors [illegible] thankfully received [illegible] SENTINEL [illegible], such as society, church, [illegible], cultural and personal [illegible]

ADVERTISING RATES

Space.	1 Wk	2 Wk.	3 Wk	1 Mo	2 Mo	3 Mo	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	10 00	16 00
3 in..	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	14 00	22 00
4 in..	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	28 00
5 in..	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
6 in..	4 75	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
¼ col	7 00	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	70 00
1 col.	12 [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Reading Notices [illegible] Announcements [illegible]

Business [illegible] one-half inch space, [illegible] year, twice a week $[illegible] per year.

TUESDAY, OCTOBBER 2, 1900

A Farmers' Association. One of the most successful but least known cooperative associations is that of the Rockwell farmers, which has just completed the eleventh year of its existence; its report shows that last year was its most prosperous. The association, says the Chicago Tribune, consists of farmers in the vicinity of Rockwell, Ia. Eleven years ago there was a firm of brothers in the neighborhood that grew rich so rapidly by buying the produce of the farmers and selling them supplies that the latter resolved to secure these profits for themselves. They formed a cooperative association, selling stock to $5 farmers in four townships in shares of one dollar each, no man being allowed to own more than three shares. The association built an elevator and began the business of marketing the grain and hogs of its members and selling them their supplies. A unique provision in the constitution has been the bulwark of the association. The members are paid one-fourth of a cent more than is given the seller outside the society, and members are compelled to pay one-fourth of a cent commission on all grain they sell to competitors. The manager pays the highest price possible, based on Chicago quotations, and if any competitor offers higher prices the members sell to him and pay the commission into the association. Thus the association's members always have a market where they can get the highest price or else the competitor must pay more than the market price to the benefit of both the association and its members. As a result, the farmers have actually always received from one-half cent to 1½ cents more for their grain than do the farmers in neighboring counties. The goods sold by the association are at prices from 20 to 25 per cent. less than at regular stores in nearby towns. The association has grown until it new has 5[illegible] members, and did over $5[illegible] business last year. The success of the association is due largely to the excellent management of its affairs and also to the fact that public sentiment prevents a break. The two or three farmers who have sold grain to outsiders without paying the commission have been ostracized socially. Its profits, of course, are due to the fact that the middleman is eliminated and its managers are content to work for merely nominal salaries. The wreck of most cooperative associations has been due to bad management and the lack of sound principles in the conduct of their affairs.

"I came across a colored man who spoke with a German accent, the other day," said a prominent stock broker. "He was a waiter in a restaurant. His accent was so pronounced that I spoke to the proprietor about it, and found that the man was a full-blooded negro, but he had been born and reared in a small town near Reading, and had always associated with the whites, who spoke Pennsylvania Dutch."

Thirty thousand maple trees in Franklin county, N. Y., are owned by a Brooklyn millionaire. He has contracted for a [illegible] sugar [illegible] to consist [illegible] lighted by electricity and provided with concrete or marble floors. Three railroad lines will be used through the woods for the purpose of gathering the sap.

During the past year 76,4[illegible] Italians emigrated to the United States, of which 53,[illegible]46 were males and 22,[illegible]43 females. They carried with them $7[illegible]5. Just 1,445 Italians were refused admittance to the United States.

An eastern Oregon exchange reports that a cattleman of that section lately sold a car load of steers right off the range that averaged $4[illegible] per head. None of these cattle had been fed a pound of hay or grain.

Consumption

is, by no means, the dreadful disease it is thought to be—in the beginning.

It can always be stopped—in the beginning. The trouble is: you don't know you've got it; you don't believe it, and won't believe it—till you are forced to. Then it is dangerous.

Don't be afraid, but attend to it quick—you can do it yourself and at home.

Take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, and [illegible] every way.

This is [illegible] whatever you may [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

If you have not [illegible] free sample, its [illegible] surprise you.

SCOTT & BOWNE, [illegible] New York
409 Pearl Street,
50c. and $1 [illegible] all druggists.

SOME CHINESE CONUNDRUMS.

[The following questions and answers from an exchange will prove great fun for a party of young people, and incidentally the means of imparting some very valuable and timely information.]

What two letters are most popular in China? Tea and cue.

What couldn't the empress dowager govern? China proper.

What sort of an army ought to reach Peking the quickest? A Russian army.

When the empress makes the emperor cry what would he like to do? Boxer.

There are Chinese politicians that don't care for Earl Li, but who would like what? Old Li Hung.

How is it to be expected that the Chinese will take reverses and victories? Cooly.

What sort of fruit is generally found green and always found rotten in China? Mandarins.

When the powers get hold of the empress dowager, what will they catch? A Tartar.

What sort of a Great Wall are the powers likely to build in the flowery kingdom? A partition of China.

If the Chinese were Spaniards what would they call the stories of American heroism in China? Pig tails.

If you are anxious to go to China what will the government do? Taku. Then what will you be in? Transports.

What is proof that the eyes of the Mongolians are open at last? The Yellow sea. Through what? The open door.

FOOT NOTES.

[By Emma Carlton, in the Philistine.]

Getting famous is not by any means so arduous a task as staying so.

Reputation is a bubble which a man bursts when he tries to blow it for himself.

The heart always pays the highest price for the happiness it has never purchased.

Many persons fancy they are cultured, when, in fact, they are only bookish.

There are no humorists' clubs; humorists cannot exchange ideas without giving away good copy.

Repartee is any remark which is so clever that it makes the listener wish he had said it himself.

When the average man talks of sitting in sackcloth and ashes he always means broadcloth and cigar ashes.

When a woman has an unhappy love affair it adds to her unhappiness that she cannot go around and tell of it.

Some writers are famous for the books they have written. Others for the books they ought not to have written.

CONCERNING THE WEATHER.

Seville's hottest day was August 11, with a temperature of 117 degrees in the shade. Thousands of birds fell dead in the streets and the weather record in the Spanish city was broken.

According to the Sioux Indian weather prophet it is going to be a hard winter. These predictions are based on the fact that the buffalo grass shows a heavy crop of seeds which, the redskins declare, is a sure sign of a severe winter and deep snow.

August last was the hottest on record in New York and Philadelphia, according to weather records. The mean temperature in New York was 77 degrees, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the month [illegible] [illegible]

SAYINGS OF SANCTUM SAGES.

A virtue is more than a vice [illegible] —Ram's Horn.

A [illegible] Quaker [illegible] maketh a [illegible] friend.—Chicago Daily News.

If you missed punishment for your [illegible] don't rejoice. It [illegible] that a rooster's life is spared that he may be saved for the pot another day. —Atchison Globe.

Often the Case.

Askington—Frickesmith is a very versatile chap, [illegible] he?

Tellet—Oh, yes! He makes a different kind of fool of himself every day in the week.—P[illegible]

WHAT THE LAW DECIDES.

An ordinance requiring a license for the sale of cigarettes is held, in Gundling vs. Chicago (Ill.), 48 L. R. A. 230, to be a valid exercise of the police power, and not in violation of the provisions as to due process of law or any other guaranty of rights.

An ordinance prohibiting the sale of any meats, fish or other provisions or any intoxicating liquors in any place of business where dry goods, cloth and other specified goods are sold is held in Chicago vs. Netcher (Ill.), 48 L. R. A. 261, to be in violation of the constitutional guaranties of liberty and the protection of property, and not a valid exercise of the police power. With this case is a [illegible] on legal restrictions upon department stores.

[illegible] [illegible] right of way as [illegible] number of trains that shall be run [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] Davis vs. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] L. R. A. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the land where it [illegible] the chief consideration [illegible] contract and an [illegible] to enforce it against the [illegible] of the railroad [illegible] the grantee [illegible] transfer [illegible]

Conviction [illegible] being [illegible] person under the act of Congress [illegible] to the District of [illegible] held in Stoutenburgh vs. Frazier (D. C.), 48 L. R. A. 220, to be in violation of the constitutional provisions against unreasonable searches and seizures and cruel and unusual punishments when the suspicion on which the procedure is based is wholly undefined and in no manner connected with any criminal act or conduct.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The island of Guam is 3,500 miles from Honolulu and 1,6[illegible] miles from Manila.

The postal service establishment of the United States is the greatest business concern in the world. The revenue of the post office of New York is more than $[illegible],000 yearly, with a net profit of $[illegible].

The English language heads the list, with the enormous vocabulary of 26[illegible] words, while the Spanish has only 20,[illegible] the German [illegible],000, Italian 75,[illegible], French 30,000, Turkish 22,5[illegible]. Shakespeare's vocabulary is put at 15,[illegible], Milton's at 8,000 and the Bible at rather less.

Japan is the largest consumer of rice in the world, the average being [illegible] pounds per person a year. The Americans use but four pounds per capita. Belgium uses more tobacco in proportion, than any other country about 11[illegible] ounces per capita yearly while Italy uses only 22 ounces.

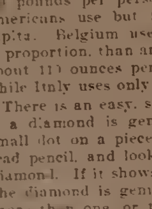
There is an easy, simple way to tell if a diamond is genuine. Make a small dot on a piece of paper with a lead pencil, and look at it through a diamond. If it shows but a single dot the diamond is genuine. If it shows more than one, or the mark appears scattered, it is false, no matter what it cost.

One aspect of the food problem has assuredly been solved by a company in New Haven, Conn., which undertakes to serve hot meals to all and sundry within a radius of 70 miles from its headquarters, and that from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. cheaper than they can be obtained elsewhere. These meals are sent out in wagons with compartments for each article; the meals are placed in the different compartments smoking hot, and are kept at a high temperature until placed on the purchaser's table.

William W. Evans, of Deal's Island, Del., has a horse which has proved a remarkable investment and has overridden the ideas and records of the average useful life of horses. Twenty-seven years ago Mr. Evans purchased the horse from Scott Covington, who guaranteed at that time that the animal was six years old. Mr. Evans proved to be a good master, and the horse returned the kind treatment by retaining its full activity and energy and now, at 33 years the horse works nearly every day, see and hears well and has an excellent appetite.

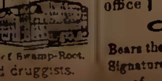
DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.



Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.



Home of Swamp-Root.

The Stimulus of Pure Blood

That is what is required by every organ of the body, for the proper performance of its functions.

It perfects all the vital processes.

It prevents biliousness, dyspepsia, constipation, kidney complaint, rheumatism, catarrh, nervousness, weakness, faintness, pimples, blotches, and all cutaneous eruptions.

It is assured by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla which acts directly and peculiarly on the blood.

This statement is proved by thousands of unsolicited testimonials.

W. P. KETTON, Woodstock, Ala., writes: "When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla my blood was impure and I had not been feeling well for some time. I was bothered very much with that tired feeling. When I had taken the medicine a few days I began to feel better and after taking two bottles I felt like another person. That tired feeling was gone and I could do my work."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

rids the blood of scrofulous and all other humors and all foreign matters.

An Experienced Architect.

Architect—About what size house would you like?

Gottrich—It need not be large. We have few friends.

Architect—About you will have plenty of friends when your new house is done.—N. Y. Weekly.

Abdominal?

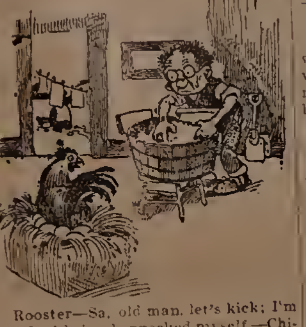
Miss Brown—What's the matter with your husband? Some stomach trouble, isn't it?

Mrs. Malaprop—Oh, worse'n that! The doctor didn't specificate. He just said it was some "severe abominable complaint."—Philadelphia Press.

Similar But Different.

The waves ran mountain high
And drenched the toiling crew;
The captain sadly heaved a sigh—
And the passengers heaved too.
—Chicago Daily News.

A TOUCH OF SYMPATHY.



Rooster—Sa, old man, let's kick; I'm tired of being henpecked myself.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Not a Fault Finder.

"You are not one of these men who find fault with the cooking at home?"

"No," answered Mr. Meekton; "I don't exactly find fault, but occasionally I do feel called on to apologize for the way things taste when Henrietta gets home from the club. You see, I never could learn to make good coffee."—Washington Star.

Touched.

The Parson—Don't you think I touched them rather deeply this morning?

The Deacon—I don't know. I haven't counted up yet.—Indianapolis Press.

A Spartan Father.

Miss Jackson (tragically)—If yo' don't let me marry Jim Loafley, I'll drowned mahse'f!

Papa Jackson—Wall, honey, I's offen heard dat dat wuz an easier death den starvation.—Puck.

Wherein They Differ.

"Papa, what's the difference between a defaulter and a bank robber?"

"One is a respectable gentleman and the other a disreputable scoundrel, my child."—Yonkers Herald.

No Music for Her.

Mrs. Johnsing—Can't stay long, Mrs. Snow; I just come to see ef yo wouldn't join de mission band.

Mrs. Snow—Fo' de lan' sakes, honey, doan come to me. I can't even play on a mouf organ.—Chicago Democrat.

Had His Doubts.

"They say," said the landlady, "that a piece of steak dropped into liquid air can be broken with a hammer."

"Steak like this?" asked the sandy whiskered boarder, in a tone of mild astonishment.—Indianapolis Press.

Now They Are Strangers.

She (seating herself at the piano)—Oh, I do so love good music.

He—So do I. Close the piano and I'll take you to hear the band play in the park.—Chicago Daily News.

The Industrious Commentator.

Cora—Don't you think Browning's poetry is very condensed?

Merritt—Apparently. It takes about three volumes of notes to explain each volume of poetry.—Judge.

The Plant Line cheap return rates, viz: Halifax $7.50, Hawkesbury $8.50, Charlottetown or Sydney $11.00 continue to attract large numbers of excursionists and people are fast learning that the autumn is a delightful time to visit the provinces. If you have not had your vacation or can take a few days off try the greatest trip for the least money on record. Full information of J. A. Flanders, New England agent, 290 Washington street, or E. H. Downing, agent, 20 Atlantic avenue Boston.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office!

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and Gasolene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied users are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABILITY, ECONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABILITY tell the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever? CONSULT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.

New England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.

FROM THE ORIENT

CARPETS

Goods right prices right workmanship right everything right.

We do by far the largest business in Boston in

Carpets and Upholstery.

What do you suppose the reason is?

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS CO.,
658 Washington Street, 658
Opp. Boylston St.,
BOSTON.

There Are Exceptions.

"I thought she was such an advanced woman that she always insisted she would not give up her name when she married, but would hyphenate it with her husband's."

"She did say so."

"But she hasn't done it."

"No. You see, things happen very queerly in this world."

"How is that?"

"Her name, you will recall, was Black, and her husband's name was Hart. She didn't like the combination."—Chicago Post.

The Main Essential.

Hodown—I understand your wife insisted on drawing the plans herself for your new house.

Jigsup—Yes, she's busy over there now.

Hodown—Oh, I thought she had finished. She told my wife she had all the closets laid out.

Jigsup—Yes, but now she's got to put the rest of the house around them.—Philadelphia Press.

The Evolution in Literature.

Jones—A few years ago boys read Indian stories, got false ideas of life, and then ran away from home to fight redskins. This is all changed now.

Smith—Yes; now they read the monthly magazines, and when they run away from home they go to the city to marry the girl in the corset advertisement.—Judge.

Partly Qualified.

"What is his occupation?" asked the warden of the penitentiary, referring to the latest arrival.

"He hasn't any regular occupation?" said the subordinate. "He is nothing but a ward heeler."

"All right," rejoined the warden. "Put him in the shoemaking department."—Chicago Tribune.

Their First Quarrel.

"Well," said Mrs. Cornwallis West after they were fairly started on their honeymoon, "we are partners for life now, aren't we, dear?"

"Yes, darling," he replied, "and you are the senior partner, too, aren't—why, lovey, what's the matter? There, there, little girl, don't cry!"—Chicago Times-Herald.

His Blank Despair.

"Speaking of the races, wasn't it the two-mile dash free-for-all that Binks lost all his money on?"

"Yes. Why?"

"Nothing, only I remember he used about a two-mile dash in expressing himself after it was over."—Chicago Tribune.

Came Near Dying.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centreville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die and tried a dozen different medicines, but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely. I went to sleep and did not awake for eight hours. On awakening a few hours ago I felt so gratified that the first work I do on going to the office is to write to the manufacturers of the remedy and offer them my grateful thanks and say, 'God bless you and the splendid medicine you make.'" This remedy is for sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

For sprains, swelling and lameness there is nothing so good as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Try it. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Pyny-Pectoral Soothes Sore Lungs and makes tender throats well and strong.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

OBJECTED TO ANY DICTATION.

Gov. Taylor of Tennessee Effectually Ended the Interference of Legislators.

Gov. Bob Taylor, of Tennessee, was just exactly opposite to Gov. Allen, with as tender a heart as a woman, and the way he pardoned out convicts was something awful. He was waited upon by a committee of the legislature, who very flatly and in no uncertain way told him that this "wholesale pardoning must stop."

"Gov'ner Bob" looked at the committee, tapped a bell, asked for his pardon clerk, and when he came, said:

"Make out pardons for every man in the penitentiary."

The clerk bowed and withdrew. Then the governor looked at the committee, who were staring as if they thought he was going mad.

"Gentlemen," he said, finally, "I am governor of Tennessee, and if this committee or any other ever again seeks to interfere with my constitutional right to pardon I'll sign every one of those pardons which the clerk is making out. Good morning."

Paper Walls at Indian Head.

In order to minimize the destructive effects of possible explosions in the government's new powder manufactory at Indian Head all the buildings are provided with "paper" walls at the ends. The theory is that these light walls will be immediately blown aside by the concussion of the explosion, leaving the main walls, which are built as strongly as possible, practically unharmed.

Fond Trustfulness.

"Josiar," said Mrs. Corntossel, "I'm sure you can't find no fault with Josh since we've been to town."

"I can't! He didn't get home till four o'clock this mornin'."

"I noticed it. You know, you told him you wanted him to be sure an' be out o' bed every morning before five o'clock."

"Yes."

"Well, the poor boy's so skeered of you that he's been stayin' up all night, so's to be able to keep his word."—Washington Star.

The Adjustment.

Winkle—After all, the first year of married life is the most unhappy, don't you think?

Todd—Oh, yes. It takes about that long for a man to learn how to conceal things from his wife.—Brooklyn Life.

Curiosities of Fate.

Watts—A man can't really be a gentleman on less than $10,000 a year.

Potts—And when he has that much he doesn't have to be a gentleman.—Indianapolis Press.

A Good Investment.

Father—You have spent a fortune on the races, and what have you realized?

Son—That I am an idiot.—Brooklyn Life.

Proof Positive.

"Do you know, I never dreamed she was a trained nurse."

"How did you find it out?"

"Saw her bill."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Not as Much of Her.

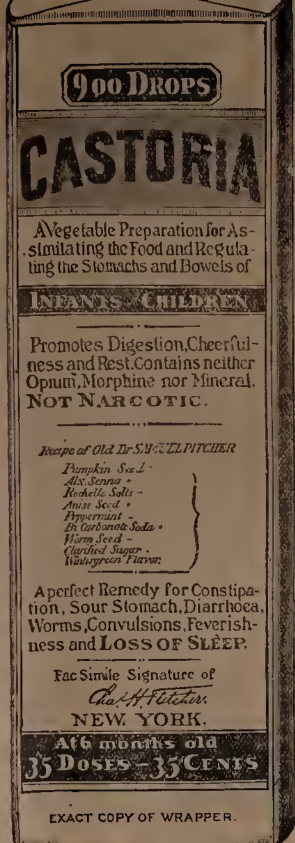
"Does Miss Biffin ride her wheel as much as she did last year? It doesn't seem to me as if I see as much of her."

"No, she's thinner."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Mean Thing.

Mrs. Peckham—I never told you how my husband proposed to me, did I?

Mrs. Deshrm—No; did he propose to [illegible]



900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS & CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna -
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed -
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda -
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar -
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES—35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE VERGE OF CRIME

THERE was a wild, hunted look in the photographer's eye when the first of the day's sitters appeared the other morning. The photographer looked as if he needed a change of air and scene.

"Will they all say it again to-day?" he muttered, gloomily, placing his palm to his fevered brow.

The first sitter was a large, rosy-cheeked man. From the photographer's point of view he looked promising. He was certainly old enough to have sense, and he looked as though he had been engaged in a successful business for a sufficient number of years to have acquired an aversion to the pet expressions that go with each sitting for a photograph. It was with a sense of security that the photographer advanced.

"Well," said the large, rosy-cheeked man, 'you can just be prepared to have your camera broken. How's that, hey? Ha, ha. ha!" and the large, rosy-cheeked man shook merrily all over. "Not so bad, eh? Yes, sir, you can just be prepared to have your camera broken. See the point? Ha, ha!"

The photographer's teeth snapped, but a forced, vacant smile appeared upon his wan features.

"I'd as lief have a tooth pulled any day as to have my picture taken," went on the large, rosy-cheeked man.

The photographer's hands opened and closed convulsively, but he remained calm enough to make two negatives of the large rosy-cheeked man.

"Merciful heaven!" groaned the photographer when the first sitter had departed, "are they all going to say it again today? Am I to be compelled to push my features into gleeful grins every time—"

His agonized reflections were broken by the entrance of the second of the day's sitters. She was young and very lovely, and brimming over with laughter.

"I am afraid your lens will suffer," she said, archly, to the photographer, handing him the ticket the reception-room girl had given her.

"Oh, hardly that," moaned the photographer, forcing another weird grimace to his pallid features.

"Do you know," went on the blithe young thing as he put her head-rest in position, "I really believe that I'd as soon have a tooth pulled as to have my photograph taken," and then she gave vent to peal upon peal of silvery laughter.

"Ha, ha!" hoarsely ejaculated the photographer.

"My mind is giving way!" said the photographer to himself, as he took the two negatives of the lovely young thing to the dark room. "I shall not be able to hold out much longer.

The third sitter was a gay young fellow in a golf suit.

"Just blaze away, old fellow," said the gay young fellow, looking the photographer in the eye and waiting for the latter to go off into shrieks of merriment, "and if I break the glass in that machine o' yours don't tell me that I didn't warn you in advance!"

"Ha!" said the photographer, with the mockery of a smile usually worn by the man who says "That's good!"

"Horrible job, this getting your picture taken, isn't it?" continued the gay young fellow in the golf togs. "I'm not stuck on dentists' parlors particularly, but blamed if I don't believe I'd rather have a tooth pulled than to get photographed."

"Shall I kick him into ribbons where he stands?" muttered the photographer to himself, stepping behind a piece of photographic scenery in order to hold communion with himself. "Shall I take him by his two ears and pound his head on the floor until he is unconscious?"

With difficulty, however, he restrained himself. When he reached the dark room, with the two plates which he had made of the youth in the golf rig, he once more placed his palm to his fevered brow, and by a strong exertion prepared to meet the next sitter, who had already entered the operating-room.

"It's a great risk for you to take with your camera," was the way in which the middle-aged woman greeted him as she handed in her ticket. "I would not insure any camera that was to be used to take a picture of me for the price of it," she continued.

The photographer again mustered his little reserve of courage, and replied that it had run greater risks and survived them, at which the lady laughed.

"A photographer's life must be an awful bore."

"It is madam, it is," assented the photographer, unable to contain himself longer, but his rudeness had no effect upon the sitter.

"Now if no one liked having pictures taken any better than I do," she began again, "I am afraid the photographers would not have very much to do. I always did say that I would rather have the dentist extract a tooth for me than to have a picture taken, but then one is as necessary as the other at times."

But the photographer had not heard the last of her remark before he had escaped to the dark room, where he leaned heavily against the wall for some minutes.

"Well," he finally said, half to himself, "as well now as later on. I haven't got much to live for anyhow. It'll go hard on the wife and children to have me ascend the gallows, but there's no help for it."

Looking furtively around the dark room, he seized a long, gleaming knife from a drawer, and placed it in his hip pocket.

"I don't care if it's man, woman, child or dog," he muttered; "the next animated thing that makes either one of those remarks to me—the one about 'breaking the camera' or about preferring to have a tooth pulled to being photographed—is never going to leave this gallery alive!"

There was an expression of awful determination on his countenance when the photographer emerged from the dark room to receive sitter No. 4. This sitter was a short, squat, smooth-faced man with bovine eyes. He didn't say a word, but merely handed his little ticket to the wondering photographer, with a pleasant smile. The photographer looked at the man in surprise, but the sitter, while he continued to smile pleasantly, appeared to have nothing whatever to say.

"Bust three-quarter or full-length?" inquired the photographer, suspiciously, thinking thus to draw the quiet man on to his terrible fate.

But there was no reply.

"Profile or full face?" asked the photographer.

The squat man made no reply, but, suddenly looking up, he observed that the photographer was addressing him. Then he pointed to his mouth and ears to indicate that he was deaf and dumb.

With a wild shriek of demoniac laughter, the photographer grasped the handle of his long, gleaming knife, handed it hilt foremost to the mute, and burst into a torrent of grateful tears.

"You have saved me from becoming a murderer!" he gasped, just as if the mute could hear him.—Washington Star

A WONDERFUL WATCH.

One in Maryland Known as a Matile Which Aroused Mark Twain's Admiration.

What is perhaps the most wonderful watch in the world is in the possession of a resident of Prince Gregory county, Maryland, says the Washington Times.

This remarkable timepiece, known as the Matile watch, from the name of its maker, was made at Looe, Switzerland about 40 years ago. It formed a feature of the Swiss exhibit at the centennial held at Philadelphia in 1876, and was purchased on that occasion by its present owner. A description of the watch by Mark Twain (S. L. Clemens) is as remarkable for accuracy as it is humorous. The well-known writer thus gives his impressions of the marvelous piece of mechanism:

"I have examined the wonderful watch made by H. L. Matile, and, indeed, it comes nearer to being a human being than any piece of mechanism I ever saw before. In fact, it knows considerably more than the average voter. It knows the movements of the moon, and keeps exact record of them; it tells the day of the week, the date of the month, and the month of the year, and will do this perpetually; it tells the hour of the day, and the minute, and the second, and even splits the second into fifths, and marks the division by stop hands, having two of the latter; it can take accurate care of two race horses that start, not together, but one after another; it is a repeater (wherein the voter is suggested again), and musically chimes the hour, the quarter, the half and the three-quarter hour, and also the minutes that have passed of an uncompleted quarter-hour, so that a blind man can tell the time of day by it to the exact minute.

Such is this extraordinary watch. It ciphers to admiration. I should think one could add another wheel and make it read and write, still another and make it talk; and I think one might take out several of the wheels that are already in it and it would still be a more intelligent citizen than some that help to govern the country. On the whole, I think it is entitled to vote—that is, if its sex is of the right kind."

The watch was sold for $1,400, and it is still performing its complex functions with the greatest regularity.

LILLIAN RUSSELL A CONVERT.

Announces to Her Friends That She Has Become a Faith Curist After Much Study.

After long and diligent study of the religion Lillian Russell has announced to her friends that she is an out-and-out faith curist. She does not subscribe to the doctrines of Mrs. Eddy, of the Christian Science cult, in their entirety, but so strongly is she convinced of the power of the mind over the tendency of the body to become disorderly that she is almost hoping for a severe attack of illness in order that she may give the theory a test.

At the outset it may be said that Miss Russell has never been seriously ill in her life and that her health at the present time is so good that she is almost ashamed of herself. It is hard, indeed, for a woman to work as many as two hours a day on a hot, stuffy stage and be unable to produce a single pain. Even on days when there is a matinee Miss Russell retains her scandalous freedom from bodily aches and pains.

"I have noticed, however," she said the other day, "that when I get headaches I am able to get rid of them by simply concentrating my mind on the proposition that I have no headache.

"Of course I don't believe that I could wish myself a new arm should I have one cut off by a Broadway car, nor do I believe that my mind would be strong enough to equip me with a new lung should I fall a victim to the ravages of consumption. I do not go to those lengths. But I do say that we are too prone to drug ourselves and that the mind is in such supreme control that the ordinary ills of life can be cured by thought concentration.

"This is not a new belief with me," continued Miss Russell. "I have had as much trouble as any woman, but I have found, all through my life, that by persistently concentrating my mind on the bright side of a dark situation—that every cloud has its silver lining, you know—I have been able to live quite placidly. If women could only be brought to the realization of the power of the mind we would have more healthy and happy members of our sex."

Miss Russell is not the only advocate of the faith cure in the profession. Many actresses go to greater lengths in their advocacy of the cult than the prima donna. But it is news at this time that this beautiful woman, with everything that a female heart could desire at her disposal, should come out in advocacy of the theory of the superiority of the mind over matter.

WHERE AMERICANS MAY WIN.

Portugal a Great Field for American Enterprise, Says Our Minister There.

There is a great field in Portugal for American enterprise, writes John N. Irwin, United States minister to that kingdom, in Success. Our manufacturers really ought to "prospect" in that little-known country. In the first place they are made most welcome. The king and the queen, both young and truly regal speak English perfectly and are among our warmest admirers. They reflect the sentiment of their people. In the second place, American goods are needed, and the progressive part of the population would welcome them as a means of advancing the country's prosperity. English-made machinery now used there is of old type and not up to date. In Lisbon the old style of transportation is being changed to the electric system. While English capital is conducting the enterprise, every bit of material, from the smallest bolt to the modern cars, is of American make. Portugal sends us cork, and we send her petroleum and wheat, but in my opinion the balance of trade now in our favor could be materially increased if our manufacturers were to take full advantage of their opportunities in the little kingdom.

The Whole Story
in one letter about

Pain-Killer

(PERRY DAVIS'.)

From Capt. F. Loye, Police Station No. 5, Montreal:—"We frequently use PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER for pains in the stomach, rheumatism, stiffness, frost bites, chilblains, cramps, and all afflictions which befall men in our position. I have no hesitation in saying that PAIN-KILLER is the best remedy to have near at hand."

Used Internally and Externally.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c. bottles.

She Had a Smaller One.

It was on a West side cable. The stout Teuton woman with the little boy handed a conductor a two-dollar bill.

"Smallest you have?" inquired the conductor, as he shifted the silver and nickels in his pocket.

She thought he meant the little boy.

"Nein!" she responded. "I haf one home only dree months old alretty."

Then the laugh was on the conductor.—Tacoma News.

Needed an Introduction.

A certain German professor of music, to be met with in English drawing rooms, is an entertaining old gentleman.

To him recently a lady said, when one of his compositions had just been rendered by one of the guests:

"How do you like the rendering of your song, professor?"

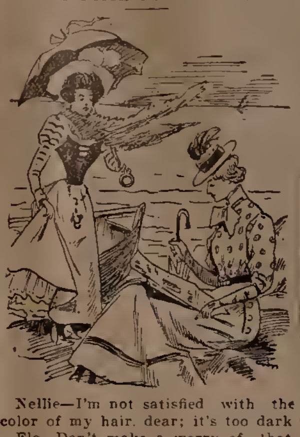
"Vos dot my song?" replied the professor. "I did not know him."—Tit-Bits.

Upon the Ottoman.

When Johnnie Jones and Jennie Smith
 First felt young Cupid's dart
They were upon the ottoman
 And sat thus far apart.

But later on was heard a sound—
 'Twas very like a kiss.
And he upon the ottoman
 They sat somewhat like this.
—Town Topics.

NO CAUSE FOR WORRY.



Nellie—I'm not satisfied with the color of my hair, dear; it's too dark.

Flo—Don't make a worry of that Nellie, dear; it can't be long now before it's gray.—Ally Sloper.

About the Size of It.

The laws of justice seem to bind
 The oppressor with the oppressed;
Those who go to law but little get—
 And the lawyers get the rest.
—Chicago Daily News.

Did Not Blame Him.

"I come from the far west," said one congressman, "and I am proud to proclaim myself a resident of the land of the setting sun."

"Yes," answered the colleague from nearby. "I don't blame you for being a little boastful. I can't help envying you every time I think of the mileage."—Washington Star.

The Connecting Links.

"Dinsmore contends that the lynx is really the missing link," said Fosdick to Keedick.

"Is this a play on words?"

"No, it isn't. Fosdick contends that the lynx connects golfers with human beings."—Town Topics.

That's All.

Daughter—Oh, papa, I've just got the most lovely yachting costume you ever saw.

Papa (busily)—I'm glad you like it.

Daughter—It's too sweet for anything. Now all we need is a yacht.—N. Y. World.

Method in It.

"Mullins always perfumes his paper money," said Cumso.

"Does he think that purifies it?" asked Cawker.

"No; but it adds another scent to every dollar bill."—Town Topics.

Coming Her Way.

"Things are coming my way," she remarked, casually.

Fortunately the two dudes approaching did not hear the remark. But possibly they would not have understood it anyway.—Chicago Post.

Circumstances Alter Cases.

She—I like him because he's so extravagant.

Her Aunt—That isn't the best possible quality in a husband.

She—Of course, not! I'm not going to marry him!—Puck.

Summers Gone Wild.

"You're not fond of mathematical calculation."

"Yes, I get on with figures all right down town, but I get nearly deranged when I have to audit my wife's accounts."—Chicago Record.

A Fall River Woman.

Fall River, Mass., Sept 17, 1900.—Mrs. Almira J. Sprague, living at 55 Seventh street, this city, states that had it not been for the well known medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, she would not now be able to do her work. She has taken this medicine to purify her blood and tone up her system, and it has done her a world of good. No medicine has ever helped her so much. It has made her feel strong and healthy.

When you cannot sleep for coughing it is hardly necessary that any one should tell you that you need a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to allay the irritation of the throat and make sleep possible. It is good. Try it. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

No one would ever be bothered with constipation if everyone knew how naturally and quickly Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the stomach and bowels.

Cures croup, sore throat, pulmonary troubles—monarch over pain of every sort. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

FOR MOLTING HENS USE

Once daily in a hot mash, Sheridan's Condition Powder. It assists in growing new plumage, gets them in condition to lay early.

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

It has been used and indorsed over thirty years by all poultrymen. "How to Feed for Eggs" sent free.

If you can't get it we send one pack for 25 cts; five, $1. Large can, $1.20. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

Denunciation.

"Yes, sir," exclaimed Senator Sorghum; "I heartily and unreservedly condemn all methods in politics which are not frank, honest, open and above board."

"But—"

"I know what you are going to say. I know some of the tricks myself. But if I could manage to denounce them so loud that the other people would be afraid to use 'em, life would be one grand, sweet, perpetual walk-over."—Washington Star.

Most Decidedly.

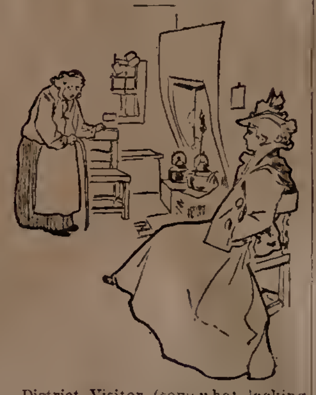
"Pardon me for asking you, madam," said Rev. Dr. Goodman, making a friendly call upon the family who had lately moved into the neighborhood, "but have you any church connections?"

"My, yes!" answered the smiling matron. "Two of my cousins are Baptist preachers, and my aunt married a Methodist class leader." — Chicago Tribune.

Got Even.

He cut his uncle out The maid
 Was willing.
But the rich old fellow laughed to scoff,
And subsequently cut him off
 With a shilling.
—Chicago Tribune.

A LIFE'S LESSON.



District Visitor (somewhat lacking in tact)—And so you're 99 years old?

Sensitive Old Dame (sweetly)—Yes, ma'am. And there's one thing I've learned to do.

District Visitor—And what might that be?

Sensitive Old Dame—To mind my own business.—Sketch.

The Cleanly Hen.

A little girl staying in the country for the first time saw a hen scratching in the garden.

"Oh, mother!" she exclaimed, "here's a hen wiping her boots! Do look!"—Columbus Dispatch.

A New Eye-Medicine.

Miss Smart—How are your eyes now, Mr. Lacking?

Mr. Lacking—Much better, thank you. I have had them examined by an eminent oculist, and he put something in to dilute the pupils.—Judge.

Willing to Be a Laggard.

"We must all die some time," said the sympathizing friend.

"True," replied the invalid; "quite true, but I have noticed that there are some things in which none of us is seeking precedence."—Chicago Post.

It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Gramlin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial, if she did not find it worth the money, to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." The remedy owes its great popularity and extensive sale in a large measure to the personal recommendations of people who have been cured by its use. It is for sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

"A dose in time saves lives." Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup—nature's remedy for coughs, colds, pulmonary diseases of every sort.

Scald head is an eczema of the scalp—very severe sometimes, but it can be cured. Doan's Ointment, quick and permanent in its results.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

—AND CONNECTIONS.—

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34,x5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m, 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13, 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; t2 50, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m, t2 24 a m. S10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 30 a m; 3 50 p m. S . 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 [illegible] a m 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m, 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m, S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test. ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week............ 50
Single Gallon.................................. 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.

17-tf

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
..AND...
C.B.Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office—FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m.
12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON,
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: From 2 to 3 p. m., and by appointment.
92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST,—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1839.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT
Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all here is to it.

Truss Advice.

We advise an Elastic Belt Truss because it wears longer than the spring truss, fits better and is far more comfortable. We have had a long personal experience with all styles of trusses. Throw your old spring truss away and get one of our Elastic Belt Trusses. We can fit you. Double and single at moderate prices.

◆ ◆ ◆

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK, FRANKLIN.

WRENTHAM.

The members of the Eastern Star whist club of Foxboro held a meeting of the club at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis W. Fisher. Mrs. Charles Pond and L. W. Fisher won the prizes. Salads, jellies, cake and coffee were served by the hostess of the evening.——Mr. Robert McElreath of Halifax, N. S., is visiting Mrs. Henry K. Fisher.——Mrs. Margaret A. White is visiting James E. Huntress in Newton.——The improvements in the I. O. O. F. building will be completed by the end of the week.——Miss Clara J. Randall has returned from New York.——William M. Proctor is now able to be out after suffering for three weeks with an abcess on his knee joint.——David Stanley Stone returned Thursday from his vacation at St. John's, N. B.——Frank Jameson is at Barnstable.——Mr. Edmund Fisher and Miss Bacon of New York are guests at the Buttonwood.——Mr. and Mrs. David T. Stone are guests of Walter Partridge at West Upton.——Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Westboro are at Mrs. M. A. Smith's.——The first meeting of the Social club to plan for the winter meeting of the Holy club was with Mrs. W. K. Gilmore on Monday.

The Crusty Bachelor

Friend—Where are you going?

Crusty Bachelor—To a tea.

Friend—In form al?

Crusty Bachelor—No, infernal.—Syracuse Herald.

Stops the Cough and Works Off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price 25 cents.

Those who live long are nearly always small eaters. This will be of small consolation to those who can't get enough to eat.

Constipation

Headache, biliousness, heartburn, indigestion, and all liver ills are cured by

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.

Easily Explained.

"Pa."

"Well?"

"What's the difference between wages and salary?"

"If a man is working for five dollars a day running a machine of some kind or laying brick or doing something else that makes a white collar and cuffs uncomfortable, he gets wages. Do you understand what I mean?"

"Yes, sir."

"But if he sits at a desk and uses a pen and gets $11 a week and has soft hands he receives a salary. Now do you see the difference?"—Chicago Times-Herald.

An Explanation.

Nell—Do you mean to tell me that you are engaged to George but don't love him?

Bess—Yes.

Nell—Then why don't you break the engagement?

Bess—Because we were only engaged last night, and he hasn't given me the ring yet.—Chicago Daily News.

An Irish Bull.

"Oi dinnaw phwy it is," observed Shaughnessy, referring to the loyalty of his countrymen in fighting England's battles; "in toimes of pace an Oirishman is always luskin' fer throuble, but give him plenty of fightin' to do an' he's as quiet as a lamb."—Judge.

To Cure a Cold in One Day.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

It's Real Fun Now.

"The boy is attending to his pianoforte lessons very faithfully of late," said the young man.

"Yes," replied his mother. "I don't have any trouble with him about that now."

"How did you manage it?"

"Some of the neighbors complained of the noise his exercises made, and I told him about it. Now he thinks it's fun to practice."—Tit-Bits.

SLEEPING-ROOM OUTFIT ON EASY TERMS:

This comprises an elegant selected Chamber Set in golden oak finish, 2 Chairs, Rocker and Table to match, Woven Wire Spring, 1 pair Pillows, a good Mattress and Decorated Dresden Toilet Set.

ALL FOR $38.00.

TERMS—$5.00 or $10.00 down, $1.00 each week.

Where will you go to get credit? Don't go at all. COME—your credit is good right here.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free Delivery at your home the hour you name.

Autumn Millinery Opening.

Our special exhibit of FALL MILLINERY will occur FRIDAY and SATURDAY, OCT. 5 and 6.

It will include trimmed effects in Toques and Hats, representing the very latest ideas, as well as a carefully selected stock of Millinery Novelties.

You are very cordially invited to attend this opening.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

CONCERNS THE WOMEN.

Worry is worse on looks than anything else, so women should fight the blues.

Women are beginning to find considerable scope to art in the designing of labels for preserving firms, suggesting names for new brands, designing pictures for advertising and arranging displays at fairs and exhibitions.

The Livery Stable, a weekly paper printed in New York, charges the tight check rein and the docked tail horse to "heartless woman," and adds that if ladies will refuse to drive behind docked horses and tight check reins both abominations will soon disappear.

Under the rules of the board of education of Philadelphia a woman, no matter how well she may be equipped mentally and by experience and practical knowledge, is excluded from the supervising principalship of the public schools, except those in which there are girl pupils only or of mixed primary schools. It is claimed in extenuation that women, as a rule, have not as good executive ability as men.

The new German code of civil law defines the rights of a husband as being supreme in most social affairs. He may prescribe the hour for dinner, the manner of serving it, the number of servants, and may limit the quantity of linen to be purchased in the year, but he may not open his wife's letters under any circumstances without her expressed permission. Also he may forbid his wife to write a certain missive or to dispatch it if written, but he cannot prevent her doing so if she is bent thereon. And he has no right to open the letter in order to find out its contents.

"Hunting and Fishing in the South."

A book descriptive of the best localities in the South for various kinds of game and fish. The game laws of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Kentucky, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Mississippi, the states penetrated by the Southern railway. For all information apply to George C. Daniels, N. E. P. A., 228 Washington street, Boston.

Do you read what people say about Hood's Sarsaparilla? It is curing all forms of disease caused or promoted by impure blood.

E W Grove

This signature is on every box of the genuine Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets the remedy that cures a cold in one day

NOTICE TO VOTERS.

The Registrars of Voters will be in session for the purpose of correcting and adding new names to the voting list at the Town Officers' room, in Franklin, on WEDNESDAY, OCT 10, from 7 to 9 P. M.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 17, from 7 to 9 P. M.
WEDNESDAY, OCT. 24, from 7 to 9 P. M.
SATURDAY, OCT 27, from 12 M. to 10 P. M.

Registration for the Presidential election will close on SATURDAY EVENING, OCT. 27, at 10 o'clock, after which time no new names can be added to the voting list.

BRADLEY M. ROCKWOOD,
JAMES W. DESMOND,
MICHAEL J. COSTELLO,
ORESTES T. DOE.
Registrars of Voters.

Franklin, Mass., Sept. 24, 1900. oc2-toc26

WANTED

AT ONCE.

Pullers of Shoddy Felt.

Machine Girls for Felt Work.

Trimmers for Ladies' and Children's Felt Hats.

BASSETT BROS.

UP IN SMOKE

There are many financial schemes that send your money "up in smoke."

The money you invest in

OUR CIGARS

Also goes "up in smoke"—with a difference.

YOU GET YOUR MONEY'S WORTH!

I carry a carefully selected stock of the Best Known Brands of

IMPORTED, KEY WEST AND DOMESTIC CIGARS.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

Chilson's Market

◆ ◆ ◆

Fresh Killed Chicken, 20c lb.
Fresh Killed Fowl, 16c.
Lamb Legs, 14 to 16c.
Boston Celery, 13c bunch, 2 for 25c.
Grapes--Concord, 10c basket; Delaware, 15c; Niagara, 13c.
White Sponge Flour, $5.00 barrel.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-lyS

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Coal! Coal!

◆ ◆ ◆

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

◆ ◆ ◆

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

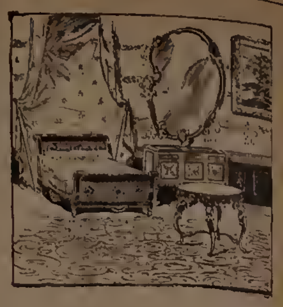
jly10-tfS

OUR LEADER, "THE GUYER."
THE BEST STIFF HAT MADE.

PRICE $3.00.

JOG ALONG CLOTHING CO., SOLE AGENTS,

Main St., Franklin.



Your Wife is a Jewel

and her home is the setting. It is your duty to make this setting as beautiful as possible. Elaborateness doesn't necessarily mean beauty. Some of the prettiest Furniture in our store is the least expensive. Look around at home and then look around here, and you'll find means to brighten up the house wonderfully.

A small payment at time order is given and a little every week will pay for all your Furniture needs.

CHAMBER OUTFIT.

Suit complete, including Mattress, Springs and Toilet Set, $26.50

$2.75 down, 75c. a week.

KITCHEN OUTFIT.

Complete with Range, Table, Chairs, Oil Cloth, small ware, $35.00

$3.50 down, $1.00 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

JUST RECEIVED, A NEW LINE OF

Blanks, Pads, Tablets, Pencils, School Bags, Etc.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN

EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.

(Successor to RAZEE & SON).

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-Ftf

Merchants' and Manufacturers'

20th Century Exposition,

OCT. 1st to 27th, 1900.

Mechanic's Building, Boston.

First Triennial Show Under Auspices of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Exhibition Association (Incorporated).

This exposition is open to all products and manufactured articles known to civilization, and there is every reason to expect the attendance of more than a half million visitors to this magnificent exhibition during its four weeks' run in October.

The great show will be in full operation daily from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. (Sundays excepted).

The most famous Bands and Orchestras that money can produce and other special features will add to the general attractiveness and beautiful surroundings.

Excursions from Everywhere.

ADMISSION - - "A QUARTER."

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a mortgage deed given by Mary F. Lavender and George N. Lavender in her own right to the Bowker Fertilizer Company, dated November 11, 1898, and recorded in Norfolk Deeds, book —, page —, and for breach of the conditions thereof and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1900,

at 10 o'clock a. m., all and singular the following described property:

A certain parcel of land situated in Millis, county of Norfolk, being the rear half of a lot conveyed to Mary E. Dean by Cyrus Daniels, by his deed dated August 13, 1892, containing about one-half acre of land, and situated on the easterly side of Daniels street, and bounded as follows:

Commencing at the southeasterly corner thereof and running northeasterly on land now or late of Cyrus Daniels 110 5-10 feet to a stake; thence turning at nearly right angles and running northwesterly on land now or late of Cyrus Daniels 199.7 feet to a stake; thence turning at nearly right angles and running southwesterly on land now or late of Mary E. Dean and parallel with line first mentioned 110.5 feet to a stake; thence turning at nearly right angles and running southeasterly on land now or late of Mary F. Lavender 199.7 feet to point of departure. Being the same premises conveyed by Mary E. Dean to Mary F. Lavender, October 20, 1892, and recorded in book 682, page 246.

Terms cash.

BOWKER FERTILIZER COMPANY,
By its Treasurer, Henry F. Coe, Mortgagee.
Millis, September 25, 1900.
R. G. FAIRBANKS, Attorney. se25,oc2,9

NOTICE having been received that the subscribers have been duly appointed executors of the estate of William Colvin, late of Medway, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and have taken upon themselves that trust by giving bond, as the law directs, all persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

JAMES A. SNOW,
JOHN H. C. HADLEY,
Executors.

Address: Medway, Sept. 22, 1900. se25,oc2,9

If you want to buy or sell anything, have lost anything, or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow.

ttie M Fisher 1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 80. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
N. C. Nye	4
Crowninshield's Store	4
Attractions at Woonsocket Opera House	4
Monthly Statement Benjamin Franklin Savings Bank	4
Citations	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 00 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10 30 p m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Cyril Cook has resigned his position in A. B. Chilson's market.

The Brockton fair attracted a number of our people this week.

Mrs. Charles J. McKenzie is visiting relatives in Woodstock, Vt.

J. G. Ray Engine company, No. 3, will hold a special meeting this evening.

Artist Geb has secured the contract to renovate the I. O. O. F. hall in Wrentham.

St. Katharine's Guild will meet at the rectory Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The J.G. Ray hose company has moved into its new quarters at Nason's crossing.

The mothers' section of the Alden club will begin winter meetings next week.

John Johnson and family have moved from Worsted street to Washington street.

The wet weather interferes somewhat with steady work in harvesting cranberries.

The Dean football eleven will play the Groton school eleven at Groton tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Thayer are spending a week or ten days in the White Mountains.

Our streets looked better last Sabbath, thanks to the efforts of Supervisor Gowen and his men.

The hand of fellowship will be given to new members at the Baptist church Sunday forenoon.

Mrs. Jeremiah Roberts of Providence is the guest of Mrs. Thomas Killilea of Howard street.

Mrs. W. H. Jackson has returned from an extended visit to Chicago and other places in Illinois.

A number from here were in attendance at the anniversary of the West Medway church yesterday.

Mrs. Hector McCullough of Chestnut street is confined to her home, threatened with typhoid fever.

The funds for the new carpet of Excelsior lodge were very substantially increased by H. T. Hayward.

The Franklin and Cumberland Country clubs will meet on the Woonsocket links tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. A. M. Willard has moved from Garfield street to the house vacated by Mrs. Mowrey on Dean avenue.

The new shoddy mill at South Franklin, to be started next month, is being put in readiness for the machinery.

Beginning next Sunday, and until further notice, St. John's mission service will be held at 3 o'clock, instead of 4.

E. S. Cook has purchased the outdoor meeting grove on Summer street of Alfred Metcalf and will cut off the timber.

The condition of Charles Knowlton, who is ill with typhoid fever, is still very critical and the outcome is as yet uncertain.

The registrars of voters meet each Wednesday evening in October after the first Wednesday for the registration of voters.

The sessions of St. John's Sunday school will be resumed next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Baptist vestry.

Saturday evening John Riley, while getting off of a street car, was thrown down and injured so that a physician was called.

The evening meetings at the Baptist church are showing considerable revival interest. Two rose for prayers Thursday evening.

George E Emerson is out again after an enforced retirement of a few days. His disability was traceable to his recent accident.

Fred S. Hartshorne, son of Engineer F. A. Hartshorne, has just been promoted from water tender to chief yeoman at the Newport navy yard.

Cottage street has been receiving attention at the hands of the roadmen, which will be appreciated by all denizens of that locality.

It is expected that Miss Alice J. Grover, violinist, of Mansfield, will assist in the morning service at the Congregational church next Sunday.

Dr. T. L. Martin is also looking up an automobile, and it is quite likely that the brothers Martin will shortly be possessors of the only gasolene carriages in town.

Mrs. Frank Willard has a fine display of embroidery and needlework on exhibition in Sanborn's window, attracting deserved attention for its excellence and beauty.

Mrs. H. B. Haslam is attending the state convention of the King's Daughters, now in session at Weymouth, having been chosen a delegate by the local society.

Miss Katherine Healy, one of the efficient assistants in the postoffice, left yesterday for a visit with her sister at Winchester and later with relatives in Boston.

Asa Adams is putting in a well for Daniel A. Darling on the Howard place, near the Norfolk line, Pleasant street. The hole promises to give an abundant supply of water.

The members of Griffin court and invited friends will be the guests of Sarsfield court, M. C. O. F., at North Attleboro next Tuesday evening. The trip will be made by special trolley.

Stephen C., the infant son of Mr. and Mrs Daniel McLaughlin of Cottage street, died this morning of congestion of the lungs, aged 3 months and 18 days. Burial at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Frank Foote, who resigned his position at Emerson's meat market Saturday and left for Boston to accept another, was recalled Monday for a few days until Mr. Emerson's recovery from sickness.

A new plate glass has replaced the one in the large front window of the Bresnahan grocery which was broken some ago by the iron frame of the awning. The iron became detached and hit the window.

Gen. Olney Arnold, who was for a number of years a trustee of Dean academy and a generous contributor, died at his home in Pawtucket on Wednesday. The funeral will be held on Saturday at 1 o'clock.

Meeting of Y. M. C. A. next Monday evening at 7 45 o'clock in rooms over Hosford's store. At this meeting the committee on nominations will report and officers be elected. A large attendance is desired.

Announcement is made of the intended marriage of Miss Mary Russell, formerly of Franklin, and John O'Neil, the ceremony to take place on Thursday, Oct. 18, in St. Peter's church, Meeting House hill, Dorchester.

The high school note coming due this year has been paid by the town treasurer, and only one of the ten issued at the erection of the school building remains unpaid. That is due a year hence and bears 4 1 2 per cent. interest.

Passengers on the Medway line miss the half hourly running of cars and are talking about a petition requesting them to be kept on during October, at least. The present arrangement makes connections very unsatisfactory.

We noted on Tuesday that Franklin was behind Medway and Medfield in the matter of anniversaries. Franklin is the middle brother of the group, rather than the youngest, as our 150th anniversary was celebrated here some years ago.

The performance of "The Pied Piper" will take place on the evenings of October 11 and 12 and on the afternoon of the 13th. Tickets already purchased may be exchanged for reserved seats at Dana's on and after Saturday noon.

Daniel McCulloch, son of Alexander McCulloch, about thirteen years of age, has been taken to a home by the state authorities, where it will no doubt be better for him than running the streets and attending school a third or half of the time.

St. John's Guild extends a cordial invitation to the parishioners and friends of St. John's mission to attend a social which the guild will give next Wednesday evening, Oct. 10, from 8 till 10, at the easternmost store in the Morse Opera house block.

Anthony Connor, dog officer, has made returns on the warrant issued to him in July, as the law requires. So far as known all dogs have been licensed and no complaints were made. In several cases the owners neglected to comply with the law until notified that the law would be enforced.

Miss S. Alva Martin graduated from the Hartford hospital on Wednesday as expert nurse. The trustees made an exception in her case, requesting her to read her essay, instead of merely writing one and handing it in. She will locate here. Her sister, Mrs. C. L. Stewart, attended the graduation.

The Alden club opens next Monday evening in the old quarters, Odd Fellows' hall, at 7.45. Program: Club welcome; report of state federation meeting, Mrs. Winsor; report of biennial, Mrs. M. L. Ray; duet, Miss Whiting and Mrs. Stewart; social hour, in charge of hospitality committee, Miss Craig, chairman. A full attendance is desired.

Miss Daisy G. Griffin, formerly organist at St. Mary's church, and who is shortly to remove to Boston, was the recipient of a substantial token of the love and esteem of a party of friends who unexpectedly called at her home on Main street Wednesday evening. After the presentation the visitors were pleasantly entertained, music and refreshments being among the features.

Mrs. Hattie Turner, Mrs. Narcissa Lincoln and Mrs. Minnie Jackson attended a meeting of the Norfolk county association, W. R. C., at Hyde Park on Wednesday. They report a most enjoyable day. Mrs. Turner, president of Corps 89, was installed as conductor and Mrs. Jackson as guard of the association. The next meeting will be held at Norwood the first Wednesday in January.

Excelsior lodge, A. F. and A. M., held its annual election of officers on the new carpet Monday evening: Worshipful master, George R. Winsor; senior warden, Solon Abbott; junior warden, John E. Barber; secretary, Henry A. Talbot; treasurer, Elisha P. Chapman; trustee, Elisha P. Chapman; proxy to grand lodge, Jos. P. Bassett. The newly elected and the appointed officers will be installed next month.

A very pleasant wedding took place Wednesday evening at Atlantic, when our fellow townsman William E. Tower was united in marriage to Miss Barbara E. Vogler. Rev. Dr. Hodge, Mr. Tower's friend and pastor, performed the ceremony. Guests were present from Franklin, Everett and Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Tower will live in Franklin, on Central street. The bride is well and favorably known in Franklin and will be a welcome addition to the society of young people here.

Owing to a disappointment in the arrangements made for the union temperance meeting, that meeting was not held the last Sunday in September. A still further disappointment makes a different programme than had been arranged necessary for next Sunday evening. The meeting will be held at the Universalist church, and Rev. Dr. Hodge will speak of "The New Franklin and What It Requires of Us." A subject of such timeliness and importance ought to be of much interest.

The ever beautiful temperance play, "Ten Nights in a Barroom," will be produced at the Opera house this evening. The play is beautiful because of its simplicity, because of its honest truth and the lesson it brings home to every heart. It is now enjoying the fourth season of its unwavering success. Like "Shore Acres," the oftener one sees it the oftener one wants to see it again. It is refreshing in this day of imported problem and suggestive plays to be able to listen to an American play of plain common folk. Tickets on sale at Dana's—25, 35 and 50c.

A young man employed in Hayward's mill called on Town Clerk Doe Wednesday afternoon and requested a marriage license. He answered all questions in a straightforward manner and said he and his intended wife were of the legal age. The town clerk issued the license. It was not long before the clerk was called upon by the father of the young woman, who told him that she was under the legal age. The father and the clerk immediately repaired to the mill, the latter intending to get from the young man the license which he had issued but an hour previous. The young man saw the clerk first and ran out of the mill and down upon the Milford track. The clerk followed him, but was outdistanced. The young woman is also employed at the mill. The marriage will probably be postponed.

The milk dealers of the town waited upon Edgar K. Ray at Elm farm on Tuesday evening with the object of having him co operate in advancing the price of milk from five to six or seven cents. It is understood Mr. Ray informed the dealers that he could see no reason for putting up the price and could not be induced to join in the movement, incidently remarking that he thought the poor people of the town had enough to contend with at the present time in the way of high prices on many of the necessaries of life without adding that of milk to the list. As Mr. Ray does by far the largest milk business in Franklin the price will undoubtedly remain at the present rate of five cents a quart. He is to be commended for the stand he has taken in the matter and will have the gratitude of the community at large.

St. John's Mission.

St. John's Mission has secured a lot of land from Mrs. LaVancha Russell, fronting 112 feet on School street, and varying in depth from 147 to 160 feet. It is the purpose of the Mission to begin the erection of buildings on this site in the near future. The plan under consideration calls for the construction of three separate buildings so arranged that a handsome and harmonious groupe will ultimately be realized.

The buildings will consist of a parish house, church and rectory; the parish house to be built at about the center and rear of the lot, the church along the western boundary and the rectory along the eastern boundary. It is planned to build these structures one at a time whenever there is money in hand for the purpose. It is contrary to the policy of the mission to build on borrowed money, therefore the construction will proceed only as fast as funds are available

All the buildings planned are to be of rough field stone laid with "wiped" joints. The walls will be low and massive and the architecture will follow that of the English parish type quite closely. It will probably be a good many years before the whole group of buildings is complete but it is hoped that one of them may be begun this fall and occupied within the coming year.

The design of the parish house calls for a large central hall with many smaller rooms to be used for various secular purposes. A "cloister" along the front of the parish house will connect the rectory with the church. The buildings will be so placed that a small square court yard, open to the street, will give an effective setting to the group.

Again in the Toils.

W. S. Nickerson, who has been out on bail, is again in jail for doing a "flim flam" business in Providence. He went on Friday into the shop of John Lewis at 536 North Main street. He appeared to be in a hurry.

"Change this $5 for me?" he asked.

Mr. Lewis was willing and passed out five $1 bills. Nickerson seized them. He passed one of Mr. Lewis' bills back, and saying "That will do," leaped out of the door and sprinted around the corner.

The scheme worked so well that Willie tried it successfully on Anna Stone at 83 Aborn street. He was now $8 ahead of the game. His next victim was Mrs. Harvey D Everett at 335 South Main street. Catherine Keeffe at 136 Ives street met the young man, also, and so did Harvey Wallwork at 253 Plainfield street. Five of his victims told the police about the transactions, and possibly there are others who, after being gulled, would rather stand the loss than be called upon to pass muster at the hands of friends.

The detectives got a good description of the money-snatcher. Detective Nickerson, who disclaims relationship with the prisoner, saw the young man on Orange street at 10 30 o'clock Tuesday night and took him into custody.

Nickerson, the prisoner, denied all knowledge of the charges made against him. He promised all sorts of inconveniences and suits for damages against the detectives. His reputation has been injured, he thought. Later the evidence overwhelmed him, and he is good for a long term for this and his other charge. He was sentenced yesterday to 360 days in jail on five complaints of "flim flamming" and will be sentenced later on the charge of breaking and entering the Fiske house at Cumberland some time ago.

Dancing School

For adults will open Monday evening, October 15, in Central square hall. Instruction, 7 45 to 9.15; social, 9 15 to 12. Music by Miss Razee and Mrs. Tracy. Admission to social, 25 cents.

NELLIE RAZEE NOYES.

Fall Styles in Footwear.

Call and see our stock of fall and winter shoes before purchasing elsewhere, as we have just put in a complete line and our prices are right. We can get you special shoes at any time, at Irwin's.

Emerson's Market.

Fresh killed chicks and fowls, lamb, pork and veal. We also have spinach, sweet potatoes, squash, lettuce, celery, grapes, onions, cabbages, new beets cauliflower and turnips.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

Auction tonight, Opera house block, Bargains in choice goods.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse

Convention Notes.

Rev. D. M. Hodge, E. H. Sherman and H. W. Thayer, the latter appointed in place of A. D. Thayer, attended the congressional convention in Union hall, Boston, on Wednesday. As foreshadowed by the caucuses throughout the district, Hon. S. L. Powers was nominated as congressman from this (eleventh) district, and Eben S. Draper of Hopedale was chosen as presidential elector. The convention also honored our townsman, Charles F. Nye, present member of the town committee, by re electing him as one of the district committee for the coming two years. Mr. Nye has already served on the committee the past four years.

Emory S. Judd, Fremont M. Richardson and Edwin A. Mason attended as delegates the state convention held in the Boston theatre yesterday. Thirty three cities and three hundred and twenty towns were entitled to a representation of 1890 delegates. There were present 1508. There was no contest except in the matter of auditor, Turner being selected in place of Kimball. The ticket is as follows:

For governor, W. Murray Crane of Dalton.

For lieutenant-governor, John L. Bates of Boston.

For treasurer, E. S. Bradford of Springfield.

For secretary of state, William N. Olin of Boston.

For attorney-general, H. M. Knowlton of New Bedford.

For auditor, Henry E. Turner of Malden.

The representative convention will be held here in Music hall next Friday at 2 o'clock, the Franklinites being George E. Emerson, Rev. Dr. Sneath, G. A. Martin, W. A. Fairfield, James Onslow and D. W. Carson. It is understood that the Franklin delegation will support Silas E. Fales of Norfolk for one of the representatives, the fight being largely upon the other aspirants.

Dr. J. C. Gallison and F. E. Osborne attended the councillor convention in Boston Wednesday as delegates, selecting Arthur A. Maxwell of Boston for the coveted honor.

School Notes.

Rev. S. A. Cook will speak at the Horace Mann High school next Monday evening at 7 o'clock to the teachers and the general public on his recent experiences abroad. All are invited.

At the meeting of the school board last evening Miss Ellen J. Butters was elected to succeed Miss Connors, and Miss Edith N. Daniels was elected as assistant to Miss Ellis at Unionville, where there are an unusually large number of new pupils. Misses Clementine and Caroline Guigon were elected apprentice teachers, serving without pay.

The High school is this year the largest since '93, and the town is receiving $237 for outside tuition for this term alone, which is more than had ever been received for an entire year before.

Notwithstanding one new department has been added to the public schools this fall, all the departments are larger than ever before, owing to the number of new pupils who are attending. This will add somewhat to the expense, as indicated by the bills brought before the board for approval.

The Medway cars, which formerly accommodated the pupils of our schools nicely, are now very unsatisfactory. Pupils from Caryville now are either obliged to leave home at 6.20 or start later and wait fifty-five minutes upon the road. It is hoped this will be remedied in some way.

The first of a course of lectures to be delivered before the teachers of Franklin was given Monday evening by the Rev. Dr. Sneath. His subject was, "The Teachers' Influence." Starting with the thought, "Education alone can never make a man better," Mr. Sneath showed in a practical and thus most helpful way how, by sympathy, by hopefulness, and most of all by example, the teacher is able to mould the characters of his pupils not only intellectually, but aesthetically, socially, morally and spiritually as well.

"Ten Nights in a Barroom."

A play which gives a wholesome lesson, while arousing the sympathies of the spectators and arousing them now to tears, now to laughter, is "Ten Nights in a Barroom," a forceful drama now launched upon another season of success. It is a play for the family, young and old. It is a relaxation from care and worry, a force in character building through exciting such feelings and sentiments as tend to develop and strengthen a man. It is universal in its power to interest, to move and to amuse, for it deals with experience common to mankind, though specialized by a chosen environment. It will be produced by a fine company at the Opera house this evening. There will be a concert by the show band at 7.30 in front of the Opera house.

Richardson's Market.

Of course we keep meat, but we want to call your attention to our carefully selected home made sausage, choice veal and prime beef. Onions 75 cents a bushel. Fancy Jersey sweet potatoes, tender beef liver, with bacon. All the vegetables and soups.

An Interesting Case.

A group of "twelve good men and true" from Dedham, with sheriffs and other court officials, attracted considerable attention here on Wednesday as they were passing through to view the grade crossings on the Providence line, especially the one where the late Maucy M. Daniels received his injuries some months ago. They returned on the electrics and drove to the scene in a barge. The suit is to recover $10,000 damages, and Mrs. Daniels also has a suit to recover $5,000 additional for the death of her husband. Judge Bishop is on the bench; Walter Cook is the juror from here. He was allowed to remain on the panel. The accident occurred August 12, 1899, although Mr. Daniels did not die till some time afterward, recovering sufficiently to be about the house. Quite a good many citizens from here were summoned as witnesses. The case will probably require a week. Expert counsel have been retained upon both sides, which promises an active contest.

"The Pied Piper of Hamelin."

This operetta is arranged by Mr. E. C. Morse, and, as the name suggests, is from Browning's charming poem. This is founded on an old German legend.

The first scene is laid in the market-place of the quaint, medieval city, which is stirred from its lethargy by a plague of rats that are making life a burden. The citizens are trying to rouse the dull old mayor and his equally dull aldermen to some action when a traveling piper arrives and offers to rid the town of the nuisance. The piper is gifted with a wonderful power, which, by the music of his magic flute, compels everything to follow him where he desires. An agreement is made by which he promises to drive out the rats if he shall be given a thousand gold guilders.

The second act shows the piper charming the rats, who follow the magic notes, and thus are led into the river, where they perish. This is followed by festivities, during which several specialties are introduced. The rejoicings are interrupted by the return of the piper, who demands his reward. But now that the pest is gone, the old mayor refuses to pay him and defies him to collect. In revenge the musician again begins to play, and the children, drawn by the magic of his notes, follow him. It is then too late to parley, and the little ones are led into an opening in the side of the mountain, never to return.

The operetta closes with a beautiful tableau representing the piper and the children in the enchanted land whither they had been led.

Woonsocket Opera House.

Monday, October 8, and throughout the week the opera house will be occupied by Mr. Corse Payton's Big Stock Company, with a change of play every night.

The public has been taught that cheap prices for theatrical entertainments do not always necessitate cheap entertainments—or, what would be more proper, bad entertainments. Since Mr. Corse Payton entered the field as promoter of popular priced theatricals he has made a fortune by giving each play in his repertoire with the same careful attention to scenery, furniture, properties and other details as is given by the best metropolitan companies, and by engaging actors of recognized ability to interpret the several characters. This effort on his part has met with public approval, with the result that theatres are crowded at every performance.

Saturday, Oct. 6, a special matinee will be given for the ladies of "Quo Vadis." Prices 25 and 50 cents.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse.

Trash wood, ready cut for stove use, at Allen's wood yard.

To Rent.—A desirable tenement of six rooms; $12 per month. Inquire of O. T. Doe. 14-tf

Wanted.—A girl to do general housework. Apply to G. H. Grant, School street. 18-tf

Girl Wanted—A girl to do general housework. Apply to Mrs. Alfred Farrington. 21-tf

A competent girl can obtain a good situation doing housework by addressing "E," SENTINEL office. 28

Get your round - trip Boston, Providence and Milford tickets of Charles H. Prince at the SENTINEL office.

Sweet cider right from the press at Maple Farm, also pure cider vinegar, nine years old. Orders at Chilson's market. Jugs called for and delivered. O. S. Stetson. 25-tf

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J.B. McKINNON, Agent.

Pianos Tuned.

I shall be in Franklin during the second week in October to care for my pianos and to attend to new ones. Orders may be left at the SENTINEL office.

J. W. WALKER.

A new lot of potted plants, ferns, rubber plants, palms, etc.; cut flowers, roses in large or small quantities; funeral designs well made up. Slade's greenhouse.

Two chairs at Ochee's barber shop. Accomplished hair dresser in attendance. Short waits.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Co[illegible] to [illegible] sending [illegible] tion [illegible] in the [illegible]

C[illegible] than [illegible] SENTINEL office [illegible]

ADVERTISING RATES

Space.	1 Wk	2 Wk	3 Wk	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	[illegible]	1 25	[illegible]	1 75	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	10 00
2 in..	[illegible]	[illegible]	2 75	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	10 00	16 00
3 in..	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	4 00	[illegible]	[illegible]	14 00	22 00
4 in..	[illegible]	[illegible]	4 75	[illegible]	[illegible]	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	[illegible]	[illegible]	6 00	[illegible]	10 00	[illegible]	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	[illegible]	[illegible]	12 00	15 00	25 00	[illegible]
½ col	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	[illegible]
1 col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	21 [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	70 00	125 00

R[illegible] N[illegible], [illegible] a line. Business Announcements, [illegible] a word, no notice less than [illegible]

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5 [illegible] per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

FRIDAY. OCTOBER 5, 1900

MAKE your local vote as large as possible. Some towns have fallen off in their delegate representation. Bring up your total vote to as great a number as possible.

VOTE for your own interest and you will be on the safe side. If every man will look out for himself the country will not go far wrong, for the average voter will protect his own pocket as far as possible.

LET the west look out for itself. Your responsibility is at home. Vote for your Republican nominees. If the individuals will vote right the nation will vote right. The "right vote" is for the Republican nominees.

HAVING selected your candidates, now support them at the polls. Any man who supports Republican principles and aids in general prosperity is more worthy of support than a candidate whose election would only destroy business confidence and cause industrial paralysis.

DON'T vote for any man just because somebody else does. Vote just as if your one solitary vote was going to settle the policy for the next four years. Unless you honestly believe Bryan would make a president better for the country than McKinley has and will, don't vote for him.

LOOK after the registration and see to it that every Republican in spirit gets his name on the list, and then see that he comes to the polls. His own self-interest will control his vote. Unless he wants fifty cents on the dollar, or one dollar where he now has sixteen (another form of "16 to 1"), he will vote the Republican ticket.

THE practical, common sense view for every intelligent and honest voter is to ask himself if he really believes his own interest would be improved by the election of Bryan and the rule of Bryanism. He may not approve the present condition of things. We all know they could be improved. But unless a man honestly believes he himself and his family would be better off with Bryan as president, he should vote against him.

IF you believe in "16 to 1," vote for Bryan. If you believe in scuttling out of the Philippines, vote for Bryan. If you believe in the 50 cent dollar, vote for Bryan. If you believe in free trade, vote for Bryan. These are all direct, positive issues of the campaign. They are right or they are wrong. Bryan believes one way and McKinley the other. Now be honest. Vote anyway. But think very carefully before you vote. It is a great thing to be able to vote, and it is a great deal greater thing to be able to vote right.

UNDER Cleveland from [illegible] to [illegible] our country's business fell off three million dollars a day, as compared with Harrison's administration. Under McKinley it has gained seven million dollars a day, as compared with Cleveland. Now, sensible men, take your choice. "Business" knows no politics. Men want to make all the money they can, no matter who is president. The cold facts show you can make more money under a Republican administration than under a Democratic. This should be "enough said."

CARL SCHURZ can prate all he pleases about what would have happened if McKinley had not been president. He is only guessing with such problems. He doesn't know any more about it than you do. But you know that with McKinley as president you have had much better times than under Cleveland. There is not the least certainty that the times under Cleveland from 1896 to 1900 would have been a cent better than from 1892 to 1896. Any assertion to the contrary is mere guess-work. We know what we have had under McKinley, and we are going to try four years more of the same administration. "You can't fool all the people all the time."

CONSUMPTION

Do not think for a single moment that consumption will ever strike you a sudden blow. It does not come that way.

It creeps its way along.

First you think it is a little cold, nothing but a little hacking cough; then a little loss in weight; then a harder cough; then the fever and the night sweats.

Better stop the disease while it is yet creeping. Better cure your cough today.

You can do it with

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

The pressure on the chest is lifted, that feeling of suffocation is removed, and you are cured. You can stop that little cold with a 25 cent bottle; harder coughs will need a 50 cent size; if it's on the lungs the one dollar size will be most economical.

"I confidently recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral to all my patrons. I am using it now in my own family. Forty years ago I feel sure it saved my life." A. S. EIDSON, M. D., Jan. 4, 1898. Fort Madison, Iowa.

Write the Doctor at any time. Address, DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

IT is highly important that the Republicans elect just as many members of congress as possible. The change of a few would throw the control on the Democratic side, with the usual result of Democratic administration. The plain, rock-bottom facts are that business, during the memory of any living voter, has never prospered under Democratic administration. If you don't want another dose of it, defeat the Democratic candidates. Admitting that they "mean well," it has been conclusively proven that they "don't know how." The result would be the same either way. The accidental fire is just as hot as the intentional one.

How Success is Won.

After once choosing your occupation, however, never look backward; stick to it with all the tenacity you can muster. Let nothing tempt you or swerve you a hair's breadth from your aim, and you will win, says Success. Do not let the thorns which appear in every vocation, or temporary despondency or disappointment, shake your purpose. You will never succeed while smarting under the drudgery of your occupation if you are constantly haunted with the idea that you could succeed better in something else. Great tenacity of purpose is the only thing that will carry you over the hard places which appear in every career to ultimate triumph. This determination, or fixity of purpose has a great moral bearing upon our success, for it leads others to feel confidence in us, and this is everything. It gives credit and moral support in a thousand ways. People always believe in a man with a fixed purpose, and will help him twice as quickly as one who is loosely or indifferently attached to his vocation, and liable at any time to make a change, or to fail. Everybody knows that determined men are not likely to fail. They carry in their very pluck, grit and determination the conviction and assurance of success.

This is What They Say.

Those who take Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, eczema, eruptions, catarrh, rheumatism or dyspepsia say it cures promptly and permanently, even after all other preparations fail. You may take this medicine with the utmost confidence that it will do you good. What it has done for others you have every reason to believe it will do for you.

Constipation is cured by Hood's Pills 25c.

Yarmouth Line's Fall Excursions.

Not to have visited Nova Scotia during September is to have missed one of the most delightful of autumnal tours. During this month the Yarmouth Steamship company will sell excursion tickets, good for thirty days from date of purchase, to all points in Nova Scotia at unusually low rates. You may go to Yarmouth and return for only $[illegible], to Digby and return for [illegible]; to Halifax and return for $[illegible], and correspondingly low rates to other places, including south shore points reached by the steamer City of Monticello from Yarmouth. Yarmouth line steamers leave Pier 1, Lewis wharf, every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 2 p. m. for Yarmouth. Full particulars and tickets at the tourist agencies, 201, [illegible] and 3[illegible]2 Washington street, or of H. F. Hammond, agent Yarmouth steamship company, Pier 1, Lewis wharf, Boston.

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY.

Statesman Who Ranks With Washington and Lincoln.

"The strong, wise, tender-hearted man who guides the nation's destinies today, and who resembles Lincoln more than any president the republic ever had, William McKinley, would have prevented bloodshed if it had been possible with honor. He tried expedient after expedient to compose the Philippines, until the world looked on amazed at his forbearance. He has approved force with reluctance and only when the flag he had sworn to defend was hid by the battle smoke of hostile guns and [illegible] at by the dark hands of insurrection; only when anarchy whirled aloft its torch and civilization gasped at Aguinaldo's order of murder and [illegible]; only then, when honor and humanity commanded, did our great president, dauntless as he is merciful, draw the nation's sword; and William McKinley never draws the sword for show or for parade. In the scabbard is the sword's true place until the peril of the flag calls it forth and then it should leap like lightning unsheathed from its sheath and like lightning strike. President McKinley, in the Philippine problem, has been the same cautious, conciliatory, conservative statesman that he has been throughout this four years of American advance. Patient in the very hour of exasperation, conservative when all the atmosphere was charged with impetuosity, clear eyed when flaming circumstance on every hand reddened the vision of the calmest counsellors, steady when hurricanes of unprecedented events swept the stanchest from their bearings—such is the president of the American republic, the most respected statesman in the world today, and forever fixed as one of the foremost figures of American history. He has risen to the greatness of the hour. The work that Washington began and Lincoln continued, this wise president, in our day of destiny, has taken up and carried on toward that work's great consummation. As Washington prepared the republic to enter the 19th century, so McKinley has prepared the republic to enter the 20th century. And that is why hundreds of thousands of other parties than our own will join in making that mighty majority which will name the nation's noble leader at the end of the 19th century or our leader still at the beginning of the new century now dawning."—Hon. Albert J. Beveridge.

"The golden rule is illustrated by the administration of this country today. Our honored president and our distinguished secretary of state are making immortal history. They are directing the diplomacy of the world. They are leading the movement to save China from disruption and possibly from national extinction. No president since the founding of the government has had so many perplexing international problems as the president of today. When the passions of the hour have subsided he will by common consent take his place beside Washington and Lincoln. Bitter as has been the criticism of the president in certain quarters, it is not one tithe as bitter as was the criticism of both Washington and Lincoln, whom now we all glorify."—Rev. Dr. Robert S. MacArthur.

"I know of no situation so absurd as for Colonel Bryan to stand before an Ohio audience and describe William McKinley as an emperor. William McKinley, who, boy and man, has been your neighbor all his life—has been a good soldier and a good citizen, an able congressman, and a most brilliant president, whose whole life, from the time he enlisted as a boy until today has been at the service of his country and for his country's best interest."—Chauncey M. Depew.

"But it is not by principles alone that the success, the power of the Republican party has been achieved. The best of causes may fail if they have not also the best of representatives. The successful advocate of a cause is so faithful that he would die for it, but so strong that he does not have to, and the rare and almost unbroken fortune of the Republican party has been that whenever the emergency has arisen, no matter how tempestuous the course, there was always a pilot who could steer it and bring the ship to port without throwing the cargo overboard. We have already selected the pilot for the national craft. He has been over the course once. He has steered with such success and skill that even in the turbulence that has surrounded him he has gained the confidence of his fellow-citizens and increased his own renown to a degree almost without example."—Ex-Governor Black of New York.

"We are fortunate people, my friends, in our candidate for president. He is the commander-in-chief and the Republican candidates in every state are generals of corps, divisions and brigades in that commonwealth. As a commander-in-chief of the armies of the country he conducted a war upon sea and land which placed us in the front rank of the martial nations. [illegible] as a world power into the councils of the nations, [illegible] to face [illegible] the [illegible] market of the Orient which were being divided among the great powers of [illegible]. [illegible] that the United States [illegible] when its minister and [illegible] ambassador [illegible] the finest triumph of diplomacy of the 19th century was [illegible] the most picturesque [illegible] of history [illegible] with the American flag flying over the imperial palace in Pekin. Not only the United States but every civilized and semi-civilized country of the globe is today giving unstinted admiration to the statesmanship, the generalship and the diplomacy of William McKinley."—Chauncey M. Depew.

"If there has been any imperialism it was in accepting the title to the Philippines and the assertion of our authority and power there in the first instance and all that had the approval of Mr. Bryan. Since this policy was entered upon nothing more has been done than to prosecute it with vigor."—Senator Foraker.

Disfigured Skin

wasted muscles and decaying bones.

What havoc!

Scrofula, let alone, is capable of all that, and more.

It is commonly marked by bunches in the neck, inflammations in the eyes, dyspepsia, catarrh, and general debility.

It is always radically and permanently cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I was a sufferer from scrofula from birth. My eyes were so affected that I was almost blind for days at a time. My neck began to swell so that I could not breathe freely. Medicines failed to do me any good until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Today I have excellent health." MISS KATIE MCGUIRE, Silver Creek, Ky.

"I was troubled with scrofula and came near losing my eyesight. For four months I could not see to do anything. After taking two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I could see to walk around the house and when I had taken eight bottles I could see as well as I ever could." SUSIE A. HAIRSTON, Withers, N. C.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

expels all humors, cures all eruptions, and builds up the whole system.

FOR THE CYCLISTS.

The inventor of the safety bicycle is on the verge of poverty in England.

A Chicago man has patented a saddle frame with receptacles for a pump, a wrench and a toothbrush.

Speaking of cycling and heart strain, a doctor says that so long as the cyclist can breathe with the mouth shut he is certainly perfectly safe so far as heart strain is concerned.

Cyclists should take warning and not ride behind motor carriages. In England a wheelman was riding behind a horseless carriage; the latter was brought suddenly to a standstill and the cyclist sustained a serious injury to the brain.

A traffic census in Rochester shows that during 12 hours—nine a. m. to nine p. m.—on Wednesday, August 22, 10,543 bicycles passed a given point in the down-town district, to 1,073 loaded wagons, 1,031 empty wagons and 1,019 carriages. Total vehicles—13,657; percentage of bicycles, 77.1.

In case a chain adjuster breaks or strips its thread, a temporary repair may be made by fitting a small piece of wood of the right size. The strain being one of longitudinal compression is easily withstood by even a piece of soft wood. The axle nut, of course, should be screwed as tight as possible.

Bringing Him to Time.

Mr. Love—Miss Elsie, your clock is awfully slow.

Miss Sweet—Oh, yes; it's going to be a bachelor, I'm afraid!—Jewelers' Weekly.

A Poor Reason.

"Why do you allude to your cousin as Miss Trout when that isn't her name?" asked Hunker.

"She is a freckled beauty," replied Spatts.—Town Topics.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. Testimonials free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

To the Deaf.

A rich lady, cured of her deafness in the head by Dr. Nicholson's Artificial Ear drums, gave $10,000 to his institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the ear drums may have them free. Address No. 50951, The Nicholson Institute, 780 Eighth avenue, New York, U. S. A. j127

He Explains.

Mammy—Why do you call him "Jonesy?"

Johnny—Well, you see, his name is Jones, but we call him "Jonesy" for short.—Puck

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Our Business for Half a Century has been to make and sell

CLOTHING FOR Men and Boys.

We make but one grade of goods—the highest—and the work is done on our own premises under cleanly conditions and open at any time to the inspection of our customers.

It is impossible to make, anywhere, BETTER clothing than we make, or to sell it at a LOWER PRICE.

MACULLAR PARKER COMPANY,

400 Washington Street 400

BOSTON.

264

Chilson's Market

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Fresh Killed Chicken, 20c lb.

Fresh Killed Fowl, 16c.

Lamb Legs, 14 to 16c.

Boston Celery, 13c bunch, 2 for 25c.

Grapes--Concord, 10c basket; Delaware, 15c; Niagara, 13c.

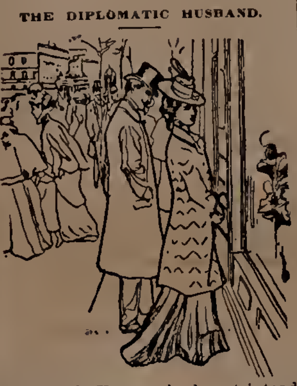
White Sponge Flour, $5.00 barrel.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-1y8

THE DIPLOMATIC HUSBAND.



Husband—You surely do not intend to buy that magnificent hat—why, people would think that you wished to distract their attention from your face!—Meggendorfer Blaetter.

Not in Serious Danger.

Doctor—Your wife is very ill, and I have my doubts as to her recovery.

Husband—Oh, she'll pull through all right. Her dressmaker sent home a new gown yesterday, and she hasn't tried it on.—Tit-Bits.

Too Bad.

Mrs. Minkins—Why didn't you get a divorce?

Mrs. Winkins (sadly)—I found I wouldn't be able to get alimony enough to support another husband.—N. Y. Weekly.

No Exceptions.

Ida—So the Van Biggs had their crystal wedding. I suppose everything was glass?

Maud—Yes, even the diamonds worn by the host and hostess.—Chicago Record.

Evening Things Up.

Hewitt—You are always having a laugh at my expense.

Jewitt—Well, come in and have a smile at mine.—Town Topics.

Working Night and Day.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar coated globule of health that changes weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co.

A Query.

Weary Willie—Did yer ever see a dog that would eat dirt?

Frayed Foster—No; has some dog bin bitin' you?—Judge.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell-O, a delicious dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No baking; add hot water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers, 10c.

J. A. GEB.

House and Sign Painter.

Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.

22-1y

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW

Enclosed · Arc · Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.

UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH, FRANKLIN, MASS.

E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:

For a distance of 5 miles or less, - - 10c

5 to 15 miles, - - 15c

15 to 25 " - - 20c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Telephone Service at Your Residence

Is useful always, helpful often, necessary sometimes and cheap all the year round

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

se25-2mF

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

se25-4w

PATENTS

DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE

Notice in "Inventive Age"

Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.

Letters strictly confidential. Address,

E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

MONEY

To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.

Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.

Do You want to know about Automobiles—the different kinds, their construction, care and operation, tours, runs, etc., of users and users? If so, you should subscribe for the handsomely illustrated, thoroughly reliable, up-to-date automobilist monthly.

$1 a year. 10c. a copy. Sample two 2c. stamps. Live Agents wanted.

The Automobile

150 Nassau St., N.Y.

au10-F

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine.

SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

Mention this paper.

se14-4w

Business Announcements in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL are invariably read.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

AN AMERICAN GIRL.

"O, YOU'RE Mr. Braithwaite's friend. I don't know you, but I've heard you're a nice man. Do come in."

It was very good of Braithwaite to have reported so favorably on me, but the reception was somewhat startling. I hope I looked modest.

"I am all alone, you see, and just as busy. Packing up; I'll never get through. We're off to Cairo to-morrow. Sit down just there, and you can help. Hold this a minute there's a good man."

And she tossed me a tangle of wool.

I began to see the humor of the situation I, a correct Englishman, in a small Paris salon au premier, was holding a skein of wool, which a handsome American girl who didn't seem to consider an introduction necessary, was deftly winding, chatting all the time with a frankness that didn't give me a chance to say a word.

"You do that rather well for a man," she went on; "goodness knows how I should have fixed it alone. You don't look much like an angel dropped in, but that's not your fault. A little slower, O, my friend, if you please. There!"

"Now, Miss Holiday, if you can be ceremonious for just a minute, I'll introduce myself. Braithwaite was unable to come to-day, so he asked me to make his adieux, to give you this packet, and to say you were to be very kind to the messenger, who was his friend."

As I handed her the large box I scarcely remembered that the latter part of the message was fictitious.

"Candy! The lovely man!" said Miss Holiday. "Yes, I've heard a great deal about you, and when we've finished packing I'll be good and motherly to you. Now, Mr. Haskell, from London, you'll be kind enough to help me with this trunk."

Miss Nora Holiday was a magnificent girl, and as she knelt at the other side of the trunk, with a faint glimmer of firelight behind her great mass of brown hair (Parisian anthracite gives a faint gleam toward dusk) —well, even the best bred Englishman has a revelation at times of the artificiality of courtesy, and maybe remembers the wood pigeons, who have no manners.

"Alors, mon ami, you shall put those cotton gloves, for which I gave two francs, next the little packet you're not to look at. Now that traveling pillow and those slippers. These hooks—and there! I guess the lid won't close now. Do you mind?"

I knelt upon the lid, which, after several attempts, we succeeded in catching and Miss Holiday rose, with a handsome flush on her face.

"There," she said, "it's just too bad of me to make you work like that, but you've been very good, and you shall have some tea and some of Mr. Braithwaite's candy."

By this time I was in no hurry to leave This young lady from Salt Lake, with her frank, free manners, her intuitive breeding, and her back as straight and lissome as a sapling, was like a pine-laden breeze, of which one involuntarily breathes deep, and American slang, after all, was no worse than I had been accustomed to hear from irreproachable English ladies.

She spoke of Cairo. I didn't know Cairo O, but I ought to. That, I said, probably explained my ignorance. O, but I must, she replied. I subjected myself to Kismet; did she intend to remain in Cairo long?

"All the winter, I guess, if the men will let me. They're a terrible lot of men. They think every American girl has heaps and heaps of money. They just worry you to death."

I clothed myself in ignorance, and asked in what way?

"O, they make no secret of it," she replied, laughing. "They have embarrassed estates, or 'scutcheons that need regilding They want money. They offer you a mine of affection—but they get no affection of mine."

Miss Holiday laughed at her pun, and went on to tell me of foreign counts, whose endowments in title were their prospect uses; of men who hadn't come into their money; of men who had run through it; of men who had never had any, but who were all anxious for some one else's, even at the expense of having to take the corollary with two laughing brown eyes that were mirroring the lamp-light into mine at the other side of the table. When eyes like those cease to gleam with fun, it is to shine with love.

"Then you anticipate being asked shortly to share five centuries of title and a decayed castle somewhere in Poland?"

"O, no," Miss Holiday replied. "I always tell them I'm a Mormon, and entail a score of mothers-in-law. Of course, it is not true; but they know I'm from Salt Lake, and that puts them off."

If she did not rid me of these two lamp-light reflections, 'twould be a question, I thought, if all King Cadmus' harvest could put me off. But I played the game.

"And will the bearer of a score of quarterings to be afraid of quartering a score of mothers-in-law?" I asked.

"There is no question with mothers-in-law," Miss Holiday retorted, pausing as she opened Braithwaite's box of candy, and making a little moue that passed like a ripple round her mouth, and was lost in the smile that followed.

"But the funniest thing," she continued, "was an old Dutch count, whose estates had been flooded. He wanted to pump them out, or something. Well, he asked Lottie McClellan and Edna Stacey and they said they weren't rich enough. Then he came to me, and I had to tell him I'd just started a scheme for transplanting oysters into Salt Lake, and that till the pearl harvest came I was hard up. That broke him right up, and he told them all at Shepherd's I was mad. Well, after that I swore I'd never let a man propose to me at Cairo again."

"But if one day Cupid came to Cairo?" I asked.

"Then if I were at Cairo, I should be—not at home," she replied.

Now if Miss Nora Holiday thought she could match me so easily as that she was mistaken. I had been a bachelor long enough to know my own mind when the time came; and that the time had come I knew as well as if it had been proclaimed to me by a special revelation.

A whim came into my head. I rose to take my leave, reached my hat and at the door turned.

"Miss Holiday," I said, "do you bet?"

"Why, what do you mean, Mr. Haskell?"

"This," I replied. "I will bet you a dozen of gloves against a tete-a-tete supper the next time we meet in Paris, that before you've been in Cairo a week, Salt Lake or no Salt Lake, some man will have asked you to marry him. I don't insist on the title or the Dutch submarine estate, but poor he will be. Within a week, mind. Do you take me?"

"It's a gamble," said Miss Holiday, taking my hand.

"Then good-by."

"Good-by."

On my way home I called on Braithwaite.

"I've come to bid you farewell," I said.

"Farewell?" said Braithwaite, "where the deuce are you going?"

"Off to Cairo in the morning," I replied.
—Lady's Pictorial.

"O! Wad Some Power."

I have some self-esteem. I know
It is no more than meet.
But why should all my neighbors show
Such asinine conceit?
—Philadelphia Press.

Oil Engines in Palestine.

According to an English consular report oil engines are rapidly advancing in favor in Palestine for the purpose of drawing water from the deep wells to irrigate the orange gardens. Hitherto the water was pumped by animal power. There was a large water wheel and from four to eight mules were required to revolve it, according to the size of the wheel.

Everybody Knows About

Pain-Killer

A Household Medicine

A Safe and Sure Cura for

Cramps Coughs Bruises
Diarrhœa Colds Burns
Sprains and Strains.

Gives instant relief.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.

Only one Pain Killer, Perry Davis'.

WHICH?

The portraits of President McKinley and Mr. Bryan, published this week, are printed because of the many demands for the pictures. The picture of Mr. Bryan is not a chance kodaker's shot, but is reproduced from a large 12-inch picture, representing in full Colonel Bryan and General Lee sitting in front of their tent in Florida. The two men were admirably posed for the picture, which was sent to Lincoln and placed in a local photographer's window, where it remained for several months. The inference is, therefore, not unfair that the likeness was satisfactory to Mr. Bryan and his friends.

PROSPERITY IN THE WEST

Has Rapidly Advanced Under the Administration of President McKinley.

The Republican national committee, in order to secure some up-to-date facts of interest relative to financial conditions in the great agricultural sections of the United States west of the Alleghany mountains, sent out letters to several hundred business men in the large cities and in country towns of these sections.

"This county is 25 percent ahead of four years ago in general prosperity."—Union National bank, Grand Forks, N. D.

"Both savings and commercial deposits have increased with us about 50 percent, respectively, during the last four years; while credits of this district have increased about 25 percent. The improvement in the condition of the debtor class has been very material. Our merchants report vast improvements in collections."—M. S. Williams, Commercial National bank, Michigan.

"The agricultural interests in this whole community have improved to such an extent as is really remarkable, and contentment and plenty are shown on all hands, and only political disturbances occur. We only hope that four years more of such prosperity can be attained, for this community has never before been in such a prosperous condition."—S. C. Murray, president American National bank, Louisville, Ky.

"Ten farm mortgages are now paid off to every one that goes on record, while then (four years ago) none were paid off, and great quantities went on record."—C. S. Oleson, Security bank, Howard, S. D.

"Four years ago our sheep interests, which comprised almost wholly our borrowing class, were heavily in debt. Today, while they have not become loaners of money, they are far less in debt, and as a general rule are carrying increased flocks. If their flocks were reduced to the average of four years ago they would probably be out of debt."—H. H. Matteson, First National bank, Great Falls, Montana.

"I never knew a time when commercial paper was paid more promptly than today; our notary complains that he has no protesting to do. The rates of interest are now very low; this no doubt is due to the additional currency issued under the new law, the enormous production of gold in this country and more prosperous times generally."—J. R. Walsh, president Chicago National bank, Chicago, Ills.

"A number of our people in mercantile pursuits, who had borrowed money and were unable to pay four years ago, have largely reduced or wiped out their debts. Some who were in good financial condition have become very much better off. We do not know of any merchants of business capacity who have not very materially improved their position."—J. H Dwight, First National bank, Duluth, Minn.

"I have incidentally discussed the political situation with many business men from Kentucky, most of whom are Democrats. They almost without exception indicate a purpose to vote the Republican ticket, as they are satisfied to let well enough alone, and they do not approve of the platform upon which the Democratic party stands." Charles A Hirsch, Fifth National bank, Cincinnati.

"Borrowers of five years ago have, to a considerable extent, become lenders of money Many persons practically bankrupt four years ago have been enabled to realize on property which could not have been sold in 1896. Farm mortgages have decreased nearly one-half since 1896. The principal reason therefor is the universal prosperity brought on by a wise and judicious administration." Ira P. Nye, First National bank, Eureka, Kas.

"Unless I am greatly mistaken, there will be a very material change in the political results in this state this fall I make it a point to talk with farmers coming from different precincts, and from different sections of the state, and almost without an exception they tell me they know of many in their different localities who are going to let well enough alone and vote for McKinley. Many of them voted for Bryan four years ago. The general feeling here is that the Republicans can elect a governor, carry the legislature, and secure the electoral vote for McKinley."—S. H. Burnton, president First National bank, Lincoln, Neb.

REPUBLICAN ISSUES.

Boiled Down. They Will All Be Found In the Full Dinner Pail.

"Our issue is the prosperity of the American people and the honor of the American nation. They are menaced by free silver at home and free rioting in the Philippines. Under the Republican party the country has been raised from dire depression to boundless prosperity, and the good name of the republic has been kept unsullied. Common sense tells you that if you preserve prosperity and the public faith, you must support the party which has created and maintained them. The record of the Republican party is the pledge of the election of McKinley and Roosevelt."—President Schurman of Cornell university.

"My fellow-citizens, you have heard a great deal of talk of late about the paramount issue. This issue, whatever it is, is yours. I saw it a moment ago among the trees—a full dinner pail. You may talk about expansion, anti-trust, silver, government by injunction, the constitution following the flag, and all the rest of it, but, fellow-citizens, I want to tell you that this whole issue boiled down is in that dinner pail. If this is a great nation, it is great because of its people. If it is a successful nation, it is so because of the industry of its people. What, my friends, is the object of the Democratic party in bringing in collateral issues, except to distract your attention from the very fact that you are prosperous, and that every promise of the Republican party made at St. Louis has been fulfilled; that every proposition has come to pass, and that you are reaping the benefits of those prophecies and promises. Now, it is a game of politics only to inject into the campaign those issues that are simply collateral."—Senator Hanna.

THE TRUST QUESTION.

Publicity One of the Best Remedies For Crushing Out Evil.

"Talk about the sincerity of the Democratic party on the trust question. Why, at Kansas City they put a plank in their platform denouncing trusts, but ignored Grover Cleveland, who once said, 'Public office is a public trust.' (Laughter.) The Democratic party in the city of New York has turned public office into an ice trust. There they are gouging the poor people out of their hard-earned wages for what to them is a necessity of life, while the very conspirators who formed the ice trust were gathered in Saratoga denouncing it."—Lieutenant Governor Woodruff.

"The Democrats referred to trusts in a single line in the Wilson bill. That's all they have done against trusts. Think of Croker and Van Wyck and all that crowd with their pockets bulging out with trust stock, putting in the platform 'We condemn the ice trust!' They come up with all the courage of that 'wicked flee when no man pursueth.'"—Congressman Paine.

"A word as to trusts. Beyond a question the great industrial combinations which we group in popular parlance under the name of trusts have produced great and serious evils. There is every reason why we should try to abate those evils and to make men of wealth, whether they act individually or collectively, bear their full share of the country's burdens, and keep as scrupulously within the bounds of equity and morality as any of their neighbors But wild and frantic denunciation does not do them the least harm, and simply postpones the day when we can make them amenable to proper laws. Hasty legislation of a violent type is either wholly ineffective against the evil, or else crushes the evil at the expense of crushing even more of good One of the first things to obtain is publicity. We must be able by law to find out exactly what each corporation self will effect something toward remedying many evils. Moderation combined ing many evils Moderation combined with resolution can alone secure results worth having."—Candidate Roosevelt.

President Schurman of Cornell university "Mr Bryan is the biggest boomer of bogies in the United States, but, as Lincoln remarked, you can't fool the people more than once. Our prosperity under the gold standard has pitilessly unmasked Mr Bryan, but there is no escape for him from the silver issue to which he has pledged himself His other issue is that of imperialism. I don't know of any one-man power here, except in Tammany hall."

Comer's Commercial College

Known Everywhere

as the most modern, progressive and in every way "up-to-date" business school. Prepares

Young Men and Women

in the shortest time—at the least expense—for good paying business positions Day and evening sessions. If you want to know all about Shorthand, Book-keeping and the most successful Employment Department send for latest prospectus.

666 Washington St., cor. Beach St.,
BOSTON.

Rather Enjoyed It.

Mrs. Smith—Mrs. Blobson has had such an experience. Arrested for shoplifting All a mistake, of course.

Mr. Johson—I suppose she must have been very much annoyed?

Mrs. Smith—Not at all. The papers all said she was of "prepossessing appearance."—Tit-Bits.

Choice of Two Evils.

"I see that the latest fashion in men's shirt waists is to have them button up the back."

"So? In that case every man will be compelled to have a valet."

"Or get married."—Buffalo News.

His Dear Wife's Cooking.

Bixby—I'm going to take this cake to my room.

Mrs. Bixby—What for?

Bixby—I want it to exercise with; I've let a fellow take my dumbbells.—Town Topics.

Just a Way He Has.

The loafer sits down by the way
And seems to have no sorrow;
He tells you as he rests to-day
Of things he'll do to-morrow
—Chicago Daily News.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on Albert C. Mason & Co., druggist, and get a trial bottle free. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

To Hide It.

Hewitt—What are you raising whiskers for?

Jewett—Well, I don't mind telling you that I am wearing a necktie my wife gave me.—Harper's Bazar.

Red Hot From the Gun

Was the gun that bit G. B Steadman of Newark, Mich, in the Civil War. It caused horrible ulcers that no treatment helped for 20 years Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Cures cuts, bruises, burns, boils, felons, corns, skin eruptions. Best pile cure on earth. 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co, druggists.

Broken Bric-A-Bracs.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man, of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's cement. The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are to expensive and do not allow large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $3.75 a pound, and another cost $2.65 a gallon while a large share of the so called cements and liquid glue, upon the market are nothing more than 16 cent glue, disolved in water or citric acid, and in some cases, altered slightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials. Major's cement retails at fifteen and twenty-five cents a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make a larger profit. The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising which now amounts to $5000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876. Insist on having Major's. Don't accept any off hand advice from a druggist. If you are at all handy (and you will be likely to find that you are more so than you imagine) you can repair your rubber boots and family shoes, and other rubber and leather articles, with Major's rubber cement and Major's leather cement. And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will save If your druggist can't supply you, it will be fowarded by mail; either kind. Free of postage.

DAVID CITY, NEB., April 1, 1900.
Genesse Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it and told us to use GRAIN-O We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

Yours truly, LILLIE SOCHOR.

Jell-O, the New Dessert, pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers, 10c.; try it to day.

Pyny-Pectoral Relieves Right Away and makes a speedy end of coughs and colds.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f5 21, 9 18 p m, 12 21 a m S 10 26 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM 9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m, 3 30 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD 9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m, 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 15 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 8 04, 8 10, 12 04 a. m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m, S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test. ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet FEVERS
Typhoid

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE.. ..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week............ 50
Single Gallon............ 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES, P. O. Box 481.
17-tf

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

G.A. Martin, M.D.,

..AND...

C.B.Hussey, M. D.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J.Gallison, M.D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours: From 2 to 3 p. m., and by appointment.

92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m, Thursday. Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.

18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.

Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.

Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.

Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.

Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,

....BOSTON.

Telephone 1839.

A FINE LINE OF

Cotton Mill Oils.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all here is to it.

Truss Advice.

We advise an Elastic Belt Truss because it wears longer than the spring truss, fits better and is far more comfortable. We have had a long personal experience with all styles of trusses. Throw your old spring truss away and get one of our Elastic Belt Trusses. We can fit you. Double and single at moderate prices.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK, FRANKLIN.

WRENTHAM.

An attempt was made recently to break into Lewis W. Fisher's stable, but after nearly demolishing the window the thief left.——Miss Ida Moore of Saulsbury Center, N. Y., is visiting Mrs. R. F. Hemenway.——The first regular meeting of the Holly club will be held November 6. Prof. Thomas Whittimore of Tufts will deliver an address.——Miss Ouida Stone is visiting in Bristol.——The registers of voters will be at the postoffice, Sheldonville, October 6, from 7 to 8. Plainville, October 8, from 7.30 to 9 o'clock; town hall, October 10, from 12 m. to 10 p. m.——Mrs. Frank Cobb of Chicopee is visiting George F. Barnes.——Alderman Robert McElreath of Halifax, N. S., is visiting Mrs. Henry K. Fisher.——Charles H. Bishop, F. P. Redding and A. Willard are going into the Belgian hare industry.——John J. Bleik is ill with the grip.——Chas. Quirk collided with Alden White, and he was thrown from his wheel and badly bruised about his head and face.——An alarm of fire was sounded from the whistle at Daniel Brown's factory, which proved to be at Glenwood mills. A new building, 30 feet square, was destroyed, with a loss of $400 on building and stock. The fire was caused by a spark in the rags.

Church Services.

Congregational church—Preaching at [illegible] by the pastor, Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D. Sunday school at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 3. Sunday school at 2. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at [illegible]; high mass at 10.45, meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Universalist church.—Rev. Dwight M. Hodge, D.D., pastor, will preach at 10.30 on "Men Without Bits and Bridles." Union temperance meeting at 7. Y. P. C. U. meeting at 6.

Baptist church.—At 10.[illegible] preaching by the pastor, Rev. Frank B. Sleeper; theme, "The Religion Needful for Adults." Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 5.45. No evening preaching service on account of union temperance meeting.

Methodist church—Preaching at 10.30 and 7 by the pastor, Rev. S. A. Cook; morning subject, "The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper as a Covenanting Act," followed by the administration of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper and the receiving of new members; evening subject, "The Royal Banqueting House." Sunday school at 12. Junior Epworth league at 3. Epworth league at 6.00, led by Charles Enegren; subject, "Rich Toward God."

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending October 3, 1900.

Ladies—Mrs. Edith M. Felt, Miss Mary Goddard, Mrs. Henry Elmer Kimball, Miss McQueeny, Miss Belle Williams.

Gentlemen—Odber A. Andrews, Joseph Foster, F. G. Taylor, W. A. Wadsworth.

Foreign—Sig. Liscio Potiti di Michile (3), M. Lornur Copske.

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

Your Liver

Will be roused to its natural duties and your biliousness, headache and constipation be cured if you take

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.

NOTICE TO VOTERS.

The Registrars of Voters will be in session for the purpose of correcting and adding new names to the voting list at the Town Officers' room in Franklin, on

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 10, from 7 to 9 P. M.
WEDNESDAY, OCT. 17, from 7 to 9 P. M.
WEDNESDAY, OCT. 24, from 7 to 9 P. M.
SATURDAY, OCT. 27, from 12 M. to 10 P. M.

Registration for the Presidential election will close on SATURDAY EVENING, OCT. 27, at 10 o'clock after which time no new names can be added to the voting list.

BRADLEY M. ROCKWOOD,
JAMES W. DESMOND,
MICHAEL J. COSTELLO,
ORESTES T. DOE,
Registrars of Voters.

Franklin, Mass., Sept. 24, 1900. oc2-1oc26

SLEEPING-ROOM OUTFIT ON EASY TERMS:

This comprises an elegant selected Chamber Set in golden oak finish, 2 Chairs, Rocker and Table to match, Woven Wire Spring, 1 pair Pillows, a good Mattress and Decorated Dresden Toilet Set.

ALL FOR $38.00.

TERMS—$5.00 or $10.00 down, $1.00 each week.

Where will you go to get credit? Don't go at all. COME—your credit is good right here.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free Delivery at your home the hour you name.

Autumn Millinery Opening.

Our special exhibit of FALL MILLINERY will occur FRIDAY and SATURDAY, OCT. 5 and 6.

It will include trimmed effects in Toques and Hats, representing the very latest ideas, as well as a carefully selected stock of Millinery Novelties.

You are very cordially invited to attend this opening.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

"Hunting and Fishing in the South," A book descriptive of the best localities in the South for various kinds of game and fish. The game laws of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Kentucky, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Mississippi, the states penetrated by the Southern railway. For all information apply to George C. Daniels, N. E. P. A., 228 Washington street, Boston.

The best that money can buy should be your aim in choosing a medicine, and this is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures when others fail.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Woonsocket Opera House,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

MONDAY, OCT. 8,
AND WEEK,
..CORSE PAYTON'S..
BIG STOCK CO.

In a Change of Play at Every Performance.

MATINEE EVERY DAY EXCEPT MONDAY.
Prices at Night—10, 20 and 30c.
Matinee—10 and 20c.

Flower Pots-Jardinieres

Now is the time for FLOWER POTS and JARDINIERES, all sizes for a little money.

DON'T FORGET
Elkerton's Bread and Pastry
Fresh Every Day.

CROWNINSHIELD'S
2 METCALF BLOCK.
my4-4mS

At WOODWARD'S
every description of
INSURANCE
can be placed. This AGENCY
officially represents the
LEADING
American and Foreign
COMPANIES.
P. A. WOODWARD, Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.
my4-1yF

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, ss.
PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Simeon A. Pickering, late of Bellingham, in said county, deceased, intestate.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Mary S. Pickering of Bellingham without giving a surety on her bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said county of Norfolk, on the twenty fourth day of October, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this fourth day of October, A. D. 1900.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

oc5,12,19

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, ss.
PROBATE COURT.

To the next-of-kin and all others interested in the estate of Abigail D. Dean, late of Franklin, in said county, deceased.

Whereas, Henry A. Talbot, the administrator of the estate of said deceased has presented to said court for allowance the first and final account of his administration on said estate, and application has been made for a distribution of the balance in his hands among the widow and next-of-kin of said deceased,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said county of Norfolk, on the 24th day of October, A.D. 1900, at ten o clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why said account should not be allowed and distribution made according to said application.

And the petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this third day of October, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

oc5,12,19

If you want to buy or sell anything, have lost anything, or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow.

UP IN SMOKE

There are many financial schemes that send your money "up in smoke."

The money you invest in

OUR CIGARS

Also goes "up in smoke"—with a difference—

YOU GET YOUR MONEY'S WORTH!

I carry a carefully selected stock of the Best Known Brands of

IMPORTED, KEY WEST AND DOMESTIC CIGARS.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

A Napkin Treat.

MEDIUM SIZE, FULL SELVAGE, $1.00 PER DOZEN.

The best lot we have ever offered.

—ALSO ONE LOT AT 65c.—

No more when they are sold.

Butterick Patterns and Publications.

N. C. NYE.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Coal! Coal!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

JAMES F. RAY,
The Coal Dealer,
DEPOT STREET.
jly10-S

MEDFIELD AND WAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tfS

OUR LEADER, "THE GUYER."

THE BEST STIFF HAT MADE.

PRICE $3.00.

JOG ALONG CLOTHING CO., SOLE AGENTS.
Main St., Franklin.

Your Wife is a Jewel

and her home is the setting. It is your duty to make this setting as beautiful as possible. Elaborateness doesn't necessarily mean beauty. Some of the prettiest Furniture in our store is the least expensive. Look around at home and then look around here, and you'll find means to brighten up the house wonderfully.

A small payment at time order is given and a little every week will pay for all your Furniture needs.

CHAMBER OUTFIT.
Suit complete, including Mattress, Springs and Toilet Set, $26.50
$2.75 down, 75c. a week.

KITCHEN OUTFIT.
Complete with Range, Table, Chairs, Oil Cloth, small ware, $35.00
$3.50 down, $1.00 a week.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN
SAVINGS BANK,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, LESTER L. BURRINGTON, WALTER M. FISHER, DR. GEORGE KING, Vice Presidents.
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, E. P. Chapman, B. M. Rockwood, George W. Wiggin, Charles Stewart.

STATEMENT SEPT. 29, 1900.

LIABILITIES.
Due Depositors		$565,502 99
Guarantee Fund		28,217 86
Profit and Loss Account		738 29
Interest Account		4,027 82
Real Estate Income Account		184 48
		$598,672 44
ASSETS.
Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		27,779 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
C. F. Boynton account		3,023 72
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		28,975 00
" " Mortgages		157,760 00
" " Personal Securities		174,269 18
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		522 22
Tax Account		572 73
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$3,028 14
Nat. Bank of Redemption	1,304 95
Mercantile Trust Co.	84 16
		4,417 25
Cash on hand		741 27
		$598,672 44

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

WALTER M. FISHER,
HORACE W. HOSIE,
Committee of Examination.

Sept. 29, 1900.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, ss.
PROBATE COURT.

To the next-of-kin and all others interested in the estate of Chloe P. Dean, late of Franklin, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, Henry A. Talbot, the administrator of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said court for allowance the first and final account of his administration on said estate, and application has been made for a distribution of the balance in his hands among the next-of-kin of said deceased,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said county of Norfolk, on the twenty-fourth day of October, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why said account should not be allowed and distribution made according to said application.

And the petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this third day of October, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

oc5,12,19

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, ss.
PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Charles W. Thayer, late of Bellingham, in said county, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Betsey W. Thayer of Bellingham, without giving a surety on her bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the 11th day of October, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eighteenth day of September, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

se21,28,oc5

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Felix Auclaire, late of Bellingham, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond and appointing Jules Berard of Blackstone, county of Worcester, state of Massachusetts, his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

PIERRE CHAPDELAINE,
618 Social street, Woonsocket, R. I.
September 28, 1900. se28,oc5,12

TAKE ADVANTAGE

Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

Hattie M Fisher 1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 81. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
A. C. Dana & Son	4
Mortgagee's Sale	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
5—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire.

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 05 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Charlie Knowlton is no worse—about holding his own.

The board of registrars will meet to morrow evening.

Tickets are selling well for the "Pied Piper of Hamelin."

Report of Dr. Hodge's temperance sermon in Friday's issue.

Mrs. Mima Holmes of Somerville has been here a short time.

Lester Grant broke his wrist in the foot ball game against Dean last Friday.

Mrs. Harry Corson and daughter have gone to New York for a couple of weeks.

Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. A. H., will hold a regular meeting next Friday evening.

Thursday evening, October 11, is the opening night of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin."

Miss Baron of Dean academy will read at Thursday's production of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin."

Dean football team plays Tufts varsity tomorrow there and Pomfret Saturday at the latter place.

The Ladies' Social circle of the Universalist church will meet in the church parlor tomorrow afternoon.

B. M. Rockwood and family have returned from Lake Pearl for the winter' after a very pleasant season.

Dean second eleven and a picked team waged a fierce contest at football last Friday, the latter winning 22 to 6.

Monday evening, October 15, at Morse opera house, the very funny musical comedy, "What Happened to Jones." Sixteen people and a fine orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Prince of Danielson, Conn., have been visiting their son, C. H. Prince, of the SENTINEL office.

The representative convention takes place in Music hall on Friday at 1 30. It bids fair to be an interesting session.

H. W. Thayer and Editor Johnson attended a banquet tendered the state ticket at the Parker House yesterday.

The directors of the Milford, Attleboro and Woonsocket street railway held a meeting at the office of George W. Wiggin Saturday afternoon.

Fred Hough's residence on Cottage street presents a fine appearance with its new shingles, new coat of paint and the new addition being built.

Messrs. Charles F. Nye and George E Daniels, with their respective wives, will enjoy a trip south next week, taking in the various places of interest.

The car that is to take the members of Griffin court and friends to North Attleboro this evening will leave opposite the post office at 7.15, rain or shine.

Lovers of good music should be present at some one or all of the performances of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin"—Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Active preparations are in progress for the Mendon conference to be held with the Congregational church here next Wednesday. Programme will appear on Friday.

Two Boston Chinamen have leased from W A. Pond the store formerly occupied by J. B McKinnon as a grocery in Central square, where they will open a laundry.

At the Friday night prayer meeting of this week the pastor, Rev. S. A. Cook, will speak on "Impressions and Lessons from a Recent Visit to the Cradle of American Methodism."

Mrs. Miller, widow of the late Willard Miller, was struck at the corner of Depot and Main streets Saturday morning by a carriage driven by the Vanarsdalen boy. She was not seriously hurt.

The scenic effects of the operetta, "Pied Piper of Hamelin" are magnificent. Franklin is very fortunate in being able to present this operetta, founded on Browning's popular poem.

Friday night "Ten Nights in a Barroom" was presented at the opera house by a good company. In the afternoon and before the rise of the curtain the company gave open-air concerts.

The Norfolk County Temperance union will convene at the Baptist church, Bellingham, Oct. 18. A morning and afternoon programme is being arranged. The lunch will be served on the basket plan.

Rev. S. A. Cook enjoyed a brief visit to the Empire State last week, spending Thursday at Albany, N. Y., and thence down the Hudson on Friday to the metropolis. He reports a most enjoyable time.

The assurance is given that the liquor cases growing out of the recent raid will be tried, but the wheels of justice are clogged with so many legal parchments that the mills of the gods move very slowly.

There will be a social meeting of the Epworth league at the residence of Mr. Joseph T. Hutchinson, Jr., on Arlington street, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. All friends of the league will be heartily welcome.

Rev. F. O. Flagg of Foxboro occupied the Congregational pulpit on Sunday in exchange with Rev. Dr. Sneath, presenting a forceful sermon on the subject, "I am the vine." He was practical, interesting and essentially helpful.

D. F. O'Sullivan and C. R. Russell attended the Democratic county, councillor and senatorial conventions at Dedham last Thursday, Mr. Russell being chairman of the last two. Mr. Russell is a member of the county committee.

The Ladies' Benevolent society of the Congregational church will meet in the parlor tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. As it is intended to pack the barrel for the Home Missionary family during the afternoon a large attendance is desired.

The long contemplated changes in the Morse opera house stage and anterooms it is expected will be carried out before long The dressing rooms will be moved to the floor under the stage and the space at the sides of the stage used for shifting scenery.

Mrs. N G. Knight is receiving interesting letters from her sister, Miss Gertrude Gilman, who is a missionary in China, and who went through the siege of Pekin safely. She describes the state of affairs as something almost incomprehensible.

A lady from Forest Hills, a former resident here, was in town the other day making purchases and she remarked that she still found Franklin a good place to buy goods, in spite of the inducements which Boston has to offer with its five-cent fare.

Dr. J. C. Gallison, having developed a possibly latent interest in interesting vicinity relics, has just had an offer from a lady in Woonsocket of a brass warming pan and other ancient articles. Needless to say that the doctor will avail himself of the offer, and this addition will augment his already interesting collection.

Last Thursday morning the employes of the Norfolk Western Street Railway company presented retiring Superintendent Spring a beautiful open faced gold watch upon his retirement to accept a similar position with the Newton and Boston Street Railway company of Newton.

George H. Grant is to build a carpenter shop on Cottage street near the Clark machine shop and will get power for running the machinery from the Clark shop. The work preparatory to building has begun and the shop will probably be completed before cold weather.

The eleventh congressional district committee met at Young's hotel on the 8th inst. and organized as follows: S. W. Jones of Newton, chairman; Mr. Tirrell of Hyde Park, treasurer, and Charles F. Nye of Franklin, secretary. Headquarters have been established in Exchange building, Boston.

This evening at the Universalist church parlor Rev. Dr. Hodge will begin a free German class for conversational German. The plan of holding a weekly class is one which was broached last winter and has developed by the wish of several who would be glad to avail themselves of it into a reality for this season.

Dr. T. L. Martin went to Providence this morning to get a new Haynes Apperson gasoline automobile, which he has just purchased for his brother, Dr. G. A. Martin. The doctor intends to drive the carriage up here in spite of the rain, which will give it a practical test over the country roads of this vicinity.

The teachers' convention to be held at the Horace Mann building on Wednesday, October 24, will be an interesting affair. Upon the evening previous Prof. Henry T. Bailey, who has been heard here a number of times with great acceptance, will speak at the same place on "The Needs of Manual Training in Small Towns." He should be heard by every one interested in education in town.

E. N. Thain and W. S. Johnson, for Dr. E. C. Abbott, attended the second Norfolk senatorial convention in Boston yesterday, renominating Frank A. Fales of Norwood for senator. Joseph Walker, son of ex Congressman Walker, was nominated as member of the state central committee. Dr. J. C. Gallison was to have represented George W. Wiggin, Esq, upon the delegation, but was prevented.

The members of Fidelity lodge, A. O. U. W., are looking forward to next Thursday evening with much pleasure, as it is expected that on this date they are to have one of the most pleasant fraternal socials ever enjoyed at their rooms. D. D. G. M. W. William H. Nash of Plainville and the degree team of Ames lodge of Woonsocket will be present and an entertaining programme will be rendered by local and visiting Workmen, after which all will sit down to an appetizing spread. There is expected to be a large turnout of the Fidelity members.

E. A. Morse, formerly liquor officer here, will resign his position at Walpole as superintendent of the truant school, to take effect January 1, 1901. Mr. Morse feels it his duty to take this step in order to assist his wife in caring for relatives. Upon his resignation taking effect he will go immediately to Hanover, Conn., where he will reside. The truant school under Mr. Morse's management is steadily bearing good fruits, and it will be difficult to find a man for the position as thoroughly conversant with the work there as he is. The town will also lose one of its best citizens in his removal. There are now a little over sixty boys in the school, a less number than usual.

Dr. Morse, representing the state board of health, was in Franklin last week investigating the typhoid fever cases with a view to discovering the source of infection. Samples of water from wells and springs used by the victims of the disease, as well as milk supplied to them, were taken for expert examination. Dr. Morse said that while the cases reported by the local board of health are unquestionably typhoid fever, there need be no alarm, as these cases originated at about the same time, and new cases are not developing. It would seem, therefore, as if the original cause of infection may have passed away. If new cases develop it is hoped the source of infection may discovered.

The Thurber Medical society held its anniversary meeting in Milford Thursday. The anniversary address was by Dr. Wilfred W. Browne of Blackstone, on "Lights and Shadows of a Physician's Life." It was an exceedingly interesting address and was thoroughly enjoyed After an excellent dinner Dr. J. Cushing Gallison as toastmaster introduced in his usual happy manner the speakers of the afternoon, who responded to the following toasts: "The Clergyman," Rev. N. Van der Pyl of Holliston; "The Alienist," Dr. Edward French of Medfield; "The Lawyer," Hon. Samuel L. Powers of Newton; "The Thurber Medical Association," Dr. William L. Johnson of Uxbridge. The responses were all interesting, and the meeting was a pleasant and profitable one for the members and their guests.

The mother's section of the Alden club met with Mrs. A. M. Thayer on Friday afternoon and listened with interest to a debate on the subject, "Should the mother be a wage earner?" The affirmative, written by Mrs. Farrington, but in her absence read by Mrs. Whitaker, emphasized some of the pleasures which accrue to the mother in earning money, especially when necessity does not demand it, to say nothing of the benefit arising when she is compelled to bear a share in providing for the daily wants of her family. Some women have little taste for housekeeping, but have talents in other lines, as Mrs. Livermore and Marion Harland. With the uncertainty of marriage women should be taught to be self-supporting. Mrs. Alice Abbott presented the negative side. She asserted that the true place for the mother was at home, as she is essentially the home maker. She should make home attractive and have the oversight of her children. The conditions surrounding a mother not infrequently have a bad prenatal influence, also. The discussion which followed showed that the members considered that a mother who was obliged to assist in the support of a family was doing a noble work.

Dean Academy 5, Groton School 0.

The Dean football team defeated the Groton team at Groton on Saturday by a score of 5 to 0. Groton averaged about fifteen pounds heavier than Dean and had the advantage of playing on their own field, beside having a large crowd of supporters to cheer them on. But, in spite of all this, Dean played them to a standstill. Only twice in the entire game did Groton gain their necessary five yards, and in every other instance they were forced to punt or surrender the ball on downs. Dean, on the other hand, made splendid gains around the ends, and through the tackles. Dean fumbled the wet, slippery ball in the first part of the first half and lost what looked to be a sure touchdown. Throughout the greater part of the game the ball was in Groton's territory and there was never a time Dean's goal was in the slightest danger

Dean won through splendid team work. Every man on the team played the hardest kind of football and, man for man, outplayed their opponents. Echols, Woodward and Burroughs were a tower of strength in the centre, the latter deserving special mention, as it was the first football game he ever played in, and he more than handled his opponent, Prof. Griswold, a man with fifteen years' football experience. For the tackles Mitchell was at the bottom of nearly every scrimmage and he made some sensational tackles behind Groton's line. Stone played a strong, steady game and allowed no gains through his part of the line. The ends, Ball and Patch, were the particular stars of the game. The way they got down under kicks and tackled was grand. They both did good offensive work, carrying the ball for substantial gains. Ball injured his wrist early in the first half, but pluckily played out the game, making some brilliant tackles with one arm. Behind the line Phipps ran the team with a dash and used excellent judgment in running the plays Forbes at fullback was steady and aggressive and handled Groton's punts well. Thompson, at right half, did some splendid ground gaining, in one instance rolling four yards nearer Groton's goal after being tackled. Pulsifer did the greater part of the ground gaining for Dean, making many long end runs. He also did the punting for Dean and held his own with the Groton full[illegible]. For Groton it would be hard to say who put up the strongest game. They worked as a team and worked well together. Lawrence's punting was the feature of their game.

Groton won the toss and chose the north goal. Dean kicked off to the 15-yard line and Groton brought the ball back to the 20 yard line. After trying the Dean line without success Groton kicked and Phipps got the ball and ran it back to Groton's 35 yard line. Here was where the fumbling began. Patch started around left end with the ball tucked under his arm and a clear field, but the slippery ball went out of his grasp; but Phipps was on hand and picked it up, juggled it awhile and dropped it, and Patch fell on it on Groton's 20-yard line Dean then tried Groton's line, but failed to gain. Ball tried right end and went outside. Phipps then took the ball to the 12-yard line, when Pulsifer took the ball for a touchdown. Forbes missed a difficult goal. That ended the scoring. Throughout the rest of the game the teams played a little more evenly, though Dean had the best of it throughout

The lineup was as follows:

DEAN.	Positions.	GROTON.
Ball	l. e.	Hare, Hoyt
Mitchell	l. t.	Paul
Woodward	l. g.	Griswold
Echols	c.	Joy
Burroughs	r. g.	Osborne
Stone	r. t.	Brooks
Patch	r. e.	Rogers, S. Crocker
Phipps	quarter	Potter
Pulsifer	l. h. b.	Marvin, Bradley
Thompson, (capt.)	r. h. b.	A. Crocker, Savage
Forbes	f. b.	Lawrence

Score, Dean 5, Groton 0. Touchdown, Pulsifer. Umpire, Dr. Peabody Referee, Nowell. Linesman, Burdakin. Timekeeper, Kockersperger. Time, 15 minute halves.

Still in Our Favor.

The Franklin Country Golf club went to Woonsocket on Saturday to meet the Cumberland Hill club in friendly rivalry. When the latter came here some time ago they were beaten, and it was expected that this time the score would be different. Our players were on their mettle, however, and a fine game resulted, the score being a tie. After the game they were hospitably entertained by their friends and enjoyed an extremely social time. The score:

FRANKLIN.	Holes up.	CUMBERLAND.	Holes up.
Sherman	5	Simson	0
Rathbun	5	Cass	0
Arnold	3	G. Carr	0
Ray	0	Harris	2
Bassett	0	Kirkaldy	0
Nye	0	J. Carr	6
Palmer	2	Edwards	0
Chapman	1	Robinson	0
Woodward	0	White	2
Emerson	0	Cook	6
	16		1

Card of Thanks.

I hereby cordially thank my friends for the surprise tendered me and also for the affectionate spirit shown since I came among you. Words inadequately express my feelings for the members of the choir, who always responded cheerfully to every demand on their time and abilities, and co-operated so faithfully and lovingly with me.

MISS D. G. GRIFFIN.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse

Y. M. C. A.

Notwithstanding the rain the meeting of the Young Men's Christian association last evening was one of the largest and most enthusiastic held thus far. The committee on nominations presented the following list of officers, who were unanimously elected: President, Ernest D. Daniels; vice-presidents, Herbert W. Thayer, Albert H. Martin; secretary, Charles L. Stewart; treasurer, Charles H. Prince.

Reports were made by the chairmen of the membership and finance committees, which showed that they were at work. At present the membership is about forty, and it is hoped to soon increase this number to one hundred. The financial work is progressing, and thus far every one solicited has responded very cheerfully, all seeming to appreciate the value a good association will be to our town.

If the solicitors have not called on you as yet they will no doubt soon; but don't be afraid to call on them and pour your wealth or your mite into the treasury. No fear of too large contributions, as those in charge are determined to have as finely equipped rooms, including a gymnasium and bath room, as can be found in any town of this size in the state.

Practical Benevolence.

The semi-annual convention of the King's Daughters met in East Weymouth last Thursday with a goodly number of delegates in attendance. The reports from the various circles were very interesting, showing as they did the wide benevolence and unselfish interest in our neighbors' welfare generated by this organization. One circle of young girls reported among other work the purchasing and dressing of a doll for "Gordon Rest." Mrs. E. Trask Hill supplemented the report by an account of what became of the doll. A little girl whose father was in prison and whose mother was in the house of correction for drunkenness was sent to "Gordon Rest" by some charitable person, and the little starved heart, hungry for something to love, attached itself to that doll. It was her constant companion while there, and when Mrs. Hill took her to the asylum, where it seemed best to place her, the doll went with her. The one thing of special interest was the report of what had been done in relation to the Pondville home. Over twelve hundred dollars has been raised to put the home in order for the old people of Norfolk county, and it is desired to raise a permanent fund of $20,000 for the support of the home. One thousand dollars of this has been pledged and the balance it is hoped will soon be given by the generous citizens of Norfolk county. Any person over sixty years of age, of good character and a resident of the county for five years, can become an inmate of the home by paying into the treasury the sum of $100. Any person can join the corporation by paying the sum of $1 annually. Any person can become a life member by paying the sum of $100. This, by complying with the other requirements, will entitle said person to admission to the home as an inmate. Mrs. Clara J. Marsh, the treasurer of the corporation, said she paid long ago the sum of $100 to a home in Worcester county, and if it ever became necessary she could go there in her old age. The establishment of this home is a beautiful charity, and it is hoped that the fund for its endowment will be raised by the time it is needed.

H.

A Rare Treat.

"The Choir Invisible" has begun its Boston season at the Park theatre, and it is a worthy testimonial to Boston's appreciation of good things in stage affairs that this idyl is being so well received. "The Choir Invisible" differs materially from the usual trend of dramatic performances, in the instance that it teaches a lesson and preaches a strong sermon. It is because of this element that friends looked askance and wondered would it succeed. The best element of society has accepted it for the worth which it possesses, and the story of the "love of a man for a woman who is bound to another" is proving of the greatest interest in the stage version by Frances Hastings as it did in the book of James Lane Allen's writing.

Pianos Tuned.

I shall be in Franklin during the second week in October to care for my pianos and to attend to new ones. Orders may be left at the SENTINEL office.

J. W. WALKER.

Save money by getting your railroad tickets of Charles H. Prince at the SENTINEL office. Mileage books to let on ALL railroads. Trip tickets and short ends always on hand. It saves 33 cents on the round trip to Boston. Tickets to all points in New England.

A new lot of potted plants, ferns, rubber plants, palms, etc.; cut flowers, roses in large or small quantities; funeral designs well made up. Slade's greenhouse.

These are fish days. Shad, swordfish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fish man.

Two chairs at Ocbee's barber shop, Accomplished hair dresser in attendance. Short waits.

Attempted Suicide.

William S. Nickerson, who was sentenced in the Providence criminal court on Saturday to five years at Cranston prison on the charge of breaking and entering the Fiske house at Cumberland last August, and who last Thursday, in the same court, was sentenced to 450 days in prison on the charge of swindling, attempted suicide in Cranston prison yesterday

Nickerson secured the drug while he was en route from the court house to the jail, a friend having slipped it to him. Sunday, while the guard was in another part of the jail, Nickerson swallowed the pills, 15 grains in all.

At 3 o'clock he was discovered and was deathly sick. The physicians were not long in learning the cause of the illness. He did not rally under four hours, and had it not been for the heroic treatment of the physicians he would have died. After regaining consciousness Nickerson said that he was sorry that he was not permitted to die.

Nickerson wrote to a lady friend in Franklin telling her that he was about to take his life because he could not bear to live out his long sentence. The note was found in his cell.

Hoag lake closed its entertainment feature last Saturday night after a most successful season, the first of the kind ever enjoyed in this vicinity. A strictly high class vaudeville was presented, and the indications for an even more successful season next year are extremely good. The management preserved the best of order at the resort, establishing an excellent reputation in that respect.

Modern Merchandising at the Woonsocket Furniture Store of Austin S. Cook & Co.

Old Uncle Jasper, the colored preacher, made his fame from the text, "The sun do move." It is even more certain nowadays that the world moves, and new ideas must be cast into the business of the hour without a pause Times change and whoever stands for success must keep up with the procession to the very second.

Stepping off the trolley car in Woonsocket and alighting at the glistening furniture store of Austin S. Cook & Co., one realizes the full force of that neat expression, "up to date" The windows are alive with cheerful housefurnishings and seem to say "come in" The forward march of this store has of late been a generally remarked topic, and the reasons become apparent in a ten minutes' tour of the emporium.

The unctious proprietor is the first man to give you a welcome. Smiling pleasantly, he remarked offhand with a slight lowering of the voice, "I suppose I'll have to let the cat out of the bag. You see the secrets of our success right here are getting to be pretty well known. First of all, we buy nothing but goods that will wear and give good service The cheaper grades are all selected for their durability Then we offer them at the lowest living profit, so the selling price is right down reasonable We give liberal credit to everyone who is honest and means to pay in the end, and then we stand by each patron with patience in case of sickness or any unforeseen hardship. That is, perhaps, one reason why so many buy of us and bring in their friends"

Moving forward and looking over the store with its wide balconies looming up like a theatre, the visitor is impressed with a splendid gallery of bright pictures just taken from their crates and offered at astonishingly low prices

Beyond is an array of chamber sets that make a gentleman feel for his purse to count out the price New mirrors line the walls like silver and gold, and parlor suits cover the floors adjacent, while Morris chairs with rich, soft cushions seem to say, 'Rest, perturbed spirit, rest."

Couches near by, crockery down yonder, metal beds over there, parlor cabinets on the side and an eight-thousand dollar carpet and rug stock all guarantee "there's enough for all who enter."

Upon leaving the store with a heart full of satisfaction, the last remarks heard were, "Come again. There goes one of our white and gold delivery wagons. By the way, we deliver these things free and make two trips to Franklin each week. Good-bye. Our doors open easily whenever they happen to be closed. Success go with you and return with you Tell your friends about us and bring in all your folks and let's get acquainted all around. There's your car. Au revoir."

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's greenhouse.

Trash wood, ready cut for stove use, at Allen's wood yard.

To Rent.—A desirable tenement of six rooms; $12 per month. Inquire of O. T. Doe. 14 tf

Wanted.—A girl to do general housework. Apply to G. H. Grant, School street. 18-tf

Girl Wanted—A girl to do general housework. Apply to Mrs. Alfred Farrington. 21-tf

A competent girl can obtain a good situation doing housework by addressing "E," SENTINEL office. 28

Household goods to be sold within ten days at reasonable prices at Mrs. Ernest E. Daniels, 28 Winter street. 9 2t*

To Rent—On Worsted street, six rooms, with town water inside and well water outside. Inquire of Thomas Coutu 9

Frank O. Dudley, formerly with R G. Irwin, will do bicycle repairing at the corner of Central and Union streets. 9-8t*

To Let.—Five rooms with stable, formerly occupied by Sabin Hubbard, Central street, near Union; call at house 2,9,16

Sweet cider right from the press at Maple Farm, also pure cider vinegar, nine years old. Orders at Chilson's market. Jugs called for and delivered. O. S. Stetson. 25-tf

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk	1 Mo	2 Mo.	3 Mo	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
¼ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1900.

A man's financial status is thus fixed by the general run of men. When a man owes $2.30 and doesn't pay it at the end of a week, he never pays his debts; if the $2.30 runs five weeks, "he's a dead beat;" if he has divers hundreds of unsettled accounts on the yearly clean-up of the tradesmen's books, "he is temporarily embarrassed;" if he gets his relatives and friends to indorse his paper and leaves them to settle, "he is in financial difficulties," if he steals right and left and enough lawfully, he may be accused of "hypothecating his collaterals." If he wrecks a few friends, and, better, a few public institutions, where the amount runs into six figures "he is an unfortunate financier with, however, a great future before him."

At last Stephen C. Foster, the greatest song writer the United States has produced, is to have a monument, in bronze and granite. It will be erected at Pittsburgh where he was born and resided the most of his life. It will be unveiled next Wednesday in Highland park, and the school children will sing some of Foster's melodies. A [illegible] the orchestra music chosen from his compositions. The monument represents Foster in ordinary dress at work on a song. At his feet an [illegible] slave is seated, playing a banjo and typifying the sentiment of the "Suwanee River." Foster was entirely self-taught in music and when composing used a violin. He died in 1864, at the age of 38.

A Philadelphia paper tells a story of a banker of that city who was visited by the strange hallucination that he had hair growing in his throat. Doctor after doctor examined him telling him he was fooled, but it did not make any difference. Finally a clever young surgeon snipped a couple of hairs from his wrist surreptitiously in an ante-room, fastened them to the end of an instrument, put it down the banker's throat, gave it a little jab and pulled it out again with the hairs, sure enough, and at the end of it. The banker is cured.

An overzealous preacher ran afoul of Oklahoma methods recently and is now under the doctor's care. The farmers of his neighborhood deemed it necessary to work on Sunday in order to save their wheat. The preacher organized a posse of tender-feet like himself and endeavored to stop the work. As soon as the farmers realized what it was all about they stopped their work for a few minutes and then the preacher was dumped into a wagon and carried to a doctor's office for repairs.

There is in Hanover county, Va., an institution whose object is to take negro boys convicted of crime, save them from the evil influences of the state prison, give them a good trade and make of them good and useful citizens. This institution was established with money furnished by Collis P. Huntington.

An Ohio paper says: "John Turnipseed died suddenly on Thursday morning, and on Friday was planted in Maple cemetery, there to rest until he comes up on the Resurrection day." Through some oversight the makeup man got the item in the obituary instead of the agricultural column.

Connecticut's secretary of the state board of health reports that nearly all the 400 infants who died in that state in July were the victims of unwholesome milk and other unsuitable food.

A woman who died recently in Brooklyn at the age of 92 had seen nine generations of her family, extending from her great-great-grandfather to her great-great-grandson.

Catarrh

Its cause exists in the blood, in what causes inflammation of the mucous membrane.

It is therefore impossible to cure it by local applications.

It is positively dangerous to neglect it, because it always affects the stomach and deranges the general health, and is likely to develop into consumption.

It is radically and permanently cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla which removes the cause, cleanses the blood of scrofulous and all other impurities and gives vigor and tone to the whole system.

The voluntary testimonial of R. Long, California Junction, Iowa, is one of thousands equally good. It reads: "I had catarrh in the head three years, lost my appetite and could not sleep. My head pained me and I felt bad all over. I was discouraged. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and now have a good appetite, sleep well, and have no symptoms of catarrh."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

promises to cure and keeps the promise. Accept no substitute.

A LITTLE OF ALL SORTS.

A lion places its head near the ground when roaring.

More than 15,000,000 visits are paid annually to London pawn shops.

The 24 o'clock system is to be introduced throughout Spain on January 1.

It is estimated that the population of Europe doubles itself every [illegible] years.

The laughter cure is the latest for indigestion. Here is a hint for cynics and pessimists.

There are said to be over [illegible] cats in London, of which half are "unattached."

Oats are not raised in China, and not fed to horses except to racers in the training season.

Alaska's reindeer herd, considered a failure at first, now numbers 730, and is increasing rapidly.

The Abyssinian war medal is the smallest war decoration issued during the queen's reign.

All the street railways in Munich are now electric, and the uniform price for a ride is 2½ cents.

When a new ambassador arrives in London he visits the queen before he sees anyone else.

Three chief feasts during which the Chinese take legal holidays are those of the dragon, the moon and the year.

THEIR DYING WORDS.

Wordsworth, William (1770-1850), English poet: "God bless you."

Goethe (1749-1832), German poet: "Open the shutters and let in more light."

Voltaire (1694-1778), French atheist: "I am abandoned by God and man. I shall go to hell..."

Frederick the Great, of Prussia (1712-86): "We are over the hill, we shall go better now."

Jerrold, Douglas (1803-57), English author: "I feel like one who is waiting—waited for."

Schiller (1759-1805), German poet: "Many things are growing plain and clear to my understanding."

Paine Thomas (1737-1809), English atheist: "If ever the devil had an agent on earth, I have been that one."

Cromwell, Oliver (1599-1658), English statesman and soldier: "My desire is to make what haste I may to be gone."

Arnold, Benedict (1740-1801), American general: "Let me die in the old uniform in which I fought my battles for freedom. May God forgive me for ever putting on any other!"

Webster Fletcher (Daniel Webster's son, mortally wounded at the battle of Gainesville in 1862): "Tell father (Gen. Robert Toombs, by whom he was taken prisoner) I love him; God bless him."

QUEER THINGS IN CHINA.

Wine drunk hot.
Old men fly kites.
Boats drawn by men.
Soldiers in petticoats.
Family name comes first.
Babies that seldom cry.
White worn as mourning.
Carriages moved by sails.
Seat of honor to the left.
Visiting cards four feet long.
A coffin in the reception room.
Hats worn as a sign of respect.
Horses are mounted on the right side.
Fireworks are always set off in day time.
School children sit with their backs to the teacher.
A married woman when young is a slave, when old the most honored member of the family.
If you offend a Chinaman he may kill himself on your doorstep to spite you.

"Hunting and Fishing in the South," A book descriptive of the best localities in the South for various kinds of game and fish. The game laws of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Kentucky, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Mississippi, the states penetrated by the Southern railway. For all information apply to George C. Daniels, N. E. P. A., 228 Washington street, Boston.

Cures croup, sore throat, pulmonary troubles—monarch over pain of every sort. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil.

"A dose in time saves lives." Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup—nature's remedy for coughs, colds, pulmonary diseases of every sort.

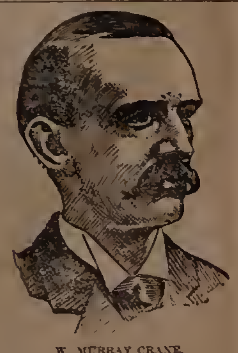
CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

CANDIDATE ROOSEVELT.

An Able Statesman and Soldier and of Earnest, Aggressive Personality.

"Without our wish, we found ourselves suddenly engaged in a contest with one of the oldest monarchies in the world. From the beginning to its close, at the end of a hundred days, it was a marvel of successive victories. The thrill of conquest, the admiration for those who were privileged to be at the front, the desire to reward the men who had risked their lives for so great and good a cause, made a demand for the people that a soldier should be rewarded with this great office of governor of the state of New York. We had that soldier, New York born and bred, New York in every drop of his blood. He won the most brilliant laurels in the war. The party recognized his fitness for the executive of the state. It met the demand of the people that he should be placed at the head of the ticket and the heroes of the war were complimented and the state was honored in securing for its chief officer Theodore Roosevelt." — Senator Depew of New York.

"Gentlemen, the splendid record of 1900 is in no small part due to the militant Republicanism, the severe honesty and the able statesmanship of that most earnest and aggressive personality in the contemporaneous life of the republic—the soldier, the author and the statesman, Governor Theodore Roosevelt. Let the independent voter, unbiased by partisan affiliation, as he surveys the political situation in the state of New York this fall, contrast the government of the state, as administered by Republicans with that of the city of New York, administered by the Democrats, and candidly ask himself the question which party is most entitled to his support and confidence, then cast his ballot in conformity with the dictates of his conscience, and the result will not be uncertain—the standard set by Governor Roosevelt and his associates will be strengthened and maintained."—Senator Stranahan at New York convention.



W. MURRAY CRANE.
Governor and candidate for re-election.

FUTURE OF THE PHILIPPINES.

Democrats Responsible For Delay of Full Peace In the Archipelago.

President McKinley's views: "Would our opponents surrender to the insurgents, abandon our sovereignty, or cede it to them? If that be not their purpose, then it should be promptly disclaimed, for only evil can result from the hopes raised by our opponents in the minds of the Filipinos that, with their success at the polls in November, there will be a withdrawal of our army and of American sovereignty over the archipelago, the complete independence of the Tagalog people recognized, and the powers of government over all the other peoples of the archipelago conferred upon the Tagalog leaders.

"The effect of a belief in the minds of the insurgents that this will be done has already prolonged the rebellion, and increases the necessity for the continuance of a large army. It is now delaying full peace in the archipelago and the establishment of civil governments, and has influenced many of the insurgents against accepting the liberal terms of amnesty offered by General MacArthur under my direction. But for these false hopes a considerable reduction could have been had in our military establishment in the Philippines and the realization of a stable government would be already at hand.

"The American people are asked by our opponents to yield the sovereignty of the United States in the Philippines to a small fraction of the population, a single tribe out of 80 or more inhabiting the archipelago, a faction which wantonly attacked the American troops in Manila while in rightful possession under the protocol with Spain, awaiting the ratification of the treaty of peace by the senate, and which has since been in active, open rebellion against the United States. We are asked to transfer our sovereignty to a small minority in the islands without consulting the majority and to abandon the largest portion of the population, which has been loyal to us, to the cruelties of the guerilla insurgent bands. More than this, we are asked to protect this minority in establishing a government and to this end repress all opposition of the majority. We are required to set up a stable government in the interest of those who have assailed our sovereignty and fired upon our soldiers and then maintain it at any cost or sacrifice against its enemies within and against those having ambitious designs from without."

"In the agricultural district around us however the change has been very marked. A great many debts have been paid off, and the bank deposits have about doubled. I was talking today with a leading Populist of this locality who used to be a Republican. He is going to vote for McKinley this time, and there are lots more like him. He says McKinley could not have done anything else than what he has done in our foreign relations, and that he has managed things as well as anyone could have done. Some mistakes have been made but everyone makes some. He says the silver question is dead as long as the balance of trade is coming our way. He is quite a representative man and speaks for a large proportion of Bryan supporters of 1896 in this community."—William Selbie, American National bank, Deadwood, S. D.

THE LIGHTNING HARNESSED.

The Great Western railway of England is lighting its corridor trains by electricity obtained from dynamos driven from the car axle. Storage batteries are carried for use when the running speed is slow and for stops.

By arrangement with the two governments of France and Germany, a telephone service has been inaugurated between Paris, Frankfort and Berlin. The charge for the use of the wire between Frankfort and Paris is 50 cents for three minutes, and between Paris and Berlin $1.25 for the same time.

In an ascension made recently by Messrs. Vallot and Jean and Louis Lecarme it was found, according to a note in Cosmos, that it is possible to communicate by wireless telegraphy between the earth and a freely rising balloon at great distances, without any conductor from the balloon to the ground.

A new submarine cable is about to be laid between England and Germany. This is the fifth cable, and a comprehensive idea of the increase in the cable traffic between the two countries may be gathered from the fact that, whereas in 1896, when the fourth cable was laid, the annual number of cablegrams was 1,937,868 per annum, no less than 2,465,613 cablegrams are now annually transmitted.

Fifty years ago, on August 28, 1850, the first submarine cable message was sent from Cape Grisnez in France to Dover. A wire insulated by a gutta percha covering was run across the channel from the Admiralty pier at Dover to prove that messages could be sent, and the following year the first strong cable was laid. Mr. Charles Wollaston, one of the party that laid the first wire, is still alive, and said that the first message under the sea was to his wife and said: "All right at Grisnez, home about ten."

The Stronger the Lower.

"Just look at these eggs, dear," exclaimed Mr. Newlywed at the breakfast table: "such a bargain! They were marked down from 21 cents to 14." And then she wondered why Mr. Newlywed didn't want any breakfast.—Philadelphia Record.

A Cure.

Maud—Why did you break off your engagement with poor Tom Hotchkiss?

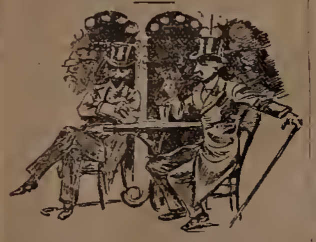
Edith—Hush, don't tell anyone, but he was growing horribly fat. When grief has pulled him down a bit I shall take him on again.—N. Y. World.

Their Generic Game.

"A movement is on foot to bestow names on country roads for the benefit of travelers and to facilitate rural delivery of mail."

"Well, the name of nearly all the country roads I know of is mud."—Chicago Daily News.

OVERHEARD AT THE CLUB.



Jules—See, 'tis a good plan to bring your wife out and leave your purse at home, is it not?

Jones—It is better to bring your purse out and leave your wife at home.—Ally Sloper.

Falling Off In Attention.

"Harry, you must try to pay something on Dr. Pitter's bill."

"Why, has he said anything about it?"

"No; but when I go there now he doesn't sympathize with me at all."—Indianapolis Journal.

The Gentlemanly Burglar.

Judge—The evidence shows that when you entered houses you never entered the rooms occupied by women.

Prisoner—No, yer honor; it knocks me silly to see wimmen with their hair done up in crimps.—Chicago Record.

One Girl's Wisdom.

He—Do you believe in matrimony on the bread-and-cheese-and-kisses plan?

She—Well, that depends. Some brands of cheese would bar out the kisses.—Chicago Evening News.

Came Near Dying.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centreville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die and tried a dozen different medicines, but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely. I went to sleep and did not awake for eight hours. On awakening a few hours ago I felt so gratified that the first work I do on going to the office is to write to the manufacturers of the remedy and offer them my grateful thanks and say, 'God bless you and the splendid medicine you make.'" This remedy is for sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Scald head is an eczema of the scalp—very severe sometimes, but it can be cured. Doan's Ointment, quick and permanent in its results.

The best that money can buy should be your aim in choosing a medicine, and this is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures when others fail.

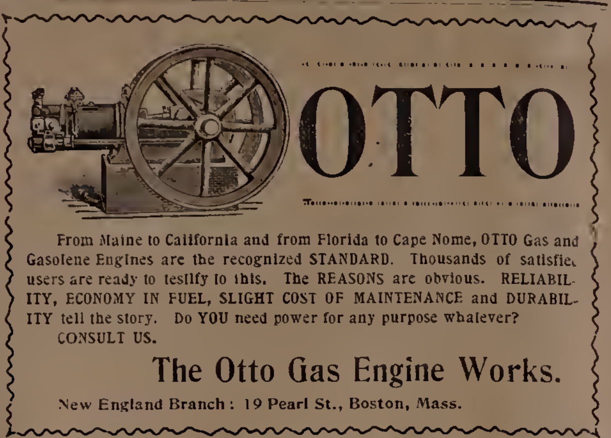
I Know One Sure Remedy
for an obstinate cold. Its name is Pyny-Pectoral.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE COMBINATION THAT CURES
EVERY MOTHER SHOULD Have it in the House
Colds
Croup
Coughs
Cramps
Cholera
Chills
Colic.
Johnson's Anodyne Liniment Dropped on Sugar.

Will cure many common ailments which may occur in every family. It is strictly a family remedy. For INTERNAL as much as EXTERNAL use. Originated in 1810 by an old Family Physician. Could a remedy have existed for nearly a century, except for the fact that its virtue and excellence have won the public favor to a remarkable degree? You can safely trust what time has indorsed.
Send for our Book on INFLAMMATION, mailed free. Sold by all Druggists. Put up in Two Sizes, Price 25 and 50 cts. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

JOHNSON'S AMERICAN ANODYNE LINIMENT
THIS BOTTLE MUST BE KEPT WELL CORKED
SUGAR



OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and Gasolene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied users are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABILITY, ECONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABILITY tell the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever?
CONSULT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.
New England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.

FROM THE ORIENT
CARPETS

Goods right—prices right—workmanship right—everything right.
We do by far the largest business in Boston in
Carpets and Upholstery.
What do you suppose the reason is?

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS CO.,
658 Washington Street, 658
Opp. Boylston St.,
BOSTON.

PATENTS GUARANTEED

Our fee returned if we fail. Any one sending sketch and description of any invention will promptly receive our opinion free concerning the patentability of same. "How to Obtain a Patent" sent upon request. Patents secured through us advertised for sale at our expense.

Patent taken out through us receive special notice, without charge, in THE PATENT RECORD, an illustrated and widely circulated journal, consulted by Manufacturers and Investors.
Send for sample copy FREE. Address,

VICTOR J. EVANS & CO.,
(Patent Attorneys,)
Evans Building, - WASHINGTON, D. C.

EDISON'S PHONOGRAPH

Better than a Piano, Organ, or Music Box, for it sings and talks as well as plays, and don't cost as much. It reproduces the music of any instrument—band or orchestra—tells stories and sings—the old familiar hymns as well as the popular songs—it is always ready. See that Mr. Edison's signature is on every machine. Catalogues of all dealers, or NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., 135 Fifth Ave., New York.
mh1-eow

LOW RATES
3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION
APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:
For a distance of 5 miles or less, - 10c
5 to 15 miles, - - 15c
15 to 25 " - - 20c
Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Telephone Service at Your Residence
Is useful always, helpful often, necessary sometimes and cheap all the year round.

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.
se28-2m

PATENTS
DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED
ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.
Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

News and Opinions
OF National Importance.

THE SUN
ALONE
CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun
Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.
Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.
Address THE SUN, New York

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-ly

∴READ the Business Announcements.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

EXPERIMENT IN WORK

A NEW YORK youth came home from college at the beginning of the vacation season with his allowance so far overdrawn that he had forgotten when the next payment was due. His father, who was a self-made man, and entirely out of sympathy with the obligations of his son's social position, sternly refused further advances. The paternal brand of cigars made the youth ill, and worse still, the sideboard was under strict surveillance. Under these compelling circumstances the youth retired within himself to consider ways and means. Later he emerged from his trance with a smile on his face. The difficulties of the situation had faded like the morning's mist before his brilliant intellect. He would go to work.

